This immensely useful book

is a quick source of reference for practitioners working with EC State aid matters. Following a highly organized sequence of subject headings, it presents extracts from all relevant judgements and orders of both the European Court of Justice and the Court of First Instance on the EC Treaty rules on State aid (Articles 87–89). Each subject heading starts with extracts having a more general meaning, followed by extracts relating to specific points or situations. Under each extract or summary, the judgements and orders are referred to by case number in ascending order. The articles of the EC Treaty are cited according to the method of citation pursuant to the renumbering of the articles of that treaty brought about by the Treaty of Amsterdam.

tical Share and Business Valuation, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £84.95, ISBN: 9780754535362

This practical book provides a sound understanding of the fundamental concepts involved in valuing shares and businesses. Valuing assets is increasingly important to accountants and tax advisers but also increasingly complex with the recent changes to financial accounting rules, and greater use of complicated capital and tax structures. This book covers the whole range of valuations – whether for tax, commercial or financial reporting purposes and the expert authors use their extensive practical experience to de-mystify this complex topic. After reading this book you will be able to advise on the approach to valuation for any purpose (company and business; IP and intangible assets; fair value or litigation support) and put the principles from statute and case law into practical application to the benefit of your company or client.

Brazzell, Lorna, Electronic Signatures and Identities: Law and Regulation 2nd edition, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Hardback, £165.00, ISBN: 9781847034908

Electronic Signatures and Identities: Law and Regulation explains the commercial, technical and legal issues involved in the use of electronic signatures. In keeping with the international nature of the internet, it offers an examination of law and regulation in a wide range of jurisdictions: 28 European countries, 15 Asia-Pacific countries, all three North American countries, seven Latin American countries, plus Russia, South Africa, Israel and Turkey. The second edition has been fully revised and updated in line with new case law, changes in legislation and codes, and to reflect developments in technology.

Brownsword, Roger; Yeung, Karen, Regulating Technologies: Legal Futures, Regulatory Frames and Technological Fixes, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £22.50, ISBN: 9781841137889

In this unique volume, a team of leading international scholars address many of the key difficulties surrounding the regulation of emerging technological targets as well as the implications of adopting technology as a regulatory tool.

Butler, William E., Russia and the Law of Nations in Historical Perspective: Collected Essays, , Hardback, £65.00, ISBN: 9780854900282

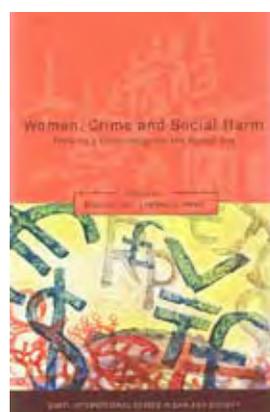

The origins and development of Russian law and of State practice in developing the law of nations, mostly with a Russian dimension, are explored in 35 articles and reviews revised for this volume. Included are several biographical sketches of American, British, and Russian jurists whose roles have been neglected, together with the texts of rare syllabi from the Soviet era that collectively configure the substance of international legal education from 1917 to 1991.

Bykhovskaya, Ekaterina, State Immunity in Russian Perspective, Wildy, Simmonds and Hill Publishing,

Hardback, £45.00, ISBN: 9780854900343

This book is the first endeavour in almost fifty years to cover the entire range of questions peculiar to the Russian position on State immunity. It covers proceedings instituted against Russia in foreign courts, the development of Russian doctrinal views, provisions of international treaties, relevant legislation, judicial practice and the Russian draft law on State immunity. The full scope of these issues is examined in the context of international practice. The research concludes with an analysis of the possible impact of the United Nations Convention on Jurisdictional Immunities of States and their Property on Russia's perspective on State immunity.

Cain, Maureen; Howe, Adrian , Women, Crime and Social Harm: Towards a Criminology for the Global Age, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £22.00, ISBN: 9781841138411

This book is by and about women, the harms and crimes to which they are subjected as a result of global social processes and their efforts to take control of their own futures. The chapters explore the criminogenic and damaging consequences of the policies of the global financial institutions as well as the effects of growing economic polarisation both in pockets of the developed world and most markedly in the global south.

Cannon, Patrick, Tolley's Stamp Taxes 2008 - 2009, LexisNexis Butterworths,

Paperback, £105.00, ISBN: 9780754534679

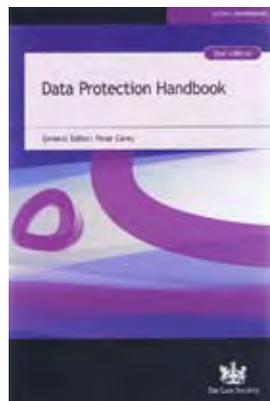

Tolley's Stamp Taxes 2008-09 is an invaluable, easy-to-use guide which still explains all the administrative and compliance processes concerning stamp duty and SDRT as they continue to apply following the introduction of the Stamp Duty Land Tax. The book also sets out the relevant charge to stamp duty or relevant exemption in relation to all the commonly met instruments and transactions. This new edition is updated to reflect the Finance Act 2008 and recent case law, including a full section on Stamp Duty Land Tax.

