A large bronze sculpture of two women carrying baskets on their heads, standing on a pedestal in front of a modern building. The women are depicted in a stylized, elongated manner, with their bodies and limbs appearing thin and angular. They are wearing traditional-looking clothing, including a fringed waistband and a headwrap. The baskets they carry are large and rounded. The sculpture is set against a backdrop of a modern building with a facade of light-colored, rectangular panels and large windows. The sky is clear and blue. The overall scene is brightly lit, suggesting a sunny day.

and advice on how to ensure best practice.

Bawtree, Don; Kirkland, Kate, Charity Administration Handbook, 4th ed, Tottel Publishing Ltd, PB, £58.00, ISBN: 9781845922399

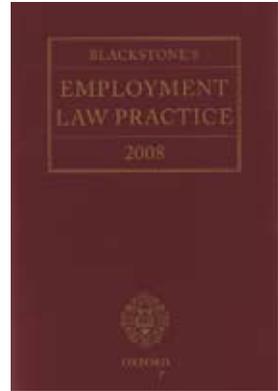

The new 4th edition of this handbook will provide you with all the relevant information necessary for effective charity management. It provides practical assistance in dealing with problems that are likely to arise in forming and running a charity. Written in a non-technical and accessible way, it is intended to be a first point of reference for the administrator, especially in relation to finance-related matters. The book covers a wide range of topics, in alphabetical order, from accounting and auditing matters to VAT, with all the relevant information in between.

Bermingham, Vera; Brennan, Carol, Tort Law Directions, Oxford University Press, PB, £25.00, ISBN: 9780199227983

This book is written in an engaging and lively manner with an emphasis on explaining the key topics covered on tort law courses with clarity. The book provides a thorough introduction to the key principles of tort law, and illustrates the points of law through discussions of important cases. Two introductory chapters introduce the basic concept of what tort law is, and explain the basic workings of the tort system, which helps to contextualise the discussions of the substantive law that follow.

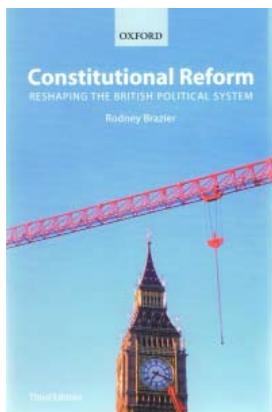

Bowers, John; Brown, Damian; Korn, Anthony; Mansfield, Gavin; Palca, Julia; Taylor, Catherine; Macmillan, John; Bowers, John, Blackstone's Employment Law Practice 2008, 3rd ed, Oxford University Press, PB, £69.95, ISBN: 9780199535101

It is fully up to date with the latest developments in law and procedure, and provides expert guidance on the key areas of substantive law - including summaries of the leading cases.

Brazier, Rodney, Constitu-

tional Reform: Reshaping the British Political System, 3rd ed, Oxford University Press, PB, £19.99, ISBN: 9780199233045

The third edition of Constitutional Reform examines central government, Parliament, and the judiciary in Britain and proposes an agenda for reform. In addition to issues such as voting reform, reform of House of Lords and how citizens' rights might be better protected, the book considers the best methods through which such changes should be achieved and provides material for the international comparison of constitutions.

Breyer, Stephen, Active Liberty: Interpreting a Democratic Constitution, Oxford University Press, HB, £19.99,

ISBN: 9780199227075

Breyer argues that the primary role of a democratic constitution is to preserve and encourage 'Active Liberty': citizen participation in shaping government and its laws. The book argues that promoting active liberty requires judicial modesty and deference to legislative bodies; it also requires the recognition of the changing needs and demands of the populace. Breyer makes a powerful case against treating constitutions as a static guide for a world that has passed into history.

Briggs, Adrian, Agreements on Jurisdiction and Choice of Law, Oxford University Press, HB, £145.00, ISBN: 9780199282302

In this book, the author analyses the law and practice

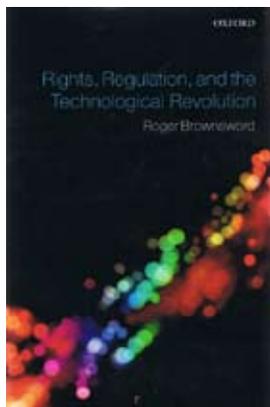

relating to the classification, drafting, validity and enforcement of contracts relating to jurisdiction and choice of law. The focus is on English law, EU law and common law measures, but there is also some comparative material built in. The book will be useful in particular to practising lawyers seeking to draft, interpret or enforce the types of contract discussed, but the in-depth discussion will also be valuable to academic lawyers specialising in private international law.

Brownsword, Roger, Rights, Regulation, and the Technological Revolution, Oxford University Press, HB, £50.00, ISBN: 9780199276806

Analysing developments across biotechnology, information and communications technology, nanotechnology and neurotechnology, this book explores the difficulties facing the public control of rapid technological change, focusing on the problems of regulatory effectiveness, connection, legitimacy, and compliance. The book argues that as regulators struggle to find adequate frameworks to limit, license and support new technologies, they will increasingly rely on a technological approach to complement, enhance, and even replace traditional legal strategies.

Butler, Jonathan, Community Care Law and Local Authority Handbook, Jordan Publishing Ltd, PB, £60.00, ISBN: 9781846610851

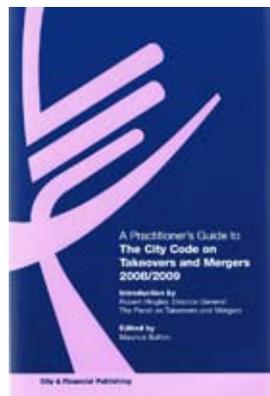

The book brings together in one place all the disparate statutory materials that comprise legal framework, together with related materials such as Local Authority Circulars and extracts from leading judgments. The materials are complemented by the author's expert commentary explaining how the various statutes interrelate and how they have been interpreted by the courts. The result is a handbook that provides the practitioner with the tools required to deal with this important area of law.

Button, Maurice, A Practitioner's Guide to the City Code on Takeovers and Mergers 2008 - 2009, 20th ed, City & Financial Publishing, PB, £99.00, ISBN: 9781905121182

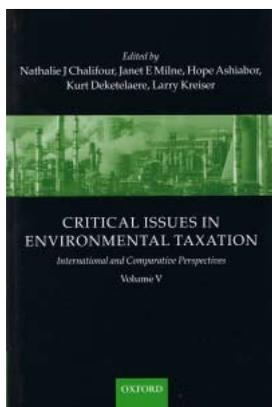

The Takeover Code is principally designed to ensure high business standards and fairness to shareholders. In the 40 years of its existence, the Takeover Panel has established a reputation for operating flexibly and rapidly as new situations have arisen and market practice has developed. In late 2007 the Code Committee published RS 2007/1, which outlines a number of amendments to the Takeover Code as it applies to schemes of arrangement. There has been a significant increase in recent years in the use of schemes to effect takeovers, and the new changes aim to codify existing practice, making the application of the Code to schemes more transparent and certain.

Cornick, Tim, A Practitioner's Guide to The FSA Regulation of Designated Investment Business, 3rd Ed, PB, £95.00, ISBN: 9781905121267

This third edition takes into account all the changes affecting designated investment business since the last edition was published – and most significantly the impact of MiFID, which was implemented in November 2007. MiFID has had wide ranging implications for the scope of regulated activities, and will have significant impact on conduct of business, best execution, and financial promotion. Furthermore the implementation of UCITS III, and developments in the regulation of derivatives, mortgages, SIPPs and other types of product, have all been taken into account in this substantially revised edition.

Cowan, Sharon; Hunt A.C.; Mason, Mason's Forensic Medicine for Lawyers, 5th ed, Tottel Publishing Ltd, PB, £85.00, ISBN: 9781845922412

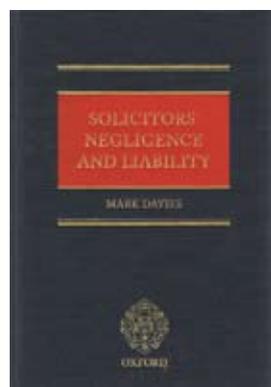

This book covers all aspects of the relationship between forensic medicine and the law including an overview of general issues relating to medical ethics, negligence, and the regulation of the medical profession. From the point of reporting a death through to the various topics of investigating and diagnosing cause of death, this book details the medical and legal considerations that must be faced by forensic pathologists, and also examines forensic issues relating to non-lethal violence, mental health and public health.

