WILDY'S BOOK NEWS

Volume 17

Issue 10

Published Monthly

Oct/Nov 2012

October has been a very busy month. Steve Ross and Charlie Alpera have been at the International Bar Association in Dublin. This annual conference gives us a good opportunity to meet with customers from all over the world.

In addition we have hosted the launch of Nick Chambers amusing book Missed Moments in Legal History. We also held a launch for our own title The Telephone Murder by Ronald Bartle. Pictures of all these events are on the following pages.

Our title the Journal of Comparative Law is now available through HeinOnline.

Finally, we note with much sadness the passing of Michael Sherrard. We published his memoirs in Wigs and Wherefores by Linda Goldman and Michael Sherrard in 2008.

MISSED MOMENTS IN LEGAL HISTORY
by Nick Chambers QC

ISBN: 9780955657689

Publisher: Oblong Creative Ltd

Format: Hardback

Price: £19.95

Missed Moments in Legal History is a book of fanciful scenes of what might have happened instead of what did happen to people who met the law.

It was inspired by the tale of Mrs Donoghue who found a decomposed snail in a bottle of ginger beer and made legal history. It also tells you what did happen so that you can understand the pictures of what might have happened.

Arden, Andrew; Chan, Rebecca; Madge-Ward, Sam, Quiet Enjoyment: Arden and Partington's Guide to Remedies for Harassment and Illegal Eviction 7th ed., Legal Action Group, Paperback, £40.00, ISBN: 9781908407146

Quiet Enjoyment is concerned with the rights of occupiers of residential property to live undisturbed in their homes and the legal remedies available when their peace is threatened. This book aims to provide lawyers and other advisers with a practical guide to the law, so that the relevant legal issues may be more easily understood. In addition, particularly with assistance from non-lawyers in mind, it offers an outline of relevant court procedures and seeks to demonstrate how the legal system can be made to operate for the benefit of the occupier.

Clamp, Hugh; Cox, Stanley; Lupton, Sarah, Which Contract? Choosing the Appropriate Building Contract 5th ed, RIBA Publications Ltd, Paperback, £45.00, ISBN: 9781859464618

Which Contract? is an invaluable desktop companion to be turned to at the start of every new project and is recommended to any professional whose clients expect him or her to know the contemporary procurement landscape inside out. Providing clear guidance on how to identify the most appropriate procurement strategy and contract for a given set of circumstances, it has been brought fully up to date to take account of the latest editions of all the recognised forms from JCT 2011 to FIDIC.

Crawford, James, Brown-

lie's Principles of Public International Law 8th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £44.99, ISBN: 9780199699698

This is the eighth edition of Sir Ian Brownlie's classic distillation of public international law. Serving as a single volume introduction to the field as a whole, the book seeks to present international law as a system that is based on, and helps structure, relations among states and other entities at the international level. It aims to identify the constituent elements of that system in a clear and accessible fashion. This eighth edition, fully updated by James Crawford, Whewell Professor of International Law at the University of Cambridge, continues to provide the balance, clarity and expertise expected from this classic text.

De Palo, Giuseppe; Trevor, Mary B., EU Mediation Law and Practice, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £125.00, ISBN: 9780199660988

A practical reference on the EU rules and international initiatives that impact directly on EU cross-border disputes, this handbook is a must-have for any practitioner of cross-border mediation. The book is organized into clear and consistent themes, structured and numbered in a common format to provide easily accessible provisions and commentary across the essential considerations of the Directive. All EU countries which have complied, along with Denmark (which opted out of implementing the Directive), or attempted to comply, with the Directive are included, allowing straightforward comparison of key issues across the different countries in this important and evolving area.

De Wilde, Robin; Jarvis, Michael; Jennings, Peter; et al, Facts & Figures 2012/13: Tables for the Calculation of Damages, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Paperback, A4, £56.00, ISBN: 9780414024403

Now in its 17th edition, this popular collection of tables brings together in one volume all the financial and statistical information needed for assessing special damages quickly, easily and accurately. It dispenses with the need to search a variety of sources. This book supplies reliable data that can be trusted – produced in association with the Professional Negligence Bar Association

Deakin, Simon; Johnston, Angus; Markesinis, Basil, Markesinis and Deakin's Tort Law 7th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £37.99, ISBN: 9780199591985

Markesinis and Deakin's Tort Law is an authoritative, analytical, and well-established textbook, now in its 7th edition. It provides a general overview of the law and full discussion of the academic debates on all major topics, highlighting the relationship between the common law, legislation, and judicial policy. In addition, the authors provide a variety of comparative and economic perspectives on the law of tort and its likely development, always placing the subject in its socio-economic context thereby giving students a deeper and richer understanding of tort law.