Card, Richard; Gillespie, Alisdair; Hirst, Michael, Sexual Offences, Jordan Publishing Ltd, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9781846611223

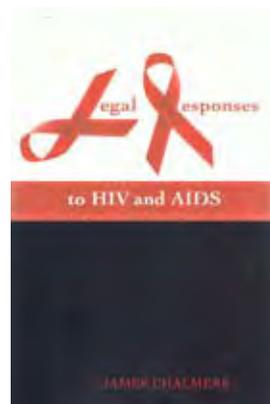

Sexual Offences is a major new work providing a clear, detailed and authoritative analysis of this complicated area of criminal law. This new work builds on the success of Sexual Offences: The New Law, which examined in detail the provisions of the Sexual Offences Act 2003. In contrast it deals with all sexual offences including non-statutory offences, and examines how the Sexual Offences Act 2003 operates in practice, looking in detail at supporting legislation, case law and the Sentencing Guidelines.

Carey, Peter, Data Protection Handbook 2nd ed, Law Society Publishing, Paperback, £69.95, ISBN: 9781853287732

came into force in March 2000 and has significantly affected how companies treat and handle data. The second edition of this practical handbook provides a fully up-to-date guide to the Act, providing detailed guidance on its main provisions as well as related legislation.

Chalmers, James, Legal Responses to HIV and AIDS, Hart Publishing,

Paperback, £30.00, ISBN: 9781841137261

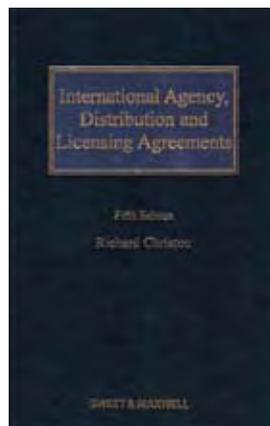

Since the 1980s legislators and courts have responded in a variety of ways to the onset of the AIDS pandemic. Some responses have been sensitive to the needs of those with HIV, seeking to guarantee heightened levels of confidentiality or freedom from discrimination. Others have sought to use the law as a tool to limit the spread of HIV, for example by imposing liability for its transmission or restricting the freedoms of those who are HIV-positive. This book examines and evaluate these issues in comparative perspective. It draws on legal responses to other sexually transmitted infections (and contagious diseases) but concentrates on HIV and AIDS.

Cheffins, Brian R, Corporate Ownership and Control: British Business Transformed, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £60.00, ISBN: 9780199236978

The separation of the ownership from control of a company is a hallmark of many large UK companies, and has been so for nearly a century. Much contemporary debate over corporate governance assumes that this separation is the norm. However, quoted companies are much less common outside the UK and quoted companies in other jurisdictions often have one dominant shareholder, rather than being widely held. In this book, Brian Cheffins explores the historical foundations of the separation of ownership and control, asking how the widely held company came to prominence and why it has endured in the UK. He synthesizes existing theories on the evolution of ownership and control in the UK and assesses the extent to which they need to be revised in the light of new historical evidence. He provides the first systematic analysis of why and how the UK stock market came to be dominated by institutional shareholders and illustrates the development of key similarities and differences between the UK and US systems through comparative discussions.

Christou, Richard, International Agency, Distribution and Licensing Agreements, Sweet & Maxwell, Hardback, £178.06, ISBN: 9781847030276

This popular work offers practical guidance on the negotiation and drafting of international agency, distribution and manufacturing agreements. It provides expertly drafted precedents, supported by general and clause-by-clause commentary on the legal and commercial aspects of their drafting and application. The 5th edition includes a new chapter on franchising, along with related new precedents.

Collins, Hugh, The European Civil Code: The Way Forward, Cambridge University Press, Paperback, £19.99, ISBN: 9780521713375

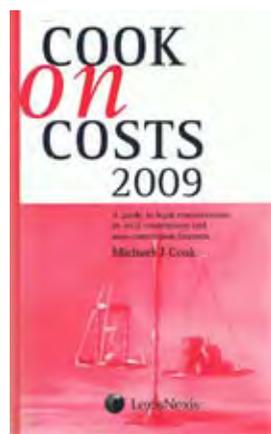

Hugh Collins argues that the European Union should develop a civil code to provide uniform rules for contracts, property rights and protection against civil wrongs, thus drawing together the differing national traditions with respect to the detailed regulation of civil society. The benefits of such a code would lie not so much in facilitating cross border trade, but in establishing foundations for a denser network of transnational relations of civil society, which in turn would help to overcome the present popular resistance to effective and functional political institutions at a European level.

Collins, Hugh, Standard Contract Terms in Europe: A Basis for and a Challenge to European Contract Law, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9789041127846

Ever since the Directive on Unfair Terms in Consumer Contracts of 1993, the European project has been working intensively towards harmonization of contract law across all EU Member States. To date, virtually none of the many problems that have arisen have been resolved. The SECOLA Annual Conference convened in Prague in 2005 to consider the specific topic of unfair terms and to imagine ways in which the obstacles raised by this provocative issue might be overcome. In this book, which presents revised versions of the papers presented at that conference, fourteen outstanding European scholars examine basic questions about the differing conceptions of contract law in the national legal systems of the Member States, divergent legal techniques such as interpretation of contract and divergent approaches to legal reasoning, and contrasting views about the nature of the problems presented by unfair terms in contracts.

Cook, Michael J., Cook on Costs 2009, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £82.00, ISBN: 9781405728744

Cook on Costs is well established as a practical, friendly guide providing clear and straightforward explanations of every aspect (except criminal costs) of the remuneration of solicitors and barristers for every level of reader. It aims to explain as well as to inform, whilst being a practical guide through the complexities of all aspects of the costs of contentious and non-contentious legal business. No one who wishes to understand the principles and practice of legal costs should be without a copy.

