The Wildy team has been very busy during September. Alden Bowers and Graham Norfolk have been attending the Australian Law Library conference in Brisbane. We have a couple of pictures on page 4. Meanwhile John Pethick and Jason Crimp have been at the OECS Bar Association meeting in St Vincent. Pictures on page 2 and 3.

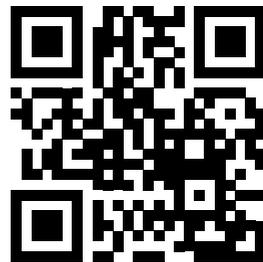

Our congratulations to Mark Watson-Gandy who has been voted UK Insolvency Barrister of the Year in Acquisition International magazine's M&A Awards. Mark is the author of our Corporate Insolvency Practice: Litigation, Procedure and Precedents and the companion work Personal Insolvency Practice: Litigation, Procedure and Precedents.

Finally we sadly note death of Sarah Spells, Law Librarian and Deputy Head of Teaching and Research Support at SOAS Library. Sarah was the Chair of the BIALL Publications Committee and more recently BIALL Council Member. Sarah was also editing the new edition of the BIALL Handbook of Legal Information Management.

a detailed and clear examination of what is a conceptually difficult area of law. Craig's thorough and contextual approach to the subject has prompted thought, discussion, and understanding amongst all those interested in the subject. The seventh edition has been extensively revised and updated to take account of the numerous developments in administrative law since the last edition published in 2008. Administrative Law is of relevance to those who are interested in the administrative system and those whose primary interest lied in judicial review. It provides a clear and readable exposition of a complex area of law, making it an invaluable text for students and academics alike.

Frase, Dick; Helm, Robert; Day, Martin, Practitioner's Guide to Conflict of Interest in the Financial Services Industry, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Paperback, £145.00, ISBN: 9780414049413

A Practitioner's Guide to Conflicts of Interest in the Financial Services Industry provides you with a practical examination of the complex law and regulations that exist in the UK, USA and various other important jurisdictions concerning the concept of conflicts of interest and how the principles have been applied to the financial services industry. This unique title looks firstly at the law in the UK, giving you detailed guidance on how conflicts and potential conflicts should be managed in the context of UK regulation. It then goes on to discuss the latest EU developments and the US approach, particularly with regard to the extent that non-US firms are subject to US regulatory requirements and the implications of the Dodd-Frank Act. The book also covers other jurisdictions including Ireland and Hong Kong, and considers the civil law approach with reference to France, Germany and Luxembourg.

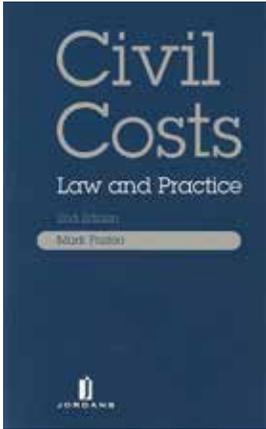

French, Derek; Mayson, Stephen; Ryan, Christopher, Mayson, French & Ryan on Company Law 2012 - 2013, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £35.99, ISBN: 9780199652587 take the reader even further into the subject. The text is invaluable to students reading courses in contract, the law of obligations, and common law and is often used as a first point of reference for practitioners.

Gardner, John, Law as a Leap of Faith: Essays on Law in General, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £39.99, ISBN: 9780199695553

In this book John Gardner collects, revisits, and supplements fifteen years of celebrated writings on general questions about law and legal systems - writings in which he attempts, without loss of philosophical finesse or insight, to cut through some of the technicalities with which the subject has become encrusted in the late twentieth century. Taking his agenda broadly from H.L.A. Hart's The Concept of Law (1961), Gardner shows how the key ideas in that work live on, and how they have been and can still be improved in modest ways to meet important criticisms - in some cases by concession, in some cases by circumvention, and in some cases by restatement. In the process Gardner engages with key ideas of other modern giants of the subject including Kelsen, Holmes, Raz, and Dworkin. Most importantly he presents the main elements of his own unique and refreshingly direct way of thinking about law, brought together in one place for the first time.

Guest, Prof Anthony, Guest on the Law of Assignment, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Hardcover, £175.00, ISBN:

Guest on the Law of Assignment provides a thorough statement of the law of voluntary assignment relating to debt, contractual rights, guarantees, and deals with insurance, shares and intellectual property. It includes, for each issue or topic, the authority that supports the legal principle. It goes through the nature of assignment, commencing with a definition of assignment, before outlining and giving examples of choices in action; detailing the requirements for assignment; and looking at the relationship of assignment and other transactions.

