MAJOR NEW TITLES THIS MONTH

Allen, Michael; Thompson, Brian, Cases and Materials on Constitutional and Administrative Law 9th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £29.99, ISBN: 9780199217779

This book provides students with the wide range of legal materials required for success on undergraduate courses. Extracts from leading cases are combined with legal, political and philosophical materials and linked together with explanatory text, alongside notes and questions for discussion.

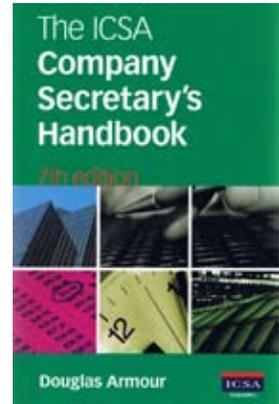

Arena, Christopher M; Carreras, Eduardo M, The Business of Intellectual Property, Oxford University Press,

Paperback, £112.50, ISBN: 9780195338386

This book focuses on the intersection of law and business as it relates to the strategic management of intellectual property. The Business of Intellectual Property combines the statutory framework of intellectual property, case law, business and legal principles of accounting and valuation, and multiple case studies of successful companies to provide readers with a combination of strategic vision and practical advice that helps them to integrate such processes into their own – or their client's – operations, or to improve existing practices.

Armour, Douglas, ICSA Company Secretary's Handbook 7th ed, ICSA Publishing Ltd, Paperback, £59.95, ISBN: 9781860723773

This ICSA Handbook is a practical guide to the legislation governing companies and company secretarial procedures.

Banifatemi, Yas; Gaillard, Emmanuel, Precedent in International Arbitration, Juris Publishing, Hardcover, £85.00, ISBN: 9781933833149

Arbitrators routinely refer in their decisions to awards rendered by other arbitral tribunals that deal with the same issues. However natural it may seem to arbitrators and to parties who will refer to arbitral precedents in an attempt to support their position, such an approach raises many practical and theoretical questions.

Barnett, Hilaire, Constitutional and Administrative Law 7th ed, Routledge-Cavendish, Paperback, £32.99, ISBN: 9780415458290

This new edition of Barnett's Constitutional and Administrative Law is published against the background of continuing constitutional reform and change. Current reform plans include limiting the powers of the executive and making the executive more accountable. The power to exercise a number of important royal prerogative powers is to be transferred from the executive to Parliament. The office of Attorney General is to be reformed to create a clearer separation of powers. House of Lords reform remains on the agenda and a review of elections and voting systems is under way. The government also envisages a national debate on the constitution and citizen's rights and responsibilities – a debate which ultimately might lead to a written constitution.

Barrett, Kevin, Defective Construction Work, Wiley-Blackwell, Hardback, £65.00, ISBN: 9780632059294
Defective construction work - whether it is inadequate design or faulty workmanship, or a combination of the two - is a frequent cause of legal disputes. It can involve not only the client, designer (architect or engineer) and contractor, but also on occasions the developer and his tenants, who will not be contractually linked to the designer or contractor. The situation is therefore frequently complicated. This book will examine the rights and obligations of all parties, and will include important recent case law and statutory provisions, including the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act.

Bell, Stuart; McGillivray, Donald, Environmental Law 7th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £28.99, ISBN: 9780199211029
The seventh edition features a new chapter on the law relating to air pollution and climate change, as well as more detailed coverage of environmental liability at national, EU, international, and transnational levels. Reference is made throughout to the influence of European and international organisations and legislation and offers enhanced introductory coverage of global dimensions. Topics are fully cross-referenced, allowing readers to follow key ideas through the book and to understand the interaction of law and the environment. The book is structured by theme and by sector and presented in a clear colour design, guiding the student through the subject.

Biggs, A.K.; Donnelly, K., A Step-by-Step Guide to Wills and Probate 4th ed, Callow Publishing, Paperback, £14.95, ISBN: 9781898899983
This book explains how to write a simple Will, and how to deal with the affairs of someone who has died. It is written in plain language, not lawyers' jargon, by authors who have many years' experience in the probate offices. It explains when you can do things yourself and when you need a solicitor.

Bohlander, Michael, The German Criminal Code: A Modern English Translation, Hart Publishing,

Paperback, £30.00, ISBN: 9781841138312

German substantive criminal law has been influential in many civil law countries, most notably in the Hispanic world. In the common law countries, not surprisingly because of the systemic differences in approach, its impact has been much less, if not negligible. This may be largely explained as a result of the language barrier. An up-to-date and reliable English translation of the German Criminal Code has been conspicuously missing for some time. This book presents a new English translation of the Strafgesetzbuch, (the Criminal Code), in its most recent amended form of August 2007.

Boon, Andrew; Levin, Jennifer, Ethics and Conduct of Lawyers in the United King- dom 2nd ed, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £32.00, ISBN: 9781841137087

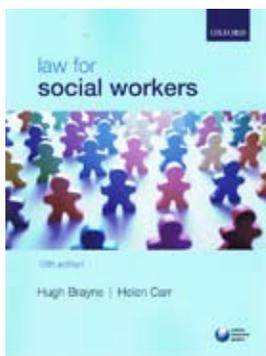

This is the second edition of a path-breaking text which successfully maps the complex regulatory environment in which the legal profession in England and Wales operates in the twenty-first century. In it the authors offer a critical overview of how the professional ethic of lawyers has been constructed and where its sources of ideals, organisation, power and culture are located.

Brand, Ronald A.; Herrup, Paul M., The 2005 Hague Convention on Choice of Court Agreements: Commentary and Documents, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780521878661

The Hague Convention on Choice of Court Agreements

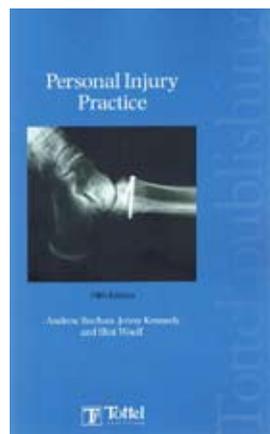

was concluded on June 30, 2005, and promises to become an important instrument in judicial relations throughout the world, making choice of forum clauses both more likely to be honoured and more likely to lead to judgments that will be recognized and enforced around the globe.

Brayne, Hugh; Carr, Helen, Law for Social Workers 10th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £26.99, ISBN: 9780199211166

For 18 years, Law for Social Workers has been the leading text in its field, providing students with exactly what they need in order to understand the legal framework in which social workers act. This book covers the laws that protect people from harm and enable social workers to assess needs and provide services to meet those needs. It provides clear information on key issues in social work law, such as the role of human rights and professional ethics, the potential conflict between a social worker's duties to society and the user, and the new focus on partnership working; law and the legal system (with detailed help on issues of discrimination, service users' capacity, and responsible information handling), plus the workings of the courts; working with children, including in the civil and criminal courts; working with adults; and legal issues relating to violence, family breakdown, housing, and immigration and asylum.

