MAJOR NEW TITLES THIS MONTH

Barnard, Catherine, Substantive Law of the EU: The Four Freedoms 2ed, Oxford Univ Press, PB, £26.99, ISBN: 9780199298396

This book focuses on the substantive law of the EU with regard to the free movement of goods, persons, services, and capital. An introductory chapter outlines the background to EU law in this sphere; the role of free trade theory, the development of economic integration until the present day, and the fundamental principles underpinning this development. The following sections then provide a detailed examination of the major categories - goods, persons, services and capital - and a concluding section deals with the legal issues raised by the ongoing process of harmonisation within the single market. The author makes judicious use of case studies to illustrate and develop central issues, diagrams and flowcharts to clarify the more complex areas of this sphere of EU law.

Bevan, Nicholas; Huckle, Theodore and Ellis, Sherallee, Future Loss in Practice: Periodical Payments and Lump Sums, LexisNexis UK, PB, £70.00, ISBN: 9781405714921

This handy title provides an authoritative analysis on one of the most important reforms to personal injury practice in the last decade. Practical and portable, the book is an essential reference resource and includes commentary for lawyers and compensators alike.

Bickford-Smith, Stephen and Francis, Andrew, Rights of Light 2ed, Jordans, PB, £65.00, ISBN: 9781846610240

This new edition has been significantly re-written and provides practical and up-to-date explanation of law and practice including the impact of the Land Registration Act

2002 and recent case-law such as Midtown Ltd v City of London Real Property. It also provides a comprehensive review of the acquisition and establishment of rights and proceedings for infringement, expert commentary on measurement and valuation techniques provided by chartered surveyor and a new chapter dealing with the High Hedges legislation.

Birds, John, Modern Insurance Law 7ed, Sweet & Maxwell, PB, £29.95, ISBN: 9780421960503

This book provides an invaluable analysis of the increasingly complex legal rules affecting contracts of insurance. The work offers a concise explanation of the fundamental principles of insurance law in a straightforward manner. It analyses the complex legal rules affecting contracts of insurance, and where appropriate Commonwealth authorities and European Community law are also addressed.

Burrows, Andrew and Peel, Edwin, Casebook on Contract, Hart Publishing, PB, £26.00, ISBN: 9781841137131

This new casebook by Professor Burrows offers undergraduate law students the ideal way to discover and understand contract law through reading highlights from the leading cases. Designed to be used in conjunction with a contract law textbook, it covers the entire undergraduate contract law course in a series of clearly presented and carefully-structured chapters.

Carr, Paul and Turner, Adrian, Stone's Justic-

es' Manual 2007 (inc CD), LexisNexis UK, HB, £457.80, ISBN: 9781405725231

This work is relied upon each year by thousands of professionals to provide the most reliable and current coverage of the legislative changes affecting magistrates' courts. With the accompanying CD-ROM, Stone's provides comprehensive coverage of all existing, new and amended legislation affecting the magistrates' courts and hundreds of new cases that set precedents or clarify particular principles of law. As part of the subscription, an updating CD-ROM is provided in September. Also included in the subscription price is Butterworths Supplement to Stone's Justices' Manual, published in October 2007. Butterworths Supplement to Stone's Justices' Manual 2007 is a valuable addition to the Stone's service, including recent cases and legislation, as well as updated and new commentary.

Fully cross-referenced to the main work, the supplement ensures your Stone's Justice Manual 2007 is updated with the latest developments.

Carroll, Alex, Constitutional and Administrative Law 4ed, Pearson, PB, £29.99, ISBN: 9781405812313

This book provides interesting and inquiring treatment of this wide-ranging and dynamic subject. Taking account of the various political, social and cultural factors that have shaped the law in this area, it has been fully updated with commentary on important recent developments.

Chesterman, Simon and Lehnardt, Chia, From

Mercenaries to Market: The Rise and Regulation of Private Military Companies, Oxford Univ Press, HB, £60.00, ISBN: 9780199228485

Frequently characterized as either mercenaries in modern guise or the market's response to a security vacuum, private military companies are commercial firms offering military services ranging from combat and military training and advice to logistical support, and which play an increasingly important role in armed conflicts, UN peace operations, and providing security in unstable states.

Cornish, William and

Llewely, David, Intellectual Property: Patents, Copyrights, Trademarks & Allied Rights 6ed, Sweet & Maxwell, PB, £33.95, ISBN: 9780421919006
This is well established as the leading textbook in this area of law. It continues to provide comprehensive and authoritative coverage of the whole spectrum of intellectual property law as it applies in the UK.

Dennis, Ian, Law of Evidence 3ed, Sweet & Maxwell, PB, £30.95, ISBN: 9780421888500
This book analyses the law of evidence in a contextual setting; and offers and goes beyond an integrated approach to evidence, which includes essential doctrinal analysis. It takes account of evidence theory, psychological research on information processing and retrieval, socio-legal work on police investigations, and jury research projects. It is presented in a logical structure following on, from the introduction of the basic concepts through to the exclusionary rules of the law of evidence. It examines the recasting of the regime for obtaining identification evidence in the PACE Code of Practice; and reviews changes to the law brought about by the Criminal Justice Act 2003, which has recast the law on hearsay and character evidence, and changed laws on disclosure and the examination of witnesses.

Directory, Directory of Local Authorities 2007, Sweet & Maxwell, PB, £62.50, ISBN: 9781847032232

Driscoll, James, Butterworths Residential Landlord and Tenant Handbook 4ed, LexisNexis

UK, PB, £65.00, ISBN:
9781405725415

The fourth edition incorporates major legislative developments which have occurred since the previous edition, including the Housing Act 2004 and the secondary legislation accompanying it. The handbook is an invaluable source of reference for those practitioners, in both the public and private sectors, who deal with such issues as leasehold enfranchisement, the right to buy (and the new right to acquire for tenants of registered social landlords), assured, secure and protected tenancies, disrepair and all other areas of residential landlord and tenant law. Other professionals working in associated fields will also find this publication indispensable, as will academics and students.

