WILDY'S BOOK NEWS

Volume 21 Issue 9 Published Monthly

Sept/Oct 2016

With the arrival of autumn, the company travels and exhibits are winding down. September saw John Pethick and Abbie Sinkins at the OECS Bar conference in St. Lucia and Jason Crimp and Charlie Alpera at the International Bar Association conference in Washington DC. Both these conferences were very successful and enjoyable.

October sees the publication of Archbold and Blackstone's Criminal Practice. See the ads on pp 20 and 21.

We have published 2 new books during September: War Pensions and Armed Forces Compensation by Andrew Bano (see p. 43) and Interdisciplinary Study and Comparative Law edited by Nicholas Foster, Maria Moscatti and Michael Palmer (see p. 42). This is number 15 in our successful JCL Studies in Comparative Law series.

NEW BOOKS PUBLISHED 2016 FROM WILDY, SIMMONDS & HILL

THE LAW OF RIGHTS OF LIGHT

Jonathan Karas QC

Price: £75.00
ISBN: 9780854901647
Extent: 318 pp + 6 colour plates
Binding: Hardback

The Law of Rights of Light is a new and comprehensive treatment of the controversial topic of rights of light. It considers how rights can be established, what constitutes an infringement of those rights and what remedies can be provided for the infringement of those rights. It explains how claims may be defended and rights overridden. By setting the law in its wider context, the book seeks to show that, despite the technicalities which arise, there are no legal problems with which a competent lawyer cannot grapple.

The book benefits from two technical appendices and colour illustrations provided by Point 2 Surveyors. The first explains how light is measured; the second how losses are valued. These appendices also explain the limits of current methodology. These limits leave current methods ripe for reconsideration by the Courts.

Jonathan Karas' practice embraces all aspects of land law, including rights of light and planning. Before taking silk he served on the 'A' Panel of Junior Counsel to the Crown (2000–2006) and before that on the Supplementary Panel of Junior Counsel to the Crown (Common Law) (now the 'B' Panel) (1995–2000). Jonathan is a subject editor of Hill and Redman's Law of Landlord and Tenant and author (with David Elvin QC) of Unlawful Interference with Land, second edition (2002). He has made a substantial contribution to Halsbury's Laws of England being a contributing editor to the Compulsory Acquisition title (1996), editor of the Distress title (2000, 2007 re-issues), the Forestry Title (2007 and 2009 re-issues) and editor of the Perpetuities and Accumulations volume.

A PRACTITIONER'S GUIDE TO PROBATE DISPUTES

Nasreen Pearce

Price: £69.00
ISBN: 9780854901371
Extent: 294 pp
Binding: Hardback

Disputes over wills and other testamentary dispositions are on the increase. A Practitioner's Guide to Probate Disputes provides an invaluable guide to the relevant legal framework and the basis on which a will and other testamentary provisions may be challenged. With an ageing population, issues such as undue influence, fraud and forgery are increasingly becoming grounds for dispute. The book comprehensively covers issues relating to the form and content of a will and its execution, including testamentary capacity, knowledge and approval. The book also features the more usual lifetime testamentary dispositions and the claims and challenges that can be made in relation to them.

A Practitioner's Guide to Probate Disputes includes an overview of the claims that can be made under the Inheritance (Provision for Family and Dependents) Act 1975. It provides guidance as to best practice and sets out examples from case law to illustrate the legal requirements and the problems which can arise from poor will drafting and a failure to investigate sufficiently all the circumstances relating to the testator/testatrix. A commentary on disputes which may arise over the burial of the body and the relevance of the rights under the European Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms is also covered.

Nasreen Pearce is a retired circuit judge and was formerly a district judge of the Principal Registry of the Family Division. She is the General Editor of Emergency Remedies in the Family Courts, a contributor to the Family Court Practice, Butterworths Wills, Probate and Administration Service and Finance & Law for the Older Client. She has also written extensively on other areas of family law.

MARSHALL HALL A Law Unto Himself

Sally Smith

Price: £25.00
ISBN: 9780854901876
Extent: 318 pp + 15 plates
Binding: Hardback with dustjacket

ePub and Kindle versions available

Sir Edward Marshall Hall KC saved more people from the hangman's noose than any other known barrister. In an age of inadequate defence funding, minimal forensic evidence, a rigid moral code making little allowance for human passion and a reactionary judiciary, his only real weapons were his understanding of human psychology and the power of his personality.

His charismatic oratory and film star profile made him an Edwardian celebrity. Jurors collapsed and judges wept at the overwhelming power of his performances. Thousands congregated to await the verdicts in the trials in which he appeared for the defence. Curtains were brought down in West End theatres to announce the acquittals he secured.

