WILDY'S BOOK NEWS

Volume 18 Issue 9 Published Monthly

Sept/Oct 2013

John, Steve and Charlie are looking forward to seeing all their friends on Stand 35 at the International Bar Association conference in Boston at the beginning of October.

Meanwhile here in Lincoln's Inn it is the beginning of the academic year and the shop is full of students. As usual, we are offering our 10% discount on student titles.

The cover this month has an Australian picture as Alden and Graham are attending the Australian Association of Law Libraries meeting in Sydney. They will be back soon and we will have pictures of their trip, along with pictures of Matthew Regnard and John Pethick's recent trip to the Caribbean in next month's issue of the Book News.

Finally, congratulations to our managing director, John Sinkins, on becoming a first-time grandfather. His daughter Katia should really get the credit and is the proud mother of a baby son named Lucas William.

ful inquiry into the nature and rationale of corporate governance. The authors address fundamental questions including; What is the balance between ownership and control?; For whose interests should the company be run?; What is the institutional balance between shareholders, directors and other potential stakeholders, including the economy? Professor Dine and Dr Koutsias consider how these issues are dealt with by the jurisprudence of three major and greatly influential jurisdictions; the USA, the UK, and Germany, and also reflect on why and how the current corporate governance context in some states is defined by social, political and historical developments.

ciples, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9781107006928

Christian Law: Contemporary Principles offers a detailed comparison of the laws of churches across ten distinct Christian traditions worldwide: Catholic, Orthodox, Anglican, Lutheran, Methodist, Reformed, Presbyterian, United, Congregational and Baptist. From this comparison, Professor Doe proposes that all denominations of the faith share common principles in spite of their doctrinal divisions; and that these principles reveal a concept of ‘Christian law’ and contribute to a theological understanding of global Christian identity. Adopting a unique interdisciplinary approach, the book provides comprehensive coverage on the sources and purposes of church law, the faithful (lay and ordained), the institutions of church governance, discipline and dispute resolution, doctrine and worship, the rites of passage, ecumenism, property and finance, as well as church, state and society.

Eidenmüller, Dr. Horst, Regulatory Competition in Contract Law and Dispute Resolution, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £160.00, ISBN: 9781849464857

In many regions of the world and across various fields, law has become a product. Individuals and companies seek attractive legal regulations and countries advertise their legal wares globally as they compete for customers. To analyse this development and to develop policy recommendations with respect to contract law and dispute resolution a conference was held in Munich in October 2011, bringing together leading scholars in the field of contract law and dispute resolution from the US and Europe. This book presents the papers and main comments produced for that conference. The chapters include important papers on, inter alia, law and economic theory, legal transplants, theories of private law, choice of law, the characterisation of contract law and the English and American civil procedural traditions.

Finney, Malcolm, The New Statutory Residence Test for Individuals: A Practical Guide, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Paperback, £80.00, ISBN: 9780414030954

This book provides tax practitioners of all levels with a comprehensive consideration of the new Statutory Residence Test, its application and the potential difficulties that may be encountered in moving through the transitional phase. Effective 6 April 2013 a complete new set of rules apply to determine the residence status of an individual for income tax and capital gains tax purposes (and also with respect to inheritance tax and corporation tax where relevant).

Fleck, Dieter, The Handbook of International Humanitarian Law 3rd ed, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £125.00, ISBN: 9780199658800

This is the third edition of this influential and comprehensive handbook. Substantive changes in international humanitarian law have taken place recently, including a progressive development of customary law; and the jurisprudence of national courts, international ad hoc tribunals and the International Criminal Court, which have made a reassessment of this vitally important part of international law both timely and topical. Based on best-practice rules of global importance, this book also sets out an international ‘manual’ for international humanitarian law in armed conflicts.

