Job Opportunity

Wildy & Sons Ltd

Customer Service Advisor

Wildy & Sons Ltd are seeking an additional person to join our busy bookshop team at our Lincoln's Inn branch, WC2. You will be joining our existing team handling the management of customer accounts both online and in person.

Key responsibilities include:

- Handling telephone and e-mail enquiries from customers and processing of orders received
- Assisting customers on the shop floor and providing advice and direction
- Liaising with both UK and international publishers to fulfil orders
- Supporting colleagues within the Customer Service and Subscription teams
- Cataloguing and labelling of books received for our consolidation customers
- The organisation and management of Standing Orders and Supplements and assisting with e-book queries and orders

You will need excellent communication and customer service skills, the ability to be calm under pressure and effectively manage a varied and demanding workload. You should be a good team player able to take direction while also being able to work unsupervised on a day-to-day basis.

We offer a competitive salary and four weeks holiday per year, rising to five weeks after three years, and a positive and friendly working environment where the input and ideas of all employees are valued and encouraged.

To apply for the position please e-mail your cv and salary expectations to Abbie Sinkins on abbie.sinkins@wildy.com. The deadline for applications is February 2018.

At the theoretical level, most constitutions in Africa normally provide for the concept of separation of powers with each arm of government assigned defined roles and functions. At the operational level, the Judiciary is regarded as the junior partner with the 'restrictions' on funding in terms of spending as it is usually the prerogative of the Executive branch of government to allocate funds to the Judiciary. To what extent is the check and or control of funding affect the operations of the courts? Can in exercise of the doctrine of separation of powers be expanded with regards to the appointment, discipline and removal of judicial officers? What should be the relationship between the two other arms of government and the Judiciary with regards to control of cases to be determined by the courts. All these issues find a way of determining how effective the Judiciary can be in any governmental arrangement and structure. It is particularly challenging in Africa where democracy in practice is still at the embryonic stage especially with regards to the political office holders. The African Union has in place the African Charter on Human and Peoples' Rights with a provision for an African Commission to determine disputes. How effective is this Commission and how independent is it?

This book, Judicial Independence in Africa set out to interrogate some of these issues and was put together by scholars of varied and diverse experience in and outside university environment tracing the evolution of the Judiciary as an arm of government, its relationship with other arms of government and the media, the operations of the institution in relation to issues of human rights, gender and juvenile justice.

During the years 2003 - 2006 Uppsala University and WSH published the Uppsala Yearbook of East European Law. For a number of reasons publication of the Yearbook was discontinued after the 2006 issue.

We are happy and proud to be able to resume publication of the Yearbook, now with a broadened perspective. As the title, Uppsala Yearbook of Eurasian Studies, indicates the Yearbook now covers also other disciplines than law, in particular political science and economics. Given recent developments in the Eurasian region this enlarged focus is increasingly relevant and important.

A STEP-BY-STEP GUIDE TO WILLS AND PROBATE

6th ed

by
A. K. Biggs

Price: £15.95
ISBN: 9780854902231
Extent: 206pp
Binding: paperback

A Step-by-Step Guide to Wills and Probate explains how to write a simple will, and how to deal with the affairs of someone who has died. This new edition is completely revised and updated, and is written in plain language by an author who has many years' experience in the probate registries. It explains when you can do things yourself and when you need a solicitor. The subjects covered include:

- Making your will: why do it; how to do it; appointing executors, the different gifts that can be made; how to make sure the will is valid and will be put into effect; examples
- Who may apply for probate: how to work out who, of the relatives and friends left behind, is the one to sort out a deceased person's affairs. Who inherits if there is no will?
- The estate: making sure that all the property and debts are found
- Inheritance Tax: working out if tax has to be paid, how much, and the arrangements for paying it
- Filling in the forms: essential paperwork, with examples. Will drafting/tax law/court forms and precedents updated to April 2017
- Going to court: the procedure for visiting the probate registry to finalise paperwork when this is requested by you and, when not, the procedure for swearing oaths before solicitors
- Administering the estate: collecting together the property; paying the debts, distributing the inheritances

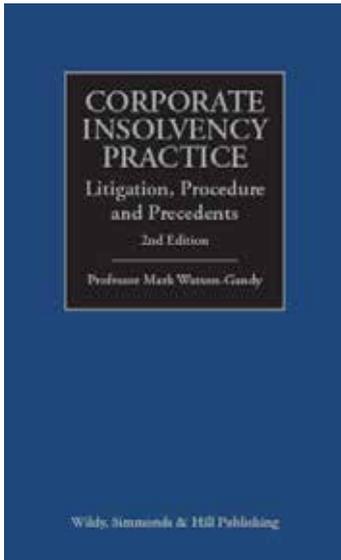

CORPORATE INSOLVENCY PRACTICE

Litigation, Procedure and Precedents

2nd ed

by

Professor Mark Watson-Gandy

Price: £95.00
ISBN: 9780854902187
Extent: 552pp
Binding: hardback

The Insolvency (England and Wales) Rules 2016 introduced extensive changes to insolvency practice, precedents and procedures – the biggest change to insolvency for over 20 years. Fully updated to take account of these new rules, which came into effect on 6 April 2017, Corporate Insolvency Practice is the only comprehensive ‘how to do it’ guide for solicitors and barristers to all the most common court applications in corporate insolvency.

Covering areas as diverse as winding up petitions to administrations to the reuse of company names, this practical and accessible book seeks to give the inside track on what the court will expect both in terms of practice and evidence. It also provides the busy practitioner with a range of useful precedents and checklists, and sets out key statutory and practice material for each application.

Packed with precedents, forms, checklists and statutory extracts, Corporate Insolvency Practice ensures you have readily to hand everything you need to prepare and present the most common insolvency applications. The new edition of this title will be an invaluable reference for all practitioners making insolvency applications in the Companies Court.

Professor Mark Watson-Gandy is a tenant at Three Stone Chambers, a specialist commercial chancery barristers’ chambers in Lincoln’s Inn. He is a Visiting Professor at the University of Westminster and a Visiting Lecturer at Cass Business School. He was appointed to the Court of the University of Essex in 2015. Mark gave evidence to the Commons Select Committee on Business Innovation and Skills’ Inquiry into the “Insolvency Service”, to the All Party Small Business Group’s Inquiry into “breaking down the barriers to entrepreneurship” and the Treasury Committee’s Inquiry on “SME Lending”.