Cordes, Madeleine; Pugh-Smith, John; Ruck Keene, Alex; Burton, James, Shackleton on the Law and Practice of Meetings 11th ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Hardback, £150.00, ISBN: 9781847036377

Acknowledged for many years as the authoritative source of information on the law and practice of meetings, Shackleton is a practical reference guide on conducting meetings for legal professionals, company secretaries, administrators, directors and local authorities, and covers a wide range of meetings from public assemblies to board meetings. It explains the law surrounding the practice of meetings, and rules that must be adhered to when conducting a meeting, with reference to relevant case law, legislation and precedents.

Cornford, Tom, Towards a Public Law of Tort, Ashgate Publishing Ltd, Hardback, £60.00, ISBN: 9780754646839

Presenting a new approach to the problem of public authority liability, this volume provides a theoretical foundation in the form of principles of administrative liability that are both normatively sound and consonant with other recognized legal principles. These principles are used as criteria by which to judge the current law and as a guide to reform.

Crystal, Michael; Phillips, Mark; Davis, Glen, Butterworths Insolvency Law Handbook 2008 10th ed, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £92.00, ISBN: 9781405728843

Butterworths Insolvency Law Handbook is the most comprehensive single collection of statutory source material and Practice Directions relating to insolvency law in England, Wales and Scotland. The tenth edition of this trusted and popular product is fully up-to-date with all the latest insolvency law changes since publication of the previous edition, including fully consolidated versions of the Insolvency Act and Insolvency Rules.

Published annually, the “Red Book” is regarded as the essential reference work for all insolvency practitioners, setting out the relevant texts of the most important statutes, statutory instruments and European legislation. The legislation is printed as currently in force (taking into account all amendments, repeals and revocations), with detailed technical annotations regarding commencement, cross-references to other legislation and to commencement tables and fees and forms tables where necessary).

Cumming, George; Freudenthal, Mirjam; Janal, Ruth, Enforcement of Intellectual Property Rights in Dutch, English and German Civil Procedure, KluwerLaw International, Hardback, £92.00, ISBN: 9789041127266

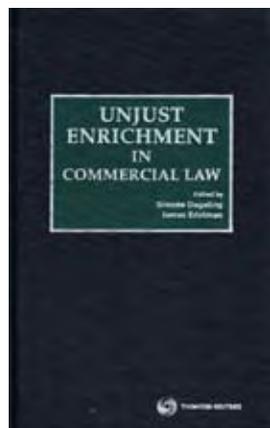

The three authors’ vastly detailed, article-by-article analysis of the fortunes of Directive 2004/48 EC in three EU jurisdictions offers enormously valuable insights into the complex ways Member States respond to Community law, and in so doing provides an important addition to the ongoing inquiry into the nature of the reciprocal tensions between EU law (both judicial and legislative) and the laws of Member States.

Davison, R. Peter; Mullen, John, Evaluating Contract Claims 2nd ed, Wiley-Blackwell, Hardback, £65.00, ISBN: 9781405159203

Most medium to large construction contracts include a claim for extra payment for variations or disruption to the programme. Whilst the causes of the claim are often well documented, what can and cannot be included in the payment is often misunderstood and the calculation of quantum consequently becomes vague and poorly substantiated. Thoroughly updated over the previous edition, reflecting pertinent Court decisions on damages and the duty to mitigate, the new edition covers new provisions of the revised JCT 2005 contracts and the 2005 New Engineering Contract. There is substantial additional material on issues arising from time and delay analysis and the financial consequences of changes to time - issues that regularly cause real problems in the evaluation of quantum for construction claims.

Degeling, Simone; Edelman, James, Unjust Enrichment

in Commercial Law, Lawbook Co., Hardback, £93.00, ISBN: 9780455225043

Gohlish, Heinz E., Charterer's Liability Insurance - Essential Best Practice, Witherby & Co Ltd, Hardback, £125.00, ISBN: 9781905331338 Charterers' Liability Insurance: Essential Best Practice is relevant for time charterers, voyage charterers and cargo traders who move goods and commodities by sea under maritime contracts. Charterers Liability is above all a practical guide for ship operators which brings together the various facets of marine insurance exclusively as it affects ship charterers, ranging in chartering activities from those who become fully immersed in the operation of chartered ships to those who may only book space in a ship, and in such a way that it should become an indispensable tool for chartering practitioners.

Goldman, Linda; Sherrard, and Michael, Wigs and Wherefores: A Biography of Michael Sherrard, Wildy, Simmonds and Hill Publishing, Hardback, £24.99, ISBN: 9780854900305
There is a generation of lawyers, barristers and solicitors alike, who, together with the many clients that he represented during a long and distinguished career, consider Michael Sherrard to have been one of the great recent influences on the legal profession and the Bar in particular. Lord Denning, before whom he appeared in trials and appeals, said that he regarded him as 'the best of advocates'. Michael Sherrard was involved in numerous high-profile cases in both domestic courts and those of the Far East.

cialist employment lawyers, which will provide information on the law and practice of employment appeals, from reviews of the Tribunal's decision, to the Employment Appeal Tribunal, the Court of Appeal, House of Lords, references to the ECJ and cases before the European Court of Human Rights. Practical advice on drafting Grounds of Appeal and on jurisdictional issues is provided. Manual of Employment Appeals also reproduces the main statutory materials, provides useful precedents and key case summaries.

