MAJOR NEW TITLES THIS MONTH

Alder, John, Palgrave Law Masters: Constitutional and Administrative Law 7th ed, Palgrave Macmillan, Paperback, £19.99, ISBN: 9780230576629

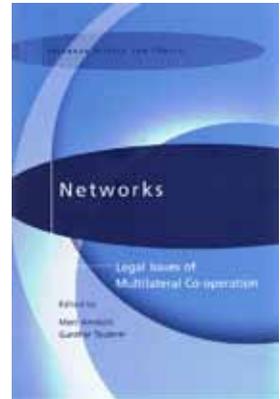

This very readable text is specifically designed to be an essential companion to undergraduate and CPE courses in constitutional and administrative law. This book is a long established and popular textbook. It provides a comprehensive and readable introduction to the basic principles of the UK constitution. It is specifically designed as an essential companion for students taking undergraduate law degrees and law conversion courses.

Allen, Michael, Textbook on Criminal Law 10th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £26.99, ISBN: 9780199551347

Now in its tenth edition, this book has been providing students of criminal law with a readable and reliable introduction to the subject for the past twenty years. Thorough enough that readers can feel confident in their knowledge, yet concise enough not to overwhelm, this book gets the balance between detail and coverage right.

Amstutz, Marc; Teubner, Gunther, Networks: Legal Issues of Multilateral Co- operation, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £60.00, ISBN: 9781841139456

This volume is the outcome of a conference held in Fribourg, Switzerland, which focused on the legal treatment of contractual networks, in particular questions of network expectations, the fragility of network institutions, and the question of how law can minimise network specific risks towards third parties.

An entry level introduction to valuation methodology, this book gives a straightforward narrative treatment to the subject matter with a multitude of examples and illustrations, contained in an easy to read format. There is a strong emphasis on the practical aspects of valuation, as well as on the principles and application of the full range of valuation methods.

Bacon, Nicholas; Garrod, Simon, The Bar Handbook 2009-2010, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £65.00, ISBN: 9781405744454

A practical handbook bringing together, for the first time, details and guidance relating to a barrister's professional obligations, parameters of work, permitted charging arrangements, ability to get paid, getting redress when not paid, tax and VAT liabilities, insurance, practice planning and good practice advice and relevant statutory and regulatory references, for all barristers be they sole practitioners, employed, publicly or privately funded.

Bakker, Anuschka, Transfer Pricing and Business Restructuring: Streamlining all the way, IBFD Publications BV, Paperback, £110.00, ISBN: 9789087220556

This book gives practical insights into the tax accounting treatment of business restructurings, OECD work in progress and the effect of the EU tax system. It also includes a case study concerning the restructuring of a manufacturing operation, which is analysed from the perspective of key industrial jurisdictions, along with an examination of current practice.

Balboni, Paolo, Trustmarks in E-Commerce: The Value of Web Seals and the Liability of their Providers, T.M.C. Asser Press, Hardback, £50.00, ISBN: 9789067042963

This book is the first comprehensive study on trustmarks and related legal aspects. It

describes pros and cons of trustmarks for e-economy, e-society and e-policy, assesses TMOs' practice, and focuses on TMOs' liability. Introduction to each chapter states what is covered, allowing readers to find information quickly. Poses questions and provides the relevant answers, allowing readers to focus on the key issues. Multidisciplinary research allows readers to gain a complete picture of trustmarks

Banks, Robert, Banks on Sentence 4th ed, Robert Banks, Paperback, £46.00, ISBN: 9780955038624

The fourth edition provides the definitive work for determining the sentence for virtually all prosecuted offences. The offences dealt with range from smoking and parking to whole life murder and terrorism. The book also enables the reader to know what the Judge is likely to have been reading before s/he passes sentence.

Bant, Elsie, The Change of Position Defence, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £60.00, ISBN: 9781841139654

The aim of this book is to define and explain the operation of the defence of change of position in Anglo-Australian law. It is a widely accepted view that the defence is a modern development, the first express recognition of which can be traced in England to the seminal decision of the House of Lords in Lipkin Gorman (a firm) v Karpnale Ltd. This work takes a different stance, arguing that the modern case law is best understood through an examination of its historical antecedents, placing the defence within its broader historical context and showing how its disputed features might be resolved.

Baughen, Simon, Shipping Law 4th ed, Routledge-Cavendish, Paperback, £34.99, ISBN: 9780415487191

Shipping Law covers the whole spectrum of English shipping law. It takes a structured and integrated approach to the highly specialised rules of shipping, which are placed in their commercial context and related to the general principles of English contract and tort law.

Bogdanor, Vernon, The New British Constitution, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £17.95, ISBN: 9781841136714

This new book, by one of Britain's most respected and experienced constitutional commentators, charts the emergence and significance of recent reforms, and evaluates their success as part of a larger historical shift towards the constitutionalising of British democracy. While opinion is sharply divided as to the way forward, the author argues that former Prime Minister Tony Blair's most permanent legacy may well prove to be his championing of a new British constitution. Those seeking an authoritative insight into the state of that constitution need look no further.

Brammer, Silke, Co-operation between National Competition Agencies in the Enforcement of EC Competition Law, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £110.00, ISBN: 9781841139319

The author focuses on horizontal co-operation between the NCAs of different Member States. She starts by looking at the arrangements for case allocation, discusses the rules on information exchange and also deals with the consultation procedure prior to the adoption of final NCA decisions. The existing rules are assessed not only in the light of their purpose, ensuring efficiency and consistency in the application of the law, but also reviewed against the requirements of the EU Charter and the European Convention on Human Rights. Particular attention is devoted to issues arising in the event of parallel procedures by several NCAs. This includes the applicability of the ne bis in idem principle and the question which duties of the NCAs result from the loyalty obligation enshrined in Article 10 EC. Finally, the author explores whether the ECN concept of co-operation and networking could be applied more broadly in the context of European integration.

Bridge, M. G., Benjamin's Sale of Goods 7th ed: 2nd supplement, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Paperback, £85.00, ISBN: 9780421945708

Burk, Dan L.; Lemley, Mark A., The Patent Crisis and How the Courts Can Solve it, The University of Chicago Press, Hardback, £31.00, ISBN: 9780226080611

Patent law is crucial to encourage technological innovation. But as the patent system currently stands, diverse industries from pharmaceuticals to software to semiconductors are all governed by the same rules even though they innovate very differently. The result is a crisis in the patent system, where patents calibrated to the needs of prescription drugs wreak havoc on information technologies and vice versa. According to Dan L. Burk and Mark A. Lemley in The Patent Crisis and How Courts Can Solve It, courts should use the tools the patent system already gives them to treat patents in different industries differently. Industry tailoring is the only way to provide an appropriate level of incentive for each industry. Burk and Lemley illustrate the barriers to innovation created by the catchall standards in the current system. Legal tools already present in the patent statute, they contend, offer a solution - courts can tailor patent law, through interpretations and applications, to suit the needs of various types of businesses.

