MAJOR NEW TITLES THIS MONTH

Abbott, Carolyn, Enforcing Pollution Control Regulation: Strengthening Sanctions and Improving Deterrence, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £40.00, ISBN: 9781841139258

Monitoring and enforcement issues must be analysed when determining the effectiveness of pollution control regulation, and clearly influence choices about how to regulate. This book demonstrates how an economic analysis of law enforcement can generate important insights into how best to enforce pollution control regulation. It seeks to provide a clear and accessible way into the law and economics literature on enforcement. The book makes an important contribution to existing literature on environmental law enforcement, but its value extends beyond this. The theoretical framework adopted and the range of issues discussed make it of interest to regulatory and public law scholars more generally.

Ahern, John; Binchy, William, The Rome II Regulation on the Law Applicable to Non-Contractual Obligations: A New International Litigation Regime, Martinus Nijhoff Publishers, Hardback, £155.00, ISBN:

The Rome II Regulation on the Law Applicable to Non-Contractual Obligations introduces a single choice-of-law regime for tort and other non-contractual obligations. The Regulation has huge implications for international litigation relating to traffic accidents, product liability, environmental damage and infringement of intellectual property rights, for example. This book contains analysis of the Regulation by 15 experts from Europe and North America.

Andenas, Mads; Fairgrieve, Duncan, Tom Bingham and the Transformation of the Law: A Liber Amicorum, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £95.00, ISBN: 9780199566181

Wildy's Book of the Month - May 2009

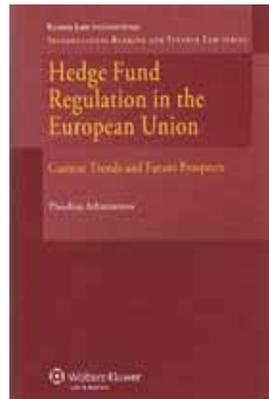

Tom Bingham is among the most influential judges of the twentieth century, having occupied in succession the most senior judicial offices, Master of the Rolls, Lord Chief Justice and, currently, Senior Law Lord. His judicial and academic work has deeply influenced the development of the law in a period of substantial legal change. This volume collects around fifty essays from colleagues and those influenced by Lord Bingham, from across academia and legal practice. The essays survey Lord Bingham's pivotal role in the transformations that have taken place in the legal system during his career.

Ashworth, Andrew, Principles of Criminal Law 6th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £31.99, ISBN: 9780199541973

Principles of Criminal Law, now in its sixth edition, takes a distinctly different approach to the study of criminal law, whilst still covering all of the vital topics found on criminal law courses. Uniquely theoretical, it seeks to elucidate the underlying principles and theoretical foundations of the criminal law, and aims to critically engage readers by contextualising and analysing the law.

Athanassiou, Phoebus, Hedge Fund Regulation in the European Union: Current Trends and Future Prospects, Kluwer Law International,

Hardback, £120.00, ISBN: 9789041128560

This well-thought-out book, the first of its kind in this particular field, examines the case for the European on-shore hedge fund industry's regulation, making concrete proposals for its normative future. Following a detailed account of the 'established' regulatory systems in Ireland and Luxembourg, as well as of the 'emerging' hedge fund jurisdictions in Italy, France, Spain and Germany, and of the regulatory treatment of hedge funds in the UK, this book examines to what extent the continuing exclusion of hedge funds from harmonized European regulation is defensible, whether their differences to traditional asset management products justify their distinct regulatory treatment and, ultimately, if their EU-wide regulation is possible and, if so, what form this should take.

Bachner, Thomas, Creditor Protection in Private Companies: Anglo-German Perspectives for a European Legal Discourse, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780521895385
Limited liability companies form the backbone of our modern economy. However, there is a persistent danger of moral hazard on the part of directors and shareholders, particularly in closely held or private companies. Like all developed legal systems, English and German law both provide mechanisms designed to protect creditors from such risks. This book investigates some of these mechanisms, including the avoidance of pre-insolvency acts, capital maintenance and creditor-regarding duties of directors. By analysing the different conceptual and doctrinal perspectives inherent in the English and German systems, this book seeks to advance a discourse between audiences with different legal backgrounds. It will be an invaluable guide for those wishing to understand how the protective mechanisms operate and interact with each other, and how they do so in quite different ways in the two jurisdictions.

Barnes, Richard, Property Rights and Natural Resources, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £60.00, ISBN: 9781841135892

The use of private property rights to regulate common pool natural resources is a controversial topic, which must address two critical issues: the allocation of wealth in society and proper conservation and management of limited resources. Given the privatisation of many natural resources within the confines of States, the most significant common pool natural resources are those located in international areas, such as the high seas and the atmosphere. This book explores the extension of private property rights and market mechanisms to the regulation of resources in these areas. Looking at developments in off-shore fisheries and mineral exploitation (with references to other areas such as forestry and pollution quotas, where appropriate), the book considers the legal ramifications of current moves towards the privatisation of common pool natural resources.

Barton, Andrew, Butterworths Insurance Law Handbook 2009, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £140.00, ISBN: 9781405744515

Butterworths Insurance Law Handbook 2009, the 10th edition, provides lawyers and those involved in the insurance industry with an invaluable compilation of relevant statutes, statutory instruments, expanded FSA Handbook materials and European legislation applicable to this important area of law. Other useful information includes the rules relating to professional indemnity of solicitors, Association of British Insurers statements, guides and codes of practice and the Motor Insurers' Bureau agreements.

Bernard, Thomas J.; Snipes, Jeffrey B.; Gerould, Alexander L.; Vold, George B., Vold's Theoretical Criminology 6th ed, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £47.00, ISBN: 9780195386417
Vold's Theoretical Criminology, presents the most precise, up-to-date, and comprehensive overview of criminological theory available, building on the foundation of George B. Vold's Theoretical Criminology, which paved the way for a generation of criminological theorists.

Bigwood, Rick, The Permanent New Zealand Court of Appeal, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9781841139623

This volume of essays celebrates the first 50 years in the life of the New Zealand Court of Appeal. The move, in 1958, to a Court of Appeal comprising permanent appellate judges was an important landmark in the development of New Zealand law. The essays highlight areas where the Court of Appeal has made a significant contribution to New Zealand and wider Commonwealth law, showing how the Court's jurisprudence has both reflected and contributed to resolving some of the pressing issues of the times. It is a critical reflection on the changing work and achievements of the permanent Court over the past half-century.