Fox, Hazel; Webb Phillipa, The Law of State Immunity 3rd ed, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £175.00, ISBN: 9780199647064

This fully restructured new edition provides a detailed analysis of the issues around state immunity in a clear and accessible manner. It provides a nuanced assessment of the development of the doctrine of state immunity, including a general comprehensive overview of the plea of immunity of a foreign state, its characteristics, and its operation as a bar to proceedings in national courts of another state. Through a detailed examination of the sources of law and of English and US case law, and a comparative analysis of other types of immunity, the authors explore both the law as it stands, and what it could and should be in years to come.

Griffin, Stephen, Company Law Handbook 3rd ed, Law Society Publishing, Paperback, £79.95, ISBN: 9781907698538

Extensively expanded from its previous edition, this comprehensive handbook provides a detailed but clear and coherent analysis of corporate law, in the context of private and public companies.

Hernandez, Roberto, Construction and Infrastructure Disputes: A Global Handbook, Globe Law and Business, Hardback, £125.00, ISBN: 9781909416000

This unique new book explains, on a country-by-country basis, the different dispute resolution methods which can be used in construction, infrastructure and public-private partnership (PPP) projects. It has been developed to assist construction lawyers and professionals in identifying the dispute resolution mechanisms which they can and cannot use in a selection of key jurisdictions, thus helping them to save time and money when making decisions.

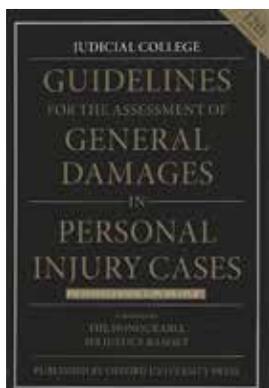

Jacob, Robin; Alexander, Daniel; Fisher, Matthew, A Guidebook to Intellectual Property 6th ed, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £19.95, ISBN: 9781849463256

This is a unique book about Intellectual Property. It is aimed not only at law students studying the subject but at interested users of IP - businesspeople, inventors, scientists, designers and others. A novice reader of this book should come away both with a clear outline of IP law and a feeling for how it works. Students will be able to put their more detailed study into perspective. Users will be able to understand better how IP affects them and their businesses.

eral Damages in Personal Injury Cases 12th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £19.99, ISBN: 9780199687824

The Guidelines for the Assessment of General Damages are designed to provide a clear and logical framework for the assessment of damages in personal injury cases. The first edition of this title was regarded as a landmark in personal injury practice. Each succeeding issue has built on this reputation and the book has now firmly established itself as essential reading for all those involved in the area of personal injury litigation.

Kodilinye, Gilbert; Kodilinye, Maria, Commonwealth Caribbean Contract Law, Routledge, Paperback, £49.99, ISBN: 9780415538725

The first textbook on Commonwealth Caribbean Contract law for undergraduate and sixth form students. Commonwealth Caribbean Contract Law covers contract law from a Caribbean perspective, citing Caribbean Case Law and Statutory provisions. Written by a well-established textbook author and professor of law at Mona Campus, the textbook comprehensively covers all key principles of contractual obligations studied by undergraduate students, and relevant to practitioners in a modern and accessible way.

Kolb, Robert, The International Court of Justice, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £145.00, ISBN: 9781849462631

This new work, by a leading academic authority on international law who also appears as an advocate before the Court, examines the Statute of the Court, its procedures, conventions and practices, in a way that will provide invaluable assistance to all international lawyers. The book covers matters such as: the composition of the court and elections, the office and role of ad hoc judges, the significance of the occasional use of smaller Chambers, jurisdiction, the range of contentious disputes which may be submitted to the Court, the status of advisory opinions, relationship to the Security Council, the law applied, preliminary objections, applications to intervene, the status of judgments and remedies.

sity Press, Hardback, £75.00,
ISBN: 9780199645749

The majority of academic private lawyers have little knowledge of insurance law in its own right, and the amount of discussion directed to insurance in private law theory is disproportionately small in relation to its practical importance. Filling this substantial gap in the literature, this book explores the multiple influences of insurance in the law of obligations, and the nature and impact of insurance law as an inherent and significant aspect of private law.

