MAJOR NEW TITLES THIS MONTH

Alcock, Alistair; Birds, John; Gale, Steve, Alcock, Birds and Gale on the Companies Act 2006, Jordan Publishing Ltd, Paperback, £75.00, ISBN: 9781846611360

The Companies Act 2006 has been the most radical reform of company law for decades, and the government has decided to bring the remainder of the Act in over an extended period up to October 2009. This new work builds on the success of Companies Act 2006: The New Law (Jordans New Law Series) and includes a new chapter on the staggered commencement of the Act with information on the transitional provisions and provides practical guidance of new regulations.

Alikhan, Shahid; Mashelkar, Raghunath, Intellectual Property and Competitive Strategies in the 21st Century 2nd ed, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £72.00, ISBN: 9789041126443

It is scarcely five years since the first edition of this book, a milestone in the strategy-oriented approach to intellectual property at the global level, appeared and was quickly and widely welcomed as virtually an intellectual property agenda for the 21st century. This second edition includes a judicious update of the original data and analysis in light of the significant movement forward that has taken place over the past few years in many of the critical areas that shape the competitive strategies in the use of IP Rights.

Andersen, Henrik, EU Dumping Determinations and WTO Law, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £96.00, ISBN: 9789041128270

The application of the antidumping instrument by WTO members is often controversial because of the protectionist character of these measures where inefficient industries are protected from foreign competition. The legal framework within the WTO has loopholes that leave wide discretion to the investigating authorities to determine that a product is dumped, thereby emphasizing the protectionist nature of antidumping. The use of antidumping becomes even more controversial when WTO members use the antidumping tool beyond the legal scope of WTO law. The questions raised in this book concern the EU dumping determinations and their conformity with WTO law. This thought-provoking work examines whether European Union legislation on dumping, the practices adopted by the European Commission and the Council, as well as the decisions by the EC courts are in conformity with WTO law.

Armour, John; Payne, Jennifer, Rationality in Company Law: Essays in Honour of DD Prentice, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9781841138060

This collection of essays is a festschrift to honour Professor Dan Prentice who retired in 2008 from the Allen & Overy Professorship of Company Law in the University of Oxford. Dan Prentice has been deeply involved in corporate law from all perspectives: as a scholar, teacher, law reformer, and practising member of Erskine Chambers. His interests have covered the full range of corporate law, finance, and insolvency. The occasion of his retirement from his Professorship has afforded a number of leading corporate law experts from around the world, many of whom are his former students and colleagues, an opportunity to address some of the most important issues in corporate law today, in his honour.

Arony, Nicholas, The Constitution of a Federal Commonwealth: The Making and Meaning of the Australian Constitution, Cambridge University Press, Paperback, £27.99, ISBN:

By analysing original sources and evaluating conceptual frameworks, Nicholas Aroney discusses the idea proclaimed in the Preamble to the Constitution that Australia is a federal commonwealth. Taking careful account of the influence which the American, Canadian and Swiss Constitutions had upon the framers of the Australian Constitution, the author shows how the framers wrestled with the problem of integrating federal ideas with inherited British traditions and their own experiences of parliamentary government. In so doing, the book explains how the Constitution came into being in the context of the groundswell of federal ideas then sweeping the English-speaking world. In advancing an original argument about the relationship between the formation of the Constitution, the representative institutions, configurations of power and amending formulas contained therein, fresh light is shed on the terms and structure of the Constitution and a range of problems associated with its interpretation and practical operation are addressed.

Arrowsmith, Sue; Kunzlik, Peter, Social and Environmental Policies in EC Procurement Law: New Directives and New Directions, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £110.00, ISBN: 9780521881500

Despite the new provisions included in the EC's new (2004) procurement directives, important issues remain unresolved. This volume focuses on new issues in the field, notably the innovative provisions in the new directives, new academic thinking and areas neglected in the debate, such as the impact of EC law on the CSR policies of private utilities.

Atwood, Barry; Thompson, Katharine; Willett, Chris, Food Law 3rd ed, Tottel Publishing Ltd, Paperback, £85.00, ISBN: 9781847660954

This new edition takes account of significant changes in food and feed law and procedure made since 2000 pursuant to the European Commission White Paper on Food Safety, the work of the Food Standards Agency and developments of wider relevance, such as the Human Rights legislation and the establishment of the Department for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs. Written in a straightforward and easy-to-use style, the 3rd edition of this practical book provides quick and easy access to the legislation that affects practitioners on a daily basis.

Baldwin, Richard; Low, Patrick, Multilateralizing Regionalism: Challenges for the Global Trading System, Cambridge University Press, Paperback, £29.99, ISBN: 9780521738101

Regional trade agreements (RTAs) have proliferated around the world in the past two decades, and now nearly all members of the WTO are party to at least one. Besides tariffs and rules of origin regulating trade in goods, many RTAs now include provisions on services, investments, technical barriers to trade and competition rules, as well as a host of issues not directly related to trade.

Biondi, Andrea; Farley, Martin, The Right to Damages in European Law, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £60.00, ISBN: 9789041124760

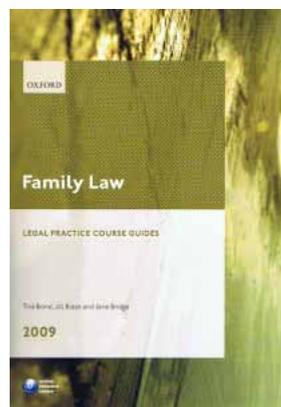

All legal systems provide for a form of action for non-contractual liability. This is the first book to present an in-depth discussion of the right of individuals to receive damages in European law. Analyzing relevant ECJ cases, the authors detail the substantive and procedural criteria that need to be satisfied in order for an individual to succeed in a claim for damages against Community institutions under Article 288

EC or against a defaulting Member State under the court-created Francovich principle. The Right to Damages in European Law will be welcomed not only for its committed entry into an important area of European law that has not heretofore been treated in appreciable depth, but also for its clear and detailed analysis of the key issues facing students and practitioners when confronted with an issue concerning either State or Community liability.

Bjorkland, Andrea K; Laird, Ian A; Ripinsky, Sergey, Investment Treaty Law: Current Issues III, British Institute of International and Comparative Law, Paperback, £80.00, ISBN: 9781905221127

Bond, Tina; Black, Jill; Bridge, Jane, LPC: Family

Law 2009, Oxford University Press, Paperback, A4, £29.99, ISBN: 9780199561292

Family Law offers a guide to the essential law, practice, and procedure that is at the heart of the Legal Practice Course. Offering material that is highly practical in nature and providing a concise account of the major aspects of the subject area, this text is an excellent guide for LPC candidates who need to develop a sound knowledge of the fundamentals of the law and procedure in a short period of time. This edition has been revised to include the latest developments in the legal field and discusses the relevant law likely to be encountered by the trainee solicitor in practice. Using sample forms, checklists and self-test questions as well as examples, the book offers a bridge between the notes and exercises provided by LPC lecturers and the more complex practitioner texts.

Bortolotti, Fabio, Drafting and Negotiating International Commercial Contracts: A Practical Guide, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £132.00, ISBN: 9789041128591

Drafting an international contract can be a risky business. Yet with the increasing globalization of markets, these cross-border contracts are becoming a common practice for most traders, as well as for the lawyers assisting them. At the same time, international contracts remain a difficult and mysterious subject for business people as well as their lawyers. In his new book, Drafting and Negotiating International Commercial

Contracts, Professor Fabio Bortolotti, a world-renowned expert on contract law, clarifies the issues surrounding these contracts and provides solutions to the thorny problems they raise.

Brown, Chester, A Common Law of International Adjudication, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £29.99, ISBN: 9780199563906

Recent years have seen a proliferation of international courts and tribunals, which has given rise to several new issues affecting the administration of international justice. This book makes a significant contribution to understanding the impact of this proliferation by addressing one important question: namely, whether international courts and tribunals are increasingly adopting common approaches to issues of procedure and remedies. This book's central argument is that there is an increasing commonality in the practice of international courts to the application of rules concerning these issues, and that this represents the emergence of a common law of international adjudication.

Bruce, Martha, Rights and Duties of Directors 9th ed, Tottel Publishing, Paperback, £95.00, ISBN: 9781845924584

The new, 9th edition of Rights and Duties of Directors is a highly practical and comprehensive publication relevant to all company directors and their advisers. It clearly explains the rights and powers of directors and their specific duties as prescribed by company law and legislation.

Buckley, Ross, International Financial System: Policy and Regulation, Kluwer Law International, Paperback, £40.00, ISBN: 9789041128683

History has a way of repeating itself in financial matters because of a kind of sophisticated stupidity, John Kenneth Galbraith once wrote. In this superb new book, Ross Buckley suggests that the stupidity identified by Galbraith can be traced to the persistence of an inadequate legal system for the regulation of international finance – a system rooted in the failure of economists and investors to take the legal demands of real-world finance seriously.

