and is unique in covering the broad range of injunctions in one volume. The author's practical treatment provides a description of the jurisdiction of the court to grant injunctions, together with detailed guidance through practice and procedure. The coverage spans all areas of the law, including a chapter on matrimonial and domestic proceedings. In addition, there is an extensive collection of precedents, which, in conjunction with the procedural points, makes this an indispensable guide.

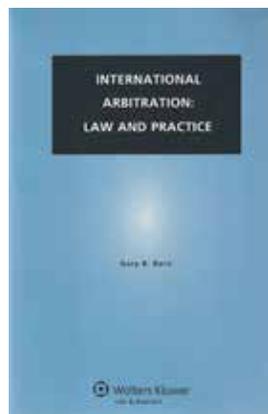

Bickford-Smith, Stephen; Francis, Andrew; Jessel, Christopher; Shaw, Keith, Private Rights of Way, Jordan Publishing Ltd, Paperback & CD-ROM, £75.00, ISBN: 9780853088523
The Land Registration Act

2002 came into force on 13 October 2003 and changed the registration provisions in respect of rights of way. A private right of way is a form of easement and these are enjoyed by the owner of a legal estate in land over other land owned by a different person. There are various different types of easement including boundary rights, rights of support, rights of access for repairs and rights of light.

Bishop, R. Doak; Marchili, Silvia M., Annulment under the ICSID Convention, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £125.00, ISBN: 9780199653744
Organised to suit the needs of the practitioner, it outlines the recent trends in the area, providing the most up to date analysis of the subject. It also addresses key topics involving ICSID annulment such as the procedural issues which frequently arise in this type of proceedings, for example admissibility of new evidence and arguments in annulment proceedings, res judicata in resubmitted cases. The sections on each ground for annulment include an analysis of the applicable standard as well as a detailed description and study of each annulment decision that addressed the respective ground, creating an authoritative and complete resource.

international arbitration. The book offers an accessible, straightforward introduction to the legal framework for international commercial arbitration, including discussions of international arbitration agreements, international arbitral procedures and international arbitral awards. It also provides an introduction to international investment arbitration, including a discussion of the ICSID Convention and issues arising under bilateral investment treaties, and state-to-state arbitration.

Bowes, David, Tolley's Practical Share and Business Valuation 2nd ed, Lexis-Nexis Butterworths, Paperback, £104.95, ISBN: 9780754547754

The valuation of businesses and business assets is a complex and confusing area. The new edition of this popular practical book provides a sound basis for understanding the fundamentals of valuation of shares, businesses, and intangible assets whether for tax, commercial or financial reporting purposes. The author's extensive practical experience enables all valuers to navigate the minefield that is share and business valuation, and embark with renewed confidence upon those all important negotiations with HMRC.

Bradley, Caroline; Munt, Alastair, Disclosure Referencer, Bloomsbury Professional, Paperback, £70.00, ISBN: 9781847669438

The Disclosure Referencer is a new practitioner guide on the complex issue of disclosure in criminal proceedings. It brings together all the relevant legislation, codes, rules, regulations, protocols and case law relating to the disclosure of evidence and materials in criminal proceedings both at Crown and Magistrates' level and allows the reader to quickly and effectively see where their duties lie and how best those duties can be fulfilled for each type of criminal case. It is designed to be a daily reference tool that immediately enables the practitioner to identify the rules and regulations which are relevant to each stage of the investigation and process. The book follows the course of a criminal investigation from the initial complaint through to the conclusion of the trial to ensure that the reader fully understands the process by way of checklists and reference to relevant case law and materials.

change, environmental impact assessment and nature conservation, to marine protection, flood defence, water and air; waste, contaminated land, statutory nuisance and noise, to chemicals, GMOs and nuclear.

Burrows, Andrew, A Restatement of the English Law of Unjust Enrichment, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £24.99, ISBN: 9780199669905

A Restatement of the English Law of Unjust Enrichment represents a wholly novel idea within English law. Designed to enhance understanding of the common law the Restatement comprises a set of clear succinct rules, fully explained by a supporting commentary, that sets out the law in England and Wales on unjust enrichment. Written by one of the leading authorities in the area, in collaboration with a group of senior judges, academics, and legal practitioners, the Restatement offers a powerfully persuasive statement of the law in this newly recognized and uncertain branch of English law.

Burrows, David, Practice of Family Law: Evidence and Procedure, Family Law, Paperback, £60.00, ISBN: 9781846612947

Practice of Family Law: Evidence and Procedure provides commentary on a variety of aspects which arise on a day-to-day basis in the family courts: rules of evidence, of procedure, and of aspects such as undue influence, estoppel, and acting for protected parties. It adopts a wide definition of family law to comprise the law relating to family breakdown (married and unmarried) and to public law children proceedings. It comprises proceedings under CPR 1998 as well as the mainstream under FPR 2010; and also touches on administrative law aspects (judicial review the administrative appeal tribunals).

Carey, Peter; Hopkins, Robin, Freedom of Information Handbook 3rd ed,

Law Society Publishing, Paperback, £89.95, ISBN: 9781907698187

The introduction of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 lead to numerous developments, particularly as a result of decisions made by the Information Commissioner, Information Tribunal and courts. In January 2011, the Government announced a new package of measures. The third edition of this practical handbook examines these changes to provide an up-to-date, authoritative and straightforward overview of the law.