Ekins, Richard, The Nature of Legislative Intent, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £34.99, ISBN: 9780199646999

This book argues that in enacting a statute the well-formed legislature forms and acts on a detailed intention, which is the legislative intent. The foundation of the argument is an analysis of how the members of purposive groups act together by way of common plans, sometimes forming complex group agents. The book extends this analysis to the legislature, considering what it is to legislate and how members of the assembly cooperate to legislate. The book argues that to legislate is to choose to change the law for some reason: the well-formed legislature has the capacity to consider what should be done and to act to that end. This argument is supported by reflection on the centrality of intention to the nature of language use. The book then explains in detail how members of the assembly form and act on joint intentions, which do not reduce to the intentions of each member, before outlining some implications of this account for the practice of statutory interpretation.

see www.wildy.com for further details

Fitzgerald, Sean; Muth, Graham, Shareholders' Agreements 6th ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Hardback & CD-ROM, £209.10, ISBN: 9780414022607
Shareholders' Agreements is a highly regarded work containing in-depth guidance on the law governing all forms of shareholder agreement and advice on drafting these agreements. It examines the nature and effects of shareholders' agreements in a wide range of contexts, including minority protection, joint ventures, property joint ventures, partnership companies and venture capital agreements, drawing together in one place material generally scattered across a range of publications. It includes checklists of drafting advice and a range of precedent material, with all the precedents in the book appearing on an accompanying CD-ROM.

Floyd, Richard; Brumby, Frank; Knight, Simon, Personal Insolvency: A Practical Guide 4th ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Hardback, £180.00, ISBN: 9780414022690
This new edition of Personal Insolvency guides practitioners, step-by-step, through the entire personal insolvency process, from pre-petition stage to closing procedures. It combines analysis of substantive law with a clear explanation of the procedures, and covers the various types of personal insolvency, including bankruptcy, individual voluntary arrangements (IVAs) and insolvent partnerships as well as other procedures such as debt management.

Harwood, Richard, Historic Environment Law: Planning, Listed Buildings, Monuments, Conservation Areas and Objects, Institute of Art and Law, Paperback, £58.00, ISBN: 9781903987278
This book covers the planning system and deals with the historic environment and the designation and control applied to listed buildings, conservation areas, scheduled monuments, archaeological areas, gardens, battlefields and World Heritage Sites. It addresses the removal of art and antiquities from site and buildings, including treasure and the consequences of unlawful removal. Discrete regimes are discussed, including the Church of England, military remains and wrecks.

Heilbron, Hilary, Rose Heilbron: The Story of England's First Woman Queen's Counsel and Judge, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £20.00, ISBN: 9781849464017
Rose Heilbron QC, (later Dame Rose Heilbron) was an English Barrister, the first woman Queen's Counsel in 1949 and first woman Judge in England in 1956, who became a world famous icon of the 1950's and 1960's. This biography, written by her daughter Hilary, also a Barrister and Queen's Counsel, charts her rise to prominence and success against the odds, excelling as an advocate and lawyer and later as a High Court Judge. She broke down many barriers and became a pioneer for women at the English Bar and more widely. She also championed many women's causes in an era when it was not fashionable to do so, most of which have since become part of the mainstream.

Hood, Parker, Principles of Lender Liability, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £175.00, ISBN: 9780198299035

Wildy's Book of the Month: October 2012

This comprehensive book begins with a consideration of the nature of the general banker-customer relationship, the obligations it poses and the issues relating to the commencement of the banking relationship. It provides individuals and companies with valuable guidance when assessing the risks in their relationship with banks, and vice versa. The book outlines liability in negligence and contract, with specific reference to existing case law concerning banks in this field from an English law perspective, and also Scottish and Commonwealth law, thus providing valuable applicability to the banking context for practitioners in other fields.

Hardback, £395.00, ISBN: 9780414024533
Dicey, Morris & Collins on the Conflict of Laws is renowned worldwide as the foremost authority on private international law. It explains the rules, principles and practice which determine how the law of England and Wales relates to other legal systems. Across two volumes it is packed with quality and detailed coverage. Volume 1 sets out general principles, definitions, procedures, and issues relating to jurisdiction. Volume 2 looks at specific areas of law that are most likely to feature in conflict of laws cases.