Burrows, Andrew, A Casebook on Contract 2nd ed, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £28.00, ISBN: 9781841139937

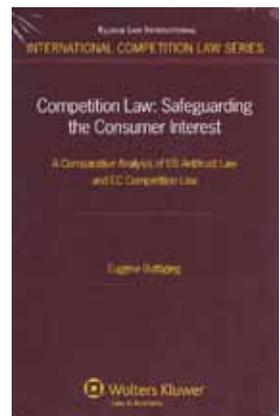

This is the second, revised, edition of Professor Burrows' casebook, offering undergraduate law students the ideal way to discover and understand contract law through reading highlights from the leading cases. It has been brought up to date, incorporating extracts from a number of leading cases decided since 2007.

Butter, Ian, The New Planning System: Questions and Answers, RICS Books, Paperback, £29.99, ISBN: 9781842194713 should be simpler and leaner. However, many people are finding it anything but: they are baffled by the new vocabulary, the fee structures, the new application processes and the changes to what is permitted and what is not. This book offers pragmatic, common sense answers to the key questions you will be asking about the planning system in 2009.

Buttigieg, Eugene, Competition Law: Safeguarding the Consumer Interest. A Comparative Analysis of US Antitrust Law and EC Competition Law, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £88.00, ISBN: 9789041131195

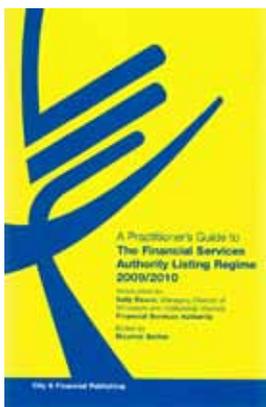

The author explores the extent to which US antitrust law and EC competition law adequately safeguard consumer interests. Specifically, he shows how the two jurisdictions have gone about evaluating collusive practices, abusive conduct by dominant firms and merger activity, and how the policies thus formed have impacted upon the promotion of consumer interests. He argues that unless consumer interests are directly and specifically addressed in the assessment process, maximization of consumer welfare is not sufficiently achieved.

Button, Maurice, A Practitioner's Guide to the City Code on Takeovers and Mergers 2009/2010, City & Financial Publishing, Paperback, £99.00, ISBN: 9781905121410

Since its first publication in 1988, A Practitioner's Guide to the City Code on Takeovers and Mergers has become a valuable resource for all those working in this area. The publication of a new edition each year will continue to help readers keep up to date with the latest regulatory developments.

Button, Maurice, A Practitioner's Guide to the Financial Services Authority Listing Regime 2009/2010, City & Financial Publishing, Paperback, £99.00, ISBN: 9781905121427

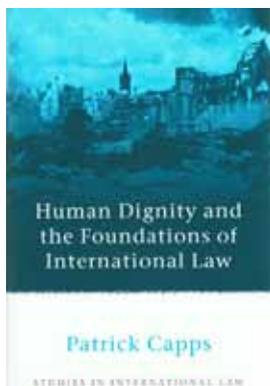

A Practitioner's Guide to The FSA Listing Regime is the definitive, annual guide to the requirements of the Listing Prospectus and Disclosure and Transparency Rules. It offers practical guidance on the eligibility criteria and continued obligations for listing on the London Stock Exchange. The disclosure requirements and the contents, approval and publication of prospectuses are also covered.

CCH, Hardman's Tax Rates and Tables 2009-2010 1st ed, CCH Editions, Paperback, £19.20, ISBN: 9781847981622

Capps, Patrick, Human Dignity and the Foundations of International Law, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £40.00, ISBN: 9781841133577
International lawyers have

often been interested in the link between their discipline and the foundational issues of jurisprudential method, but little that is systematic has been written on this subject. In this book, an attempt is made to fill this gap by focusing on issues of conceptualisation in legal science in general with a view to their application to the specific concerns of international law.

Carr, Paul; Turner, Adrian; Stone's Justices' Manual 2009, LexisNexis Butterworths, Hardback, 3 Volumes & CD-ROM, £500.96, ISBN: 9781405742597

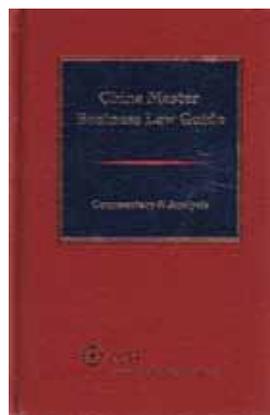

Stone's Justices' Manual is relied upon each year by thousands of professionals to provide the most reliable and current coverage of the legislative changes affecting magistrates' courts. With the accompanying CD-ROM, Stone's provides comprehensive coverage of all existing, new and amended legislation affecting the magistrates' courts and hundreds of new cases that set precedents or clarify particular principles of law. As part of the subscription, an updating CD-ROM is provided in October.

Chamberlain, Colin, Employee Share Schemes 5th

ed, Tottel Publishing, Paperback, £95.00, ISBN: 9781845922634

The new edition of this comprehensive work provides a valuable guide to the taxation, legal, compliance and practical issues concerning the acquisition by employees of shares in their employer company, whether public or private and contains invaluable specimen scheme rules and other documentation needed to set up such schemes.

Chen, Jianfu; CCH Asia Editorial Team, China Master Business Law Guide: Commentary and Analysis, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £194.00, ISBN: 9789041131553

ISBN: 9780749455132

Now in a new sixth edition, The Employer's Handbook has established itself as a source of reliable and unambiguous advice for small- and medium-sized employers. The book is a comprehensive source of hands-on advice on the increasingly complex legal framework now governing UK employment law.

Dare, Tim, The Counsel of Rogues? A Defence of the Standard Conception of the Lawyer's Role, Ashgate Publishing Ltd, Hardback, £55.00, ISBN: 9780754649007

There is a widespread perception in popular culture, literature, philosophy and in the day to day business of law that even when acting with good conduct, dishonesty and deviousness are displayed by lawyers. This book sets out the principles that comprise the standard conception of the lawyer's role and argues that the moral implications of the conception are mischaracterized.

Davies, A, Law in Context: Perspectives on Labour Law 2nd ed, Cambridge University Press, Paperback, £27.99, ISBN: 9780521722346

Policy discussions play an important role in labour law, and labour lawyers draw on a wide range of disciplines and approaches in order to construct their arguments. This overview of the basic principles of labour law and the related policy arguments introduces two of the main perspectives used in the analysis of labour law today – human rights and economics.

Institutional Normative Order, Ashgate Publishing Ltd, Hardback, £55.00, ISBN: 9780754677086

MacCormick's Institutions of Law is the culmination of a lifetime's work in legal theory by one of the world's most respected legal theorists. Featuring an impressive collection of contributions from well-known legal theorists from around the world, all of whom are familiar with MacCormick's work, this collection provides a cutting edge account of the book's significance. The collection is rounded off with a response from MacCormick, which also includes a summary of his book and its position in his four-part series Law, State and Practical Reason.