Button, James T.H., Taxis: Licensing Law and Practice

3rd ed, Tottel Publishing Ltd, Paperback, £78.00, ISBN: 9781847660558

Taxi licensing is fraught with complicated issues, Button on Taxis clearly explains the law and procedure relating to the licensing of hackney carriages and private hire vehicles both inside and outside of London and highlights the overlaps and conflicts that exist. Now in its third edition, this comprehensive reference book has been fully revised and updated to take account of the legislative changes and developments affecting taxi licensing law.

Cartwright, John; Hesselink, Martijn, Precontractual Liability in European Private Law, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £85.00,

This volume analyses thirteen cases, from the perspective of sixteen national European legal systems, in order to explore the legal nature of the precontractual phase and the liability which may follow a break-off of precontractual negotiations. The precontractual phase is difficult to characterise and analyse in either legal or practical terms. The negotiating parties have begun their journey together, but they are not yet in the relationship – the contract – which is their aim. The negotiations may fail after a lengthy period in which either party may have incurred significant expenses and invested time and effort. The break-off of the negotiations may come as a shock to one party where the negotiations were far advanced, or at least where there was nothing to suggest that they were not likely to lead to their fruition in the contract. The disappointed party is therefore likely to seek a remedy.

Castagnino, John-Peter, Derivatives: The Key Principles 3rd ed, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £135.00, ISBN: 9780199556366

This book is a practical guide to derivatives, setting out a straightforward and easily understood explanation of the basic concepts, the different types of derivative product, who uses derivatives, and why and how derivatives are used. The book explains both more established products (such as futures, options, and swaps) and more innovative products (such as CPPI structures and those derivative contracts used as financing tools). The expansion of the derivative market to cover different underlying assets (such as freight, power trading, emissions trading, and hedge funds) is explored.

Chambers, Andrew, Tolley's Internal Auditor's Handbook 2nd ed, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £95.00, ISBN: 9781405735674

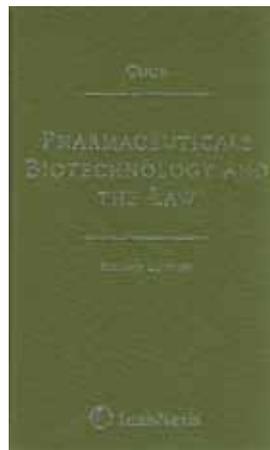

The most comprehensive guide to internal audit available, this book is a must have for internal audit departments and an ideal resource for external advisors. The second edition is vastly expanded and includes the very latest Institute of Internal Auditors Standards and also includes short chapters giving insights into particular sectors – financial services, including banking, government, including local authorities, charities and small IA teams.

Clifton-Dey, Edzard; Hewson, Constanze; Irving, Elizabeth; Strada, Federico, Employment Law in Europe 2nd ed, Tottel Publishing Ltd, Hardback & CD-ROM, £156.17, ISBN: 9781847662705

This is a practical and comprehensive guide to the national employment laws of 29 different European jurisdictions. Each chapter is devoted to a different jurisdiction and follows the same structure, outlining the key employment issues in each.

Comyn, Amanda-Joyce, Taxation in the Republic of Ireland 2009 8th ed, Tottel Publishing Ltd, Paperback, £96.93, ISBN: 9781847662989

Cook, Trevor, Pharmaceuticals, Biotechnology and the Law, LexisNexis Butterworths, Hardback, £200.00, ISBN: 9780406914415

Wildy's Book of the Month - February 2009

Written by one of the country's leading patent and regulatory lawyers, this is the only text which comprehensively covers the wide variety of legal and regulatory issues which surround these industry sectors. The book examines the background to, and the impact of, the law affecting this area. The text is primarily written from the perspective of European Community law, although in those relatively few areas where this is not harmonised it is written from the perspective of English law.

Cooke, Brian; Williams, Peter, Construction Planning, Programming and Control 3rd ed, Wiley-Blackwell, Paperback, £27.99, ISBN: 9781405183802

This book offers a clear explanation of the principles and practice of construction planning, programming and control during the preparation and construction stages of a project. The book is written in the context of current procurement and contractual arrangements and JCT2005, NEC3 and ICE7 contracts are covered. The statutory framework within which construction projects must be managed is explained and the topic of construction hazard and risk is covered in detail. A variety of programming techniques are explained and the development of safe construction sequences and methods is particularly emphasised. The control of time, money and resources are considered in a risk management context and a complete chapter is devoted to cash flow.

Corker, David; Parkinson, Stephen, Disclosure in Criminal Proceedings, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £55.00, ISBN: 9780199211340

Disclosure issues affect every stage of the criminal investigation and subsequent proceedings. This book is the only modern, comprehensive and in-depth volume on the subject. It provides the practitioner with a detailed analysis from a practical perspective by following chronologically the progress of a case from the outset of an investigation until its conclusion, addressing the obligations and responsibilities of each of the parties as they arise. The book focuses primarily on disclosure of the prosecutor's unused material, but it also covers the timing and content of disclosure by the prosecution of its case, and the obligations on the defence.

DiMatteo, Larry A., The Law of International Contracting 2nd ed, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £128.00,

ISBN: 9789041124418

The second edition of this well-known survey of the legal aspects of international business contracting has been needed for some time. Over the course of the last decade, a plethora of new concepts and procedures (many catalyzed by growth in the use of information technology) has wrought many changes in the searching, drafting, and execution of international contracts. This book redefines this field of legal practice to accommodate these changes. A greatly enhanced bibliography, updated to 2008, now includes Internet sources.

Dinstein, Yoram, The International Law of Belligerent Occupation, Cambridge University Press, Paperback, £23.99, ISBN: 9780521720946

The customary law of belligerent

erent occupation goes back to the Hague and Geneva Conventions. Recent instances of such occupation include Iraq, the former Yugoslavia, the Congo and Eritrea. But the paradigmatic illustration is the Israeli occupation, lasting for over 40 years. There is now case law of the International Court of Justice and other judicial bodies, both international and domestic. There are Security Council resolutions and a vast literature. Still, numerous controversial points remain. How is belligerent occupation defined? How is it started and when is it terminated? What is the interaction with human rights law? Who is protected under belligerent occupation, and what is the scope of the protection? Conversely, what measures can an occupying power lawfully resort to when encountering forcible resistance from inhabitants of the occupied territory? This book examines the legislative, judicial and executive rights of the occupying power and its obligations to the civilian population.

Blomfield, Robert; Brooks, Helen, A Practical Guide to Family Proceedings 4th ed, Jordan Publishing Ltd,

Paperback, £50.00, ISBN: 9781846611292

Established as a straightforward, easy-to-follow handbook of procedure this book is equally useful as an aide-memoire for the hard-pressed specialist or as an introduction for the less experienced. The book enables the busy practitioners to avoid the most common pitfalls encountered when following procedure and preparing documents for presentation to the court, thereby avoiding unnecessary work and the possibility of incurring a wasted costs order, whilst contributing to speeding up the whole process. Previous editions of the book have been widely used in the Principal Registry of the Family Division, other district registries and county courts.

Dougan, Michael; Currie, Samantha, 50 Years of the European Treaties: Looking Back and Thinking Forward, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £35.00, ISBN: 9781841138329

The essays which appear in this work are based on the papers presented at a two-day conference held in Liverpool in July 2007 to celebrate the 50th anniversary of the signing of the Treaty of Rome establishing the EEC. The collection reflects critically upon some of the EU's core characteristics and speculates imaginatively on the diverse challenges facing the EU in the future. Exploring the pressing contemporary problems facing Europe and throwing light on the big questions which will define the EU's identity in the medium term, the essays also draw out links with, and threats to, the historical achievements of European integration.

Dyzenhaus, David, Hunt, Murray; Huscroft, Grant, A Simple Common Lawyer: Essays in Honour of Michael Taggart, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £45.00, ISBN: 9781841139234

Michael Taggart is the Alexander Turner Professor of Law at the University of Auckland, New Zealand. He has written extensively on administrative and public law, privatisation and the public/private law divide. He has visited at the Universities of Melbourne, Toronto, Cambridge, Paris II, Saskatchewan, Western Ontario and Queen's University at Kingston and Osgoode Hall Law School. This series of essays, dedicated to him by a group of his former students, colleagues and friends in practice and at the Bar, marks his enormous contribution to the development of administrative law around the common law world.

