LET WILDY & SONS MANAGE YOUR SUBSCRIPTIONS AND SAVE YOU VALUABLE TIME!
This book provides a comprehensive and comparative explanation of the law relating to all three types of business partnership available under English law; general partnerships, limited partnerships (including private fund limited partnerships) and LLPs. It explains the applicable law from formation of the business to termination, including chapters on the availability or otherwise of legal personality, duties of partners and members, management issues, property and finance, taxation, litigation and insolvency.

This new edition of Partnership and LLP Law is fully updated and includes coverage of the Legislative Reform (Private Fund Limited Partnerships) Order 2017 which introduces a new form of limited partnership, the private fund limited partnership, and the new provisions requiring certain partnerships and LLPs to maintain a register of persons with significant control over the business. It also includes a discussion of the impact of v Clyde & Co v Bates van Winkelhof on employment and worker status of partners and LLP members. Other recent cases such as Flanagan v Liontrust Investment Partners and Inversiones Frieira SL and another v Colyzeo Investors are also discussed.

The law relating to each of the three types of partnership is set out clearly and concisely to enable the busy practitioner to understand, or refresh their understanding of, partnership and LLP law. It will also enable those with knowledge or experience of one type of partnership to understand the similarities and differences of the other types.

Elspeth Berry is a non-practising solicitor, member of the Association of Partnership Practitioners and Reader in Law at Nottingham Law School. Elspeth has over twenty years’ experience in researching and publishing in partnership and LLP law and is co-author of Law of Insolvent Partnerships and LLPs.
As a subject, Ghanaian Environmental Law has been influenced by Ghana’s participation in several treaty arrangements aimed at addressing contemporary international challenges such as climate change, marine pollution and conservation of biodiversity. The approach adopted in this book is to ascertain the extent to which Ghanaian environmental jurisprudence has been influenced by Ghana’s participation in the various fora or treaty arrangements on the subject. In that regard, using examples from the marine environment, wetlands and biotechnology, an attempt is made to provide an insight into Ghanaian implementation of treaty norms and draws lessons for legislators and policymakers.

The book has been structured to deal with basic doctrinal issues such as the nature, sources and development of Environmental Law; as well as other core aspects of the subject such as environmental justice. The role of regulatory bodies in environmental management and protection and the regulatory frameworks for the conservation, management and utilisation of natural resources are also discussed.

George Agyemang Sarpong is the Managing Partner of G. A Sarpong & Co., Legal Practitioners and Consultants, Accra. A retired military officer and a former Director of the Ghana School of Law, he is an alumnus of the Universities of Ghana, British Columbia and London (SOAS). He has published widely on environmental and public international Laws.
This volume features the papers presented by leading comparatists from the UK and abroad at an international workshop on ‘Comparative Legal Reasoning: une journée d’étude aux alentours du travail de Geoffrey Samuel’ at Reid Hall, Paris on 3 December 2016. Contributors include John Bell (University of Cambridge), Anne Bottomley (University of Kent), Sir Ross Cranston (London School of Economics and Political Science), Maks Del Mar (Queen Mary), Simone Glanert (University of Kent), Pierre Legrand (Sorbonne), P.G. Monateri (Università di Torino), Horatia Muir Watt (Sciences Po), François Ost (Université Saint-Louis), Pascal Pichonnaz (Université de Fribourg), Geoffrey Samuel (University of Kent) and Franz Werro (Université de Fribourg and Georgetown University Law Center).

Dr Simone Glanert, Reader in Law at the University of Kent, Canterbury, UK teaches and writes in the fields of comparative law, legal interpretation and legal translation.
The Civil Code of the Republic Uzbekistan, as amended, is the key document for any foreign investor and remains of considerable interest to the comparative law community as a leading Central Asian model for a legal system in transition from the socialist legal tradition to a destination as yet undetermined.

William E. Butler is the John Edward Fowler Distinguished Professor of Law, Dickinson Law, Penn State; Emeritus Professor of Comparative Law, University of London (University College London); Director, The Vinogradoff Institute, Dickinson Law, Penn State; Academician, National Academy of Sciences of Ukraine and National Academy of Legal Sciences of Ukraine; Associate, International Academy of Comparative Law. He has published a number of works on the legal systems of Central Asia, including Uzbekistan.
This fully updated fourth edition like its predecessors provides a simple straightforward guide on why and how person’s acquires a name and how that name may be changed so that it is given legal recognition to identify the person concerned for all purposes.

