Volume 17

Issue 8

Published Monthly

Aug/Sept 2012

Usually August is a very quiet month for us in Lincoln's Inn but this year we have published 3 new titles: Charities and Not-for-Profit Entities (a Wildy Practice Guide) by Cecile Gillard, The Telephone Murder by Ronald Bartle and a two volume Collected Papers of Professor Clive Parry edited by Anthony Parry.

Charities and Not-for-Profit Entities has taken a considerable time to appear but we think it is well worth the wait. It provides an inexpensive overview of the subject.

The Telephone Murder investigates an unsolved murder from the 1930's. It is a classic whodunit. This book surveys the evidence, what has been written about the affair, and offers its own conclusions.

Finally, this month marks the 30th anniversary of the passing of Professor Parry at Cambridge and we are very pleased to publish his papers. Clive was a wonderful educator and one of the great thinkers in international law of the twentieth century. This collection includes many unpublished materials.

For further details see our website: www.wildy.com

Abbey, Robert; Richards, Mark, A Practical Approach to Conveyancing 14th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £38.99, ISBN: 9780199656486

Written by two leading authorities in the area with over 50 years' combined experience of legal practice, A Practical Approach to Conveyancing continues to provide a detailed and accessible exposition of the key principles and procedures governing conveyancing transactions. Combining coverage of both residential and commercial conveyancing, the book guides the reader through the various stages of a typical conveyancing transaction and provides highly practical guidance on each stage, from first receiving instructions and undertaking pre-contract searches and enquiries right through to completion, enabling the reader to approach all aspects of a conveyancing transaction with confidence in practice.

Arden, Andrew; Dymond, Andrew, Manual of Housing Law 9th ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Paperback, £59.00, ISBN: 9780414047709

This ninth edition of the popular and well-respected Manual of Housing Law covers all the key areas of housing law in one compact volume and has been substantially re-written and re-structured since the last edition published. It is designed and written for practitioners and advisors, to keep them abreast of legislative changes and case law developments. The succinct yet informative style bridges the gap between the needs of the specialist practitioner, the non-lawyer and student.

Barnard, Catherine, EU Employment Law 4th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £44.99, ISBN: 9780199692927

This new edition of EU Employment Law provides a complete revision and update of the leading English language text in the field. The book begins with an examination of the development of EU employment law focusing on the shift from employment law to employment policy. The text then studies rule-making in the field of employment law, considering both the traditional routes to legislation and governance techniques such as the Open Method of

Coordination.

Barnes, Rachel, Professional Service Agreements: A Guide for Construction Professionals 2nd ed, ICE Publishing, Hardback, £55.00, ISBN: 9780727741585

This is a comprehensive review of the issues that readers need to be aware of when negotiating the minefield of professional services contracts in the construction industry. It is practical and accessible in its approach, and addresses professional obligations when engaged under such agreements. It advises on the principle areas of consultancy risk and makes reference to some of the standard conditions produced by professional bodies.

Bollen, Rhys, The Law and Regulation of Payment Services, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £92.00, ISBN: 9789041138187

Recognizing that recurring risks tend to be dealt with in similar ways by most legal regimes, this study – the first of its kind – draws on a detailed analysis of the strengths and weaknesses of existing regimes to develop an international model which incorporates both the legal elements and their practical application. In building his model, the author addresses the fundamental questions in the law of payment services. The issues are examined through in-depth descriptions of payment facilities as regulated in five key jurisdictions – Australia, the United Kingdom, the European Union, Singapore, and the United States – under the headings of scope, licensing, disclosure, obligations of the parties, liability, redress, and dispute resolution.

Bork, Reinhard; Mangano, Renato, European Insolvency Law: Texts and Cases, Luchterhand, Paperback, £69.00, ISBN: 9783472083344

This English-language book contains a systematic exposition of Council Regulation (EC) No 1346/2000, with particular reference to ECJ case law. This provides the reader with an overview of the laws, regulations and guidelines necessary to understand and follow the pending amendment. It is intended for practitioners, academics, administrative bodies and political committees in EU Member States involved in European Insolvency Law.

