August is usually quite quiet for us as most lawyers are off on holiday. We are also now in the midst of the Olympics which makes getting around the city even more difficult than usual. For overseas and European lawyers on holiday visiting London, or the Olympics, we are always pleased to see you. Call in to renew old acquaintances or to introduce ourselves in person.

Adams, Maurice; Bomhoff, Jacco, Practice and Theory in Comparative Law, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £65.00, ISBN: 9781107010857

Essays by both established and younger comparative lawyers reflect on the methodological challenges arising in their own work and in work in their area.

Klatt, Matthias; Meister, Moritz, The Constitutional Structure of Proportionality, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £50.00, ISBN: 9780199662463

As constitutional law globalizes, the quest for a common grammar or «generic constitutional law» becomes more pressing. Proportionality is one of the most prominent and controversial components of the modern, global constitutional discourse. In view of the alarming tension between the triumphant success of proportionality and the severity of the criticism directed towards it, this book offers an in-depth analysis of the critics of proportionality and demonstrates that their objections against the proportionality test are not convincing. It clarifies and further develops the current theories of proportionality and balancing. Building upon on Robert Alexy's predominant principles theory, the book suggests several modifications to this theory. Drawing examples from the case law of the European Court of Human Rights, the European Court of Justice, and various national constitutional courts it illustrates the argument in favour of proportionality and demonstrates its relevance for deciding concrete cases.

At the heart of this book lies a fresh approach towards a general theory of such global public interest considerations in the investment realm.

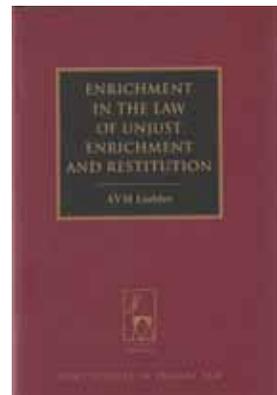

Delineating how and why those considerations matter, and why the current system does not accommodate them properly, Andreas Kulick fleshes out general principles and customary international law as defences the host state may raise against alleged investor rights infringements and promotes proportionality as the appropriate balancing mechanism.

Larsen, Paul B.; Gillick, John; Sweeney, Joseph, Aviation Law: Cases, Laws and Related Sources 2nd ed, Martinus Nijhoff Publishers, Hardback, £225.00, ISBN: 9789004168107

The flying public, airlines, and governments will all agree on one date that changed commercial flying: that was September 11, 2001. The first edition of Aviation Law: Cases, Laws and Related Sources described early consequences of that event, particularly compensation of victims and early tightening of aviation security. Subsequently laws and regulations affecting all aspects of aviation changed so rapidly that it became difficult to set a cut-off date for the second edition. The rapid flow of events made an update urgent. Several gaps in the materials of the first edition became evident as the book was used. The authors filled those gaps, pruned old materials and added much new material describing not only the later developments, but also evolving economics and flight technology.

Lodder, Andrew, Enrichment in the Law of Unjust Enrichment and Restitution, Hart Publishing,

Hardcover, £65.00, ISBN: 9781849463294

Enrichment is key to understanding the law of unjust enrichment and restitution. This book provides a comprehensive analysis of the concept of enrichment and its implications for restitutionary awards. Dr Lodder argues that enrichment may be characterised as either factual or legal, and explores the consequences of that distinction. In factual enrichment cases, the measure of enrichment is the objective value received. This is the basis of awards of money had and received, quantum meruit, quantum valebat and money paid. In legal enrichment cases, the benefit is the acquisition of a specific right or the release of a specific obligation. The remedy is restitution of that right or reinstatement of that obligation. It is demonstrated that specific restitution of the defendant's legal enrichment is the basis for certain resulting trusts, rescission, rectification and subrogation.

Mavroidis, Petros C., Trade in Goods: An Analysis of International Trade Agreements 2nd ed, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £145.00, ISBN: 9780199657483

It introduces both the historic as well as the economic rationale for the emergence of the multilateral trading system, before dealing with WTO practice in all areas involving trade in goods.