The traditional or typical family no longer exists due to the changes in the way families are formed, how households are structured and how conception of a child is achieved. There are also increasing number of single parent families or ‘reconstituted’ families. This pattern is forever evolving. It is therefore not surprising that it gives rise to questions about how and who can register the birth of a child and give the child its first name, who decides the surname the child should take and whether the names given can be changed by re-registration or otherwise.

This edition provides up-to-date provisions of all the relevant statutory material and case law which in particular applies to the issue of changing a child’s name when conflict arises between the parents or those with parental responsibility for the child, the biological parents and others.

Change of Name: The Law and Practice is an accessible guide to this sometimes tricky area of law and includes a range of precedents that will prove invaluable to the busy practitioner.

Nasreen Pearce is a retired circuit judge and former district judge in the Principal Registry of the Family Division and currently an Associate Member of 2-3 Hind Court. She has written widely on family law and is a contributor to the Family Court Practice and Butterworths Wills Probate and Administration Service and is Editor and major contributor to Emergency Remedies in the Family Courts and author of A Practitioner’s Guide to Probate Disputes and Inheritance Act Claims (Wildy, Simmonds & Hill).
This revised and expanded new edition contains a mass of legal and practical information within a compact, user-friendly format to provide a concise introduction to the law relating to agricultural tenancies.

Fully updated to cover all legal developments, the text is supported by an array of procedural checklists and deals with the problems most commonly encountered in practice. The sections on the two major statutes - the Agricultural Holdings Act 1986 and Agricultural Tenancies Act 1995 have been updated and expanded. The precedents section now also includes more notices and also succession application forms accompanied by helpful practical notes on each of them.

Practical and affordable, Agricultural Tenancies will prove to be an invaluable guide for the busy practitioner.

Agricultural Tenancies:
• Assumes no existing knowledge of agricultural tenancies law
• Adopts a very practical approach to the subject matter
• Includes a very useful raft of precedents
• Provides guidance on using the precedents and completion of the succession forms

Nigel has specialised in agricultural law for more than 40 years particularly in the areas of landlord and tenant, arbitrations and tribunals, partnerships and CAP reforms. He is an accredited mediator.
These memoirs show the wit and acuity of a highly-trained legal mind while being a real pleasure read at the same time. They also provide a brief and entertaining account of what it was like to grow up with a refugee background in both wartime and immediate post-war Britain.

Freddy Reynold has had an exceptionally long career, during which he appeared in many landmark cases in different areas of law and engaged with most of the leading advocates and judges of the times. Although his descriptions of the past are illuminating, they are always written with the present and future of advocacy in mind. His comments on the present state of the Bar and Judiciary are based on years of experience and well worth considering.

Freddy Reynold specialises in employment law and related areas, commercial/contract law and public law. He has appeared in several landmark House of Lords cases concerning employment law issues and contracts of employment. In the course of his career he has advised the Equal Opportunity Commission, the BMA (on contractual and disciplinary issues concerning consultants and doctors), and the Royal Institute of Chartered Surveyors (in respect of professional standards and practice).
The Insolvency (England and Wales) Rules 2016 introduced comprehensive changes to the practice, precedents and procedures – the biggest change to insolvency for over 20 years.

This new edition of Personal Insolvency Practice is a comprehensive starting point for all practitioners, whether solicitors or barristers. Up-to-date and practical, this book provides an easy to follow, ‘how to do it’ guide for all the common court applications in personal insolvency.

Covering areas as diverse as statutory demands, bankruptcy petitions, interim orders, permission to act as a director, setting aside preferences and transactions at an under-value and appeals, and challenging Debt Relief Orders, Personal Insolvency Practice gives the inside track on what the court will expect both in terms of practice and evidence.

Packed with precedents, forms, checklists and statutory extracts, Personal Insolvency Practice ensures the busy practitioner has everything they need to prepare and present the most common insolvency applications.