Hacon, Richard; Pagenberg, Jochen, Concise European Patent Law 2nd ed, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £126.00, ISBN: 9789041127457

This second edition of Con- cise European Patent Law aims to offer the reader a rapid understanding of all the provisions of patent law in force in Europe that have been enacted at the European and international levels. This volume takes the form of an article-by-article commentary on the European Patent Convention and the relevant European Community legislation and international treaties. It is intended to provide the reader with a short and straightforward explanation of the principles of law to be drawn from each provision, with references to the most important case law. Editors and authors are prominent specialists (both academics and practitioners) in the field of international and European patent law.

Harris, Brian, Intolerance: Divided Societies on Trial,

Wildy, Simmonds and Hill Publishing, Hardback, £19.99, ISBN: 9780854900251

Most of us are intolerant of something, whether it is our neighbour's dog, his politics or the colour of his skin, but we may not always recognize our lack of tolerance. By making extensive use of surviving court documentation from famous - and not so famous - trials, Brian Harris is able to explore several issues that have given rise to deep-rooted divisions within Western society, such as slavery, religion and homosexuality. The result is a highly readable narrative, which often challenges traditional interpretations of the cases concerned, punctuated throughout by the author's pertinent insights into the personalities, events and legal processes of the day.

James, Grace, The Legal Regulation of Pregnancy

and Parenting in the Labour Market, Routledge-Cavendish, Hardback, £80.00, ISBN: 9780415439046

Why is the law failing to protect pregnant workers and parents from detrimental treatment in the workplace? This theoretically informed book, which draws on the findings of a large scale, Nuffield Foundation funded, study of pregnancy-related workplace disputes, explores the legal regulation of pregnancy and parenting in the labour market. Using an epistemology that draws primarily on critical feminist debates, theories and critiques, the book adopts a necessarily female standpoint and seeks to answer why, despite positive policy ambitions and ample legislation, law is failing to protect pregnant workers and parents. Whilst sensitive to the limits of law's ability to bring about social change, the book asks whether it is the direction of current policies that need attention, or the substance of the legislation that is flawed.

James, Malcolm, Taxation of Small Businesses, Spiramus Press Ltd, Paperback, £79.95, ISBN: 9781904905790

In recent years, the tax advantages of incorporating a small business have diminished. Business owners need to think carefully before deciding whether or not to incorporate and deal with the additional compliance. This book is a practical guide to all aspects of direct taxation of small businesses in one volume, and a perfect companion to VAT and Small Businesses (ISBN 978 1904905 59 2). It is ideal for sole practitioners and small partnerships, but will be a handy reference guide for all tax advisers.

in charity law for 20 years, conducts a theoretical and empirical analysis of the reasons why charitable status might be removed by the Charity Commission, looks at the position of charitable property when institutions cease to be charitable and examines the likely effect of the independent Charity Tribunal on the appeals process. The post-Act treatment of controversial charities is also explored.

Mourra, Mary H., Latin American Investment Treaty Arbitration: The Controversies and Conflicts, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9789041127853

This book demonstrates that there is a compelling need for States to develop greater awareness of their investment treaty obligations with a view to both diminishing the likelihood of claims and properly managing those that are submitted to arbitration. It describes the stocktaking process that should form part of any State's efforts to manage its investment treaty obligations and claims by investors that the State has breached those obligations. With specific recommendations for the effective administration of State obligations and investor-State disputes, the book offers eminently practical utility in addition to its penetrating theoretical analysis, and as such constitutes an enormously valuable resource for all parties concerned in Latin American investment.

Oser, David, The Unidroit Principles of International Commercial Contracts: A Governing Law?, Brill Academic Publishers, Hardback, £68.00, ISBN:

9789004167896

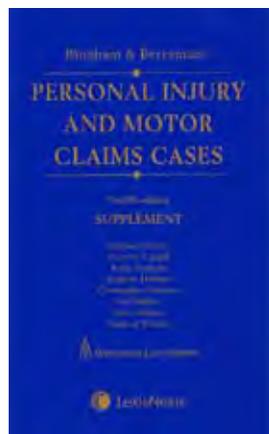

The Unidroit Principles are a restatement of the law applicable to international commercial contracts that have been developed on the basis of an innovative comparison of the leading contract laws. As such, their authority rests on the standing of UNIDROIT, the institution responsible for their preparation, and on the quality of the rules they propose. This book provides a comprehensive in-depth analysis of the foundations of, and justifications for, an application of the Unidroit Principles. Its conclusion—that the Unidroit Principles may constitute a true governing law to be recognized by arbitral tribunals and domestic courts alike—will further contribute to the worldwide success of the Unidroit Principles.