Hanley, Donal Patrick, Aircraft Operating Leasing: A Legal and Practical Analysis in the Context of Public and Private International Air

see www.wildy.com for further details

Law, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £90.00, ISBN: 9789041140456

The aim of this book is to examine the aircraft operating lease from both a practical and legal point of view. In particular, to contextualise it in light of both public and private international air law. This is done by examining, from a legal perspective, a typical lease transaction from the start of the deal through to execution of the documentation, discussing not only the typical issues that arise and their resolution, but the legal reasons underlying them.

Hanotiau, Bernard; Mourre, Alexis, Players' Interaction in International Arbitration, International Chamber of Commerce, Paperback, £65.00, ISBN: 9789284201679

cessful arbitration supposes a harmonious cooperation between parties, arbitrators, and other actors of the proceedings, including arbitral institutions. However, many factors can negatively affect the arbitration procedure. Dossier IX 'Players' Interaction in International Arbitration' compiles the outcome of the 2011 Annual Conference of the Institute of World Business Law. It discusses the means to ensure that arbitration remains a real alternative to state justice: efficient, harmonious and at the same time respectful of the parties' rights. Thus, it evokes the duties different actors of arbitration have towards others, the means that should be implemented to ensure a smooth functioning of the arbitral tribunal, the challenges arbitral institutions have to cope with and more.

ICC; Fry, Jason; Greenberg, Simon; Mazza, Francesca, The Secretariat's Guide to ICC Arbitration, International Chamber of Commerce, Paperback, £110.00, ISBN: 9789284201365

tariat of the ICC International Court of Arbitration. This Guide contains a presentation and explanation of the recently revised ICC Rules of Arbitration with detailed references to the practices of the ICC Court and its Secretariat. Written by members of the Secretariat of the ICC Court, it offers practical insights and recommendations from those involved in the day-to-day application of the Rules. In an easily accessible, article-by-article commentary, the authors provide extensive information on the underlying purpose of each provision and how it is applied by the ICC Court, its Secretariat, arbitrators and parties.

Park, William W., Arbitration of International Business Disputes: Studies in Law and Practice 2nd ed, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £195.00, ISBN: 9780199657131

Arbitration of International Business Disputes 2nd edition is a fully revised and updated anthology of essays by Rusty Park, a leading scholar in international arbitration and a sought-after arbitrator for both commercial and investment treaty cases.

This collection focuses on controversial questions in arbitration of trade, financial, and investment disputes. The essays address some of the most interesting topics in cross-border business dispute resolution, many of which have endured over several decades and remain subject to radically different views.

Schulze, Reiner, Common European Sales Law: A Commentary, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £200.00, ISBN: 9781849463652

The emergence of European Contract Law as a field of enquiry has been matched by a burgeoning literature. This includes textbooks, casebooks, monographs and commentaries as well as at least one journal and huge number of journal articles.

As the field has matured, so has its elaboration and analysis by scholars, though it remains a field replete with contested viewpoints and many controversies. This new work by one of Germany's most well-known and respected private law scholars, seeks to present a complete and coherent view of the subject from the perspective of the jurisdiction which has arguably had more responsibility than any other for influencing the shape and content of European contract law.

Spangler, Timothy, The Law of Private Investment Funds 2nd ed, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £175.00, ISBN: 9780199657735

The new edition of The Law of Private Investment Funds offers a practical analysis of the legal and regulatory issues that arise in connection with the structuring, formation, and operation of private investment funds, including hedge funds, private equity funds, real estate funds, and other non-retail collective investment vehicles. The book provides a unique analysis of these funds on a pan-asset class basis, as well as from a US, UK, and European perspective. The themes of investor protection and fiduciary challenge are considered in the context of the various sources available for investor protection including the substantive rights and obligations under general law, and voluntary and statutory rights of regulation.

Sprack, John (Emmins), A Practical Approach to Criminal Procedure 14th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £49.99, ISBN: 9780199651955

Now in its fourteenth edition, A Practical Approach to Criminal Procedure provides a complete guide to the criminal process in England and Wales. It explains what happens before the accused appears in court, the way in which prosecutions are commenced, funding by the criminal defence service, and bail. It describes proceedings in the magistrates' court, including summary trial and committal for sentence, as well as the way in which the youth court operates. Committal and transfer for trial are clearly explained and the process by which serious offences are sent direct to the Crown Court is also studied. Trial on indictment is discussed in detail, as are sentencing and appeals.