Lundmark, Thomas, Charting the Divide Between Common and Civil Law, Oxford University Press USA, Hardback, £60.00, ISBN: 9780199738823

What does it mean when civil lawyers and common lawyers think differently? In Charting the Divide between Common and Civil Law, Thomas Lundmark provides a comprehensive introduction to the uses, purposes, and approaches to studying civil and common law in a comparative legal framework. Superbly organized and exhaustively written, this volume covers the jurisdictions of Germany, Sweden, England and Wales, and the United States, and includes a discussion of each country's legal issues, structure, and their general rules. Professor Lundmark also explores the discipline of comparative legal studies, rectifying many of the misconceptions and prejudices that cloud our understanding of the divide between the common law and civil law traditions.

Mawrey, Richard B.; Riley-Smith, Tobias, Butterworths Commercial and Consumer Law Handbook 7th ed, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £150.00, ISBN: 9781405773911

The seventh edition of Butterworths Commercial and Consumer Law Handbook contains an invaluable collection of UK statutory material and EC materials. This title is fully up-to-date with all the latest commercial and consumer law changes making it an essential reference source for practitioners involved with this area of the law. The implementation of the Consumer Credit Directive 2008 has resulted in major amendments to the Consumer Credit Act 1974 and swathes of new regulations. The applicable law now depends on the type of agreement. You need to know the three phases of consumer credit law - before the 2004-06 changes; after the changes but before the Directive; after the Directive. These can all be found with this handy reference work.

Proctor, Charles, Mann on the Legal Aspect of Money 7th ed, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £225.00, ISBN: 9780199609178

Providing a thorough legal analysis of money in all its aspects, Mann on the Legal

Aspect of Money has been the leading text on the private and public law of money ever since the publication of the first edition in 1939. This latest edition considers issues that arose in the course of the financial crisis, including the legal aspects of the Greek financial crisis, the implications of quantitative easing and the “lender of last resort” function of the central bank. Additionally, there is a new chapter on payment processes following the Payment Services Directive and legislation designed to reinforce legal arrangements in the context of payment systems. The seventh edition of Mann gives an up-to-date and detailed discussion of current matters, whilst continuing to provide an in-depth analysis on all aspects of monetary law in a single reference source.

Rahman, Pakeeza; Rendell, Tony, Youth Court Guide 5th ed, Bloomsbury Professional, Paperback, £70.00, ISBN: 9781847669827

Youth Court Guide is a user-friendly book that contains everything you need to know about the fundamental principles and day-to-day practices of the youth court, guiding you through every stage of youth justice from diversions through to trial, sentence and any appeal. Youth Court Guide is a specialist guide to the Youth Court and the only concise reference tool which can provide an immediate answer to many of the issues that confront practitioners who deal with juvenile crime and the Youth Court. Now in its fifth edition, this well respected title has been in use by prosecution and defence lawyers, legal advisers, magistrates, district judges, Youth Offending Teams and all those involved in the work of the Youth Court for over 25 years.

Robertson, Geoffrey, Crimes Against Humanity: The Struggle for Global Justice 4th ed, Penguin Books, Paperback, £17.99, ISBN: 9780141974835

In this new edition of the book that has inspired the global justice movement, Geoffrey Robertson QC explains why we must hold political and military leaders accountable for genocide, torture and mass murder. He shows how human rights standards can be enforced against cruel governments, armies and multi-national corporations. If his seminal work now contains a critical perspective on recent events in Egypt, Syria and Libya; the Charles Taylor conviction; and the trials of Mladic Karadzic and Khalid Sheikh Mohammed. Cautiously optimistic about ending impunity, but unsparingly critical of those who evade international rules, this book will provide further guidance to a movement which aims to make justice predominant in world affairs.

The Hon Mr Justice Ryder; Goldrein, Iain, Child Case Management Practice 2nd ed, Family Law, Paperback, £125.00, ISBN: 9781846612640

Child Case Management Practice reflects the revised Public Law Outline, generates best practice case management documents and provides synopses of the law for all the major applications. It also presents core skeleton arguments at a glance and focuses on the Case Management record. This new edition comes in a single volume to keep you abreast of all the latest developments in law and practice. It is designed for use by the Judiciary (including magistracy, justices' clerks, legal advisers), Barristers, Solicitors, Legal Executives, CAF/CASS, Local Authorities, Guardians, Ministry of Justice, Experts and the Legal Services Commission.

