MAJOR NEW TITLES THIS MONTH

Bare, Martin; Copnall, Richard and Thorp, Simon, APIL Model Pleadings and Applications, Jordans, PB, £65.00, ISBN: 9780853089490

This new guide provides all claimant PI Lawyers with a comprehensive, time-saving collection of pleadings and applications for court orders. An exhaustive set of over 50 claimant pleadings in different areas of personal injury law is supplied, together with a selection of model applications, designed to meet your needs at every stage of an action.

Beale, Hugh et al, Law of Personal Property Security, Oxford Univ Press, HB, £195.00, ISBN: 9780199283293

This exciting new book provides an authoritative text on the complex law concerning personal property security and the registration of company charges. Personal property security is an important subject in commercial practice, as it is the key to much of the law of banking and sale. This new work explains traditional methods of securing debts (such as mortgages, charges and pledges) on property other than land, describing how these are created, when they must be registered (or otherwise 'perfected') if they are to be valid, the rights and duties of the parties and how the security is enforced if the debt is not paid.

Berry, Elspeth and Hargreaves, Sylvia, European Union Law Textbook 2ed, Oxford Univ Press, PB, £26.99, ISBN: 9780199282449

A highly accessible account of European Union law. The clear and concise commentary and explanations are complemented by summaries of key cases to illustrate the points of law. With a strong focus on active learning techniques, the book promotes an understanding of, and engagement with, the key issues through the use of chapter introductions, self-assessment questions, exercises, and summaries. Together with a glossary of key terms, these features help to guide and support students, making this an ideal choice for those studying introductory EU modules.

Bohm, Peter, Business Law - A Guide for Entrepreneurs, Jordans, PB, £29.99, ISBN: 9781846610370

There are over 3.5 million small and medium enterprises in the UK which employ up to 50 people, including limited companies and partnerships. With a strong economy and local and government initiatives promoting enterprise (in both the social and not for profit sectors), many businesses are in a position of growth. The legal and regulatory environment relating to small businesses is complex and as a business grows the owner or manager needs to consider the implications in areas such as employment law, health and safety, commercial property and finance. Technology and modern trading practices also raise a wide range of legal issues, including online agreements, security and the protection of IP.

Bowers, John, Blackstone's Employment Law Practice 2007, Oxford Univ Press, PB, £65.00, ISBN: 9780199216734

Blackstone's Employment Law Practice 2007 is a tailor-made reference for practitioners advising and representing parties in employment litigation in the employment tribunal or civil courts. Completely self-contained, the book draws together into one portable single volume the relevant legislation, procedural rules, Codes of Practice, and Practice Directions, and offers authoritative in-depth analysis from a team of highly respected practitioners.

Bridgeman, Jo, Parental Responsibility, Young Children and Healthcare Law, Cambridge Univ Press, HB, £50.00, ISBN: 9780521863124

This book provides a comprehensive examination of the legal regulation of the provision of healthcare to young children in England and Wales. A critical analysis is given on the law governing the provision of healthcare to young and dependent children identifying an understanding of the child as vulnerable and in need of protection, including from his or her own parents.

Bruce, Martha, ICSA Legal Letters and Agreements, ICSA Publishing, PB, £65.00, ISBN: 9781860722585

Covering a wide range of commercial and corporate transactions such as business acquisition, shareholder agreements and appointments to the board, “ICSA Legal Letters and Agreements” provides reliable solutions without the need for external legal advice. Whether you are looking for an executive director’s service contract, a dividend warrant, sample employment policy or any other company secretarial or legal topic, you will be certain to find it among the 150 ready-made documents contained in this book.

Brudner, Alan, Constitutional Goods, Oxford Univ Press, PB, £24.99, ISBN: 9780199225798

This book presents an original theory of constitutional liberalism, as reconciling the commitment to individual liberty and the cultivation of a personality whose ends are the goods essential to human dignity. It provides legal positions on such controversial issues as reverse discrimination, hate speech and pornography, physician-assisted suicide, same-sex marriage, early stage abortion, and the duty to accommodate cultural practices discordant with liberalism. The book includes a rich comparative analysis that draws widely from the constitutional law of several liberal democracies, including the United Kingdom, the United States,

Canada, Germany, South Africa, and India

Bundock, Michael, Shipping Law Handbook 4ed, Informa Publishing, PB, £220.00, ISBN: 9781843116363

The fourth edition has been fully updated to cover all of the LMAA, LLMC, ST-PIA, TOPIA, BOXTIME and Shelltime acts / protocols and is essential for shipping lawyers, arbitrators, P&I Clubs and their correspondents, shipowners, ship managers, agents and brokers. Anyone involved in shipping will wish to keep this reference conveniently to hand.

Camp, Peter, Solicitors and Money Laundering 2ed, Law Society, PB, £54.95, ISBN: 9781853285936

This fully revised and updated new edition of the bestselling guide to money laundering compliance takes into account important recent developments in legislation and case law. The practical text provides detailed commentary on the amendments made to the primary legislation, the Proceeds of Crime Act 2002, that have come into effect during 2005 and 2006.

Chappell, David, Understanding the JCT Standard Building Contracts 8ed, Taylor and Francis, PB, £18.99, ISBN: 9780415413855

Chidell, Ray and Dencher, Stan, Company Cars: Practical Tax Planning, CCH, PB, £65.00, ISBN: 9781841409054

This is a clear and detailed guide to the current tax regime and provides a useful, time saving resource when dealing with tax rules in relation to company cars, privately owned cars, vans and various other vehicles. The new 2007 edition provides practical guidance on planning issues, potential pitfalls and recent developments and proposals.

Correa, Carols C., Trade Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights: A Commentary on the TRIPS Agreement, Oxford Univ Press, HB, £95.00, ISBN:

Drewry, Gavin; Bom-Cooper, Louis and Blake, Charles, Court of Appeal, Hart Publishing, HB, £30.00, ISBN: 9781841133874

This book looks at the recent history and the present-day operation of the civil division of the Court of Appeal - a court that, despite its pivotal position, has attracted surprisingly little scholarly attention. It examines the impact of the permission to appeal requirements, and the way in which applications - particularly those by litigants in person - are handled; it looks at the working methods of the Lords Justices and at the leadership of the Court by recent Masters of the Rolls; it considers the relationship between the Court and the House of Lords - looking at high-profile cases in which the Court has been reversed by the Lords.