Descheemaeker, Eric, Di-

vision of Wrongs: A Historical Comparative Study, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £50.00, ISBN: 9780199562794

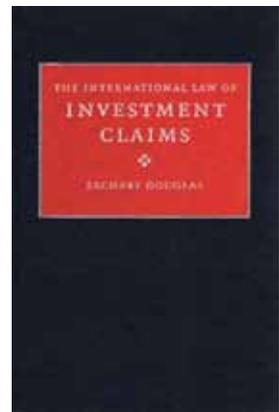

The common law, despite procedural divisions, has only ever had one class of civil wrongs. The civilians, by contrast, have typically split their law of wrongs in two, one group being called delicts and the other quasi-delicts. Yet this division, which originated in Roman law, remains mysterious: it is clear neither where the line was drawn nor why a separation was made along this line.

Douglas, Gillian; Lowe, Nigel, The Continuing Evolution of Family Law, Family Law, Paperback, £35.00, ISBN: 9781846611698
The Continuing Evolution of Family Law brings together the papers from two one-day conferences held at Cardiff Law School on 21 November 2007 and 14 March 2008 to mark the 150th anniversary of the Matrimonial Causes Act 1857 and the 50th anniversary of Graveson and Crane's edited book, A Century of Family Law.

Douglas, Zachary, The International Law of Investment Claims, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780521855679
The International Law of Investment Claims considers the distinct principles governing the prosecution of a claim in investment treaty arbitration. The principles are codified as 54 'rules' of general application on the juridical foundations of investment treaty arbitration, the jurisdiction of the tribunal, the admissibility of claims and the laws applicable to different aspects of the investment dispute. The commentary to each proposed rule contains a critical analysis of the investment treaty jurisprudence and makes extensive reference to the decisions of other international courts and tribunals, as well as to the relevant experience of municipal legal orders.

Elliott, Catherine, English Legal System: Essential Cases and Materials 2nd ed, Pearson Education Ltd, Paperback, £23.99, ISBN: 9781408225127

Elliott, Catherine; Quinn, Frances, Elliott & Quinn: Tort Law 7th ed, Pearson Education Ltd, Paperback, £24.99, ISBN: 9781405899338

Elliott and Quinn's Tort Law clarifies the essential concepts behind the law, making it easier for students to understand and apply the legal rules. The book sets each tort in its social context to make clear when and why claims might be brought, and then provides a clear explanation of the rules relating to each tort. Each chapter includes discussion of problems with the current law, helping students to develop a critical and analytical approach. Through reference to topical cases and issues, the authors show that tort law is an interesting and relevant to today's society.

Estevadeordal, Antoni; Suominen, Kati; Teh, Robert, Regional Rules in the Global Trading System, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £23.99, ISBN: 9780521759342

This book provides detailed analysis of RTA rules in six key areas - market access, technical barriers to trade, contingent protection, investment, services and competition policy - across dozens of the main RTAs in the world. The analysis helps to provide new insights into the interplay between regional and multilateral trade rules, advances understanding of the economic effects of RTAs and contributes to the discussion on how to deal with the burgeoning number of RTAs.

Foster, Nigel, Foster on EU Law 2nd ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £24.99, ISBN: 9780199534890

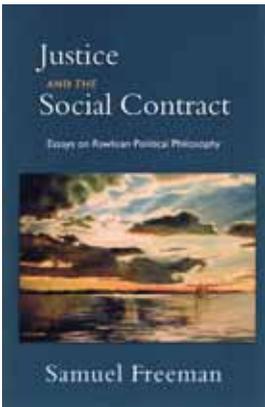

EU law is a subject of ever growing significance. Gaining a solid grasp of the EU's institutions, procedures and substantive law is vital for anyone serious about completing their legal education. Nigel Foster provides an engaging yet thought-provoking introduction to EU law, ideal for undergraduate students.

Fox, Ruth; Kingsley, Ben, A Practitioner's Guide to UK Money Laundering Law and Regulation 2nd ed, City & Financial Publishing, Paperback, £115.00, ISBN: 9781905121397

how human rights regimes operate outside of Europe and United Kingdom.

Herring, Jonathan, Family Law 4th ed, Pearson Education Ltd, Paperback, £34.99, ISBN: 9781405899567

Family Law provides a comprehensive account of one of the most dynamic and contentious subjects in law today. The book takes a contextual approach, exploring the subject not just in terms of the law itself, but also in terms of the complex social, philosophical and political forces that surround family life and bear a direct influence upon it.

Hildebrand, Doris, The Role of Economic Analysis in the EC Competition Rules: The European School 3rd ed, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £120.00, ISBN:

The thesis of this now-classic work – that the European Commission and the Community Courts, under the necessity of forging an effective competition policy, created an entire new school of thought in economic theory that permeates the disciplinary boundary between law and economics – has been gaining ground among competition law practitioners and their government counterparts over the last decade. Now, in the book's third edition, the author explores the full spectrum of this development in detail, uncovering its multiple rationales as it has gradually formulated the legal principles of 'competition economics' that have come to underlie all matters related to Article 81 (1), Article 81 (3), Article 82, the Merger

Hill, Jeffery, Practical Guide to Mooting, Palgrave Macmillan, Paperback, £14.99, ISBN: 9780230220683

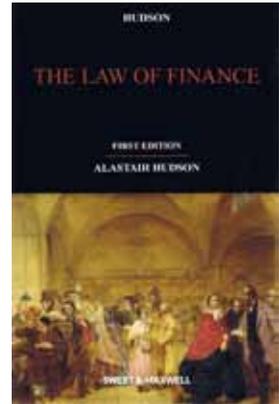

This is the essential student-friendly guide to mooting for all those coming to law for the first time and needing to build confidence in this important skill. It is written in clear and accessible language. This is a clear and student-friendly guide to mooting, an essential skill for students on an LLB, LPC, BVC or GDL course, which will help to engender confidence in constructing legal arguments and presenting them effectively. It is written in manageable sections so the book can be read easily, or dipped into for specific expert advice.

Hopper, Andrew; Trevorton-Jones, Gregory, The Solicitors' Handbook 2009, Law Society Publishing, Paperback, £69.95, ISBN: 9781853287794

This authoritative guide to the rules and regulations governing solicitors has been comprehensively updated to take account of all of the recent developments in this area. The Solicitor's Handbook 2009 provides expert commentary on the practical reality of the regulatory and disciplinary environment in which solicitors operate and discusses all of the relevant decided cases in the field. It also includes a comprehensive range of supporting materials including the text of the latest versions of the Solicitors' Code of Conduct and the Solicitors' Accounts Rules 1998, including the Reporting Accountant's Form as revised in May 2009.

Hudson, Alastair, The Law of Finance, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Paperback, £41.95, ISBN: 9780421947306

The Law of Finance aims, for the first time in a single volume, to account for the whole of international finance as understood in English law. The volume is divided into two halves with section one considering the principles of the law of finance and section two considering the full range of modern financial techniques in their legal context.

Hyland, Richard, Gifts: A Study in Comparative Law, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £73.00, ISBN: 9780195343366

Gifts: A Study in Comparative Law is the first broad-based study of the law governing the giving and revocation of gifts ever attempted. First, gift-giving is everywhere governed by social and customary norms before it encounters the law. Second, the giving of gifts takes place largely outside of the marketplace. As a result of these two characteristics, the law of gifts provides an optimal lens through which to examine how different legal systems confront social practice.