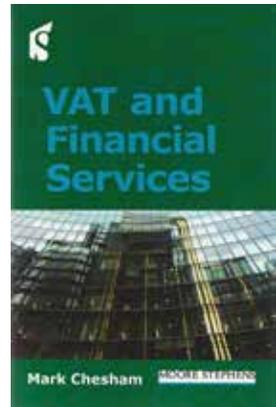

Cartwright, Jon; Camp, Peter; Hazlewoods Legal Team; SWAT UK, Solicitors and Legal Services: An Industry Accounting and Auditing Guide 4th ed, CCH Editions, Paperback, £75.00, ISBN: 9781847985613

Fully updated to reflect the many changes that have taken place in the last five years, Solicitors and Legal Services: An Industry Accounting and Auditing Guide 4th ed provides a comprehensive and essential reference tool. Since the publication of the last edition, there have been significant developments in the way legal services are provided to the public as a result of the Legal Services Act 2007. Licensed ABSs (Alternative Business Structures), partly or wholly owned by non-lawyers are now permitted to provide legal services alongside authorised traditional law firms. New regulations have been introduced by the Solicitors Regulation Authority (responsible for licensing the majority of ABSs and traditional law firms) and these are contained in the SRA Handbook 2011.

Chesham, Mark, VAT and Financial Services, Spiramus Press Ltd, Paperback, £49.95, ISBN: 9781907444425

This publication is aimed at finance directors and finance controllers in the financial services and insurance sectors and at those who advise these sectors. It assumes a reasonable working knowledge of VAT. VAT and Financial Services takes the reader through the relevant legislation and case law, the legal concepts such as time and place of supply, the distinction between goods and services, what is taxable, and the interaction of these elements; examines the consequences of outsourcing (through a detailed study of 10 significant cases); looks at the key issues facing financial services and insurance; and then discusses the VAT cost sharing exemption.

9781405771122

Clarke's Offshore Tax Planning provides practical analysis of the planning opportunities for investment offshore through analysis of anti-avoidance legislation, extended treatment of non-domiciliaries and an examination of existing offshore structures. The practical nature of this book makes it an invaluable guide for accountants, solicitors and financial advisers handling the affairs of private clients and privately-owned businesses while annual publication ensures it is both up-to-date and relevant.

Cook, Michael J., Cook on Costs 2013, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £115.00, ISBN: 9781405770262

Cook on Costs is well established as a practical, friendly guide providing clear and straightforward explanations of every aspect (except criminal costs) of the remuneration of solicitors and barristers for every level of reader. Cook on Costs aims to explain as well as to inform, whilst being a practical guide through the complexities of all aspects of the costs of contentious and non-contentious legal business. No one who wishes to understand the principles and practice of legal costs should be without a copy.

Coppel, Philip; Hanif, Saima, Tribunal Practice, Jordan Publishing Ltd, Hardback, £125.00, ISBN: 9781846612169
Tribunals Practice is a major new work on the practice and procedure of the new Tribunal system, established under the Tribunals, Courts and Enforcement Act 2007, including coverage of all chambers of the First-Tier and Upper Tribunal. It is the most authoritative and comprehensive work on this topic, and takes into account the most recent changes to the tribunal system including the expansion of the General Regulatory Chamber, and the revision of the tribunal procedural rules.

Curtis, Simon, The Law of Shipbuilding Contracts 4th ed, Informa Publishing, Hardcover, £450.00, ISBN: 9781842145388 principles governing contracts for the construction of ships and has been thoroughly revised since the last edition in 2002. Particular attention is paid to changes relating to quality standards, liquidated damages for deficiencies in performance, and the scope of the shipbuilder's post-delivery guarantee of the vessel.

Driscoll, James, Butterworths Residential Landlord and Tenant Handbook 6th ed, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £81.00, ISBN: 9781405755788

The Sixth edition of the Butterworths Residential Landlord and Tenant Handbook incorporates major legislative developments which have occurred since the previous edition. The handbook is an invaluable source of reference for those practitioners, in both the public and private sectors, who deal with such issues as leasehold enfranchisement, the right to buy (and the new right to acquire for tenants of registered social landlords), assured, secure and protected tenancies, disrepair and all other areas of residential landlord and tenant law. Other professionals working in associated fields will also find this publication indispensable, as will academics and students.

Dunt, John, International Cargo Insurance, Lloyd's List/Informa, Hardback, £295.00, ISBN: 9781843119470

There is an international analysis of jurisdiction and applicable law following which the chapters for each country include a consideration of: formalities and contract formation (non-disclosure); the standard cargo policy conditions; the extent of all risks cover provided; the approach to exclusions, such as inherent vice; duration of the insurance; and, claims handling issues. The book concentrates on the law in the United States and England. The appendices include the standard cargo policy insurance terms used in each jurisdiction, some translated for the first time for this volume, as well as translations of the relevant statutes and commercial codes, many not available elsewhere. The book is a companion volume to “Marine Cargo Insurance (Informa 2009)” winner of the 2010 British Insurance Law Association's book

Duxbury, Robert, Telling & Duxbury's Planning Law and Procedure 15th ed., Oxford University Press, Paperback, £44.99, ISBN: 9780199655021