It offers in-depth analysis and enables you to draft documents with ease and confidence. Also includes information on taxation considerations and reflects recent changes in market practice in private equity transactions. New to the 6th editions: Updated, with the latest case law since the last edition published in 2009; Expert discussion on the impact of the Bribery Act 2010 on joint ventures; Includes commentary and precedents based on practical experience of the effect of Companies Act 2006; Covers the effect of the recent economic and financial developments on private equity transactions.

Guide to Motor Insurers' Bureau Claims 10th edition

By Donald Williams
Law Society Publishing, Paperback, ISBN 9781907698651, due November 2012, £39.95

The tenth edition of this well established work offers a concise outline of the scope and workings of the Motor Insurers' Bureau. It explains the extent of the Bureau's liability and the procedure for recovering compensation for victims of accidents involving "hit and run" and uninsured drivers. The new edition has been extensively updated, offering practical coverage of: the Untraced Drivers Agreement, the Uninsured Drivers' Agreement, cases involving the Bureau including Byrne, implementation of the fifth EC Motor Directive. The book includes the full text of the two agreements governing the Motor Insurers' Bureau's activities - the Uninsured Drivers Agreement and the Untraced Drivers Agreement - as well as the forms required to pursue such claims.

Immigration Law Hand- book 8th edition

By Margaret Phelan and
James Gillespie
Oxford University

Press, Paperback, ISBN
9780199659708, due November 2012, £65.00

Now in its eighth edition, the Immigration Law Handbook continues to bring together all the key materials relevant to immigration and asylum law in one volume, providing an essential reference tool for those working in the area. This new edition maintains the strengths of the handbook as a reference tool and is fully updated to allow the reader access to all new developments. Legislative changes since the previous edition are covered, which include the many statements of changes to the Immigration Rules since July 2010, including further amendments to the points based system and other significant new rule changes for spouses and students. Statutes have been updated to consider orders bringing new provisions on existing legislation into force, such as the Identity Documents Act 2010, which amends various immigration statutes. Secondary legislation, adding to the functions of the Asylum and Immigration Chamber of the Upper Tribunal, is addressed. Amendments to the 2006 European Economic Area regulations and the regulations relating to nationals of accession states are covered, along with the full materials of the Tribunals, Courts and Enforcement Act 2007. The Immigration Law Handbook has established itself as the standard in the field to become a well-known and trusted resource.

International Sales Law: A Guide to the CISG 2nd edition

By Ingeborg Schwenzer, Christina Fountoulakis and Mariel Dimsey
Hart Publishing, Paperback, ISBN 9781849463027, due October 2012, £35.00

Written for international trade lawyers, practitioners and students from common and civil law countries, this casebook is an excellent starting point for learning about the CISG, providing article-by-article analysis of the Convention. The analysis of each article is accompanied by extracts from cases and associated comparative materials, as well as references to important trade usages such as the INCOTERMS. The book features a selection of the most significant cases, each of which has been abridged to enable the reader to focus on its essential features and the relevant questions arising from it. The case extracts are accompanied by a comprehensive overview of parallel provisions in other international instruments, uniform projects and domestic laws. The analysis, cases, texts and questions are intended to aid readers in their comparative law and international sales law studies, and are designed to draw attention to the particular issues surrounding specific CISG provisions and to provoke careful consideration of possible solutions. The book is a reference work as well as an introduction to the individual problem areas. In particular, it acts as a preparatory work for the Willem C. Vis International Commercial Arbitration Moot. The inclusion of sample questions also makes it particularly helpful for self-study purposes.

Craies on Legislation 10th edition

By Daniel Greenberg Sweet and Maxwell, Hardback, ISBN 9780414024526, due October 2012, £289.00

Craies on Legislation is a standard work on the effect and interpretation of legislation. It provides detailed guidance on assessing legislative intention and is a key reference tool for lawyers who have to administer, advise, argue or adjudicate on Acts of Parliament and statutory instruments. It is a work of direct practical use for barristers, solicitors and the judiciary. It steers them clearly through a range of critical issues, such as the interpretation of words, what may and may not be implied if the meaning is unclear, what sources of information outside a statute may be used to throw light on its meaning, the effect of new legislation on existing law and the effect of an error in legislation. The previous edition has been regularly cited by Parliamentary joint committees and relied on in prominent cases. The new 10th edition considers all recent developments in the law. Provides answers to the difficult questions often faced when interpreting a piece of legislation. Enables practitioners to keep on the right side of difficult legislation, such as the Human Rights Act and EU law. Addresses the practical problems that are likely to occur to the users of legislation, rather than academic concerns. Includes coverage of interpreting regulations and secondary legislation. Deals with European legislation, examining its nature, effects and interpretation.