Klabbers, Jan, An Introduction to International Institutional Law 2nd ed, Cambridge University Press, Paperback, £32.00, ISBN: 9780521736169 Hardback, £70.00, ISBN: 9780521516204

International institutions are powerful players on the world stage, and every student of international law requires a clear understanding of the forces that shape them. For example, with increasing global influence comes the need for internal control and accountability. This thought-provoking overview considers these and other forces that govern international institutions such as the UN, EU and WTO, and the complex relationship that exists between international organizations and their member states.

Klip, Andre, European Criminal Law, Intersentia Publishers, Paperback, £131.25, ISBN: 9789050957724 This book aims to present a coherent picture of the influence of Union law in national criminal law and criminal procedure and to sketch the contours of the emerging European criminal justice system of the Union. Therefore, European criminal law is interpreted as a multilevel field of law in which the European Union either has normative influence on substantive criminal law, criminal procedure or on the cooperation between Member States supplemented by the area in which the European Union enforces criminal law directly.

Law, Jonathan, Oxford Dictionary of Law 7th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £11.99, ISBN: 9780199551248 law, with 200 entries new to this volume. The Dictionary defines all the major terms, concepts, processes, and organization of the legal system – with new coverage of important recent legislation and expanded coverage of criminology and law enforcement. International in scope, the book includes terms taken from European law, international law, human rights law, and environmental law. This edition offers highlighted feature entries that discuss key topics in detail, such as adoption law or the Terrorism Act. There is a useful Writing and Citation Guide that specifically addresses problems and established conventions for writing legal essays and reports and the book features entry-level web links which are accessed and kept up to date via the Dictionary of Law companion web site.

and Law 2nd ed, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £160.00, ISBN: 9789041128751

The new edition of this insightful work begins with a critical re-examination of the rival Greek and British claims to the Elgin Marbles. That case study identifies the questions that continue to dominate the growing international debate about cultural property policy and which are subsequently explored in a newly-expanded array of essays. The second part of this highly-regarded book addresses a number of contemporary art law issues in essays on counterfeit art, the moral rights of artists, the artist's resale right (droit de suite), the litigation over the Mark Rothko estate, and problems of museum trustee negligence, conflict of interests, and misuse of inside information.

Miller, Angharad; Oats, Lynne, Principles of International Taxation 2nd ed, Tottel Publishing Ltd, Paperback + eBook, £90.50, ISBN: 9781847663214

The new edition of this unique work provides the ideal textbook for students of international taxation and an invaluable overall view for tax practitioners. With the aid of worked examples and case studies, the authors clearly explain the generic principles that apply in an international context, using the UK as an example. The latest developments are covered on topics including double taxation, the use of tax havens, the role of international bodies (such as the OECD, the UN and the EU), transfer pricing, interpretation of double tax treaties and the specific problems arising from e-commerce.

and the Middle East, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £55.00, ISBN: 9780521767538

This book presents snapshots of human rights being appropriated, promoted, claimed, reclaimed, and contested within and between the American and Middle Eastern contexts. The inquiry has three facets: first, it explores intersections between human rights norms and power as they unfold in the era. Second, it lays out the layers of the era's American and Middle Eastern encounter on the human rights plane. Finally, it draws out the era's key lessons for moving the human rights project forward.

Mootz, Francis, On Philosophy in American Law, Cambridge University Press,

Hardback, £45.00, ISBN: 9780521883689

This volume gathers 38 leading scholars working in law and philosophy to provide focused and straightforward articulations of the role that philosophy might play at this juncture of American legal history. The volume marks the 75th anniversary of Karl Llewellyn's essay On Philosophy in American Law in which he rehearsed the broad development of American jurisprudence, diagnosed its contemporary failings, and then charted a productive path opened by the variegated scholarship that claimed to initiate a realistic approach to law and legal theory. The essays are written in the spirit of Llewellyn's article: they are succinct and direct arguments about the potential for bringing law and philosophy together.

Mukwiri, Jonathan, Takeovers and the European Legal Framework, Routledge-Cavendish, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780415491570

This book examines the provisions of the City Code on Takeovers and Mergers, and discusses the takeover provisions in the Companies Act 2006 that implement the Takeover Directive in the UK, arguing that the Directive will provide a new basis for UK takeover regulation, and that the system will work well. Jonathan Mukwiri goes on to consider the Directive in relation to the EU, arguing that despite its deficiencies, in that Member States are free to opt to restrict takeovers, the Directive provides a useful legal framework by

Reinisch, August, Essential Questions in EU Law, Cambridge University Press, Paperback, £15.99, ISBN: 9780521730280

To the new student of EU law, deciding what questions to ask on the subject is as much of a challenge as answering them. This introduction's distinctive Q & A format immediately directs the student to the questions he or she should be asking. Concise and clearly structured, it guides students through the different layers of the European Union from the law establishing it, through how its institutions work and on to its operation on the international stage. It also provides a clear explanation of the substantive law of the EU and the working of the internal market. Each chapter takes a cornerstone of EU law, sets the scene with a short introductory overview and then tackles its key questions.

Sachs, Albie, Strange Alchemy of Life and Law, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £19.99, ISBN: 9780199571796

The book provides unique access to an insider's perspective on modern South Africa, and a rare glimpse into the working of a judicial mind. By juxtaposing life experiences and extracts from judgments, Sachs enables the reader to see the complex and surprising ways in which legal culture transforms subjective experience into objectively reasoned decisions. With rare candour he tells of the difficulties he has when preparing a judgment, of how every judgment is a lie. Rejecting purely formal notions of the judicial role he shows how both reason and passion (concern for protecting human dignity) are required for law to work in the service of justice.

Shackleton, Stewart, Arbitration Law Reports and Review 2006, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £295.00, ISBN: 9780199553228

This is the 2006 volume of the Arbitration Law Reports and Review series, which makes full texts as judgements on the arbitration law of England, Wales and Northern Ireland available in a single publication on an annual basis. Yearly volumes include a comprehensive collection of arbitration-related judicial decisions for the relevant calendar year, with back volumes in preparation to cover each year since entry into force of the Arbitration Act 1996. The case law is cross-referenced and each case is prefaced by a head note of keywords, a concise summary of the issues, the holding and judicial comments obiter plus lists of cases, arbitration rules and legislation referred to.

Spencer, J.R., Evidence of Bad Character 2nd ed, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £30.00, ISBN: 9781841139814

This is the second edition of John Spencer's widely and justly acclaimed book which seeks to explain this complex and little understood area of law for the benefit of members of the criminal bar and academics teaching the law of evidence. The rule excluding evidence of the defendant's general bad character and disposition to commit the offence has been described as one of the most hallowed rules of evidence; Lord Sankey, in Makin v Attorney-General for New South Wales, referred to it as "...one of the most deeply rooted and jealously guarded principles of our criminal law." In reality it is not particularly ancient, and in recent years it has been increasingly attacked. On technical grounds the body of law surrounding it has been criticised as over-complicated and inconsistent, and more radical critics have condemned it as unduly favourable to the guilty. In response to this, it was completely recast in Part II of the Criminal Justice Act 2003. This book, now updated to take into account a raft of new cases, offers the most thorough analysis available of the bad character provisions of the Criminal Justice Act 2003.