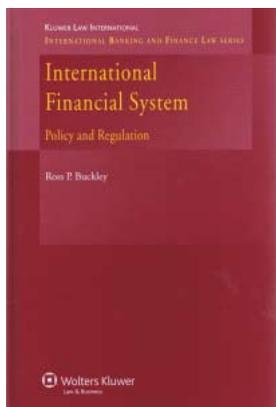

Buchan, Andrew; Kennedy, Jenny; Woolf, Eliot, Personal Injury Practice 5th ed, Tottel Publishing Ltd,

Paperback, £70.00, ISBN: 9781847661081

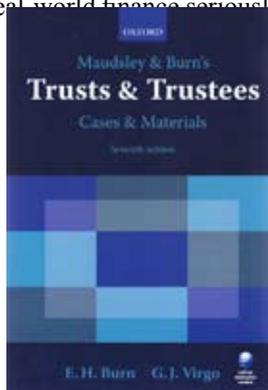

A step-by-step guide to personal injury litigation practice and procedure, taking into account the impact of the CPR and clarification of the legal aid position, written by a highly respected team of authors. It provides everything needed to conduct efficient and successful PI litigation for claimants and sets out authoritative guidance at every stage of proceeding from first interview with a client to the end of an appeal.

Buckley, Ross, International Financial System: Policy and Regulation, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £51.00, ISBN: 9789041127464

History has a way of repeating itself in financial matters because of a kind of sophisticated stupidity, John Kenneth Galbraith once wrote. In this superb new book, Ross Buckley suggests that the stupidity identified by Galbraith can be traced to the persistence of an inadequate legal system for the regulation of international finance – a system rooted in the failure of economists and investors to take the legal demands of real world finance seriously.

Burn, E. H.; Virgo, G. I., Maudsley & Burn's Trusts & Trustees: Cases & Materials 7th ed., Paperback, £34.99, ISBN: 9780199219049

This book links a wide range of cases and materials with a supporting explanation and commentary to promote a deeper understanding of the subject. It is an essential reference source for both students and practitioners with excellent footnotes and references to ensure the reader has access to all the most relevant primary and secondary sources.

Button, Maurice, A Practical Guide to PPP in Europe 2nd ed, City & Financial Publishing, Paperback, £135.00, ISBN: 9781905121298

This is the second edition of this title. It provides a valuable update on market developments and regulatory changes in the 23 jurisdictions that were covered in the 2006 book. Recognising the growth of PPP outside the UK, the new book also includes three additional countries: Bulgaria, Serbia and Slovakia.

Castendyk, Oliver; Dommering, Eibert; Scheuer, Alexander, European Media Law, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £201.00, ISBN:

9789041123473

European Union legislation concerning electronic communications media is firmly established as an essential part of the law in the field in Europe. From relevant provisions of the European Convention of Human Rights and the EC Treaty to numerous directives, the most recent being the Audiovisual Media Services Directive 2007, a supranational and interrelated regime lays an extensive groundwork on which practitioners, regulators, and service providers in all EU Member States must rely. Now, for all these and other interested parties, this book supplies the first in-depth commentary on EU media law, with detailed analysis of all important legislation and court decisions.

Chopping, David, Accounting Standards 2008-2009, CCH Editions, Paperback, £66.00, ISBN: 9781847980007

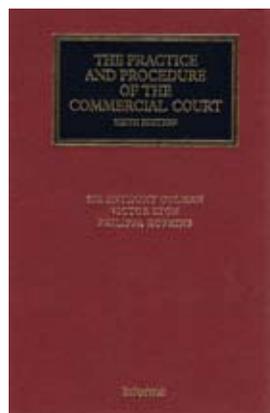

This is a major reference work which contains the complete text of all the documents issued by the ASB that are extant at 30 April 2008.

Clayton, Gina, Textbook on Immigration and Asylum Law 3rd ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £28.99,

ISBN: 9780199238668

Immigration and asylum are possibly two of the most contentious topics in current public life. Increasing political debate and numerous legal developments have meant that these issues are rarely out of the media, and public interest runs high. This unique book is the first to offer students new to the subject a complete guide to both immigration and asylum law, setting the standard for textbooks in this area.

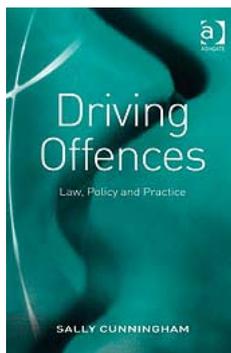

Colman, Anthony; Lyon, Victor; Hopkins, Philippa; Mance, Jessica, Practice and Procedure of the Commercial Court 6th ed, Informa Publishing, Hardback, £240.00, ISBN: 9781843117308

This essential book draws together in one source the multiplicity of rules, practice

directions and procedures applicable at the various stages of a commercial court action. As well as providing a clear explanation of each of the rules, the book also includes expert commentary and analysis on their practical implications.

Cunningham, Sally, Driving Offences: Law, Policy and Practice, Ashgate Publishing Ltd, Hardback, £60.00, ISBN: 9780754649052

This volume examines general driving offences, concentrating on those which punish risk-taking whilst driving, with the primary goal of increasing road safety. The focus is particularly on careless driving, dangerous driving, drink-driving and speeding, with a comparative approach incorporated into the discussion. Drawing on legal and psychological research, the book explains the legal definition of offences, discussing the policy behind the offences and examines how the law is applied in practice. It concludes with consideration of how the law in this area might be reformed - informed by the preceding discussion.

Dauvergne, Catherine, Law in Context: Making People Illegal: What Globalization Means for Migration and Law, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £45.00, ISBN: 9780521895088

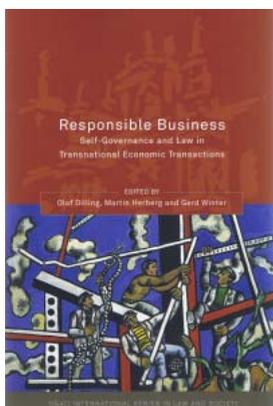

This book examines the relationship between illegal migration and globalization. Under the pressures of globalizing forces, migration law is transformed into the last bastion of sovereignty. This explains the worldwide crackdown on extra-legal migration and informs the shape this crackdown is taking. It also means that migration law reflects key facets of globalization and addresses the central debates of globalization theory. This book looks at various migration law settings, asserting that differing but related globalization effects are discernible at each location. The 'core samples' interrogated in the book are drawn from refugee law, illegal labor migration, human trafficking, security issues in migration law, and citizenship law. Special attention is paid to the roles played by the European Union and the United States in setting the terms of global engagement. The book's conclusion considers what the rule of law contributes to transformed migration law.

