MAJOR NEW TITLES THIS MONTH

Barnes, Barbara, Archbold Magistrates Courts Criminal Practice 2009, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Hardback & Supplement, £189.00, ISBN: 9781847037114

Designed exclusively for the magistrates' court, Archbold Magistrates' Courts Criminal Practice 2009 brings all the authority, trust and reassurance of the Archbold name into the magistrates' court. Everything you need to work in the magistrates' court is presented in an order that follows the progress of a case – including the complex procedures for the youth court and the recent, extensive legislative changes. Up-to-date sentencing tariffs and guidance on sentencing, including discussion of aggravating and mitigating factors is also included.

Beatson, Jack; Grosz, Stephen; Hickman, Tom; Singh, Rabinder; Palmer, Stephanie, Human Rights: Judicial Protection in the United Kingdom, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Hardback, £115.00, ISBN: 9780421902503

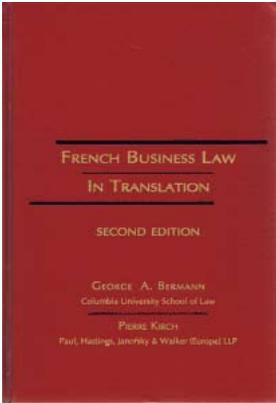

This new major work provides the practitioner with a comprehensive and discursive analysis of the Human Rights 1998 and the case law that has grown up around it since implementation. Whilst there are a number of books that concentrate on the various Convention articles, there is no detailed and authoritative treatment of specific sections of the Human Rights Act. Practitioners and academics needing guidance on issues such as the breadth of the courts' interpretative power under section 3 of the Human Rights Act, standards of review and Convention principles are forced to turn to academic journals. For the first time this material will be covered in a major human rights title.

Bermann, George, French Business Law in Translation 2nd ed, Juris Publishing, Hardback, £175.00, ISBN: 9781578232451

French Business Law in Translation constitutes a unique collection of translations of those French laws that really matter in an international business context. It presents a bilingual version of the French laws and regulations which the authors have condensed from tens of thousands of pages of text down to the “essence” of the law in each of the fifteen subject areas composing the work. They refer to those parts of the applicable rules and regulations in French law that are of recurrent importance to business professionals and legal practitioners involved in international business. By adding the relevant French text in a column directly across from the translation into English, this 2nd edition has a whole new dimension which enhances the work’s value and makes it an invaluable resource in legal linguistics for international practitioners and academics. The selection of texts has been made by members of the Paris law firm of Paul, Hastings, Janofsky & Walker (Europe) LLP, under the direction of Pierre Kirch. A team of advanced French and American law students at Columbia University Law School, supervised by Professor George Bermann, have prepared the basic translations. The definitive translations and chapter introductions have been prepared by the authors.

Bryant, John, Guide to the Housing and Regeneration Act 2008, National Housing Federation, Paperback, £60.00, ISBN: 9780862975401

The Housing and Regeneration Act 2008 creates an entirely new framework for funding and regulating affordable housing, one that is likely to last for many years to come. It sweeps away the old regulatory structure, abolishes the Housing Corporation, and creates two new bodies: the Homes and Communities Agency and the Tenant Services Authority. This book includes the full text of the Act, including the Schedules, together with commentary explaining how the Act is likely to work, how different parts of it interact, and highlighting how it addresses the key issues and concerns raised during its passage through parliament.

Burns, Angela; Walsh, Nikki, Criminal Justice and Immigration Act 2008: Guide to the New Law, Law Society Publishing, Paperback, £44.95, ISBN: 9781853286896

The Criminal Justice and Immigration Act 2008 introduces important new provisions that affect current practice. This thorough yet concise guide provides an analysis of the provisions with clear explanations of how the law will work in practice, making reference to appropriate cases, and new and existing legislative provisions as necessary.

Campbell, Roderick, Methods of Securing Development Land Overage, Northumbria Law Press, Paperback, £24.99, ISBN: 9780955328664

The Property Solutions series is aimed at property professionals who need to get up to speed quickly on a particular topic in property law and practice. Each guide has been written by a practitioner, and is designed to be concise enough for principles to be taken at one reading, but detailed enough to provide a source of reference for that topic. As well as being relevant to those working in the property industry the series will be useful to students and those seeking a professional qualification

Cave, Rebecca; Harris, Toby; Wunschmann-Lyall, Iris, Tottel's Core Tax Annuals: Capital Gains Tax 2008/2009, Tottel Publishing Ltd, Paperback, £35.00, ISBN: 9781847661241

Covering all the capital gains reliefs and exemptions that apply to individuals and trustees, with a brief summary of those that apply to companies, this readily accessible book focuses on the issues and scenarios most commonly encountered by tax advisers.