Tiley, John; Loutzenhiser, Glen, Revenue Law: Introduction to UK Tax Law; Income Tax; Capital Gains Tax; Inheritance Tax 7th ed, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £40.00, ISBN:

9781849463270

This is the 7th Edition of John Tiley's major text on revenue law, now massively restructured to focus upon the UK Tax system, Income Tax, Capital Gains Tax, and Inheritance Tax. What were previously sections dealing with Corporation Tax, International and European Tax, Savings and Charities have been spun-off to an entirely new book entitled Advanced Topics in Revenue Law which is published in January 2013. While this narrowing of the scope of Revenue Law means that it focuses on the most important UK taxes, its reduced size also makes it a more manageable and portable volume for law students and practitioners.

Ulph, Janet; Smith, Ian, The Illicit Trade in Art and Antiquities: International Recovery and Criminal and Civil Liability, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9781841139647

Antiquities: International Recovery and Criminal and Civil Liability, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9781841139647

This new text provides practical guidance on the modern law relating to cultural objects which have been stolen, looted, or illegally exported. It explains how English criminal law principles, including money laundering measures, apply to those who deal in cultural objects in a domestic or international setting. It discusses the recovery of works of art and antiquities in the English courts where there are competing claims between private individuals, or between individuals and the UK Government or a foreign State. Significantly, this text also provides an exposition of the law where a British law enforcement agency, or a foreign law enforcement agency or court, is involved in the course of criminal or civil proceedings in an English court.

Xiadong Yang, State Immunity in International Law, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £95.00, ISBN: 9780521844017

This book examines a crucial area of international law, namely the exemption enjoyed by States from legal proceedings before foreign national courts. On the basis of judicial decisions, governmental statements, international legal instruments, the book traces the historical development of the relevant doctrine and practice, critically analyses the rationale for immunity and closely inspects such important issues as commercial transactions, contracts of employment, the enforcement of judgments and the interaction between State immunity and human rights.

Why open an account at Wildy's?

One Contact - You will have one dedicated, friendly and knowledgeable Subscription Team to contact – no various email addresses and call centres to deal with. Just one easy management point for all your subscription supplies.

One Invoice – Choose from weekly, fortnightly, or monthly consolidated invoicing in paper or electronic formats.

One delivery - Our consolidation service means loose-leaves, journals as well as any book orders can be sent by courier on a weekly or monthly basis, or any other frequency required. Any replacement issues will be claimed in advance before customers realise there has been a problem.

By providing a bespoke service we are able to meet individual customer's requirements

Transparent Pricing - There are No Hidden Mark-Ups or consolidation fees.

Total Subscription Management - Over the years Wildy's have retained key personnel. We have built-up a wealth of knowledge and experience and excellent contacts with all the major publishers. Our key account status means that all enquiries, claims and orders are dealt with swiftly.

WAMS - Wildy's Account Management System will allow you to view all aspects of your account online. You will be able to look at invoices issued on your account, outstanding book orders, standing orders and subscriptions. You can also use the Quick Orders tab to place orders using ISBNs- useful if you are ordering a large number of books at once. Also included are various reports that you can either view on-screen or download to your desktop.

Gale on Easements 19th edition

by Jonathan Gaunt and The Hon Mr Justice Morgan
Sweet & Maxwell, Hardcover, ISBN 9780414043787, £270.00, due November 2012

First published in 1839, Gale on Easements continues to maintain its reputation as the leading authority on all aspects of the law relating to easements. Statute and case law are interpreted in great depth and solutions are offered to problems that may arise in practice. The definitive text on this core area of property law, the new edition sets out what constitutes an easement and goes on to focus on particular types, such as right of light, rights of way, air and support. It explains the development of the law via in-depth analysis of historic case law, and offers remedies and advice for when an easement has been disturbed. Relevant legislation and regulations are reproduced, and summaries and examination of case law, including a wide range of Commonwealth decisions, are provided.

The Regulatory Aftermath of the Global Financial Crisis

by Eilís Ferran, Niamh Moliney, Jennifer Hill and John Coffee

Cambridge University Press, Hardback, ISBN 9781107024595, £95.00, due November 2012

The EU and the US responded to the global financial crisis by changing the rules for the functioning of financial services and markets and by establishing new oversight bodies. With the US Dodd–Frank Act and numerous EU regulations and directives now in place, this book provides a timely and thoughtful explanation of the key elements of the new regimes in both regions, of the political processes which shaped their content and of their practical impact. Insights from areas such as economics, political science and financial history elucidate the significance of the reforms. Australia’s resilience during the financial crisis, which contrasted sharply with the severe problems that were experienced in the EU and the US, is also examined. The comparison between the performances of these major economies in a period of such extreme stress tells us much about the complex regulatory and economic ecosystems of which financial markets are a part.