Bussani, Mauro; Mattei,

Ugo, The Cambridge Companion to Comparative Law, Cambridge University Press, Paperback, £21.99, ISBN: 9780521720052

We can only claim to understand another legal system when we know the context surrounding the positive law in which lawyers are trained. To avoid ethnocentricity and superficiality, we must go beyond judicial decisions, doctrinal writings and the black-letter law of codes and statutes and probe the ‘deeper structures’ where law meets cultural, political, socio-economic factors. This collection of essays aims to provide the reader with a fundamental understanding of the dynamic relationship between the law and its cultural, political and socio-economic context.

Clapham, Andrew, Brierly's Law of Nations: An Introduction to the Role of International Law in International Relations 7th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback Pocketbook, £24.99, ISBN: 9780199657940

This concise book is an introduction to the role of international law in international relations. Written for lawyers and non-lawyers alike, the book first appeared in 1928 and attracted a wide readership. This new edition builds on Brierly's scholarship and his idea that law must serve a social purpose.

Daly, Paul, A Theory of Deference in Administrative Law: Basis, Application and Scope, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £65.00, ISBN: 9781107025516

location of authority between the organs of government, A Theory of Deference in Administrative Law provides courts with a methodology to apply no matter how complex the subject matter. The firm theoretical foundation of deference is fully exposed and a comprehensive doctrine of curial deference is developed for application by courts in judicial review of administrative action. A wide scope is urged, spanning the whole spectrum of government regulation, thereby ensuring wide access to public law remedies.

Davies, Paul L., Gower & Davies: Principles of Modern Company Law 9th ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Paperback, £35.00, ISBN: 9780414022720

Wildy's Book of the Month:

August 2012

Gower & Davies' Principles of Modern Company Law presents the leading text available on company law, providing clarity while covering all key areas by way of a detailed, in-depth analysis. Students, as well as those involved in company law on a day-to-day basis, can turn to Gower & Davies secure in the knowledge that it will be an interesting, thought provoking and above all understandable exposition of both law and practice.

Emmerson, Ben; Ashworth, Andrew; MacDonald, Alison, Human Rights and Criminal Justice 3rd ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Hardback, £129.00, ISBN: 9781847039118
Human Rights and Criminal Justice provides a full and systematic analysis of the impact of UK human rights law on both the substantive criminal law and criminal procedure. It examines first the applicable human rights principles before moving on to consider their impact on specific areas, including the investigation of crime, court procedure, evidence, standards of proof, sentencing, appeals and the rights of victims.

Greenberg, Daniel; Strouds, Stroud's Judicial Dictionary of Words and Phrases 8th ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Hardcover, 3 Volumes, £555.00, ISBN: 9780414024519

The ability to define words and phrases precisely is critical for any lawyer. Stroud's Judicial Dictionary allows the practitioner to have quick access to the exact, authoritative meaning of terms. This three-volume work provides definitions of words and phrases in various legal contexts. Wherever appropriate direct quotations from decided cases are included for greater ease of research.

Hollis, Duncan B., Oxford Guide to Treaties, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £125.00, ISBN:

9780199601813

The Oxford Guide to Treaties provides a comprehensive guide to treaties, shedding light on the rules and practices surrounding the making, interpretation, and operation of these instruments. Leading experts provide essays designed to introduce the law of treaties and offer practical insights into how treaties actually work. Real examples illustrate the approaches treaty-makers can take on topics such as entry into force, languages, reservations, and amendments. The Oxford Guide to Treaties thus provides an authoritative reference point for anyone involved in the creation or interpretation of treaties or other forms of international agreement.

Key, Andrew, The Enlightened Shareholder Value Principle and Corporate Governance, Routledge, Hardback, £85.00, ISBN: 9780415684347

The book explains and assesses the nature of ESV and its contribution to corporate governance. Andrew Key traces the development of the principle of ESV and examines it in the context of existing principles which have influenced corporate governance. The book analyses the UK legislation that delivers the principle in corporate law, assessing the strengths and shortcomings of the principle as well as its impact on corporate governance as a whole.

Lorenzon, Filippo; Coles, Richard, The Law of Yachts and Yachting, Informa Publishing, Hardcover, £260.00,

ISBN: 9781843118886

The past 20 years has seen steady growth in the numbers and size of pleasure yachts and other leisure craft coupled with an explosion in the numbers of professionally crewed superyachts and megayachts, many of which are operated on a commercial basis for charter by the wealthy. Against this background, this book offers a comprehensive analysis of the many aspects of yachting law. Written by a team of leading yachting practitioners and researchers, this book covers the legal issues arising during the life of a yacht from conception to the scrapyard. It is a practitioners' book, to be used by lawyers and other professionals involved in all aspects of yachting, from design, construction, registration, financing and operation and many related issues.