Binder, Christina; Kriebaum, Ursula; Reinisch, August; Wittich, Stephen, International Investment Law for the 21st Century: Essays in Honour of Christoph Schreuer, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £125.00, ISBN: 9780199571345

Written in honour of one of the leading experts in the field of investment arbitration, Christoph Schreuer, the book explores specific and topical problems of international investment law and practice in a focused way. It also provides a forum for broader theoretical reflections on international investment law and its relation to general international law. The book includes chapters on jurisdictional questions, issues of procedure in investment proceedings, the relationship between investment arbitration and other forms of investment protection, problems of substantive investment law, regional aspects, interfaces between investment law and other areas of law as well as the future of the law of investment protection.

Boyle, Kevin, New Institutions for Human Rights Protection, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £50.00, ISBN: 9780199570546

This book presents a multi-faceted approach to one of the most crucial challenges facing Human Rights institutions today - the implementation gap that exists between human rights norms and their enforcement by States. Comprising contributions from renowned international scholars in the field of human rights, New Institutions for Human Rights Protection examines how the human rights commitments entered into by States might be translated more effectively into protection for individuals in practice and the crucial role that human rights institutions, at both a national and international level, have to play in this endeavour.

Bronaugh, Richard; Neyers, Jason; Pitel, Stephen, Exploring Contract Law, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9781841139067

In this book, leading scholars from Australia, Canada, Hong Kong, New Zealand, Singapore, the United Kingdom and the United States deal with important theoretical and practical issues in the law of contract and closely-related areas of private law. The articles analyse developments in the law of estoppel, mistake, undue influence, the interpretation of contracts, assignment, exclusion clauses and damages.

Bronstein, Arturo, International and Comparative Labour Law: Current Challenges, Palgrave Macmillan, Paperback, £35.99, ISBN: 9780230228221

Increasingly, and to a greater degree than most national jurisdictions, France encourages and favours private arbitration as the normal and usual method for the resolution of disputes arising from international economic relations. In this new edition of the standard English-language work on French arbitration law and practice, the authors examine this trend as rules and practices developed in international arbitration have taken hold in French domestic arbitration and vice versa.

Douglas, Gillian; Lowe, Nigel, The Continuing Evolution of Family Law, Family Law, Paperback, £35.00, ISBN: 9781846611698

the free movement of goods, persons, services and capital is ensured in accordance with the provisions of the EC Treaty. One of the key questions discussed in this study is how this rationale reflects the relation between tax laws of Member States and, specifically, the relation between the application of autonomous classification methods by Member States and the free allocation of economic resources in the internal market.

Finch, Emily; Fafinski, Stefan, Legal Skills 2nd ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £25.99, ISBN: 9780199554409

Legal Skills encompasses all the academic and practical legal skills essential to the law student in one manageable volume. It is an ideal text for first year law students and is also a valuable resource for those studying law at any level.

Finch, Vanessa, Corporate Insolvency Law: Perspectives and Principles 2nd ed, Cambridge University Press, Paperback, £45.00, ISBN: 9780521701822

The first edition of Corporate Insolvency Law proposed a fundamentally revised concept of insolvency law, intended to serve corporate as well as broader social ends. This second edition takes on board a host of changes that have subsequently reshaped insolvency law and practice, notably the consolidation of the rescue culture in the UK, the rise of the pre-packaged administration and the substantial replacement of administrative receivership with administration.

Fletcher, Ian F., The Law of Insolvency 4th ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Hardback, £245.00, ISBN: 9780421902701

The Law of Insolvency supplies practitioners with an in-depth examination of both corporate and personal insolvency, covering both UK law and international insolvency. It provides solutions to the most complex legal prob-

Hannigan, Brenda, Company Law 2nd ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £31.99, ISBN: 9780199286386

The second edition of Company Law brings clarity and sophisticated analysis to a company law landscape much altered by the groundbreaking Companies Act 2006. Hannigan captures the dynamism of company law, places the material in context and guides students through all the major topics studied at undergraduate level.

Havel, Brian, Beyond Open Skies: A New Regime for International Aviation, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £124.00, ISBN: 9789041123893

Increasingly, governments everywhere are backing away from their earlier microman-agement of international aviation, allowing carriers to tap market opportunities wherever they can be found and with far more ease and responsiveness. Accordingly, the industry will inevitably generate new paradigms of competitive market behaviour. This timely book presents the fresh thinking needed on an appropriate legal and policy architecture to govern the industry in the decades ahead. It continues the pursuit of the topic considered in the author's earlier work In Search of Open Skies: the contours of a legal regime that should govern international scheduled air passenger (and relatedly, air cargo) transport.

of all the new and revised tax rates and allowances and is published twice a year, in May and September. This edition contains all the relevant information from the 2009 Budget, enabling practitioners to start using the updated facts and figures for the 2009-10 tax year.

IDS Employment Law Brief Team, IDS: Maternity and Parental Rights, Institute of Development Studies (IDS), Paperback, £140.00, ISBN: 9781905642977

This IDS Employment Law Handbook offers an in-depth and comprehensive examination of the law governing maternity and parental rights in this country. It explains the relevant legislation and examines the pertinent case law, considering both reported and unreported decisions, not only of the higher courts but also of employment tribunals.

Jones, Gareth, Goff & Jones: The Law of Restitution 7th ed: 1st Supplement, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Paperback, £75.00, ISBN: 9781847036056

Jones, Stephen, Criminology 4th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £24.99, ISBN: 9780199218097

The fourth edition of Criminology provides a detailed discussion of not only the causes, but also the perception and nature of crime. Throughout the text, the author draws on a wide range of research in order to consider both sociological and psychological explanations of criminal behaviour, aiming to ask the right questions rather than provide a definitive set of answers. The book provides the reader with a clearly expressed analysis of the main criminological theories, following a historical path through their development. It is fully referenced, guiding the reader to further, more in-depth study of any particular aspect.