Dilling, Olaf; Herberg, Martin; Winter, Gerd, Responsible Business, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £22.50, ISBN: 9781841137803

With the globalisation of markets, the phenomenon of market failure has also been globalised. Against the backdrop of the territoriality of nation state jurisdictions and the slow progress of international law based on the principle of sovereignty this poses a serious challenge. However while the legal infrastructure of globalised markets has a firm basis in formal national and international law, the side effects of economic transactions on public goods such as the environment, human health and consumer interests often escape state-based regulation.

Emson, Raymond, Palgrave Law Masters: Evidence 4th ed, Palgrave Macmillan, Paperback, £24.99, ISBN: 9780230537477

From DNA profiling to consideration of the accused's previous conduct, the law of evidence is a fascinating amalgam of logic, common sense, philosophy and tactics. Evidence explains the fundamentals and looks at the principles behind it. It is aimed at satisfying the needs of undergraduates, LPC and BVC students.

Falcon Chambers; Clark, Wayne, Fisher and Lightwood's Law of Mortgage 12th ed 1st supplement, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £55.00, ISBN: 9781405734134

This supplement to Fisher and Lightwood's Law of Mortgage will fully update the twelfth edition to take account of all recent developments in legislation and cases.

Fay, Derrick; James, Deborah, The Rights and Wrongs of Land Restitution: Restoring What Was Ours, Routledge-Cavendish, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780415461085

This book offers a critical, comparative ethnographic, examination of land restitution programs. Addressing the practical and theoretical questions that arise, this book thereby offers a critical rethinking of the links between land restitution and property, social transition, injustice, citizenship, the state and the market.

Ferran, Eilis, Principles of Corporate Finance Law,

Oxford University Press, Paperback, £45.00, ISBN: 9780199230518

This book explores the relationship between law and corporate finance. Corporate finance theory seeks to understand how incorporated firms address the financial constraints that affect their investment decisions by using varied financial instruments that give holders different claims on the firm's assets. The book examines the key elements of the legal environment relating to corporate finance in the UK.

Flint, Andrew; Gibbons, David; Courtage, Sylvia, Tolley's Tax Office Directory 2008 2nd edition, LexisNexis Butterworths, Ringbound, £39.95, ISBN: 9780754534747

This complete guide brings together all the contact information needed by tax, financial and business advisers. It contains essential addresses, telephone numbers and fax numbers within Government revenue departments, all individually checked for accuracy. The Directory has been expanded to make the finding of information quick and easy, and to include added commentary.

Fox, David, Property Rights in Money, Oxford University Press, Hardcover, £95.00, ISBN: 9780198299455

Property Rights in Money is a systematic study of how proprietary interests in (ownership of and transactions in) money are transferred and enforced as part of a payment transaction. The book begins by considering the different kinds of property recognised by the law which perform the economic functions of money. It describes how the nature of an owner's proprietary interest differs depending on the kind of property that is treated as money. The main body of the work provides a detailed account of how property rights in money are transferred from one person to another, and the proprietary consequences when a transfer of money is ineffective. For example, the work considers the consequences for the passing of property in money when a person pays the money by mistake, through the fraud of another or through a breach of his or her duties as a trustee or a company director. The author provides a coherent explanation of the proprietary effect of money transfers whether made via a transfer of coins or banknotes or, as is now more common, through a bank payment system.

George, Carolyn; Wright, Stewart, CPAG: Housing Benefit and Council Tax Benefit Legislation 2007/2008: Supplement, CPAG, Paperback, £20.00, ISBN: 9781906076085

Draws together all the legislation governing housing benefit and council tax benefit, with an expert commentary. This book is recognised as the authoritative guide to a particularly complex and continually changing area of law. For this reason it is supplied automatically to all Social Security & Child Support Appeals tribunals (the body dealing with appeals against social security decisions). Practitioners need to use the latest annual edition in order to keep abreast of developments affecting claimants throughout England, Wales and Scotland. The new edition is completely revised and updated to cover the latest legislation and case law, reference to official guidance, coverage of how benefits are administered and help with practice. All information is fully indexed and cross-referenced.

Giliker, Paula; Beckwith, Siilas, Textbook Series: Tort 3rd ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Paperback, £24.95, ISBN: 9780421949805

Presents an accessible and current picture of the law of torts and is ideal for those approaching the subject for the first time

Ginsburg, Tom; Moustafa, Tamir, Rule By Law: The Politics of Courts in Authoritarian Regimes, Cambridge University Press,

Paperback, £18.99, ISBN: 9780521720410

Scholars have generally assumed that courts in authoritarian states are pawns of their regimes, upholding the interests of governing elites and frustrating the efforts of their opponents. As a result, nearly all studies in comparative judicial politics have focused on democratic and democratizing countries. This volume brings together leading scholars in comparative judicial politics to consider the causes and consequences of judicial empowerment in authoritarian states. It demonstrates the wide range of governance tasks that courts perform, as well as the way in which courts can serve as critical sites of contention both among the ruling elite and between regimes and their citizens.

Goode, Roy, Convention on International Interests in Mobile Equipment and Protocol thereto on Matters Specific to Aircraft Equipment: Official Commentary Revised ed, UNIDROIT, Paperback, £129.00, ISBN: 9788886449182

The Official Commentary by Professor Sir Roy Goode, C.B.E. QC has been an authoritative guide to the Cape Town Convention and Aircraft Protocol, providing an overview of the Convention and Protocol, a detailed analysis of each of the 99 Articles comprising the two instruments, together with 48 illustrative examples, and 12 annexes. It has become the indispensable companion to the Convention and Protocol. The Revised Edition, also by Sir Roy Goode, comprehensively updates the Official Commentary, which has been substantially revised and expanded, with additional illustrations, to take account of developments that have occurred in the six years since its original publication. These include the entry into force of the Convention and Protocol, the establishment of the International Registry and the issue of its Regulations and Procedures, and the development of practical experience with the complex declarations system and with substantial numbers of transactions under the Convention and Protocol.

Gray, Christine, International Law and the Use of Force 3rd ed, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780199239146
Since the publication of the second edition of Interna- tional Law and the Use of Force the law in this area has continued to undergo a fundamental reappraisal.

Guardiola-Rivers, Oscar, Being Against the World: Rebellion and Constitution, Birkbeck Law Press, Paperback, £27.99, ISBN: 9780415459464

How can we save politics from the politician? How can we save ourselves? This book looks at the example of those who leave the city and break the social contract, rebellious exiles and freedom fighters escaping the wheel of necessity, and learns from them.

seventh edition which brings the work up to date with the latest developments in the law. New material has been provided for 21 of the 15 main work chapters, including full treatment of the new edition of the Uniform Rules and Practice on Documentary Credits, UCP600. This classic text on the sale of goods, first published in 1868, offers the practitioner comprehensive, high level analysis of case law and legislation regarding the sale of goods in the UK and internationally. Its depth of coverage makes it an essential reference work for all common law and commercial practitioners, both barristers and solicitors. Includes contract law, property law, consumer protection, overseas sales, remedies, and the conflict of laws.