Moerel, Lokke, Binding Corporate Rules: Corporate Self-Regulation of Global Data Transfers, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £95.00, ISBN: 9780199662913

The digital era shows an unprecedented worldwide flow of data within multinational companies and their external service providers. Binding Corporate Rules (BCRs) are designed to allow these companies to transfer personal data across borders in compliance with EU Data Protection Law. This is the first work to give an in-depth assessment of the BCR regime. It discusses the origins of the regime and the material requirements of BCR, as well as how they should be applied in practice and made binding on the companies and employees. It also covers how BCRs may provide for enforceable rights for the beneficiaries of the regime and how they should be brought in line with requirements of European rules on private international law.

Regan, Dominic, Tolley's Employment Handbook 2012, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £120.00, ISBN: 9780754545279; eBook, £144.00, ISBN: 9780754545286; Book & eBook Pack, £179.24, ISBN: 9780754543893

Tolley's Employment Handbook is written in a clear, highly accessible style, covering every aspect of employment law. The handbook is designed to assist you with every query you may have on routine subjects, such as maternity benefits and recruitment, and to provide expert guidance on more sensitive areas of the law such as sex discrimination and redundancy. The 26th edition is up-to-date with all recent changes in employment law and will help you understand exactly how these developments affect you, your company, your employees or your clients.

Paparinskis, Martens, Basic Documents on International Investment Protection, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £50.00, ISBN: 9781849461368

The increase in the number and complexity of investor-State treaty arbitrations in the last decade has attracted considerable attention from practitioners and academics to international investment protection law. Rules aimed at regulating the protection of foreign investment have been expressed in a decentralised manner, making a clear and comprehensive overview of the topic important. This volume focuses on the relevant documents and aims to provide an exhaustive treatment of relevant procedural and substantive issues.

Parra, Antonio R., The History of ICSID, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £70.00, ISBN: 9780199660568

This is the first book to detail the history and development of the International Centre for Settlement of Investment Disputes (ICSID) and its constituent treaty, the Convention on the Settlement of Investment Disputes between States and Nationals of Other States, covering the years from 1955 to 2010. The book offers unique insight into the establishment and design of ICSID, as well as into how the institution evolved and its relationship with the World Bank. It is essential reading for those involved in this field.

Roberts, Julian V. Zedner, Lucia, Principles and Values in Criminal Law and

Criminal Justice: Essays in Honour of Andrew Ashworth, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £60.00, ISBN: 9780199696796

Celebrating the scholarship of Andrew Ashworth, Vinerian Professor of English Law at the University of Oxford, this collection brings together leading international scholars to explore questions of principle and value in criminal law and criminal justice. Internationally renowned for elaborating a body of principles and values that should underpin criminalization, the criminal process, and sentencing, Ashworth's contribution to the field over forty years of scholarship has been immense. Advancing his project of exploring normative issues at the heart of criminal law and criminal justice, the contributors examine the important and fascinating debates in which Ashworth's influence has been greatest.

International Corporate Rescue

International Corporate Rescue is the bi-monthly journal from Chase Cambria Publishing published in association with Centre for Commercial Law, University College London (UCL) and sponsored by South Square barristers' chambers.

The journal covers the most relevant issues in the topical area of insolvency and corporate rescue law and practice. This is a journal with a global reach, broad enough to cover industry perspectives, yet specialised enough to provide in-depth analysis to practitioners facing these issues on a day-to-day basis. The journal covers the key jurisdictions and core regions of the US, UK, Asia and Europe.

Each issue will include:

- Editorial
- A range of topical articles
- Case Review Section (containing expert commentary on important national and international cases and developments)
- A "US Corner"
- Economists' Outlook

Furthermore, each issue will bring superbly authoritative articles on the most pertinent international business issues written by the leading experts in the field.

Sweet & Maxwell, Hardcover, 2 Volumes, ISBN 9780414048010, £455.00, due October 2012.