Knowles, John; Thomas, Philip, Effective Legal Research 2nd ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Paperback, £18.95, ISBN: 9781847038180

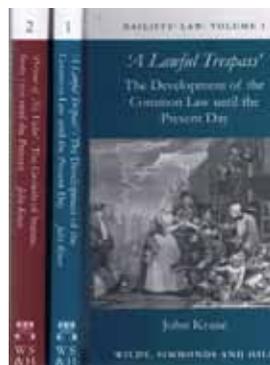

Kotze; Louis J.; Paterson, Alexander R., The Role of the Judiciary in Environmental Governance: Comparative Perspectives, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £104.00, ISBN: 9789041127082

Although the concept of 'environmental governance' has yet to be precisely defined, it is already clear that domestic courts worldwide are playing an increasingly important role in developing, interpreting, applying and enforcing environmental law. This important book investigates the environmental legal frameworks, court structures and relevant jurisprudence of nineteen countries, representing legal systems and legal cultures from a diverse array of countries situated across the globe. In doing so, it distils comparative trends, new developments, and best practices in adjudication endeavours, highlighting the benefits and shortcomings of the judicial approach to environmental governance.

the development of the law and the profession of bailiff. The work chronicles the growth of enforcement law from Anglo-Saxon times, tracing the continuity in the common law and examining the intervention of statute. The seizure of goods by bailiffs was a familiar aspect of life in earlier times and this work sets their legal powers into their legal, social and economic context. Key themes are explored throughout both volumes: the protection given to certain essential goods, the efforts to regulate the conduct of bailiffs and the gradual shift of emphasis from promoting the rights of creditors to enhancing the protection of debtors.

Kruse, John, Powers of Distress: A Guide to Remedies Unreformed by the Tribunals, Courts and Enforcement, Courts and Enforcement

ment Act 2007, Wildy, Simmonds and Hill Publishing, Hardback, £49.00, ISBN: 9780854900459

The Tribunals Courts & Enforcement Act 2007 will, for many debts, sweep away the old procedures and principles of enforcement and introducing a new code of law. However, some debts have been deliberately excluded from these changes. The liabilities in question include a wide range of shipping liabilities including harbour dues and fines, market tolls and stallages, distress damage feasant for trespassing chattels and powers of seizure of trespassing animals under the Animals Act 1971, arrests of aircraft and ecclesiastical executions. For them, the old common law procedures and principles will continue to operate unaltered. In a single volume this timely book offers a detailed examination of arrears which have in many respects been neglected and which thereby have been allowed to become obscure and poorly understood. The new Act may cause further difficulties by creating two parallel systems of enforcement- one for the most common debts and one for the remainder. This text aims to restore some balance to this dichotomy by, for the first time, uniting these less common forms of recovery in a clear and structured work. It provides a thorough analysis of the case law developed over the centuries along with discussion of the relevant statutory provisions.

Lutz, Ellen; Reiger, Caitlin, Prosecuting Heads of State, Cambridge University Press, Paperback, £16.99, ISBN: 9780521756709

Since 1990, 65 former heads of state or government have been legitimately prosecuted for serious human rights or financial crimes. Many of these leaders were brought to trial in reasonably free and fair judicial processes, and some served time in prison as a result. This book explores the reasons for the meteoric rise in trials of senior leaders and the motivations, public dramas, and intrigues that accompanied efforts to bring them to justice.

MacDonald, Ian; Toal, Ronan, Macdonald's Immigration Law and Practice 7th ed: 1st supplement, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £86.00, ISBN: 9781405737098

Macdonald, Ian and Sutton, Jonathan, Business Families and Family Businesses: The STEP Handbook for Advisors, Globe Business Publishing, Hardback, £110.00, ISBN: 9781905783250

This new guide, edited by the Society of Trust and Estate Practitioners, features chapters by leading practitioners in the field, including the Family Firm Institute, HSBC Private Bank, Boodle Hatfield and SandAire. The book considers what makes business families and family businesses unique, and examines the issues the advisers are often called upon to address when assisting them. It helps practitioners to deepen their understanding of how families operate, and to develop the skills and knowledge necessary to advise on such complex areas as conflicts between working and non-working family members, structure, succession, wealth management, governance and meeting a family's philanthropic objectives. The Guide provides a comprehensive handbook for all practitioners who advise business families, including lawyers, accountants, financial advisers, and wider family business advisers

Maclean, Mavis; Eekelaar, John, Family Law Advocacy: How Barristers Help the Victims of Family Failure, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £25.00, ISBN: 9781841132778

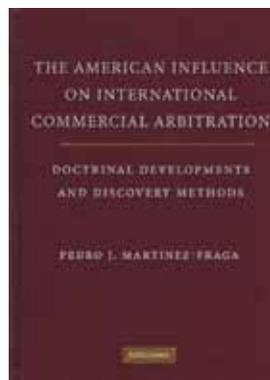

The authors of this path-breaking study felt it was time to find out more about the contribution of barristers in family law cases. They therefore embarked on a careful study of the Family Law Bar, its characteristics, what its members do, and how their activities contribute to the management or resolution of family disputes. Much of the study is comprised of an in-depth examination of the day-to-day activity of members of the Family Law Bar through observation of individual barristers as they performed their role in the context of a court hearing,

Martinez-Fraga, Pedro, The American Influences on International Commercial Arbitration: Doctrinal Developments and Discovery Methods, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780521765886

This text traces the contours of U.S. doctrinal developments concerning international commercial arbitration. It explores international commercial arbitration as a bridge that creates symmetry between what the author perceives as an anomaly arising from the disparities between the monolithic framework arising from economic globalization and a fragmented global judicial counterpart. Specifically, American common law discovery precepts are analyzed through the prism of the fundamental precepts of party-autonomy,

predictability, uniformity, and transparency of spender, which the author contends to be the rudimentary tenets of both the American common law procedural rubric and the very principles that international commercial arbitration seeks not only to preserve but to enhance. Therefore, as the author asserts, the discovery process endemic to American common law comports more closely with international commercial arbitration both procedurally and theoretically than with those of the ‘taking of evidence’ methodology commonly used in international commercial arbitrations held under the auspices of arbitral institutional bodies. • Takes a novel approach by asserting that U.S. common law discovery should be incorporated into international commercial arbitration • Identifies the key contributors of U.S. doctrinal developments in commercial arbitration as all foundational case-law is examined • The scholarship and novel thesis embodied in this work will be of benefit to both practitioners and academics definitive guideline for future reform. It argues that a global group-wide perspective for MEG insolvencies is desirable if applied in appropriate types of cases and if it does not unduly defeat entity law and territoriality concerns.