Pannick, David, I Have to Move My Car: Tales of Unpersuasive Advocates and Injudicious Judges, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £10.99, ISBN: 9781841138169

Wildy's Book of the Month - November 2008

There are law books about constructive trusts, the Perpetuities and Accumulations Act 1964 and the rule in Foss v Harbottle. This is not one of them. David Pannick QC has always been much more interested in unpersuasive advocates and injudicious judges. In this collection of his fortnightly columns from The Times, David Pannick passes judgment on advocates who tell judges that their closing submissions to the jury will not take long because 'I would like to move my car before 5 o'clock'; and he sentences judges who claim to have invisible dwarf friends sitting with them on the Bench, who order the parties to 'stay loose - as a goose', and who signal their rejection of an advocate's argument by flushing a miniature toilet on the bench. In making his submissions, David Pannick QC will entertain and inform you about judges, lawyers, legal culture and law reform

Young, John, A Practitioner's Guide to the FSA Regulation of Insurance 3rd ed, City & Financial Publishing, Paperback, £95.00, ISBN: 9781905121335

The implications of the Solvency II Directive – intended to create a European-wide solvency framework to provide adequate consumer protection and help the single market in financial services function better by improving capital allocation within the EU financial markets – are anticipated in this 3rd edition of A Practitioner's Guide to the FSA Regulation of Insurance. In addition, this Practitioner's Guide takes full account of the FSA's move to 'more principles-based regulation' in which a prescriptive rules-based regime is supplanted by one based on outcomes. What this means for insurance firms used to operating with detailed rule books is analysed and discussed. Sitting within this principles based approach, the FSA has made amendments to the Insurance Conduct of Business sourcebook (ICOBS) which are covered in full.

van Zelst; Bastiaan, The Politics of European Sales Law: A Legal-Political In- quiry into the Drafting of the Uniform Commercial Code, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £61.00, ISBN: 9789041127525

We like to think that sales law is technical. The presumption that it is possible to draft a Civil Code without making ideological choices - and that codification can be regarded as essentially technical - would appear to be the leading view. This book investigates the political stakes involved in the drafting of private law, more particularly in the drafting a European contract law. As is demonstrated by this original and powerful book, the drafting of private law - sales law in particular - cannot be considered apolitical or value-free.

Great Jamaican Advocates

by

Raphael Codlin

ISBN 9789768125842

hardback

£45

Great Jamaican Advocates, like its precursor, Historical Foundations of Jamaican Law, brings new and exciting revelations to legal literature in Jamaica. Raphael Codlin examines the fascinating careers of five of the greatest advocates to have enriched the legal landscape of Jamaica:-

Winston Frankson
Ian Ramsay
Frank Phipps
Angela Hudson-Phillips
David Muirhead

As Codlin explains in his preface, he seeks here “to foster understanding and appreciation for the contributions that advocates make to the stabilization and civilized operation of society. Indeed, in today’s world... advocates ought no longer to confine themselves to performing their functions in court. Instead, they need to apply their knowledge and influence towards the greater good of mankind.”

The outstanding advocates honoured in this volume have met and surpassed this challenge.

IMPORTANT FORTHCOMING PUBLICATIONS

Forced Marriage: A Special Bulletin

by Clive Heaton QC, Louise McCallum, and Razia Jogi
Jordan Publishing, Paperback, ISBN 9781846611674, £35.00, due January 2009

The Forced Marriage (Civil Protection) Act 2007 comes into force on 25 November 2008 and specialist courts will be designated in areas where most cases are expected to arise. The purpose of the Act is to give family courts the power to prevent attempts to force someone into a marriage where they do not consent. If such a marriage has already taken place the court will be able to make orders to protect the victim while helping to remove them from the situation (similar to injunctive relief). Recognising that vulnerability may prevent victims being able to apply in their own right, the Act allows interested third parties to apply with the leave of the court on behalf of the victim.

Market Abuse and Insider Trading 2nd edition

by Barry Rider, Kern Alexander, Lisa Linklater and Stuart Bazley Tottel Publishing, Hardback, ISBN 9781847661357,

£95.00, due January 2009

Completely revised and restructured, the new edition of Market Abuse and Insider Trading defines the nature of Insider Trading, examining the crimes of market abuse and insider dealing as well as other fraud related offences focusing on the responsibilities of those engaged in compliance, as well as those who fall within the scope of prohibitions. New chapters include FSA Investigations, Anti-Money Laundering Law and Compliance as well as new material covering disclosure and reporting of transactions and suspicions and general Islamic finance aspects.

Judicial Remedies in Public Law 4th edition

by Clive Lewis
Sweet & Maxwell, Hardcover, ISBN 9781847032218, £195.00, due December 2008

Providing unrivalled coverage of the full range of judicial remedies available to litigants in public law cases, from judicial review to those which are less common, such as habeas corpus, Judicial Remedies in Public Law covers the practice and procedure of relevant remedies, and gives you practical advice from start to finish, guiding you through the options at each stage. The new edition provides detailed guidance on the law, incorporating all major developments, including principles of important case law, as well as legislative developments, and gives advice on damages available under tort law, contract law, restitution and statutory compensation. The author, Clive Lewis, combines a thorough and comprehensive legal analysis with an accessible approach, and includes description and analysis of remedies available under EU law, enabling you to build a stronger case. Also covered is the impact of the Human Rights Act 1998, ensuring that you are working from the most up-to-date reference source.

Litigation with a Foreign Aspect

by Michael James
Oxford University Press, Paperback, ISBN 9780199204724, £75.00, due February 2009

This is a practical guide to the difficult problems which arise when litigation has a foreign element, dealing with these matters in an accessible non-academic way, with detailed guidance to procedure. It offers a clear, succinct explanation of the often complex rules on international jurisdiction, enabling practitioners to understand them, and sets out jurisdictional rules in alphabetical order based on type of claim, allowing practitioners to find quickly whether the English courts have jurisdiction over the claim in question. Written by a practitioner for practitioners, with a practical non-academic approach, the book provides focused treatment of insolvency, employment and shipping, allowing specialists in each of these areas to find their international issues helpfully addressed in one place. The author makes extensive use of tables, flow charts and examples, conveying at-a-glance information about different countries and international conventions.