Since 1826, Chitty on Contracts has provided complete insight into contract law - allowing you to establish the responsibilities, obligations and entitlements of each party and achieve the best outcome for your client. Whenever you draft a contract, Chitty offers expert interpretation of the legal position, ensuring you have taken every eventuality into account. And as you negotiate with the other party you can check that you aren't missing anything vital, using Chitty to back up your arguments. The new edition incorporates extensive reference to relevant legislation and cases, and expert analyses of recent cases. Volume 1 contains interpretation and analysis of the general principles which apply to all contracts, while Volume 2 provides in-depth analysis of contracts in specialist areas, with expert guidance on contracts from agency and bailment to sale of goods and surety-ship. Volume 1 is also available to purchase separately, ISBN 9780414047990, price £335.00

A Restatement of the English Law of Unjust Enrichment

by Andrew Burrows FBA, QC

Oxford University Press, Paperback, ISBN 9780199669905, £24.99, due November 2012.

A Restatement of the English Law of Unjust Enrichment represents a wholly novel idea within English law. Designed to enhance understanding of the common law the Restatement comprises a set of clear succinct rules, fully explained by a supporting commentary, which set out the law in England and Wales on unjust enrichment. Written by one of the leading authorities in the area, in collaboration with a group of senior judges, academics, and legal practitioners, the Restatement offers a powerfully persuasive statement of the law in this newly recognized and uncertain branch of English law.

Many lawyers and students find unjust enrichment a particularly difficult area to master. Combining archaic terminology with an historic failure to provide a clear conceptual structure, the law remained obscure until its recent rapid development in the hands of pioneering judges and academics. The Restatement builds on the clarifications that have emerged in the case law and academic literature to present the best interpretation of the current state of the law. The Restatement will be accessible, and of great practical benefit, to students, academics, judges, and lawyers alike as they work with this area of law. The text of the Restatement is supported by full commentary explaining its provisions and roots together with its application to real and hypothetical cases. The Restatement appears as European private law takes its first steps towards harmonization. In providing an accessible survey of the English law, the Restatement will offer an important reference point for the English position on unjust enrichment in the harmonization debates. Also appearing shortly after the United States Third Restatement on Restitution and Unjust Enrichment, this Restatement offers an interesting contrast with American law in this area.

Dicey, Morris & Collins on the Conflict of Laws 15th edition

General Editor: Lord Collins of Mapesbury

Sweet & Maxwell, Hardcover, 2 Volumes, ISBN 9780414024533, £395.00, due October 2012.

Dicey, Morris & Collins on The Conflict of Laws is an established, authoritative practitioner text that provides a definitive explanation of private international law, and explains the rules, principles and practice which determine how the law of England and Wales relates to other legal systems. Dicey deals with the law arising from issues such as contracts made or performed in other jurisdictions or with foreign parties, property situated overseas, disputes relating to torts committed abroad or committed by foreign parties, and personal and family matters involving people in other jurisdictions. Volume 1 sets out general principles, definitions, procedures and issues relating to jurisdiction. Volume 2 looks at specific areas of law that are most likely to feature in conflict of laws cases- family law, property, corporations and insolvency, and the law of obligations. Full analyses is provided of the key legislation and case law since the previous edition, and annual supplements (charged separately) will ensure readers are kept updated with new legislation and case law.

Overlapping Intellectual Property Rights

Edited by Neil Wilkof and Shamnad Basheer

Oxford University Press, Hardcover, ISBN 9780199696444, £125.00, due September 2012.

Providing a comprehensive and systematic commentary on the nature of overlapping Intellectual Property rights and their place in practice, this book is a major contribution to the way that IP is understood. IP rights are mostly studied in isolation, yet in practice each of the legal categories created to protect IP rights will usually only provide partial legal coverage of the broader context in which such rights are actually created, used, and enforced. Consequently, often multiple IP rights may overlap, in whole or in part, with respect to the same underlying subject matter. Some patterns, for instance, in addition to being protected from copying under the design rights regime, may also be distinctive enough to warrant trade mark protection. Each chapter addresses a discrete pair of IP rights and is written by a specialist in that area. Facilitating an understanding of how and when those rights may be encountered in practice, each chapter is introduced by a hypothetical situation setting out the overlap discussed in the chapter. The conceptual and practical issues arising from this situation are then discussed, providing practitioners with a full understanding of the overlap. Also included is a valuable summary table setting out the legal position for each set of overlapping rights in jurisdictions across Europe, Central and South America, and Asia, and the differences between them.

Practice of Family Law: Evidence and Procedure

by David Burrows

Jordan Publishing, Paperback, ISBN 9781846612947, £60.00, due September 2012.