Opong, Richard Frimpong, Private International Law in Commonwealth Africa, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £80.00, ISBN: 9780521199698

This book provides a comprehensive and comparative examination of private international law in Commonwealth Africa. The book is clearly and logically structured - it is organised around broad themes or issues, with country reports and accompanied by detailed commentaries. Drawing on nearly 1500 cases decided by courts in these countries and numerous national statutes, this book covers the four cornerstones of private international law: jurisdiction, choice of law, foreign judgements and arbitral awards enforcement, and international civil procedure. The author also provides an extensive bibliography of the literature on African private international law.

Orts, Eric W., Business Persons: A Legal Theory of the Firm, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £35.00,

ISBN: 9780199670918

This book provides a scholarly and yet accessible introduction to the legal framework of modern business enterprises. It explains the legal ideas that allow for the recognition of firms as organizational “persons” having social rights and responsibilities. Other foundational ideas include an overview of how the laws of agency, contracts, and property fit together to compose the organized “persons” known as business firms.

Tolley's Yellow Tax Handbook ensures you have a complete view of contemporary direct tax legislation. This book is endorsed by the Chartered Institute of Taxation. Essential HMRC material The impact and implications of the Finance Act 2013 are expertly covered by Tolley's tax team. Technical legislation is punctuated by helpful cross references to the latest Acts, Revenue Internal Guidance Manuals and commentary in Simon's Taxes.

Reinisch, August, The Privileges and Immunities of International Organizations in Domestic Courts, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £70.00, ISBN: 9780199679409

This book provides a comprehensive empirical study, focusing on the law and practice of domestic jurisdictions concerning the legal personality, privileges, and immunities of international organizations. It presents a selection of detailed country-by-country studies, examining the manner of judicial dialogue across domestic jurisdictions, and between national and international courts. The approach taken in this book intersects with three highly topical areas of international legal scholarship: the rapidly evolving law of international institutions; the burgeoning research into the role of domestic courts in the international legal system; and the recent rise of empirically-oriented legal scholarship.

Paperback, £55.00, ISBN: 9781846617881

Although applications for secure accommodation orders (SAOs) are relatively infrequent, such orders may form an important part of the care planning for a child. By their nature these applications invariably arise at emergency or interim hearings. This portable practitioner handbook provides a comprehensive analysis of such orders and contains relevant statutory material, case summaries, and practical guidance.

Talus, Kim, EU Energy Law and Policy: A Critical Account, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £60.00, ISBN: 9780199686391

A critical overview of European Union energy law and policy, this book takes a law-in-context approach as it examines the development of EU energy law from the 1950s to the present day. It discusses the development of EU energy law; the application of general EU law into energy; the regulation of EU energy markets; international aspects of EU energy law; and policy, sustainability, and energy regulation. The book frames EU energy law as a topic that can provoke intellectual, political, and professional discussion about the slowly moving train of economic regulation under the typical pressures and contradictions of countries and the European Union in the global economy.

Tams, Christian J.; Sloan, James, The Development of International Law by the International Court of Justice,

Oxford University Press, Hardback, £70.00, ISBN: 9780199653218

This book traces the impact that the International Court of Justice (ICJ), the principal judicial organ of the United Nations, has had on various areas of international law. A number of prominent international experts examine whether, and to what extent, international law has been shaped by the Court's jurisprudence. The informal development of international law through the Court's judgments contrasts with the development of international law through more deliberate means, such as treaty-making.

The Law of Pension Trusts

By David Pollard

Oxford University Press, Hardback, ISBN 9780199672486, £125.00, due November 2013

This work on the law of pension trusts comprehensively fills a gap in the provision of good commentary on pensions law, both from a practical and scholarly perspective. Responding to a paucity of up-to-date publications in this area, David Pollard provides the most detailed treatment available of trust law as it relates to occupational pension schemes. The book provides answers to difficult problems in pensions law often not covered by statute, including trustees' obligations to employers, how spouses and dependents rank as beneficiaries and implied duties owed by employers. Pollard deals with the issues of most concern to practitioners in pensions law, including trustees' investment and amendment powers, and trustee investment duties. This practical guidance is supported and enhanced by incisive academic analysis. Written by a leading pensions pracitioner, this book is a must have for all practitioners and scholars in the field.