Havers, Patti, Havers' Companion to the Bar 2008 - 2009, Havers' Directories Ltd, Hardback, £95.00, ISBN: 9780954075279 Provides quick and easy access to unique, current and matchless data.

Hedley, Steven, Core Text Series: Tort 6th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £19.99, ISBN: 9780199234424

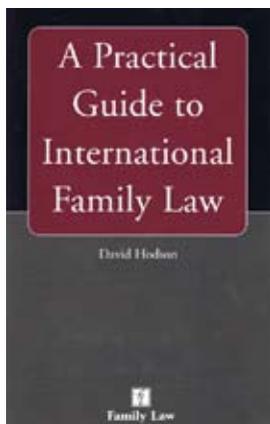

This sixth edition of Tort introduces the basic principles of this multi-faceted topic. The author's straightforward analysis covers a wide range of issues and provides a clear and concise exposition of tort law in an easy-to-use format. This text is an excellent introduction to this key area of undergraduate study, and can also be used as an ongoing revision and reference source to reinforce students' understanding throughout their studies.

Hewitson, Russell, The Conveyancers' Yearbook 2008, Shaw & Sons Ltd, Paperback, £24.50, ISBN: 9780721917603 The aim of this annual book remains to provide the busy property practitioner with an up-to-date and accessible ready reference guide to the most important changes in the law and practice of conveyancing (including the broader field of landlord and tenant) which have occurred during the 12 months preceding publication.

Hodson, David, A Practical Guide to International Family Law, Family Law, Paperback, £75.00, ISBN: 9781846610943

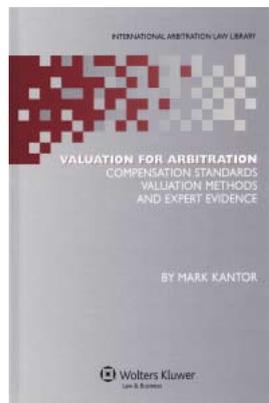

Provides the practitioner with comprehensive coverage of the international elements of the law, presuming a knowledge of the general law of children, ancillary relief etc. It is written in an accessible style (with checklists, flowcharts, highlighted boxes) for family lawyers in England and Wales who require guidance on good practice and procedure in respect of international matters.

Hoskins, Tony, The ICSA Corporate Social Responsibility Handbook: CSR and Non-financial Reporting for Business 2nd ed, ICSA Publishing Ltd, Paperback, £45.00, ISBN: 9781860724008

This new edition reflects the need for its readers to understand the non financial aspects of business – both from the perspective of corporate social responsibility and from the perspective of corporate reporting in the UK (and across the EU) in the form of the enhanced directors' report. It offers expert guidance to help businesses identify and assess relevant CSR issues. It clearly states the business case for introducing CSR, demonstrating the positive impact that CSR policies can have on the bottom line. This handbook will be of enormous value to anyone trying to develop an effective CSR strategy. It aims to not only inform the reader about CSR but also help them maximise the benefits of CSR to their business.

Kantor, Mark, Valuation for Arbitration: Compensation Standards, Valuation Methods and Expert Evidence, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £89.00, ISBN: 9789041127358

Provides a clear understanding of the nuts and bolts of valuation methods, drawing on a prodigious wealth of standards and procedures endorsed by internationally respected institutions, as well as on relevant decisions of a wide variety of local, national, and international fora. It reviews tools that arbitrators may employ to reach their final compensation assess-

Lee, Luke T.; Quigley, John, Consular Law and Practice 3rd ed, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £125.00, ISBN: 9780198298519

First published in 1961, Consular Law and Practice is a classic work of great interest and practical use to diplomats, consuls, and international lawyers. This fully updated third edition explains consular privileges and immunities and how consular functions are handled in time of peace and war, when the receiving state experiences civil war, or when the sending and receiving states break off diplomatic or consular relations. It provides valuable background by describing how consular law developed historically and how it became solidified in 1963 in the Vienna Convention on Consular Relations. It explores the many bilateral consular treaties which supplement the Vienna Convention, examines the traditional and changing role of consuls, explains diplomatic privileges and immunities, and discusses the function of consuls as ambassadors in cultural and scientific exchange.

Liu, Chengwei, Chinese Company and Securities Law: Investment Vehicles, Mergers and Acquisitions and Corporate Finance in China, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £119.00, ISBN: 9789041126191

This detailed, systematic explanation—by a practising lawyer at one of the biggest law firms in China—provides thorough and up-to-date guidance on the rules and procedures affecting investments, mergers and acquisitions, and listings in China today. Focusing on such practical matters as applications, regulatory requirements, and transactional procedures, the author leads the practitioner through the maze of interconnected national and local authorities, with lucid explanation of the lines drawn as to total investment amount, sector or category of business, industrial compliance, geographic location, and various imposed restrictions, with expert knowledge of when and under what circumstances various rules apply and when they do not.

Lloyd, Ian J, Information Technology Law 5th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £33.99, ISBN: 9780199299775

cally and professionally. Focussing primarily on developments within the UK and EU, along with some comparative international aspects, this book provides a broad-ranging introduction and analysis of the frequently uneasy relationship between the law and IT.

Mawrey, Richard B.; Riley-Smith, Tobias, Butterworths Commercial and Consum- er Law Handbook 5th ed, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £110.00, ISBN: 9781405734967

The fifth edition of Butterworths Commercial and Consumer Law Handbook contains an invaluable collection of UK statutory material and EC materials. This title has been brought fully up-to-date with all the latest commercial and consumer law changes since publication of the previous edition making it an essential reference source for practitioners involved with this area of the law.

McFarlane, Ben, The Structure of Property Law, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £28.00, ISBN: 9781841135595

This book provides a new perspective on property law. By setting out an underlying structure, it allows the reader to understand the fundamental principles of this difficult subject. By providing detailed coverage of individual topics, it shows how those principles apply in practice and provides a comprehensive resource for anyone studying, teaching, researching or practising in property law. The book is written in an accessible style, with frequent summaries and, in both its pages and companion web-site it makes use of helpful visual aids.

McGregor, Lindsay, Directors: Law and Practice 3rd ed, Tottel Publishing Ltd, Paperback, £88.00, ISBN: 9781845921927 friendly handbook makes extensive use of bullet points and checklists to guide directors through the relevant legal and compliance matters. The book will be a first point of reference for directors and their advisors in areas ranging from accounting responsibilities through to employment and health & safety issues. Formerly Tolley's Director's Handbook.

McKendrick, Ewan, Contract Law: Text, Cases and Materials 3rd ed., Oxford University Press, Paperback, £34.99, ISBN: 9780199208012

Authored by one of the leading authorities in the field, this account of the modern law of contract is a popular text with students and lecturers alike. Presenting a unique balance of 1/3 text to 2/3 cases and materials, the book can be used both as a stand alone text and as a companion volume to a short introductory textbook. Through this fresh approach to the subject, students obtain a firm understanding of the central doctrines and associated controversies.