This new book provides commentary on a variety of aspects which arise on a day-to-day basis in the family courts: rules of evidence, of procedure, and of aspects such as undue influence, estoppel, and acting for protected parties. It adopts a wide definition of family law to comprise the law relating to family breakdown (married and unmarried) and to public law children proceedings. It comprises proceedings under CPR 1998 as well as the mainstream under FPR 2010; and also touches on administrative law aspects (judicial review the administrative appeal tribunals).

Charity Governance 2nd edition

by Con Alexander and Jos Moule

Jordan Publishing, Hardcover, ISBN 9781846613005, £85.00, due October 2012.

This book is a clear and practical guide to the legal and regulatory framework within which charities operate and its impact on their governance. Written by lawyers who specialise in advising charities, and drawing on the guidance provided by the Charity Commission and HM Revenue & Customs as well as the relevant law, it is aimed at the trustees and senior employees of charities and the lawyers, accountants, investment managers and other professionals who advise them. Charity Governance deals comprehensively with charitable companies, charitable trusts, charitable incorporated organisations and other charitable bodies and with the legislative changes made by the Charities Act 2006, the Companies Act 2006 and the Finance Act 2006. Written by a leading charity law firm this book will provide a practical account of the law and regulation applying to charities and how best to comply through good governance.

Will Draftsman's Handbook 9th edition

by David Gausden, Lesley King and Robin Riddett

Law Society Publishing, Paperback + CD, ISBN 9781853287749, £59.95, due October 2012.

This authoritative reference book provides the will draftsman with the tools needed to prepare wills for the more commonly encountered situations. The text is split into three parts. Part 1 contains commentary providing an analysis of the underlying law. Part 2 contains precedent clauses, which can be readily assembled to make up wills for most circumstances. Part 3 contains statutory material - extracts from the legislation which informs the law. Written in plain English, the book takes a practical and up-to-date approach to will drafting which helps make wills comprehensible to clients. As well as commonly used draft wills, over 75 individual clauses are appended on an accompanying CD-ROM for easy word processing. The 9th edition of this well-regarded book is substantially updated to take account of changes in legislation, case law and practice.

Shale Gas: A Practitioner's Guide to Shale Gas and Other Unconventional Resources

Consultant Editor: Vivek Bakshi

Globe Law & Business, Hardcover, ISBN 9781905783809, £135.00, due September 2012.

With shale gas already heralded as a game changer in North American markets, what role will unconventional natural gas resources come to play in the global supply mix? Answering this question requires the examination of a unique set of challenges which the global petroleum industry finds itself facing today. Complex environmental, social and technical issues must be navigated for the development of safe and sustainable hydraulic fracturing practices to unlock the full potential of this unconventional resource. This guide will examine the issues around hydraulic fracturing in a practical and user-friendly manner. The practical new handbook will feature contributions from leading authorities in the field, including John King of Clayton Utz , Jessica Davies and Rebecca Perkins of Allen & Overy and Michael Darowski of Hogan Lovells. Chapters cover key issues such as the regulation of hydraulic fracturing, including water use and disposal, natural gas pricing trends and operator issues, and coal seam gas and coal bed methane. Together, the contributions afford crucial insight into one of the youngest and fastest-moving areas of the natural gas industry. This guide will be an essential reference tool for natural gas producers, lawyers in private practice and in-house, energy industry advisers and end users worldwide, providing a practical and timely overview of the shale gas industry.

The Practice of Arbitration: Essays in Honour of Hans van Houtte

Edited by Patrick Wautelet, Thalia Kruger and Govert Coppens
Hart Publishing, Hardback, ISBN 9781849463331, £75.00, due September 2012. This book offers a series of commentaries on noteworthy arbitral awards and court decisions on arbitration. All contributions focus on the practice of arbitration. Influential authors with proven arbitration experience share their insights on celebrated and less well-known cases, drawn from various countries, various arbitration institutions and including both commercial and investment arbitration. This collection of essays celebrates the work and scholarship of Hans Van Houtte, who has been a professor of international commercial arbitration at the University of Leuven for more than 20 years. In addition to his widely -praised contribution to the theory of arbitration, Professor Van Houtte has built a long career in the practice of arbitration, presiding over a vast array of arbitral tribunals and holding appointments to international tribunals, most recently as president of the Iran-US Claims Tribunal. Hans van Houtte has always been concerned with the practical usefulness of scholarly writings, and this book respects this approach. This volume will prove essential for all arbitration practitioners and will be of great interest also to academics and research students with an interest in international arbitration.