Einhorn, Talia, Private International Law in Israel, Kluwer Law International, Paperback, £76.00, ISBN: 9789041128676

Israel's private international law (PIL) regime is not codified, nor is it clearly traceable to any one legal system. For these reasons, this volume serves an immensely useful purpose for foreign parties with interests in Israel. It sets forth, in clear and comprehensive detail, all the elements of practice necessary to protect rights or assets of any nature of foreign aspect but likely to fall under Israeli law or under the jurisdiction of an Israeli court.

English, Jack; Card, Richard, Police Law 11th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £29.99, ISBN: 9780199559794

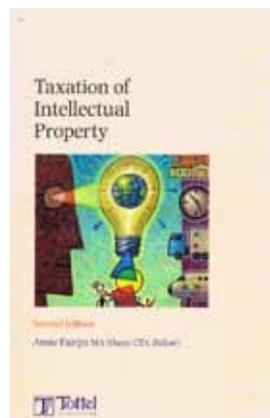

Now in its eleventh edition, this well-respected and highly regarded book covers all areas of law and legal procedure which are of interest to police officers. Formerly known as Butterworth's Police Law this edition has been fully revised and updated to include updates to the Fraud Act 2006, the Criminal Justice & Immigration Act 2008, the Corporate Manslaughter & Corporate Homicide Act 2008, the Road Safety Act 2006, the Sexual Offences Act 2003, the Serious Organised Crime and Police Act 2005, and case law in relation to PACE.

Ezrachi, Ariel; Bernitz, Ulf, Private Labels, Branded Goods and Competition Policy, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £95.00, ISBN: 9780199559374

This book provides an in-depth review of the range of competitive and intellectual property issues raised in connection with private brands in Europe and the US. It examines the development of private labels and their impact on retail competition, then moves on to focus on policy and question the adequacy of current economic and legal analysis in light of the characteristics of own-label competition, and finally it presents a thorough evaluation of the legal issues in the field, including chapters on horizontal and vertical effects, dominance, mergers and acquisitions, intellectual property, copycat packaging and consumer welfare.

Fairpo, Anne, Taxation of Intellectual Property 2nd ed, Tottel Publishing Ltd, Paperback, £95.00, ISBN: 9781845924881

Taxation of Intellectual Property considers the lifecycle of an Intellectual Property asset, from creation to disposal and looks at the tax implications, including tax planning opportunities, at each stage. Special features include case studies for each chapter, interviews with a range of Intellectual Property orientated companies operating in the UK and highlighting of commercial issues, making this unique book even more practical.

Farber, Daniel A; Sherry, Suzanna, Judgment Calls: Prin-

Principle and Politics in Constitutional Law, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £15.99, ISBN: 9780195371208

In exploring how constitutional adjudication works in practice (and how it can be made better), Farber and Sherry cover a wide range of topics that are relevant to their thesis and also independently important, including judicial opinion-writing, the use of precedent, the judicial selection process, the structure of the American judiciary, and the nature of legal education. They conclude with a careful look at how the US Supreme Court has treated three of the most significant and sensitive constitutional issues: terrorism, abortion, and affirmative action. Timely, trenchant, and carefully argued, Judgment

Calls is a welcome addition to the literature on the intersection of constitutional interpretation and American politics.

Fleming, Ian, A Walk Down the Fairway of Value Added Tax: A Practical Guide to VAT for Golf Clubs 2nd ed, Spiramus Press Ltd, Paperback, £18.95, ISBN: 9781904905882

This book is intended as a guide to the basic rules of VAT as they affect golf clubs for club secretaries, treasurers, finance committee chairmen and accounting practices that have golf clubs as their clients. It highlights many of the most common problems likely to arise in the context of VAT, and offers some practical solutions, such as how to avoid an unexpected VAT bill on a refurbishment of the clubhouse. With this book as a reference, it will be easier to avoid the many VAT “bunkers” which can create unwelcome and costly traps for golf clubs. Revised to take account of the changes as a result of the Canterbury Hockey Club and Ladies Hockey Club case.

Foblets, Marie-Claire; Dundes Renteln, Alison, Multicultural Jurisprudence: Comparative Perspectives on the Cultural Defence, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £22.00, ISBN: 9781841138961

As individuals travel across borders, societies have become more and more pluralistic. The result of increased migration is the interaction among cultural communities and inevitably clashes between state law and customary law. These cultural conflicts have given rise to a new multicultural jurisprudence. In this volume scholars grapple with the immense challenges judges are currently experiencing everywhere.

Gabriel, Henry Deeb, Contracts for the Sale of Goods: A Comparison of the Domestic and International Law 2nd ed, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £95.00, ISBN: 9780195333497

Contracts for the Sale of Goods delivers a detailed analysis and in-depth comparison of the substantive law for the sale of goods in domestic and international transactions. Practitioners, academics, and anyone involved in the sale or purchase of goods in the international market will need this thorough analysis of both the text of the United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods (CISG) and the cases that have addressed and interpreted the CISG.

Gallant, Kenneth, The Principle of Legality in International and Comparative Criminal Law, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £60.00, ISBN: 9780521886482

This book fills a major gap in the scholarly literature concerning international criminal law, comparative criminal law, and human rights law. The principle of legality (non-retroactivity of crimes and punishments and related doctrines) is fundamental to criminal law and human rights law. Yet this is the first book-length study of the status of legality in international law – in international criminal law, international human rights law, and international humanitarian law. This is also the first book to survey legality/non-retroactivity in all national constitutions, developing the patterns of implementation of legality in the various legal systems such as Common Law, Civil Law, Islamic Law, and Asian Law around the world. This is a necessary book for any scholar, practitioner, and library in the area of international, criminal, comparative, human rights, or international humanitarian law.

Gretton, George L.; Steven, Andrew J.M., Property, Trusts and Succession, Tottel Publishing Ltd, Paperback, £42.00, ISBN: 9781845921538

Written by expert authors, this book provides full coverage of the property, trusts and succession part of the LLB syllabus in Scotland in one convenient volume. The book covers the new land law regime and is the first student textbook to cover the difficult subject of the Land Registration (Scotland) Act 1979 in detail and it does so in the context of the planned reforms of the Scottish Law Commission.

Higgins, Rosalyn, Theories and Themes: Selected Essays, Speeches and Writings in International Law: Set, Oxford University Press, Hardback, 2 Volumes, £145.00, ISBN: 9780198262350

As President of the International Court of Justice, Dame Rosalyn Higgins is the world's most senior judge. This two volume set collects together all of her most important writings as a scholar, a member of the UN Human Rights Committee, and as judge and President of the International Court of Justice. During these years Rosalyn Higgins has written on a wide range of topics within the international legal umbrella, including legal theory, United Nations Law, humanitarian law, the use of force, state and diplomatic immunities, human rights, and natural resources law.

Holgate, Peter. A.; Buckley, Elizabeth, Accounting Principles for Non-Executive Directors, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £85.00, ISBN: 9780521509787

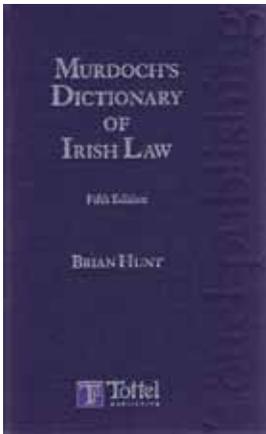

Good quality non-executive directors are essential to good corporate governance. They bring a wealth of experience to the boardroom, and together with their fellow board members they are responsible for the company's annual report and accounts. However, very few are trained accountants. This volume explains the key elements of a listed company's annual report and accounts. Part I explains the difference between profit and cash flows, the accounting profession, the international harmonisation of accounting rules, the origins of the rules governing the preparation of accounts, the regulation of financial reporting and the overarching principles behind accounting rules. Part II discusses issues relevant to listed companies: mergers and acquisitions; earnings per share; realised and distributable profits; financial instruments; and other key topics. An appendix sets out 50 questions, linked to the chapters, which non-executive directors might like to ask at meetings of the board and audit committee.

Hunt, Brian; Murdoch, Henry, Murdoch's Dictionary of Irish Law: A Sourcebook 5th ed, Tottel Publishing Ltd, Paperback, £98.00, ISBN: 9781847661647

This was the first, and remains the best, dictionary of Irish law. It defines the principal words, concepts and phrases, their legal source, whether statutory or judicial, and gives a brief introduction to the law. Now in its 5th edition and with its definitions having been cited in the Supreme Court, this book remains essential to the understanding and practice of the law. Extensively cross-referenced to the relevant articles and books which can be consulted for further information, this book examines every area of Irish law thoroughly.

Kamminga, Menno T; Scheinin, Martin, The Impact of Human Rights Law on General International Law, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £70.00, ISBN: 9780199565221

This volume provides the first comprehensive examination of the impact of international human rights law on general international law. It considers areas including the structure of international obligations, the formation of customary international law, treaty law, immunities, state responsibility and diplomatic protection. The authors trace the extent to which concepts emanating from international human rights law are being incorporated by the guardians of traditional international law: the International Court of Justice and the International Law Commission.