Davies, Mark, Solicitors' Negligence and Liability, Oxford University Press, HB, £75.00, ISBN: 9780199284399

Readily accessible and functional, this specialist desk guide is clearly laid out for quick and precise analysis of the specific topic areas of contractual duties, tortious duties, equitable obligations, undertakings, defences, remedies, solicitors' indemnity insurance and also gives unique and valuable coverage of professional regulation. This is an essential reference guide for practising lawyers specialising in solicitors' negligence but will be of value for any solicitor wishing to be reminded of the pitfalls in practice they are hoping to avoid.

Davison, John, VAT Issues and Solutions, Tottel Publishing Ltd, PB, £85.00, ISBN: 9781847661678

liability of your business transactions whilst complying with the very latest VAT rules and regulations.

Diederiks-Verschoor, I.H. Ph., Kopal, V., An Introduction to Space Law, 3rd ed, Kluwer Law International, HB, £65.00, ISBN: 9789041126474

The enormous growth during the last decade of outer space operations like direct broadcasting by satellite and the exploration of natural resources by remote sensing satellites have brought space law into dramatic prominence among the fields of international law. International, because the fundamental principle of space law since the cornerstone Outer Space Law of 1967 clearly requires that outer space and celestial bodies are free for exploration and use by all states in conformity with international law and are not subject to national appropriation. It is in light of the many new considerations now falling under the scope of international law because of their connection with space that this new edition of the best-known handbook in the field now appears.

Dolzer, Rudolf; Schreuer, Christoph, Principles of

International Investment Law, Oxford University Press, HB, £60.00, ISBN: 9780199211753

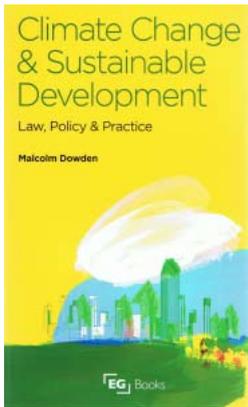

This book outlines the principles behind the international law of foreign investment. The main focus is on the law governed by bilateral and multilateral investment treaties. The book traces the purpose, context and evolution of the clauses and provisions characteristic of contemporary investment treaties, and analyses the case law interpreting the issues raised by standard clauses.

Dorey, Neil; Graham, Simon; Stubbs, Jane A.; Moylan, Niamh; Callow, Roy S.; Dearden, Phillip, Taxation in the Channel Islands and the Isle of Man 2007/08, Tottel Publishing Ltd, PB, £74.00, ISBN: 9781845924805

This is the only single source of reference covering Jersey, Guernsey and the Isle of Man, written by practising experts from each of these islands. Providing authoritative guidance and immediate access to vital tax information on all three jurisdictions, this unique work also helps you make swift comparisons between the islands so you can see which is the most appropriate for your tax needs.

Dowden, Malcom , Climate Change and Sustainable Development : Law, Policy and Practice , Estates Gazette, PB, £39.99, ISBN: 9780728205239

With a climate change bill before Parliament and the profile of environmental issues at an all-time high, there has never been a better time for a book to explore the related effect on the property industry. This is the first title to attempt to pull together the different elements of climate change into one coherent argument that pertains to property. The main issues discussed are: mitigation, adaptation, energy efficiency and property valuation, in addition to providing informed commentary on the laws and practical guidance to practitioners.

Fairweather, James, Chambers Global: The World's Leading Lawyers for Business: 2008 The Clients Guide, Chambers & Partners, HB, £140.00, ISBN: 9780855143671

Chambers Global reflects the judgement of the market. It asks lawyers and clients whom they would recommend, and why. It ranks lawyers by the opinions of their peers and clients. The Guide covers international commercial areas of legal practice, including corporate finance, real estate, litigation, banking, project finance, competition, tax and private equity. It also covers global industries such as energy, communications and shipping. In addition Chambers Global focuses on international arbitration and the fast growing IP sector.

the uses for insurance and investment in detail, looks at other uses, and examines the consequences of group or cell insolvency.

Fletcher, George; Ohlin, Jens David, Defending Humanity: When Force is Justified and Why, Oxford University Press, HB, £14.99, ISBN: 9780195183085

In their provocative new book, Fletcher and Ohlin offer a groundbreaking theory on the legality of war with clear guidelines for evaluating these interventions. The authors argue that much of the confusion on the subject stems from a persistent misunderstanding of the United Nations Charter. The Charter appears to be very clear on the use of military force: it is only allowed when authorized by the Security Council or in self-defense. Unfortunately, this has led to the problem of justifying force when the Security Council refuses to act or when self-defense is thought not to apply--and to the difficult dilemma of declaring such interventions illegal or ignoring the U.N. Charter altogether.

Forrester, Peter; Gibb, Christopher, Residential and Commercial Service Charges: A Surveyor's Handbook, RICS Books, PB, £45.00, ISBN: 9781842193396

For those involved with service charges this book is an essential guide not only to good practice, but also on how to anticipate and be prepared for what might otherwise be costly oversights.

Fredman, Sarah, Human Rights Transformed: Pos- itive Rights and Positive Duties, Oxford University Press, PB, £24.99, ISBN: 9780199535057

Human rights have traditionally been understood as protecting individual freedom against intrusion by the State. In this book, Sandra Fredman argues that this understanding requires radical revision. Human rights are based on a far richer view of freedom, which goes beyond being let alone, and instead pays attention to individuals' ability to exercise their rights.

French, Derek, Applications to Wind Up Companies, 2nd ed, Oxford University Press, HB, £95.00, ISBN: 9780199206896

This long-awaited new edition deals with the procedure for obtaining a winding-up order chronologically from presentation of a petition through to making the order. It also looks at the application process as it applies to various classes of petitioner, such as creditors, contributories (shareholders) and public officials.

Furse, Mark, Competition Law of the EC and the UK, 6th ed, Oxford University Press, PB, £27.99, ISBN: 9780199237920

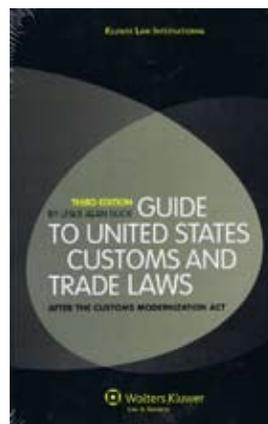

The book begins by explaining the basic economic concepts underpinning competition law in a way that readers unfamiliar with economic theory can understand. It then goes on to provide analysis of all of the most up-to-date cases, legislative changes, and issues within the subject, including international aspects and the globalisation of competition law, and competition law and intellectual property.

Garner, Simon; Frith, Alexandra, A Practical Approach to Landlord and Tenant, 5th ed, Oxford University Press, PB, £39.95, ISBN: 9780199535118

The fifth edition has been comprehensively updated to cover all recent developments in the law. A new chapter on the 2004 Housing Act explains specific provisions of the new Act as they relate to areas such as secure tenancy, and possession. This edition also considers the impact of the Commonhold and Leasehold Reform Act 2002, which has now come into force. Relevant and up to date case law is covered and the various statutory codes applying to both residential and business tenancies are clearly set out, with key points highlighted.

Glick, Leslie Alan, Guide to the United States Customs and Trade Laws After the Customs Modernization Act, 3rd ed, Kluwer Law International, HB, £133.00, ISBN: 9789041127044

In light of the war on terrorism and the emphasis on border security, businesses engaged in the crossborder exchange of goods face a multitude of new laws and initiatives — in addition to the traditional array of responsibilities required by the US Bureau of Customs and Border Protection and Immigration and Customs Enforcement. While these regulations are intended to strengthen border security, without careful planning they may have the unfortunate result of hindering the efficient movement of goods.

Gregory, Sarah; Temperton, Ellen, Tolley's Discrimination in Employment Handbook, LexisNexis Butterworths, PB, £75.00, ISBN: 9780754531715

Taking a highly practical approach, this handy text provides important guidance in this fast-growing area, including analysis and commentary on new employment legislation such as The Employment Equality (Age) Regulation 2006. Written by a respected team of barristers and solicitors, the book not only provides in-depth coverage and practical advice, but also identifies pitfalls and gives tips to avoid them.

Guzman, Andrew T; Sykes, Alan O., Research Handbook In International Economic Law, Edward Elgar Publishing Limited, PB, £35.00, ISBN: 9781847208453

Hart, H.L.A.; Gardner, John, Punishment and Responsibility: Essays in the Philosophy of Law, 2nd ed, Oxford University Press, PB, £19.99, ISBN: 9780199534784

This classic collection of essays, first published in 1968, has had an enduring impact on academic and public debates about criminal responsibility and criminal punishment. Forty years on, its arguments are as powerful as ever. H.L.A. Hart offers an alternative to retributive thinking about criminal punishment that nevertheless preserves the central distinction between guilt and innocence.