European State Aid Law: A Commentary

By Franz Jurgen Sacker and Frank Montag

Hart Publishing, Hardback, ISBN 9781849461900, £320.00, due December 2013

The regulation of state aid belongs to the core areas of European Union law. Without the general prohibition of state subsidies to undertakings competitiveness would be distorted and the benefits of the internal market would be put in jeopardy. This book deals systematically article-by-article with the basic principles, the proceedings, and the implementation of state aid law as laid down in Articles 107 to 109 TFEU, as well as the general block exemptions regulation (Regulation No 800/2008) and the Council Regulation (EC) No 659/1999 laying down detailed rules for the application of Article 93 TEC. Further, this commentary deals in detail with the rules regulating state aid in specific sectors such as telecommunication, postal services, broadcast and television, energy/coal, banking, railroads, road transport, shipping, air traffic/airports, automotive industry, shipbuilding, steel, housing, agriculture, fishery, culture/tourism/sport, and health.

Brooke's Notary 14th edition

By N.P Ready

Sweet and Maxwell Ltd, Hardback, ISBN 9780414028388, £235.00, due November 2013

Brooke's Notary is the standard work on notarial practice, first published in 1839. It provides comprehensive guidance on the powers, duties and procedures of notaries and covers notaries in England & Wales, the Commonwealth and international jurisdictions. This new edition brings the coverage up-to-date with the latest developments and reviews their impact on day-to-day practice. Gives guidance on all the main areas of notaries' practice, including powers of attorney, affidavits, declarations and ship protests, bond and debenture operations and share issue ballots: Looks at the formalities of a notarial act and the status of notarial acts as evidence, in both civil and common law jurisdictions; Deals with the role of the notary in electronic contracts; Explains the impact for notaries of the Legal Services Act 2007 and Companies Act 2006 now both are fully in force; Considers a raft of new Rules made by the Master of the Faculties, including new Practice and Accounts Rules; Examines recent ECJ decisions in relation to the status of EU notaries and proposed amendment to EC Directive 2005/36; Covers the procedure for admission as a notary, the different classes of notary, and the training and appointment of notaries; Looks at how the Civil Procedures Rules affect notarial acts and instruments; Discusses the obligations of notaries under the Money Laundering Regulations; Features an extensive range of updated precedents; Contains details on notarial practice and procedure in many foreign jurisdictions; Includes French, Spanish, Portuguese, Italian and German forms for notarial acts.

The Expert Witness in Construction

By Robert Horne and John Mullen
Wiley-Blackwell, Hardback, ISBN 9780470655931, £84.95, due October 2013

The role of the expert witness has long been important in the resolution of construction disputes. The specialist opinion brought by the expert can aid understanding and interpretation of the facts of the dispute, and may be influential in deciding the outcome. The variety of dispute resolution procedures and the requirement for the expert witness to be independent places a heavy burden on the parties to identify and instruct an appropriate expert, and on the expert to ensure they discharge their duty in the correct manner. The book explains, in practical terms, the way in which experts work with particular reference to the construction industry. Within this book the Expert's role is explained in legal and practical terms as a progression from understanding the basic principles by which Experts can be identified, through appointment, to giving evidence before a tribunal. At every stage commentary is given to: help and guide professionals new to the arena of expert evidence; act as a resource for those already acting as Experts; assist party representatives looking for best practice guidance on the instruction of Experts; and provide parties to disputes information on what they should expect from the Expert they appoint to explain the issues in the case. Covering all the implications of identifying, appointing, instructing and relying on experts, it will help the reader to understand why experts are instructed in the way they are, how to identify the expert that is right for a particular case and how evidence should be presented.