European Debt Restructuring Handbook: Leading Case Studies from the Post-Lehman Cycle

By Kon Asimacopoulos and Justin Bickle

Globe Law and Business, Hardback, ISBN 9781905783656, due October 2012, £135.00

Over the past decade in Europe, the number of companies with complex corporate and financing structures has increased to levels unseen at any time in history. The European Debt Restructuring Handbook: Leading Case Studies from the Post-Lehman Cycle brings together Europe's leading restructuring lawyers who were and remain instrumental in shaping the way that European restructurings are conducted and implemented today. Each chapter is a detailed case study, by key lawyers centrally involved, on leading restructurings including McCarthy & Stone, IMO Carwash, Monier, Countrywide, Autodistribution, SGD, La Seda de Barcelona, Schoeller Arca Systems, Risanamento SpA, Almatris, Wind Hellas I and II, European Directories and Rodenstock. This practical handbook represents an unprecedented record of the leading restructurings of the era by those involved and leads the reader through each in detail, unlike any other publication to date. It is an invaluable tool for restructuring and insolvency practitioners throughout Europe.

Development and Planning Law 4th edition

By Barry Denyer-Green
Estates Gazette, Paperback,

ISBN 9780728205260, due November 2012, £39.99

The statutory development control and planning law system of the United Kingdom is one of the most comprehensive and detailed in the world. Inevitably then, development control is one of the most significant matters concerning anyone involved in the development of land, and an understanding of the Acts, legislations and enforcement of said powers is essential to the success of any development project. This book is the fourth edition of a highly regarded work widely used by students and practitioners of real estate management, development, surveying, valuation, planning and law. Written by two experienced experts on law and the UK planning system, Development and Planning Law is essential reading for anyone involved in building and construction, surveying, planning, and development and who need to know the law as it relates to their every-day professional practice. It has been extensively updated to reflect the most recent legal developments, including the 2011 Localism Act.

Freedom of Information Handbook 3rd edition

By Peter Carey and Robin Hopkins

Law Society Publishing, Paperback, ISBN 9781907698187, due October 2012, £89.95

The introduction of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 led to numerous developments, particularly as a result of decisions made by the Information Commissioner, Information Tribunal and courts. In January 2011, the Government announced a new package of measures. The third edition of this practical handbook examines these changes to provide an up-to-date, authoritative and straightforward overview of the law. Comprehensively revised, it covers in detail: clauses in the forthcoming Freedom Bill; the impact of the Freedom Bill on the use of data gathered by public authorities; important secondary legislation. Written by a team of leading experts in the freedom of information field, the book is indispensable for public bodies' legal officers and departments, freedom of information officers and solicitors advising clients with commercial or contractual interests affected by the Freedom of Information Act.

Charity Administration Handbook 5th ed

By Don Bawtree and Kate Kirkland Bloomsbury Professional, Paperback, ISBN 9781847669889, due October 2012, £70.00

The new edition of Charity Administration Handbook has been considerably restructured to make it a more useful title for both those involved in directly running a charity as well those advising them. The contents follow the lifecycle of a charity so readers can easily locate the information most relevant to them at any particular time. The text throughout is illustrated by examples and case studies with highlighted key points in each chapter. Charity Administration Handbook makes an ideal first point of reference for charity administrators and their professional advisers, especially in relation to finance and charity administration issues. It has also been brought fully up to date with changes in charity legislation and to the taxation of charities since publication of the last edition in 2008.