His famous trials included the Camden Town murder, Seddon the Poisoner, the Brides in the Bath, the Green Bicycle Murder and the Murder at the Savoy. As a result of his oratory in these he was adulated as an entertainer, his performances greeted with the same relish as those by the great actors; but he was also loved as a champion of the underdog, who almost single-handedly introduced compassion in to the Edwardian legal system. No other barrister in any age can claim such celebrity, nor such public adoration and affection.

Meticulously researched, Marshall Hall: A Law unto Himself is the first modern biography of a complex and influential man and, as a result of access to new material:

- Sets the legendary barrister in his social, historical and political context.
- Reveals the sensational private life of the man behind the public figure, the two turbulent marriages, the probable illegitimate son, and the mistresses.
- Tells the full story of the murder of his first wife.
- Examines his magnetic oratory and extraordinary fame from a modern perspective.

Sally Smith has been a barrister since 1977 and a QC since 1997. She practised in crime for ten years before specialising in medical law.

ADDRESSING VULNERABILITY IN JUSTICE SYSTEMS

Professor Penny Cooper and Linda Hunting

Edited by Professor Penny Cooper
and Linda Hunting

Price: £19.95
ISBN: 9780854901968
Extent: 170pp
Binding: Hardback

“The authors of the chapters in this textbook are leaders in their fields. Their experience and research should help equip legal practitioners, researchers and policy makers alike with the most up to date information about the treatment of vulnerable witnesses and parties in legal proceedings.

The challenge for all of us is to ensure that vulnerable people are treated appropriately and helped through the trial process, without adversely affecting the right to a fair trial. I am confident that with the help of the Advocates Gateway Toolkits and experts such as the contributors to this book, we can succeed. I wholeheartedly commend their work to you.”

The Rt Hon Lady Justice Hallett

This publication, arising out of The Advocate’s Gateway inaugural conference in June 2015, represents not only the current state of knowledge from experts in the field, but more importantly evidence of a seismic shift in the justice system.

Social and mental health professionals, specialist lawyers, counselling services, government and voluntary organisations such as the Victim Support Service, Citizens Advice Witness Service and MIND may help with the needs of adult clients. Children and Vulnerable Witnesses in Court Proceedings is a practical and concise handbook, written to aid practitioners in understanding the psychology of stress, to know the rights of victims and vulnerable witnesses, and to access appropriate support and help for them.

The book addresses the nature and impact of psychological stress, anxiety, panic attacks and general stress, and explores ways to alleviate psychological stress in the court process, describing the law, guidance and special measures available to support children and vulnerable witnesses. It proceeds to set out the present guidance regarding pre-trial psychological support for adult and child witnesses respectively and explores the current provisions for victim support. It explains how, where necessary, to continue to establish physical and psychological safety for vulnerable clients, victims and witnesses after the court proceedings are over. During the years 2003 - 2006 Uppsala University and WSH published the Uppsala Yearbook of East European Law. For a number of reasons publication of the Yearbook was discontinued after the 2006 issue.

We are happy and proud to be able to resume publication of the Yearbook, now with a broadened perspective. As the title, Uppsala Yearbook of Eurasian Studies, indicates the Yearbook now covers also other disciplines than law, in particular political science and economics. Given recent developments in the Eurasian region this enlarged focus is increasingly relevant and important.

In this first issue of the relaunched Yearbook we publish presentations made at a symposium devoted to Russia's membership in the WTO, a development of potentially great significance both to Russia and the rest of the world. The first issue also contains many other interesting contributions, including articles and notes dealing with Ukraine and the situation there. The developing relationship between Russia and Ukraine is an area that we will continue to monitor and analyze.

COUPS D'ETAT
Revolutions and the Question of Legitimacy

Dr. Lawrence A. Joseph

Price: £45
ISBN 9780854902132
Extent: 242pp
Binding: Hardback 152x229mm

This book sets out to test the hypothesis that the fundamental concept which determines the validity and competence of usurper regimes in common law jurisdictions is the concept of legitimacy as was clearly elucidated in the Grenada Case of Mitchell v DPP (1986). A comparative analysis of this case in juxtaposition with sixteen other extra-constitutional common law cases comprised the main scope of the study. Consequently, an exhaustive survey of these cases beginning with the Dosso case in Pakistan in 1958 and ending with the Qarase case in Fiji in 2009 was conducted. The analysis reveals that the appropriateness of utilizing any of the judicially recognized doctrinal concepts of strict constitutionalism, state necessity, Kelsen's theory of revolutionary legality and the doctrine of successful revolution depends, inter alia, on whether there was continuity or discontinuity of the legal order of the state. These doctrinal concepts have their own implications for the concept of legitimacy following the occurrence of a coup d'etat or a revolution. Legitimacy itself has important implications for resolving various extra-constitutional issues which inevitably arise.