Mootz, Francis, On Philosophy in American Law, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £45.00, ISBN: 9780521883689

Mukwiri, Jonathan, Takeovers and the European Legal Framework, Routledge-Cavendish, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780415491570

The book examines the provisions of the City Code on Takeovers and Mergers, and discusses the takeover provisions in the Companies Act 2006 that implement the Takeover Directive in the UK, arguing that the Directive will provide a new basis for UK takeover regulation, and that the system will work well. Jonathan Mukwiri goes on to consider the Directive in relation to the EU, arguing that despite its deficiencies, in that Member States are free to opt to restrict takeovers, the Directive provides a useful legal framework by which takeovers are regulated in different jurisdictions.

Newman, Roger K., The Yale Biographical Dictionary of American Law, Yale University Press, Hardback, £55.00, ISBN: 9780300113006

Olasolo, Hector, The Criminal Responsibility of Senior Political and Military Leaders as Principals to International Crimes, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £50.00,

ISBN: 9781841136950

As shown by the recent trials of Slobodan Milosevic, Charles Taylor and Saddam Hussein, the large-scale and systematic commission of international crimes is usually planned and set in motion by senior political and military leaders. Nevertheless, the application of traditional forms of criminal liability leads to the conclusion that they are mere accessories to such crimes. This does not reflect their central role and often results in a punishment which is inappropriately low in view of the impact of their actions and omissions. For these reasons, international criminal law has placed special emphasis on the development the concepts of joint criminal enterprise (also known as the common purpose doctrine) and control of the crime, which aim at reflecting better the central role played by senior political and military leaders in campaigns of large scale and systematic commission of international crimes.

Osborne, Simon, CPAG: Welfare Benefits and Tax Credits Handbook 2009/2010 11th ed, CPAG, Paperback, £37.00, ISBN: 9781906076351

Osiel, Mark, The End of Reciprocity: Terror, Torture, and the Law of War, Cambridge University Press,

Paperback, £25.99, ISBN: 9780521730143

Different ethical standards prove entirely fitting, the author finds, in a conflict between a network of suicidal terrorists seeking mass atrocity at any cost and a constitutional democracy committed to respecting human dignity and the rule of law. The most important reciprocity involves neither uniform application of fair rules nor their enforcement by a simple-minded tit-for-tat. Real reciprocity instead entails contributing to an emergent global contract that encompasses the law of war and from which all peoples may mutually benefit.

Suzanne Ost explores the critical tensions within legal and social discourses which must be tackled to discourage moral panic reactions towards child pornography and grooming, and advocating a new, more rational approach towards combating these forms of exploitation.

Palmer, Ellie, Judicial Review, Socio-Economic Rights and the Human Rights Act, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £25.00, ISBN: 9781841139760

One of the primary purposes of this book is to demonstrate the extent to which established boundaries of judicial intervention in socio-economic disputes have been altered by the extension of judicial powers, particularly through section 3 HRA, and through the development of a jurisprudence of positive obligations in the ECHR. Although the substantive focus of the book is on developments in English law, it has theoretical human rights, international and comparative constitutional dimensions.

Penn, Ana D.; Arias, Martha L, Global E-Business Law & Taxation, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £115.00, ISBN: 9780195367218

Popplewell, Oliver, Hallmark: A Judge's Life at Oxford, I.B. Tauris & Co Ltd, Hardback, £20.00, ISBN: 9781845117818

Sir Oliver Popplewell became, in his own words, officially 'judicially senile' after a distinguished career at the Bar, as a High court judge specialising in defamation, arbitration and sports law - an appropriate niche for a Cambridge cricket Blue. And in public life he achieved prominence as chairman of important public enquiries such as the Bradford Stadium disaster. Hallmark: A Judge's Life at Oxford, the sequel to his acclaimed autobiography, Benchmark: Life, Laughter and the Law, tells how he went to Oxford University to read Philosophy, Politics and Economics as the oldest undergraduate ever to be admitted - with considerable press and media coverage and good-natured amusement among family and friends. Here is a sharply observed, sympathetic yet critical picture of modern Oxford seen from the perspective of a leading judge and public figure who could contrast this experience with his Cambridge days from the late 1940s. But this is much more than the story of an older student. It is hugely entertaining account of a life lived to the full. Sir Oliver takes his readers into his confidence, shares his experience and presents a unique facet of a fascinating life which can serve as a warm but sharply observed social and cultural history of modern Britain.

Price, David, The Development of Intellectual Prop- erty Regimes in the Arabian Gulf States: Infidels at the Gates, Routledge-Cavendish, Hardback, £65.00, ISBN: 9780415475761

This book examines the development of national legislative regimes for the protection of intellectual property rights in the Arabian Gulf states: Bahrain, Kuwait, Oman, Qatar, Saudi Arabia, the United Arab Emirates, and Yemen. David Price analyses IP rights in these states in the context of WTO membership, and consequent compliance with the requirements of the WTO's TRIPS Agreement. The challenges of domestic enforcement of the states' IP laws receive critical attention. A particular focus of the book is on foreign forces which have shaped or influenced the character of the states' IP protection regimes. It includes commentary on the contribution of foreign states, the WTO and WIPO in the pre-TRIPS and TRIPS compliance stages, and the US bilateral trade strategy for pursuing IP protection standards that exceed those enshrined in TRIPS, and the impact of these forces upon the states' enforcement performance.

Pritchard, John, The Legal 500: Europe, Middle East and Africa 2009, Legalease, Hardback, £120.00, ISBN: 9781906854058

First published in 1990, this is the leading guide to law firms throughout Europe, Middle East and Africa. Researched by the team, through first-hand interviews with lawyers and clients, the book includes coverage of the legal markets in more than 60 jurisdictions. The guide provides information on local regulations which govern the practice of law, details of the size of firms, and commentary on developments within local laws which impact on local and cross-border business. It is an essential tool for identifying providers of quality legal services outside of the user's home jurisdiction and is used regularly by clients and lawyers in private practice when selecting a legal adviser outside their country.