Chidell, Ray, CCH Capital Allowances 2008-09, CCH

Editions, Paperback, £84.95, ISBN: 9781847980359

Capital Allowances 2007-08 will assist you in maximising the tax relief available to your clients and will therefore highlight the value of your service. Includes a section on buying and selling property, with explanations advising when and how allowances can be claimed on fixtures, and why this needs to be considered before exchanging contracts, and a chapter covering common areas of difficulty, detailing changes to first year allowances, short and long life assets, anti-avoidance legislation and treatment of storage trades.

Chidell, Ray; Clift, Julie; Johnson, Trevor, CCH British Tax Guide: Income Tax 2008-09, CCH Editions, Paperback, £99.95, ISBN:

9781847980281

The British Tax Guide series of books featuring clear presentation, extensive cross-references to other sources, numerous examples and well-respected authors has raised the standard of annual tax commentary books in the way that the Red and Green Books raised the standard of annual tax legislations books.

Chiu, Iris H.-Y., Regulatory Convergence in EU Securities Regulation, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £85.00, ISBN: 9789041126689

EU securities regulation has embarked on an unprecedented movement towards regulatory convergence, which is seen as necessary to facilitate a single capital market. This outstanding book offers a new approach to the legal issues raised by the drive for convergence in securities regulation. The author offers a deeply informed and insightful examination of the implications for regulatory and policy design if regulatory convergence were to be rigorously implemented. After setting the development of the idea of regulatory convergence in historical context and defining what the term means, she goes on to investigate the web of legal issues surrounding the concept and its implementation.

Clift, Julie, CCH British Tax Guide: Inheritance Tax 2008-09, CCH Editions, Paperback, £86.95, ISBN: 9781847980335

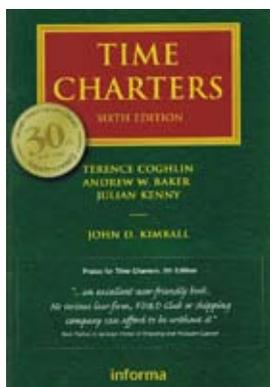

The British Tax Guide series is a major new series of annual books from CCH

finally providing you with a genuine alternative to more established similar titles from other publishers. British Tax Guide: Inheritance Tax 2008-09 contains a full commentary on this complex tax. Containing exhaustive cross-references to legislation, cases and official guidance manuals, this handbook is also designed to remain practical for everyday use. It contains numerous worked examples throughout together with extensive topic indexes, case tables and legislation finding lists. Full cross-references to the British Tax Reporter are also provided.

Coghlin, Terence; Baker, Andrew W.; Kenny, Julian; Kimball, John D., Time Charters 6th ed, Informa Publishing, Hardback, £395.00, ISBN:

Wildy's Book of the Month - October 2008

Acclaimed as the standard reference work in its field, the new edition of Time Charters provides a comprehensive treatment of the law of time charters, accessible alike to shipowners, charterers, P&I Clubs and other insurers, and shipping lawyers. It provides full coverage of both English and American law, updated for important decisions since the previous edition.

Collier, Richard; Sheldon, Sally, Fragmenting Fatherhood: A Socio-Legal Study, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £30.00, ISBN: 9781841134178

Fragmenting Fatherhood provides the first sustained engagement with the way that fatherhood has been understood, constructed and regulated within English law. Drawing on a range of disparate legal provisions, and material from diverse disciplines, it sketches the major contours of the figure of the father as drawn in law and social policy, tracing shifts in legal and broader understandings of what it means to be a 'father' and what rights and obligations should accrue to that status.

Comyn, Amanda-Joyce, Taxation in the Republic of Ireland 2008 7th ed, Tottel Publishing Ltd, Paperback, £98.10, ISBN: 9781847660596

This is an excellent introduction to the Irish tax system that will prove invaluable to taxation practitioners on both sides of the Irish sea. This popular book covers corporation tax, capital acquisitions tax, capital gains tax, VAT and residential-property tax including the latest legislation and key developments.

De Baere, Gert, Constitutional Principles of EU External Relations, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £50.00, ISBN: 9780199546688

The volume explores the marked differences between the complex and rapidly changing legal organization of EU external relations and the EU's 'internal' constitutional order. This is a study of the extent to which foreign policy is legally sui generis within the sui generis constitutional order of the EU, and of how the common foreign and security policy is in turn sui generis within the foreign policy structure of the Union. It provides both an exploration of the constitutional reality of EU foreign policy and theoretical analysis which suggests possibilities for reform.

Debattista, Charles, Bills of Lading in Export Trade, Tottel Publishing Ltd, Hardback, £240.00, ISBN: 9781845923150

This major textbook covers the commercial contracts relating to shipping, addressing the sale, finance and carriage contracts as a single commercial transaction by focusing on the Bill of Lading. It places the study of the Bill of Lading in the commercial context in which it is normally used and shows the practical importance of the relevant rules. Restructured and extensively rewritten, the new edition incorporates significant developments in legislation, international conventions and contractual rules.