Elhauge, Einer and Geradin, Damien, Global Competition Law and Economics, Hart Publishing, PB, £35.00, ISBN: 9781841134659

This new casebook represents the first comprehensive effort to examine US and EC competition law cases and decisions within a common analytical framework strongly based on economic theory. It is an innovative casebook addressed to all students, not only from the US and Europe, but also from all jurisdictions having competition laws, providing an in-depth analysis of the two major global antitrust regimes in the world, and a summary of parallel antitrust laws elsewhere in the world. As such it will also serve as a useful reference for practitioners, competition officials, and policy-makers interested in competition law.

Elliott, Catherine and Quinn, Frances, Contract Law 6ed, Pearson, PB, £21.99, ISBN: 9781405846714

This book helps students grasp the main principles quickly but also to enjoy seeing how the law works in practice. It also considers the forces affecting contract law in the modern world, such as the increase of e-commerce and the growing impact of Europe, and how the law may need to reform to meet modern needs.

Elliott, Catherine and Quinn, Frances, English Legal System 8ed 2007/08, Pearson, PB, £27.99, ISBN: 9781405847339

This best selling book on the English legal system is a trusted and authoritative introduction to the legal system of England and Wales, used and appreciated by many students. It provides a lively and comprehensive guide to this ever-changing area, offering critical analysis of the existing laws and discussion of reform options, necessary for a good appreciation of the subject. Annual editions ensure that the book keeps students as up to date as possible with the rapid pace of developments in the legal system of England and Wales.

Felemeegas, John, International Approach to the Interpretation of the United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods (1980) as Uniform Sales Law, Cambridge Univ Press, HB, £55.00, ISBN: 9780521868723

In 1980, the United Nations Convention for the International Sale of Goods (CISG) came into being as an attempt to create a uniform commercial sales law. This book compares two major restatements - the UNIDROIT Principles and the Principles of European Contract Law (PECL) - with CISG articles. This work has gathered scholars and legal practitioners from twenty countries who contribute analysis on the various issues covered in the articles of the CISG comparing them with how the issue is treated in the UNIDROIT and PECL restatements. The introductory section of the book addresses theoretical and practical issues of the appropriate interpretive methodology as mandated in CISG Article 7 and it is followed by individual analyses of the Convention's provisions.

Fitzpatrick, Pamela; Ripley, Fiona and Singh, Anne, Migration and Social Security Handbook: A Rights Guide for People Entering and Leaving the UK 4ed, Child Poverty Action Group, PB, £21.00, ISBN: 9781901698770

This book gives practical, comprehensive guidance on social security entitlement for anyone who has come to or is leaving the UK. It is unique in bridging the gap between benefits and immigration advice. There is particular emphasis on the provisions most likely to affect claimants from minority ethnic groups.

Freedman, Phillip; Shapiro, Eric and Slater, Brian, Service Charges: Law and Practice 4ed, Jordans, PB, £45.00, ISBN: 9781846610417

This new edition provides detailed coverage of the latest regulations under the Commonhold and Leasehold Reform Act 2002 and those relating to works involving asbestos, disability, fire precautions and other statutory matters, as well as incorporating other new developments and recent case law on such topics as reasonableness, repairs and renewals, insurance premiums, management fees and VAT. It includes detailed references to the new RICS Code of Practice for Service Charges in Commercial Property as well as advice on community assessments under the new commonhold regime. The concise and easily understood commentary is supported by specimen service charge clauses, model accounts, notices and certificates making this book an invaluable and immensely practical guide to this difficult subject.

Furmston, Michael, Law of Contract 3ed (Butterworths Common Law Series), LexisNexis UK, HB, £220.00, ISBN: 9781405712415

The third edition of this comprehensive work brings the coverage up-to-date with all key developments and relevant changes since 2003. Providing a comprehensive and authoritative treatment of all aspects of the law of contract, it differs to other texts on the topic by offering a fresh, new approach to the area. The book also provides an analysis of current issues and highlights possible future developments in the law. Accessible and authoritative, it is designed specifically to meet the needs of the modern practitioner.

Gillespie, Alisdair, English Legal System, Oxford Univ Press, PB, £26.99, ISBN: 9780199281343

This book provides a lively and approachable introduction for those new to the study of law. The textbook presents the main areas of the English legal system and invites students to critique the wider aspects of how law is made and reformed. Clearly structured in four parts, and designed to reflect the content of legal system courses, the book provides thorough and informative coverage of all main topics. These include sources of law, the legal profession, human rights, civil disputes, the criminal courts, litigation, and tribunals.

Goodwin-Gill, Guy and McAdam, Jane, Refugee in International Law 3ed, Oxford Univ Press, PB, £39.95, ISBN: 9780199207633

This book, the leading text in a field where refugee law is now a subject of global importance, examines key challenges to system of international protection, including those arising from within the asylum process, increased controls over the movements of people, and the 'new' concern with security.

Grant Thornton UK LLP, New Construction Industry Scheme, CCH, PB, £75.00, ISBN: 9781841409061

Grant, David and Mason, Stephen, Holiday Law 4ed, Sweet & Maxwell, PB, £31.95, ISBN: 9780421959903

This book provides a comprehensive guide to the law as it relates to all forms of holidays. Its broad coverage of the subject includes the nature of the contractual relationship between tour operator and client, the legal status of travel agents, the criminal liability of tour operators, civil liability and the effects of insolvency.