Edwards, Martin and Malone, Michael, Equal Opportunities Handbook 4ed, Tottel Publishing, PB, £65.00, ISBN:

This is a thorough reference guide to all aspects of the law relating to equal opportunities and discrimination. The handbook provides accessible and straightforward advice to help practitioners with the day-to-day problems encountered when dealing with this complex area of the law. The new fourth edition has been fully updated to take account of developments in the law on maternity rights, equal pay, disability and sexual harassment; new codes of practice on race and disability, and developments in practice and approach.

Emmerson, Ben and Ashworth, Andrew, Human Rights and Criminal Justice 2ed, Sweet & Maxwell, HB, £99.00, ISBN: 9780421876101

This work provides a full and systematic analysis of the impact of UK human rights law on both the substantive criminal law and criminal procedure. Written by the leading authorities on the subject it offers definitive guidance. It examines first the applicable human rights principles before moving on to consider their impact on specific areas, including the investigation of crime, court procedure, evidence, standards of proof, sentencing, appeals and the rights of victims. Coverage includes detailed analysis of the practical impact of the Human Rights Act, especially the extensive case law.

Foster, Michelle, International Refugee Law and Socio-Economic Rights: Refuge from Deprivation, Cambridge Univ Press, HB, £55.00, ISBN: 9780521870177

A range of emerging refugee claims is beginning to challenge the boundaries of the Refugee Convention regime and question traditional distinctions between ‘economic migrants’ and ‘political refugees’. This book identifies the conceptual and analytical challenges presented by claims based on socio-economic deprivation, and undertakes an assessment of the extent to which these challenges may be overcome by a creative interpretation of the Refugee Convention, consistent with correct principles of international treaty interpretation.

Friedland, Paul D., Arbitration Clauses for International Contracts 2ed, Juris Publishing, HB, £90.00, ISBN: 9781933833064

This book, by a leading international arbitration practitioner, offers suggested language for every option that a drafter of an international arbitration may need. Following a succinct assessment of the choice between arbitration and litigation and commentary on the choices among arbitration fora and formats, the author presents an accessible how-to for drafting. While other works offer theory and a smattering of drafting tips, there is no other comprehensive collection of workable language, presented accessibly with easy-to-reference appendices. This book will be a regular reference for both in-house counsel and outside practitioners.

Hale, Chris, Private Equity: A Transactional Analysis, Globe Business, HB, £130.00, ISBN: 9781905783052

This practical title introduces the world of private equity, explains its rise and explores the key ingredients of private equity transactions and the technical issues associated with them. Featuring chapters by leading private equity practitioners, the book includes high-level analysis of private equity fund structures, equity and debt finance, acquisition documentation, due diligence, tax structuring and management, pensions and public to privates.

Holder, Jane and Lee, Maria, Environmental Protection, Law and Policy: Text and Materials 2ed, Cambridge Univ Press, PB, £40.00, ISBN: 9780521690263

This book examines environmental law from a range of perspectives, emphasising the policy world from which environmental law is drawn and nourished. Those working within the discipline of environmental law need to engage with concepts and methods employed by disciplines other than law. The authors analyse the ways in which legal activities are supported and legitimated by work in traditional scientific or technical domains, as well as by certain more obscure but also influential cultural or philosophical assumptions.

Hoskins, Tony, ICSA Company Reporting Handbook, ICSA Publishing, PB, £39.95, ISBN: 9781860723681

Hyland, Mary and Walton, Kevin, Whillan's Tax Tables 2007/08 Budget Edition, LexisNexis UK, PB, £31.95, ISBN: 9781405725187

This book provides accurate tables of all the new and revised tax rates and allowances and is published twice a year, in June and September. The first edition contains all the relevant information from the 2007 Budget, enabling practitioners to start using the updated facts and figures for the 2007-08 tax year. The second edition will include provisions from the Finance Act 2007, the new Revenue exchange rates and updated retail price indices, together with any other information not available for inclusion in the June edition.

Jones, Richard, Men- tal Capacity Act Manual 2ed, Sweet & Maxwell, pb, £42.00, ISBN: 9781847030375

Keenan, Denis and Richards, Sarah, Business Law 8ed, Pearson, PB, £33.99, ISBN: 9781405846974

The new edition of this popular text continues to provide comprehensive coverage of the law for non-law students in a clear and straightforward manner. Highly regarded, Business Law has been fully updated and is well illustrated with cases and diagrams throughout.

Lang, Yvonne and Copeman, Clare, Accounting and Auditing of Limited Liability Partnerships 2ed, Tottel Publishing, PB, £68.00, ISBN: 9781845928100

This is a practical guide to the professional legal and accounting requirements which apply to the preparation and audit of LLP accounts. This second edition takes account of the new SORP published in 2006, and the impact of the new Companies Act 2006. The book considers in detail the content of the annual report of an LLP, and looks at members' remuneration and interests, retirement benefits, stocks, taxation, related parties and financing. It contains practical examples of disclosure requirements and a model annual report.

Mallat, Chibli, Introduction to Middle Eastern Law, Oxford Univ Press, HB, £60.00, ISBN: 9780199230495

This book provides an introduction to the laws of the Middle East, defining the contours of a field of study that deserves to be called 'Middle Eastern law'. It introduces Middle Eastern law as a reflection of legal styles, many of which are shared by Islamic law and the laws of Christian and Jewish Near Eastern communities. It offers a detailed survey of the foundations of Middle Eastern Law, using court archives and an array of legal sources from the earliest records of Hammurabi to the massive compendia of law in the Islamic classical age through to the latest decisions of Middle Eastern high courts. It focuses on the way legislators and courts conceive of law and apply it in the Middle East. It builds on the author's extensive legal practice, with the aim of introducing the Middle Eastern law's main sources and concepts in a manner accessible to non-specialist legal scholars and practitioners alike.