Documentary Evidence 11th edition

by Charles Hollander QC
Sweet & Maxwell, Hardcover, ISBN 9780414024236, £205.00, due November 2012

A standard work often cited in court, Documentary Evidence provides a comprehensive guide to the legal obligations of disclosure. It supplies a blend of detailed legal analysis and clear, practical advice, steering practitioners in chronological order through all the issues that may arise during a case, and showing them when and how to take action at each stage. The new edition includes new chapters on electronic disclosure, exclusion of documentary evidence, access to court records and on ‘limited, selective and implied waiver’ of privilege. It includes a range of new jurisdictional issues raised by the ever-expanding Norwich Pharmacal principle, and covers interesting cases on disclosure from one-man companies, on whether funding documents are privileged, whether a lawyer can be required to reveal his client’s address, and new disclosure perils if you change your expert

Commercial Mortgage Loans and Commercial Mortgage-Backed Securitisation 2nd edition

Edited by Andrew V. Petersen

Sweet & Maxwell, Hardback, ISBN 9780414025585, £175.00, due November 2012

The new edition of Commercial Mortgage Loans and CMBS is the only title of its kind to bring together all the UK and European practice regarding CMBS transactions. It provides you with detailed coverage of the existing CMBS market post-credit crisis and the restructuring of existing arrangements. This new edition builds on the content of the previous edition, with detailed discussion of the latest issues in this area, including the practical implications of the new CMBS 2.0 – a set of revisions to the previous CMBS structures that are designed to remove potential conflicts of interest. It also examines the role of CMBS in the commercial real estate market and the wider debt capital markets. Essential for anyone involved in CMBS transactions, this title gives you detailed guidance on the legal and practical aspects of structuring and restructuring transactions as well as the commercial and strategic context.

Schemes of Arrangement: Law and Practice

by Geoff O’Dea, Julian Long and Alexandra Smyth

Oxford University Press, Hardback, ISBN 9780199665921, £155.00, due November 2012

This new guide to schemes of arrangement draws together all of the elements of the law and practice concerning both creditor and member schemes. Member schemes of arrangement have become the preferred method of implementing takeovers in the UK. Creditor schemes of arrangement are increasingly used in restructuring matters and the trend in their usage in foreign companies is likely to continue as many credit documents across Europe are arranged and underwritten in London under English law. The book considers the effect given to an English scheme in foreign jurisdictions, and other Private International Law issues. A major issue for those considering a scheme for creditors is whether a scheme or CVA (Company Voluntary Arrangement) is more appropriate and this book assists the reader by including an analysis of the pros and cons of schemes and CVAs. There are very few sources of information on schemes of arrangement and the area takes much of its substance from case law. This book, addressing the law and practical issues faced by practitioners on a day-to-day basis, is a first in the field.

Principles of International Investment Law 2nd edition

Rudolf Dolzer and Christoph Schreuer

Oxford University Press, Paperback, ISBN 9780199651801, £39.99, due November 2012

This book outlines the principles behind the international law of foreign investment. The main focus is on the law governed by bilateral and multilateral investment treaties. It traces the purpose, context, and evolution of the clauses and provisions characteristic of contemporary investment treaties, and analyses the case law, interpreting the issues raised by standard clauses. Particular consideration is given to broad treaty-rules whose understanding in practice has mainly been shaped by their interpretation and application by international tribunals. In addition, the book introduces the dispute settlement mechanisms for enforcing investment law, outlining the operation of Investor vs State arbitration. Combining a systematic analytical study of the texts and principles underlying investment law with a jurisprudential analysis of the case law arising in international tribunals, this book offers an ideal introduction to the principles of international investment law and arbitration, for students or practitioners alike.

The Law of Shipbuilding Contracts 4th edition

by Simon Curtis

Lloyd's List, Hardback, ISBN 9781842145388, £450.00, due November 2012

Law of Shipbuilding Contracts provides a comprehensive guide to the legal principles governing contracts for the construction of ships and has been thoroughly revised since the last edition in 2002. Particular attention is paid to changes relating to quality standards, liquidated damages for deficiencies in performance, and the scope of the shipbuilder's post-delivery guarantee of the vessel.