Greensmith, Andrew, Resolution Family Law Handbook, Law Society, PB, £49.95, ISBN: 9781853285882

Authoritative and fully up-to-date, this new handbook provides invaluable coverage of best practice on every aspect of family law. Published in association with Resolution, the leading family lawyers' association, and edited by its National Chair, it is both comprehensive and practical. The contributors are all leading family lawyers and between them cover all the key aspects in detail from marriage and civil partnership through to children proceedings and inheritance claims. Designed to be user-friendly, the handbook offers a range of time-saving checklists, pro forma letters and a useful contacts section

Hacon, Richard and Pagenberg, Jochen, Concise European Patent Law, Kluwer Law Int'l, PB, £119.00, ISBN: 9789041124340

This book aims to offer the reader a rapid understanding of all the provisions of patent law in force in Europe that have been enacted at the European and international levels. This volume takes the form of an article-by-article commentary on the relevant European instruments and international treaties. It is intended to provide the reader with a short and straightforward explanation of the principles of law to be drawn from each provision.

Hapgood, Mark, Paget's Law of Banking 13ed, LexisNexis UK, HB, £395.00, ISBN: 9781405712989

First published in 1904, Paget's Law of Banking has established itself as the leading practitioner text on banking law, combining meticulous accuracy and depth with a clear approach to this complex area. The 13th edition has been substantially rewritten and expanded to provide a thoroughly modern approach to the subject matter, while remaining unique in providing a comprehensive, clear and accurate statement of the law of banking, with a particular emphasis on the principles which underpin the case law.

Howells, Geraint, Product Liability 2ed (Butterworths Common Law Series), LexisNexis UK, HB, £220.00, ISBN: 9781405725361

Published as part of Butterworths Common Law Series, this book provides a definitive statement of UK product liability law. Central to this is consideration of the strict liability provisions found in Part 1 of the Consumer Protection Act 1987 and the closely related regulatory rules on product safety. Other aspects include contractual (particularly sale of goods law) and negligence liability, both of which play an important role in product liability litigation. The book also considers the legal aspects of product liability insurance and important procedural matters, such as the possibility for class actions and jurisdiction and choice of law questions. Fully updated to incorporate the changes since the previous edition, this book is a comprehensive and authoritative exposition of product liability law.

Hoyano, Laura C.H. and Keenan, Caroline, Child Abuse: Law and Policy Across Boundaries, Oxford Univ Press, HB, £95.00, ISBN: 9780198299462

This book looks across the legal and geographical boundaries within which the legal discussion of child abuse is usually confined. It considers the themes and policy considerations driving each form of legal response to the problem of child abuse. It also provides a detailed discussion of the law governing the trial of allegations of child abuse in the key areas of family, criminal and tort law in English law, and compares this with the approaches in other common law jurisdictions using the adversarial mode of trial, in particular in Canada, the United States, New Zealand and Australia. In its breadth and depth, Child Abuse Law and Policy Across Boundaries marks a significant contribution to the rapidly evolving field of child protection law.

King, Michael and Phillips, Ann, Charities Act 2005- A Guide to the New Law, Law Society, PB, £39.95, ISBN: 9781853289132

The new Charities Act 2006 signals a radical overhaul of the legislation affecting charities. Its far-reaching changes affect virtually all aspects of charities law.

Legal 500: Europe, Middle East and Africa 2007, Legalase, HB, £120.00, ISBN: 9781903927809

First published in 1990, this is the leading guide to law firms throughout Europe, Middle East and Africa. Researched by the team, through first-hand interviews with lawyers and clients, the book includes coverage of the legal markets in more than 60 jurisdictions.

Leiter, Brian, Naturalizing Jurisprudence: Essays on American Legal Realism and Naturalism in Legal Philosophy, Oxford Univ Press, PB, £19.95, ISBN: 9780199206490

Brian Leiter is widely recognized as the leading philosophical interpreter of the jurisprudence of American Legal Realism, as well as the most influential proponent of the relevance of the naturalistic turn in philosophy to the problems of legal philosophy. This volume collects newly revised versions of ten of his best-known essays, which set out his reinterpretation of the Legal Realists as prescient philosophical naturalists; critically engage with jurisprudential responses to Legal Realism, from legal positivism to Critical Legal Studies; connect the Realist program to the methodology debate in contemporary jurisprudence; and explore the general implications of a naturalistic world view for problems about the objectivity of law and morality. Leiter has supplied a lengthy new introductory essay, as well as postscripts to several of the essays, in which he responds to challenges to his interpretive and philosophical claims by academic lawyers and philosophers.

Li, Xiaoning, Comparative Study of Shareholders' Derivative Actions: England, the US, Germany and China, Kluwer Law Int'l, PB, £55.00, ISBN: 9789041126351

In this book shareholders' derivative actions in England, the US, Germany and China are being compared. Western countries among themselves take differing approaches towards derivative action in practice, including its very role and the mechanisms for regulating it.

Loose, Peter et al, Company Director 9ed, The, Jordans, HB, £65.00, ISBN: 9780853089940

Essential reading for all company directors, secretaries and their advisors, providing comprehensive coverage, in a single volume, of the powers, legal obligations and responsibilities of executive and non-executive company directors.

Loughlin, Martin and Walker, Neil, Paradox of Constitutionalism: Constituent Power and Constitutional Form, Oxford Univ Press, HB, £50.00, ISBN: 9780199204960

This book sets out to examine some of the key features of what we describe as the paradox of constitutionalism: whether those who have the authority to make a constitution - the 'constituent power' - can do so without effectively surrendering that authority to the institutional sites of power 'constituted' by the constitutional form they enact.

MacIntyre, Ewan, Essentials of Business Law, Pearson, PB, £24.99, ISBN: 9781405840798

This is specifically designed to equip non-law students with an understanding of the essential topics in a business law course. Providing a highly readable explanation of the law, it brings the subject to life through the use of diagrams and examples highlighting how the law operates in its business context.

Maguire, M.; Morgan, Rod and Reiner, Robert, Oxford Handbook of Criminology 4ed, Oxford Univ Press, PB, £36.99, ISBN: 9780199205431

The most comprehensive and authoritative single volume text on the subject, the fourth edition of the acclaimed Oxford Handbook of Criminology combines masterly reviews of all the key topics with extensive references to aid further research. In addition to the history of the discipline and reviews of different theoretical perspectives, the book provides up-to-date reviews of diverse topics as the criminal justice process, race and gender, crime statistics, and the media and crime. The fourth edition has been substantially revised and updated and is essential reading for all teachers and students of criminology and an indispensable sourcebook for professionals.