Ho, Hock Lai, A Philosophy of Evidence Law: Justice in the Search for Truth, Oxford University Press, HB, £50.00, ISBN: 9780199228300

The dominant approach to evaluating the law on evidence and proof focuses on how the trial system should be structured to guard against error. This book argues instead that complex and intertwining moral and epistemic considerations come into view when departing from the standpoint of a detached observer and taking the perspective of the person responsible for making findings of fact. Ho contends that it is only by exploring the nature and content of deliberative responsibility that the role and purpose of much of the law can be fully understood.

Hogarth, Peter, Insurance Law for the Construction Industry, Oxford University

Press, HB, £145.00, ISBN: 9780199235513

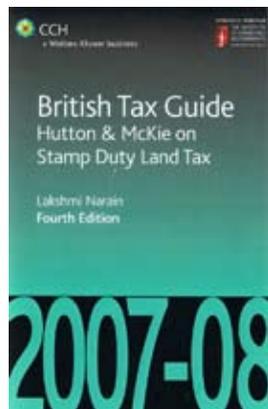

This book provides comprehensive coverage of the issues involving insurance encountered in the process of construction. It gives practical answers to all the problems likely to be encountered when negotiating construction contracts, insurance policies or insurance claims.

Holdgaard, Rasmussen, External Relations Law of the European Community, Kluwer Law International, HB, £99.00, ISBN: 9789041126047

This book begins by noting two common characteristics of legal analyses in the field of EU external relations. First, most legal analyses assume that EC external relations law cannot be studied or applied without a constant awareness of the underlying political dynamics. Yet, the same analyses fail to explain how these ‘dynamics’ are to be understood, assessed and systematically applied.

Hutton, Matthew; McKie, Sharon, CCH British Tax Guide: Hutton & McKie on Stamp Duty Land Tax 2007-08, CCH, PB, £84.95, ISBN: 9781841408873

When the first edition of this book was published in 2003 few could have foreseen the complex way in which the new regime would develop. The practical and technical difficulties in applying the legislation and the differences of opinion between the accounting and legal professions on the one hand and HMRC on the other have produced an area of taxation which is riddled with pitfalls for those who are not up-to-date with the latest guidance and interpretation. Designed to guide the reader through these pitfalls, the new edition also enables the practitioner to identify areas of opportunity for the client, providing practical guidance on best practice in compliance and tax planning.

Impey, David; Montague, Nicholas, Running a Limited Company, 6th ed, Jordan Publishing Ltd, PB, £25.00, ISBN: 9781846610875

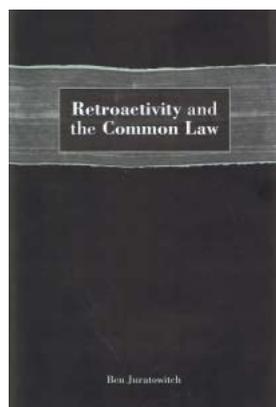

This is a clear, thorough and straight-forward guide for directors and company secretaries of smaller or newly incorporated companies offering information on the legislation, accounting and tax compliance rules and implications on running a business as a limited company. This new edition is fully up-to-date with the major changes to company law effected by the Companies Act 2006, taking into account new requirements for company formation documents, new rules on financial assistance, the codification of directors' duties, the introduction of the 'optional' company secretary, the new regime for company decision making and e-communications. The sixth edition also includes a useful new chapter on strategic considerations to take into account in relation to planning for the future of a business.

International Accounting Standards Board, International Financial Reporting Standards 2008 (IFRSs), LexisNexis Butterworths, PB, £60.00, ISBN: 9781905590544

Updated for 2008, The official IFRS™ Bound Volume contains all International Financial Reporting Standards and all International Accounting Standards, together with all the associated IASB pronouncements and application guidance as approved at 1 January 2008. This is the definitive set of international standards which set out the authoritative requirements of international financial reporting.

Juratowitch, Ben, Retroactivity and the Common Law, Hart Publishing, HB, £45.00, ISBN: 9781841137612

This book analyses the common law's approach to retroactivity. The central claim is that when a court considers whether to develop or change a common law rule the retroactive effect of doing so should explicitly be considered and, informed by the common law's approach to statutory construction, presumptively be resisted. As a platform for this claim a definition of 'retroactivity' is established and a review of the history of retroactivity in the common law is provided. It is then argued that certainty, particularly in the form of an ability to rely on the law, and a conception of negative liberty, constitute rationales for a general presumption against retroactivity at a level of abstraction applicable both to the construction of statutes and to developing or changing common law rules.

Komninos, Assimakis, EC Private Antitrust Enforcement: Decentralised Application of EC Competition Law by National Courts, Hart

Publishing, HB, £110.00, ISBN: 9781841137445

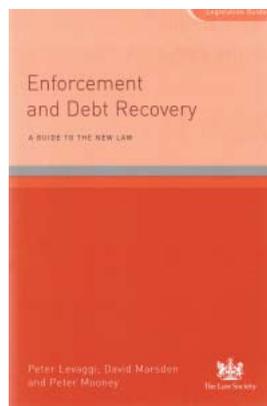

This book, written by an academic-cum-practitioner with substantial experience in the field of antitrust enforcement, presents the rise of private enforcement of competition law in Europe, especially in the context of the recent modernisation and decentralisation of EC competition law enforcement. In particular, the study examines the role of courts in the application of the EC competition rules and views that role in the broader system of antitrust enforcement.

Kotzeva, Anna; Murray, Lucy; Tam, Robin, Asylum and Human Rights Appeals Handbook, Oxford University Press, PB, £55.00, ISBN: 9780199289424

This new handbook applies substantive asylum and human rights law to the difficult practical problems encountered by practitioners in the wake of the new legislation. Key areas covered include challenges to credibility and document authenticity, disputed nationality cases, Article 3 cases based on medical grounds, and certified cases.

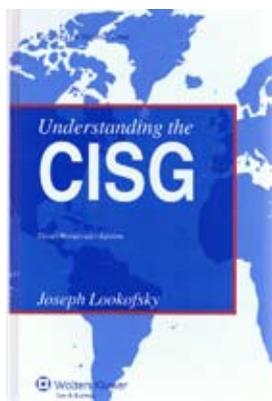

Levaggi, Peter; Marsden, David; Mooney, Peter, Enforcement and Debt Recovery, Law Society Publishing, PB, £59.95, ISBN: 9781853286537

Lookofsky, Josep, Understanding the CISG, 3rd ed, Kluwer Law International, HB, £65.00, ISBN: 9789041125897

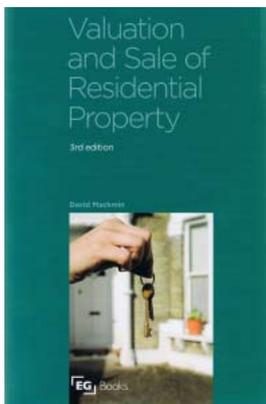

Earlier editions of this incomparable guide came in separate volumes for the United States, Europe, and Scandinavia, as these three areas represent significant segments of CISG practice and also notable variations in the application of the Convention. Today, however, the CISG has gained greater prominence in dozens of jurisdictions worldwide, and similarities as well as differences in how the Convention is understood and applied have become increasingly relevant for all CISG practitioners. Hence, a worldwide edition, focused on the rules and case law of greatest practical importance in all Contracting States, is here provided—although this new edition continues to account for regional anomalies insofar as they impact on the interests of merchants (and their lawyers) in the real CISG world.

Mackmin, David, Valuation and Sale of Residential Property, Estates Gazette, PB, £39.99, ISBN: 9780728205284

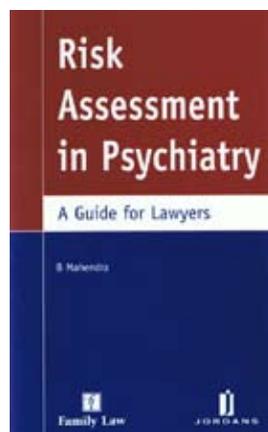

This is an important book that comes at a time of considerable change in the residential market. With Home Inspection Packs (HIPs), Energy Performance Certificates and further Government proposals for consumer protection in the area of estate agency, pending, it is essential for the estate agents to bring themselves up to speed.

Madge, Nic; Sephton, Claire, Housing Law Casebook, 4th ed, Legal Action Group, PB & CD-ROM, £55.00, ISBN: 9781903307458

The complex nature of housing law and the significant human impact of cases lost and won, means the number of cases before the courts continues to grow. Housing Law Casebook covers the whole spectrum of housing law. The thematic structure, succinct case summaries and useful cross-referencing enables busy practitioners to identify relevant cases, quickly and efficiently.