Marshall, Katharine and Wallis, Peter, Wilkinson's Road Traffic Referencer 2ed, Sweet & Maxwell, PB, £55.00, ISBN: 9781847031150

Mason, J.K., Troubled Pregnancy: Legal Wrongs and Rights in Reproduction, Cambridge Univ Press, PB, £23.99, ISBN: 9780521616249

Mason looks at the legal response to those aspects of the troubled pregnancy which require or involve medico-legal intervention. The unwanted pregnancy is considered particularly in the light of the Abortion Act 1967, s.1(1)(d) and the related action for so-called wrongful birth due to faulty ante-natal care. The unexpected or uncovenanted birth of a healthy child resulting from failed sterilisation is approached through an analysis of the seminal case of McFarlane and associated cases involving disability in either the neonate or the mother. The disabled neonate's right to sue for its diminished life is discussed and the legal approach to the management of severe congenital disease is analysed - thus following Baroness Hale in believing that care of the newborn is an integral part of pregnancy. Aspects are considered from historical and comparative perspectives, including coverage of experience in the USA, the Commonwealth and Europe.

McAlhone, Christina and Huxley-Binns, Rebecca, Criminal Law: The Fundamentals, Sweet & Maxwell, PB, £22.95, ISBN: 9781847032171

McConville, Mike and Chui, Wing Hong, Research Methods for Law, Edinburgh University Press, PB, £19.99, ISBN: 9780748633586

The book is written by a team of contributors with a broad range of teaching and research experience in law, criminal justice and socio-legal studies. Designed to serve as a handbook for research methods courses with its coverage of the principal research traditions, the book will also appeal to students of related disciplines who have an interest in legal issues including those from criminology, sociology, psychology, government, politics and social administration. The rich mix of general lessons, theoretical engagement and practical examples will be of real value to students

McLachlan, Campbell; Shore, Laurence and Weiniger, Matthew, International Investment Arbitration: Substantive Principles, Oxford Univ Press, HB, £145.00, ISBN: 9780199286645

This book provides a detailed analytical survey of the developing substantive principles which are being applied to disputes by international investment tribunals. It considers the key questions that arise, and provides a clear description of the present state of the law as reflected in tribunal practice.

Mead, Philip, PIBA Personal Injuries Handbook 3ed (formerly Sweet & Maxwell), Jordans, PB, £90.00, ISBN: 9781846610547

This is a detailed and practical guide to the conduct of personal injury claims. Ideal for practising barristers, solicitors and legal executives it combines both know-how about the fundamentals of personal injury law with the latest thinking on new and developing areas from some of the leading practitioners in the field. It begins by dealing with the establishment of liability and goes on to look at how to construct a claim for damages and continues with an analysis of the applicable procedure as well as the law and practice relating to limitation, costs and funding.

Misheler, Eva, Property In Securities: A Comparative Study, Cambridge Univ Press, HB, £55.00, ISBN: 9780521832656

law of securities, addressing the rules governing transfers of securities, including unauthorised transfers, equities arising out of defective issues, and the holding of securities through intermediaries. The book presents an account of the current English, German and Austrian regimes. It has been written with a view to explaining the German and Austrian regime to readers with a common law background and to explaining the English regime to readers with a civil law background.

Monti, Giorgio, EC Competition Law (Law in Context), Cambridge Univ Press, PB, £35.00, ISBN: 9780521700757

The development of competition law in the EU can be explored through three interrelated perspectives: the extent to which controversies in economic thinking affect the design of the law; how changing political visions about the objectives of competition law have caused shifts in the interpretation of the rules; and the institution in charge of applying the rules. The economic and political debates on competition law show that it is a contested terrain, and the way courts and competition authorities apply the law reflects their responses to the objectives and economics of competition law. By characterising the application of competition law as a continuous response to policy and economic debates, the author casts fresh perspectives on the subject. Written with competition law students in mind, Monti sets out economic concepts in a non-technical manner and explores the policy dimension of competition law by referring to key cases and contemporary policy initiatives.

Muchlinski, Peter T., Multinational Enterprises and the Law 2ed, Oxford Univ Press, PB, £39.99, ISBN: 9780199227969

This represents the only comprehensive contemporary and interdisciplinary account of the various techniques used to regulate multinational enterprises (MNEs) at the national, regional and multilateral levels. In addition it considers the effects of corporate self-regulation upon the development of the legal order in this area.

Murray, Rachel, Role of National Human Rights

Institutions at the International and Regional Levels: The Experience of Africa, Hart Publishing, HB, £35.00, ISBN: 9781841133942

National Human Rights Institutions (NHRIs), defined by the UN as bodies established to promote and protect human rights, have increased in number since the General Assembly adopted principles governing their effectiveness in 1993. The UN and others have encouraged states to set up such institutions as an indication of their commitment to human rights, and now over 20 such institutions exist in Africa and many more will follow. This book examines these institutions in the African region, the way in which they use the international and regional fora, the effectiveness of their contributions and how they are able to participate.

O'Brien, Gary and Harnier, Charles, Electricity Wayleaves, Easements and Consents: Litigation, Practice & Procedure, Estates Gazette, PB, £19.99, ISBN: 9780728205055

The first book of its type, it brings together both legal and surveying experience, reviews all the relevant law and practice in one place, and provides key insight into: (i) Defining electricity Wayleave,

(ii) Handling the relevant statutory and Lands Tribunal procedures and (iii) Valuation of Wayleaves. Case studies are used to illustrate the relevant rules and legislation, allowing non-specialists to give a considered opinion to clients on action to take to avoid uncertainty for all involved.

Oliphant, Ken, Law of Tort 2ed (Butterworths Common Law Series), Lexis-Nexis UK, HB, £220.00, ISBN: 9781405712408
The law of tort occupies a central position in defining the legal obligations between individuals not to cause each other harm or injury. For academics it is a crucial area of study and for practitioners it is an essential area of knowledge. Now in its second edition, this book covers a wide range of issues, from the characteristics of tortious liability to the abuse of the legal process. Fully updated to incorporate all the changes since the previous edition, it provides an accessible, comprehensive and authoritative account of the law as it is and how it is likely to develop. An indispensable reference which will broaden the practitioner's understanding and knowledge of what is a fast-moving and complex area of law.