Kelleher, Thomas J.; Walters, G. Scott, Smith, Currie & Hancock's Common Sense Construction Law: A Practical Guide for the Construction Professional 4th ed, John Wiley & Sons Ltd, Hardback & CD-ROM, £70.00, ISBN:

Coming from one of the most respected construction law firms in the world, this bestselling guide provides a practical, plain-English introduction to the significant legal topics and questions affecting construction industry professionals. This fourth edition offers a complete update of the classic reference, with coverage of the recently revised industry-standard contract documents produced by the AIA, AGC, EJCDC, and others for 2007/2008.

Kenyon, Andrew T.; Richardson, Megan; Ricketson, Sam, Landmarks in Australian Intellectual Property Law, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £50.00, ISBN: 9780521516860

of how Australian intellectual property law has developed as a distinctly Australian body of law during the century since the country was established. The book takes a selection of key intellectual property law cases and tells their stories, situating each case in its historical, cultural, social or economic context, as well as providing factual details about, for example, the arguments made in each case and the evidence adduced. In part, the book offers a deeper legal analysis of the selected cases, many of which have been central to the framing of Australian intellectual property law. The book also provides a fuller sense of each case as revealing and influencing wider understandings and practices. Landmarks in Australian Intellectual Property Law is a valuable resource for teachers, researchers, practitioners and judges in Australia and throughout the common law world.

Keogh, Andrew, Blackstone's Magistrates' Court Handbook, Oxford University Press, Pocketbook, £39.95, ISBN: 9780199544844

Blackstone's Magistrate's Court Handbook provides an indispensable, complete and practical guide for the busy court advocate, offering extensive coverage of offences, sentencing, procedure and evidential issues. This book also contains detailed coverage of the increasingly complex sentencing regime including the new Magistrates' Sentencing Guidelines, and considers the impact of the Criminal Justice and Immigration Bill.

sive reconsideration of the ethical issues and a detailed examination of English law. Importantly, the analysis is given a context by situating consent at the centre of the healthcare professional-patient relationship.

Macnab, Andrew, Bellamy & Child: Materials on European Community Competition Law 2009, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £45.00,

ISBN: 9780199559343

This volume of EC competition law materials serves both as the Materials volume of the Sixth Edition of Bellamy & Child: European Community Law of Competition, and as a free-standing work of reference in its own right. It includes legislation, notices and guidelines relevant to all areas of EC competition law (including Treaty provisions, modernisation and procedural matters, substantive antitrust matters, mergers and concentrations, sectoral regimes, public undertakings and State aids). It provides a one-stop resource for competition and antitrust practitioners worldwide. A copy of this Materials volume is included with each Bellamy & Child set, and the sets will be updated annually to include the new materials volume.

Mak, Vanessa, Performance-Oriented Remedies in European Sale of Goods Law, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £50.00, ISBN: 9781841138930

Putting the focus on the contract of sale, which as the most common type of contract may fulfil a leading role in the harmonisation process, this book aims to provide a model for further convergence of European sales laws, engaging with issues of contract theory and comparative law lying at the heart of the process. Independently from this, the comparison between different systems is used in order to highlight particular problems in the remedial schemes of individual systems and to see whether a better solution may be borrowed from elsewhere.

Marson, James, Business Law, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £33.99, ISBN: 9780199544455 is analysed for its relevance to the business world, the key terminology is introduced and the relevant statutes and case law are analysed.

McKenna, Justin, Irish Takeover Legislation, Tottel Publishing Ltd, Paperback, £98.00, ISBN: 9781847663917

Irish Takeover Legislation is a compendium of legislation regulating the takeovers of public companies in Ireland. It also provides commentary outlining the application and operation of the Irish Takeover Rules and identifies other legal issues relevant to takeovers in Ireland.

Miller, Pete; Hardy, George, Taxation of Company Reorganisations 2nd ed, Tottel Publishing, Paperback + eBook, £118.47, ISBN:

This title offers a comprehensive and readable introduction to the complex set of tax rules that relate to all types of company reorganisations including reconstructions, amalgamations and demergers. It describes the relevant personal income tax and pension rights issues as well as the corporation tax and indirect tax issues. Written by two leading practitioners, the book has case studies throughout to illustrate the multifarious forms that reorganisations can take and the different types of tax issues that arise in practice.

Monkcom, Stephen, Smith and Monkcom: The Law of Gambling 3rd ed, Tottel Publishing Ltd, Hardback, £225.00, ISBN: 9781845923297

Formerly known as The Law of Betting, Gaming and Lotteries, this book provides a comprehensive analysis and treatment of the law governing gambling in the UK. This new edition has been substantially revised and updated by a team of experts to take account of major new developments as contained in the Gambling Act 2005.

Moore, Michael S, Causation and Resonsibility, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780199256860

The book first sets out the place of causation in criminal and tort law and outlines the metaphysics presupposed by the legal doctrine. It then analyses the best theoretical accounts of causation in the philosophy of science and metaphysics, and using these accounts criticises many of the core legal concepts surrounding causation - such as intervening causation, foreseeability of harm and complicity. It considers and rejects the radical proposals to eliminate the notion of causation from law by using risk analysis to attribute responsibility. The result of the analysis is a powerful argument for revising our understanding of the role played by causation in the attribution of legal and moral responsibility.

Morgera, Elisa, Corporate Accountability in International Environmental Law, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £60.00, ISBN: 9780199558018

This is the first book to examine systematically all international sources of corporate accountability standards with specific reference to environmental protection and to elaborate on their theoretical and practical implications for international environmental law. The book argues that although international environmental law does not bind multinational corporations and other business entities, growing international practice points to the emergence of legal standards. These standards allow adapting and translating inter-State obligations embodied in international environmental law into specific normative benchmarks to determine the legitimacy of the conduct of the private sector against internationally recognized values and rules.

Murphy, Therese, New Technologies and Human Rights, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £50.00, ISBN: 9780199562572

The first IVF baby was born in the 1970s. Less than 20 years later, we had cloning and GM food, and information and communication technologies had transformed everyday life. In 2000, the human genome was sequenced. More recently, there has been much discussion of the economic and social benefits of nanotechnology, and synthetic biology has also been generating controversy. This important volume is a timely contribution to increasing calls for regulation - or better regulation - of these and other new technologies. Drawing on an international team of legal scholars, it reviews and develops the role of human rights in the regulation of new technologies.

Nath, Ravi; Crans, Berend, Aircraft Repossession and Enforcement: Practical Aspects, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £140.00, ISBN: 9789041126481

Designed as a detailed practical guide to the management of aircraft during default periods and their repossession, this very useful book is also of great value as a preventive guide in the drafting of aircraft lease and financing contracts. Local aviation law experts from 32 jurisdictions worldwide provide in-depth responses, country by country, to an extremely detailed questionnaire that includes eighty 'real-life' questions.

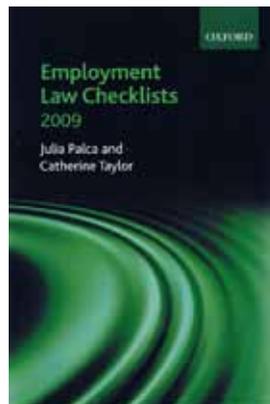

Newcombe, Andrew; Pa-

radell, Lluís, Law and Practice of Investment Treaties: Standards of Treatment, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £148.00, ISBN: 9789041123510

In response to disputes arising under the international investment agreements regime, since the early 1990s a significant body of arbitral jurisprudence has come into being. This book is the first to provide a comprehensive explanation of these standards of treatment, taking into account the full weight of relevant jurisprudence as it continues to evolve. Where possible, the authors critically examine applicable principles that can be seen to emerge for international commercial arbitration practitioners. The book focuses on the substantive protections accorded to investors and investments and on the variations among jurisdictions.

Palca, Julia; Taylor, Catherine, Employment Law Checklists 2009, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £49.95, ISBN: 9780199547470

Combining concise, cogent analysis with an appealing and easy to use checklist format, this title provides quick answers to a wide variety of employment law problems. It sets out clearly and concisely all the points which must be considered and the procedures which must be followed before employment decisions are made. The law relating to each topic is briefly described, followed by step-by-step guidance on how to approach each issue.