Probert, Rebecca; Gilmore, Stephen; Herring, Jonathan, Responsible Parents and Parental Responsibility, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £55.00, ISBN: 9781841138800

This book examines the idea of 'parental responsibility' in English law and what is expected of a responsible parent. The scope of 'parental responsibility', a key concept in family law, is undefined and often ambiguous. Yet, to date, more attention has been paid to how individuals acquire parental responsibility than to the question of the rights, powers, duties and responsibilities they have once they obtain it. This book redresses the balance by providing the first sustained examination of the different elements of parental responsibility, bringing together leading scholars to comment on specific aspects of its operation.

Proctor, Charles, Goode on Payment Obligations in Commercial and Financial Transactions 2nd ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Hardback, £65.00, ISBN: 9780421402805

Stokes, Simon, Digital Copyright: Law and Practice 3rd ed, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £35.00, ISBN: 9781841139326

The first edition of this book was the first UK text to examine digital copyright together with related areas such as performers' rights, moral rights, database rights and competition law as a subject in its own right, and the second edition dealt with the UK implementation of the 2001 Copyright Directive. Now in its third edition, the book has been updated to address developments in copyright law, database law and moral rights and expanded to cover copyright law and user-generated content, and the development of Web 2.0 and beyond. Important recent UK, EU and US cases are discussed. As the UK Government and the European Commission explore possible changes to copyright law and as both the public and private sectors rely more and more on digital content and services, copyright law continues to be a hotly debated topic.

Wilson, Steve; Mitchell, Rebecca; Storey, Tony; Wortley, Natalie, English Legal System Directions, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £25.00, ISBN: 9780199216864

English Legal System Directions is written in an engaging and lively manner with an emphasis on explaining the key topics of English legal system courses with clarity. It offers a sound introduction to the subject and provides a clear and reliable basis on which students can build their legal studies. The book incorporates a wide range of learning features to offer students a high level of support. Questions, key points, tip boxes, and summaries encourage active learning, ensuring students understand the fundamental facts and principles, and enabling students to check their understanding of the subject as they progress through the course.

Inn Libraries Proposed Merger

Feasibility Study to consider the possible merger of the Inner and Middle Temple Libraries

The Executive Committees of Inner Temple and Middle Temple have agreed to commission a feasibility study to investigate the potential benefits of merging their Libraries and creating a Joint Education and Advocacy Centre.

The study will be overseen by a working group chaired jointly by Master Jonathan Hirst for Inner Temple and Master Stanley Burnton, Deputy Treasurer, for Middle Temple.

The results of the study are likely to be available in the late summer and no decisions are anticipated until much later in the year, after full consultation with staff and consideration by the relevant Inn Committees, Bench Table and Parliament.

In particular, no assumption has been made as to which Inn would house the Library and which the Education Centre, should the project proceed.

[Statement from Vivian Robinson QC, Treasurer of the Inner Temple 5th May 2009.]

WAMS – Wildy Account Management System

After months of planning and development Wildy's online Account Management System (WAMS) is up and running and ready to use.

WAMS will allow you to view all aspects of your account online. You will be able to look at invoices issued on your account, outstanding book orders, standing orders and subscriptions, and view full details for each. You can also use the Quick Orders tab to place orders using ISBNs – particularly useful if you are ordering a large number of books at once. Also included are various reports that you can either view on-screen or download to your desktop.

To start using WAMS you will need to register yourself first. Go to <https://accounts.wildy.com> and click on the New User link and enter the details requested. The field for username and password are for you to enter a username and password of your own choice to use when accessing WAMS.

Once you have completed the registration form you will get an automated e-mail to verify your e-mail address, and once we have authenticated your details you will be able to log-in and start using the service.

WAMS supports multiple registrations for each account, so your colleagues can also register themselves as users in the same way.

We have designed WAMS to be easy to use and intuitive, and we hope you will like the look and feel of the site as much as the functionality.

TOM BINGHAM AND THE TRANSFORMATION OF THE LAW
A Liber Amicorum

Edited by Mads Andenas and Duncan Fairgrieve

ISBN: 9780199566181 968 pp £95.00 Hardback

Tom Bingham is among the most influential judges of the twentieth century, having occupied in succession the most senior judicial offices, Master of the Rolls, Lord Chief Justice and, currently, Senior Law Lord.

His judicial and academic work has deeply influenced the development of the law in a period of substantial legal change. In particular his role in establishing the new UK Supreme Court, and his views on the rule of law and judicial independence have left a profound mark on UK constitutional law. He has also been instrumental in championing the academic and judicial use of comparative law, through his judicial work and involvement with the British Institute of International and Comparative Law.

This volume collects around fifty essays from colleagues and those influenced by Lord Bingham, from across academia and legal practice. The essays survey Lord Bingham's pivotal role in the transformations that have taken place in the legal system during his career.

IMPORTANT FORTHCOMING PUBLICATIONS

The European Takeover Directive and its Implementation

by Paul Van Hooghten

Oxford University Press, Hardcover, ISBN 9780195323214, £130.00, due July 2009

This new book describes the history and the political and economic objectives of the Directive. Paul Van Hooghten offers detailed commentary on the text of the Directive including a discussion and explanation of each article. He provides insight on national takeover legislation as amended by the Directive in a number of key jurisdictions. This publication also addresses the optional agreements provided for in the Directive and all of the different provisions that may apply in the various member states. Particular attention is given to new provisions resulting from the Directive, with analysis from attorneys in each member state. Key issues covered include a discussion of the rights of employees under the Directive, a timetable for implementation, the sanctions for not implementing on schedule, and analysis of whether the Directive is compatible with the WTO obligations of the EU. Special attention is given to the Directive's impact on US companies bidding on companies established in the EU.

Insolvency and Restructuring Manual

by Simon Beale

Tottel Publishing, Softcover, ISBN 9781847661487, £85.00, due July 2009

This new book is a comprehensive guide to the principles and procedures of corporate insolvency. It examines and explains a number of specialist topics, including antecedent transactions, position of directors, financial institutions and cross-border issues. For greater clarity and understanding, this practical new title uses flowcharts, diagrams and examples throughout. Topics covered include the ranking of claims; restructuring as an alternative to formal insolvency; special types of creditor - retention of title creditors, landlord creditors, employee creditors; antecedent transactions; and entities other than companies (e.g. insolvent partnerships).