Guide for Lawyers, Jordan Publishing Ltd, PB, £55.00, ISBN: 9781846611094

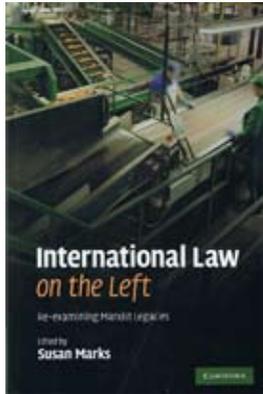

This new work examines the risks that are associated with psychiatric disorders and promotes an understanding of the relevant concepts to a non-specialist audience, thereby demonstrating both the possibilities and the limitations of psychiatric risk assessment.

Manchester, Colin; Poppleston, Susanna; Allen, Jeremy, Alcohol and Entertainment Licensing Law, 2nd ed, Routledge-Cavendish, PB, £45.95, ISBN: 9780415422901

This comprehensive and authoritative guide to licensing law is written by the UK's only Professor of licensing law. Providing a detailed exposition of the law and practice in relation to alcohol and entertainment licensing law, the author sets out the background to the legislation, the legislative framework of the act and its implications for human rights.

Marks, Susan, International Law on the Left: Re-examining Marxist Legacies, Cambridge University Press, HB, £55.00, ISBN: 9780521882552

Against expectations that the turn away from state socialism would likewise initiate a turn away from Marxist thought, recent years have seen a resurgence of interest in Marxism and its reassessment by a new generation of theorists. This book pursues that interest with specific reference to international law. It presents a sustained and groundbreaking exploration of the pertinence of Marxist ideas, concepts and analytical practices for international legal enquiry from a wide range of different angles.

Maule, Hugh, A Practitioner's Guide to The AIM Rules, 5th ed, City & Financial Publishing, PB, £89.00, ISBN: 9781905121274

This book covers admission procedures, continuing obligations and tax issues, as well as including specific chapters dealing with the roles of all key players and the CREST clearing and settlement system. Each chapter is written by a leading practitioner with extensive experience in his or her relevant specialism.

McAdam, Jane, Forced Migration, Human Rights and Security, Hart Publish-

ing, HB, £35.00, ISBN: 9781841137704

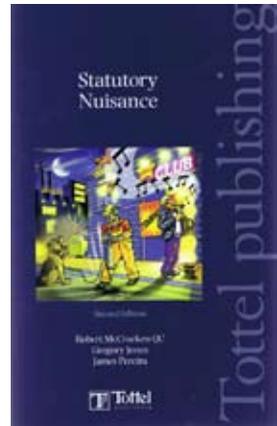

The international protection regime for refugees and other forced migrants seems increasingly at risk as measures designed to enhance security—of borders, of people, of institutions, and of national identity—encroach upon human rights. This timely edited collection responds to some of the contemporary challenges faced by the international protection regime, with a particular focus on the human rights of those displaced.

McCann, Dierdre, Regulating Flexible Work, Oxford University Press, HB, £50.00, ISBN: 9780199218790
Analysing in detail recent United Kingdom legislative reforms and the wider context of the EU and International Labour Organization, this book shows how, although flexible working arrangements are now more strongly protected, they are not fully integrated into UK labour law. McCann ascribes the continuing disadvantage of flexible workers to the quest to maintain a 'flexible' labour market. She contends that the current balance between ensuring flexibility for employers, and ensuring minimum standards for workers is undermining protection for non-standard workers by allowing their employment rights to be derogated in the interest of labour market flexibility.

McCracken, Robert; Jones, Gregory; Pereira, James, Statutory Nuisance: Law and Practice, 2nd ed, Tottel Publishing Ltd, PB, £72.00,

Your essential guide to statutory nuisance, a practice widely used by local authorities and individuals as a means of resolving a range of problems including neighbour noise, pollution, and poor housing quality. Providing a practical breakdown of the law, and a clear demonstration of how it can be applied in practice, this informative book steers practitioners through the drafting process, varying attachment notices, preparing evidence, role of judicial review and potential cost awards.

Milo, Dario, Defamation and Freedom of Speech, Oxford University Press, HB, £50.00, ISBN: 9780199204922
This book argues that fundamental rules of defamation law need to be reformed to take into account the dual importance of public interest speech on the one hand, and the right to human dignity on the other. In particular, the presumptions that defamatory allegations are false and have caused damage, the principle of strict liability to primary publishers and negligence liability to secondary publishers, and the availability of punitive damages, should not survive constitutional scrutiny.

Morrissey, Joseph F.; Graves, Jack M., International Sales Law and Arbitration: Problems, Cases and Commentary, Kluwer Law International, HB, £81.00, ISBN: 9789041126542

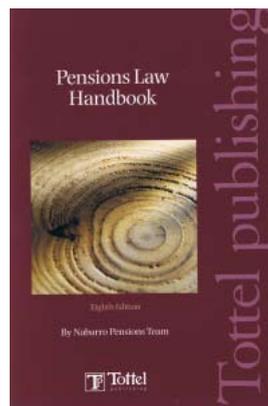

Murphy, Jack; Anderberg,

Karen , U.S. Regulation for Asset Managers Outside the United States, City & Financial Publishing, PB, £95.00, ISBN: 9781905121199

In the last decade, the investment management industry has become more globally focused, and yet investment advisers seeking to do business across borders still face a maze of competing national regulations and laws. As a result of operating in a global market, today's investment adviser may be subject to some form of limited extra-territorial jurisdiction without necessarily being aware of it. In this context investment advisers need to have an understanding of the regulatory and registration requirements of the United States, where the securities regulations are among the most restrictive in the world and where the regulator – the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”) - has exercised the most expansive jurisdictional authority over non-U.S. investment advisers.

Nabarro Nathanson Pensions Team, Pensions Law Handbook, 8th edition, Tottel Publishing Ltd, PB, £78.00, ISBN: 9781847661715

This is the definitive and comprehensive guide to pensions law and practice within the UK. It deals with the duties and responsibilities of key personnel and the law applicable to specific tasks, such as contracting out, early leavers, reconstruction, winding-up, funding and surplus. This practical handbook will guide you through the complex web of pensions-related statutes, regulations and case law, providing accessible, easy-to-understand explanations of the relevant topical issues.

Nexia International, International Tax Handbook, Tottel Publishing Ltd, PB, £95.00, ISBN: 9781847660565

This book provides an overview of the tax rules and regulations in over 75 countries. Each chapter covers a single country, and covers the following types of taxation: Corporate Tax; Personal Tax; Withholding Tax Rates; Tax Dividends, Interest and Royalties. The information is set out in a standardised format – each country-specific chapter is organised and presented in the same format and style. The chapters are organised alphabetically by country which should ensure people using the book can quickly find the information they need on a specific country.

Nuyts, Arnaud, International Litigation in Intellectual Property and Information Technology, Kluwer Law International, HB, £89.00, ISBN: 9789041127020

The pressure to develop an intellectual property litigation framework at a supranational level is enormous. The tensions among technological change, the forces of an ever-more global market, the quest of market actors for tactical advantage and of legal actors for equitable solutions, and the ever-present imperative of the principle of economy in judicial proceedings all cry out for resolution. In the progress toward this framework, the fourteen leading authorities who have put this remarkable symposium together show that European Community law, and particularly its effect on judicial cooperation among Member States in civil and commercial matters, has led and continues to lead the way.

Omar, Paul J., International Insolvency Law: Themes and Perspectives, Ashgate Publishing Ltd, HB, £65.00, ISBN: 9780754624271

International insolvency is a newly-established branch of the study of insolvency that owes much to the phenomenon of cross-border incorporations and the conduct of business in more than one jurisdiction. It is largely the offspring of globalisation and involves looking at both law and economic rules. This book is a compendium of essays by eminent academics and practitioners in the field, who trace the development of the subject, give an account of the influences of economics, legal history and private international law and chart its relationship with finance and security issues as well as the importance of business rescue as a phenomenon.

Parpworth, Neil, Core Text Series: Constitutional and Administrative Law,

5th ed, Oxford University Press, PB, £19.99, ISBN: 9780199232857

Constitutional and Administrative Law provides an excellent introduction to all major principles of this area of the law. The experienced author expertly summarises many diverse academic views and debates, providing an ideal balance between legal facts and opinions. Students particularly appreciate the clarity of the author's writing style and the easy-to-navigate structure and layout.