Sale of Shares and Businesses 2nd edition

by Andrew Stilton
Sweet & Maxwell, Hardcover, ISBN 9781847036032, £155.00, due December 2008

This authoritative book provides precedents of suitable warranties and indemnities along with guidance and extensive commentary. The second edition provides guidance on every part of the sale of a business, and provides examples drawn from the author's experience of all sizes of transactions from the sale of small businesses to multi-million pound deals. It covers both buyer and seller viewpoints, and includes the ramifications for the sale of shares and businesses of the Companies Act 2006. The author goes through both sale of shares and the sale of assets, and covers pre-acquisition or disposal of a company. Featuring completely up-to-date information with the latest insight on company and commercial law, including the Transfer of Undertakings (Protection of Employment) Regulations 2006 (TUPE), the new edition includes a CD-ROM full of all the precedents related to the sale of a business. The book also covers specialist areas such as pensions, tax and employment law issues. The new edition will have regular supplements (charged separately) to ensure you kept up-to-date with the latest legal developments.

The new 3rd edition of this well-respected text covers all aspects of the law from common banking transactions to cross-border debts, to ensure you receive expert guidance, whether you are dealing with debts from private individuals or multinational companies. Part V has been expanded to cover a range of specialist financing transactions.

Private Labels, Branded Goods and Competition Policy: The Changing Landscape of Retail Competition

Edited by Ariel Ezrachi and Ulf Bernitz

Oxford University Press, Hardback, ISBN 9780199559374, £95.00, due January 2009

The growing use of private labels in recent years has affected significantly the landscape of retail competition, with major retailers no longer being confined to their traditional role as purchasers and distributors of branded goods. By selling their own-label products within their outlets they are competing with their upstream brand suppliers for sales and shelf space. This unique relationship, and the continued strengthening of private labels, raises important questions as to their pro-competitive effects and possible negative effects. This book provides an in-depth review of the range of competitive and intellectual property issues raised in connection with private brands in Europe and the US. It examines the development of private labels and their impact on retail competition, then moves on to focus on policy and question the adequacy of current economic and legal analysis in light of the characteristics of own-label competition, and finally it presents a thorough evaluation of the legal issues in the field, including chapters on horizontal and vertical effects, dominance, mergers and acquisitions, intellectual property, copycat packaging and consumer welfare. The book contains a collection of essays reflecting the debate on the impact of private labels upon competition, investment and innovation in the retail sector. The ideas and arguments underlying the articles have been developed through a series of seminars held in the Oxford Centre for Competition Law and Policy over the last three years. Participants in these seminars have included competition officials, law academics, practitioners and representatives from industry.

Taxation in the Channel Islands and the Isle of Man Loose-leaf

Tottel Publishing, Loose-leaf, ISBN 9781847661517, £88.00, due December 2008 Formerly published as an annual paperback book, this new loose-leaf is written by key experts from each of these islands, and covers each tax system in detail enabling swift comparisons between the various rates and allowances. All the latest tax opportunities are outlined alongside the new 2008 rules, regulations and tax rates. If your clients have any financial interests in either of these territories this title demands a place on your bookshelf. The loose-leaf is expected to have two updating issues per annum, charged separately.

Law and Practice of International Investment Treaties: Standards of Treatment

by Andrew Newcombe and Lluís Paradell

Kluwer Law International, Hardcover, ISBN 9789041123510, £126.00, due December 2008

Foreign investors enjoy the protection of a vast network of international investment agreements (IIAs) supplemented by the general rules of international law. Under these treaties, states must accord substantive standards of promotion and protection, in addition to an investor-state arbitration mechanism that allows investors to enforce these standards against host states. In response to disputes arising under the IIA regime, since the early 1990s a significant body of arbitral jurisprudence has come into being. This book is the first to provide a comprehensive explanation of these standards of treatment, taking into account the full weight of relevant jurisprudence as it continues to evolve. Where possible, the authors critically examine applicable principles that can be seen to emerge for international commercial arbitration practitioners. The book focuses on the substantive protections accorded to investors and investments and on the variations among jurisdictions. Among the many specific issues and topics that arise in the course of the discussion are the problems of transparency and conflict of interest; the recent growth in IIAs between and among developing nations; the effect of new model bilateral investment treaties (BITs); the ability of non-disputing parties to participate in investor-state arbitration; theories of the interaction of foreign direct investment (FDI) and BITs; investor-state arbitration as an evasion of public regulatory authority; the role of investment funds in international investment; 'fork in the road' provisions; and institutional versus ad hoc arbitration. International business and other investors will greatly appreciate the in-depth information and insightful guidance in this solidly useful book.

Sentencing Handbook 2nd edition

by Anthony Edwards and Joanne Savage Law Society Publishing, Paperback, ISBN 9781853285691, £59.95, due February 2009

This fully updated and revised book offers comprehensive coverage of the law and practice on sentencing relating to both the Magistrates' and Crown courts. The book will prove invaluable as a quick reference in court while the accompanying CD-ROM enables fast and easy access to relevant guidance from the Sentencing Guidelines Council. The book takes account of changes brought about by the Powers of Criminal Courts (Sentencing) Act 2000, the Criminal Justice Act 2003, and the Consolidated Criminal Practice Direction of 2005. More recent developments are also incorporated, including changes to sentencing in the Magistrates' and Youth courts; the allocation procedure; sentencing regarding violent and sexual offences, and theft/anti-social behaviour guidelines.