Telling & Duxbury's Planning Law and Procedure covers the fundamental principles of planning law in England and Wales. Now in its fifteenth edition, this guide to the complexities of planning law has been fully updated to take account of significant developments in legislation and case law since the previous edition. The book comprehensively covers all aspects of planning law, with chapters on central and local administration, development, planning permission, environmental impact assessment, conservation, and review by the courts and ombudsmen. This edition looks closely at the far-reaching changes to planning law which were brought about by the Localism Act 2011, as well as the continuing repercussions of the Planning Act 2008. The book examines the effects of all recent legislative reforms, including the amendments to the General Permitted Development Order 1995 and the introduction of the Habitats and Species Regulations 2010. The new edition also contains expanded treatment of infrastructure planning, taking account of the 2008 planning reforms and their subsequent amendments. Written in a concise and user-friendly style, this book is an ideal resource for lawyers specialising in planning law, planning professionals, and students studying planning law, surveying, town planning, architecture, and environmental law

Enonchong, Nelson, Duress, Undue Influence and Unconscionable Dealings 2nd ed., Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Hardback, £165.00, ISBN: 9781847038036

A valuable part of the Contract Law Library, this title provides an account of the law relating to duress, undue influence and unconscionable dealing. It explains the circumstances when a party to a transaction will be entitled to relief on the ground that his consent was induced. The work also examines the various legal remedies available to the complainant as well as the defences available to the defendant.

Ezrachi, Ariel, Research Handbook on International Competition Law, Edward Elgar Publishing Limited, Hardback, £165.00, ISBN: 9780857934796

The tax aspects of the intellectual property lifecycle. This specialist book examines the approach of the UK tax regime towards intellectual property. This unique approach follows step-by-step the lifecycle of an intellectual property asset and highlights the tax considerations and planning issues. Taxation of Intellectual Property is a must have book for all tax and accountancy practitioners advising commercial organisations of all sizes.

Furse, Mark, The Criminal Law of Competition in the UK and in the US: Failure and Success, Edward Elgar Publishing Limited, Hardback, £70.00, ISBN: 9780857934307

In 2002, the UK introduced a criminal competition law into the UK legal system for the first time since the 18th century. Using a range of analytical lenses, Mark Furse re-appraises this law ten years on, and provides an extensive analysis of its features. This invigorating work details the policy arguments behind the introduction of the law, and examines - through consideration of the successful prosecutions in the US - the extent to which the law in practice may be considered to have succeeded or failed in the UK.

a wealth of personal experience of tax appeals, Tax Chamber Hearings is a clear, practical guide to the procedures involved when a taxpayer takes a case to the Tax Chamber at the First-tier Tribunal. The text explains when and how a taxpayer can commence proceedings in the Tax Chamber, and the procedures undertaken before a hearing takes place (including case management decisions), during the hearing itself and after a decision is made. The author relies upon his considerable experience in representing taxpayers in the Tax Chamber to provide a clear guide of what a taxpayer or representative should expect when a case is taken to the Tribunal.

Hickey, Julian, VAT and the City: Banking, Finance and Insurance 7th ed, CCH Editions, Paperback, £89.95, ISBN: 9781847984388

VAT and the City is an essential book for those who work in VAT that describes how VAT affects transactions in banking, finance, securities, investment, insurance and commodities. It gives an insight into the problems and implications of these highly specialist areas and indicates how component parts of the industries are affected and how they should approach the handling of their VAT affairs. The book is both practical and encyclopaedic, making full reference to HMRC practice and the evolving domestic and European case law and gives some very wise advice on planning.

of DOCDEX Decisions. 35 Decisions provide valuable insights into the reasoning behind the experts' final judgments on the disputes in question. Decisions presented in this volume are about some of the most controversial provisions of the latest revision of ICC's universally used rules on letters of credit, UCP 600. The collection also contains cases dealing with UCP 500, UCP 222, URC 522 and URDG 458. The DOCDEX Decisions collections complement the ICC Banking Commission Opinions. Together, they are indispensable aids to practitioners seeking to understand how ICC rules are applied in daily practice.

Jay, Rosemary, Data Protection: Law and Practice 4th ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd,

Hardback, £225.00, ISBN: 9780414024960
Data Protection Law & Practice provides a comprehensive treatment of data protection law in the UK. It goes through the principles of data protection and privacy laws, clarifying the background to UK and EU legislation, and explaining how the law works in practice. This new edition is up-to-date with the Privacy and Electronic Communications (EC Directive) (Amendment) Regulations 2011 and explains the new rules on cookies, the new requirements to report personal data breaches and the enhanced enforcement powers of the Information Commissioner.

Written by one of the country's foremost specialists, Education and the Courts illustrates the approach of the courts to education litigation, and is the leading text in this area. It provides high-level analysis of the legal principles of those subjects most commonly litigated in the courts. This authoritative title has been substantially rewritten and expanded to take account of the considerable changes in legislation and case-law since the previous edition was published.

Morris, Diana; Garner, Helen; Wheeler, Sarah; Moys, Elizabeth M., Moys Classification and Thesaurus for Legal Materials 5th ed, De Gruyter Saur, Hardback, £168.00, ISBN: 9783110254532

This is the latest edition of Elizabeth Moys' classic reference work for law librarians. This edition will bridge a 10-year gap since the 4th edition. Substantial revisions will be made including extended coverage to feature new areas, resulting in a more comprehensive and reliable book for law librarians which will help them to classify their law publications effectively. This edition has been revised and expanded by Diana Morris in conjunction with a team of contributing editors, who use the scheme daily. This publication is essential for law librarians or information workers with an interest in law librarianship, especially those who already use the Moys Classification Scheme in academic, corporate and other law libraries.