Partington, Martin, Introduction to the English Legal System, 4th ed, Oxford University Press, PB, £19.99, ISBN: 9780199238101

Written in a highly engaging and approachable style, the fourth edition of Introduction to the English Legal System is an ideal foundation for all those coming new to the study of law. It introduces readers to the purposes and functions of law and the law-making process; it also explains what is happening to the English Legal System, why it is happening, and considers what the future may bring. It covers recent institutional developments and their significance for key matters of public interest including human rights, control of crime, fears of a compensation culture, and access to justice.

Paz-Fuchs, Amir, Welfare to Work: Conditional Rights in Social Policy, Oxford University Press, HB, £50.00, ISBN: 9780199237418

flexibility, eliminating dependency, and tackling social exclusion. They have been implemented in many Western countries. This book focuses on an important and novel feature of these programmes: they replace the rights-based entitlements that have characterized the welfare state for decades with conditional rights dependent on the fulfilment of obligations: conditions are attached to the benefits received.

Penner, J. E., The Law Student's Dictionary, 13th ed, Oxford University Press, PB, £14.99, ISBN: 9780199218998

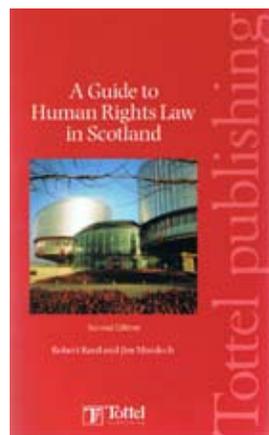

This is an invaluable reference work for all law students. The terms have been chosen with the specific needs of the undergraduate student in mind, providing a full insight into legal terminology and ensuring students are familiar with terms they will encounter during their studies.

Pires de Carvalho, Nuno, TRIPS Regime of Antitrust and Undisclosed Information, Kluwer Law International, HB, £89.00, ISBN: 9789041126436

In this brilliantly conceived and authoritative work the eminent intellectual property specialist Nuno Pires de Carvalho focuses on the mechanisms, obligations, and opportunities of trade secret protection under the Agreement on Trade-Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights (TRIPS). With the powerful knowledge base derived from his long experience both at the World Trade Organization (WTO) and the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO), he illuminates the crucial relationship of antitrust and industrial property, clearly demonstrating – in contrast to much “received wisdom” – the intrinsic pro-competitive nature of intellectual property and of industrial property in particular.

Reed, Robert; Murdoch, Jim, A Guide to Human Rights Law in Scotland, 2nd ed, Tottel Publishing Ltd, PB, £85.00, ISBN: 9781845920746

This highly regarded work, written by two distinguished authors, explores the impact of human rights legislation in Scotland and provides a comprehensive review of ECHR jurisprudence and relevant domestic legislation and case law as well as an overview of Strasbourg enforcement machinery.

Reid, Karen, A Practitioner's Guide to the European Convention of Human Rights, 3rd ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, HB, £125.00, ISBN: 9781847031204

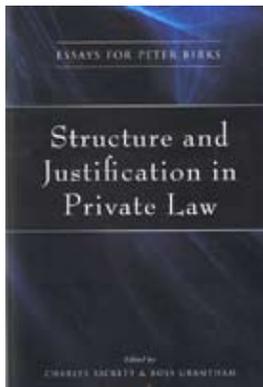

This is a practical guide to taking a case to the European Court of Human Rights. Explaining the principles of the European Convention, setting out its key provisions, case law, court procedures and considerations for each type of case, it ensures practitioners have everything they need for practising in the Court.

Richbell, David, Mediation of Construction Disputes, Wiley-Blackwell, PB, £44.50, ISBN: 9781405169318

Suitable for users of mediation, this book can also be of help to commercial mediators who have no specialism in construction. Its aim is to encourage confidence in the mediation process and to ensure that those who do use mediation to resolve their disputes do so effectively and so are able to maximise the opportunities that mediation offers.

Rickett, Charles; Grantham, Ross, Structure and Justification in Private Law: Essays for Peter Birks, Hart Publishing, HB, £75.00,

ISBN: 9781841138077

The essays contained in this volume are focussed around the law of unjust enrichment, but are not narrowly preoccupied - instead they move freely from unjust enrichment to some of the most profound questions in private law concerning taxonomy, the relationship between contract, property and unjust enrichment, and the place of remedies within private law.

Sabalot, Deborah A., Butterworths Financial Services Law Handbook, 9th ed, LexisNexis Butterworths, PB, £112.00, ISBN: 9781405728812

This is published annually and brings together in a single volume the primary, secondary and European legislation which forms the regulatory framework for the financial services industry. All of the relevant statutory instruments made under FSMA 2000 are set out as amended. The book also includes an Appendix listing every UK statutory instrument made under FSMA 2000 with a brief summary of its effect. Other relevant secondary legislation is included covering areas such as the Proceeds of Crime Act 2002 and anti-money laundering regulations.

Sottiaux, Stefan, Terrorism and the Limitation of Rights: The ECHR and the US Constitution, Hart Publishing, HB, £55.00, ISBN: 9781841137636

This is a comparative study of the terrorism-related restrictions on five fundamental rights protected under the European Convention on Human Rights and the United States Constitution: the right to freedom of expression, the right to freedom of association, the right to personal liberty, the right to privacy, and the right to a fair trial. The book offers both a theoretical account of the paradoxical relationship between terrorism and human rights and a comprehensive comparative survey of the major decisions of the highest courts on both sides of the Atlantic.

Spangler, Timothy, The Law of Private Investment Funds, Oxford University Press, HB, £135.00, ISBN: 9780199298464

This book offers lawyers a practical analysis of the legal and regulatory issues that arise from the structure and marketing of private investment funds both from the UK and US perspective. The book opens with a discussion of the general legal and regulatory duties of the fund manager. Running throughout the work are the themes of investor protection and fiduciary challenge. These ideas are considered in the context of the various sources available for investor protection including the substantive rights and obligations under general law, criminal law provisions and voluntary and statutory rights of regulation. In particular the question of how the integrity of a fiduciary relationship can be maintained with disparate and distant clients is addressed.

Whilst it is not intended for lawyers alone this book does focus on the documentary and deal execution aspects of its subject matter, and will be of particular use for both private equity and acquisition finance lawyers as well as bankers, accountants, private equity professionals and other private equity and acquisition finance industry players and observers.

Strong, S.I.; Williams, Liz, Complete Tort Law: Text, Cases and Materials, Oxford University Press, PB, £29.99, ISBN: 9780199292240

The book contains a wealth of features such as summaries, key points, hint boxes, and questions, which provide plenty of learning support for students. Key concepts are highlighted for emphasis, cross-references and comparisons are pointed out to link the various elements of tort law, and the questions encourage students to check their understanding as they learn.

Summerhayes, Stuart, CDM Regulations 2007 Procedures Manual, 3rd ed, Wiley-Blackwell, A4 PB, £49.50, ISBN: 9781405140027

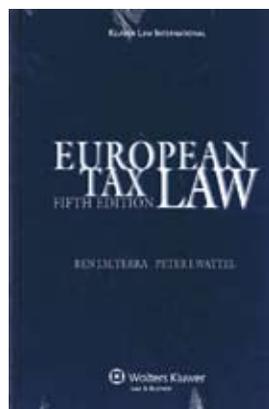

This new edition provides a documentation system which has been developed by a practising CDM coordinator for use with the Construction (Design and Management) Regulations 2007. It addresses the full range of obligations on all parties for compliance with the statutory requirements.

Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, The In-House Lawyer Directory 2008, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, HB, £95.00, ISBN: 9781847033352

This is the brand new publication from Sweet & Maxwell that will provide you with a host of information on in-house lawyers in private and public companies in the UK. The Directory is quick and easy to use, with companies listed alphabetically. You will find extensive profiles on each of the entries.

Terra, Ben J.M.; Wattel, Peter J., European Tax Law,

5th ed, Kluwer Law International, HB, £95.00, ISBN: 9789041127402, European Tax Law 5th ed: Abridged Student Edition, Kluwer Law International, PB, £75.00, ISBN: 9789041127419

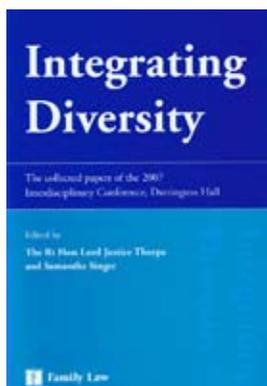

This book is intended as a reference book for tax law and EC law practitioners, tax administrators, academics, the judiciary and tax or Community law policy makers. The book offers a systematic survey of the tax implications of the EC Treaty and of European integration and of the EC tax harmonization policy, a discussion of the Community tax rules in force, and a discussion of the EC Court's case law in tax matters.