Muchlinski, Peter; Ortino, Federico; Schreuer, Christoph, Oxford Handbook of International Investment Law, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £120.00, ISBN: 9780199231386

This aims to provide the first truly exhaustive account of the current state and future development of this important and topical field of international law. The Handbook is divided into three main parts. Part One deals with fundamental conceptual issues, Part Two deals with the main substantive areas of law, and Part Three deals with the major procedural issues arising out of the settlement of international investment disputes. The book has a policy-oriented introduction, setting the more technical chapters that follow in their policy environment within which contemporary norms for international foreign investment law are evolving. The Handbook concludes with a chapter written by the editors to highlight the major conclusions of the collection, to identify trends in the existing law, and to look forward to the future development of this field.

Onuf, Nicholas, International Legal Theory: Essays and Engagements, 1966-2006, Routledge-Cavendish, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780415775908

This is a collection of the author's articles and book reviews from the period, including some previously unpublished material. The book records the author's efforts to address important problems in international legal theory and to engage other scholars who were also addressing these problems. As well as demonstrating Onuf's own constructivist contribution to the theoretical dimension of international law and international relations, each piece is preceded by a short introduction which highlights the wider themes and developments which have occurred in the field of international law in the last forty years.

Orakhelashvili, Alexander, Interpretation of Acts and Rules in Public International Law, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £60.00, ISBN: 9780199546220

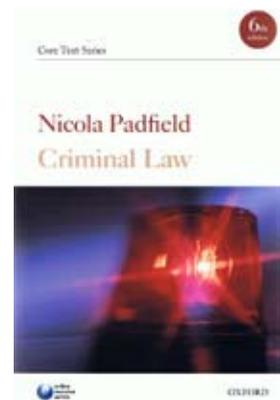

There are frequent claims that the international legal regulation of international law is uncertain, vague, ambiguous, or indeterminate, which does not support the stability, transparency, or predictability of international legal relations. This monograph examines the framework of interpretation in international law based on the premise of the effectiveness and determinacy of international legal regulation, which is a necessary prerequisite for international law to be viewed as law.

Ormerod, David, Smith & Hogan: Criminal Law 12th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £32.99, ISBN: 9780199202584

This is regarded as the leading doctrinal textbook on criminal law in England and Wales and has been for over 40 years. The book owes its consistent popularity to its accessible style, depth of analysis and breadth of coverage. It is an invaluable study aid for undergraduates and an essential reference source for criminal law practitioners.

Padfield, Nicola, Core Texts Series: Criminal Law 6th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £19.99, ISBN: 9780199533039

The Core Text Series provides students with reliable, concise, value-for-money coverage of key legal disciplines. Each title in the series seeks to strip its subject to the core - identifying the fundamental principles which underlie it and concentrating on the most important topics - while continuing to point out the intellectual challenges and difficulties within it.

The result is a range of texts which take you straight to the heart of their subject matter by providing a succinct and reliable account of the current law. Written by leading academic authors, titles in the series are invaluable guides for students of law at all levels. Core Text Criminal Law is now in its sixth edition, and this popular text offers a stimulating account of the key topics in criminal law illustrated through numerous case summaries. It also includes an exposition of recent academic commentary and Governmental Reforms including, homicide, murder and aiding and abetting.

Padfield, Nicola, Text and Materials on the Criminal Justice Process 4th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £27.99, ISBN: 9780199296538

This book provides a critical account of the criminal justice system, looking specifically at the role and impact of major players and institutions involved in each of the key decision-making stages. The topic of criminal justice is an area fit for intense debate. This book contains a wide and varied selection of materials: statutes, case law, empirical research and official and unofficial reports, as well as commonwealth comparative material, theoretical perspectives, and academic comment. These materials are drawn together and given clear and thorough reference in the illuminating narrative, providing a deep and rich perspective on the criminal justice process in England and Wales today.

Painter, Richard; Holmes, Ann E. M., Cases and Mate- rials on Employment Law 7th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £29.99, ISBN: 9780199235858

This is a complete reference resource for students of employment law. Well established as the most regularly updated casebook on the market, it offers a wide range of case law and statutes along with plenty of non-statutory material, providing students with a thorough grounding in the subject. In the seventh edition the authors have provided further contextual (historical, sociological, political and economic) analysis, particularly within the area of Human Rights, so that students can fully understand how the law is shaped by external factors. Most pertinent to this is the 2006 Age Discrimination Regulations, which are fully covered, along with a full update of the section on unfair dismissal.

Panizzon, Marion; Pohl, Nicole; Sauvé, Pierre, GATS and the Regulation of International Trade in Services, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780521896887

This collection of essays takes stock of the key chal-

Challenges that have arisen since the entry into force of the General Agreement on Trade in Services in the mid-1990s and situates them in the context of the WTO's Doha Development Agenda and the proliferation of preferential agreements addressing services today. The multidisciplinary approach provides an opportunity for many of the world's leading experts and a number of new analytical voices to exchange ideas on the future of services trade and regulation.

Penner, J.E., Core Text Series: The Law of Trusts 6th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £23.99, ISBN: 9780199540921

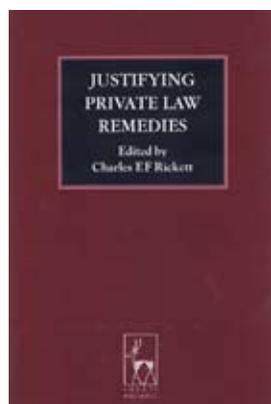

The Core Text Series takes the reader straight to the heart of the subject, providing a reliable and invaluable guide for students of law at all levels. Written by leading academics and renowned for their clarity, these concise texts explain the intellectual challenges of each area of the law. Lively and engaging, The Law of Trusts Core Text is an accessible read that does not skirt around complex or difficult issues. James Penner provides perceptive analysis and original and thought-provoking commentary to give students an excellent grounding in what is considered to be a difficult subject.

Rickett, Charles E.F., Justifying Private Law Remedies, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £65.00, ISBN: 9781841138145

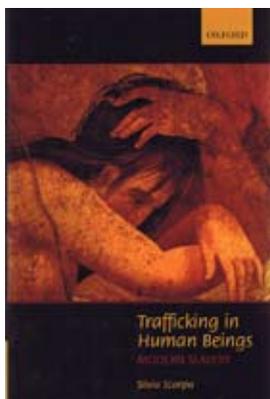

In August 2006 the third Australian Obligations Conference was hosted in Brisbane by the TC Beirne School of Law. The theme of the Conference was Justifying Private Law Remedies. This book contains a number of the papers delivered at that Conference, presented under several categories but all dealing with the fundamental issue of justification: General Concepts; Performance; Compensation; Punishment; and Restitution and Disgorgement. The authors are largely drawn from the legal academy, and include Canadian, Australian, British and New Zealand scholars. The collection will be of interest to all those concerned with the role, nature and place of remedies in the private law of the common law world.