The new edition comments in detail upon the Shipbuilder's Association of Japan (SAJ) Form, but now contrasts this with the new BIMCO NEWBUILDCON Form, published in 2007, and the China Maritime Arbitration Commission (CMAC) form from October 2011 to provide a broad ranging analysis of this complex subject. It focuses exclusively upon the interpretation and application of English Law principles to the business of shipbuilding as this continues to represent the most commonly chosen laws of large scale export new building contracts. Also included are sections dealing with the guarantees and other agreements which support the shipbuilding contract and with ship conversion contracts.

Housing Allocation and Homelessness: Law and Practice 3rd edition

by Jan Luba QC and Liz Davies

Jordan Publishing, Paperback + CD-ROM, ISBN 9781846615245, £55.00, due November 2012

Written by two leading practitioners in the field, this book is a comprehensive and authoritative guide to the legal obligations of local authorities and social housing providers in relation to the provision of permanent and temporary housing accommodation, and the rights of those seeking such accommodation. The new edition provides balanced coverage of both allocation of social housing and homelessness, providing practical guidance on the statutory framework and how the legislation works in practice. This edition has been extensively revised to take account of the significant changes in both homelessness and allocations brought about by the implementation of the Localism Act 2011, including the new power to discharge housing duties by offering private rented accommodation; the new two year rule for re-applying for homelessness assistance; the new power to exclude classes of people from allocation schemes; and the new rules affecting tenant transfers in social housing. Supporting materials, including the legislation (in consolidated form) and the English Codes of Guidance are provided as appendices for easy reference. These, plus additional materials such as the Welsh Code of Guidance, are also included on the accompanying CD-ROM.

Redgrave's Health and Safety 8th edition

by Jonathan Clarke, Michael Ford and Astrid Smart

LexisNexis Butterworths, Hardback, ISBN 9781405773577, £220.00, due November 2012

Now in its 8th edition, Redgrave is fully updated to contain the numerous legal developments in the health and safety field, both in the form of national legislation and case law. Every practitioner serious about health and safety relies on Redgrave's Health and Safety for expert guidance on the subject. Fully annotated with helpful guidance notes and commentaries from the editors, this leading title saves you valuable research time and helps you make informed decisions by taking you straight to the information you need. Its logical and coherent structure and user-friendly format makes it accessible and easy to use, even in court.

The New York Convention: A Commentary

Edited by Reinmar Wolff
Hart Publishing, Hardback, ISBN 9781849461962, £160.00, due November 2012

In a world characterised on the one hand by globalised trade and commerce, and on the other by deteriorating judicial services, arbitration has become the dispute resolution mechanism of choice in cross-border commercial transactions. International arbitration not only paves the way for parties to avoid state courts, it also facilitates the transnational enforceability of awards that are far more effective than the enforceability of state court judgments. The major instrument is the Convention on the Recognition and Enforcement of Foreign Arbitral Awards (New York Convention) of 10 June 1958, which entered into force one year after. Since then the New York Convention has been ratified by 144 states, including all the important trading nations. For good reason the New York Convention is labelled the Magna Carta of international arbitration. The courts of any contracting state are required "to give effect to an agreement to arbitrate when seized of an action in a matter covered by an arbitration agreement and also to recognize and enforce awards made in other States, subject to specific limited exceptions" (UNCITRAL). In this book the 16 articles of the Convention are dealt with article-by-article, following a clear structure which swiftly guides the reader to the issue that he or she is engaged with. Given the New York Convention's global relevance, it follows that potential users of the Convention are in need of guidance as to how it should be applied. The primary readers of this book will be lawyers seeking (or defending against) recognition and enforcement of foreign arbitral awards worldwide, state court judges applying the Convention in recognition proceedings, and in-house lawyers in large and/or multinational enterprises dealing with transnational dispute resolution.