Dixon, Martin, Modern Land Law 6th ed, Routledge-Cavendish, Paperback, £24.95, ISBN: 9780415458443

This book provides a user-friendly yet comprehensive account of this foundation subject. Explaining land law in an understandable and logical fashion, this new edition has been substantially rewritten and revised to take into account developments since the publication of the last edition in 2005.

Dobson, Paul; Stokes, Rob, Commercial Law Textbook 7th ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Paperback, £27.95, ISBN: 9780421901308

Previously entitled Sale of Goods and Consumer Credit, this new edition presents a clear and detailed account of commercial law, covering the fundamental principles and how the law works in practice. The new edition concentrates on topics common to the majority of undergraduate law courses such as sale of goods, consumer credit, agency, and international trade and finance, and also includes topical and relevant practical examples to help draw out key principles.

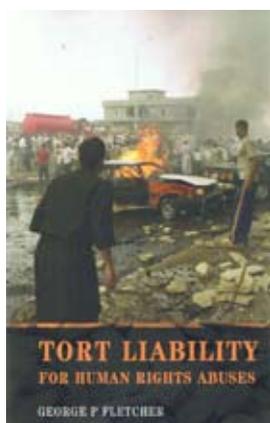

Dugdale, Anthony; Jones,

advice for when an easement has been disturbed, solutions to problems that may arise in practice are clarified.

Gillies, Lorna E., Electronic Commerce and International Private Law: A Study of Electronic Consumer Contracts, Ashgate Publishing Ltd, Hardback, £60.00, ISBN: 9780754648550

Electronic Consumer Contracts and International Private Law is concerned with international private law rules for electronic consumer contacts. It deals with three key areas of consumer protection - firstly the maximization of consumer protection via the consumer's jurisdiction and law, and secondly by proposing that a new connecting factor be used to improve the efficiency of juridical protection for consumers who contract with foreign sellers by electronic means. Thirdly, the book recommends that existing jurisdiction and choice of law rules should be amended further to provide a basis for the consumer to sue in his own jurisdiction and for the law of the consumer's domicile to apply.

Golding, Jon, Tolley's Inheritance Tax 2008 - 2009, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £99.95, ISBN: 9780754534600

This comprehensive guide is your vital point of reference for accessible, accurate information on liabilities, tax mitigation and compliance. It is a practical work including many worked examples to clarify legislation where computations are involved, with commentary in the form of notes to the examples to help explain complex points. With big changes to IHT announced in the PBR, a new edition of this up-to-date book is a must for practitioners.

Gordon, Keith; Johnson; Trevor, CCH British Tax Guide: Capital Gains Tax 2008-09, CCH Editions, Paperback, £86.95, ISBN: 9781847980328

for learning and revision. The book is particularly accessible to students new to the subject and those studying EU Law as part of any business related degree. It has been fully updated to reflect recent changes to the law.

Klotz, James, Power Tools for Negotiating International Business Deals 2nd ed, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £67.00, ISBN: 9789041127136

Power Tools for Negotiating International Deals is a nuts and bolts guide. This book is the handbook read before the negotiation. It is also to be used during the negotiation when a decision to stand firm or compromise must be made. Power Tools for Negotiating International Deals shows how international business works, where to stake high ground, what concessions to make, and what mistakes to avoid. Filled with checklists and case examples, these are the power tools needed for negotiating business deals in the global marketplace.

Klotz, James M., International Sales Agreements: An Annotated Drafting and Negotiating Guide 2nd ed, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £102.00, ISBN: 9789041127310

This is the second edition, expanded and updated, of an enormously useful book that guides practitioners through the process of drawing up sound agreements for the international sale of goods. Organised according to the framework of an annotated agreement, with detailed commentary on each provision, it incorporates hundreds of model clauses designed to cover every contingency.

Kolb, Robert; Hyde, Richard, An Introduction to the International Law of Armed Conflicts, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £30.00, ISBN: 9781841137995

This book provides a modern and basic introduction to a branch of international law constantly gaining in importance in international life, namely international humanitarian law (the law of armed conflict). It is constructed in a way suitable for self-study.

Kroes, Neelie; Monti, Mario; van Miert, Karel, EC State Aid Law: Liber Amicorum in Honour Francisco Santolalla, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £109.00, ISBN: 9789041127747

A uniquely important contribution to the debate on EC State aid, this book captures

the direct knowledge and experience of twenty-six current and former Commission State aid litigators, offering detailed ‘insider’ analysis of EC State aid court cases, as well as related internal legal issues, between 1994 and 2008. The book brings together both legal and economic analysis, with detailed reflections on aspects of both substantive legal rules and procedural law. It also offers, over and above the specific interest of the contributions it contains, invaluable insights into the working methods of the Commission Legal Service. This collaborative work was conceived and realized by its authors as a mark of recognition, and a gesture of respect and friendship, for Francisco Santaolalla, on the occasion of his retirement from the Commission after fourteen years’ service as Director of the State aid team.