Schabas, William, War Crimes and Human Rights: Essays on the Death Penalty, Justice and Account- ability, Cameron May Ltd, Hardback, £95.00, ISBN: 9781905017638

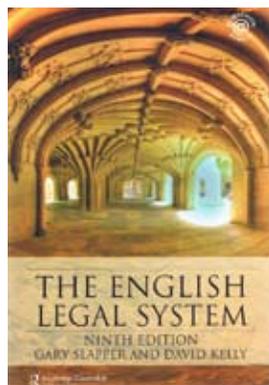

This is a collection of essays and articles on human rights law and international criminal law authored by William Schabas, one of the most prominent contemporary scholars and practitioners. Particular attention is given to such topics as the limitation and abolition of the death penalty, genocide and crimes against humanity, the establishment and operation of the International Criminal Court and the ad hoc international criminal tribunals, truth and reconciliation commissions, reservations to human rights treaties, and the implementation of international human rights norms in domestic law.

Slade, Elizabeth Tolley's Employment Handbook 22nd ed, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £97.00, ISBN: 9780754534570

The handbook is designed to assist you with every query you may have on routine subjects, such as maternity benefits and recruitment, and to provide expert guidance on more sensitive areas of the law such as sex discrimination and redundancy. The 22nd edition is up-to-date with all recent changes in employment law and will help you understand exactly how these developments affect you, your company, your employees or your clients.

Slapper, Gary; Kelly, David, The English Legal System 9th ed, Routledge-Cavendish, Paperback, £28.99, ISBN: 9780415459549

This best-selling textbook assists students of the English legal system in the achievement of a good understanding of the law, its institutions and processes and sets the law and system in a social context, presenting a range of critical views. Since the last edition of this book, the changes to the English legal system have been extensive and the new edition has been comprehensively revised and updated to take these developments into account.

Spitzer, Robert J., Saving the Constitution from Lawyers: How Legal Training and Law Reviews Distort Constitutional Meaning, Cambridge University Press, Paperback, £15.99, ISBN: 9780521721721

This book is a sweeping indictment of the legal profession in the realm of constitutional interpretation. The adversarial, advocacy-based American legal system is well suited to American justice, in which one-sided arguments collide to produce a just outcome. But when applied to constitutional theorizing, the result is selective analysis, overheated rhetoric, distorted facts, and overstated conclusions.

Sprack, John, A Practical Approach to Criminal Procedure 12th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £39.95, ISBN: 9780199535392

Now in its twelfth edition, A Practical Approach to Criminal Procedure provides a complete guide to the criminal process in England and Wales. It explains what happens before the accused appears in court, the way in which prosecutions are commenced, funding by the criminal defence service, and bail. It describes proceedings in the magistrates' court, including summary trial and committal for sentence, as well as the way in which the youth court operates. Committal and transfer for trial are clearly explained and the process by which serious offences are sent direct to the Crown Court is also studied. Trial on indictment is discussed in detail, as are sentencing and appeals. This new edition has been updated to incorporate recent amendments to the Criminal Procedure Rules, the dangerousness provisions of the CJA 2003, and all new sentencing guidelines issued by the Sentencing Guidelines Council.

Taverne, Bernard G., Petroleum, Industry and Governments: An Introduction to Petroleum Regulation, Economics and Government Policies 2nd ed, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £109.00, ISBN: 9789041126634

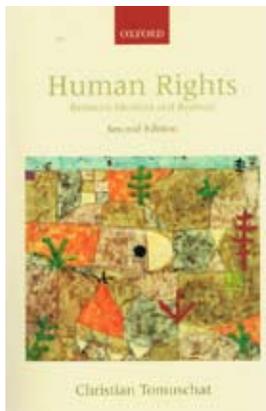

The dire predictions of recent decades about the atmospheric effects of burning fossil fuels are being increasingly borne out, and are evoking fuller acknowledgement from businesses and governments. Yet to a large extent institutional denial persists, as fuel consumption continues to soar and petroleum industry profits break all records. What is to be done? This book may not hold the ultimate answer, but it provides more information and solidly grounded insight into the scope of available options than the reader will find elsewhere. Hailed in its first (2000) edition as an indispensable resource for petroleum policymakers at every level, this book has been fully updated to take into account the full spectrum of recent developments—national, regional, and international—as well as presenting a newly calibrated survey of available policy options.

Tomuschat, Christian, Human

Rights: Between Idealism and Realism, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780199232741, Paperback, £29.99, ISBN: 9780199232758

This book presents human rights in action, focusing on their effectiveness as legal tools designed to benefit human beings. By combining conceptual analysis with an emphasis on procedures and mechanisms of implementation, this volume provides a multidimensional overview of human rights. After examining briefly the history of human rights, the author analyses the intellectual framework that forms the basis of their legitimacy. In particular, he covers the concept of universality and the widely used model that classifies human rights into clusters of different ‘generations’. The volume then moves on to analyse of the activities of the political institutions of the United Nations, the expert bodies established by the relevant treaties, and the international tribunals specifically entrusted at the regional level with protecting human rights. The author explains how and why the classical array of politically inspired informal devices has been enriched by the addition of international criminal procedures and by endeavours to introduce civil suits against alleged individual violators of human rights. Finally, the volume is rounded off by a consideration of the importance of humanitarian law as an instrument for the protection of human life and dignity and an exploration of the future of human rights.

Torreman, Paul, Intellectual Property and Human Rights, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £99.00, ISBN: 9789041126535

This book is an enhanced edition of Copyright and Human Rights - ISBN 9789041122780 published in 2004. In addition to updating six chapters of the earlier work, some 15 new chapters on other IP topics have been added. Human rights issues arise more and more often in an intellectual property context. Intellectual Property and Human Rights is the first comprehensive analysis of this emerging nexus of legal issues. In twenty-one incisive essays, well-known authorities in both intellectual property law and human rights law present in-depth analysis and discussion.

Triffterer, Otto, The Rome Statute of the International Criminal Court: Observers' Notes, Article by Article 2nd ed, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £240.00, ISBN: 9781841138886

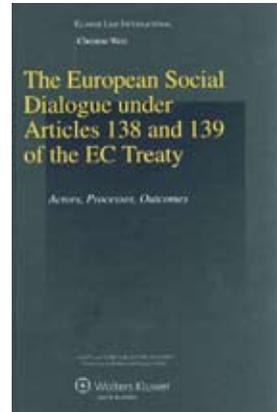

In the second edition of their

in the field of international criminal law give a detailed article-by-article analysis of both the Statute as well as the “Elements of Crime” and the “Rules of Procedure and Evidence”, adopted by the Assembly of States Parties in 2002, and the “Regulations of the Court”, adopted by the Judges of the ICC in 2004.