McAlinden, Anne-Marie, Shaming of Sexual Offenders: Risk, Retribution and Reintegration, Hart Publishing, PB, £30.00, ISBN: 9781841135922

This book examines the controversy of whether restorative justice can be applied to child sexual abuse as one of the most intractable of contemporary societal problems, and if so, what special considerations might apply. Although restorative schemes with sex offenders are in short supply, a few initiatives have developed in Canada and parts of the United States which have effected significant benefits in 'reintegrative shaming.' The book examines whether such ad hoc schemes may be of general application with child sexual abuse and whether they may be implemented on a more holistic basis.

Mitchell, Charles; Watterson, Stephen and Fenton, Adam, Subrogation: Law and Practice 2ed, Oxford Univ Press, HB, £125.00, ISBN: 9780199296644

This book provides a clear and accessible account of subrogation, explaining when claimants are entitled to the remedy, how they should formulate their claims, and what practical difficulties they might encounter when attempting to enforce their subrogation rights. Although subrogation is a remedy that is frequently claimed in Chancery and commercial practice, the reasons why it is awarded and the way it works can often be misunderstood.

In this text authors aim to present the subject in clear and simple terms through a structure that is readily accessible and of benefit to practitioners.

Morison, John; McEvoy, Kieran and Anthony, Gordon, Judges, Transition, and Human Rights, Oxford Univ Press, PB, £30.00, ISBN: 9780199204946

This book brings together many of the most prominent contemporary national and international human rights and transitional justice scholars in one collection. The book focuses in particular on the intersection between judges, transitional processes and human rights discourses. It brings together doctrinal, socio-legal and criminological perspectives on a range of topics including the judicial construction of national and supra-national constitutions, the role of human rights discourses in transition from conflict, and in a range of sites in more 'settled' societies. The book draws upon comparative experiences in South Africa, Canada, the USA, Britain, Ireland, the Balkans, the Weimar Republic, Northern Ireland, the Republic of Ireland and elsewhere. It also situates that analysis within supra-national and indeed subnational frameworks.

Morse, Geoffrey, Annotated Guide to the Company Act 2006, Sweet & Maxwell, PB, £85.00, ISBN: 9781847030016

This book is a practical, up-to-date, annotated guide to the new Companies Act 2006.

Munro, Vanessa and Stychin, Carl, Sexuality and the Law: Feminist Engagements, Routledge Cavendish, PB, £28.99, ISBN: 9781904385660

Rediscovering' the peculiarity of feminist perspectives, rather than examining the broader range of gender-oriented analyses, in the area of legal regulation and sexuality, this edited collection avoids the 'reductionist' and 'essentialist' shortcomings of 'feminism unmodified'.

Neuberger, Rt Hon Lord of Abbotsbury, Civil Court Practice 2007 (The Green Book) (inc CD), LexisNexis UK, HB, £348.80, ISBN: 9781405725293 or county courts. It provides focused, authoritative and comprehensive coverage of the CPR.

Nock, Reg, Stamp Duty Land Tax 2ed, Jordans, PB, £65.00, ISBN: 9781846610578

Stamp Duty Land Tax replaced stamp duty in 2003 and has been subject to numerous changes subsequently. Many transactions, not previously subject to stamp duty, are now chargeable under a complex regime, supported by a whole range of penalties including criminal sanctions involving imprisonment and/or heavy fines for errors in completing the required returns and breaches of the requirements for record keeping. The new regime requires changes in conveyancing practice and involves new issues for client relationships.

Oliver, Simon and Austen, Lesley, Special Educational Needs and the Law 2ed, Jordans, PB, £35.00, ISBN: 9780853085751

This book explains, in a clear and practical style, every aspect of the law and practice relating to special educational needs provision. The new edition of this popular title has been extensively revised and expanded to include detailed coverage of the new regime including new chapters on disability discrimination following the extension of the Tribunal's jurisdiction, the codes of practice underpinning it and all relevant case-law. In addition there is expanded coverage to include the systems now in operation in Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland.

O'Neill, Elizabeth and Scaife, Emma, UK Competition Procedure: The Modernised Regime, Oxford Univ Press, HB, £145.00, ISBN: 9780199284276

This book provides practitioners with a ready and comprehensive reference to the procedures for the enforcement of competition law in the UK following the implementation of the EC modernisation regulation (European Council Regulation 1 of 2003). The modernisation regulation came into effect on 1 May 2004, along with substantial changes to the Competition Act 1998 (CA98) in the UK.

Pearl, David, Care Standards Legislation Handbook 5ed, Jordans, PB, £40.00, ISBN: 9781846610646

Spencer, David and Brogan, Michael, Mediation Law and Practice (Australian), Cambridge Univ Press, PB, £32.99, ISBN: 9780521676946

This book gives a thorough account of the practice of mediation from the perspective of the student and practitioner. Divided into two parts, it deals with both the practice of mediation and the law surrounding mediation. Touching on the theory and philosophy behind the practice, it further describes in a theoretical and practical sense the difference between the emerging models of mediation. Mediator qualities are discussed in terms of issues of gender, culture and power.

Sugar, Simon and Bojarski, Andrzej, Unlocking Matrimonial Assets on Divorce, Jordans, PB, £65.00, ISBN: 9781846610226

This is a handbook that is intended to be a practical and user friendly guide to some of the more challenging areas of ancillary relief practice. The book is divided into eight detailed parts; Evidence, Disclosure, Dissipation, Property, Businesses, Trusts and Inheritance, Pensions and Planning. The book contains specialist contributions from forensic accountant and an actuary. In concentrating on complex areas of practice, the book seeks to provide practitioners with assistance in unlocking assets for the benefit of their client. Detailed consideration of the reported case law ensures that the book will provide an invaluable reference work for the busy lawyer, both in the office and at court.