Taxation of Foreign Profits 2012-13

General Editor: Philip Baker QC

LexisNexis Tolley, Paperback, ISBN 9780754539759, £134.95, due October 2012. This new edition deals with the most extensive changes to UK law on taxation of foreign income in over 50 years. This new title provides timely and authoritative interpretation of the new 2009 rules addressing the taxation of Foreign Profits earned by UK companies and their subsidiaries and other significant changes affecting companies with cross-border investments. The 2012 edition includes a new chapter on CFC rules and how they affect the tax practitioner. Chapters are structured to identify key issues in the interpretation and application of the new legislation, with a discussion of possible solutions. Each chapter contains practical examples of the impact of the new rules. A high profile and expert team of authors, lead by General Editor Philip Baker QC with Consultant Editor Diane Hay, explain the core issues stemming from the most extensive changes to UK law on the taxation of foreign income in over 50 years, and show how these rules will apply with examples of their practical application.

PERSONAL INSOLVENCY
Litigation, Procedure and Precedents

Mark Watson-Gandy

Price: £79.00
ISBN: 9780854900824
Extent: 409 pp
Binding: Hardback

Personal Insolvency Practice is an ideal starting point for all practitioners, whether solicitors or barristers. Up-to-date and practical, this book provides an easy to follow, ‘how to do it’ guide for all the common court applications in personal insolvency.

Covering areas as diverse as statutory demands, bankruptcy petitions, interim orders, permission to act as a director, setting aside preferences and transactions at an under-value and appeals, Personal Insolvency Practice gives the inside track on what the court will expect both in terms of practice and evidence. It provides the busy practitioner with a range of useful precedents and checklists, and sets out the key statutory and practice material for each application.

Fully incorporating the recent amendments to the Insolvency Rules 1986, Personal Insolvency Practice will prove an invaluable reference for insolvency practitioners along with its companion text Corporate Insolvency Practice.

Professor Mark Watson-Gandy is a practising barrister at Thirteen Old Square Chambers and a Visiting Professor at the University of Westminster. He is a member of R3 and is an Editor of Butterworths Corporate Law Service. He was shortlisted in Credit Today magazine’s Insolvency & Rescue Awards both in 2009 and 2010 as “Barrister of the Year”.

Size: 216 x 138mm
Binding: Paperback

In the charity, social enterprise and the wider “not-for-profit” sectors, there is a renewed emphasis on the public interest, significant public reporting demands and a far stronger demand for good governance and the proper management of critical related issues, like conflicts of interest. At the same time relevant regulation has become ever more complex, including separate charity regimes for the constituent parts of the UK, and the law affecting both charities and other “not-for-profit” entities has been substantially altered. The Charity Commission has recently commented that in some circumstances it will now be difficult for charity trustees to demonstrate they have correctly discharged these revised responsibilities if they have not taken appropriate professional advice.

Charities and Not-For-Profit Entities provides practical guidance to the major legal features of charities and other “not-for-profit” organisations and to the legal and regulatory regimes that affect them. It offers an overview of key subjects, such as legal forms, membership, constitutions and public accountability. The book also addresses specific areas where organisations are most likely to encounter problems if they are unaware of legal requirements and restrictions, such as trading and fundraising.

Cecile Gillard is a lawyer specialising in charity and company law at Burton Sweet. She advises clients in the charity, social enterprise and wider not-for-profit sectors and has a particular focus on constitutions, regulation and governance. She is a general editor of Jordans Charities Administration Service and co-author of Jordans Company Secretarial Precedents. She is also a trustee of two local charities and honorary secretary of another.

The Wallace Case is one of the most notorious murder cases of all time. The issue of whether Wallace was guilty or innocent of his wife's brutal murder has been the subject of conjecture among lawyers, criminologists and writers for years. Eighty years on, the case remains unsolved. For several commentators the murder of Julia Wallace was the 'perfect murder'.

William Wallace was a mild-mannered insurance agent, who lived in apparent harmony with his wife, Julia. One evening he attended his chess club to be informed of a telephone message requiring him to visit the caller the next day on a matter of insurance business. Wallace knew neither the address nor the name which the caller had given, but set out, the following day, to keep the appointment. After a long and fruitless search for the house, during which he enquired of nine people, two of whom told him that there was no such address, Wallace returned home to find his wife had been brutally murdered by a series of violent blows to the head from an instrument that was never found. Exhaustive police enquiries drew a complete blank. Detectives came to the view that Wallace himself had made the phone call, using a disguised voice. The phone call, they believed, had been used to create an alibi for the murder which he had committed before he left home. Despite his protestations of innocence, Wallace was duly arrested and charged with the murder of his wife.