Oxford University Press, Hardback, £155.00, ISBN: 9780199665921

This new guide to schemes of arrangement draws together all of the elements of the law and practice concerning both creditor and member schemes. Member schemes of arrangement have become the preferred method of implementing takeovers in the UK. Creditor schemes of arrangement are increasingly used in restructuring matters and the trend in their usage in foreign companies is likely to continue as many credit documents across Europe are arranged and underwritten in London under English law. The book considers the effect given to an English scheme in foreign jurisdictions, and other Private International Law issues. A major issue for those considering a scheme for creditors is whether a scheme or CVA (Company Voluntary Arrangement) is more appropriate and this book assists the reader by including an analysis of the pros and cons of schemes and CVAs. There are very few sources of information on schemes of arrangement and the area takes much of its substance from case law. This book, addressing the law and practical issues faced by practitioners on a day-to-day basis, is a first in the field.

Otterburn, Andrew; Ling, Vicky, Law Management Section Legal Aid Toolkit, Law Society Publishing, Paperback & CD-ROM, £69.95, ISBN: 9781907698491

Legal aid is facing its biggest reforms in years. Many firms that provide legal aid will need to look at ways of surviving the reforms proposed by the Legal Aid, Sentencing and Punishment of Offenders Bill. The Law Management Section Legal Aid Toolkit looks prospectively at the landscape created by the proposed reforms, including areas such as family law and crime.

perback, £39.95, ISBN: 9781907698569

Every solicitor in England and Wales needs to understand the ongoing changes to the rules governing their conduct and the responsibilities and obligations that the SRA imposes on them. The SRA Handbook crystallises the SRA's risk-based and outcomes-focused approach and helps ensure solicitors and their practices are able to offer clients the services they require, to best suit their needs. Conveniently containing the updated Code and the Accounts Rules in one place, this Handbook is essential to the work of all solicitors in England and Wales.

Stone, David, European Union Design Law: A Practitioner's Guide, Oxford University Press,

Hardback, £145.00, ISBN: 9780199645176

European Union Design Law provides a much-needed guide to the new law and practice. Beginning with a short history of the development of the legislation, Stone moves on to a detailed examination of the interpretation provided by OHIM, the Court of Justice and the General Court, and the Community Design Courts of the EU Member States. Separate chapters deal with RCD filing and invalidity, unregistered Community designs, the implementation of the Designs Directive by the member states, and the complex jurisdictional web for enforcing pan-EU rights.

Young, Mary Alice, Banking Secrecy and Offshore Financial Centres: Money Laundering and Offshore Banking, Routledge, Hardback, £80.00, ISBN: 9780415526326

This book brings together the issues surrounding banking secrecy and confiscation of criminal proceeds. The book examines the existing legal agreements at the international, regional and national levels and their interaction in the substantive areas of confiscation, anti-money laundering and banking confidentiality laws. It looks at how these agreements have been applied in offshore financial centres and demonstrates that despite a number of legally binding UN Conventions as well as global anti-money laundering recommendations, the implementation of them is often lukewarm by those Parties who have ratified the Convention and adopted obligations, because of is the confiscation legislation is incompatible with strict banking confidentiality laws. The work draws on the insights of criminologists to offer critical insight into the legislative frameworks designed to deal with banking secrecy and confiscation in offshore financial centres. It goes on to offer suggestions for measures that may be taken by major economies to circumvent the lack of cooperation by offshore financial centres as intolerance towards money laundering grows in light of recent political and economic events.

International Arbitration: Law and Practice

Gary B. Born

International Arbitration: Law and Practice provides a concise overview of the legal principles and practice of international arbitration. The book offers an accessible, straightforward introduction to the legal framework for international commercial arbitration, including discussions of international arbitration agreements, international arbitral procedures and international arbitral awards. It also provides an introduction to international investment arbitration, including a discussion of the ICSID Convention and issues arising under bilateral investment treaties, and state-to-state arbitration.

International Arbitration: Law and Practice also provides descriptions of the contemporary practice and tactics of international arbitration. Among other things, it addresses the drafting of arbitration clauses, selection and challenge of arbitrators, structure of arbitral proceedings, process of disclosure or discovery, witness preparation and testimony, conduct of evidentiary hearings and other key procedural steps in international arbitrations.

Part I: International Arbitration Agreements, including the separability presumption, choice of law issues, competence-competence doctrine, recognition and enforcement of arbitration agreements, formation and validity, formal validity and writing requirements, interpretative issues, non-signatory doctrines and multi-party/multi-contract issues.

Part II: International Arbitral Proceedings, including importance and choice of arbitral seat, selection and challenge of arbitrators, parties' procedural autonomy, arbitrators' procedural discretion, conduct of arbitral proceedings, disclosure, provisional measures, choice of substantive law, confidentiality and consolidation.

Part III: International Arbitral Awards, including form and content of awards, relief, costs, forums for annulment of awards, grounds for annulment or set-aside of awards, recognition and enforcement of awards, preclusion and precedent, and recognition of annulled awards.

McCutcheon on Inheritance Tax is the leading authority on inheritance tax, covering both the theoretical and practical aspects of the tax. It gives practitioners the detailed knowledge to construct effective tax planning solutions for UK and international clients and to handle even the most complex problems involving inheritance tax. The new 6th edition incorporates important recent case law, new anti-avoidance legislation and the latest HMRC procedures, ensuring it offers completely up-to-date guidance on the law.