Ulfstein, Geir, et al, Making Treaties Work: Human Rights, Environment and Arms Control, Cambridge Univ Press, HB, £55.00, ISBN: 9780521873178

There is an increasing focus on the need for national implementation of treaties. International law has traditionally left enforcement to the individual parties, but more and more treaties contain arrangements to induce States to comply with their commitments. Experts in this book examine three forms of such mechanisms: dispute settlement procedures in the form of international courts, non-compliance procedures of an administrative character, and enforcement of obligation by coercive means. Three fields are examined, namely human rights, international environmental law, and arms control and disarmament.

van Harten, Gus, Investment Treaty Arbitration and Public Law, Oxford Univ Press, HB, £60.00, ISBN: 9780199217892

This book outlines investment treaty arbitration as a public law system, by precisely demonstrating the significance of giving arbitrators comprehensive jurisdiction to decide regulatory disputes between business and state. In doing so, it exposes some startling consequences of transplanting rules of commercial arbitration into the regulatory sphere. First, private arbitrators can award compensation to investors in ways that go well beyond domestic systems of state liability in public law. Second, these awards can be enforced in as many as 165 countries, making them more widely enforceable than other judicial decisions in public law. Third, public law can be interpreted in private as a matter of course, without any appeal to a court to correct errors of law.

Wadham, John; Mountfield, Helen and Edmundson, Anna, Blackstone's Guide to the Human Rights Act 4ed, Oxford Univ Press, PB, £34.95, ISBN: 9780199299577

Volume 1 + Forms Service, Sweet & Maxwell, HB, £269.90, ISBN: 9781847031570

The White Book Service gives you with all the information you need to practise in the civil court. Coverage includes the Civil Procedure Rules, Practice Directions, Pre-Action Protocols and Court Guides. Together with high quality comment and analysis and helpful procedural tables, the White Book is the civil lawyer's bible - whether you practise in the county court, High Court, or specialist courts.

Ward, Angela, Judicial Review and the Rights of Private parties in EU Law 2ed, Oxford Univ Press, HB, £75.00, PB, £39.95, ISBN: 9780199269624, ISBN: 9780199206865

This book canvasses in detail the rights of private parties to enforce principles of EU law, both before the national courts and the European courts of First Instance and Justice in Luxembourg. These originally amounted to two distinct bodies of case law. However, particularly since the advent of Member State liability in damages, which was founded on the liability of EU institutions under Article 288(2), there have been increasing trends toward convergence in relevant principles in private party EU litigation; whether the defendant is a Member State government authority or an EU institution.

This second edition introduces the reader to the complexities of the proceeds of crime and asset recovery legislation in both a user-friendly and step-by-step way. This portable and easily navigable book provides the reader with a clear insight into every stage of assisting the client from restraint to confiscation and how to apply for a Certificate of Inadequacy and what powers enforcement authorities have to enforce orders, particularly the appointment of receivers.

Matt Regnard

Wildy's are pleased to announce that Matt Regnard, formerly with LexisNexis' Customer Services Department, will be joining us from the 14th of May.

After graduating with a degree in Geography in 1996, Matt joined Butterworths in a temporary data processing role. After a few months he moved into a permanent position in their customer service department where he has proved an invaluable asset for the last 10 years.

The customer services department at LexisNexis has recently re-located to Belfast. Matt has been working in Belfast for the last couple of months training the new team on Lexis products and services, systems, queries and customer accounts to help ensure a smooth transfer.

We are very pleased that Matt has now decided to join our team to help us maintain the high level of service our customers demand.

For those that know Matt – We are thrilled to let everyone know that he and his wife have just had a little girl, Charlotte Daisy Regnard. She was born on the 26th of April at 9.18 in the evening, weighing 9lbs 8oz.

The Artists

Hilary Paynter, PRE, SWE is President of the Royal Society of Painter-Printmakers and past Chairman of the Society of Wood Engravers. Hilary exhibits widely and her work is represented in the permanent collections of many public galleries including the V&A, Ashmolean and Fitzwilliam museums. Here we show a selection from her series "Legal London".

Simon Brett, RE, SWE is a fellow of the Royal Society of Painter-Printmakers and past Chairman of the Society of Wood Engravers. His wood engravings have been made as prints, as bookplates and as book illustrations for which he has won awards. The prints shown here are from his series of London river scenes.

John Bryce, ARE, SWE, GAvA is an associate of the Royal Society of Painter-Printmakers, and a member of the Society of Wood Engravers, the Guild of Aviation Artists and the Wapping Group of Artists. The WGA was founded in 1946 to record the changes in the life and landscape of the River Thames. John exhibits regularly in London and has won awards for his engravings.

The Wood Engravings are shown reduced in size and are sold unframed. They are original prints taken directly from the block and hand printed on high quality handmade or mould made paper using 19th century presses. Each print is signed and numbered and editions are strictly limited as shown. A further selection of our prints can be seen at www.colnvalleypress.co.uk

IMPORTANT FORTHCOMING PUBLICATIONS

Robertson & Nicol on Media Law 5th edition

by Geoffrey Robinson, QC and Andrew Nicol, QC
Sweet & Maxwell, Hardback, ISBN 9781847030245, £140.00, due July 2007

The new edition of this popular title provides a thorough analysis of the disparate laws that impinge on journalists' and broadcasters' rights to publish. It supplies clear guidance on the laws that affect the rights of the entire range media professionals: journalists, broadcasters, authors, Internet providers, editors, dramatists, filmmakers, photographers, website owners, producers and others who publish news or views through the media. It is a one-stop source, from copyright to confidentiality to broadcasting, blasphemy and contempt of court. The authors explain the ongoing effects of the Human Rights Act 1998 on every aspect of media law, and analyse the impact on journalists and broadcasters of the Freedom of Information Act 2000. Commentary on important cases, such as Douglas v Hello and BHB v William Hill, is also provided, as are chapters on reporting the courts, Whitehall, Parliament, local government and business. Written by two eminent media barristers, this new edition provides authoritative and extensive coverage of all areas of media law, cutting out the need to go to further sources.