Sweet & Maxwell, The Directory of Local Authorities 2009, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Paperback, £62.50, ISBN: 9781847039248

ISBN: 9781847663160

Now in its 4th edition, Delictual Liability is a highly respected and extremely popular account of the principles of delict in Scots law and is a standard introductory textbook on the subject. Delict is a notoriously difficult area of the law. This book is characterised by its clear and coherent account of the principles of delict, which should prove useful to student and practitioner alike. The text is founded on the principles of delictual liability, illustrated by many examples.

Thorne, James; Miller, Ian, Butterworths Guide to the Legal Services Act 2007, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £95.00, ISBN: 9781405744539

Wildy's Book of the Month - June 2009

The Legal Services Act 2007 revolutionises the provision of legal services in the UK. The purpose of the Act is to liberalise the market for legal services in England and Wales, to reform the regulation of the profession, to encourage greater competition and to improve consumer complaints. This new book provides an overview of the Act and attempts to signpost how its implementation may change the legal world. It attempts to explain how to take advantage of the new model, and identify new opportunities arising from the reform.

Toutouchian, Iraj, Islamic Money and Banking: Integrating Money in Capital Theory, John Wiley &

Sons Ltd, Hardback, £60.00, ISBN: 9780470823194

van der Walt, A. J., Property in the Margins, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £35.00,

ISBN: 9781841139630

Having its origins in the process of transformation and land reform that began to take shape in South Africa at the end of the last century, this strikingly original analysis of property starts from deep inside the property regime, not taking a distant or abstract perspective on property rules and practices, but starting from within a property regime.

van Lith, Helene, International Jurisdiction and Commercial Litigation: Uniform Rules for Contract Disputes, T.M.C. Asser Press, Hardback, £95.00, ISBN: 9789067043038

This exploration of the basic approaches to international jurisdiction in commercial contractual disputes contains a comprehensive analysis of jurisdictional regimes of major continental European countries, England, the United States and the Brussels Regulation 44/2001. It includes an exhaustive comparative study of each rule establishing jurisdiction over disputes arising from transnational commercial contracts entered into between private entities and/or corporations. The analysis includes key issues such as defendant's forum, corporate domicile, contract jurisdiction, branch jurisdiction, transacting and doing business, and describes the importance of U.S. due process standards, fair trial considerations and the forum (non) conveniens doctrines.

Van Overwalle, Geertrui, Gene Patents and Collaborative Licensing Models: Patent Pools, Clearing Houses, Open Source Models and Liability Regimes, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780521896733

Concerns have been expressed that gene patents might result in restricted access to research and health care. The exponential growth of patents claiming human DNA sequences might result in patent thickets, royalty stacking and, ultimately, a ‘tragedy of the anti-commons’ in genetics. The essays in this book explore models designed to render patented genetic inventions accessible for further use in research, diagnosis or treatment.

Inn Libraries Proposed Merger

Feasibility Study to consider the possible merger of the Inner and Middle Temple Libraries

The Executive Committees of Inner Temple and Middle Temple have agreed to commission a feasibility study to investigate the potential benefits of merging their Libraries and creating a Joint Education and Advocacy Centre.

The study will be overseen by a working group chaired jointly by Master Jonathan Hirst for Inner Temple and Master Stanley Burnton, Deputy Treasurer, for Middle Temple.

The results of the study are likely to be available in the late summer and no decisions are anticipated until much later in the year, after full consultation with staff and consideration by the relevant Inn Committees, Bench Table and Parliament.

In particular, no assumption has been made as to which Inn would house the Library and which the Education Centre, should the project proceed.

WAMS – Wildy Account Management System

After months of planning and development Wildy's online Account Management System (WAMS) is up and running and ready to use.

WAMS will allow you to view all aspects of your account online. You will be able to look at invoices issued on your account, outstanding book orders, standing orders and subscriptions, and view full details for each. You can also use the Quick Orders tab to place orders using ISBNs – particularly useful if you are ordering a large number of books at once. Also included are various reports that you can either view on-screen or download to your desktop.

To start using WAMS you will need to register yourself first. Go to <https://accounts.wildy.com> and click on the New User link and enter the details requested. The field for username and password are for you to enter a username and password of your own choice to use when accessing WAMS.

Once you have completed the registration form you will get an automated e-mail to verify your e-mail address, and once we have authenticated your details you will be able to log-in and start using the service.

WAMS supports multiple registrations for each account, so your colleagues can also register themselves as users in the same way.

We have designed WAMS to be easy to use and intuitive, and we hope you will like the look and feel of the site as much as the functionality.

Antitrust Law in China, Korea and Vietnam

Mark Furse, Professor of Competition Law and Policy, University of Glasgow; Adjunct Professor, South West University of Political Science and Law, Chongqing

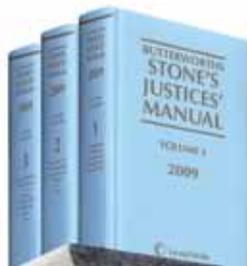

- The first book in English to provide clear guidance to practitioners on the new antitrust law in China
- Includes comprehensive coverage of antitrust laws in Korea and Taiwan, with relevant legislation and cases and detailed discussion of the law
- Written by a leading academic in the field of competition law who has worked widely in China, Hong Kong and Korea, with input from consultant editors based in the jurisdictions covered Antitrust Law in China, Korean and Vietnam gives a clear description of the new antitrust law in China, the established antitrust law in Taiwan and Korea, and the underdeveloped law in Vietnam. It also considers developments in Hong Kong, which is in the process of introducing a general law of antitrust.

Harold I. Boucher

1906-2009

Hon.O.B.E., Attorney, Author, Legal Historian, Honorary Legal Counsel to the British Consulate in San Francisco, Anglophile, Benefactor. Born in Chicago and educated at the University of California (Berkeley), he passed away at home on 27th May,2009 a month before of his 103rd birthday.

Roy Heywood writes:

Harold I. “Deke” Boucher was introduced to me initially, by an American Law Librarian, as a benefactor. The librarian, now the Rare Books Librarian at Yale University, Lillian Goldman Law Library, continued to receive donations from Mr. Boucher, even after moving libraries. Mr. Boucher came across as a gentle person; a gentleman, who soft-talked his role in society. It is only of late that his past has come back to flatter him. As an attorney he specialised in Wills, Probate and Estate Planning, and wrote upon the topic, passing his wisdom and experience down in the written word. He came to us to purchase works that he then donated to Law Libraries at American Universities, to fill gaps in their collections. Harold Boucher termed himself as an amateur legal historian, but his research, on Dr. Cowell’s “The Interpreter”, an early Law Dictionary, proved otherwise, as it pointed to omissions from the work not previously noted. The first edition published in 1607 had been burned by the Common Hangman, on orders of the King, as definitions in the work regarding rights and hereditaments of the Crown irritated Parliament. The book suffered suppression; John Cowell suffered the wrath of the Crown, the Commons, Coke and Bacon. For nearly four centuries no-one else had noticed the omissions of definitions for Wills and Codicils, but the entry for Testaments refers the reader to “see Wills”. Harold Boucher noticed. His passing has also been noticed, with regret.