Welz, Christian, The European Social Dialogue Under Articles 138 and 139 of the EC Treaty, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £89.00, ISBN: 9789041127440

The author, who has extensive experience both in the academic and policy worlds of labour relations law at the EU level, describes, analyses, and assesses the European social dialogue from a combined theoretical and normative perspective. He applies theoretical strands stemming from industrial relations, EC law, and political theory to an understanding and assessment of the genesis, actors, processes, and outcomes of the European social dialogue through 2007, testing some of the leading theories and offering insights as he proceeds. He then investigates whether Articles 138 and 139 EC seem to engender good governance—i.e., whether such indicators as openness, participation, accountability, effectiveness, coherence, democratic legitimacy, and the contribution of the European social dialogue to a more subsidiary and proportionate decision-making at EU level are well-served by the ‘practice’ dimension of the social dialogue.

Road Traffic Offences Handbook

By Kenneth Carr, Frank Lockhart and Patrick Musters

Jordan Publishing, Softcover, ISBN: 9781853289187, £44.95, due August 2008

Road traffic offences take up more court time than any other type of case. This practical handbook gives practitioners guidance on the main road traffic offences. The authors draw on their own experience of both prosecuting and defending in cases to give a balanced account of proceedings. The book explains the law in a straightforward and easy to understand format coupled with practical tips - providing common sense solutions to the problems faced by practitioners dealing with such cases. In addition, the book deals with procedure in detail to show how the law works in practice, signposts the reader for further research and materials, offers useful tools including checklists and a table of offences for day-to-day practice and deals with all the new provisions in the upcoming Road Safety Act. This handbook will prove to be an excellent first point of reference for practitioners in the office, at the police station and in court.

Directors' and Officers' Liability Insurance

By Adolfo Paolini and Deepak Nambisan
Informa Publishing, Hardback, ISBN: 9781843116301, £230.00, due September 2008

The directors' and officers' liability insurance policy is extremely complex. It possesses its own features, principles and rules of law, making it unique both in its nature and implementation. This book scrutinises the origins and the rationale underlying D&O insurance, and provides answers to the question of protecting directors against the potential liabilities they may face. It provides clear understanding about D&O policies wording, exclusions and issues of misrepresentation. The information contained in this new book includes:- Nature and Legality of D&O Liability Insurance, D&O Exclusions, Directors' and Officers' Liability to Third Parties, Directors' Liability at Civil Law, D&O: Defence Costs Cover and Allocation, Aggregation Principles and D&O Cover and Reinsurance of D&O Policies.

Local Authority Liability 4th Edition

By John Morrell
Jordan Publishing, Hardback, ISBN: 9781846611278, £79.00, due September 2008

This well-established and popular work provides a comprehensive survey of the legal liability of local authorities, written by a team of leading solicitors and barristers specialising in local authority liability claims. It comprises an invaluable overview of the nature and extent of the liability of local Authorities together with specialist chapters on the core areas of local authority activity including Education, Social Services, Occupier's Liability, Employer's Liability, Highways, Environmental Damage and Trees. The new edition has been revised and updated to take account of the latest developments including claims in respect of mesothelioma following Barker v Corus UK Ltd and the Limitation and the effect of A v Hoare on the test for establishing claimant's date of knowledge and the courts' discretion to disapply limitation period. The continuing impact of the Human Rights Act 1998 including the development of new causes of action and the effect of existing common law is included, as is new case-law dealing with sections 41 (duty to maintain) and 58 (test for statutory defence) of the Highways Act 1980.

EC Securities Regulation 2nd Edition

By Niamh Moloney

Oxford University

Press, Hardback, ISBN:

9780199202744, £150.00,

due October 2008

In the wake of radical and far-reaching legal market, and institutional reforms which followed the completion of the Financial Services Action Plan, the EC regime for Securities Regulation now governs Community financial markets and has almost replaced national law in this area. This long-awaited second edition considers the extensive new regime in its legal, institutional, political, and market context and assesses the forces which have shaped it. Far-reaching reforms have followed from the coincidence of law-making reform under the Lamfalussy process with the regulatory reforms adopted under the Financial Services Action Plan. This book considers key measures, including the 2003 Prospectus Directive, the 2003 Market Abuse Directive, the 2004 Transparency Directive, the reforms to the UCITS regime, the groundbreaking 2004 Markets in Financial Instruments Directive, and the extensive developments in clearing and settlement. A new chapter addresses the treatment of gatekeepers. Detailed attention is given throughout the book to the extensive rules which apply at level 2 and to the level 3 process. New chapters have also been added on law-making and supervision, following the dramatic developments which followed the establishment of the Committee of European Securities Regulators. The influence wielded by the CESR on EC securities regulation is a key undercutting theme of the book.

Craies on Legislation 10th Edition

Edited By Daniel Greenberg

Sweet and Maxwell,

Hardback, ISBN:

9781847031389, £249.00,

due October 2008

Craies on Legislation is a standard work on the effect and interpretation of legislation. It provides detailed guidance on assessing legislative intention and is a key reference tool for lawyers who have to administer, advise, argue or adjudicate on Acts of Parliament and statutory instruments. It is a work of direct practical use for barristers, solicitors and the judiciary. It steers them clearly through a range of critical issues, such as the interpretation of words, what may and may not be implied if the meaning is unclear, and what sources of information outside a statute may be used to throw light on its meaning. The previous edition has been regularly cited by Parliamentary joint committees and relied on in prominent cases, including Jackson v Attorney General concerning the legality of the legislative ban on hunting. The new 9th edition considers all recent developments, in particular a number of cases concerning s.3 of the Human Rights Act 1998 and developments around the House of Lords decision in Pepper v Hart.

Employment Covenants and Confidential Information: Law, Practice and Technique 3rd Edition

By Kate Brealey and

Selwyn Bloch

Tottel Publishing,
Hardback, ISBN:
9781845920418, £103.55,
due October 2008

Written by two specialist employment law practitioners, this book provides a comprehensive yet practical analysis of the law and good practice, setting-out the law, practice and appropriate strategy from both the employer's and employee's point of view. It offers guidance on how to prevent competitive conflicts arising and what to do when they occur, what activities an employee or ex-employee may undertake and what they may not, practical steps to avoid potential conflict when drawing up a contract and the remedies available for breach of contract. The new edition also contains brand new coverage of fiduciary duties, team moves and evidence gathering, as well as updated information on springboard injunctions, mediation, structure of employment contracts, Inducements to employees to remain and multi-jurisdictional covenants.