It is with great sadness that we have to report the loss of Raynold Cartwright who died on the 16th of July. Raynold was a member of CAR-ALL (Caribbean Association of Law Librarians) as well as the founder president of the Bahamas Association of Law Librarians, and the Legal Education Week at the EDLS (Eugene Dupuch Law School) for the past 7 years. He ran the College of Bahamas Library, and was instrumental in the move of the library over to the new Harry C Moore Library recently.

He will be deeply missed, not only in the Caribbean, where he was based in the Bahamas, but as far afield as Australia, Canada, and the UK, where he had many friends.

is regularly cited in court and relied upon as a trusted authority.

Aircraft Operating Leasing: A Legal and Practical Analysis in the Context of Public and Private International Law

by Donald Patrick Hanley
Kluwer Law International, Hardcover, ISBN 9789041140456, £92.00, due September 2012

This new book examines the aircraft operating lease from both a legal and practical point of view, and contextualizes it in light of public and private international air law agreements, case law, statutes, regulations from a variety of jurisdictions, and current literature in the field. The underlying issues of a lease agreement covered include the obligations and rights of each party; failure to meet delivery condition before delivery; standby letters of credit and guarantees; regulatory constraints concerning aircraft registration or foreign remittances; manufacturer's warranties; possession and replacement of parts and engines; sub-leasing; damage to the aircraft and other loss to lessor; liability for damage to third parties; safety issues and lessor's liability for acts of the airline; the events that will entitle the lessor to terminate the contract and recover its asset; issues pertaining to enforcement of remedies; and governing law. The format of the book broadly follows that of a typical aircraft operating lease. The author flags the principal legal issues to be considered in developing a standard form aircraft operating lease and makes recommendations in that regard. His approach balances the desired commercial outcome with the legal, or more theoretical, mandate to apply the law to disputes that may arise. An immensely useful supplement sets out a real example of a form of aircraft operating lease for a used aircraft, as used by a leading commercial aircraft leasing company. As a detailed examination of each part of the lease with particular reference to the impact on each term of relevant case law, statutes, regulations, and international treaties, this work greatly enhances understanding of the legal and practical aspects of the aircraft operating lease.

Clearing and Settlement in Europe

by Dermot Turing, Hardback, ISBN 9781780431109, £155.00, due September 2012

Unlike other areas of financial services, the law of clearing and settlement is not harmonised or subject to all-embracing EU directives, which has allowed diverse national approaches to develop. Overlaid on that are themes of EU policy, including stimulating competition, promoting systemic stability, and creating a single market in financial services. These themes do not work consistently towards the same objectives, creating a complex subject in which risks and rights are poorly understood. This book aims to clarify and explain this increasingly important area for banks in a practical and accessible way. The author covers the structure of the clearing and settlement industry and related laws, as well as examining the risk management aspects and overall operation of the industry. Dermot Turing is a Partner at Clifford Chance in the International Financial Services and Markets Group.

Gloag and Henderson: The Law of Scotland 13th edition

General Editors: Professor Hector MacQueen and The Right Hon Lord Eassie

W. Green, Hardback, ISBN 9780414018181, £175.00, due October 2012

First published in 1927, Gloag and Henderson is quite simply the work of reference on the law of Scotland. It is unique in providing the complete Scots private law library in one volume, with no other single legal title in Scotland offering the same kind of coverage. From the outset it was distinguished by the clarity and accessibility of its coverage. The development of Scots law in the twentieth century can be traced through succeeding editions of the textbook. As with previous editions, legislative changes have affected many of the topics included in Gloag and Henderson, and this new edition incorporates all relevant changes in the law since the last edition in 2007, in particular the section on Delict has been restructured significantly. The Hon Lord Eassie was a Judge in the Court of Session and formerly sat on the Employment Appeal Tribunal, and Hector MacQueen is Professor of Private Law at the University of Edinburgh.