Saggerson on Travel Law and Litigation 5th edition

by Matthew Chapman, Sarah Prager and Jack Harding Wildy, Simmonds & Hill Publishing, Hardback, ISBN 9780854901197, £95.00, due February 2013
Written by a new team of leading practitioners at the London travel law set, 1

Chancery Lane, the new edition of this well-known work comprehensively revises and updates classic topics. Existing case law is placed in a practical context and the many new developments in the law are discussed in detail. Travel law and litigation is one of the most dynamic areas of practice and new law is constantly being made. The volume of new case law has increased significantly since the fourth edition was published and the busy practitioner needs to remain on top of this. The fifth edition provides full commentary on all topics of relevance to the travel lawyer and considers a number of new developments. Both a digest of the existing law and a lively guide to where the law may be heading, this new edition is clear, concise and authoritative. It will be of interest to all those who deal with claims that have a cross-border elements and will prove an essential addition to the library of all barristers, solicitors and legal executives who practise in this expanding field.

The Law of Nuclear Energy by Helen Cook

Sweet & Maxwell, Hardback, ISBN 9780414023154, £185.00, due February 2013
This new title, written by nuclear law expert Helen Cook, is an invaluable handbook covering all aspects of the legislative framework for nuclear power projects. It provides an all-inclusive overview of nuclear law and nuclear power projects, providing a foundation upon which governments and regulators can pave the future of nuclear power, particularly in emerging markets. Not only does it act as a practical guide for development corporations, technical consultants and financiers operating in this area, but it is also a detailed and up to date reference book for practitioners and students of the legal discipline. The book examines the International Atomic Energy Agency (IAEA) guidelines and provides a “roadmap” for programme development and implementation, giving insight and guidance on future developments and amendments to existing legislative and regulatory infrastructure for nuclear power programmes.

The International Sale of Goods 3rd edition

by M. G. Bridge

Oxford University Press, Hardback, ISBN 9780199658251, £225.00, due January 2013

This new edition of a leading authority on international aspects of sale of goods provides clear, comprehensive and detailed analysis of the subject. The unique dual coverage of contracts under English law and the CISG is a valuable benefit for those interested in all types of sale of goods contracts, including the sale of commodities such as grain and oil. The detailed commentary provides analysis on decided cases as well as on standard form contracts which represent evolving trade practice. In addition to matters of contract law, the book considers relevant property law, most notably addressing those issues arising out of the use of documents of title, such as marine bills of lading. The rights and duties of buyer and seller are explained in depth, and the relationship of sale contracts to other contracts, such as charter parties and letter of credit contracts, is rigorously examined. The book deals with issues of frustration and force majeure, the passing of property and risk, and remedies. New to this edition are three separate chapters on the UN Convention on the International Sale of Goods (CISG) covering formation, performance and remedies for non-performance of the contract. The law is explained in the context of commercial practice making the book an ideal reference source for practitioners, scholars and postgraduate students.

Analytical Commentary to the UNCITRAL Arbitration Rules

by Dr Peter Binder

Sweet & Maxwell, Hardback, ISBN 9781847038050, £195.00, due January 2013

This new title provides commentary and legislative material on the 2010 UNCITRAL Arbitration Rules, and is written specifically to help practitioners to understand, research and interpret the Rules. The book has an easy to follow article-by-article approach, making reference to the official documentation and providing details on the background of each provision. It reproduces the full text of the complete official legislative materials created in the drafting process by the United Nations, and incorporates the 2012 UNCITRAL Recommendations on arbitration under the UNCITRAL Arbitration Rules. Dr Peter Binder was a member of the UNCITRAL Working Group that drew up the revised Rules.

Residential Possession Proceedings 9th edition

by Gary Webber and Daniel Dovar

Sweet & Maxwell, Paperback, ISBN 9780414024977, £105.00, due January 2013

Residential Possession Proceedings explains how a landlord or mortgage can effect possession of a property or how an occupant can prevent an order for possession being made. The book's structure complements practitioners' workflow, taking them step-by-step through the principles of the law and then the procedures involved, providing the tools for each stage of proceedings, including court forms with guidance on how they should be used. Its comprehensive coverage deals with the different types of tenancies, such as assured, assured shorthold and secure tenancies. The new edition contains a revised chapter on Human Rights, Public Law and Possession following the cases of Manchester City Council v Pinnock and London Borough of Hounslow v Powell, and a new chapter on orders for sale dealing with both substantive law (Jones v Kernott and Stack v Dowden) and procedure. The new Flexible Tenancy procedure is explained, as is the impact of Debt Relief Orders on possession.

The Law of Reinsurance 2nd edition

by Colin Edelman QC and Andrew Burns

Oxford University Press, Hardback, ISBN 9780199665044, £125.00, due January 2013

This concise and accessible guide to reinsurance law is an easy-to-read specialist reference focusing solely on reinsurance. The second edition builds on the success of the first which filled a gap in the market for an easy to use and pithy explanation of the law in this field avoiding the need to recount the whole of general insurance law. With usability and practicality in mind a number of features have been further developed in this edition. The authors have provided more guidance on areas which are undecided by the courts such as Follow the Settlements, incorporation, non-disclosure, and misrepresentation. Areas of complexity such as the role of good faith in reinsurance contracts have also been given greater coverage in this second edition. Also new to this edition is a glossary of reinsurance terms which helps to make the volume even more accessible. The book is both practical and authoritative, and is successful in isolating the key issues in reinsurance law to provide an easy and reliable reference source.