Construction Contracts: Law and Management, 4th edition

by John Murdoch and Will Hughes
Routledge, Paperback, ISBN 9780415393690, £24.99, due June 2007

The fourth edition of this introductory text has been thoroughly revised to provide the most up-to-date and comprehensive coverage of the legislation, administration and management of construction contracts. Introducing this topic at the core of construction law and management, this book provides students with a one-stop reference on construction contracts. Significant new material covers procurement; tendering; developments in dispute settlement; and commentary on all key legislation, case law and contract amendments up to 2007. In line with new thinking in construction management research, the fourth edition of this well-known text is essential reading for students and practitioners new to the area of construction contracts.

Employment Law and Human Rights 2nd edition

by Robin Allen QC, Anna Beale, and Rachel Crasnow
Oxford University Press, Paperback, ISBN 9780199299638, £49.95, due August 2007

This new edition of Employment Law and Human Rights brings practitioners up to date with the continuing practical impact of the Human Rights Act 1998 in the employment field. Human rights issues have become increasingly prevalent in employment cases, and significant new equality legislation has been introduced. A thorough understanding of the area is now vital for the serious employment lawyer. The text considers in detail all aspects of the European Convention of Human Rights in an employment context, with a particular focus on areas which have developed most rapidly in recent years. It looks at the complex regulatory framework surrounding privacy at work, data protection and Internet access, and the various new surveillance regulations, and considers these in the light of the UK's Convention obligations. It also considers in depth the overlap between the implications of the Human Rights Act and the new equality laws relating to religion and belief, sexual orientation, and age, in addition to issues arising from existing discrimination legislation. The book marries expert commentary on the background legal themes with comprehensive practical guidance on current law and procedure, including the controversial topic of public funding. Throughout the book ECHR jurisprudence is considered and cross-referred to domestic case law, and each chapter contains a 'Frequently Asked Questions' section to assist the busy practitioner. Written in a clear and accessible style, and designed for ease of reference, the book is essential for solicitors and barristers specializing in employment law, employment law advisers, Employment Tribunal chairmen, and human resources officers.

Italian Private Law

by Guido Alpa and Vincenzo Zeno-Zencovich

Routledge Cavendish, Hardback, ISBN 9781844720514, £65.00, due May 2007

Italian Private Law provides an excellent overview and analysis of Italian private law and its transition from the early twentieth century legal tradition to a system based on constitutional values, geared towards European integration. Exploring the eclectic yet systematically solid foundations of Italian private law, which has adapted itself to the growing pressure of EU legislation, Alpa and Zenovich look at the legislative system as well as the profound influence of case-law and legal scholarship. The book examines: family law; succession; legal persons; businesses and companies; property law; contract law; and tort law. This book is a key resource for legal scholars, practitioners and students who want to gain a deeper knowledge of Italian private law in their research, professional or academic activity.

Reece Thomas & Ryan: The Law and Practice of Shareholders' Agreements 2nd edition

by Katherine Reece Thomas and Chris Ryan

Lexis Nexis Butterworth, Hardback, ISBN 9781405717199, £136.25, due June 2007

Now in its second edition, this popular, fully-updated title explains the law on shareholders' agreements in a clear and comprehensible style. It guides the reader through a typical transaction, highlighting the commercial issues facing the client and ultimately the solicitor as draftsman. The book examines how a shareholders' agreement can be unravelled in the event of insolvency or other reason for termination. An accompanying CD-ROM includes all the precedents covered in the book, which have been developed and updated by David Baylis of Norton Rose. The book has been updated to reflect changes in insolvency practice and to the law post-Enterprise Act 2002, and also highlights the reforms to be made by the Companies Act 2006. It is therefore the most up to date book available on the subject.

Practical Guide to Corporate Governance 3rd edition

by Richard Smerdon

Sweet & Maxwell, Hardback, ISBN 9780421953109, £139.00, due May 2007

The third edition of this book supplies practical guidance on the most recent corporate governance regulations as they apply to both public and private companies. As well as detailed commentary on company structures and policies, it contains practical tools such as checklists and specimen forms, guidance notes from the regulatory agencies and a wide range of materials, including the Combined Code, the Higgs Review and the Hampel Report. The author covers the full range of topics affected by governance regulations, including board structures, directors' duties, non-executive directors, chairman, meetings, auditing, financial reporting and pension funds. Recent changes made by the Companies Act 2006 are covered, and new chapters on the EU, the USA and not-for-profit sector are included.

Tolley's Employment Handbook 21st edition

by members of 11 King's Bench Walk
Lexis Nexis Butterworth, Paperback, ISBN 9780754532651, £92.00, due July 2007

Tolley's Employment Handbook is written in a clear, highly accessible style, covering every aspect of employment law. The handbook is designed to assist with queries on routine subjects, such as maternity benefits and recruitment, and to provide expert guidance on more sensitive areas of the law such as sex discrimination and redundancy. The 21st edition is up-to-date with all recent changes in employment law and will help employment practitioners and human resource directors to understand exactly how these developments affect companies and individual employees.

Law of Extradition and Mutual Assistance 2nd edition

by Clive Nicholls, Clare Montgomery and Julian B. Knowles

Oxford University Press, Hardback, ISBN 9780199298990, £145.00, due August 2007

The Law of Extradition and Mutual Assistance provides a comprehensive and authoritative treatment of the laws covering the extradition arrangements between the UK and other states, as well as international mutual assistance. Since the first edition (published by Cameron May in 2002), the Extradition Act 1989 and the Criminal Justice (International Co-operation) Act 1990 have been repealed and replaced by the Extradition Act 2003 and the Crime (International Co-operation) Act 2003, respectively, and international confiscation is now dealt with under the Proceeds of Crime Act 2002. This second edition has therefore been scrupulously updated and rewritten to take into account all of the legislative changes, and offers a detailed treatment and practical guidance to the new legislation. The new edition has also been expanded to provide comparative coverage on extradition law and practice in other jurisdictions, including the US, Canada, and Australia, and includes a chapter on how the European Arrest Warrant is dealt with in other EU countries. The authors provide an expert commentary and critique of the new legislation and case law, and the book contains all relevant legislation.