International Institutional Arbitration: A Commentary

Edited by Prof. Dr. Rolf A. Schütze
Hart Publishing/C H Beck Verlag; Hardback, ISBN 9781849463669, £300.00, due October 2012

International arbitration has become the preferred dispute resolution mechanism in cross-border disputes. In the course of time, ad hoc arbitration, where the parties have to create their own rules and procedures, has increasingly been replaced by institutional arbitration where a specialised institution with a permanent organisation provides assistance and a set of practice-proven rules. The services and rules provided by the various institutions of arbitration differ. In order to inform the potential parties and their counsels about the differences and to make the choice between the different arbitration regimes easier, and to offer guidance through the various provisions, this book provides a comprehensive article-by-article commentary of rules of arbitration of 15 important arbitration institutions. Co-published with Verlag C H Beck and Nomos Verlagsgesellschaft.

International Law and the Classification of Conflicts

Edited by Elizabeth Wilms-hurst

Oxford University Press, Hardback, ISBN 9780199657759, £85.00, due August 2012

This book comprises contributions by leading experts in the field of international humanitarian law on the subject of the categorisation or classification of armed conflict. It is divided into two sections: the first aims to provide the reader with a sound understanding of the legal questions surrounding the classification of hostilities and its consequences; the second includes ten case studies that examine practice in respect of classification. Understanding how classification operates in theory and practice is a precursor to identifying the relevant rules that govern parties to hostilities. With changing forms of armed conflict which may involve multinational operations, transnational armed groups and organized criminal gangs, the need for clarity of the law is all-important. The case studies selected for analysis are Northern Ireland, DRC, Colombia, Afghanistan (from 2001), Gaza, South Ossetia, Iraq (from 2003), Lebanon (2006), military operations against Al-Qaeda, and future trends. The studies explore the legal consequences of classification particularly in respect of the use of force, detention in armed conflict, and the relationship between human rights law and international humanitarian law. The practice identified in the case studies allows the final chapter to draw conclusions as to the state of the law on classification.

EXPANDING THE HORIZONS: On Active Service in Law and Education

His Honour John Toulmin CMG QC

Price:	£25.00
ISBN:	9780854901081
Extent:	384 pp
Size:	229 x 152mm
Binding:	Hardback

With a Foreword by The Right Honourable Kenneth Clarke, MP, Lord Chancellor and Secretary of State for Justice

In Expanding the Horizons: On Active Service in Law and Education John Toulmin reflects on his varied contributions both nationally and internationally in stimulating the development of the seven organisations in which he has been involved. He tells the story through speeches and articles by him and in his honour and looks at future developments.

The book begins with Valedictory speeches on his retirement as a Judge, and with a tribute by the Director of the European Law Academy (ERA), of which he was Chairman of Trustees from 1997-2010. It continues with developments in civil procedure, access to justice, dispute resolution and the author's proposals for reform. Expanding the Horizons contains the last liability judgment in "Factortame", one of the most famous European and UK cases, and it deals with one other case illustrative of construction litigation and of the changes proposed earlier in the work. The story continues with the author's 1993 Presidency of the CCBE (European Bar Council) starting with "Our Worldwide Legal Profession", a keynote lecture at the University of Michigan in 1993, and a 2001 lecture describing his negotiation of the GATT/Uruguay Round, on behalf of the legal profession, and leading role in the Lawyers' Establishment Directive, both of which expanded legal horizons. This section includes an article in Fordham International Law Journal 1992 arguing for a worldwide code of professional ethics, and a chapter entitled "Professional Rules and Ethical Ideologies", based on a 1997 seminar tracing the transformation of legal practice over 30 years, and arguing against multi-disciplinary practices. The book goes on to set out the development of the European Court of Justice and the Court of First Instance (now the general court), particularly relevant to the current scrutiny of the European Court of Justice, indicating possible areas of reform and that the current debate should take place in an atmosphere "more of light than heat". The remarkable story of ERA is set out, with suggestions for the future.

There is a history of the Institute of Psychiatry (IOP) from 1979 - 2003 when the author was closely involved, latterly as Chairman of its Advisory Committee, and an article about interdisciplinary collaboration at King's College London, particularly law and medicine. The author's 2008 "Reading" in the Middle Temple which proposed further international links is included and, after membership from 1990-2010 of the Temple Church committee (as Chairman in 2003), he addresses its development as the Mother Church of the Common Law, the Inns of Court being the cradles. Finally, Sir Konrad Schiemann's end piece encompasses European law, ERA and the modest vineyard of the Toulmin family in Burgundy.