Thompson, Robert, Sinclair on Warranties and Indemnities on Share and Asset Sales, 7th ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd,

HB & CD-ROM, £188.24, ISBN: 9781847031044

Sinclair has long been a favourite purchase for lawyers involved with sale and purchase agreements for either a company or business. It enables them to deal with confidence with the many warranties and indemnities involved, providing suitable precedents for drafting agreements together with all the necessary guidance for assessing their relevance and impact. It is renowned for the balance it strikes between discussion of technical legal issues and the practical difficulties encountered in practice.

The Right Hon Lord Justice Thorpe; Singer, Samantha, Integrating Diversity, Family Law, PB, £30.00, ISBN: 9781846610806

This book is the result of the 2007 Interdisciplinary Conference held at Dartington Hall. The Conference assembled a uniquely qualified group of contributors, drawn from the many professions involved in the work of the family justice system. This book brings together their papers and provides a detailed examination of the latest theory and practice.

Toth, A G, The Oxford Encyclopaedia of European Community Law: Volume III - Competition Law and Policy, Oxford University Press, HB, £155.00, ISBN: 9780198257042

This is the third of three self-contained volumes, making up the Oxford Encyclopaedia of EC Law, a major reference work on the law of the European Community/Union. The first of its kind in any language, it provides an authoritative guide to the interpretation of Community law. The first volume covered Institutional Law, and the second the Law of the Internal Market. This final volume focuses on competition law and policy, with separate entries devoted to competition law in specific business sectors, and other significant areas of competition law, such as exclusive agreements, merger control, state aid, and vertical agreements. A new edition of the volume of the Encyclopaedia covering Institutional Law (first published 1991) will be produced once the fate of the European Constitution has been decided.

Tudor, Ioana, The Fair and Equitable Treatment Standard in International Foreign Investment Law, Oxford University Press, HB, £60.00, ISBN: 9780199235063

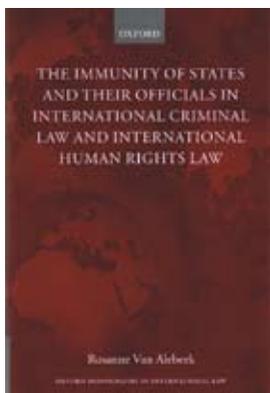

The treatment of foreign investors and of their investments on the territory of a host State is often subject to a bilateral investment treaty (BIT) signed by the national State of the investors and the host State. These BITs usually contain a clause in which the two States offer fair and equitable treatment (FET) to the foreign investors on their territory. Moreover, this clause has become a norm of customary law, implying that investors may rely on it even outside the context of the BIT. Foreign investors whose rights under this clause have not been respected may bring the State in front of an international tribunal. This book analyses not only the conventional and customary framework of the FET clause but also its scope and all its applications in the existing case law.

Van Alebeek, Rosanne, The Immunities of States and their Officials in International Criminal Law and International Human Rights Law, Oxford University Press, HB, £70.00, ISBN: 9780199232475

The issues discussed in this book have engaged the minds of scholars and politicians around the world. The Pinochet case was the first case that put this topic in the limelight of international attention. Can states and their officials still shield themselves from foreign jurisdiction by invoking international immunity rules when human rights issues are involved? The development of international human rights law and international criminal law has triggered this question and many others (such as the tension between international immunity rules, international human rights law, and international criminal law) which this book examines

Van Gerven, Dirk; Storm, Paul, Bundled Set: The European Company: Volumes I and 2, HB, 2 Volumes, £136.00,

ISBN: 9780521897617, The European Company: Volume II, Cambridge University Press, HB, £85.00, ISBN: 9780521860000

Volume 1 provides comprehensive coverage of the legislation in all Member States of the European Economic Area which implemented the SE instruments before 1 July 2005. Volume 2 reports on the remaining countries which have now legislated to give comprehensive coverage. Together they analyse the Regulation and the Directive, examine the tax aspects of the SE and provide a critical review of the usefulness of and the opportunities presented by this legal entity for all Member States.

Von Lewinski, Silke, International Copyright Law and

Policy, Oxford University Press, HB, £75.00, ISBN: 9780199207206

This book deals comprehensively with the major treaties and conventions covering the law of international copyright and neighbouring rights. It explains the complex legal, economic and political background to the treaties and their contents, and how they inter-relate. There is also practical commercial discussion of how copyright and neighbouring rights are treated in international trade measures such as GATT, WTO, NAFTA, and bilateral and unilateral treaties, with a section devoted to how unilateral trade measures are applied by the USA in particular. There is also some discussion of how international copyright law and neighbouring rights may develop in the future.

Wacks, Raymond, Law: A Very Short Introduction, Oxford University Press, Pocketbook, £6.99, ISBN: 9780199214969

Law underlies our society - it protects our rights, imposes duties on each of us, and establishes a framework for the conduct of almost every social, political, and economic activity. The punishment of crime, compensation of the injured, and the enforcement of contracts are merely some of the tasks of a modern legal system. It also strives to achieve justice, promote freedom, and protect our security. The result is a system that, while it touches all of our daily lives, is properly understood by only a few, with its impenetrable jargon, obsolete procedures, and interminable stream of Byzantine statutes and judgments of the courts. This clear, jargon-free Very Short Introduction aims to redress that balance, as it introduces the essentials of law and legal systems in a lively, accessible, and stimulating manner. Explaining the main concepts, terms, and processes of the legal system, it focuses on the Western tradition (the common law and the civil law), but also includes discussions of other legal systems, such as customary law and Islamic law. And it looks to the future too, as globalization and rapid advances in technology place increasing strain on our current legal system.

Warnock, Mary; Macdonald, Elisabeth, Easeful Death: Is There a Case for Assisted

Suicide, Oxford University Press, HB, £12.99, ISBN: 9780199539901

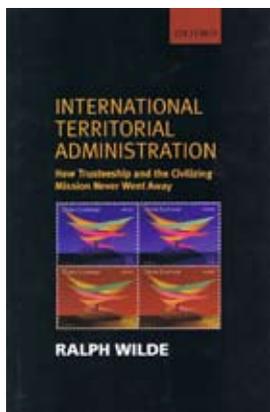

The book takes as its starting point attempts in Britain and other countries to bring compassion into the rules governing the end of a patient's life. Drawing on experience in the Netherlands, Belgium, and the US state of Oregon, where either assisted dying or euthanasia has been legalized, the authors explore the philosophical and ethical views on both sides of the debate, and examine how different legislative proposals would affect different members of society, from the very young to the very old. They describe the practical, medical processes of palliative care, self-denial of food and water, and assisted dying and euthanasia, and ultimately conclude that the public is ready to embrace a more compassionate approach to assisted dying.

prehensive treatment of the reasons why international organizations have engaged in territorial administration, from the League of Nations in Danzig during the inter-war period, to the UN in East Timor recently and Kosovo today. Moving beyond the fashionable and misleading use of terms like ‘post-conflict reconstruction’ and ‘state-building’ to describe the role of international territorial administration, this book engages in a complex analysis of the various purposes with which this activity has been associated, some of which - for example settling disputes over sovereignty - have nothing to do with perceived local incapacities for governance.

Zillman, Don; Regdwell, Catherine; Omorogbe, Yinka; , Beyond the Carbon Economy: Energy Law in Transition, Oxford University Press, HB, £80.00, ISBN: 9780199532698

This volume explains how the law can impede or advance the shift to a world energy picture significantly different from that which exists today. It first examines the factors that create the problems of the present carbon economy, including environmental concerns and development goals. It then provides international and regional legal perspectives, examining public international law, regional legal structures, the responses of international legal bodies, and the role of major international nongovernmental actors. The book then moves on to explore sectoral perspectives including the variety of renewable energy sources, new carbon fuels, nuclear power, demand controls, and energy efficiency. Finally, the authors examine how particular States are, could, or should, be adapting legally to the challenges of moving beyond the carbon economy.

RSS Feeds at Wildy & Sons

Wildy & Sons launch new book information RSS feeds- choosing your law books just got a lot easier...

We are pleased to announce a new feature on our website, www.wildy.com. Customers can now subscribe to RSS feeds of new book information in their area of interest. To subscribe to the feeds simply click on the RSS Feeds link on the home page, and make your selection from the list of subjects shown.

What is an RSS Feed?

An RSS (Really Simple Syndication) feed is a summary of information published on a website that allows you to keep up-to-date with new content, on your own terms and without having to give your email address to the website owner. By subscribing to a Wildy RSS feed, you will automatically be sent the latest new book information from your chosen areas of interest.