The Solicitor's Handbook 2013

Andrew Hopper QC and Gregory Treverton-Jones QC
Law Society Publishing, Paperback, ISBN 9781907698576, £79.95, due February 2013

The Solicitor's Handbook 2013 is a comprehensive yet user-friendly guide to the regulatory maze that governs the conduct of solicitors. In addition to the SRA Code of Conduct, this essential Handbook covers the Accounts Rules, financial services regulation, money laundering requirements and ABS regulations. It also usefully sets out the extent of the regulator's powers and describes the practical workings of the regulatory and disciplinary processes (including investigations by the SRA and proceedings before the SDT), as well as the relevant rights of appeal and review. This invaluable resource includes expert commentary from leading practitioners in the field on every aspect of the regulation of solicitors, which will help you ensure compliance within your firm. This authoritative guide takes into account all of the significant regulatory changes that have been introduced since October 2011, and is an essential text for every solicitor in England and Wales whether they are working in private practice, the public sector or in-house.

The Interception of Vessels on the High Seas: Contemporary Challenges to the Legal Order of the Oceans

by Efthymios Papstavridis
Hart Publishing, Hardback, ISBN 9781849461832, £65.00, due February 2013

The principal aim of this book is to address the international legal questions arising from the 'right of visit on the high seas' in the 21st century. This right is considered the most significant exception to the fundamental principle of the freedom of the high seas (the freedom, in peacetime, to remain free of interference by ships of another flag). It is this freedom that has been challenged by a recent significant increase in interceptions to counter the threats of international terrorism and WMD proliferation, or to suppress transnational organised crime at sea, particularly the trafficking of narcotics and smuggling of migrants. The author questions whether the principle of non-interference has been so significantly curtailed as to have lost its relevance in the contemporary legal order of the oceans. The book begins with an historical and theoretical examination of the framework underlying interception. This historical survey informs the remainder of the work, which then looks at the legal framework of the right of visit, contemporary challenges to the traditional right, interference on the high seas for the maintenance of international peace and security, interferences to maintain the 'bon usage' of the oceans (navigation and fishing), piracy jure gentium and current counter-piracy operations off the coast of Somalia, the problems posed by illegal, unregulated and unreported fishing, interdiction operations to counter drug and people trafficking, and recent interception operations in the Mediterranean Sea organised by FRONTEX.

Due Diligence 2nd edition

Jordan Publishing, Hardback with CD, ISBN 9781846615511, £85.00, due February 2013

Solicitors working on mergers and acquisitions, management buy outs/buy ins and other corporate finance transactions have to undertake due diligence as a core part of their workload, yet practical guidance for lawyers is difficult to come by. Following on from the success of the 1st edition, the revised edition of Due Diligence both reflects changes in legislation and looks in depth at some common issues that can de-rail a transaction if not explored fully in the due diligence process, such as employee liabilities, data protection and the release of information, pensions and underfunding, and intellectual property issues for software businesses. In addition, the second edition explores how due diligence can inform post-acquisition integration and how on-going business health-checks enable the business to maximise performance and minimise risk. The popular combination of commentary and precedents will be maintained, empowering the reader to approach any due diligence exercise with confidence and understanding.

Tax Indemnities and Warranties 4th edition

by Philip Ridgway and Tim Sanders

Bloomsbury Professional, Hardback, ISBN 9781847669193, £105.00, due January 2013

This new edition provides an analysis of the technical and commercial background to tax provisions and associated issues found in a range of commercial, finance and corporate documentation. It considers the certain accounting and corporate issues which impact on such tax analysis, specifically in the field of deferred tax. Practical examples and precedents illustrate technical points, while commonly encountered drafting of clauses and provisions is analysed and evaluated in detail. Tax advisers and lawyers responsible for the tax aspects of commercial documentation will benefit from the clear guidance and technical know-how.

THE LAW OF POLITICAL DONATIONS

Michael Smyth, Patricia Barratt,
Fraser Campbell

Price: £79.00
ISBN: 9780854900763
Extent: 390 pp
Binding: Hardback

A clear, practical guide to the legal and compliance risks which attach to giving and receiving political donations in the UK.

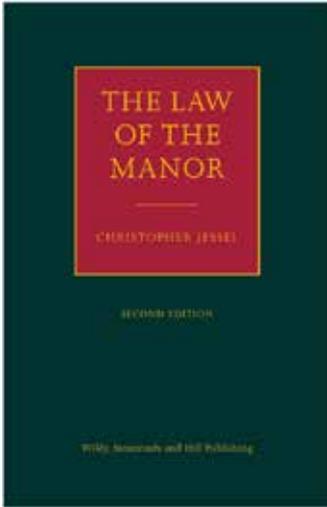

The book explains what a political donation is – the scope of the relevant law is much wider than simply contributing to party funding – and who is permitted to be a donor. It looks at the requirements on companies, and when those requirements are triggered and explores the powers of the Electoral Commission. It also examines the relationship between the legislative framework affecting political donations and Parliamentary rules on the acceptance of gifts and sponsorship, and describes how the Bribery Act 2010, due to be brought into force in April 2011, will apply to political donations. A separate chapter provides an overview of relevant international instruments, of the law on political funding in the United States, and of European Union rules.

The Political Parties, Elections and Referendums Act 2000, the Electoral Administration Act 2006 and the Companies Act 2006 are all covered. The authors also examine the impact of the Political Parties and Elections Act 2009, which aims to ensure greater transparency regarding political donations and reinforce the arrangements for regulating candidate expenditure.