Richards, Paul, Law of Contract 8ed, Pearson, PB, £29.99, ISBN: 9781405846912

This provides a clear and engaging explanation of the main principles of contract law. This book guides students through each topic, explaining how the law currently operates but also considering debate on reform to provide an understanding of how the law may develop.

Smith, Marcus, Law of Assignment, Oxford Univ Press, HB, £135.00, ISBN: 9780199284368

This is a comprehensive analysis of the assignment of choses in action. The book begins with an analysis of the wide range of choses recognised by English law, and a consideration of their distinct features. It goes on, after a brief historical overview, to consider the various ways in which English law gives effect to assignments.

Smith, Roger, Introduction to Land Law, Pearson, PB, £19.99, ISBN: 9781405823685

This book presents a clear and accessible explanation of this often difficult to grasp subject. Its unique structure allows students to understand why land law is important and how the subject fits together, before introducing some of the critical issues that they will be expected to engage in throughout their study.

Spry, I.C.F., Principles of Equitable Remedies: Spe- cific Performance, Injunctions, Rectification and Equitable Damages, Sweet & Maxwell, HB, £144.00, ISBN: 9780455224411

This is commonly regarded as the most thorough and in-depth treatise on equitable remedies in the common law world today. Described by Sir Owen Dixon in its first edition as “the best legal book to have come out of Australia”, the seventh edition of Equitable Remedies continues to uphold its reputation as an up-to-date and reliable source of information with respect to injunctions, specific performance, rectification and equitable damages. The seventh edition has been updated by reference to such important recent decisions as those in the House of Lords in Actionstrength Ltd v International Glass Engineering; R (Rusbridger) v Attorney General; Cream Holdings Ltd v Banerjee; and Fourie v Le Roux and those of the High Court in ABC v Lenah Game Meats Pty Ltd and ABC v

Sturchler, Nikolas, Threat of Force in International Law, Cambridge Univ Press, HB, £55.00, ISBN: 9870521873888

Threats of force are a common feature of international politics, advocated by some as an economical guarantee against the outbreak of war and condemned by others as a recipe for war. Article 2(4) of the United Nations Charter forbids states to use threats of force, yet the meaning of the prohibition is unclear. This book provides the first comprehensive appraisal of the no-threat principle: its origin, underlying rationale, theoretical implications, relevant jurisprudence, and how it has withstood the test of time from 1945 to the present. Based on a systematic evaluation of state and United Nations practices, the book identifies what constitutes a threat of force and when its use is justified under the United Nations Charter. In so doing, it relates the no-threat principle to important concepts of the twentieth century, such as deterrence, escalation, crisis management, and what has been aptly described as the ‘diplomacy of violence’.

Tapper, Colin, Cross and Tapper on Evidence 11ed, Oxford Univ Press, PB, £34.99, ISBN: 9780199292004
The eleventh edition of the renowned Cross and Tapper on Evidence provides detailed coverage of a fast moving and important subject. It carefully considers the full implications of the Criminal Justice Act 2003, with a particular focus on the interpretation, by the courts, of the radical changes to the law relating to the admissibility of evidence of the bad character of the accused, and of hearsay. The ways in which the jurisprudence of the European Court of Human Rights continues to penetrate English law are also fully evaluated. On the civil side, this new edition reflects on recent decisions in the area of private privilege, especially in relation to legal professional privilege. In addition, it considers and evaluates the principal changes proposed by various law reform bodies and lobbying groups.

Thomas, Katherine Reece and Ryan, Chris, Law and Practice of Shareholders' Agreements 2ed (inc CD), LexisNexis

UK, HB, £136.25, ISBN: 9781405717199

Now in its second edition, this popular, fully-updated title explains the law on shareholders' agreements in a clear and comprehensible style. It guides the reader through a typical transaction, highlighting the commercial issues facing the client and ultimately the solicitor as draftsman. The book examines how a shareholders' agreement can be unravelled in the event of insolvency or other reason for termination. The CD-ROM includes all the precedents, which have been developed and updated by David Baylis of Norton Rose. The book has been updated to reflect changes in insolvency practice and to the law post-Enterprise Act 2002, and also highlights the reforms to be made by the Companies Act 2006. It is therefore the most up to date book available on the subject.

Thorpe, Rt Hon Lord Justice and Trowell, J, Re-Rooted Lives, Jordans, PB, £29.00, ISBN: 9781846610479

This book marks the tenth anniversary of the publication of Rooted Sorrows, the first volume in the series of collected papers from the interdisciplinary Dartington Conferences, which introduced the family judiciary to the important role of child psychology and psychoanalysis in the outcome of child protection cases. A decade on, the diverse professions working in the family justice system continue to share the common goal of preventing or ameliorating the effects of ‘rooted sorrows’, despite the inevitable tension between the aspiration to ‘re-root lives’ and the difficulty of providing that ideal in many individual cases.

E. and Armer, L., Jurisprudence: Themes and Concepts, Cambridge Univ Press, PB, £23.99, ISBN: 9781859418154

Innovative in its approach to the study of jurisprudence, this book draws together a range of specialists, making original contributions, and provides a summary, analysis and critique of the basic themes in, and major contributions to, the study of jurisprudence. Taking an interdisciplinary angle, it explores the links between jurisprudence and contemporary issues in political and social theory, such as the changing role of the state, forms of dispute resolution and the courts as well as addressing topics that are usually left untouched, like globalization and legal culture. Avoiding the tendency to become overly inward-looking, it integrates jurisprudence more broadly into legal study.