EC Competition Law: A Critical Assessment

General Editors: Giuliano Amato and Claus-Dieter Ehlermann

Hart Publishing, Hardback, ISBN 9781841136752, £75.00, due May 2007

This book, co-written by a team of European competition law specialists, offers critical perspectives on the whole range of issues in EC competition law. The book has two distinctive features: the first is that unlike similar works which present the law from either an enforcement agency or practitioner perspective in a fairly conventional manner, this work offers fresh, critical reflections on the state of the law. The second is that the authors are young academics, practitioners and administrators who have worked in the relevant fields and who are relatively new 'voices' in the competition law literature. Drawn from diverse jurisdictions and professional backgrounds the authors bring a distinctively 'European' feel (for instance not drawing exclusively on English language literature), and manage to introduce debates that have been taking place in the non-English language world, thereby assisting a more comprehensive dialogue in this field. The diversity in their professional backgrounds means that each chapter adopts a different perspective, with some chapters focusing on practical solutions to problems, and others exploring more general theoretical questions. The textbook-like structure places the issues in their appropriate contexts and ensures that readers see how the discussion in each chapter links with the body of law as a whole. The book is aimed at academic lawyers and practitioners, complementing existing textbooks and allowing the reader to extend his or her understanding of the subject and provide a quick source of reference to the main doctrinal debates on the subject, and offer fresh perspectives on the topics covered. The impact of EC competition law beyond Europe also means that this book will appeal to lawyers in the US, Australia, Canada and beyond. Associate Editor Assimakis Komninos is a Senior Associate in the Brussels office of White & Case and also practices as a lawyer at the Athens Bar. He is also a visiting lecturer at IREA, Université d'Aix-Marseille III.

Legal Protection of Computer Software 5th edition

by David Bainbridge
Tottel Publishing, Hardback, ISBN 9781845924508, £90.00, due July 2007

Formerly titled Software Copyright Law, this new fifth edition has been significantly reworked to take account of the relevant legislative changes, offering practical guidance and workable policies and solutions to all issues relating to the development and exploitation of computer software. Judicial Review in Northern Ireland

by Gordon Anthony
Hart Publishing, Hardback, ISBN 9781841136172, £50.00, due June 2007

This is the first book to be written on the principle and practice of judicial review in Northern Ireland. It collates and discusses the ever-burgeoning body of Northern Ireland case law and divides into eight chapters that consider the purposes of judicial review; the nature of the public-private divide in Northern Ireland law; the judicial review procedure; the grounds for review; and remedies. Much of the case law here is unique to Northern Ireland, and the book identifies actual and potential differences between Northern Ireland case law and that of England and Wales. The book also integrates Human Rights Act 1998 jurisprudence as has been developed by the Northern Ireland courts and by the House of Lords; and it situates much of that case law within wider debates about judicial review as play out in related practitioner and/or academic journals. The book has been written primarily for practitioners of judicial review and uses numbered paragraphs for ease of reference. The book is, however, of a wider interest and it will be a valuable resource for academics and students too. Much of the Northern Ireland case law has been concerned with contentious political issues, and the courts have had to consider difficult questions of the constitutional limits to the judicial role in review proceedings. The book should therefore be of use not just to practitioners but also to those involved in the study of judicial reasoning in different jurisdictions (both within the UK and elsewhere).

Property in Securities: A Comparative Study

by Eva Micheler

Cambridge University Press, Hardback, ISBN 9780521832656, £55.00, due June 2007

This new book analyses the German, Austrian and English law of securities, addressing the rules governing transfers of securities, including unauthorised transfers, equities arising out of defective issues, and the holding of securities through intermediaries. The book presents an account of the current English, German and Austrian regimes. It has been written with a view to explaining the German and Austrian regime to readers with a common law background and to explaining the English regime to readers with a civil law background.

Micheler also aims to determine whether globalisation will cause the two different approaches to converge. It concludes that the respective rules in all three jurisdictions have historically evolved consistently with incumbent legal doctrine, and that this pattern of change is likely to continue. Convergence will occur on a functional rather than doctrinal level. Moreover, recent reform initiatives advanced by the UNIDROIT and the EU will lead to functional rather than doctrinal convergence.

Words and Phrases Legally Defined 4th edn

NEW EDITION

Due November 2007 - Special pre-publication price

Words and Phrases enables the practitioner to have at all times the precise meaning of a particular word or phrase. Definitions are taken from the Acts of Parliament, Halsbury's Laws of England, leading textbooks and verbatim judgments from all over the Commonwealth.

Annual cumulative supplements, charged separately, ensure that the work is always up-to-date and include not only full coverage of English and Scottish cases and statutes but also extracts from Australian, Canadian and New Zealand cases.

This new edition of Words and Phrases will be available as a two-volume set.

The price of £350.00 applies to all orders placed prior to publication. After publication the price will be £390.00.

FORENSIC FABLES BY 'O'
Theo Mathew

ISBN: 9781898029878

Hardback

£19.95

Forensic Fables appeared first in the Law Journal and then in book form between 1926 and 1932. They were published anonymously, but their authorship was quickly guessed. The literary style and the pictorial delineation were alike unmistakable. They were the work of Theo Mathew composed in his study on the ground floor at the back of 31 Cornwall Gardens. They show his wit in all its maturity.

This new reprint also contains Hubert Picarda's biographical article on Theo Mathew: 'Stick to a Stuff-Gown'

The Passionate Advocate
Anthony Gifford

ISBN: 9781898029885
Hardback

Lord Anthony Gifford QC has had a fascinating life in the practice of law and the pursuit of justice. He was a barrister for 25 years in Britain, where he was involved in well known cases such as those of the Birmingham Six and the Guildford Four. He was actively engaged in the Southern African freedom struggle. He conducted inquiries into human rights abuses in Northern Ireland and into racism in Britain. At the age of 50 he moved his main home to Jamaica, where he has been recognised as a leading advocate in a range of human rights fields.