Liquidated Damages and Extensions of Time 3rd edition

by Brian Eggleston, Wiley-Blackwell, Hardcover, ISBN 9781405118156, £69.50, due December 2008

Liquidated damages and extensions of time are complex subjects, frequently forming the basis of contract claims made under the standard building and civil engineering contracts. Previous editions of Liquidated Damages and Extensions of Time are highly regarded as a guide for both construction industry professionals and lawyers to this complex area. The law on time and damages continues to develop with an increasing flow of judgments from the courts. Alongside this, the standard forms of contract have also developed over time to reflect prevailing approaches to contractual relationships. Against this background a third edition will be welcomed by construction professionals and lawyers alike. Retaining the overall approach of the previous editions, the author clarifies, in a highly readable but legally rigorous way, the many misunderstandings on time and damages which abound in the construction industry. The third edition takes account of a large volume of new case law since the previous edition was published over ten years ago, includes a new chapter on delay analysis and features significantly expanded chapters on penalty clauses, the effects of conditions precedent and time-bars, and the complexities of causation.

RUSSIA AND THE LAW OF NATIONS IN HISTORICAL PERSPECTIVE

William E. Butler

ISBN: 9780854900282
Hardback 600pp.
£65.00

The origins and development of Russian law and of State practice in developing the law of nations, mostly with a Russian dimension, are explored in 35 articles and reviews revised for this volume. Included are several biographical sketches of American, British, and Russian jurists whose roles have been neglected, together with the texts of rare syllabi from the Soviet era that collectively configure the substance of international legal education from 1917 to 1991.

STATE IMMUNITY IN RUSSIAN PERSPECTIVE

Ekaterina Bykhovskaya

ISBN: 9780854900343

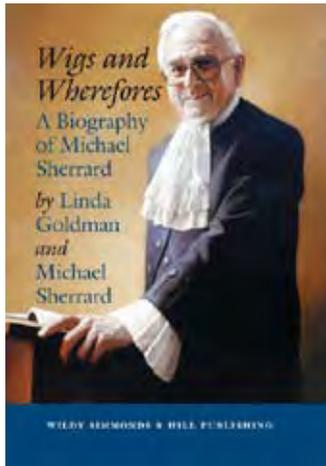

Hardback 250pp.

£45.00

Since the nineteenth century State immunity has been one of the most controversial doctrines in international law. While its development in Western jurisdictions fluctuated between absolute and restrictive immunity, Russian approaches to State immunity reinforced the overall controversy as they followed a quite distinct path depending mostly on the political stance of the changing regimes. At the same time, although absolute immunity was the official Soviet position, the Soviet Union's approach to State immunity significantly contributed to the increasing acceptance of restrictive immunity by the end of the twentieth century, largely in response to its routine pleas of State immunity.

Significant changes in Russia's politics, economics and law caused by the dissolution of the Soviet Union have entailed the revision of its approach to State immunity. However, the emerging trend towards the restriction of immunity has been highly inconsistent and has given rise to conflicts between different legal instruments.

This book is the first endeavour in almost fifty years to cover the entire range of questions peculiar to the Russian position on State immunity. It covers proceedings instituted against Russia in foreign courts, the development of Russian doctrinal views, provisions of international treaties, relevant legislation, judicial practice and the Russian draft law on State immunity. The full scope of these issues is examined in the context of international practice. The research concludes with an analysis of the possible impact of the United Nations Convention on Jurisdictional Immunities of States and their Property on Russia's perspective on State immunity.

WIGS AND WHEREFORES: A BIOGRAPHY OF MICHAEL SHERRARD QC

Linda Goldman and Michael Sherrard

Foreword by Joshua Rozenberg

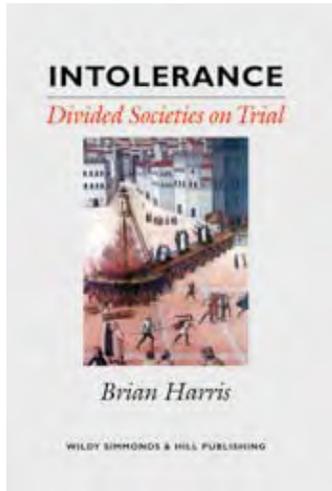

ISBN: 9780854900305

Hardback 400pp.

£24.95

There is a generation of lawyers, barristers and solicitors alike, who, together with the many clients that he represented during a long and distinguished career, consider Michael Sherrard to have been one of the great recent influences on the legal profession and the Bar in particular. Lord Denning, before whom he appeared in trials and appeals, said that he regarded him as ‘the best of advocates’. Michael Sherrard was involved in numerous high-profile cases in both domestic courts and those of the Far East.

This book provides a frank and entertaining account of Michael Sherrard’s life in the law. Many of the events and personalities within its pages continue to spark public interest: the defence of James Hanratty; the inquiry into John Stonehouse’s activities; encounters with Robert Maxwell; and the anti-apartheid activities of Peter Hain. The book also chronicles his major role in developing modern advocacy worldwide. Wherever the English common law has operated within the last twenty-odd years, the voice of Michael Sherrard speaks through many of the trained advocates.