Voon, Tania, Cultural Products and the World Trade Organization, Cambridge Univ Press, HB, £60.00, ISBN: 9780521873277

Debate about trade and culture has a long history, but the application of WTO rules to cultural products such as films, radio and books remains one of the most divisive issues in the organisation. After assessing the economic and social arguments for treating cultural products differently from things like steel or wheat, this book explains how the vastly different views of WTO Members in earlier negotiations led to an outcome that is disappointing for all. It goes on to provide a comprehensive evaluation of possible solutions, including evolution of the law through WTO dispute settlement, a new agreement outside the WTO, and reforms to improve the balance between trade liberalisation and cultural policy objectives.

Welsh, Tom; Greenwood, Walter and Banks, David, McNae's Essential Law for Journalists 19ed, Oxford Univ Press, PB, £18.99, ISBN: 9780199211548

An up-to-date text on media law for both practising journalists and students, McNae's explains in a clear, engaging style the effects of the law and the Press Complaints Commission Code of Conduct on newsgathering and publication. Updated to include the effects of the Serious Organised Crime and Police Act 2005, the Freedom of Information Act 2000, the Courts Act 2003, and a brand new chapter on law for photographers, the 18th edition of McNae's is the definitive guide to developments in the law as they affect journalists.

Wessels, Bob, Cross-Border Insolvency Law: International Instruments and Commentary, Kluwer Law Int'l, HB, £143.00, ISBN: 9789041125262

This very useful volume collects, for the first time in one source, all important international and regional legal instruments relating to insolvency of companies, financial institutions, and consumers, as well as to corporate rescue law. The book includes international and regional conventions, model laws, EC directives and regulations, uniform rules and guiding principles produced by various international bodies (such as the World Bank, the United Nations Committee on International Trade Law, the American Law Institute, and INSOL International), and international and European restatements of insolvency law by scholars.

Whalley, Michael and Semler, Franz-Jorg, International Business Acquisitions: Major Legal Issues and Due Diligence,

3rd ed, Kluwer Law Int'l, HB, £115.00, ISBN: 9789041124838

As an easily-accessed desk reference for lawyers, business executives and others concerned with the acquisition of the securities or business assets of a company located outside their own national jurisdiction, this third edition has no peers. It is also directly relevant to those representing the sellers in such transactions, as they must anticipate and prepare for the foreign buyer's requirements and concerns.

Zucca, Lorenzi, Constitutional Dilemmas: Conflicts of Fundamental Rights in Europe and the USA, Oxford Univ Press, HB, £50.00, ISBN: 9780199204977

This book deals with one of the most important issues of philosophy of law and constitutional thought: how to understand clashes of fundamental rights, such as the conflict between free speech and privacy. The main argument of this book is that much can be learned about the nature of fundamental legal rights by examining them through the lens of conflicts among such rights, and criticizing the views of scholars and jurists who have discussed both fundamental legal rights and the nature of conflicts among them.

Going Nuts in Brazil

The 2007 Cares 4 Kids Cycle Challenge

Well I know I said that the Challenge in Egypt last year would be my final one, but when our intrepid team leader Midge Story announced that she was to retire this year, many of our group decided to give it one final go!

We are set to ride 500km in 5 days beside the shores of the Atlantic Coast finally arriving in Rio. It looks like it might be a tough one this year as the terrain will be rough with many 'undulations' and the roads and trails poorly surfaced. However the Openwork foundation (part of the Zurich Community Trust) raises hundreds of thousands of pounds each year for disadvantaged children both in the UK and around the world and I am proud to play my small part in this.

Within these pages you will see that there are already kind sponsors who have offered to help. If you or your organisation would like to sponsor my fund raising campaign by way of advertising in our Wildy's Book News then please do contact me in the usual way or email 'john.sinkins@wildy.com'. If you would care to read how we all got on in Egypt last year then go to our website www.wildy.com and click on the Cares 4 Kids – Egypt 2006 button. It would be wonderful if this year could be the best fund raising ever and I thank you all in advance.

Zurich's Community Trust is a registered charity funded by pre-tax profits and donations from its people. It provides an umbrella for Zurich's community involvement across the UK and supports disadvantaged people achieve a more independent future for themselves. Our focus is in local communities, on issues that are often overlooked and where we can make the greatest impact. Charity Registration No 266983

Just Published £45

Edited by Angela Holdsworth

Hardback 192pp

Lincoln's Inn is both a remarkable community of lawyers that has thrived for six hundred years and one of the most unspoilt corners of central London. This book offers a widely drawn picture of the Inn which will have an immediate appeal for members, inform the visitor and give a broader readership an insight into an institution and a place with an unusually rich history.

The fine diversity of the architecture, the Inn's significant connections beyond the law with literature, politics and religion, and collegiate life in all its variety are prominent themes. Some less creditable episodes have not been suppressed; and trouble has been taken to explore the unusual, making extensive use of little-seen material from the archives. The Inn's famous figures and place in English legal history are put into fresh perspective, while alumni from overseas, an important facet of the membership both in the past and today, feature in a chapter of their own.

Over 200 striking illustrations enhance the informative and lively text, written by expert and enthusiastic contributors, the majority members of the Inn.

Wildy's return to St. Lucia & St. Vincent

St. Lucia was once again the host of the Caribbean Association of Law Librarians conference as it once was on my very first trip to the Association back in 1999!

It was nice to catch up with familiar faces like Michelle Anthony and Jennifer Remy, whom I have known many years, as well as meeting a number of newer faces at the conference like Anselma Mohammed who has taken over from Leonie Asgaralie. Leonie is now retired but still a frequent visitor and founder member. Also there was Thomas Borkowski from Harney Westwood & Riegels, new assistant to Peter Moll, who is another member of CAR-ALL and frequent contributor to CARALL-talk.

In St. Vincent, once again I must say a special thanks to Nicole Sylvester of Sylvester & Co, for helping me not only to secure the Parliament building again for the book display but also for helping me with my accomodation and clearing the books through Customs. Nicole is President of the St. Vincent Bar Association and also President of the OECS, who are having their own book fair in Grenada this year in September.

