Franchising: Law and Practice (Sweet & Maxwell)	Looseleaf and ProView	Company and Commercial	Two very important developments that affect franchising which will be dealt with in the next update to franchising law & practice: Vertical Restraints Block Exemption and the Drain Doctor Decision. The EU has published its new block exemption and extensive new guidelines. Whilst it will have limited effect in the UK it will apply to those UK franchisors expanding their network into the European Union and the changes will be analysed here. The main focus of the update will be on the UK's own block exemption which will be analysed in detail particularly in respect of the areas which are relevant to franchising: Passive sales/use of websites; Resale price maintenance; Exclusive supply obligations. The Drain Doctor Decision will be reported on. For over 30 years franchisors have been able to enforce post termination non-compete covenants lasting 12 months in a franchisee's territory. The Court of Appeal's decision in the Drain Doctor case has substantially altered franchisor's position. The Court of Appeal's decision is consistent with a number of other decisions taken in the last 12 months in respect of non-compete covenants and confirms that those decisions reflect a new approach that will apply to franchise agreements. The decision will be analysed and the effect of the decision on the drafting of franchise agreements will be discussed.

United Kingdom Oil & Gas Law (Sweet & Maxwell)	Looseleaf and ProView	Energy Law	Developments to be expected in the Encyclopedia of UK Oil and Gas Law in 2023 include coverage of the reforms in the government's omnibus Energy Bill that bear on the oil and gas industries, notably control of licensees, management of gas networks, and downstream energy resilience. There will be an expansion of the content to include the proposed new carbon capture and storage regulatory regime. There will be coverage and commentary on the eventual shape of the government's Climate Compatibility Checkpoint, designed to reconcile continued oil and gas licensing with the government's net zero ambitions for offshore hydrocarbons production. Other legal issues posed by the transition to net zero, such as evolving international legal protections of hydrocarbon investments will be considered.
Water and Drainage Law (Sweet & Maxwell)	Looseleaf and ProView	Planning and Environment	The summer drought of 2022 and publicity on sewage discharges are likely to lead to legislative changes in the regulation of the water industry. Coverage will also include nutrient neutrality – Wyatt v Fareham BC [2022] EWCA Civ 983; duty to upgrade STWs in nutrient neutrality areas by 2030; water quality targets under the Environment Act 2021; fluoridation responsibility to central government; and abstraction licence changes under EA 2021.
Weinberg & Blank on Takeovers and Mergers (Sweet & Maxwell)	Looseleaf and ProView	Company and Commercial	Updates in 2023 will cover the Bill to be put before Parliament, which will establish the new statutory regulator, ARGA; provide new measures to open up the auditing market, including shared audits; enlarge the scope of public interest entities (PIEs); and give the new regulator powers to enforce directors' financial reporting duties. Elsewhere the government has indicated that it will be inviting ARGA to strengthen the UK Corporate Governance Code. Beyond this, the statistics in Section 1 of Part 1 will be updated in January: R.68. In Part 12, the list of current accounting standards and proposed changes will be updated in each release. Section 28A (Pensions) will be updated to give coverage of expected changes to the notifiable events regime, including the Notifiable Events (Amendment) Regulations (if in force in 2023) and the related update to the Pensions Regulator's Code of Practice 2 (Notifiable Events) (if operational in 2023). Also incorporated, updates relating to the Pensions Regulator's new single Code of Practice (if operational in 2023), and any necessary updates relating to the Pensions Regulator's Defined Benefit Funding Code of Practice (if operational in 2023).