Restructuring Law and Practice 2nd edition

By Chris Howard and Bob Hedger
LexisNexis Butterworths, Hardback, ISBN 9781405754712, £220.00, due November 2013

This book is the how-to bible for restructuring. The credit crunch and market volatility are driving an increase in restructurings. No other book covers the practical aspects of out of court restructurings covering the consensual arena or looks at the law and practice in a sustained and systematic way. Howard and Hedger bring a coherent and comprehensive approach to the complex practice of restructuring in the UK and beyond. This book also benefits from detailed analysis of the directors duties aspects post-CA 2006, application of International Accounting Standards, going concern issues and detailed coverage of rights issues. The key benefits of the book are as follows: First and only commentary on the steps practitioners need to take in a restructuring; Practical, transactional focus combining a banking industry authority and a legal expert; Walks readers through the practical steps of the transaction, warning what to look out for and advising re documents; Gives insights into the documentation and all the practical actions that need to be taken; Is written in such a way as to be of immense value to accountants, lawyers and bankers.

Property Insolvency 2nd edition

By Peter Lavaggi and Roger Elford

Jordan Publishing Ltd, Hardback (with CD), ISBN 9781846615474, £97.00, due October 2013

The world of property insolvency has evolved through the biggest financial catastrophe since the war, with the bank meltdown flowing from property backed lending. The first edition of Property Insolvency stated the law as at January 2009. Over the intervening 4 years there have been significant developments in property development, insolvent restructuring of many leading retail chains and the unprecedented rise of fixed charge receiverships. The continuing evolution of principles relating to administration expenses in the cases of Goldacre (Offices) Ltd v Nortel Networks UK Ltd (In Administration) (2009) and Leisure (Norwich) II LTD and others v Luminar Lava Ignite Ltd (In Administration) and others (2012) have continued to hit the headlines in both the property and insolvency presses. What was initially heralded as a triumph for landlords, has resulted in the tactical timing of the commencement of administrations in order to avoid payments of rent (and other sums) being categorised as expenses. This has led to landlords exploring other options, including the use of forfeiture proceedings during administration, as was used to great effect in the 2012 case of Lazari GP Limited and Lazari Real Estates Limited v Game Retail (UK) Limited 2012. As the retail sector continues to suffer, Company Voluntary Arrangements (CVA's) continue to be a widely used tool, particularly in relation to multi-site retailers. As the drafting of these arrangements has become more sophisticated in the way in which they compensate landlords (and other creditors), landlords remain vigilant against CVA's that in their view, go too far – the casing point being Mr Justice Henderson's decision in the Miss Sixty case ((1) Mourant & Co Trustees Ltd (2) Mourant Property Trustees Ltd v (1) Sixty UK Ltd (In Administration) (2) Peter Hollis (3) Nicholas O'Reilly (as joint administrators of Sixty UK Ltd) (2010)) which sent a clear warning to Insolvency Practitioners that they must not be fettered by those instructing them, and that the interests of creditors must be considered paramount at all times. The judgment in that case re-visited Etherton J's decision in the landmark case of Prudential and Others v PRG Powerhouse Limited and Others [2008] in relation to so called "guarantee stripping" in CVA cases. Whilst administrations have been hitting the headlines, there have been more fundamental changes to the principles relating to co-ownership of real property. The ruling of the House of Lords' 2007 decision in the 2007 case of Stack v Dowden [2007] UKHL 17 was developed further in the Supreme Court's decision in the Patricia Anne Jones v Leonard Trevor Kernott [2011] UKSC 53. Some have seen this as a dangerous departure from the more ‘scientific’ approach to quantifying beneficial interests through the application of resulting trusts in co-ownership cases, and the courts’ more flexible approach has certainly led to uncertainty and challenges amongst trustees in bankruptcy facing arguments from non-bankrupt spouses, partners and co-owners.