MAJOR NEW TITLES THIS MONTH – Continued

This book is aimed at all tax practitioners, corporation tax managers, company secretaries and finance directors who cannot afford to be without vital guidance on new legislation and who wish to minimise their non-compliance liabilities.

Levine, Marshall; te Haar, Roger, Construction Insurance and UK Construction Contracts 2nd ed, Informa Publishing, Hardback, £265.00, ISBN: 9781843117315

This is a new edition of an eminently practical book on construction insurance, and was born out of collaboration between a construction law specialist and an insurance law specialist. The book was originally conceived because the construction industry, including architects, quantity surveyors, project managers, clients, contractors and lawyers advising insurers, need to have a practical reference book to turn to, which covers the interaction between construction and insurance subjects. This second edition comprises of entirely new content, with up-to-date commentary on all the most important contracts, regulations and policies.

Leyland, Peter; Anthony, Gordon, Textbook on Administrative Law 6th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £26.99, ISBN: 9780199217762

The sixth edition of Textbook on Administrative Law has been substantially rewritten to provide a concise and topical account of this fast-moving area of law. The guiding theme for this acclaimed textbook is how accountability is achieved through a ‘grievance chain’ comprising Parliament, informal methods of dispute resolution, ombudsmen, tribunals, and particularly, by the courts through judicial review. This edition remains as accessible as ever, fully exploring the core areas of the subject and setting them in a contextual framework. In addition to wide-spread recognition as an invaluable core text for LLB and CPE students, Leyland and Anthony is a stimulating introduction to administrative law for postgraduates and for non-law undergraduates with an interest in the field.

Louka, Ellie, Water Law and Policy: Governance Without Frontiers, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £41.00, ISBN: 9780195374131

This book examines water management in Europe, and

the difficulties and policy dilemmas involved in creating integrated water management institutions. This is the only overall assessment of the development and evolution of European Water Law and Policy. The book is unique in that it concentrates on institutional development, norms and guiding principles, implementation strategies, and public participation mechanisms at the local level, EU level, and globally.

Maas, Robert, Taxation of Employments 2008/09, Tottel Publishing Ltd, Paperback + eBook, £103.55, ISBN: 9781847660794

Originally announced with ISBN - 9781847661562

2008-09, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £130.00, ISBN: 9781405734158

Whillans Worldwide Taxes provides an essential first point of reference for UK tax practitioners who are advising corporate or personal clients on their overseas tax position. Written from a UK perspective, using a clear, consistent, easy-to-use format, the book highlights the practical issues and pitfalls for each country, as well as providing checklists of notable differences to the UK tax system. There are about 6-8 pages per country, and it covers both corporate and personal taxes. The book covers Europe, the US and major trading nations.

Paolini, Adolfo; Nambisan, Deepak, Directors' and

Officers' Liability Insurance, Informa Publishing, Hardback, £230.00, ISBN: 9781843116301

The directors' and officers' liability insurance policy is extremely complex. It possesses its own features, principles and rules of law, making it unique both in its nature and implementation. This book scrutinises the origins and the rationale underlying D&O insurance, and provides answers to the question of protecting directors against the potential liabilities they may face. It provides clear understanding about D&O policies wording, exclusions and issues of misrepresentation.

Paterson, Janet; Holme, Richard, Tolley's Property Tax Planning 2008-09,

LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £89.95, ISBN: 9780754535386

Property advice is often high-risk work due to the high transaction value and because all taxes are involved including SDLT and VAT. A key risk area is missing the interaction of one tax with another. This new title considers the interactions of different taxes, outlining all the angles in any transaction to ensure you give the best advice.

Pearl, Patricia; Goodman, Andrew, Small Claims Procedure: A Practical Guide 4th ed, EMIS Professional Publishing, Paperback, £22.00, ISBN: 9781858113944
There is very little of authority published for professionals on practice and procedure in small claims matters, at a time when the size of limits means that more and more actions will be handled by these relatively informal procedures. New rules and policies on mediation necessitate a new edition. At the same time, the nature of the work is such that that same book must be accessible to those working within the legal system without legal training.

Prest, Wilfred, William Blackstone: Law and Letters in the Eighteenth Century, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £29.99, ISBN: 9780199550296
Lawyer, judge, politician, poet, teacher, and architect, William Blackstone was a major figure in eighteenth century public life. Over his varied and brilliant career he made profound contributions to English politics, law, education, and culture through involvements in legal practice, Parliament, and the University of Oxford. Throughout he also remained engaged in his society's literary and spiritual life. The present biography makes full use of a considerable body of new evidence that has emerged in recent years to shed light on the life, work, and times of this neglected figure in English and American history. Exploring Blackstone's family upbringing and private life, his political activities and ideology, his religious outlook and championing of the enlightenment, Prest weaves together the threads of an extraordinary mind and career.