Sport's Law 2nd edition

By Michael Beloff, Marie Demetriou, Tim Kerr, Rupert Beloff
Hart Publishing, Hardback, ISBN 9781841133676, due October 2012, £95.00

Sports law has been growing with increasing rapidity over the years since the first edition of this book published in 1999, regularly making headlines as well as leading to a developing body of law practised by specialist lawyers. This revised work, by leading practitioners in the field, with a foreword by Lord Coe, provides a coherent framework for understanding the principles of sports law in this area, as well as a deep analysis of its key features. The subject is split into various areas of practice. First regulatory rules, which embrace the constitutional aspect of organised sport including the disciplinary procedures of the various sport governing organisations. Second, broadcasting and marketing resulting from the commercial exploitation, including sponsorship, of sports clubs, sporting events and players. Third player's rights and obligations which embraces a wide range of legal issues including club transfers and player contracts, and issues arising from employment (including discrimination law), personal injury and criminal law. Special attention is paid to the impact of EU and Human Rights law as well as to the influential jurisprudence of the Court of Arbitration for Sport. London 2012 provides an appropriate point at which to provide an overview of the current state of the law, as well as a look to the future. The target readership extends to solicitors and barristers, legal advisers to sports organisations and clubs, to corporations involved in marketing and sponsorship, and media companies, academics teaching sports law, and sports administrators.

Drafting and Negotiating IT Contracts 3rd edition

By Rachel Burnett and Paul Klinger

Bloomsbury Professional, Hardback with CD, ISBN 9781847667120, due December 2012, £198.00

Whether you are a legal adviser, IT supplier or IT purchaser, this fully updated edition of Drafting and Negotiating IT Contracts (formerly Drafting and Negotiating Computer Contracts) will ensure you have the edge in your negotiations. Covering a wide variety of IT contracts, each chapter provides an outline of the structure and contents of the contract, followed by sample clauses and drafting notes and key-point checklists. Uniquely, this enables you to develop a contract from scratch by focusing on key points and producing a skeleton draft before a fully worked draft. No other book brings you such a useful and practical approach.

Mark Watson-Gandy

Price: £79.00
ISBN: 9780854900824
Extent: 409 pp
Binding: Hardback

Personal Insolvency Practice is an ideal starting point for all practitioners, whether solicitors or barristers. Up-to-date and practical, this book provides an easy to follow, ‘how to do it’ guide for all the common court applications in personal insolvency.

Covering areas as diverse as statutory demands, bankruptcy petitions, interim orders, permission to act as a director, setting aside preferences and transactions at an under-value and appeals, Personal Insolvency Practice gives the inside track on what the court will expect both in terms of practice and evidence. It provides the busy practitioner with a range of useful precedents and checklists, and sets out the key statutory and practice material for each application.

Fully incorporating the recent amendments to the Insolvency Rules 1986, Personal Insolvency Practice will prove an invaluable reference for insolvency practitioners along with its companion text Corporate Insolvency Practice.

Professor Mark Watson-Gandy is a practising barrister at Thirteen Old Square Chambers and a Visiting Professor at the University of Westminster. He is a member of R3 and is an Editor of Butterworths Corporate Law Service. He was shortlisted in Credit Today magazine’s Insolvency & Rescue Awards both in 2009 and 2010 as “Barrister of the Year”.

In the charity, social enterprise and the wider “not-for-profit” sectors, there is a renewed emphasis on the public interest, significant public reporting demands and a far stronger demand for good governance and the proper management of critical related issues, like conflicts of interest. At the same time relevant regulation has become ever more complex, including separate charity regimes for the constituent parts of the UK, and the law affecting both charities and other “not-for-profit” entities has been substantially altered. The Charity Commission has recently commented that in some circumstances it will now be difficult for charity trustees to demonstrate they have correctly discharged these revised responsibilities if they have not taken appropriate professional advice.

Charities and Not-For-Profit Entities provides practical guidance to the major legal features of charities and other “not-for-profit” organisations and to the legal and regulatory regimes that affect them. It offers an overview of key subjects, such as legal forms, membership, constitutions and public accountability. The book also addresses specific areas where organisations are most likely to encounter problems if they are unaware of legal requirements and restrictions, such as trading and fundraising.

Cecile Gillard is a lawyer specialising in charity and company law at Burton Sweet. She advises clients in the charity, social enterprise and wider not-for-profit sectors and has a particular focus on constitutions, regulation and governance. She is a general editor of Jordans Charities Administration Service and co-author of Jordans Company Secretarial Precedents. She is also a trustee of two local charities and honorary secretary of another.

The Wallace Case is one of the most notorious murder cases of all time. The issue of whether Wallace was guilty or innocent of his wife's brutal murder has been the subject of conjecture among lawyers, criminologists and writers for years. Eighty years on, the case remains unsolved. For several commentators the murder of Julia Wallace was the 'perfect murder'.