IMPORTANT FORTHCOMING PUBLICATIONS

The Law Relating to Charities 4th Edition

by Hubert Picarda
Tottel Publishing, Hardback, ISBN 9781847660749, £250.00, due August 2009

Thoroughly updated and revised to take account of the new Charities Act 2006, this new edition of The Law and Practice Relating to Charities covers the creation, administration and marketing of charities. It provides an invaluable source of practical advice on the registration of new charities, appeals and fundraising, administration, jurisdiction, court proceedings, trading, taxation and rating. It considers duties of charitable trustees and the updating of charitable trusts. It takes into account the major changes brought about by the Charities Act 2006 including the new categories of charitable purposes, explanation of the new Charity Tribunal and Charitable Corporations (CIOs) and details of the new procedure for Charity Tribunal appeals, reviews and references. It also includes discussion of the new accounting procedures and the significant revisions to the taxation position of Charities and includes details of all the changes to the registration requirements for charities along with the revised constitution and workings of the Charity Commission.

Police Misconduct, Complaints, and Public Regulation

by John Beggs QC and Hugh Davies
Oxford University Press, Hardback, ISBN 9780199546183, £95.00, due July 2009

This is a new title which covers the highly sensitive topic of who polices the police. It provides comprehensive coverage of the law and procedure relating to the regulation of the police - setting out comprehensive guidance on practice at complaints and misconduct hearings, as well as detailed analysis of the powers of the IPCC and of its statutory guidance. It includes dedicated chapters on related sets of proceedings, notably the complaints and discipline process (from recording the complaint through to the Police Appeals Tribunal); specific criminal offences (misconduct in public office, manslaughter); inquest proceedings; public inquiries; and judicial review. The content reflects the substantial developments in the law and practice in these inter-related proceedings since the implementation of the Police Reform Act 2002 in April 2004, as well as the radical reforms introduced by the Police (Conduct) Regulations 2008. The authors bring together, in a detailed and practical narrative, the relevant statutory powers, secondary legislation, statutory guidance and increasing body of High Court jurisprudence. They include user-friendly diagrams and process maps to illustrate and explain the narrative and legislation. Appendices include regulations and associated Home Office Guidance under the 2004 and 2008 performance and misconduct regimes, and the new 2008 PAT Rules. Written by two barristers with extensive experience representing and advising police forces and officers, this book is an essential text for solicitors and barristers involved in police misconduct issues.

Chalmers and Guest on Bills of Exchange and Cheques 17th edition

by Professor A.G Guest
QC

Sweet and Maxwell, Hardback, ISBN 9781847037190, £225.00, due July 2009

The new 17th edition of Chalmers & Guest provides a complete encyclopaedia to the law and practice relating to bills of exchange, cheques and promissory notes. It covers the complete banking law and practice in relation to negotiable instruments and presents detailed expert commentary on all aspects of the law relating to bills of exchange, cheques and promissory notes. It considers the capacity and authority of parties, offers extensive references to the relevant case law and looks at modern trends, such as electronic transfer of funds. Also, the book provides commentary on the important cases that have occurred since the previous edition and includes an extended range of references to Commonwealth authorities. It takes into consideration the Gambling Act 2005, the Consumer Credit Act 2006 and other statutory changes since the previous edition and looks at the recent legislation amendments including those to the Bills of Exchange Act 1882 and Cheques Act 1982.

From Recession to Upturn: Financial Management and Strategy For Law Firms

by Andrew Otterburn and Sarah Wilkinson
Law Society Publishing, Paperback, ISBN 9781853287947, £49.95, due July 2009

Steer your firm through these difficult times with From Recession to Upturn. This special report provides your firm with the financial tools it needs to negotiate the current climate and, crucially, to prepare for the eventual upturn. Written by leading experts, the book offers a strategic yet practical approach: Part 1 helps you to assess your firm's financial health. Part 2 focuses on the most important aspects of financial management in a downturn including debt management and credit control. And Part 3 looks forward to the upturn, suggesting how the firm position itself to take advantages of the potential opportunities. The book includes case studies from finance directors and other professionals to illustrate potential difficulties and suggest solutions.

Pensions on Divorce: Law, Practice and Precedents

by David Salter, Maggie Rae and Robin Ellison Lime Legal, Paperback,

ISBN 9780955283444, £60.00, due July 2009

For separating spouses and civil partners, pensions are often a vital consideration. They may be the most valuable potential asset that a family has. It is imperative, therefore, that the family lawyer, advising a client on divorce or family breakdown, deals properly with the consequent pension problems and opportunities. But pension schemes are not designed to cope with family breakdown, and pension legislation and industry practice are fraught with complexity. In this important new title, three of the country's leading experts combine their wealth of knowledge and experience to provide family lawyers with everything they need to handle the pension aspects of family breakdown. Covering the law, practice and procedure relevant to everyday and more unusual cases, this immensely practical work will become the essential handbook for all practitioners advising couples on divorce, nullity, judicial separation or dissolution of a civil partnership. The text is fully up to date and supplemented by a score of invaluable precedents, together with all the relevant legislation and guidance.

Tolley's Employment Handbook 2009/10 23rd edition

by Elizabeth Slade, Stephen Hardy and Members of 11 King's Bench Walk LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, ISBN 9780754537076, £106.00, due July 2009

Tolley's Employment Handbook is written in a clear, highly accessible style, covering every aspect of employment law. The handbook is designed to assist you with every query you may have on routine subjects, such as maternity benefits and recruitment, and to provide expert guidance on more sensitive areas of the law such as sex discrimination and redundancy. The 23rd edition is up-to-date with all recent changes in employment law and will help you understand exactly how these developments affect you, your company, your employees or your clients.

Planning Controls and Their Enforcement 8th edition

A.J Little
Shaw & Sons, Looseleaf, ISBN 9780721904955, £95.00, due July 2009

After 16 supplements to the previous edition, and the many revisions to the planning statutes brought about by the new Planning Act 2008, it has been decided to reissue this work in its entirety. The immediate effect of the passing of the Planning Act 2008 as far as the book is concerned has been the introduction of three important new chapters and significant changes to the commentary throughout. In reissuing the main work of the text, the opportunity has also been taken to completely revise the layout and order of the content to place sections in a more logical sequence. This new edition thus reflects the vast amount of change that has taken place in the field of planning law since the last edition of this work in 2001 and provides a fresh style and more convenient format. The book remains a comprehensive study of the law of planning that explains the methods available to enforce controls and to challenge enforcement. It covers general planning controls, including development, planning permission and enforcement, challenging notices and non-compliance, as well as additional controls relevant to listed buildings, tree preservation and advertisements. The new legislation pertaining to nationally significant infrastructure projects and community infrastructure levies is explained in detail. The regular issue of supplements will ensure the work is always fully up to date in respect of both statute and case law. The supplementary issue system is particularly relevant to this text as there will be a succession of regulations and, no doubt, cases resulting from the new Planning Act which will be covered within the regular updates.