Now fully updated, this book will prove an invaluable reference for insolvency practitioners along with its companion text Corporate Insolvency Practice, now in its second edition.

New for the second edition

- New law – deals with the new Insolvency (England and Wales) Rules 2016
- Provides the latest precedents, court forms, checklists and relevant statutory and practice direction extracts

Professor Mark Watson-Gandy is a practising barrister, specialising in insolvency law, at Three Stone Chambers. He is a Visiting Professor at the University of Westminster and a Visiting Lecturer at Cass Business School. He was appointed to the Court of the University of Essex in 2015. Mark gave evidence to the Commons Select Committee on Business Innovation and Skills’ Inquiry into the “Insolvency Service”, to the All Party Small Business Group’s Inquiry into “Breaking down the barriers to entrepreneurship” and the Treasury Committee’s Inquiry on “SME Lending”.

Professor Mark Watson-Gandy is a practising barrister, specialising in insolvency law, at Three Stone Chambers. He is a Visiting Professor at the University of Westminster and a Visiting Lecturer at Cass Business School. He was appointed to the Court of the University of Essex in 2015. Mark gave evidence to the Commons Select Committee on Business Innovation and Skills’ Inquiry into the “Insolvency Service”, to the All Party Small Business Group’s Inquiry into “Breaking down the barriers to entrepreneurship” and the Treasury Committee’s Inquiry on “SME Lending”.
A pioneering systematization of Chinese legislation, regulations, judicial instructions and directives, doctrinal materials, and selected judicial practice relating to private international law, set out in the form of a Restatement, with commentary, followed by a draft Code which distils the best of the material and makes suggestions for improvements or offers a rationale for retaining the existing rules – drawing upon leading worldwide experience and trends.

Dr. Zhu offers a learned, insightful, and informed illumination of a singularly obscure and complex domain of Chinese law, offering reasoned solutions or approaches that legal practitioners, academic lawyers, and policymakers will find instructive.

Shaoming Zhu received her LL.B. from Chang’An University; her LL.M. from Beijing Normal University, and her SJD degree from the Dickinson School of Law, Pennsylvania State University.
At the theoretical level, most constitutions in Africa normally provide for the concept of separation of powers with each arm of government assigned defined roles and functions. At the operational level, the Judiciary is regarded as the junior partner with the ‘restrictions’ on funding in terms of spending as it is usually the prerogative of the Executive branch of government to allocate funds to the Judiciary. To what extent is the check and or control of funding affect the operations of the courts? Can in exercise of the doctrine of separation of powers be expanded with regards to the appointment, discipline and removal of judicial officers? What should be the relationship between the two other arms of government and the Judiciary with regards to control of cases to be determined by the courts. All these issues find a way of determining how effective the Judiciary can be in any governmental arrangement and structure. It is particularly challenging in Africa where democracy in practice is still at the embryonic stage especially with regards to the political office holders. The African Union has in place the African Charter on Human and Peoples’ Rights with a provision for an African Commission to determine disputes. How effective is this Commission and how independent is it?

This book, Judicial Independence in Africa set out to interrogate some of these issues and was put together by scholars of varied and diverse experience in and outside university environment tracing the evolution of the Judiciary as an arm of government, its relationship with other arms of government and the media, the operations of the institution in relation to issues of human rights, gender and juvenile justice.

In this volume the authors address for the first time in a single volume the development of ‘schools’ civil law doctrine in Ukraine: Kharkiv, Kyiv, Odessa, Lviv, and others, the general theoretical foundations of civil-law doctrine, the subjects of civil law, doctrines on ownership, contract, delict, intellectual property, personal non-property rights, inheritance, corporate law, securities, family, labor, and housing law, and international private law. The volume concludes with a consideration of the law of civil procedure and alternative dispute resolution.

THE GENERAL EDITORS

William E. Butler is The John Edward Fowler Distinguished Professor of Law, Pennsylvania State University; Emeritus Professor of Comparative Law in the University of London (University College London); Foreign Member, National Academy of Sciences of Ukraine and National Academy of Legal Sciences of Ukraine; Associate, International Academy of Comparative Law.