At the trial, notwithstanding a favourable summing up by the judge, the jury found Wallace guilty. However on his appeal the Court of Criminal Appeal reversed the guilty verdict and the case against him was dismissed. Wallace subsequently wrote about this ordeal, naming for the first time, another suspect. He died in 1953 and was buried next to his deceased wife.

In The Telephone Murder Ronald Bartle brings alive this dramatic and challenging case, whilst carefully considering the points both assisting the prosecution and those in favour of the defence

With a Foreword by Lord Collins of Mapesbury and an Introduction by John Hopkins

Clive Parry was a fine legal scholar and a prolific writer; these qualities are clearly evidenced in the present collection. It includes his first published work, on the Pacific Blockade, hitherto unpublished papers on the jurisprudence of international law and on the environment, substantial works on state responsibility, on the sources and evidence of international law, on nationality and much more. And it includes introductory papers on his great British Digest of International Law and on the 235 volumes of the Consolidated Treaty Series. There are also papers on legal education in the two Cambridges.

His tragically early death at 65 was an incalculable loss to legal science. The present collection clearly indicates this.

Qualified as a barrister, Anthony Parry was for some years a Foreign Office legal adviser before periods in Brussels with the European Commission and representing the aerospace industry. Returned to the public service in London, he advises on European and international law. He is the co-author of Parry & Hardy's EEC Law and editor of Parry, Grant and Watts, Encyclopedic Dictionary of International Law (1st Ed.)

EXPANDING THE HORIZONS: On Active Service in Law and Education

His Honour John Toulmin CMG QC

Price:	£25.00
ISBN:	9780854901081
Extent:	384 pp
Size:	229 x 152mm
Binding:	Hardback

With a Foreword by The Right Honourable Kenneth Clarke, MP, Lord Chancellor and Secretary of State for Justice

In Expanding the Horizons: On Active Service in Law and Education John Toulmin reflects on his varied contributions both nationally and internationally in stimulating the development of the seven organisations in which he has been involved. He tells the story through speeches and articles by him and in his honour and looks at future developments.

The book begins with Valedictory speeches on his retirement as a Judge, and with a tribute by the Director of the European Law Academy (ERA), of which he was Chairman of Trustees from 1997-2010. It continues with developments in civil procedure, access to justice, dispute resolution and the author's proposals for reform. Expanding the Horizons contains the last liability judgment in "Factortame", one of the most famous European and UK cases, and it deals with one other case illustrative of construction litigation and of the changes proposed earlier in the work. The story continues with the author's 1993 Presidency of the CCBE (European Bar Council) starting with "Our Worldwide Legal Profession", a keynote lecture at the University of Michigan in 1993, and a 2001 lecture describing his negotiation of the GATT/Uruguay Round, on behalf of the legal profession, and leading role in the Lawyers' Establishment Directive, both of which expanded legal horizons. This section includes an article in Fordham International Law Journal 1992 arguing for a worldwide code of professional ethics, and a chapter entitled "Professional Rules and Ethical Ideologies", based on a 1997 seminar tracing the transformation of legal practice over 30 years, and arguing against multi-disciplinary practices. The book goes on to set out the development of the European Court of Justice and the Court of First Instance (now the general court), particularly relevant to the current scrutiny of the European Court of Justice, indicating possible areas of reform and that the current debate should take place in an atmosphere "more of light than heat". The remarkable story of ERA is set out, with suggestions for the future.

There is a history of the Institute of Psychiatry (IOP) from 1979 - 2003 when the author was closely involved, latterly as Chairman of its Advisory Committee, and an article about interdisciplinary collaboration at King's College London, particularly law and medicine. The author's 2008 "Reading" in the Middle Temple which proposed further international links is included and, after membership from 1990-2010 of the Temple Church committee (as Chairman in 2003), he addresses its development as the Mother Church of the Common Law, the Inns of Court being the cradles. Finally, Sir Konrad Schiemann's end piece encompasses European law, ERA and the modest vineyard of the Toulmin family in Burgundy.