Clearing, Settlement and Custody 2nd edition

By David Loader

Elsevier Butterworth-Heinemann, Paperback, ISBN 9780080983332, £36.99, due October 2013

Four new chapters and updates throughout help this second edition summarize worldwide changes in the process of concluding a financial transaction. Noted consultant David Loader, Director of DSC Portfolio Ltd and Loader Associates Ltd, provides a highly detailed analysis of the central clearing counterparty (CCP) concept, the drivers behind it, and its effects on operations teams. He also clearly illustrates the ‘lifecycle’ of a series of transactions to broaden the comparison process. Emphasizing changes in the regulatory environment stemming from the 2008 market crash and liquidity crisis, this edition uses new case studies and end-of-chapter quizzes to explore the transaction value chain of trading, clearing, settlement, and custody. Students and professionals in the financial field will benefit from the book’s description of the industry and the details of financial innovation and regulatory response with their many implications. Supplements theoretical insights about risk with empirical data from current cases; Provides the first algorithmic risk management technique that spans multiple asset classes; End-of-chapter questions reinforce primary and secondary points.

A Commentary on the LCIA Rules

By Shai Wade and Stephen York

Sweet and Maxwell Ltd, Hardback, ISBN 9781847035608, £169.00, due November 2013

This new work is a highly practical, articleby- article commentary on the Rules of the London Court of International Arbitration, an increasingly popular international arbitration institution. Intended as a tool for practising lawyers, it is designed to be accessible and easy to use at any stage in the workflow of an LCIA arbitration. It covers all topics, from the choice of the LCIA and drafting of suitable arbitration clauses through the entire process of an actual arbitration to the award and related matters. A “model forms” appendix takes the reader through all the documentation required during an LCIA arbitration, and provides a model set of typical forms.

LAW AND PRACTICE OF CHARGING ORDERS ON LAND

Falcon Chambers

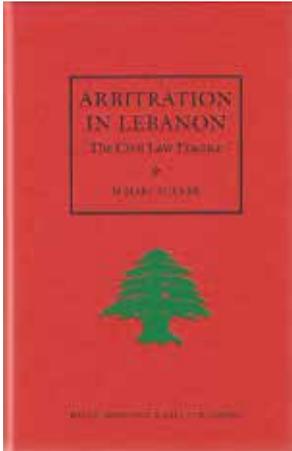

Price: £85.00
ISBN: 9780854901241
Extent: 308 pp
Binding: Hardback

Written by specialists with practical experience, Law and Practice of Charging Orders on Land provides a clear and thorough analysis of the law applicable to charging orders on land. Such orders are frequently sought, but can give rise to difficult issues both in terms of the exercise of discretion by the courts, and in relation to priorities. The book provides a guide to practitioners as to the pitfalls that can arise in seeking or challenging a charging order. There is comprehensive citation of authority and reference to statutory materials and the relevant provisions of the Civil Procedure Rules.

The book explains the history of the law on charging orders which culminated in the Charging Orders Act 1979. It explains how to apply for a charging order and how the court is likely to exercise its discretion on such an application at both the interim and final stages. It considers the often difficult issues of priority that can arise in relation to charging orders. It explains how a charging order, once made, may be challenged and examines the process whereby a charging order may be enforced through an order for sale. It also looks at other cognate forms of order which create a charge over land and contains examples of relevant documents.

Law and Practice of Charging Orders on Land is an up-to-date treatment of this area of law, covering practical issues and giving examples. It addresses the very difficult legal issues that can arise and provides guidance as to how they might be dealt with.

All the contributors are barristers practising at Falcon Chambers in London, the leading set that specialises exclusively in land law and landlord and tenant work.

ARBITRATION IN LEBANON
The Civil Law Practice

M Marc Sukkar

Price: £65
ISBN: 9780854900664
Extent: 408 pp
Binding: Hardback

Arbitration in Lebanon is the first publication that covers, in a single volume, the complete area of arbitration law as it stands in Lebanon and comparative analysis with French, English and other arbitration systems.

The author focuses on the advantages and pitfalls of arbitration in this once vibrant French colony, suggesting possible improvements for a way forward through a more efficient, reliable and cost effective arbitration system.