Principles of International Commercial Contracts, and the Principles of European Contract Law. The issues addressed in the book include: the basis for the right to claim damages, definition and purpose of damages, the idea of limiting damages, principles underlying the award of damages, classification of losses and heads of recoverable losses, causation, foreseeability, mitigation, standards of proving losses and methods of calculating and determining the amount of damages. The book draws on the experience of some major legal systems in dealing with contract damages as well as on the body of cases and scholarly writings on the international instruments. In doing so, the book attempts to provide a justification for the existing rules on damages, highlights the problems in their interpretation and application, and proposes solutions to the existing problems in the light of relevant policies and goals pursued by the international instruments. The work will be of interest to practitioners involved in international commercial transactions, scholars and students interested in international commercial and comparative contract law.

Schooten, International Governance and Law: State Regulation and Non-state Law, Edward Elgar Publishing Limited, Hardback, £59.95, ISBN: 9781847207272

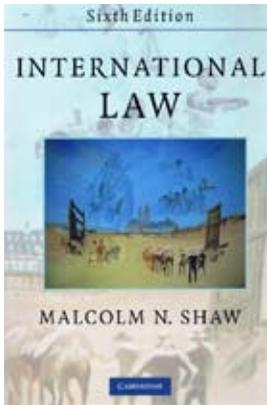

In this book, international scholars in various fields of law, as well as socio-legal studies, address the question to what extent non-state law currently influences state regulation, and what the consequences of non-state law are likely to be for state regulation. Drawing lessons for the state legislature and state regulators, this innovative book will be of great interest to academic researchers and post graduate students in the fields of law, regulation, legal sociology, legal theory, law and economics, and environmental law.

INNER TEMPLE BOOK PRIZE 2008

In 2008 the Inner Temple is celebrating the 400th anniversary of the grant by King James I of the Temple's Royal Charter. The Inner Temple as part of the 2008 renewal of its commitment to furthering the study and development of the law and the education and training of those who practise or intend to practise it, has established a valuable prize, to be known as the Inner Temple Book Prize. There will in fact be two prizes, one of £10,000 and one for "young authors" of £2,500, to be awarded for the first time in December 2008, and thereafter every three years. The Prize is intended to encourage and reward the writing of books which make an outstanding scholarly contribution to the understanding of the law as administered in England and Wales. The prizes will be awarded at a ceremony on 2nd December 2008, sponsored by Wildy & Sons. The short-lists are as follows:

Great Jamaican Advocates

by

Raphael Codlin

ISBN 9789768125842

hardback

£45

Great Jamaican Advocates, like its precursor, Historical Foundations of Jamaican Law, brings new and exciting revelations to legal literature in Jamaica. Raphael Codlin examines the fascinating careers of five of the greatest advocates to have enriched the legal landscape of Jamaica:-

Winston Frankson
Ian Ramsay
Frank Phipps
Angela Hudson-Phillips
David Muirhead

As Codlin explains in his preface, he seeks here “to foster understanding and appreciation for the contributions that advocates make to the stabilization and civilized operation of society. Indeed, in today’s world... advocates ought no longer to confine themselves to performing their functions in court. Instead, they need to apply their knowledge and influence towards the greater good of mankind.”

The outstanding advocates honoured in this volume have met and surpassed this challenge.

Exclusion Clauses and Unfair Contract Terms, 9th edition

by Dr Richard Lawson
Sweet & Maxwell,
Hardback, ISBN
9781847037220, £155.00,
due December 2008

This book analyses the main principles contained in the Unfair Contract Terms Act 1977 and the Unfair Terms in Consumer Contracts Regulations 1999, and shows how the law impacts on both drafting and challenging exclusion clauses. The text has been enhanced and brought fully up to date since publication of the last edition and includes an explanation of the new criminal offences in relation to contract terms, created by the Consumer Protection Against Unfair Trading Regulations 2008; the impact of the Consumers, Estate Agents and Redress Act 2007, which gives bodies, such as the National Consumer Council, the power to hear complaints; and a discussion on the fairness of bank charges with reference to relevant case law, including the action brought by the Office of Fair Trading. It also covers the new criminal offences created in relation to contract terms, brought about by the Consumer Protection Against Unfair Trading Regulations 2008, as well as the impact of the Consumers, Estate Agents and Redress Act 2007. Covering both commercial and consumer contracts, this popular book shows practitioners how to draft exclusions clauses that are lawful, valid and effective. It assesses the Reasonableness Test with reference to huge amount of case law on the subject since the last edition, and looks at unlawful, void and ineffective exclusion clauses. A list of bullet points is provided at the end of each chapter, summarising the key points discussed, and a number of sample exclusion clauses are given at the end of relevant chapters.