How do I get it?

To start with you need an RSS Reader (also known as a News Reader or News Aggregator). This is a small piece of software that checks the RSS feeds you are subscribed to and allows you to read the information published. There are many news readers available and a quick Google search should find them for you. One of the more popular ones is FeedDemon, and you can download the free application from their website at www.newsgator.com.

Alternatively there are some web-based RSS Readers you can use, such as Google Reader or Bloglines. Also the latest versions of most web browsers, Internet Explorer 7, Mozilla Firefox 2.0, and Safari are able to handle RSS feeds. You can also use some e-mail programmes, such as Outlook 2007 and Apple Mail, to receive RSS feeds.

Once you've decided how you want to view our RSS feeds all you need to do is subscribe to the updates you are interested in. Click on the RSS icon next to the subject area you want and copy the URL, or web address, in your browser address bar into your feed reader. Don't worry if the page you're looking at seems full of confusing html code, this will happen if you're using earlier versions of some browsers. Once you've pasted the RSS feed web address into your feed reader you're good to go, and you will receive all updates published in that field. It is as simple as that.

For convenience you may want to combine several subject feeds in to one folder on your chosen RSS Reader. Or not, the choice is yours.

What is included in the feeds?

Details of books published within the last five weeks and scheduled for publication within the next six months are included in the feeds. We don't include books for which we do not have complete bibliographic information, such as an ISBN or price, nor do we include books for which we do not have any content information. If you don't see a book included in the feed that you know is due out in the next six months, chances are it is because the publisher hasn't provided us with a content description. As soon as they do we update the record on our system and the book details get included in the feed.

To give you an idea of the extent of the content, the All New and Forthcoming Titles feed currently contains details of over 400 new and forthcoming books.

How often is the information updated?

Constantly. We continually receive new book information from publishers, and when we do that information is entered on to our internal database from which the content for the feed is generated.

Any comments?

We would welcome any feedback from customers on this new service, as we do on any aspect of the service we provide. Please contact your Wildy account manager, or e-mail Alden Bowers on alden.bowers@wildy.com

Sport: Law and Practice 2nd edition

Edited by Adam Lewis and Jonathan Taylor
Tottel Publishing, Softcover, ISBN 9781845923792, £150.00, due June 2008

This is a major textbook on Sports Law in the UK and consolidates guidance across all the major practice areas of interest to sports lawyers. Written by a team of acknowledged and acclaimed experts, this comprehensive work is essential reading for solicitors and barristers practising sports law, as well as Universities, governing bodies, sports agencies, clubs and commercial firms.

This new 2nd edition contains new chapters on the Court of Arbitration for Sport, child protection, regulation of player-agents, selection disputes and specific legal issues relating to the 2012 London Olympics.

Incorporating a Business 3rd edition

By Roger Jones
Tottel Publishing, Softcover, ISBN 9781845927929, £68.00, due April 2008

This is the new of Roger Jones' best-selling handbook on incorporation, and the ongoing issues of running a new private company. It's a 'must-have' for anyone advising clients on the tax and legal issues, processes, practicalities and long-term implications of incorporating their business. The day-to-day issues are expertly and insightfully covered: CGT reliefs; income tax; NIC; inheritance tax; stamp duty; capital allowances; company law aspects; sale of the business; investment business and withdrawing profits from the company.

Employee Share Plans: International Legal and Tax Issues

Edited by Paul Ellerman, Globe Business Publishing,
Hardcover, ISBN
9781905783144, £120.00,
due April 2008

Employee share plans are an important part of the corporate landscape both for listed and non-listed companies. Many companies choose to extend their employee share incentive plans internationally either on a discretionary basis to senior executives or under "all-employee" arrangements. Whatever the arrangement, companies need to consider various issues before extending their employee share plans in this way, including securities laws, tax and social security aspects (for both the employee and employer), the position of internationally mobile employees, reporting and withholding requirements, exchange control issues and employment and data protection laws. This new title features contributions by leading experts from 29 countries providing, in just one volume, the important legal and tax issues to be considered when operating employee share plans internationally. This major text will assist legal, tax and HR professionals in multi-national companies, and the private practice advisers working with them, in extending their employee share plans globally.

Marketing Legal Services: Succeeding in the New Marketplace

By David Monk and Alastair Moyes
Law Society Publishing,
Softcover, ISBN
9781853286582, £59.95,
due May 2008

Alternative business structures, as enabled by the Legal Services Act, means that solicitors' practices will soon be competing with nationally recognised brands offering legal and other services. Marketing Legal Services helps solicitors prepare their practices for the future. This highly practical and user-friendly book deals with the whole range of marketing topics, showing practitioners how to capitalize on the firm's key strengths, compete effectively with nationally trusted brands, develop the practice through marketing management, establish and develop a marketing database and use it to drive business and how to increase and maximise profitability. The book includes a free CD-ROM with useful questionnaires, forms and precedents for easy customisation. Case studies drawn from the authors' experience exemplify good and bad practice.

European State Aid Law 2nd Edition

By Conor Quigley QC
Hart Publishing, Hardcover,
ISBN 9781841137476,
£150.00, due April 2008

This new edition of Conor Quigley's book (originally 'EC State Aid Law and Policy'), offers the most comprehensive and detailed examination of this fast developing field of Community law. The book is designed to provide practitioners and Commission officials with a definitive statement of the law and practice across the many sectors where issues of State aid come into play. At the same time, placing State aid law and policy in its commercial and industrial context, the book fully explores the concept of State aid and its function as a tool of Community law and economic development. All of this is achieved by means of the most thorough available examination of the jurisprudence of the European Courts and the decisions of the Commission in declaring certain aid compatible with the common market. The Commission's supervisory powers as well as the means of enforcing State aid law in the courts are also fully explained.

Unjust Enrichment and Public Law: A Comparative Study of England, France and the EU

By Rebecca Williams
Hart Publishing, Hardcover,
ISBN 9781841134147,
£45.00, due June 2008

The central aim of this book is to examine claims involving unjust enrichment and public bodies in France, England and the EC. A central aim of the work is to explore the law as it now stands in the UK following cases such as Woolwich EBS v IRC and cases involving swaps transactions. The author argues that so far these cases have been viewed from either a public or private law perspective, whereas in fact both branches of the law are relevant, and that the courts ought not to lose sight of the public law issues when a claim is brought under the private law of unjust enrichment. No understanding of cases concerning public law illegality can be complete without an examination of cases where that illegality is provided, not by domestic public law, but by the law of the EC. Thus a further aspect of the book is that it investigates the division of labour between the European courts and the domestic courts in such cases, and examines the extent to which the two relevant issues, public law and unjust enrichment, are defined in EC law, and to what extent this task is left to the domestic courts.

Lowndes and Rudolf: Law of General Average and the York-Antwerp Rules 13th Edition

By John Wilson and Julian Cooke
Sweet and Maxwell,
Hardcover, ISBN
9781847030337, £245.00,
due May 2008

This is a new edition of the leading work on this subject, first published in the 1870s. It provides detailed, section-by-section commentary on the recently revised York-Antwerp Rules. The commentary sets out the obligations, rights and entitlements of the various parties in a general average situation governed by English law and/or the York-Antwerp Rules. It discusses the various courses of action open to the parties in a general average situation and the effect of taking any of these options on rights and liabilities. It also covers enforcement of rights in general average. The book's historical approach, looking at the various states of the York-Antwerp Rules over their many revisions, makes clear the nature and impact of the most recent changes.

Gower and Davies: Principles of Modern Company Law 8th Edition

By Paul L. Davies
Sweet and Maxwell,
Softcover, ISBN
9780421949003, £35.00,
due June 2008

Gower & Davies: The Principles of Modern Company Law is the leading general text covering the increasingly complex subject of company law. It deals with all key areas of the subject by way of detailed, in-depth analysis, and provides essential guidance for law students and acts as a key reference guide for practitioners. The book Provides a lucid explanation of key principles and legislation and examines case law in detail, giving guidance on areas where the law is unclear. It discusses the EU dimension and it incorporates and explains the wide-ranging changes arising from the Companies Act 2006

Information Technology Law 5th Edition

By Ian J. Lloyd
Oxford University Press, Softcover, ISBN 9780199299775, £33.99,
due June 2008

The most well-established, authoritative and thorough account of Information Technology on the market - readers will not find such breadth and depth of treatment of the subject elsewhere. Whilst focussing on the UK and EU, the book also looks at international issues in IT law, giving readers a rounded and realistic view of how the law in this area operates globally. The author looks at the subject in its wider context, examining the legal response to the latest IT-related changes within society, bringing the law to life for readers and examining how legal issues in IT can affect us all. The book provides references to further reading and points for further consideration, encouraging readers to think for themselves about the current issues within IT law. There are new aspects to the fifth edition, which include the following: An in-depth examination and updated information on computer related crime, including the national and international legal response; Further information on the internet, e-commerce, and the regulation of e-commerce; Detailed discussion of data protection and the clash with national security - 'the surveillance society' and a contents restructuring into discrete 'Parts' with a list of the topics covered is now included at the start of each chapter to help aid reader navigation.