In this readable memoir, Gifford distils his experiences of fighting for people's rights in Britain, the Caribbean and internationally. He brings to his work a passion which will inspire all who care about justice. He believes in the ideals of the law and has done much to see them realised in practice. He is a rebel who has made the system work for the oppressed. He presents remarkable insights into the ethics and techniques of an advocate for human rights.

UPPSALA YEARBOOK OF EAST EUROPEAN LAW 2005

Edited by Prof. Dr. Kaj Hobér

ISBN 97818980292

Hardback, 495pp

£95

The Yearbook is concerned with the legal systems of all the former planned economies in the former Soviet Union, Central and Eastern Europe, collectively referred to as Eastern Europe. It strives to be a publication for practising lawyers both in the private and public sectors. It is the firm belief of the Editor and the Advisory and Editorial Board that scholarly analysis and research can – and indeed must – go hand in hand with the practice of law. This is particularly true in a constantly and rapidly developing field such as East European legal systems.

Neither a serious publication, nor scholarship needs to be dull. The Yearbook seeks to be scholarly and practical, lively and readable. It does not shun controversy or unpopular views – indeed controversy is expected and welcomed. It is believed that confronting issues from all sides, rather than avoiding them, is the better way of understanding the past, present and future development of East European legal systems.

DEATH OF A CIRCUIT
Being some account of The Oxford Circuit and how it was abolished

Graeme Williams

ISBN: 9781898029861

Hardback 124pp

Assizes, Quarter Sessions and the Oxford Circuit. Most barristers (and even some solicitors) practising in criminal work will probably have heard, however faintly, of the first two, without knowing what they were. But the Oxford Circuit has almost completely disappeared from the profession's memory. Yet all three were ancient and venerable parts of the (mainly criminal) justice system, and were in full force and operation until 1st January 1972, only half a modern lifetime ago. This book attempts to describe the pre-1972 system, and in particular the closing years of the Oxford Circuit's independent existence, its peremptory abolition and some of the Circuit characters, in what was a more colourful era than the present.

The author was in practice on the London end of the Oxford Circuit from 1960 onwards. He has been married for more than forty years to Anna Worrall QC, a Northern Circuiter and Middle Temple Bencher. They live in Camden Town and Suffolk.

CHINA'S PSYCHIATRIC INQUISITION
Dissent, Psychiatry and the Law in Post-1949 China

Robin Munro

ISBN: 1898029857

Hardback 390pp

£65

This study examines the misuse of forensic psychiatry custody in China since the late 1950s as an adjunct means – alongside the legal authorities' more frequent use of arrest, trial and imprisonment – of punishing and silencing political dissidents, spiritual nonconformists, whistleblowers and other critics of official corruption or malfeasance. The principal questions addressed in the book are: how common have such practices been in China during the successive main periods in the country's post-1949 history; how have these repressive practices been theorized and handled under the country's evolving criminal justice system; and why have the security authorities resorted to this, at first sight, uncharacteristically sophisticated form of state repression? On the basis of extensive archival research into several decades of China's legal and psychiatric literature, the study concludes that the use of psychiatric custody against dissidents and other similar groups has been more widespread in China than it was in the former Soviet Union.

CHANCEL REPAIR LIABILITY
How to Research It
Revised ed

Derriman, James

ISBN: 1898029849

Hardback

The owner of any property, however small, in England or Wales, can be liable in certain circumstances to pay for repairs to the chancel of a medieval parish church in his locality. Until a recent case decided in the House of Lords led to a farmer and his wife being called on to pay a £95,000 bill, many property owners, conveyancers and parochial church councils had ignored this apparently remote corner of the law. Now, especially as a result of the Land Registration Act 2002, chancel repair liability has become a live issue.

The need for searches to establish whether any particular land may be affected is increasingly recognised. This book — the first of its kind — provides practical information on how to make these searches. It does not set out to be a legal textbook, but to enable lawyers, laymen and churchmen to understand the background and sources of information available so that they can discover so far as is possible when, and to what extent, liability may exist.

A Foreword by Dr R. Sturt, Diocesan Registrar of Canterbury, endorses its value not only for people who plan to do their own research, but as a mine of information for professionals, parochial church councils and amateur historians

FROM TRUST TO TAKEOVER
Butterworths 1938-1967
A Publishing House in Transition

Gordon Graham

ISBN: 1898029814
Hardback 102pp
£12.95

Stanley Bond, a largely unrecognized publishing genius, instructed in his will that his two infant sons should inherit the company when they attained the age of twenty-five. Until then, the company should be run by a Trust, which he set up, most of the income from which would go to his widow. The sons never got their inheritance. The company was sold twenty-four years after Bond's death. How this came about is a story of intrigue and power plays, in researching which the author had access to confidential archives and was able to interview witnesses of the drama. The result is a tale that throws light on the mores of privately-run companies sliding unwillingly into the era of corporate ownership.

Gordon Graham was Chairman and Chief Executive of Butterworths from 1975 to 1990. Prior to that he had been Managing Director of McGraw-Hill's British subsidiary and International Sales Manager of the McGraw-Hill Book Company, New York.

THE JOURNAL OF COMPARATIVE LAW

Edited by Nicholas Foster & Camilla Baasch Andersen

ISSN 1477-0814

2 issues per annum

Subscription Rates: £95 Institutions and £45 Individuals

We have pleasure in announcing publication of The Journal of Comparative Law. The journal provides a forum for comparative law scholarship and analysis. It will be an invaluable tool for practitioners and scholars working across international borders and with harmonised law. The journal, which is refereed, publishes materials on all aspects of comparative law, covering all geographical areas, and encourages analytical work with a contextual, theoretical and interdisciplinary approach. Due weight is accorded to practical aspects. The journal should appeal to a wide range of readers, including academics, students and international practitioners. Significant features include the publication of assessments and translations of important documents and comparative law bibliographies, as well as reviews of current and classic treatises and texts.