Asset-Based Lending and Insolvency

by Andrew Knight and Grant

Jones

Spiramus Press, Softcover, ISBN 9781904905622, £99.95, due August 2009

Asset-based lending has been one of the success stories of the UK debt market over the last decade, enabling businesses to free capital that would otherwise be locked up in receivables, inventory and other assets and to finance rapid expansion. The onset of the international credit crisis has thrown ABL transactions into sharper relief. When borrowers fail, are asset-based lenders better protected than mainstream bank debt providers? What legal issues determine whether a lender will be able to recover the full amount of its advances from the borrower? This book is for asset-based lenders and their legal advisers and explains the options available when the borrower faces insolvency. For those new to the subject, the authors outline how asset-based lending works, and also the regulatory framework for insolvency. Other topics covered include: the review process, rights of acceleration and termination, the option to continue, financing companies in administration, asset enforcement (receivables, stock and IP), the syndication aspects of insolvency, and cross-border insolvency issues.

European State Aid Law: A Handbook

Edited by Dr Martin Heidenhain

Hart Publishing, Hardcover, ISBN 9781841139180, £160.00, due August 2009

This is a completely revised and updated version of the Handbuch des Europäischen Beihilferechts, first published in German in 2003. It will be of general interest to competition lawyers and is not specifically concerned with German law or legal practice. European State Aid Law has gained considerably in importance over the last decade. The number of proceedings before the Commission has escalated and the European Courts are increasingly involved with disputes concerning state aid. It fully incorporates the EU Commission State Aid Action Plan (“Less and better targeted state aid: a roadmap for state aid reform 2005-2009”), published mid 2008, and the new version of the General Block Exemption Regulation. The main topics covered are: Basic principles; Elements of state aid; Compatibility of state aid with the Common Market according to Art. 87 Sec.2 and Sec.3

ECT; Block Exemption Regulations; Public enterprises; Commission proceedings according to Council Reg. (EC) No. 659/ 1999; Proceedings before the European Courts To meet the needs of practitioners in Europe and beyond, the handbook also covers state aid concerning venture capital, agriculture and steel.

Real Property Receivership 2ed

by Andrew Besser

Tottel Publishing, Softcover, ISBN 9781847663436, £55.00, due June 2009

The new, fully updated edition of this practical book provides guidance to lenders who have made loans on the security of real property and who are contemplating enforcing this security. The book is a practical guide to advisors of such lenders, clarifying the roles, rights and responsibilities of parties to the transaction and making clear what options can be taken and how they might be implemented, whilst highlighting the relevant legislation and its relevance. The new edition reflects major reform to insolvency legislation since the first edition was published, including the Enterprise Act 2002 and the Insolvency Act 2000, and includes new chapters on lending in Germany and mortgage powers of sale, and expanded chapters on: Receivership in Scotland; Receivers and VAT; Power and Rights, and Effect on concurrent office-holders.

European Public Procurement Law Part II – Remedies

by Constant De Koninck and Peter Flamey

Kluwer Law International, Hardcover, ISBN 9789041128423, £108.00, due June 2009

Following the highly user-friendly approach of its Part I predecessor – which cited and analyzed the Court of Justice’s case law concerning the substantive EU procurement rules laid down in the Public Sector Directive and the Utilities Directives – this book combines and links the full texts of the procurement remedies directives with 31 pertinent judgements issued by the Court of Justice of the European Communities. In one easy-to-use volume this book provides full texts of the Public Sector Remedies Directive and the Utilities Remedies Directive, with the articles of these directives linked to the relevant Court of Justice case law; in-depth analysis of 31 judgements rendered by the Court of Justice in the period 1993–2008 in connection with subject matter treated by the articles of the two directives; expert discussion of major innovations introduced by Amending Directive 2007/66/EC, with analysis of its ratio legis and full text; essential excerpts from the chronologically ordered judgments, with each excerpt preceded by an overview of the subject matter and points of law treated in the judgment; pertinent passages of the opinions of the Advocate General; and an exhaustive subject index. By combining the theory and reality of European procurement law the book not only saves readers time and effort, but also provides profound and practical insight into the Remedies Directives and the important rights and obligations which they create. The pursuit of remedies for breaches of the EU procurement rules is a topic of high interest to public authorities and their suppliers, contractors and service providers across Europe. This book will be of great value to practitioners and to officials charged with ensuring that decisions taken by the public contracting authorities and entities may be reviewed effectively and rapidly, thus building confidence among businesses and the public that public procurement procedures are fair.

Consumer Credit, Debt and Bankruptcy: Comparative and International Perspectives

Edited by Johanna Niemi, Iain Ramsay and William C Whitford

Hart Publishing, Hardback, ISBN 9781841132587, £60.00, due July 2009

After a long period of prosperity and steady economic growth, the world's leading economies are now in crisis, and although there will be debate about its origins, the scale and seriousness of the crisis is in no doubt. There is also no doubt that excessive amounts of consumer credit, allied to a weak understanding of how globalised credit markets might react to a crisis, have played a significant part. This book, which is primarily about credit, debt and the trouble they have led to, is written by authors who have specialised in researching into over-indebtedness, that is, situations in which an individual's debt burden has become overwhelming. For these authors the plight of individuals is a primary concern, but the wider issue is how credit is used and how it changes societies. The essays in this volume, addressing topics which are fundamental to our understanding of the current crisis, range widely across the whole sector of consumer finance, including mortgages, 'credit-binges', the regulation of consumer lending, insolvency, repayment plans, debt counselling and much more besides. The conclusions drawn from the book are equally wide-ranging, but above all the lesson learned from these essays is that the financialisation of contemporary life ensures that issues of the appropriate role of credit remain of critical importance in society.

Stamp Duty Land Tax 3ed

by Reg Nock

Jordan Publishing, Softcover, ISBN 9781846611834, £75.00, due July 2009

Since the introduction of Stamp Duty Land Tax in 2003, the legal framework has been amended numerous times to deal with ongoing practical problems that have arisen. The result is a regime that is complex and fraught with technical difficulties. The author, one of the country's leading authorities on the subject, guides the reader through every aspect of this tax regime, offering valuable advice throughout. This new edition has been fully updated to take on board developments in the Finance Act 2009; major changes in the fixed stamp duties for land transactions in the Finance Act 2008; the new compliance regime; changes to record keeping, payment and electronic filing and partnerships; an expansion on general anti-avoidance provisions and an examination of problems on land and goodwill.