Ratner, Steven R.; Abrams,

Jason S.; Bischoff, James L., Accountability for Human Rights Atrocities in International Law 3rd ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £29.99, ISBN: 9780199546671; Hardback, £95.00, ISBN: 9780199546664

The fall of dictatorial regimes and the eruption of destructive civil conflicts around the world have led to calls for holding individuals accountable for human rights atrocities. This book offers a comprehensive study of the promise and limitations of international criminal law as a means of enforcing international human rights and humanitarian law. It provides a searching analysis of the principal crimes under the law of nations, such as genocide and crimes against humanity and an appraisal of the most important prosecutorial and other mechanisms developed to bring individuals to justice. After applying their conclusions in a detailed case study, the authors offer a series of compelling conclusions on the prospects for accountability.

Raz, Joseph, Between Authority and Interpretation: On the Theory of Law and Practical Reason, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £35.00, ISBN: 9780199562688

In this book Joseph Raz develops his views on some of the central questions in practical philosophy: legal, political and moral. The book provides an overview of Raznulls work on jurisprudence and the nature of law in the context of broader questions in the philosophy of practical reason. Taken together, the essays in the volume offer a valuable introduction for students coming for the first time to Raznulls work in the philosophy of law, and an original contribution to many of the current debates in practical philosophy.

Ross, Margaret L.; Chalmers, James, Walker and Walker: The Law of Evidence in Scotland 3rd edition, Tottel Publishing Ltd, Paperback, £120.00, ISBN: 9781845921651

This classic text has been extensively updated and reworked, but retains its comprehensive and detailed examination of the law of evidence in the broadest of civil and criminal contexts. The emphasis remains upon rigorous examination of the issues affecting all who work with the law of evidence whether in court, chamber practice or legal education. Due attention is given to changes in the context of legal proceedings, to changes in the nature of the evidence available to parties, and to the direct impact of the European Convention on Human Rights.

Rubenstein, Michael, Discrimination: A Guide to the Relevant Case Law 22nd ed, Michael Rubenstein Publishing Ltd, Paperback, A4, £85.00, ISBN: 9780955822414

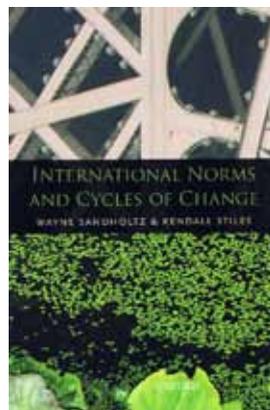

This annual guide written by Michael Rubenstein is the definitive guide to the principles from the case law on sex and race discrimination, disability, religion or belief, sexual orientation, age discrimination and equal pay.

Ryder, Ernest; Goldrein, Iain, Child Case Management Practice, Family Law, Paperback, £95.00, ISBN: 9781846610318

The family courts dealing with public and private child law cases are inundated with work, involving huge amounts of paper. Far more effective is the creation of a file which, from the outset, focuses on material relevant to the judicial decision-making process. So for each particular issue, there needs to be an analysis of what the judicial hearing will actually require, with checklists, questionnaires etc specifying the information necessary to fulfil that ultimate objective. Child Case Management Practice has been devised to meet that need.

Sandholtz, Wayne; Stiles, Wayne, International Norms and Cycles of Change, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £41.00, ISBN: 9780195380088

International lawyers and international relations scholars recognize that international norms change over time. Practices that were once permissible and even “normal” - like slavery, conquest, and wartime plundering - are now prohibited by international rules. Yet though we acknowledge norm change, we are just beginning to understand how and why international rules develop in the ways that they do. Wayne Sandholtz and Kendall Stiles sketch the primary theoretical perspectives on international norm change, the “legalization” and “transnational activist” approaches, and argue that both are limited by their focus on international rules as outcomes. The authors then present their “cycle theory,” in which norm change is continual, a product of the constant interplay among rules, behavior, and disputes.

Scott, Joanne, Environmental Protection: European Law and Governance, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £50.00, ISBN: 9780199565177

The EU has emerged as a major source of innovation in environmental governance. This is manifested through the frameworks it is putting in place for environmental governance, and through its position on the world stage for international environmental law. An institutional richness has developed which is sometimes daunting in its complexity but which offers much promise for the future. This volume seeks to give a taste of this, and of the challenges which face the EU in its sustainable development phase.

Shackleton, Stewart, Arbitration Law Reports and Review 2005, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £295.00, ISBN: 9780199203420

This is the 2005 volume of the Arbitration Law Reports and Review series, which makes full texts of judgments on the arbitration law of England, Wales and Northern Ireland available in a single publication on an annual basis. Yearly volumes include a comprehensive collection of arbitration-related judicial decisions for the relevant calendar year, with back volumes in preparation to cover each year since entry into force of the Arbitration Act 1996. The case law is cross-referenced and each case is prefaced by a head note of keywords, a concise summary of the issues, the holding and judicial comments obiter plus lists of cases, arbitration rules and legislation referred to.

Sikand, Maya, Blackstone's Guide to the Criminal Justice and Immigration Act 2008, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £39.95, ISBN: 9780199553822

This new Blackstone's Guide combines the full text of the Act with an expert narrative. It seeks to explain the scope and impact of the Act, including the civil liberties implications, and bring practitioners right up-to-date with this complex piece of drafting.

Stebbins, Chantal, Legal Foundations of Tribunals in Nineteenth Century England, Cambridge University Press, Paperback, £24.99, ISBN: 9780521107518

The tribunal's legal nature and procedures, and its place in the machinery of justice, were debated and refined throughout the Victorian period. In examining this process, this book explains the interaction between legal constraints, social and economic demand and political expediency which gave rise to this form of dispute resolution. It reveals the imagination and creativity of the legislators who drew on diverse legal institutions and values to create the new tribunals, and shows how the modern difficulties of legal classification were largely the result of the institution's nineteenth-century development. Paperback re-issue of 2007 edition

Stephens, Tim, International Courts and Environmental Protection, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £60.00, ISBN: 9780521881227

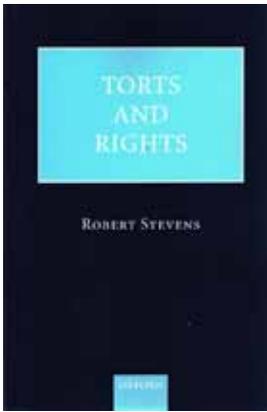

International environmental law has come of age, yet the global environment continues to deteriorate. The challenge of the twenty-first century is to reverse this process by ensuring that governments comply fully with their obligations, and progressively assume stricter duties to preserve the environment. This book is the first comprehensive examination of international environmental litigation. Analysing the spectrum of adjudicative bodies that are engaged in the resolution of environmental disputes, it offers a reappraisal of their relevance in contemporary contexts. The book critiques the contribution that arbitral awards and judicial decisions have made to the development of environmental law, and considers the looming challenges for international litigation. With its unique combination of scholarly analysis and practical discussion, this work is especially relevant to an era in which environmental matters are increasingly being brought before international jurisdictions, and will be of great interest to students and scholars engaged with this vital field.

Stevens, Robert, Torts and Rights, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £24.99, ISBN: 9780199563845

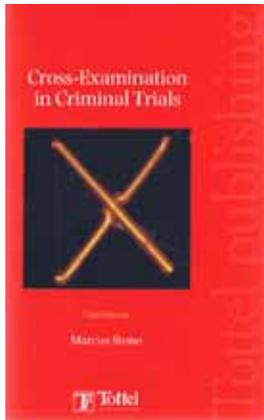

The law of torts is concerned with the secondary obligations generated by the infringement of primary rights. This work seeks to show that this apparently simple proposition enables us to understand the law of torts as found in the common law. Using primarily English materials, but drawing heavily upon the law of other common law jurisdictions, Stevens seeks to give an account of the law of torts which relies upon the core material familiar to most students and practitioners with a grasp of the law of torts. This material is drawn together in support of a single argument in a provocative and accessible style, and puts forward a new theoretical model for analysing the law of torts, providing an overarching framework for radically re-conceiving the subject. Paperback Re-issue of 2007 edition.

Stone, Marcus, Cross-Examination in Criminal Trials 3rd ed, Tottel Publishing Ltd, Paperback, £48.00, ISBN: 9781845921033

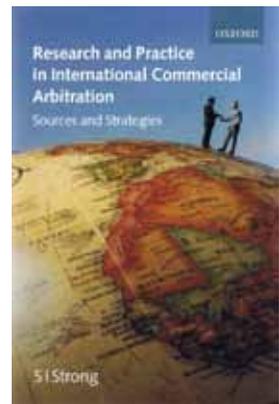

Cross-Examination in Criminal Trials provides a systematic analysis of the techniques of cross-examination in criminal practice. It is about tactics and psychology. The text integrates cross-examination with fact-finding and advocacy generally, including examination-in-chief, re-examination, speeches and insight into exposing mistakes and lies.