INTOLERANCE: DIVIDED SOCIETIES ON TRIAL

Brian Harris OBE, QC

ISBN: 9780854900251

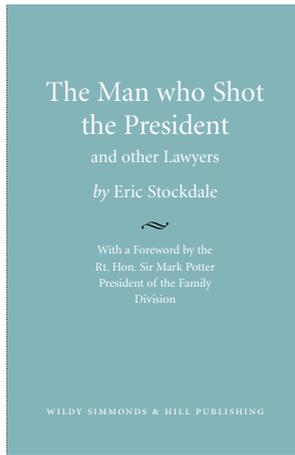

Hardback 300pp.

£19.99

Most of us are intolerant of something, whether it is our neighbour's dog, his politics or the colour of his skin, but we may not always recognize our lack of tolerance. By making extensive use of surviving court documentation from famous - and not so famous - trials, Brian Harris is able to explore several issues that have given rise to deep-rooted divisions within Western society, such as slavery, religion and homosexuality. The result is a highly readable narrative, which often challenges traditional interpretations of the cases concerned, punctuated throughout by the author's pertinent insights into the personalities, events and legal processes of the day.

The cases include the 'witches' of Salem whose tragic story was plundered by Arthur Miller in his play, The Crucible, the execution of a seventy-year-old woman for giving shelter to a man on the run from England's last rebellion, the prosecution of a schoolteacher for teaching evolution, the persecution of Oscar Wilde and the prosecution of Penguin Books for publishing Lady Chatterley's Lover. Intolerance: Divided Societies on Trial provides an engaging and thought-provoking account of man's intolerance to man through the ages.

THE MAN WHO SHOT THE PRESIDENT AND OTHER LAWYERS

By
Eric Stockdale

ISBN: 9780854900299
Hardback 118pp
£14.95

In From Wig and Pen to Computer the author made brief references to his practice and wrote about his experience as a writer of articles and books on legal and allied topics. In the present book he gives an amusing account of some of his more entertaining and interesting cases while at the Bar and on the Bench, coupled with revealing stories about some of his contemporaries in the law. It is likely to prove an acceptable gift for law students, lawyers and laymen alike.

Sir Mark Potter, in his Foreword, comments: 'This book is a treasure house of anecdote and reminiscence.' He goes on to describe it as 'a fascinating patchwork assembled from the varied fabric of a career at the Bar of a kind which has all but disappeared in the age of increased specialisation, followed by 22 years as a humane and humorous Circuit Judge before whom advocates and litigants alike were treated with fairness, courtesy and consideration.'

For a limited period and when purchased together, The Man Who Shot the President and From Wig and Pen to Computer is being offered for the special price of £25

FROM WIG AND PEN TO COMPUTER
REFLECTIONS OF A LEGAL AUTHOR

By
Eric Stockdale

ISBN: 9780854900220

Hardback 152pp

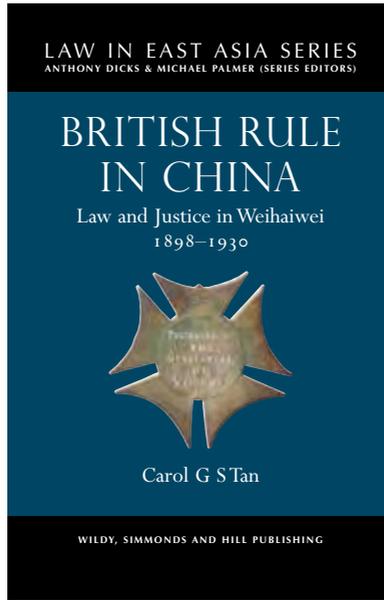

£14.95

Eric Stockdale left school at 14 and went to work in wartime London. After two years in the post-war Army he was called to the Bar at the age of 21 and appointed a Circuit judge shortly after his 43rd. birthday. He took early retirement at 65 and then heard Criminal Injuries Compensation appeals for ten years.

When he became a barrister in 1950 he was a young man with an unusual background, which included 'a pathetic attempt' (his words) to follow several relatives into journalism. After his failure to break into Fleet Street, Eric Stockdale decided to earn his living from chambers in the adjoining Temple. His ability to write led to the publication of many articles, followed by books on criminal justice and historical topics, culminating with two works inspired by the links of many leaders of the American Revolution with his own Inn of Court, the Middle Temple. As this book is about his experiences as a legal author, it also deals briefly with his life in the law and describes how he became interested in the different subjects about which he wrote.

Sir Igor Judge, in his Foreword, comments: 'This is a remarkable story by any standards,' and adds, 'much is written humorously.' The reader, whether lawyer or layman, is likely to concur with that judgment.

BRITISH RULE IN CHINA
LAW AND JUSTICE IN WEIHAIWEI 1898-1930

By Carol G. S. Tan

ISBN: 9780854900268
Hardback 348pp
£45

Written using official records and other sources, British Rule in China is the first systematic account of the legal history of Weihaiwei, a small territory leased by China to Britain in 1898. It is a fascinating and accessible account of the territory's constitution, laws, courts, judges and magistrates, penal policy, and police force. The book explores the various problems and controversies faced by the local authorities in administering justice as well as their attempts to resolve them. The author argues that, as originally conceived, Weihaiwei's legal system made few concessions to the fact that the territory remained a part of China yet, in practice and for reasons which are explored in the book, it integrated some aspects of Chinese institutions, law and custom. Given the centrality of the law, its institutions and its officials to the exercise of British jurisdiction, this work is a contribution not merely to colonial legal history but also to the history of this part of China under foreign rule.