William Wallace was a mild-mannered insurance agent, who lived in apparent harmony with his wife, Julia. One evening he attended his chess club to be informed of a telephone message requiring him to visit the caller the next day on a matter of insurance business. Wallace knew neither the address nor the name which the caller had given, but set out, the following day, to keep the appointment. After a long and fruitless search for the house, during which he enquired of nine people, two of whom told him that there was no such address, Wallace returned home to find his wife had been brutally murdered by a series of violent blows to the head from an instrument that was never found. Exhaustive police enquiries drew a complete blank. Detectives came to the view that Wallace himself had made the phone call, using a disguised voice. The phone call, they believed, had been used to create an alibi for the murder which he had committed before he left home. Despite his protestations of innocence, Wallace was duly arrested and charged with the murder of his wife.

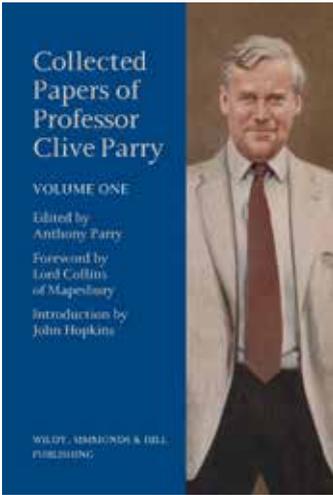

At the trial, notwithstanding a favourable summing up by the judge, the jury found Wallace guilty. However on his appeal the Court of Criminal Appeal reversed the guilty verdict and the case against him was dismissed. Wallace subsequently wrote about this ordeal, naming for the first time, another suspect. He died in 1953 and was buried next to his deceased wife.

In The Telephone Murder Ronald Bartle brings alive this dramatic and challenging case, whilst carefully considering the points both assisting the prosecution and those in favour of the defence

With a Foreword by Lord Collins of Mapesbury and an Introduction by John Hopkins

Clive Parry was a fine legal scholar and a prolific writer; these qualities are clearly evidenced in the present collection. It includes his first published work, on the Pacific Blockade, hitherto unpublished papers on the jurisprudence of international law and on the environment, substantial works on state responsibility, on the sources and evidence of international law, on nationality and much more. And it includes introductory papers on his great British Digest of International Law and on the 235 volumes of the Consolidated Treaty Series. There are also papers on legal education in the two Cambridges.

His tragically early death at 65 was an incalculable loss to legal science. The present collection clearly indicates this.

Qualified as a barrister, Anthony Parry was for some years a Foreign Office legal adviser before periods in Brussels with the European Commission and representing the aerospace industry. Returned to the public service in London, he advises on European and international law. He is the co-author of Parry & Hardy's EEC Law and editor of Parry, Grant and Watts, Encyclopedic Dictionary of International Law (1st Ed.)

USING LEGAL CULTURE

Edited by David Nelken

Price: £65.00
ISBN: 9780854901180
Extent: 372 pp
Size: 229 x 152mm
Binding: Hardback

In comparative legal studies, the concept of legal culture has come to play an increasingly significant role in contemporary theorising, empirical analysis and methodological innovation. This book, entitled Using Legal Culture, explores a number of the key issues regarding the use of this concept.

The essays contained in this book were originally presented in the Journal of Comparative Law Workshop held in Venice University (Ca' Foscari) May 20-21, 2010. The papers show that legal culture is a very productive concept, and also one which carries different meanings and resonances in different places and different languages and which sometimes means different things to different scholars. This collection therefore offers an especially helpful set of reflections on the nature and analytical value of this concept.

The studies published here broadly speaking fall into three categories: general reflections on the concept of legal culture, the use of the concept in the micro-dimensions of the engagement of law with everyday life, and legal culture as a more holistic idea employed to characterise aspects of professionally administered schemes of law and practice. The chapters are written by prominent international scholars, and given a general introduction by one of the foremost researchers in the study of legal culture: Professor David Nelken. The book provides an important resource for all students and scholars with an interest in comparative legal studies, as well as for anyone interested in the relationship between law and culture.

Prof David Nelken is Distinguished Professor of Sociology at the University of Macerata, Visiting Professor of Criminology at the Faculty of Law, University of Oxford, and Distinguished Visiting Research Professor, Faculty of Law, University of Cardiff. He also holds regular visiting appointments in Universities in Europe and the USA.

Widely published, David Nelken's work principally focuses on comparative criminal justice and comparative sociology of law. He is a leading writer in the legal studies discourses on the concept of 'legal culture'.