Stookes, Paul, A Practical Approach to Environmental Law 2nd ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £49.95, ISBN: 9780199553310

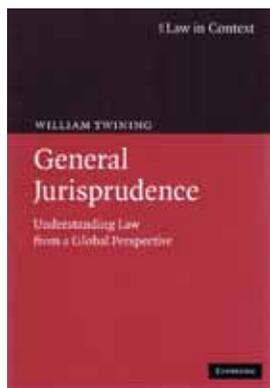

A Practical Approach to Environmental Law provides comprehensive coverage of the full range of law and legislation relating to the environment, including; The Environmental Assessment of Plans and Programmes Regulations 2004; the Planning and Compulsory Purchase Act 2004; and the Environmental Information Regulations 2004, written in a clear and user-friendly style.

Strong, S. I., Research in International Commercial Arbitration: Sources and Strategies, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £29.99, ISBN: 9780199238309

This book provides both experienced and inexperienced practitioners, as well as advanced students, with a guide to the strategies associated with researching international commercial arbitration as well as the sources associated with that field of law. The book combines instructional text with a bibliography of sources to teach readers where to find relevant material. The instructional chapters discuss the most important methods by which one conducts research in international arbitration, while the bibliography provides guidance on where to find that material.

Twining, William, Law in Context: General Jurisprudence - Understanding Law from a Global Perspective, Cambridge University Press, Paperback, £35.00, ISBN:

This book explores how globalisation influences the understanding of law. Adopting a broad concept of law and a global perspective, it critically reviews mainstream Western traditions of academic law and legal theory. Its central thesis is that most processes of so-called 'globalisation' take place at sub-global levels and that a healthy cosmopolitan discipline of law should encompass all levels of social relations and the legal ordering of these relations.

Upex, Robert; Benny, Richard; Hardy, Stephen, Core Text Series: Employment Law 3rd ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £23.99, ISBN: 9780199232864
In its third edition (previously entitled Labour Law),

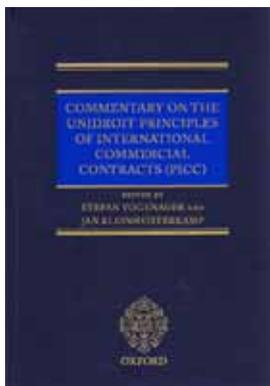

Core Text: Employment Law has emerged as an extremely valuable student text, providing balanced coverage of the key legislative provisions impacting on employment relationships. Tailored to meet the needs of employment law modules, the authors' straightforward approach ensures that the text guides students concisely through the ever changing legislative maze of employment law. Areas of recent development are clearly highlighted, particularly relating to discrimination and equal pay, which are now chapters in their own right.

Van Duzer, Peter, Companies Act 2006: A Guide for Private Companies 2nd ed, Jordan Publishing Ltd, Paperback, £75.00, ISBN: 9781846611339

Companies Act 2006: A Guide for Private Companies is a concise and practical guide for private companies, explaining the procedures, obligations and liabilities of complying with the requirements of the Act. This second edition has been thoroughly updated to take account of changes and issues arising since the Act received Royal Assent.

Vogenauer, Stefan; Kleinheisterkamp, Jan, Commentary on the UNIDROIT Principles of International Commercial Contracts (PICC), Oxford University Press, Hardback, £195.00, ISBN: 9780199291755

The Commentary on the UNIDROIT Principles of International Commercial Contracts is written by an international team of distinguished practitioners and academics. They offer an article by article commentary on the principles to provide an accessible guide to the existing case law and legal literature, as well as a comparison with national and international legislation.

Vranes, Erich, Trade and the Environment: Fundamental Issues in International and WTO Law, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £60.00, ISBN: 9780199562787

The relevance of the WTO legal system for environmental protection is a central topic in general international law, WTO law and international environmental law. The relationship between WTO law and international and domestic efforts to protect the environment has moved to centre stage in WTO and international environmental law. It has also spurred the discussion on fragmentation in international law in recent years. This book analyses these issues by examining the ‘horizontal’ interaction between WTO law and ‘other’ international law, the ‘vertical’ relationship between WTO law and domestic law, and the contents and the interrelations between fundamental provisions of WTO law.

Wacks, Raymond, Understanding Jurisprudence: An Introduction to Legal Theory 2nd ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £22.99, ISBN: 9780199532124

The concept of law lies at the very heart of social and political life. Universal principles like justice, rights, and morality cannot be fully understood without us thinking about the role that law plays and the purpose behind our legal systems and institutions

Understanding Jurisprudence opens up these challenging concepts to provide an engaging introduction to legal theory. The book guides the reader through the intriguing nature of jurisprudence and explores the central ideas and theories that continue to be hotly debated to this day.

Walden, Ian, Telecommunications Law and Regulation 3rd ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £95.00, ISBN: 9780199559350
Since the last edition of the book was published, there have been a number of important developments in the telecommunications industry, for example the operational separation of BT in the UK, which may prove a model for the rest of Europe in dealing with incumbent operators, and the debate over “network neutrality” in the US, which is dominating the roll-out of the infrastructure. Telecommunications Law and Regulation is fully updated and contains new chapters on technology and markets, and capacity agreements.

Warendorf, Hans; Thomas, Richard; Curry-Sumner, Ian, The Civil Code of the Netherlands, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £92.00, ISBN: 9789041127662
Lawyers, businessmen and private individuals interested in research or study into the Dutch civil law will find this English translation of the Dutch Civil Code immensely valuable. Now available for the first time in one volume, this English translation of the whole of the Dutch Civil Code fills a gap for the non-

Dutch speaking reader.

Compensation for Stress at Work

by David Marshall

Jordan Publishing, Softcover, ISBN 9781846611483, £65.00, due March 2009

Stress at work has become the second biggest cause of work-place absence. Employees now increasingly seek legal remedies for psychiatric injury at work and employers face cost and risk. This new practitioner's work examines the problem of psychiatric injury at work and the overlapping rights in employment law and personal injury law. The book sets out the legal framework which defines the duties of the employer and the rights of the employee for stress, harassment and bullying at work. It begins with an examination of the common law principles clarified by the Court of Appeal in Hutton v Sutherland, and developed in subsequent case law, followed by statutory liability for harassment and then goes on to look at the causes of action available in the employment tribunal. There then follows analysis of how the principles of foreseeability and causation operate in each type of action, what remedies are available to claimants, the limitation periods for such cases and how this operates where there are overlapping claims. The work concludes with more practical chapters on cost and funding, sick pay and permanent health insurance, and tactics in practice. Expertly drafted precedent material is provided in the appendices, including model client letters, CFA agreements, compromise agreements and Tomlin order.

EC Merger Control 5th edition

by John Cook and Christopher Kerse

Sweet and Maxwell, Hardback, ISBN 9781847038074, £175.00, due March 2009

Now in its fifth edition, this well respected work provides a comprehensive analysis of the EC merger control regime. It examines the impact of legislative and procedural changes in 2004 on the subsequent casework and procedures of the Commission and the workings of the European Competition Network in the merger control context. In particular it describes the evolution and maturing of the EC merger control regime from its inception in 1989, highlighting its main substantive and procedural features. It analyses the new Non-Horizontal Merger Guidelines and the Commissions recent casework applying them. In addition to explaining the recent Consolidated Jurisdictional Notice, which highlighted the changes from the four notices it replaced, the book also explores almost five years of Commission casework under the new 2004 merger regime and the SIEC test. The implications of import recent ECJ and CFI merger cases are considered, including Sony/BMG and the damages actions brought by Schneider and MyTravel as a result of annulled merger decisions. It also includes a case study to examine to detail how the Commission applies its merger control powers.

Counter-Terrorism Law Handbook

by Martin Polaine, Arvinder Sambei and Anton de Plessis

Oxford University Press, Hardback, ISBN 9780199553808, £125.00, due March 2009

The Counter-Terrorism Law Handbook provides in a single volume the core documents in international law relating to terrorism, together with analytical commentary. The detailed narrative provides the reader with an understanding of issues likely to arise in practice, for example competing jurisdiction; the impact of human rights law and practice; extradition; handling of MLA requests; and countering the financing of terrorism. The book also includes the key international and regional counter-terrorism instruments and coverage on the approach of other jurisdictions, particularly important when dealing with issues of international co-operation. The materials cover relevant case law from a range of jurisdictions as well as key documents from international organisations such as FATF. It contains all the key materials along with an expert detailed commentary in one volume and also contains a selection of international and regional instruments, including the 16 UN counter-terrorism Conventions and Protocols, relevant UN Security Council resolutions, regional initiatives, and relevant case law from a broad sweep of jurisdictions. There is a detailed, practical narrative covering issues likely to arise both during pre-trial and in the course of the trial including confessions, covertly obtained evidence, reverse burden and detention.