Softcover, ISBN 9781903307434, £35.00,
due November 2008

This is a new handbook aimed at lawyers and advisers either entering housing law or acting as non-specialist advisers. Covering all the basic aspects of housing law, it focuses on the practical: the common problems faced by advisers, court proceedings and the tactics of running a case, challenging decisions, and seeking remedies. Each chapter begins with key points and includes checklists and summaries. The book is fully supported by appendices including a glossary, procedural checklists and precedents. Combining a clear, accessible approach to the law involved with a comprehensive survey of all important elements of housing law, this definitive handbook is not only an invaluable resource to those new to housing law but will also provide the solution for the experienced housing lawyer looking for a quick answer or some reassurance.

Butterworths Competition Law Handbook, 14th edition

Edited by Garth Lindrup
LexisNexis Butterworths,

This is the essential reference source for lawyers, accountants and banks needing quick and easily navigable access to UK competition law.

Image Persona and the Law, 2nd edition

by Simon Smith

Sweet and Maxwell,

Hardback, ISBN

9781847037893, £160.00,

due December 2008

This authoritative book provides a comprehensive analysis the current state of the law in England and Wales regarding the protection of name, image and other aspects of persona, and goes into detail on both the specific context of commercial exploitation without the individual's consent, and in the separate context of invasion of privacy. The author presents a detailed analysis of the numerous developments which have occurred in relation to the right to privacy in the UK, and discusses how the laws have developed to protect against unjustified exploitation of one's image.

The new edition features a section on how trade mark law relates to image, name and persona, and covers the applicable copyright law which relates to the exploitation of identity. The author also analyses the Codes of Conduct followed by journalists, the media and advertisers, and looks at how image can be exploited in an endorsement or sponsorship agreement. Leading Privacy decisions, and resulting alternative claims, which have been brought under the Data Protection Act 1998, including the Douglas/Zeta-Jones and JK Rowling's Son decisions, are examined and an explanation is given on how the law of Passing Off was extended to provide claimants against with a means of enforcing their personality rights. Written by a distinguished author from a leading media law firm who has worked on high profile cases in this area, this new edition provides a high standard of commentary and knowledge and will be invaluable to practitioners specialising in entertainment and media law.

The End of Lawyers? Rethinking the Nature of Legal Services

by Richard Susskind OBE

Oxford University

Press, Hardback, ISBN

9780199541720, £25.00,

due November 2008

In this much anticipated sequel to the legal bestseller, The Future of Law, Susskind lays down a challenge to all lawyers to ask themselves, with their hands on their hearts, what elements of their current workload could be undertaken differently - more quickly, cheaply, efficiently, or to a higher quality - using alternative methods of working. The challenge for legal readers is to identify their distinctive skills and talents, the capabilities that they possess that cannot, crudely, be replaced by advanced systems or by less costly workers supported by technology or standard processes, or by lay people armed with online self-help tools. It is argued that the market is increasingly unlikely to tolerate expensive lawyers for tasks (guiding, advising, drafting, researching, problem-solving, and more) that can equally or better be discharged, directly or indirectly, by smart systems and processes. It follows, the book claims, that the jobs of many traditional lawyers will be substantially eroded and often eliminated. This is where the legal profession will be taken, it is argued, by two forces: by a market pull towards commoditisation and by pervasive development and uptake of information technology. At the same time, the book foresees new law jobs emerging which may be highly rewarding, even if very different from those of today.

Local Authority Liability, 4th Edition

by John Morrell
Jordan Publishing,
Hardback, ISBN

9781846611278, £79.00,
due November 2008

This well-established and popular work provides a comprehensive survey of the legal liability of local authorities, written by a team of leading solicitors and barristers specialising in local authority liability claims. Local Authority Liability comprises an invaluable overview of the nature and extent of the liability of local Authorities together with specialist chapters on the core areas of local authority activity including Education, Social Services, Occupier's Liability, Employer's Liability, Highways, Environmental Damage and Trees. This new edition has been revised and updated to take account of the latest developments including claims in respect of mesothelioma following Barker v Corus UK Ltd, limitation and the effect of A v Hoare on the test for establishing claimant's date of knowledge and the courts' discretion to disapply limitation period, the continuing impact of the Human Rights Act 1998 including the development of new causes of action and the effect of existing common law and new case-law dealing with sections 41 (duty to maintain) and 58 (test for statutory defence) of the Highways Act 1980.