Thanks also are due to Parnell Campbell, another long time friend, who has assisted so much in the rebuilding of their libraries in St. Vincent with the help of our readers and their unwanted sets of books,

JULY - A VERY DAMP MONTH!

THE 11TH ANNUAL LONDON BIKEATHON to raise money for Leukaemia research took place on Sunday 15th of July. Retired Law Librarian and keen cyclist Don Raistrick organised a team and christened it 'Team Total Revolutions' !

There were 16 people in our team which comprised of people from Wildy's, Lexis Nexis Butterworths, two law librarians and other friends and family.

Four were experienced riders but most of the others just turned up with their bikes to ride the 26 miles from the Royal Chelsea Hospital to the Thames Barrier and back. More than 5,000 riders took part in the event and we all had a fantastic time. The weather held and we made it back to the finishing line where we were all presented with a medal of achievement.

After which the heavens opened and we were 'forced' to seek refuge in the beer tent! At the time of writing our team has raised over £3,000 for charity and we are all very grateful to our sponsors. I think special mention should be given to two members of our team. Jenny Withnall (Osborne Clarke) turned up not having ridden a bike for ten years - great respect to her and Graham Norfolk (Wildy's) who decided to cycle a further 30 miles home.

So now we know who put the 'dork' in Dorking!

IMPORTANT FORTHCOMING PUBLICATIONS

Sale and Supply of Goods and Services

by Richard Christou
Sweet & Maxwell, Hardcover + CD, ISBN 9780421913509, £147.54, due October 2007
Intended as a practical guide for the non-contentious commercial lawyer, this book provides a 'cradle to grave' view of transactions relating to the supply of goods and services. It includes comprehensive coverage of business to business and business to consumer transactions, as well as transactions between private individuals. The core of the book deals with pre-contractual issues and considers the formation of the relevant contracts, before moving on to the discharge of contractual obligations. It examines remedies for defective performance and considers the alternative routes for settling disputes. The author provides highly practical, non-academic coverage for day-to-day use in commercial practice. Includes a CD-ROM containing a suite of complete precedents to ensure rapid, accurate drafting.

Scammell & Densham's Law of Agricultural Holdings 9th edition

LexisNexis Butterworths, Hardback, ISBN 9781405717977, £195.00, due September 2007

The ninth edition of this definitive text provides practical analysis of the law of agricultural holdings in an authoritative and accessible manner. It contains a fully updated commentary on the Agricultural Tenancies Act 1995, taking into account all the changes since the previous edition. It also contains the full text of all relevant statutes and statutory instruments, as well as forms and precedents for both types of tenancy. There is also a section highlighting the Mid Term Review of the Common Agricultural Policy. Written by leading practitioners, in a convenient bound format, it is an indispensable reference to the law which will be helpful to lawyers, land agents and surveyors practising in this area.

Restrictive Covenants under Common and Competition Law, 5th edition

by Alexandra Kamerling and Christopher Osman

Sweet & Maxwell, Hardcover + CD, ISBN 9781847030269, £178.06, due September 2007

This book covers the common and competition law implications for restrictive covenants. There's plenty of expert advice on drafting, enforcing and disputing employment and business contracts. Clear guidance on the key principles helps you to consider the validity of typical restrictive covenants, both from a common law perspective under the restraint of trade doctrine, but also under UK and EU competition law, so you can determine which of these principles apply. The book offers guidance for commercial transactions involving: business secrets; partnerships; employer and employees; joint ventures; business sales and exclusive agreements. It covers the restraint of trade and business secret issues as they affect a wide range of commercial contracts including distribution, agency agreements, licenses and tying agreements. The commentary and interpretation provided will help you to ensure that you know how to apply competition law and how to carry out the necessary assessment to determine the validity of typical commercial restrictions. The new edition features relevant precedents of restrictive covenant clauses in commercial agreements and employment contracts so these can be used when drafting covenants. The precedents and case reference guide ready-reckoners feature on a CD-ROM for ease of access, use and searching. New checklists include comparisons between the Restraint of Trade Doctrine and Competition Law; assessment of Business Restrictive Covenants; and practical considerations relevant to the incorporate of restrictive covenants in employment contracts.

Money Laundering Compliance 2nd edition

by Tim Bennett

Tottel Publishing, Softcover, ISBN 9781847660527, £68.00, due September 2007

Money laundering is one of the most potentially fraught areas for trustees, practitioners and their professional advisors. This new edition crucially examines changes in the UK regime with a particular emphasis on the role, liabilities and obligations of trustees within it. Featuring an examination of the range of offences and the application of AML principles in a number of relevant jurisdictions, Money Laundering Compliance discusses key practical issues such as Know your Client, reporting procedures, the conflict between tipping-off and disclosure, and advises practitioners who find themselves involved with trusts under investigation. This new second edition has been fully revised to take account of the EU Directive on Money Laundering which comes into force in Dec 2007.

Fundamentals of Patent Law: Interpretation and Scope of Protection

By Matt Fisher

Hart Publishing, Hardcover, ISBN 9781841136929, £65.00, due September 2007

This new book provides a comprehensive overview of the topic of patent claim interpretation in the UK and in three other select jurisdictions. It explores territory that has great commercial significance and yet is severely under-explored in existing works. The twin issues of the function of patent law and interpretational analysis of the scope of protection have been recently reconsidered by the House of Lords, and this work not only reviews their recent cases but also looks at how the US, German and Japanese patent systems deal with the complex problems presented in this area. The book provides a balanced approach between practical, academic and theoretical approaches to claim interpretation. In doing so it provides more than a simple case analysis, as it enables the reader to consider the shape that the law should take rather than simply recounting the current position. Its novelty therefore lies in bringing the theoretical elements of the discussion together with the view of the profession charged with creating the patent documentation in the first place and then viewing this in the light of the detailed comparative studies. It is only by considering all of these elements that we begin to see a pathway for the development of the law in this area. This is a work that will be an important source of reference for academics and practitioners working in the field of patent law.