Bioethics, Medicine and the Criminal Law Volume I - The Criminal Law and Bioethical Conflict: Walking the Tightrope

Edited by Amel Alghrani, Rebecca Bennett and Suzanne Ost

Cambridge University Press, Hardback, ISBN 9781107025127, £65.00, due November 2012

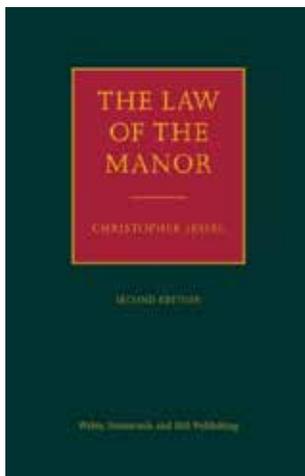

Who should define what constitutes ethical and lawful medical practice? Judges? Doctors? Scientists? Or someone else entirely? This volume analyses how effectively criminal law operates as a forum for resolving ethical conflict in the delivery of health care. It addresses key questions such as: how does criminal law regulate controversial bioethical areas? What effect, positive or negative, does the use of criminal law have when regulating bioethical conflict? And can the law accommodate moral controversy? By exploring criminal law in theory and in practice and examining the broad field of bioethics as opposed to the narrower terrain of medical ethics, it offers balanced arguments that will help readers form reasoned views on the ethical legitimacy of the invocation and use of criminal law to regulate medical and scientific practice and bioethical issues.

THE LAW OF POLITICAL DONATIONS

Michael Smyth, Patricia Barratt,
Fraser Campbell

Price: £79.00
ISBN: 9780854900763
Extent: 390 pp
Binding: Hardback

A clear, practical guide to the legal and compliance risks which attach to giving and receiving political donations in the UK.

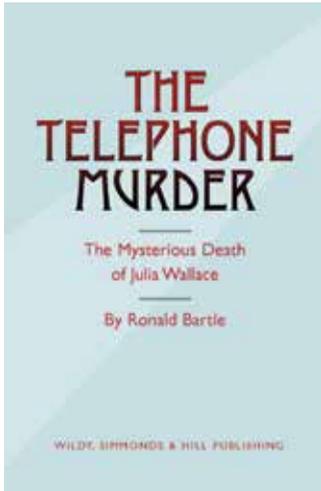

The book explains what a political donation is – the scope of the relevant law is much wider than simply contributing to party funding – and who is permitted to be a donor. It looks at the requirements on companies, and when those requirements are triggered and explores the powers of the Electoral Commission. It also examines the relationship between the legislative framework affecting political donations and Parliamentary rules on the acceptance of gifts and sponsorship, and describes how the Bribery Act 2010, due to be brought into force in April 2011, will apply to political donations. A separate chapter provides an overview of relevant international instruments, of the law on political funding in the United States, and of European Union rules.

The Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000, the Electoral Administration Act 2006 and the Companies Act 2006 are all covered. The authors also examine the impact of the Political Parties and Elections Act 2009, which aims to ensure greater transparency regarding political donations and reinforce the arrangements for regulating candidate expenditure.

Michael Smyth CBE is Visiting Professor at Queen Mary College, University of London and at the University of Essex. He was for 20 years a partner at Clifford Chance and head of the firm's public policy practice.

Patricia Barratt is a senior associate in Clifford Chance's litigation and dispute resolution practice. She has particular experience of advising companies on bribery-related issues, and has also advised on a wide range of parliamentary and public policy-related work, including political donations and standards of conduct in public life.

Fraser Campbell is a barrister at Blackstone Chambers and a Fellow of All Souls College, Oxford.

THE TELEPHONE MURDER
The Mysterious Death of Julia Wallace

Ronald Bartle

Price: £19.99
ISBN: 9780854901029
Extent: 200pp
Size: 229 x 152mm
Binding: Hardback

The Wallace Case is one of the most notorious murder cases of all time. The issue of whether Wallace was guilty or innocent of his wife's brutal murder has been the subject of conjecture among lawyers, criminologists and writers for years. Eighty years on, the case remains unsolved. For several commentators the murder of Julia Wallace was the 'perfect murder'.

William Wallace was a mild-mannered insurance agent, who lived in apparent harmony with his wife, Julia. One evening he attended his chess club to be informed of a telephone message requiring him to visit the caller the next day on a matter of insurance business. Wallace knew neither the address nor the name which the caller had given, but set out, the following day, to keep the appointment. After a long and fruitless search for the house, during which he enquired of nine people, two of whom told him that there was no such address, Wallace returned home to find his wife had been brutally murdered by a series of violent blows to the head from an instrument that was never found. Exhaustive police enquiries drew a complete blank. Detectives came to the view that Wallace himself had made the phone call, using a disguised voice. The phone call, they believed, had been used to create an alibi for the murder which he had committed before he left home. Despite his protestations of innocence, Wallace was duly arrested and charged with the murder of his wife.