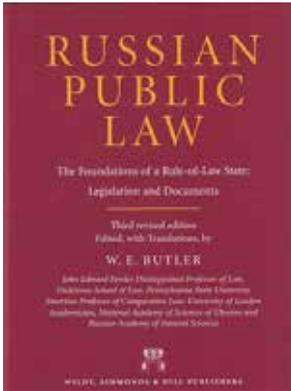

'The subject of this excellent book is indeed a fitting and necessary contribution to the jurisprudence of the East and the West. It should come as no surprise that, with trade there comes the need to ensure that relations between merchant and customer and merchant and merchant are governed in an orderly fashion, so that disputes may be resolved with due expedition, ensuring justice for all.'

The author, has indeed made a seminal contribution to the jurisprudence of alternative dispute resolution by seamlessly bringing together the doctrines of arbitration, the procedures and the manner in which disputes may be resolved, resorting to the very rich source materials that exist.

The book is, and will become, a very handy, if not indispensable reference tool to all who seek to trade within the Middle East, and especially in the Levant. All too readily, and ever more so with common sense coming to the fore, alternative dispute resolution has now become the norm, if not de rigueur, for commercial disputation and its efficacious resolution.

This book presents and supplements the lacuna that has been present for so long and so agonisingly absent from the shelves of any erstwhile learner. It will, and I am confident must be a source of reference for all those who seek to embark upon trade within the Middle East, and the author is to be congratulated for filling the vacuum that has been so void for so long.' From the Foreword by Stephen J Stanton

The author is a partner in the firm of Lalive in Qatar.

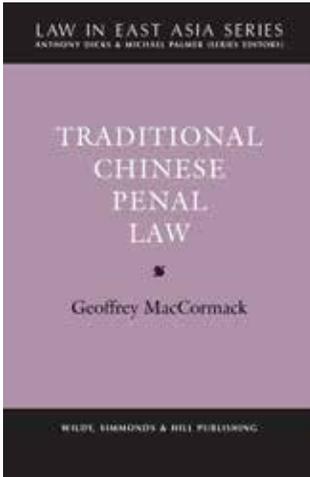

RUSSIAN PUBLIC LAW
The Foundations of a Rule-of-Law State: Legislation and Documents

3d ed
William E Butler

Price: £125
ISBN: 9780854901302
Extent: 1072 pp
Binding: Hardback

The most comprehensive collection of Russian legal materials even produced in the English language on Russian public law, this volume contains sixty-four enactments and documents in force and devoted to the constitutional foundations of the Russian Federation, publication of normative legal acts, human rights, the Russian Presidency, Parliament, Government, and judicial system, domestic and international arbitration, courts of all types, justices of the peace, and the legal profession, broadly defined. In this volume the legal profession encompassed the advokat, juriconsult, notary, procurator, and law enforcement personnel, including private detectives. Particular attention is given to documents which regulate the internal workings of the Russian presidency, parliament, and government, the judicial generally, and codes of ethics.

TRADITIONAL CHINESE PENAL LAW

Revised Edition

Geoffrey MacCormack

With a Foreword by Michael Palmer

Price: £65.00
ISBN: 97808549010930
Extent: 332 pp
Binding: Hardback

The penal law of the imperial period—from roughly 200 B.C. to 1911 A.D.—is of particular interest, although little known or studied in the West, because each of the great dynasties produced codes which functioned both as instruments of government and as a means for the enforcement of Confucian morality. The content of the codes—untouched by Western influences—remained on many important topics largely unchanged from at least the seventh to the twentieth century.

This book discusses the social, intellectual and administrative background of the codes, analyses their structure and gives an account both of the general rules they contain and of the rules in the most important specific areas regulated by them (for example, killing, physical injury, theft, damage to property, marriage, adoption and succession). It also discusses some important branches of administrative law such as the liability and privileges of officials. A final chapter takes up the theoretical issue of the nature of the penal law.

Originally published in 1990, this widely accepted classic has been corrected and revised by Professor MacCormack.

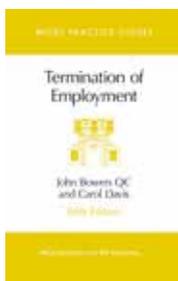

Geoffrey MacCormack is Emeritus Professor of Jurisprudence at the University of Aberdeen.