Dr. Lawrence Albert Joseph was born in Grenada, In 1977 he became qualified as a Barrister at Law, Lincoln's Inn, London, England. On his return to Grenada, Dr. Joseph became a magistrate (1979-84), President of the Senate (1984-88) and 2013-14), Attorney General amongst other ministerial port folios (1995-2003) and Speaker of the House of Representatives (2003-08).

In the Queen's New Year Honours of 2015, Dr. Joseph was granted the award of Commander of the Most Distinguished Order of the British Empire (CBE) for his contributions to public service in Grenada. At the 2016 Independence Celebrations on 7th February in Grenada, he was awarded the Most Distinguished Order of the Nation for 2015, Knight Commander (KCN) for his contributions to Grenada. He is a prolific writer on constitutional and social issues, governance, and institutional development.

INTERDISCIPLINARY STUDY AND COMPARATIVE LAW

and Michael Palmer

Price: £65.00
ISBN 9780854902101
Extent: 294 pp
Binding: Hardback 152x229mm

This book, which is dedicated to the memory of distinguished scholar Professor Simon Roberts, is a collection of essays exploring themes and issues in the relationship between comparative legal studies and other disciplines in the social sciences and humanities.

Law does not exist in a vacuum, and an appreciation of the social, cultural and other factors affecting it may often be helpful for a sounder understanding of its nature and significance, especially when law is considered in a broader, comparative, context. Insights drawn from other disciplines may therefore be especially appropriate for comparative legal studies, but the use of those insights raises various questions, such as the manner in which other disciplines—given their own distinctive concerns and modes of analysis—characterise the nature and significance of law and legal institutions. Interdisciplinary study also encourages us to ask how cognate disciplines and their arguments are seen, used and maltreated in comparative legal studies, as well as the pitfalls which await scholars from other disciplines who venture into law.

The essays in this collection offer a unique contribution to these and other aspects of the use of interdisciplinarity in comparative law.

The contributors cover a broad range of disciplines and topics. Nicholas Foster, Maria Federica Moscati and Michael Palmer offer some general observations; Eric Heinze examines basic theoretical problems of comparative law by analogy to a comparative literary model; Jaakko Husa considers the nature and problems of 'Interdisciplinary Comparative Law'; Dionysia Katelouzou explores the value of quantitative methods drawn from the fields of economics and finance; Karen McAuliffe examines issues of law, language and translation; Fernanda Pirie considers the significance of historical studies for anthropological understandings of non-state law; Marian Roberts examines the influences of interdisciplinarity on the development and practice of UK family mediation; Mathias Siems speaks to the use in comparative legal studies of insights drawn from other comparative disciplines; Florian Wagner-von Papp explores issues in the relationship between comparative law and economics, while Gary Watt contrasts economics-based interdisciplinarity to the humanities approach; Simon Roberts draws on anthropological approaches to negotiation for understanding civil justice issues; and Sir Ross Cranston reflects on the value of an important area of Simon Roberts' interdisciplinary work.

WAR PENSIONS AND ARMED FORCES COMPENSATION

Law and Practice

Andrew Bano

Price: £75.00
ISBN 9780854901906
Extent: 390 pp
Binding: Hardback 152x229mm

War pensions law contains a number of unique features, in particular, the onus on the Secretary of State to disprove entitlement to benefit beyond reasonable doubt. Although the war pensions scheme has now been replaced by the armed forces compensation scheme, claims continue to be made under it in respect of new conditions and in respect of deterioration in the condition of claimants already in receipt of awards.

The armed forces compensation scheme, which was introduced in 2005, proved controversial, particularly against the background of the very serious injuries sustained by members of the armed forces serving in Afghanistan, and was substantially amended in 2011 as a result of a review of the Scheme carried out under the chairmanship of Lord Boyce.

This book is written by an acknowledged expert in the field and provides for the first time an indispensable reference work covering all aspects of war pensions and armed forces compensation law and practice. The book traces the history of both schemes and provides a detailed commentary on the provisions of the Service Pensions Order 2006 and of the Armed Forces Compensation Scheme 2011, as interpreted by the nominated judges and by the judges of the Upper Tribunal and the appellate courts. The book covers the procedure for making a claim, bringing an appeal, and practice and procedure before the First-tier Tribunal (in England and Wales), the Pensions Appeal Tribunals (in Scotland and Northern Ireland), and the Upper Tribunal.

War Pensions and Armed Forces Compensation: Law and Practice is an authoritative and comprehensive analysis of the legal principles underlying entitlement to compensation for those injured or killed in the service of their country. It is designed also to be a practical and accessible guide for all those concerned in bringing and dealing with war pensions and armed forces compensation claims and appeals.

Andrew Bano is a visiting judge of the Upper Tribunal and a former president of the War Pensions and Armed Forces Compensation Chamber of the First-tier Tribunal.