Modern Law of Trade Marks 3rd Edition

By Christopher Morcom
QC, Ashley Roughton and
James Malynicz
LexisNexis Butterworths,
Hardcover, ISBN
9781405727556, £250.00,
due April 2008

The Modern Law of Trade Marks is a comprehensive guide on trade mark law enabling practitioners to provide clients with effective advice with the best possible support and authority. It includes detailed analysis of important UK and European legislation and decisions, in-depth commentary on the complexities of the Trade Marks Act 1994 and the Madrid Protocol and the CTM Regulation. All aspects of registered trade marks are included, together with information on applications, registration, protections and infringement. Divided into 7 parts, key topics covered are: Background to the Law; Registered Marks; Passing Off; Civil Proceedings; Customs and Criminal Offences; International Treaties; and the Community Trade Mark

Butterworths Employment Law Handbook 16th Edition

Edited by Peter Wallington
LexisNexis Butterworths,
Softcover, ISBN
9781405728799, £78.00,
due June 2008

Butterworths Employment Law Handbook is published annually. The 16th edition is fully updated to take into account all the relevant changes since the previous edition. Cross-references are also provided to Harvey on Industrial Relations and Employment Law. This work is a portable, up-to-date reference source that is an essential and easy-to-use tool for all employment practitioners.

Pre-Marital Agreements

By Nicholas Francis QC
Jordan Publishing,
Softcover, ISBN
9781846610950, £60.00,
due May 2008

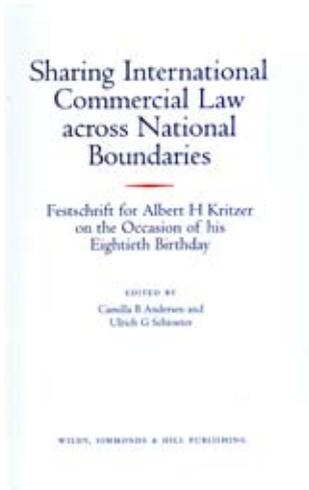

In the aftermath of leading cases such as White and Miller & McFarlane, many high net worth spouses are keen to minimise the share to which their ex-spouse might be entitled in the event of divorce, and are therefore increasingly using pre-marital agreements. Pre-Marital Agreements provides the practitioner with comprehensive guidance on the drafting of such agreements, when consulted before marriage; and upon their effectiveness, and the relevant case-law, when they are relied upon in subsequent ancillary relief proceedings.

Practitioner's Guide to Corporate Restructuring

Edited by Lyndon Norley and Peter Marshall
City and Financial Publishing, Hardcover,
ISBN 9781905121311,
£110.00, due June 2008

This book offers practical guidance on the key business, financial and legal considerations of cross-border corporate restructuring in Europe. Its first eight chapters focus on issues relevant to restructuring across Europe, while the following country chapters highlight legal and regulatory differences between jurisdictions. The book also includes a guide to the US insolvency process, written specifically for European investors. This title will be invaluable reading for all those in corporate restructuring, including commercial and investment banks, hedge funds, mezzanine funds, institutional investors, private equity firms, law firms, insolvency firms and turnaround management firms.

True Tales of Trying Times
Legal Fables for Today
Bob Rains

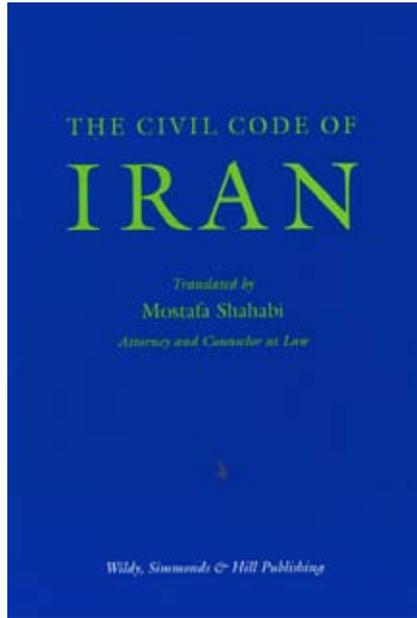

ISBN: 9781898029908

Hardback £12.50

Professor Rains provides a humorous collection of modern-day fables based on actual law cases. These tales are for everyone: not just lawyers, but people too. The fables and their accompanying morals offer us ironic views of the illusive quest for justice in the American legal system.

As noted by Justice Eakin in his Foreword, these stories all have value, if only as examples of what not to do. The professor's reporting makes them come alive, giving us a collection reflecting the wide range of predicaments created by the human species and other nonrational creatures. We throw our self-made problems into the judicial cauldron, which often just mixes them up and throws them right back at us.

These follies of the legal system, and of those who use and abuse it, are cleverly illustrated by the charming drawings of the creative team of E.A. Jacobsen.

CIVIL CODE OF IRAN

Mostafa Shahabi

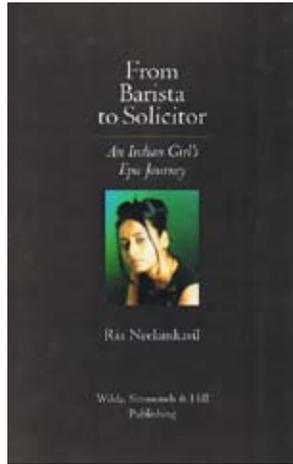

ISBN13: 9781898029922

Hardback 195 pp

£45.00

There have been at least five translations of the Civil Code of Iran since its adoption at the beginning of the twentieth century. This translation by Mostafa Shahabi is the most up to date and includes ammendments made to the civil code in 2007.

In this translation, Mostafa Shahbabi has attempted to provide a translation which is as faithful as possible to the original Persian, to ensure that readers will be able to discern for themselves the true meaning of the text.

FROM BARISTA TO SOLICITOR
An Indian Girl's Epic Journey

Ria Neelamkavil

ISBN: 9781898029939

Paperback 100pp

£5.99

Ria Neelamkavil read Classical Studies with English at King's College, London before embarking on her legal career. She knew early on at Law School that if she was to work as a solicitor, employment law was the only field she would be interested in.

Her passion and enthusiasm for employment law is particularly apparent given that she worked in Lille with employment lawyers shortly after qualifying as a solicitor.

This book is a fictionalized account of a young Indian girl's struggles to become a lawyer. It is a lighthearted but very real account of the problems encountered.

THE JOURNAL OF COMPARATIVE LAW

Edited by William Butler & Michael Palmer

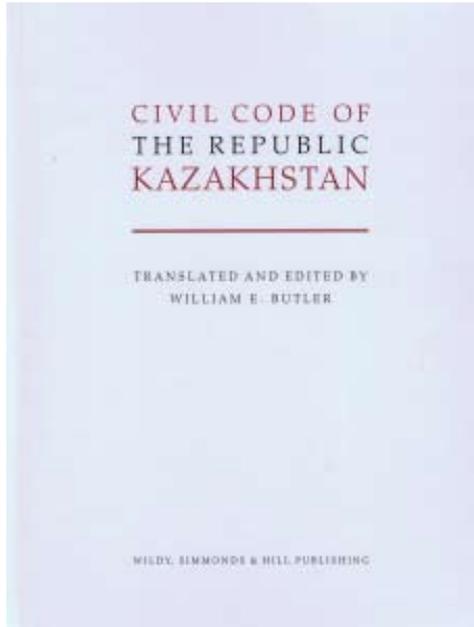

ISSN 1477-0814

2 issues per annum

Subscription Rates: £95 Institutions and £45 Individuals

We have pleasure in announcing publication of The Journal of Comparative Law. The journal provides a forum for comparative law scholarship and analysis. It will be an invaluable tool for practitioners and scholars working across international borders and with harmonised law. The journal, which is refereed, publishes materials on all aspects of comparative law, covering all geographical areas, and encourages analytical work with a contextual, theoretical and interdisciplinary approach. Due weight is accorded to practical aspects. The journal should appeal to a wide range of readers, including academics, students and international practitioners. Significant features include the publication of assessments and translations of important documents and comparative law bibliographies, as well as reviews of current and classic treatises and texts.