Law and the Internet 3rd Edition

Edited by Lillian Edwards
Hart Publishing, Softcover,
ISBN: 9781841138152,
£30.00, due September

2008

This is the third edition of a successful book which offers students and practitioners an up-to-date overview of developments in Internet law and practice. The editors have once again assembled a team of specialist authors to write about those aspects of Internet law which are of special importance in the global regulation of the Internet and focussed around four principal themes - e-commerce, privacy and data protection, cyber-crime and Internet Security, and intellectual property. This edition incorporates for the first time new areas such as data protection, privacy and electronic surveillance, cyber crime and cyber security, jurisdiction and dispute resolution online, forensic evidence issues, open source licenses and the IP problems of search engines. The section on IP contains clearer and more comprehensive analysis of digital media issues and IP and the new edition also takes account of all new cases and legislation, including the draft of the revised EC electronic commerce directive and the Audio Visual Media Services Directive. This book will be essential reading for students, teachers and practitioners interested in internet law and practice.

Jackson's Matrimonial Finance and Taxation 8th Edition

By Clive R Newton and Deepak Nagpal
LexisNexis Butterworths, Hardback, ISBN:
9781405725347, £180.00,
due October 2008

Jackson's Matrimonial Finance and Taxation is an authoritative specialist text covering all aspects of financial problems arising from the breakdown of a marriage. Providing family law practitioners with an in-depth treatment of the subject, this unique book explains the principles applied by the courts in considering matters of finance, examines those agreements reached by parties out of court, and deals in detail with cases affecting all sections of society. The work deals with the making and the effects of orders and agreements and attempts to direct the practitioner to the right order for their client. There is analysis of the latest legislation, including The Family Proceedings (Amendment) Rules 2006; Gender Reassignment Act 2006; Civil Partnership Act 2004; Gender Recognition Act 2004; Gender Recognition (Application Fees) Order 2006; and Proceeds of Crime Act 2002. There is also Comprehensive case law coverage, including the important recent House of Lords decision in Miller and MacFarlane, White v White, and important case law thereafter. The guidance in this book is comprehensive, providing you with coverage of all the relevant areas including: powers and reliefs; transfers and settlements of property; the matrimonial home; pensions offsetting; pensions earmarking and splitting; business and family breakdown; statutory forms; precedents and tables.

A Practical Approach to Conveyancing 10th edition

By Robert Abbey and Mark Richards

Oxford University

Press, Paperback, ISBN:

9781847033314, £34.99,

due August 2008

Drawing on the authors' own experiences in legal practice, which together spans over 50 years, A Practical Approach to Conveyancing offers a detailed exposition of the key principles and procedures of both residential and commercial conveyancing. Following the progress of a typical conveyancing transaction from first receiving instructions and undertaking pre-contract searches and enquiries right through to completion, the book seeks to offer the reader practical guidance on each stage of the transaction and provides practical solutions to common problems which may arise during the conveyancing process. Written by two experts in the field, this text offers a detailed and applied overview of the key principles and procedures involved in both commercial and residential conveyancing transactions making it essential reading for students, qualified practitioners and licensed conveyancers alike. Sample documentation throughout ensures students are fully prepared and familiar with the precedent documents, clauses and forms likely to be encountered in practice. Key point summaries and practical checklists highlight the most relevant and important points, ensuring students can quickly reference key information during their course and when revising. Additional teaching support is available on the Online Resource Centre which features a test bank of multiple choice questions useful for testing students' knowledge of topics covered in the book.

Corporate Criminal Liability 2nd Edition

By Amanda Pinto and Martin Evans

Sweet and Maxwell,

Hardback, ISBN:

due August 2008

With the recent introduction of the Corporate Manslaughter and Corporate Homicide Act 2007, the criminal liability of companies has entered a new era. The second edition of this practical guide to corporate criminal liability updates its coverage in light of the new act and other recent developments. It deals with all offences where corporations can have a criminal liability, from Companies Act offences and those under the Financial Services & Markets Act 2000 to fraudulent trading and corruption, as well as corporate manslaughter. It reviews the legal background, considers who is responsible, discusses specific offences, and examines the implications of recent case law. It provides practical treatment of the major offences affecting companies and gathers together a wide range of material, enabling immediate reference on procedure, evidence and law in a single source. It examines the liability of company directors, analyses the implications of the Corporate Manslaughter and Corporate Homicide Act 2007 and explains the “relevant duty of care” created by the 2007 Act. It sets out the relevant parts of leading authorities on the subject and is written in a readable style – suitable even for non-legal professionals.

By Leslie Thomas, Danny Friedman and Louise Christian

Legal Action Group,
paperback, ISBN:
9781903307571, £48.00,
due August 2008

There are few things as traumatic as the sudden death of a loved one. When that death occurs as a result of misconduct or negligence by a public body, the bereaved are faced with an overwhelming desire to discover the truth as to how and why their loved one died. The practitioner called on to represent grieving families and friends is faced with an awesome responsibility. Inquests: a practitioner’s guide is the only text that examines practice and procedure of the coroner’s court from the point of view of practitioner acting for the bereaved. Since the last edition of this book, the article 2 duty to provide full investigation into death in certain circumstances has transformed the law of inquests. This edition contains the most comprehensive analysis of the impact of the European Convention on Human Rights on coronial law with practical guidance on how to use the law. This unique guide contains a wealth of tips and tactical guidance from leading practitioners in the field of inquest law. There is a digest of resources and guidelines necessary to hold public authorities to account, guidance on how to approach narrative verdicts, with supporting precedents, and practical advice and information on preliminary steps, funding, disclosure and hearings.

FROM WIG AND PEN TO COMPUTER
REFLECTIONS OF A LEGAL AUTHOR

By Eric Stockdale

ISBN: 97808549002253

Hardback pp
£19.95

Eric Stockdale left school at 14 and went to work in wartime London. After two years in the post-war Army he was called to the Bar at the age of 21 and appointed a Circuit judge shortly after his 43rd. birthday. He took early retirement at 65 and then heard Criminal Injuries Compensation appeals for ten years.

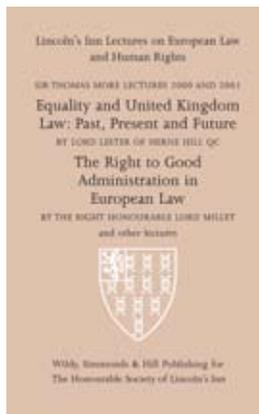

When he became a barrister in 1950 he was a young man with an unusual background, which included 'a pathetic attempt' (his words) to follow several relatives into journalism. After his failure to break into Fleet Street, Eric Stockdale decided to earn his living from chambers in the adjoining Temple. His ability to write led to the publication of many articles, followed by books on criminal justice and historical topics, culminating with two works inspired by the links of many leaders of the American Revolution with his own Inn of Court, the Middle Temple. As this book is about his experiences as a legal author, it also deals briefly with his life in the law and describes how he became interested in the different subjects about which he wrote.

Sir Igor Judge, in his Foreword, comments: 'This is a remarkable story by any standards,' and adds, 'much is written humorously.' The reader, whether lawyer or layman, is likely to concur with that judgment.