Executorship and Administration 7th edition

by John Thurston

Tottel Publishing, Softcover, ISBN 9781847661111, £56.00, due March 2009

A Practitioner's Guide to Executorship and Administration is a concise and thorough guide to all matters pertaining to the executorship and administration of an estate. Now in its 7th edition, this handbook provides guidance to the administration of estates of those dying testate, intestate or partially intestate, from taking initial instructions to preparing final accounts and distributing the estate. The handbook discusses wills, identifying the estate's assets and liabilities, preparing the HMRC Account and the application for the grant, executors, inheritance tax, the grant and collecting in and distributing the estate. A host of forms and useful addresses are included.

Butterworths Securities and Financial Services Law Handbook 10th edition

Edited by Deborah A. Sabatol

LexisNexis Butterworths, Softcover, ISBN 9781405737203, £120.00, due March 2009

Butterworths Financial Services Law Handbook is published annually and brings together in a single volume the primary, secondary and European legislation which forms the regulatory framework for the financial services industry. All of the relevant statutory instruments made under FSMA 2000 are set out as amended in Sections A and B of Part III. There is an Appendix listing every UK statutory instrument made under FSMA 2000 with a brief summary of its effect. To complete this comprehensive work, lists or tables of all amending enactments are included at the beginning of each Act, statutory instrument and European Directive and Regulation. All lawyers, compliance officers and regulators working in the financial services field will find that Butterworths Financial Services Law Handbook provides a portable, up-to-date and indispensable reference source.

Conveyancing Forms and Procedures 4th edition

by Annette Goss, Lorraine Richardson and Michael Taylor

Law Society Publishing, Softcover, ISBN 9781853289385, £59.95, due March 2009

This popular practice manual for conveyancers has been completely revised and updated to take account of the fundamental changes that have occurred to the law and practice of conveyancing in recent years. A new team of authors with experience of conveyancing, land registration and training conveyancers have comprehensively re-written the book to take account of, the Land Registration Act 2002 and HMLR e-services, electronic ordering and delivery of property searches, Stamp Duty Land Tax, the requirements of the Money Laundering Regulations, Home Information Packs and Energy Performance Certificates and revised TransAction forms. The book provides a detailed, step-by-step guide to the sequence of a domestic residential conveyancing transaction. Over 40 forms, including all those which are most commonly used in conveyancing, are reproduced in the book and are accompanied by user-friendly commentary on their use and purpose. The appendix includes a directory of contact details, land registry and local authority addresses, fees tables to assist with the correct completion and despatch of forms. The accompanying CD-ROM contains a wealth of material to supplement and illustrate the text, including colour plans, specimen HIPs, EPCs and search reports, and customisable checklists.

Oil and Gas: A Practical Handbook

Edited by Geoffrey Picton-Turbervill

Globe Business Publishing, Hardback, ISBN

9781905783236, £120.00,

due March 2009

Oil and gas are key drivers of the world economy and the technical, commercial and legal applications which support their exploitation are becoming increasingly sophisticated. This new title outlines in a single volume the essential principles involved in documenting oil and gas transactions, from the upstream exploration phase to transportation by pipeline and liquefied natural gas to sales and marketing. It is intended to be a practical guide for anyone seeking a better understanding of the commercial and legal principles involved. Edited by Geoffrey Picton-Turbervill, head of the global energy team at international law firm Ashurst in London, the book features contributions from leading practitioners including experts at Denton Wilde Sapte, Chadbourne & Parke, Shell and Lovells, among others. Whether you are a lawyer in private practice or in industry, a commercial negotiator or from a financial institution or energy advisory practice, this forthcoming title will provide a comprehensive insight into the oil and gas business.

Cretney & Lush on Lasting and Enduring Powers of Attorney 6th edition

by Denzil Lush

Jordan Publishing, Softcover, ISBN 9781846610820,

£60.00, due March 2009

Cretney & Lush on Lasting and Enduring Powers of Attorney is the leading work on this difficult and growing area of law. The 6th edition has been significantly updated and expanded to take account of the Mental Capacity Act 2005, which introduced the new Lasting Powers of Attorney, enabling the attorney to make personal welfare and healthcare decisions on behalf of the donor of the power, not previously possible with Enduring Powers of Attorney. Uniquely, this work provides full guidance on both enduring and lasting powers of attorney. It examines the duties and responsibilities that will remain in relation to existing enduring powers of attorney. It then goes on to look at the circumstances in which a Lasting Power of Attorney may be useful and the law and procedure relating to their creation and registration. Cretney & Lush: Lasting and Enduring Powers of Attorney contains all relevant legislation, prescribed forms and commentary from a leading expert in the field.

The EU Regulation on Insolvency Proceedings: Commentary and Annotated Guide 2nd edition

by Gabriel Moss QC, Ian F. Fletcher and Stuart Isaacs QC

Oxford University

Press, Hardback, ISBN

9780199215089, £135.00,

due March 2009

This practical book provides a complete analysis of the EC Council Regulation on Insolvency Proceedings. This is an essential work for anyone who requires knowledge of insolvency law in the UK or any of the other 26 EU countries. The EC Regulation has direct binding force in all 27 EU countries and, actually or potentially, affects every insolvency proceeding in each of those countries which has any international aspect. This is a second edition of the leading work on the subject in English that has been cited by numerous courts in the EU, including the Advocate General of the European Court of Justice in the Eurofood case and by the appellate courts of Austria in Re: Stojeciv. The new edition is updated to accommodate significant Court decisions interpreting the Regulation such as the ECJ cases of Eurofood and Staubitz-Schreiber. The decision in Shierson v Vlieland Boddy on the meaning of time of opening proceedings and the Elektrim case on Arts 4 and 15 are also discussed. The work considers matters of implementation and interpretation in the main European states and takes account of the accession of the 10 new Member States since the last edition. In addition all changes to the text of the Regulation have been included.

Financial Services for Solicitors: Law, Practice and Precedents

Edited by Ian Muirhead

Law Society Publishing,

Softcover, ISBN

9781853287541, £79.95,

due March 2009

One of the challenges to solicitors posed by the Legal Services Act is that of reducing reliance on transactional business and building enduring client relationships. A business area which commends itself as complementing solicitors' mainstream work is financial advice, and the more enterprising firms are increasingly seeking to align with fee-based financial advisers to provide a more comprehensive client service. Financial Services for Solici- tors explains the pros and cons of the various forms of association between solicitors and financial advisers and describes fifteen areas of business in which solicitors' advice may be incomplete without the input of a financial adviser. Part 1 explains the structural changes permitted by the Legal Services Act; relevant Law Society and FSA regulation; tax, accounting and legal issues; and the alternative forms of association between solicitors and financial advisers, including joint ventures and separate businesses. Part 2 details some of the business areas in which financial services impact solicitors' work, including investment for trusts and for clients who lack mental capacity; the treatment of pensions on divorce; advice to the elderly; tax planning for expatriates; personal injury trusts; pensions for business owners and estate planning. Part 3 provides practical compliance and marketing precedents, which are reproduced on an accompanying CD-ROM for ease of use. This authoritative book has been edited by Ian Muirhead of SIFA, a solicitor, and the contributors include leading financial advisers, accountants and solicitors.

RUSSIA AND THE LAW OF NATIONS IN HISTORICAL PERSPECTIVE

William E. Butler

ISBN: 9780854900282
Hardback 600pp.
£65.00

The origins and development of Russian law and of State practice in developing the law of nations, mostly with a Russian dimension, are explored in 35 articles and reviews revised for this volume. Included are several biographical sketches of American, British, and Russian jurists whose roles have been neglected, together with the texts of rare syllabi from the Soviet era that collectively configure the substance of international legal education from 1917 to 1991.

STATE IMMUNITY IN RUSSIAN PERSPECTIVE

Ekaterina Bykhovskaya

ISBN: 9780854900343

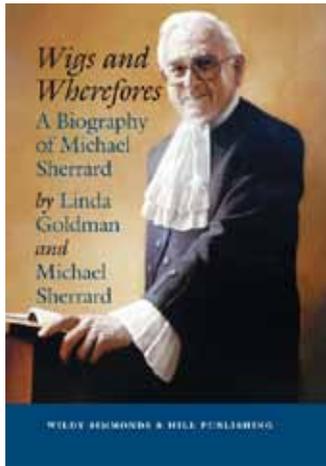

Hardback 250pp.

£45.00

Since the nineteenth century State immunity has been one of the most controversial doctrines in international law. While its development in Western jurisdictions fluctuated between absolute and restrictive immunity, Russian approaches to State immunity reinforced the overall controversy as they followed a quite distinct path depending mostly on the political stance of the changing regimes. At the same time, although absolute immunity was the official Soviet position, the Soviet Union's approach to State immunity significantly contributed to the increasing acceptance of restrictive immunity by the end of the twentieth century, largely in response to its routine pleas of State immunity.