Reinsurance Practice and the Law

Barlow Lyde and Gilbert Informa Publishing, Hardback, ISBN 9781843117964, £395.00, due July 2009

Reinsurance Practice and the Law covers all the areas of reinsurance that are likely to give rise to problems. Paying special attention to the drafting and operation of the reinsurance contract, it also deals in detail with dispute resolution, including arbitration and Commercial Court practice and procedure. Written by the Reinsurance and International Risk Team at Barlow Lyde & Gilbert, it concentrates throughout on how the law relates to actual market practice. It will guide you through the pitfalls of forming and negotiating reinsurance agreements, highlighting problem areas in wordings. It also tackles areas as diverse as dispute resolution and the liabilities of intermediaries. Please note that this is a book version of the existing looseleaf also published by Informa. However, it does not replace the looseleaf.

Documentary Evidence 10th edition

by Charles Hollander QC
Sweet and Maxwell, Hardback, ISBN 9781847036155, £189.00, due August 2009

This new edition guides you through the ways in which you should submit, analyse and present documentary evidence when in civil litigation. Discussing in depth the key principles and problem areas of disclosure you can be sure that nothing is missed. It provides a comprehensive guide to the principles, obligations and protections of disclosure, legal professional privilege and other aspects of evidence in the form of documents; Discusses in depth the key principles and problem areas of disclosure, and how to raise, or combat, the available defences against it; Advises on how to obtain, assess and manage the documents needed and how to identify the key issues; Analyses the extent of the powers of regulatory or public bodies to obtain or disclose documents; Discusses how the Civil Procedure Rules have changed the position on disclosure in important respects – from pre-action protocols and powers, to objections to disclosure and inspection, to the practicalities and problem areas of CPR disclosure, to the failure and abuse of disclosure obligations; Sets out the rights of access to documents, including those held by companies, trusts, partners, receivers and agents, as well as access to court documents, and the means by which data can be accessed; Explains fully the nature of legal professional privilege – what rights different types of privilege provide, their breadth and limits, when and how to claim or waive them; Describes the issues and obligations of confidentiality, including the development of the “collateral undertaking”, or proscriptions against the misuse of information obtained through disclosure, both prior to and under the CPR; Discusses how to deal with international elements of a case, such as witnesses out of the jurisdiction, evidence in the jurisdiction for foreign proceedings, discovery proceedings abroad, documentary orders against foreign entities, the powers of and principles applied to by the English court and the application of foreign law. It is authored by a renowned QC Charles Hollander, who provides detailed analysis, practical advice and robust views often derived from cases in which he has been personally involved.

Ancillary Relief Handbook 7th edition

by Roger Bird
Jordan Publishing, Paperback, ISBN 9781846611810, £65.00, due July 2009

The Ancillary Relief Handbook has established itself as a first resort for thousands of matrimonial lawyers. By combining a clear explanation of the legal principles with straightforward advice on practice and procedure, this is the essential reference work for the busy family lawyer. The new edition has been thoroughly revised and contains detailed analysis of developments in the law since the landmark cases of Miller/McFarlane and Charman, and includes practical guidance as to how these developments should be applied. The changing attitude to pre-nuptial contracts is considered, as are the problems of advising in a time of financial stringency. At a time when mixed and potentially confusing messages can be derived from some judicial decisions, this book remains a source of sound and informed advice.

Child Care and Protection: Law and Practice (Wildy Practice Guide)

Barbara Mitchels with Helen James
ISBN: 9780854900381 Paperback £29

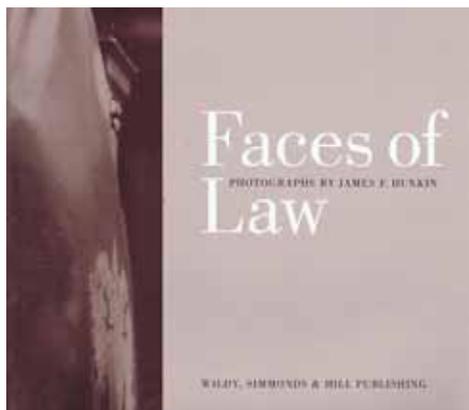

Formerly published as part of the popular Practice Notes series and written by experienced practitioners, the fourth edition provides a practical and concise guide to the Children Act 1989, subsequent legislation, guidance and case law. The new material covered in this edition includes: Every Child Matters, the Children Act 2004, the new edition of Working Together to Safeguard Children (2006), the new Children Act 1989 Guidance Volume 1 Court Orders, the content and impact of the new Public Law Outline (PLO) and important recent cases. This book does not include the separate field of adoption law, but selected relevant provisions of the Adoption and Children Act 2002 and the Children and Adoption Act 2006 are included.

In addition to explaining the general principles of the law relating to child care and protection, the authors provide valuable insights into assessments, care planning, expert evidence, taking instructions, case preparation and courtroom skills. Presented in a compact, user-friendly format, the book also contains checklists and flowcharts which will prove invaluable to the busy practitioner.

Barbara Mitchels is a Children Panel solicitor and also a practising psychotherapist. She combines these disciplines in providing mediation, consultancy and training with Working with Children and Watershed Counselling Service.

Helen James has wide experience in social work and as a children's guardian. She is an independent social work consultant, trainer, and a Director of Family Practice UK Ltd (an Independent Social Work Agency).

FACES OF LAW

Photographs by James F. Hunkin

£45 ISBN: 9780854900275 Hardback

‘Faces of Law’ is a unique photographic chronicle of 100 people working in the legal profession at the turn of the twenty-first century. It forms part of an on-going chronicle - ‘Faces of Britain’.

The collection covers a broad spectrum of activities including some of the country’s most respected judges, solicitors and barristers as well as support staff and others.

Each portrait is accompanied by a personal testimony providing a fascinating insight into the working lives and ideas of the men and women who help shape our society. Alongside this, there is a short factual piece about some aspect of each person’s work.

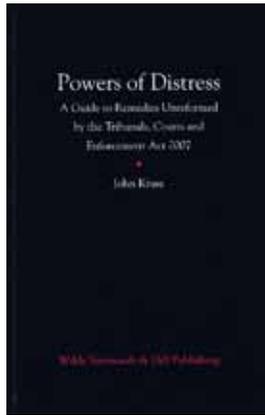

‘Hunkin’s quiet yet powerful portraits provide an honest document of individuals working within the legal sector’.

Clare Freestone, Assistant Curator of Photographs, National Portrait Gallery

‘This remarkable collection of photographs shows the faces of lawyers from all over the legal landscape. It shows the variety of what lawyers do and the variety of lawyers who do it. The words they have chosen, tell us something of how they think or feel about what they do but the photographs tell us even more about them. It all adds up to an intriguing picture of the British legal system as it is today’.