International Sale of Goods: Law and Practice 2nd edition

By Michael Bridge

Oxford University Press, Hardcover, ISBN 9780199273584, £165.00, due August 2007

This book deals with international sales of goods and covers contracts governed by English law and contracts governed by the United Nations Convention on the International Sale of Goods. It deals with contract issues as well as with property matters and most notably addresses those issues arising out of the use of documents of title, such as marine bills of lading. In addition to the rights and duties of seller and buyer, there is substantial material on bankers' documentary letters of credit. The book not only includes commentary on decided cases, but also with standard form contracts which represent evolving trade practice. It aims to be an authoritative work and to offer a thorough and detailed analysis of extensive case law. The text also aims to give the reader a contextual understanding of the trading world in which international sales occur. New to this edition is commentary on the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999 as well as discussions on conflict of laws, the construction of commercial contracts and electronic documentation. The documentary letters of credit and the UN Convention on the International Sale of Goods are given extensive treatment in this edition.

International Domain Name Law

By David Lindsay
Hart Publishing, Hardcover, ISBN 9781841135847, £95.00, due September 2007

The Domain Name System (DNS), which matches computer addresses to human-friendly domain names, has given rise to many legal issues. Two important issues are the institutional arrangements for governing the DNS and the use of trade marks as domain names. This book is the first complete statement of this rapidly-evolving area of the law. In particular, the book includes a comprehensive statement of decisions under the Uniform Domain Name Dispute Resolution Policy (UDRP), the international system for resolving disputes between trade mark owners and domain name registrants. In this path-breaking work the author examines the extent to which principles of national trade mark law have been used in UDRP decisions. It will be essential reading for anyone, whether academic or practitioner, interested in internet law, intellectual property, and e-commerce law.

Whillans Worldwide Tax Guide

By PKF International
LexisNexis Butterworths, Softcover, ISBN 9781405726542, £125.00, due September 2007

Whillans Worldwide Tax Guide provides an essential first point of reference for UK tax practitioners who are advising corporate or personal clients on their overseas tax position. Written from a UK perspective, using a clear, consistent, easy-to-use format, the book highlights the practical issues and pitfalls for each country, as well as providing checklists of notable differences to the UK tax system.

The book devotes approximately 6-8 pages per country, and covers both corporate and personal taxes for countries in Europe, the US and other major trading nations. Information will be structured under the following headings: Taxes Payable, Determination of Taxable Income, Foreign tax relief, Corporate Groups, Related Party Transactions, Withholding Taxes, Exchange Controls, Personal Tax, Treaty and non-Treaty withholding Tax rates.

Conflict of Laws within the UK

By Kirsty J Hood
Oxford University Press, Hardcover, ISBN 9780199202454, £75.00, due September 2007

This is the first major treatment of the conflict of laws within the UK, a subject often dealt with only incidentally in the main texts on private international law. In particular, the book examines the effect of the UK's changing constitutional arrangements on questions of jurisdiction, choice of law and issues of recognition and enforcement which arise within the UK. The book offers practical guidance on the applicable rules in intra-UK conflicts situations with sections devoted to forum shopping within the UK, and other procedural matters. A chapter is also included on the impact of EU legislation on intra-UK conflicts, concluding with a discussion on how "Europeanization" might affect the conflict of laws in the UK. There is also coverage of how public policy functions in the conflict of laws. The book's approach to the treatment of intra-UK conflicts is enhanced by a comparative analysis of the recent response of Canada and Australia to, respectively, interprovincial and interstate conflicts.

Partnership Law 3rd edition

by Mark Blackett-Ord
Tottel Publishing, Hardcover, ISBN 9781847660619, £245.00, due September 2007

Formerly known as Partnership - The Modern Law of Partnership and Limited Liability Partnership, this authoritative text deals with the modern practical issues inherent in setting up, running and dissolving a partnership and provides the specialist practitioner with a definitive statement of the law using modern terminology relevant to current business practice. The new edition of this well-regarded book has been fully updated to cover all relevant case law, changes to principal subordinate legislation and new Rules of Court.

The Arbitration Act 1996: A Commentary 4th edition

By Bruce Harris, Rowan Planterose and Jonathan Tecks
Blackwell Publishing, Softcover, ISBN 140513996X, £67.50, due August 2007

This highly regarded book provides a section by section commentary on the Arbitration Act 1996. In so doing, it also provides a guide to good arbitration practice. The new edition surveys 10 years' experience of arbitration since the Act introduced radical changes, and it takes account of substantial case law decided since the last edition, including a number of unreported cases. The book is published in conjunction with the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators.

The Regulation of Sport in the European Union

Edited by Edited by Barbara Bogusz, Adam Cygan and Erika Szyszczak
Edward Elgar, Hardcover, ISBN 9781847203632, £65.00, due September 2007

The purpose of this book is to examine, from an EU perspective, the numerous developments which have taken place in the regulation of sporting activity in the last decade. In addressing these developments, the book adopts an inter-disciplinary approach, involving law, economics and sociology. The chapters place the regulation of sport in the context of the EU regulatory structure which hitherto has emerged in a piece-meal fashion and thus warrants a more holistic approach. The chapters bring together several key themes which arise from the question of whether sport is special. This addresses a growing argument that sporting activity displays unique properties which require a distinct form of regulation which existing competition or free movement rules cannot provide. The book is divided in to three parts which reflect the current policy, legislative and judicial discourses that exists in the regulation of sport. The Regulation of Sport in the European Union provides both an academic and practical review of EU law and policy as applied to sport, and as such, this comprehensive overview will be of great interest to EU law academics, economists and political scientists. It will also appeal to legal practitioners and to those with an interest in regulatory processes in the EU.