Unlocking Matrimonial Assets on Divorce 2ed

by Simon Sugar and Andrzej Bojarski

Jordan Publishing, Softcover, ISBN 9781846611582, £65.00, due July 2009

This handbook is a practical and user friendly guide to some of the more challenging areas of ancillary relief practice. It is divided into nine detailed parts and contains specialist contributions from a forensic accountant and an actuary. The book contains a new section on insolvency, debt and market volatility to assist practitioners in dealing with the consequences of the credit crunch. In concentrating on complex areas of practice, this book provides practitioners with assistance in unlocking assets for the benefit of their client. This edition has been fully updated to take account of recent changes in case law and the impact for practitioners. The new edition is an eminently practical publication aimed at specialist ancillary relief practitioners and also those lawyers who only intermittently undertake work in the area.

International Commercial Agreements: A Primer on Drafting, Negotiating and Resolving Disputes 4ed

by William F. Fox

Kluwer Law International, Hardcover, ISBN 9789041126702, £120.00, due June 2009

Reinforcing the book's concentration on the private dimensions of international trade, and more precisely on the contractual aspects of that trade, this new edition extends its coverage to the newest growing dimensions of the field, with new chapters on intellectual property, international electronic commerce, and online dispute resolution. The much-appreciated solid basic information on a wide variety of issues that people will encounter in putting together international commercial agreements is of course still here, and includes specific guidance on drafting commercial agreements; background material on contract formation, including basic information on contract law; differences between international and domestic contracts; in-depth exploration of negotiation techniques to help smooth the negotiation process; detailed discussion of alternative dispute resolution, including mediation/conciliation as well as arbitration; drafting contracts to cover a wide variety of business relationships, such as sale of services, franchises, joint ventures, and licenses; regional differences; online dispute resolution; and emerging new trends in international commercial arrangements. The reader will find a substantial amount of information and discussion on international electronic commerce both in separate chapters and within chapters on more general topics. In its recognition that a business executive entering into an international commercial transaction is mainly interested in drafting an agreement that satisfies all of the parties and that will be performed as promised, this superb functional guide for negotiation, drafting and resolving disputes in international commercial agreements will immeasurably assist any lawyer or business executive to plan and carry out individual transactions even when that person is not interested in a full-blown understanding of the entire landscape of international contracts. Business executives who are not lawyers will find that the book gives them the understanding and perspective necessary to work effectively with the legal experts.

Essential Sources of Canadian Law / Les références essentielles en droit canadien

by John Eaton, Denis Le May

ISBN-13: 978-1-55221-164-9
Paperback, Irwin Law Canada

Following the premise that legal research should begin with secondary sources, John Eaton and Denis Le May have compiled a bibliographic reference to the most authoritative secondary sources in French and English. The book is arranged according to topic, with 105 topics cross-referred between French and English, and includes both civil and common law sources. This unique work will be applicable throughout the entire country — geographically, linguistically, and juridically. Each topic includes a short descriptor, orienting the reader to the nature of the topic and to its jurisdictional fundamentals as it is often important to know which entities are the ultimate creators of the statutes, regulations, and jurisprudence associated with the topic. Each of these topic descriptors is provided in English and in French. This work will be of interest to a wide range of potential users, including Canadian legal researchers, scholars, librarians, and students. It will also serve as a valuable tool for those less familiar with Canadian legal resources and who need assistance in determining where to look for sources on their topic of interest. Self-represented litigants, public libraries, and non-Canadian legal researchers are just a few examples of groups who could put this work to good use.

About the Authors

John Eaton, LL.B. (Toronto), M.L.S. (Maryland) is the Law Librarian and Associate Professor of Law at the University of Manitoba where he teaches advanced legal research. He is past president of Canadian Association of Law Libraries/Association Canadienne des bibliothèques de droit.

Denis Le May is the former law librarian at Université Laval, and the author of many books and articles. He has written a definitive French treatise on legal research, as well as the chapter on Quebec research in Douglass T. MacEllivan's Legal Research Handbook. He is the author of The Civil Code of Québec in Chart Form which was published by Irwin Law in 2006 which is based on his Le code civil du Québec en tableaux synoptiques, (Wilson & Lafleur, 1992). He is past president of Canadian Association of Law Libraries/Association Canadienne des bibliothèques de droit.

FACES OF LAW

Photographs by James F. Hunkin

£45 ISBN: 9780854900275 Hardback

'Faces of Law' is a unique photographic chronicle of 100 people working in the legal profession at the turn of the twenty-first century. It forms part of an on-going chronicle - 'Faces of Britain'.

The collection covers a broad spectrum of activities including some of the country's most respected judges, solicitors and barristers as well as support staff and others.

Each portrait is accompanied by a personal testimony providing a fascinating insight into the working lives and ideas of the men and women who help shape our society. Alongside this, there is a short factual piece about some aspect of each person's work.

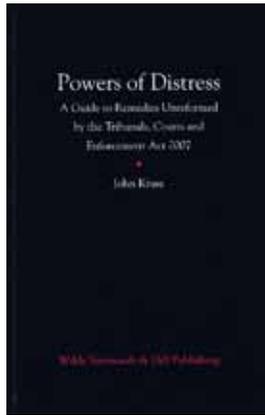

'Hunkin's quiet yet powerful portraits provide an honest document of individuals working within the legal sector'.

Clare Freestone, Assistant Curator of Photographs, National Portrait Gallery

'This remarkable collection of photographs shows the faces of lawyers from all over the legal landscape. It shows the variety of what lawyers do and the variety of lawyers who do it. The words they have chosen, tell us something of how they think or feel about what they do but the photographs tell us even more about them. It all adds up to an intriguing picture of the British legal system as it is today'.