Michael Smyth CBE is Visiting Professor at Queen Mary College, University of London and at the University of Essex. He was for 20 years a partner at Clifford Chance and head of the firm's public policy practice.

Patricia Barratt is a senior associate in Clifford Chance's litigation and dispute resolution practice. She has particular experience of advising companies on bribery-related issues, and has also advised on a wide range of parliamentary and public policy-related work, including political donations and standards of conduct in public life.

Fraser Campbell is a barrister at Blackstone Chambers and a Fellow of All Souls College, Oxford.

THE LAW OF THE MANOR

2nd Edition

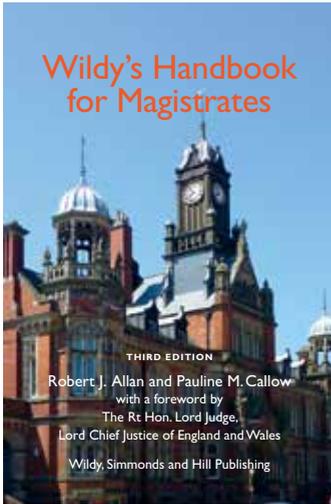

Christopher Jessel

Price:	£165
ISBN:	9780854901104
Extent:	582 pp
Binding:	Hardback

The Law of the Manor is the definitive work on the subject, providing detailed, up-to-date and comprehensive coverage for lawyers and also to those owning, managing, selling or buying historic houses and estates. It provides a modern description of the law associated with lordships of the manor. Principally concerned with the lands and rights of the lord, the book also considers rights that tenants of the manor can claim against him. These are put in context with a discussion of associated topics such as franchises and titles of nobility.

The second edition has been updated to cover numerous developments in the law since 1998, in particular the Land Registration Act 2002, the Countryside and Rights of Way Act 2000 and the Commons Act 2006. The book includes changes made by the Hunting Act 2004, the House of Lords Act 1999, and the Legal Services Act 2007 as well as the relevant case law. New material has been included on escheat, rectorial manors and roadside verges. There is also greater coverage of legal authorities especially in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries and a selection of useful precedents for the practitioner. Although the book is about the law of the manor in England and Wales, there is some reference to other jurisdictions, most notably the experimental extension of the manorial system to some American colonies.

The text is arranged in five parts. Part 1 describes the context, summarises the history and analyses custom which is the basis of manorial law. Part 2 describes the lands of tenants and lords and the relations between them. Part 3 discusses rights and comprises a detailed commentary on section 62(3) of the Law of Property Act 1925. It covers rights of common, mineral and sporting rights, courts and remaining revenues. Part 4 sets the manor in the context of other institutions, namely the village, the church, towns and feudal relationships. Part 5 summarises and looks at the modern manor, its documents, conveyancing (with particular reference to registered land) and taxation, concluding with suggestions for reform.

WILDY'S HANDBOOK FOR MAGISTRATES
Third Edition

Robert J Allan and Pauline M Callow

With a Foreword by the Rt. Hon. Lord Judge,
Lord Chief Justice of England and Wales

Price:	£19.99
ISBN:	9780854901128
Extent:	256 pp
Binding:	Paperback

Wildy's Handbook for Magistrates (previously published as Blackstone's Handbook for Magistrates) is a readable and comprehensive account of the work of magistrates in England and Wales. It examines how magistrates are appointed; what they are empowered to do; how their courts are organised and operated; the kinds of matters they deal with – crimes such as theft and assault, traffic offences and issues concerning children and families; how they go about assessing evidence and deciding what to accept as true; how they decide whether defendants should be released on bail or kept in custody; the sentences they may impose and how they endeavour to make the punishment fit the crime. The book also looks at how legal aid works, a subject of continuing public and political concern. Last, but not least, it gives a flavour of what life as a magistrate is really like, touching on the pressures, responsibilities and rewards of the work.

This new edition reflects the many changes introduced over recent years. These include revisions to the procedure for applying to become a magistrate and the training requirements; the introduction of the Criminal Procedure Rules, case management and other measures to reduce delay; the landmark Courts Act 2003; amendments to the Bail Act 1976; and wholesale revision of the approach to sentencing.

The authors, one a deputy justices' clerk, the other a serving magistrate, bring two different, but equally important, areas of experience and expertise to the work and explain complicated concepts in a straightforward manner, keeping legal jargon to a minimum.

Robert J Allan, BA, Barrister, is Deputy Justices' Clerk for the North West London Local Justice Area. Pauline Callow, JP, LL.M is a magistrate in North London.

Extent	254 pp
Binding:	Paperback

Written by experienced practitioners, the fifth edition of Child Care and Protection provides a practical and concise guide to the Children Act 1989, subsequent legislation, guidance and case law. This new edition covers changes such as the revised Public Law Outline, new case law and the latest law and regulations (eg the Care Planning Regulations 2010) are covered. The book also takes into account the Family Procedure Rules 2010, new statutory guidance and Government initiatives. The separate field of adoption law is not included, but the book does deal with selected provisions of the Adoption and Children Act 2002 and the Children and Adoption Act 2006.