Performers' Rights, 4th Edition

by Richard Arnold
Sweet and Maxwell, Hardback, ISBN 9781847037879, £175.00, due December 2008

This new edition provides an in-depth treatment on performers' statutory rights under Part II of the 1988 Copyright, Designs and Patents Act, together with broad coverage of the legal position of performers more generally. It covers performers' contracts, including assignments of performers rights, licences of performers' rights, consent clauses and enforcement of performers' contracts, and explains the different remedies available when there has been an infringement on performers' rights, namely injunctions, damages or accounts or profits, delivery up, seizure and forfeiture. The book presents a historical look at performers rights in the UK, and goes into detail on the subsistence and duration of performers' rights, the various ways in which a performers' rights can be infringed, and covers the process and procedure for enforcing performers' rights and recording rights. The new edition features a new chapter on moral rights as established by the recent Performances (Moral Rights, etc.) Regulations 2006, and covers other new legislation such as the Intellectual Property (Enforcement etc) Regulations 2006 and the Copyright and Performances (Application to Other Countries) Orders 2005-2008. A number of new cases are also covered, including Barrett v Universal-Island, Sawkins v Hyperion, and

Fisher v Brooker (Whiter Shade of Pale). The book provides a comprehensive analysis of performers rights in the UK, and is an essential textbook for entertainment and media law practitioners.

Project Finance: Principles and Practice

by Kent Rowey, Nicholas Bliss, Andrew Bonser, Alex Carver, Mark Coker Oxford University Press,
Hardback, £175.00, ISBN
9780199292356, due
November 2008

This new book on project finance provides a practical 'how-to' guide to deal documentation and explanations of the legal and commercial rationale for the positions taken in these deals. Written by a team of experts from Freshfield Bruckhaus Deringer, the authors provide a clear jargon-free guide relevant to all parties in a deal. Legal issues are analysed in the context of deal negotiation and contractual provisions that appear in actual project finance documentation in the UK and internationally, in particular covering New York. All perspectives of a typical transaction are covered including the negotiating standpoint of sponsors, funders, contractors, suppliers and service providers, and, where relevant, host governments. The authors provide sample contractual drafting in each chapter and where relevant, explanations as to how the drafting and law differs in common law and civil law jurisdictions. The principles common to all project finance transactions are covered in the first section, while the second part considers aspects of project finance that are specific to each sector including extraction, electricity, transportation infrastructures, social infrastructures, defence, water and telecommunications industries.

International Patent Litigation: Developing an Effective Strategy

Edited by David Wilson Globe Business Publishing,
Hardback, £110.00, ISBN
9781905783212, due December 2008

As the importance of technology-based products and processes continues to increase, so too does the significance of patents. Patents are extremely powerful – they provide invaluable market exclusivity to their owners and present a potential barrier to third parties' freedom to operate. Unsurprisingly, therefore, patent-related disputes are becoming more common and their consequences more significant than ever. Likewise, globalisation means that patent disputes must increasingly be managed on an international rather than local level. However, the lack of a harmonised patent dispute resolution system across the major jurisdictions means that this is not a simple exercise. Actions taken in one jurisdiction can have unforeseen consequences in another; the time taken in the various jurisdictions to reach a conclusion can vary considerably; and the measures and remedies available differ from country to country. This major new title by leading practitioners is a practical guide to patent litigation (and alternatives, if available) in a selection of key jurisdictions. It covers the timescale of proceedings, the availability of interim relief, disclosure, available remedies and costs, among other crucial factors. The book provides a useful comparison of how each jurisdiction deals with the issues that arise and the practical consequences of litigating in each location. This comparison is designed to assist those involved in international patent litigation in devising an effective strategy to manage the litigation and so maximise the chances of a successful outcome, while also reducing unnecessary costs. The book is a concise, practical guide for all those involved in the conduct and management of international patent litigation, from in-house professionals (patent managers, patent attorneys and general counsel) to those in private practice.

Judicial Review Handbook, 5th edition

by Michael Fordham

Hart Publishing,

Hardback, £100.00, ISBN

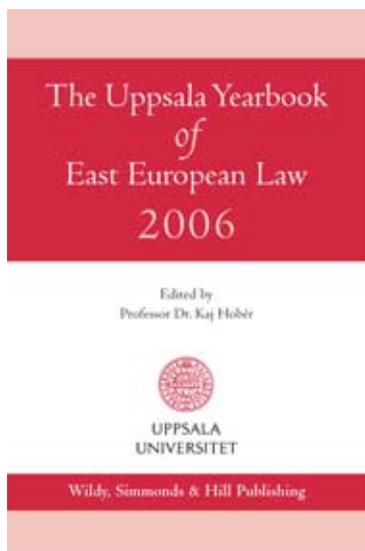

9781841138244, due

November 2008

This is one of the leading works in public law, an indispensable source of reference and a guide to the burgeoning case law in judicial review. Established as an essential part of the library of any practitioner engaged in public law cases, the Judicial Review Handbook offers unrivalled coverage of administrative law, including, but not confined to the work of the Administrative Court and its procedures. But as anyone who has used the previous editions will acknowledge, it is much more than that. The completely revised and up-dated fifth edition is once again structured around 63 unique legal principles supported by a compendious compilation of sources and an unequalled selection of reported case quotations.