POWERS OF DISTRESS
A Guide to Remedies Unreformed by the Tribunals, Courts and Enforcement Act 2007

ISBN: 9780854900459

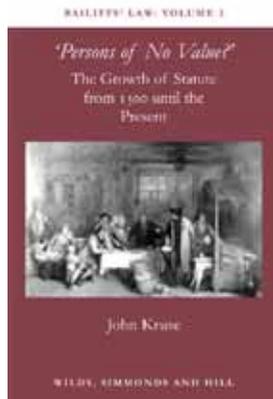

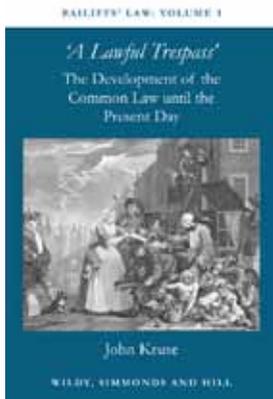

256 pp Hardback £49

JOHN KRUSE

The Tribunals Courts & Enforcement Act 2007 will, for many debts, sweep away the old procedures and principles of enforcement and introduce a new code of law. However, some debts have been deliberately excluded from these changes. Among the liabilities in question are a wide range of shipping liabilities including harbour dues and fines, market tolls and stallages, distress damage feasant for trespassing chattels and powers of seizure of trespassing animals under the Animals Act 1971, arrests of aircraft and ecclesiastical executions. For them, the old common law procedures and principles will continue to operate unaltered.

In a single volume this timely book offers a detailed examination of arrears which have in many respects been neglected and which thereby have been allowed to become obscure and poorly understood. The new Act may cause further difficulties by creating two parallel systems of enforcement- one for the most common debts and one for the remainder. This text aims to restore some balance to this dichotomy by, for the first time, uniting these less common forms of recovery in a clear and structured work. It provides a thorough analysis of the case law developed over the centuries along with discussion of the relevant statutory provisions.

JOHN KRUSE

The law relating to distress and execution is a much neglected area of study, despite the fact that bailiffs regularly appear in literary works and their activities are a constant feature of court rolls. This two-volume work aims to provide a detailed and comprehensive history of both the development of the law and the profession of bailiff. The work chronicles the growth of enforcement law from Anglo-Saxon times, tracing the continuity in the common law and examining the intervention of statute. The seizure of goods by bailiffs was a familiar aspect of life in earlier times and this work sets their legal powers into their legal, social and economic context. Key themes are explored throughout both volumes: the protection given to certain essential goods, the efforts to regulate the conduct of bailiffs and the gradual shift of emphasis from promoting the rights of creditors to enhancing the protection of debtors.

Working within the field of social welfare, John Kruse has specialised in the law of enforcement for the last twenty years, and has written numerous books and articles on the subject. He has also acted as a consultant inter alia to the Ministry of Justice and the Council of Europe.

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE AND LEGAL REFORM IN CHINA

Chao Xi

Law in East Asia Series

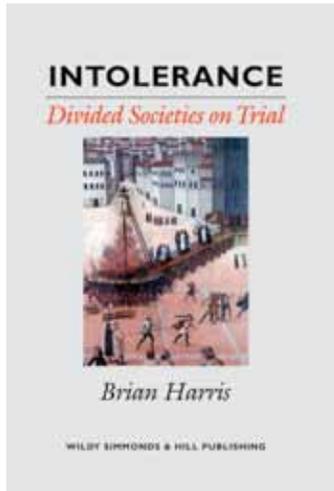

ISBN: 9780854900367

306pp. Hardback £65

State-owned enterprise (SOE) reform has been at the heart of China's post-Mao economic reforms. Since early 1990s, a large number of Chinese SOEs have been transformed into joint stock companies, and many of them are now listed on China's domestic stock exchanges. The corporatisation and listing of the SOEs did not, however, bring about significant improvement in their performance or in the manner in which they are governed.

This book examines the effectiveness of the key legal reforms that have been put in place for addressing the governance issues facing Chinese listed companies. The focus is on three important – but understudied – aspects of corporate governance reform in China: regulation of the private sales of corporate control, institutional shareholder activism, and board level monitoring and control. In addition, this book attempts to explore a political economy understanding of formal legal changes in China with particular reference to China's corporate board reform.

Chao Xi is in the Faculty of Law, Chinese University of Hong Kong, and previously taught at the University of London as a Visiting Lecturer in Law. He is the co-author of Doing Business in China (Routledge, 2008) and has contributed articles to a range of journals, including the Journal of Comparative Law and the Journal of Chinese Economic and Business Studies.

INTOLERANCE: DIVIDED SOCIETIES ON TRIAL

Brian Harris OBE, QC

ISBN: 9780854900251

Hardback 300pp.

£19.99

Most of us are intolerant of something, whether it is our neighbour's dog, his politics or the colour of his skin, but we may not always recognize our lack of tolerance. By making extensive use of surviving court documentation from famous - and not so famous - trials, Brian Harris is able to explore several issues that have given rise to deep-rooted divisions within Western society, such as slavery, religion and homosexuality. The result is a highly readable narrative, which often challenges traditional interpretations of the cases concerned, punctuated throughout by the author's pertinent insights into the personalities, events and legal processes of the day.

The cases include the 'witches' of Salem whose tragic story was plundered by Arthur Miller in his play, The Crucible, the execution of a seventy-year-old woman for giving shelter to a man on the run from England's last rebellion, the prosecution of a schoolteacher for teaching evolution, the persecution of Oscar Wilde and the prosecution of Penguin Books for publishing Lady Chatterley's Lover. Intolerance: Divided Societies on Trial provides an engaging and thought-provoking account of man's intolerance to man through the ages.

Introducing

THE BRITISH MANUAL OF INTERNATIONAL AIR CARRIAGE

The British Manual of International Air Carriage is a practical guide to the law of international air carriage, particularly as it applies in the United Kingdom under the Carriage by Air Act 1961, Regulations of European Parliament and of the Council, and British and international judicial authorities. It provides a clear guide to the choice of law and jurisdiction in any specific carriage and explains the legal provisions and principles applicable to a contract of air carriage in given circumstances. The book draws together the numerous and disparate provisions of the treaties governing air carriage into a coherent, organized, and easily accessible framework for the analysis of legal claims and the conduct of international air carriage litigation in the UK.

Specialists in aviation law will find this a useful book for easy reference. The book will also serve as a practical guide to practitioners without extensive experience in this field when they are advising clients and handling litigation. Finally, jurists, arbitrators, mediators, and members of the aviation and insurance communities will find it helpful when dealing with claims and losses arising from international air carriage.
