Felicity Gerry and Beatrice Krebs
at the launch of Accessorial Liability after JOGEE
ISBN: 9781509918898 Bloomsbury £70.00

In February 2016, the UK Supreme Court fundamentally changed the criminal law principles of accessorial liability when it handed down its decision in R v Jogee. The Court abolished the head of liability known as ‘joint criminal enterprise’ and replaced it with the ordinary principles of aiding and abetting, which it re-stated for this purpose. But the full implications of the case for the criminal law remain at present uncertain, underexplored and divisive.

This book examines Jogee in detail, bringing together legal academics and barristers, all of them experts in the area of complicity, but each of whom have different experiences and views to bear on the issues under debate. The result is the first comprehensive analysis of the various issues that arise from Jogee. It is not just meant to provide a source of reference for academics and practitioners working in the area of complicity, its aim is more ambitious in that it seeks to chart the way forward and to suggest solutions to the various problems created by Jogee for criminal law theory and practice.

ADOPTION LAW

A Practical Guide

Nasreen Pearce and Richard Budworth

Price:	£59.00
ISBN:	9780854902859
Extent:	346 pp
Binding:	Paperback

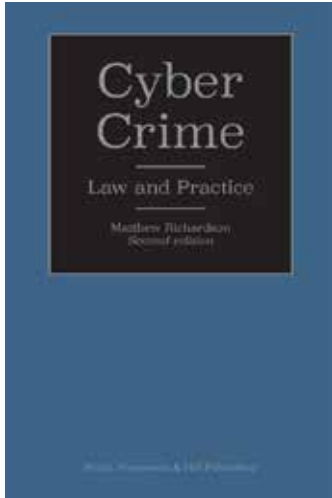

The Adoption and Children Act 2002, which sets out the statutory framework, contains 115 sections and 5 schedules. These provisions are supported by secondary legislation, international conventions, rules, guidance, practice notes and case law that has developed since the Act came into force.

Adoption Law: A Practical Guide seeks to provide a comprehensive guide to the law, practice and procedure for professionals as well as those who are concerned with or involved in the adoption process. It covers each stage of the adoption process, including the difficult issue of contact between the child and their birth parents and the alternative options available by reference to the relevant case law and regulations in relation to domestic adoptions as well as adoptions with a foreign element. Registration of adoption and the sensitive issue of disclosure of information are also considered.

The book deals with the statutory obligations and responsibilities imposed on adoption agencies, support services and other professional bodies who are concerned with adoption towards all the parties, including the child who is the subject of the proceedings. It also outlines the rights of those parties to challenge decisions made by the professional bodies involved in the process.

Nasreen Pearce is a retired circuit judge and former district judge of the Principal Registry of the Family Division. She has written extensively on family law matters and is a contributor to and author of many publications including: Emergency Remedies in the Family Courts; The Family Court Practice; and A Practitioner's Guide to Inheritance Act Claims, 3rd ed (Wildy, Simmonds & Hill).

Richard Budworth was called to the Bar in 1982 and practises from 3 Dr Johnson's Buildings. He specialises in a broad range of family law work, including financial remedies and is a contributory editor to Emergency Remedies in the Family Courts. He is the joint author of the second edition of The Single Family Court: A Practitioner's Handbook (Wildy, Simmonds & Hill).

ADVISING AND REPRESENTING CLIENTS AT MEDIATION

Second Edition

Stephen Walker and David Smith

Price:	£45.00
ISBN:	9780854902774
Extent	268pp
Binding:	Paperback

Advising and Representing Clients at Mediation is an invaluable guide for lawyers, surveyors and other professionals. It will assist at every stage of the mediation process from persuading the other party to mediate and preparing for and taking part in the mediation itself to advising clients on what to expect and how to conduct themselves at a mediation.

The book also offers extensive checklists and precedents, practical advice from experienced mediators, and a clear explanation of the law as it currently stands.

The book is fully updated with all the changes in the mediation sector including new relevant case law, the new approaches created by the Jackson reforms and the Jackson ADR Handbook, and the latest thinking on ADR processes and procedures.

“Every now and then a book is published for legal representatives that goes beyond a mere analysis of the law and technical guidance, and makes the reader stop and think. This is one such publication. I wish I had read this book before I first represented clients as a solicitor at mediations. Now, as a commercial mediator, plenty in the book resonates with my own experiences. It is packed with real-life tips and examples. It will help a representative get the very best out of the mediation process for their client.”

The Law Society Gazette (from the review of the previous edition)

Stephen Walker is a retired solicitor and an active accredited mediator and Fellow of the Institute of Arbitrators. He is ranked in the top 40 mediators in both the Legal 500 and Chambers and has been appointed in over 700 mediations.

David Smith is a partner and Head of Operations at Anthony Gold Solicitors. He is an accredited mediator with Regents School of Psychotherapy and ADR Group and a former trustee of Portsmouth Mediation Service.