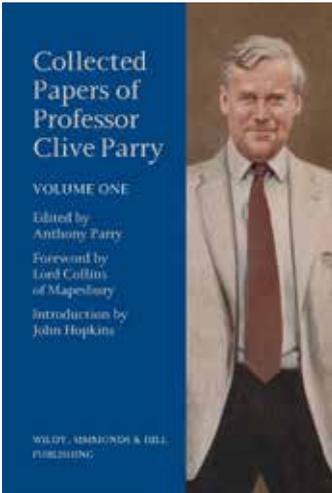

In addition to explaining the general principles of the law relating to child care and protection, the authors provide valuable insights into assessments, care planning, expert evidence, taking instructions, case preparation and courtroom skills. Presented in a compact, user-friendly format, the book is enhanced by checklists and flowcharts.

The authors of this timely new edition are a great practice team - together they provide a unique combination of academic and research information and practice experience in child protection which has added fresh dimensions to the new edition of this book. This useful book will fit into a briefcase and prove invaluable for the busy practitioner.

With a Foreword by Lord Collins of Mapesbury and an Introduction by John Hopkins

Clive Parry was a fine legal scholar and a prolific writer; these qualities are clearly evidenced in the present collection. It includes his first published work, on the Pacific Blockade, hitherto unpublished papers on the jurisprudence of international law and on the environment, substantial works on state responsibility, on the sources and evidence of international law, on nationality and much more. And it includes introductory papers on his great British Digest of International Law and on the 235 volumes of the Consolidated Treaty Series. There are also papers on legal education in the two Cambridges.

His tragically early death at 65 was an incalculable loss to legal science. The present collection clearly indicates this.

Qualified as a barrister, Anthony Parry was for some years a Foreign Office legal adviser before periods in Brussels with the European Commission and representing the aerospace industry. Returned to the public service in London, he advises on European and international law. He is the co-author of Parry & Hardy's EEC Law and editor of Parry, Grant and Watts, Encyclopedic Dictionary of International Law (1st Ed.)

USING LEGAL CULTURE

Edited by David Nelken

Size: 229 x 152mm
Binding: Hardback

In comparative legal studies, the concept of legal culture has come to play an increasingly significant role in contemporary theorising, empirical analysis and methodological innovation. This book, entitled Using Legal Culture, explores a number of the key issues regarding the use of this concept.

The essays contained in this book were originally presented in the Journal of Comparative Law Workshop held in Venice University (Ca' Foscari) May 20-21, 2010. The papers show that legal culture is a very productive concept, and also one which carries different meanings and resonances in different places and different languages and which sometimes means different things to different scholars. This collection therefore offers an especially helpful set of reflections on the nature and analytical value of this concept.

The studies published here broadly speaking fall into three categories: general reflections on the concept of legal culture, the use of the concept in the micro-dimensions of the engagement of law with everyday life, and legal culture as a more holistic idea employed to characterise aspects of professionally administered schemes of law and practice. The chapters are written by prominent international scholars, and given a general introduction by one of the foremost researchers in the study of legal culture: Professor David Nelken. The book provides an important resource for all students and scholars with an interest in comparative legal studies, as well as for anyone interested in the relationship between law and culture.

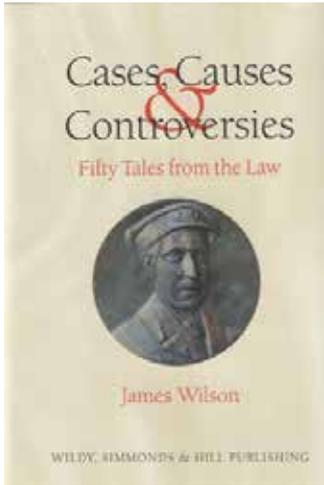

Prof David Nelken is Distinguished Professor of Sociology at the University of Macerata, Visiting Professor of Criminology at the Faculty of Law, University of Oxford, and Distinguished Visiting Research Professor, Faculty of Law, University of Cardiff. He also holds regular visiting appointments in Universities in Europe and the USA.

Widely published, David Nelken's work principally focuses on comparative criminal justice and comparative sociology of law. He is a leading writer in the legal studies discourses on the concept of 'legal culture'.

Fifty Tales from the Law

James Wilson

Extent: 256 pp
Size: 216 x 138 mm
Binding: Hardback

What do Prince Charles, Bette Davis, Sir Ian Botham, Mrs Victoria Gillick and a man whose family grave appeared in the background of a splatter horror film have in common? Each of them felt they had been wronged in some way, and each went to court to try and do something about it. Sometimes their case was a purely private argument. Others brought cases of national importance, or claims which raised acute moral and ethical principles. Some won handsomely, while others lost so badly that they ended up far worse than when they started. This new book looks at fifty legal disputes from Victorian times to the present day, where a compelling moral or legal issue was at stake, or where the background to the case was interesting, amusing or infuriating. It begins with three Victorian murders, including the law student favourite of R v Dudley and Stephens, the case of shipwrecked sailors eating the cabin boy and later facing trial for his murder. It then covers cases ranging from the early days of Hollywood and both world wars, through to modern day battles over superinjunctions, MPs' expenses, the vexed relationship between religion and law, and the sometimes hazy relationship of law and sport. Written in a clear, accessible style, free of legal technicalities, the book will be of interest not simply to lawyers but to anyone interested in stories of great human interest and how the legal system tried to deal with them.

James Wilson graduated BA/LLB (Hons) with a Senior Prize in Law. He practised in both New Zealand and London, primarily in commercial litigation, before joining LexisNexis. He has written a number of articles for legal journals and websites, including the New Law Journal and Criminal Law & Justice Weekly. His own blog is A(nother) Lawyer Writes (www.timesandotherthings.blogspot.com).