True Tales of Trying Times

True Tales of Trying Times
Legal Fables for Today
Bob Rains

ISBN: 9781898029908
Hardback £12.50

Professor Rains provides a humorous collection of modern-day fables based on actual law cases. These tales are for everyone: not just lawyers, but people too. The fables and their accompanying morals offer us ironic views of the illusive quest for justice in the American legal system.

As noted by Justice Eakin in his Foreword, these stories all have value, if only as examples of what not to do. The professor's reporting makes them come alive, giving us a collection reflecting the wide range of predicaments created by the human species and other nonrational creatures. We throw our self-made problems into the judicial cauldron, which often just mixes them up and throws them right back at us.

These follies of the legal system, and of those who use and abuse it, are cleverly illustrated by the charming drawings of the creative team of E.A. Jacobsen.

FORENSIC FABLES BY 'O'
Theo Mathew

ISBN: 9781898029878

Hardback

£19.95

Forensic Fables appeared first in the Law Journal and then in book form between 1926 and 1932. They were published anonymously, but their authorship was quickly guessed. The literary style and the pictorial delineation were alike unmistakable. They were the work of Theo Mathew composed in his study on the ground floor at the back of 31 Cornwall Gardens. They show his wit in all its maturity.

This new reprint also contains Hubert Picarda's biographical article on Theo Mathew: 'Stick to a Stuff-Gown'

DEATH OF A CIRCUIT
Being some account of The Oxford Circuit and how it was abolished

Graeme Williams

ISBN: 9781898029861

Hardback 124pp

Assizes, Quarter Sessions and the Oxford Circuit. Most barristers (and even some solicitors) practising in criminal work will probably have heard, however faintly, of the first two, without knowing what they were. But the Oxford Circuit has almost completely disappeared from the profession's memory. Yet all three were ancient and venerable parts of the (mainly criminal) justice system, and were in full force and operation until 1st January 1972, only half a modern lifetime ago. This book attempts to describe the pre-1972 system, and in particular the closing years of the Oxford Circuit's independent existence, its peremptory abolition and some of the Circuit characters, in what was a more colourful era than the present.

The author was in practice on the London end of the Oxford Circuit from 1960 onwards. He has been married for more than forty years to Anna Worrall QC, a Northern Circuiter and Middle Temple Bencher. They live in Camden Town and Suffolk.

CHINA'S PSYCHIATRIC INQUISITION
Dissent, Psychiatry and the Law in Post-1949 China

Robin Munro

ISBN: 1898029857
Hardback 390pp
£65

This study examines the misuse of forensic psychiatry custody in China since the late 1950s as an adjunct means – alongside the legal authorities' more frequent use of arrest, trial and imprisonment – of punishing and silencing political dissidents, spiritual nonconformists, whistleblowers and other critics of official corruption or malfeasance. The principal questions addressed in the book are: how common have such practices been in China during the successive main periods in the country's post-1949 history; how have these repressive practices been theorized and handled under the country's evolving criminal justice system; and why have the security authorities resorted to this, at first sight, uncharacteristically sophisticated form of state repression? On the basis of extensive archival research into several decades of China's legal and psychiatric literature, the study concludes that the use of psychiatric custody against dissidents and other similar groups has been more widespread in China than it was in the former Soviet Union.

CHANCEL REPAIR LIABILITY
How to Research It
Revised ed

Derriman, James

ISBN: 1898029849

Hardback

£19.95

The owner of any property, however small, in England or Wales, can be liable in certain circumstances to pay for repairs to the chancel of a medieval parish church in his locality. Until a recent case decided in the House of Lords led to a farmer and his wife being called on to pay a £95,000 bill, many property owners, conveyancers and parochial church councils had ignored this apparently remote corner of the law. Now, especially as a result of the Land Registration Act 2002, chancel repair liability has become a live issue.

The need for searches to establish whether any particular land may be affected is increasingly recognised. This book — the first of its kind — provides practical information on how to make these searches. It does not set out to be a legal textbook, but to enable lawyers, laymen and churchmen to understand the background and sources of information available so that they can discover so far as is possible when, and to what extent, liability may exist.

A Foreword by Dr R. Sturt, Diocesan Registrar of Canterbury, endorses its value not only for people who plan to do their own research, but as a mine of information for professionals, parochial church councils and amateur historians

FROM TRUST TO TAKEOVER
Butterworths 1938-1967
A Publishing House in Transition

Gordon Graham

ISBN: 1898029814
Hardback 102pp
£12.95

Stanley Bond, a largely unrecognized publishing genius, instructed in his will that his two infant sons should inherit the company when they attained the age of twenty-five. Until then, the company should be run by a Trust, which he set up, most of the income from which would go to his widow. The sons never got their inheritance. The company was sold twenty-four years after Bond's death. How this came about is a story of intrigue and power plays, in researching which the author had access to confidential archives and was able to interview witnesses of the drama. The result is a tale that throws light on the mores of privately-run companies sliding unwillingly into the era of corporate ownership.

Gordon Graham was Chairman and Chief Executive of Butterworths from 1975 to 1990. Prior to that he had been Managing Director of McGraw-Hill's British subsidiary and International Sales Manager of the McGraw-Hill Book Company, New York.

THE JOURNAL OF COMPARATIVE LAW

Edited by Nicholas Foster & Camilla Baasch Andersen

ISSN 1477-0814

2 issues per annum

Subscription Rates: £95 Institutions and £45 Individuals

We have pleasure in announcing publication of The Journal of Comparative Law. The journal provides a forum for comparative law scholarship and analysis. It will be an invaluable tool for practitioners and scholars working across international borders and with harmonised law. The journal, which is refereed, publishes materials on all aspects of comparative law, covering all geographical areas, and encourages analytical work with a contextual, theoretical and interdisciplinary approach. Due weight is accorded to practical aspects. The journal should appeal to a wide range of readers, including academics, students and international practitioners. Significant features include the publication of assessments and translations of important documents and comparative law bibliographies, as well as reviews of current and classic treatises and texts.