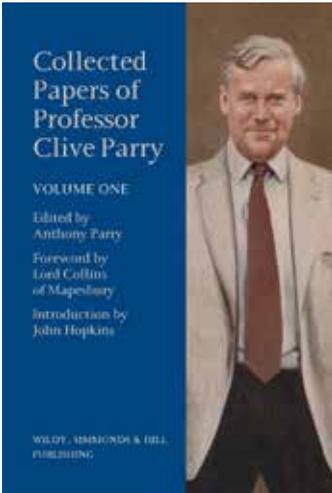

At the trial, notwithstanding a favourable summing up by the judge, the jury found Wallace guilty. However on his appeal the Court of Criminal Appeal reversed the guilty verdict and the case against him was dismissed. Wallace subsequently wrote about this ordeal, naming for the first time, another suspect. He died in 1953 and was buried next to his deceased wife.

In The Telephone Murder Ronald Bartle brings alive this dramatic and challenging case, whilst carefully considering the points both assisting the prosecution and those in favour of the defence

COLLECTED PAPERS OF PROFESSOR CLIVE PARRY

Edited by Anthony Parry

Price: £95.00
ISBN: 9780854901203
Extent: 2 Vols xlii+524pp vol 1
xiv+570pp vol 2
Binding: Hardback

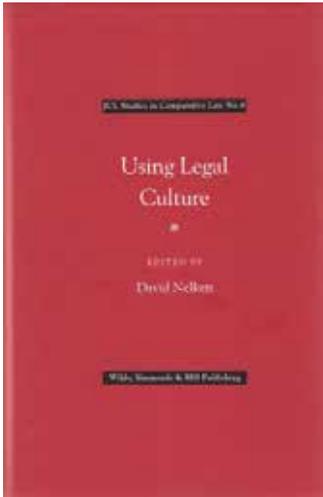

With a Foreword by Lord Collins of Mapesbury and an Introduction by John Hopkins

Clive Parry was a fine legal scholar and a prolific writer; these qualities are clearly evidenced in the present collection. It includes his first published work, on the Pacific Blockade, hitherto unpublished papers on the jurisprudence of international law and on the environment, substantial works on state responsibility, on the sources and evidence of international law, on nationality and much more. And it includes introductory papers on his great British Digest of International Law and on the 235 volumes of the Consolidated Treaty Series. There are also papers on legal education in the two Cambridges.

His tragically early death at 65 was an incalculable loss to legal science. The present collection clearly indicates this.

Qualified as a barrister, Anthony Parry was for some years a Foreign Office legal adviser before periods in Brussels with the European Commission and representing the aerospace industry. Returned to the public service in London, he advises on European and international law. He is the co-author of Parry & Hardy's EEC Law and editor of Parry, Grant and Watts, Encyclopedic Dictionary of International Law (1st Ed.)

USING LEGAL CULTURE

Edited by David Nelken

Price: £65.00
ISBN: 9780854901180
Extent: 372 pp
Size: 229 x 152mm
Binding: Hardback

In comparative legal studies, the concept of legal culture has come to play an increasingly significant role in contemporary theorising, empirical analysis and methodological innovation. This book, entitled Using Legal Culture, explores a number of the key issues regarding the use of this concept.

The essays contained in this book were originally presented in the Journal of Comparative Law Workshop held in Venice University (Ca' Foscari) May 20-21, 2010. The papers show that legal culture is a very productive concept, and also one which carries different meanings and resonances in different places and different languages and which sometimes means different things to different scholars. This collection therefore offers an especially helpful set of reflections on the nature and analytical value of this concept.

The studies published here broadly speaking fall into three categories: general reflections on the concept of legal culture, the use of the concept in the micro-dimensions of the engagement of law with everyday life, and legal culture as a more holistic idea employed to characterise aspects of professionally administered schemes of law and practice. The chapters are written by prominent international scholars, and given a general introduction by one of the foremost researchers in the study of legal culture: Professor David Nelken. The book provides an important resource for all students and scholars with an interest in comparative legal studies, as well as for anyone interested in the relationship between law and culture.

Prof David Nelken is Distinguished Professor of Sociology at the University of Macerata, Visiting Professor of Criminology at the Faculty of Law, University of Oxford, and Distinguished Visiting Research Professor, Faculty of Law, University of Cardiff. He also holds regular visiting appointments in Universities in Europe and the USA.

Widely published, David Nelken's work principally focuses on comparative criminal justice and comparative sociology of law. He is a leading writer in the legal studies discourses on the concept of 'legal culture'.