It also includes essential procedural rules, forms and guidance issued by the Administrative Court. This edition builds on previous editions with deepened coverage of the impact on judicial review of both the Civil Procedure Rules and the Human Rights Act 1998 which, at the time of the previous edition, were both new arrivals in English law. Their impact, and the plethora of cases which explore their meaning and application, are fully analysed and evaluated by Michael Fordham, and quotations from the cases incorporated into the unique appendices of case extracts.

THE MAN WHO SHOT THE PRESIDENT AND OTHER LAWYERS

By
Eric Stockdale

ISBN: 9780854900299
Hardback 118pp
£14.95

In From Wig and Pen to Computer the author made brief references to his practice and wrote about his experience as a writer of articles and books on legal and allied topics. In the present book he gives an amusing account of some of his more entertaining and interesting cases while at the Bar and on the Bench, coupled with revealing stories about some of his contemporaries in the law. It is likely to prove an acceptable gift for law students, lawyers and laymen alike.

Sir Mark Potter, in his Foreword, comments: ‘This book is a treasure house of anecdote and reminiscence.’ He goes on to describe it as ‘a fascinating patchwork assembled from the varied fabric of a career at the Bar of a kind which has all but disappeared in the age of increased specialisation, followed by 22 years as a humane and humorous Circuit Judge before whom advocates and litigants alike were treated with fairness, courtesy and consideration.’

For a limited period and when purchased together, The Man Who Shot the President and From Wig and Pen to Computer is being offered for the special price of £25

FROM WIG AND PEN TO COMPUTER REFLECTIONS OF A LEGAL AUTHOR

By
Eric Stockdale

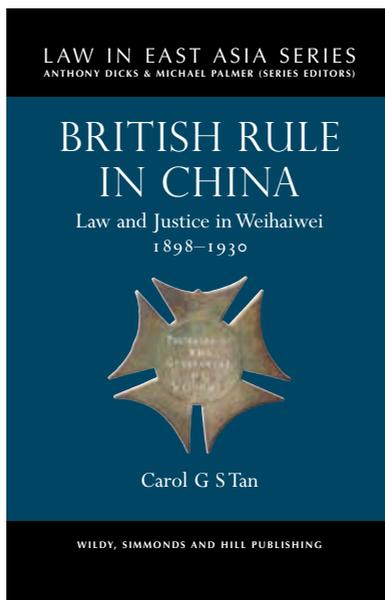

ISBN: 9780854900220
Hardback 152pp
£14.95

Eric Stockdale left school at 14 and went to work in wartime London. After two years in the post-war Army he was called to the Bar at the age of 21 and appointed a Circuit judge shortly after his 43rd. birthday. He took early retirement at 65 and then heard Criminal Injuries Compensation appeals for ten years.

When he became a barrister in 1950 he was a young man with an unusual background, which included 'a pathetic attempt' (his words) to follow several relatives into journalism. After his failure to break into Fleet Street, Eric Stockdale decided to earn his living from chambers in the adjoining Temple. His ability to write led to the publication of many articles, followed by books on criminal justice and historical topics, culminating with two works inspired by the links of many leaders of the American Revolution with his own Inn of Court, the Middle Temple. As this book is about his experiences as a legal author, it also deals briefly with his life in the law and describes how he became interested in the different subjects about which he wrote.

Sir Igor Judge, in his Foreword, comments: 'This is a remarkable story by any standards,' and adds, 'much is written humorously.' The reader, whether lawyer or layman, is likely to concur with that judgment.

BRITISH RULE IN CHINA
LAW AND JUSTICE IN WEIHAIWEI 1898-1930

By Carol G. S. Tan

ISBN: 9780854900268

Hardback 348pp

£45

Written using official records and other sources, British Rule in China is the first systematic account of the legal history of Weihaiwei, a small territory leased by China to Britain in 1898. It is a fascinating and accessible account of the territory's constitution, laws, courts, judges and magistrates, penal policy, and police force. The book explores the various problems and controversies faced by the local authorities in administering justice as well as their attempts to resolve them. The author argues that, as originally conceived, Weihaiwei's legal system made few concessions to the fact that the territory remained a part of China yet, in practice and for reasons which are explored in the book, it integrated some aspects of Chinese institutions, law and custom. Given the centrality of the law, its institutions and its officials to the exercise of British jurisdiction, this work is a contribution not merely to colonial legal history but also to the history of this part of China under foreign rule.