Significant changes in Russia's politics, economics and law caused by the dissolution of the Soviet Union have entailed the revision of its approach to State immunity. However, the emerging trend towards the restriction of immunity has been highly inconsistent and has given rise to conflicts between different legal instruments.

This book is the first endeavour in almost fifty years to cover the entire range of questions peculiar to the Russian position on State immunity. It covers proceedings instituted against Russia in foreign courts, the development of Russian doctrinal views, provisions of international treaties, relevant legislation, judicial practice and the Russian draft law on State immunity. The full scope of these issues is examined in the context of international practice. The research concludes with an analysis of the possible impact of the United Nations Convention on Jurisdictional Immunities of States and their Property on Russia's perspective on State immunity.

WIGS AND WHEREFORES: A BIOGRAPHY OF MICHAEL SHERRARD QC

Linda Goldman and Michael Sherrard

Foreword by Joshua Rozenberg

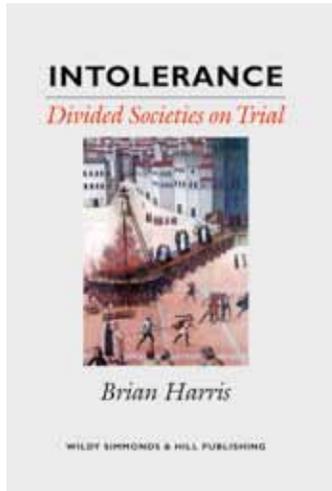

ISBN: 9780854900305

Hardback 400pp.

There is a generation of lawyers, barristers and solicitors alike, who, together with the many clients that he represented during a long and distinguished career, consider Michael Sherrard to have been one of the great recent influences on the legal profession and the Bar in particular. Lord Denning, before whom he appeared in trials and appeals, said that he regarded him as ‘the best of advocates’. Michael Sherrard was involved in numerous high-profile cases in both domestic courts and those of the Far East.

This book provides a frank and entertaining account of Michael Sherrard’s life in the law. Many of the events and personalities within its pages continue to spark public interest: the defence of James Hanratty; the inquiry into John Stonehouse’s activities; encounters with Robert Maxwell; and the anti-apartheid activities of Peter Hain. The book also chronicles his major role in developing modern advocacy worldwide. Wherever the English common law has operated within the last twenty-odd years, the voice of Michael Sherrard speaks through many of the trained advocates.

INTOLERANCE: DIVIDED SOCIETIES ON TRIAL

Brian Harris OBE, QC

ISBN: 9780854900251

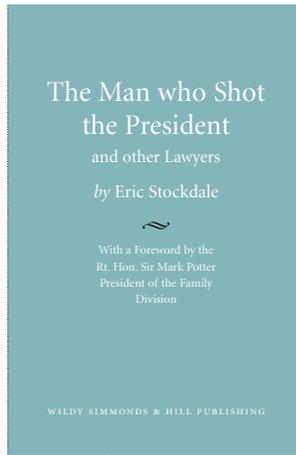

Hardback 300pp.

£19.99

Most of us are intolerant of something, whether it is our neighbour's dog, his politics or the colour of his skin, but we may not always recognize our lack of tolerance. By making extensive use of surviving court documentation from famous - and not so famous - trials, Brian Harris is able to explore several issues that have given rise to deep-rooted divisions within Western society, such as slavery, religion and homosexuality. The result is a highly readable narrative, which often challenges traditional interpretations of the cases concerned, punctuated throughout by the author's pertinent insights into the personalities, events and legal processes of the day.

The cases include the 'witches' of Salem whose tragic story was plundered by Arthur Miller in his play, The Crucible, the execution of a seventy-year-old woman for giving shelter to a man on the run from England's last rebellion, the prosecution of a schoolteacher for teaching evolution, the persecution of Oscar Wilde and the prosecution of Penguin Books for publishing Lady Chatterley's Lover. Intolerance: Divided Societies on Trial provides an engaging and thought-provoking account of man's intolerance to man through the ages.

THE MAN WHO SHOT THE PRESIDENT AND OTHER LAWYERS

By
Eric Stockdale

ISBN: 9780854900299
Hardback 118pp
£14.95

In From Wig and Pen to Computer the author made brief references to his practice and wrote about his experience as a writer of articles and books on legal and allied topics. In the present book he gives an amusing account of some of his more entertaining and interesting cases while at the Bar and on the Bench, coupled with revealing stories about some of his contemporaries in the law. It is likely to prove an acceptable gift for law students, lawyers and laymen alike.

Sir Mark Potter, in his Foreword, comments: 'This book is a treasure house of anecdote and reminiscence.' He goes on to describe it as 'a fascinating patchwork assembled from the varied fabric of a career at the Bar of a kind which has all but disappeared in the age of increased specialisation, followed by 22 years as a humane and humorous Circuit Judge before whom advocates and litigants alike were treated with fairness, courtesy and consideration.'

For a limited period and when purchased together, The Man Who Shot the President and From Wig and Pen to Computer is being offered for the special price of £25

FROM WIG AND PEN TO COMPUTER
REFLECTIONS OF A LEGAL AUTHOR

By
Eric Stockdale

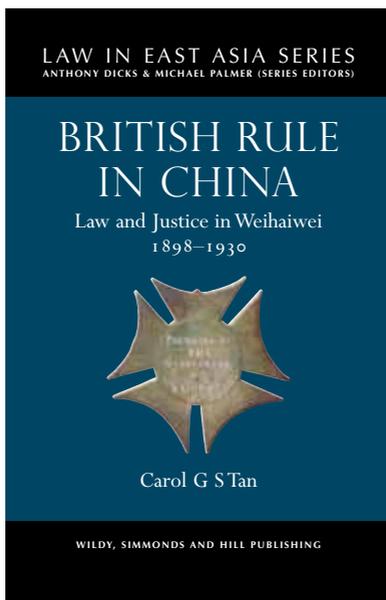

ISBN: 9780854900220
Hardback 152pp
£14.95

Eric Stockdale left school at 14 and went to work in wartime London. After two years in the post-war Army he was called to the Bar at the age of 21 and appointed a Circuit judge shortly after his 43rd. birthday. He took early retirement at 65 and then heard Criminal Injuries Compensation appeals for ten years.

When he became a barrister in 1950 he was a young man with an unusual background, which included 'a pathetic attempt' (his words) to follow several relatives into journalism. After his failure to break into Fleet Street, Eric Stockdale decided to earn his living from chambers in the adjoining Temple. His ability to write led to the publication of many articles, followed by books on criminal justice and historical topics, culminating with two works inspired by the links of many leaders of the American Revolution with his own Inn of Court, the Middle Temple. As this book is about his experiences as a legal author, it also deals briefly with his life in the law and describes how he became interested in the different subjects about which he wrote.

Sir Igor Judge, in his Foreword, comments: 'This is a remarkable story by any standards,' and adds, 'much is written humorously.' The reader, whether lawyer or layman, is likely to concur with that judgment.

BRITISH RULE IN CHINA
LAW AND JUSTICE IN WEIHAIWEI 1898-1930

By
Carol G. S. Tan

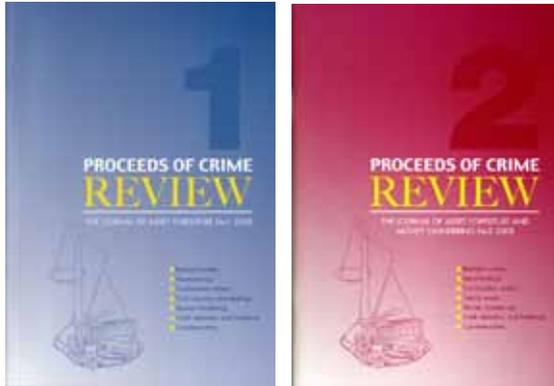

ISBN: 9780854900268

Hardback 348pp

£45

Written using official records and other sources, British Rule in China is the first systematic account of the legal history of Weihaiwei, a small territory leased by China to Britain in 1898. It is a fascinating and accessible account of the territory's constitution, laws, courts, judges and magistrates, penal policy, and police force. The book explores the various problems and controversies faced by the local authorities in administering justice as well as their attempts to resolve them. The author argues that, as originally conceived, Weihaiwei's legal system made few concessions to the fact that the territory remained a part of China yet, in practice and for reasons which are explored in the book, it integrated some aspects of Chinese institutions, law and custom. Given the centrality of the law, its institutions and its officials to the exercise of British jurisdiction, this work is a contribution not merely to colonial legal history but also to the history of this part of China under foreign rule.