POWERS OF DISTRESS
A Guide to Remedies Unreformed by the Tribunals, Courts and Enforcement Act 2007

ISBN: 9780854900459

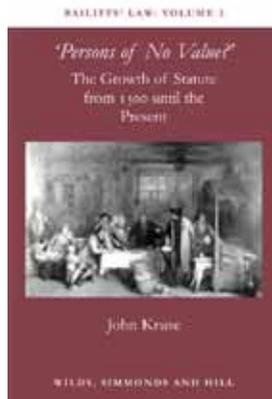

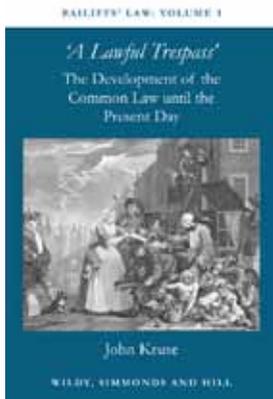

256 pp Hardback £49

JOHN KRUSE

The Tribunals Courts & Enforcement Act 2007 will, for many debts, sweep away the old procedures and principles of enforcement and introduce a new code of law. However, some debts have been deliberately excluded from these changes. Among the liabilities in question are a wide range of shipping liabilities including harbour dues and fines, market tolls and stallages, distress damage feasant for trespassing chattels and powers of seizure of trespassing animals under the Animals Act 1971, arrests of aircraft and ecclesiastical executions. For them, the old common law procedures and principles will continue to operate unaltered.

In a single volume this timely book offers a detailed examination of arrears which have in many respects been neglected and which thereby have been allowed to become obscure and poorly understood. The new Act may cause further difficulties by creating two parallel systems of enforcement- one for the most common debts and one for the remainder. This text aims to restore some balance to this dichotomy by, for the first time, uniting these less common forms of recovery in a clear and structured work. It provides a thorough analysis of the case law developed over the centuries along with discussion of the relevant statutory provisions.

Volume 1 'A Lawful Trespass': The Development of the Common Law to the Present Day

ISBN: 9780854900312 £45.00

Volume 2 'Persons of No Value?': The Growth of Statute from 1500 until the Present

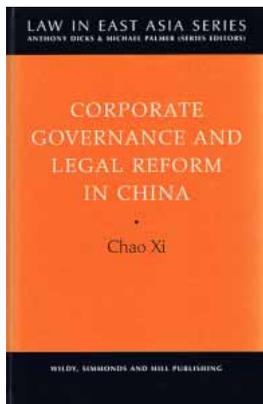

ISBN: 9780854900329 £45.00

JOHN KRUSE

The law relating to distress and execution is a much neglected area of study, despite the fact that bailiffs regularly appear in literary works and their activities are a constant feature of court rolls. This two-volume work aims to provide a detailed and comprehensive history of both the development of the law and the profession of bailiff. The work chronicles the growth of enforcement law from Anglo-Saxon times, tracing the continuity in the common law and examining the intervention of statute. The seizure of goods by bailiffs was a familiar aspect of life in earlier times and this work sets their legal powers into their legal, social and economic context. Key themes are explored throughout both volumes: the protection given to certain essential goods, the efforts to regulate the conduct of bailiffs and the gradual shift of emphasis from promoting the rights of creditors to enhancing the protection of debtors.

Working within the field of social welfare, John Kruse has specialised in the law of enforcement for the last twenty years, and has written numerous books and articles on the subject. He has also acted as a consultant inter alia to the Ministry of Justice and the Council of Europe.

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE AND LEGAL REFORM IN CHINA

Chao Xi

Law in East Asia Series

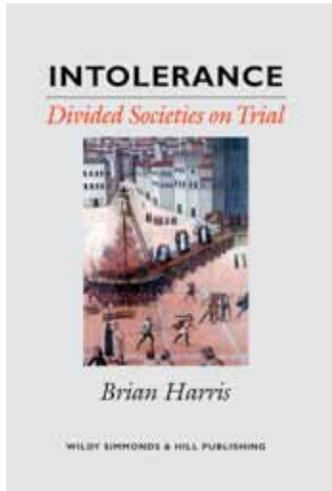

ISBN: 9780854900367

306pp. Hardback £65

State-owned enterprise (SOE) reform has been at the heart of China's post-Mao economic reforms. Since early 1990s, a large number of Chinese SOEs have been transformed into joint stock companies, and many of them are now listed on China's domestic stock exchanges. The corporatisation and listing of the SOEs did not, however, bring about significant improvement in their performance or in the manner in which they are governed.

This book examines the effectiveness of the key legal reforms that have been put in place for addressing the governance issues facing Chinese listed companies. The focus is on three important – but understudied – aspects of corporate governance reform in China: regulation of the private sales of corporate control, institutional shareholder activism, and board level monitoring and control. In addition, this book attempts to explore a political economy understanding of formal legal changes in China with particular reference to China's corporate board reform.

Chao Xi is in the Faculty of Law, Chinese University of Hong Kong, and previously taught at the University of London as a Visiting Lecturer in Law. He is the co-author of Doing Business in China (Routledge, 2008) and has contributed articles to a range of journals, including the Journal of Comparative Law and the Journal of Chinese Economic and Business Studies.

INTOLERANCE: DIVIDED SOCIETIES ON TRIAL

Brian Harris OBE, QC

ISBN: 9780854900251

Hardback 300pp.

£19.99

Most of us are intolerant of something, whether it is our neighbour's dog, his politics or the colour of his skin, but we may not always recognize our lack of tolerance. By making extensive use of surviving court documentation from famous - and not so famous - trials, Brian Harris is able to explore several issues that have given rise to deep-rooted divisions within Western society, such as slavery, religion and homosexuality. The result is a highly readable narrative, which often challenges traditional interpretations of the cases concerned, punctuated throughout by the author's pertinent insights into the personalities, events and legal processes of the day.

The cases include the 'witches' of Salem whose tragic story was plundered by Arthur Miller in his play, The Crucible, the execution of a seventy-year-old woman for giving shelter to a man on the run from England's last rebellion, the prosecution of a schoolteacher for teaching evolution, the persecution of Oscar Wilde and the prosecution of Penguin Books for publishing Lady Chatterley's Lover. Intolerance: Divided Societies on Trial provides an engaging and thought-provoking account of man's intolerance to man through the ages.

The third volume of Eric's popular reminisces.

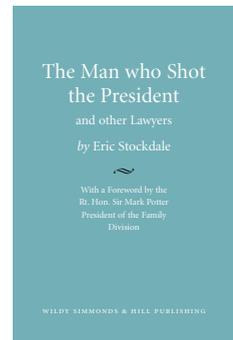

Eric Stockdale left school at fourteen and went to work in wartime London. After two years in the post-war Army he was called to the Bar at the age of twenty-one and appointed a Circuit judge shortly after his 43rd birthday. He took early retirement at sixty-five and then heard Criminal Injuries Compensation appeals for ten years.

Introducing

THE BRITISH MANUAL OF INTERNATIONAL AIR CARRIAGE

The British Manual of International Air Carriage is a practical guide to the law of international air carriage, particularly as it applies in the United Kingdom under the Carriage by Air Act 1961, Regulations of European Parliament and of the Council, and British and international judicial authorities. It provides a clear guide to the choice of law and jurisdiction in any specific carriage and explains the legal provisions and principles applicable to a contract of air carriage in given circumstances. The book draws together the numerous and disparate provisions of the treaties governing air carriage into a coherent, organized, and easily accessible framework for the analysis of legal claims and the conduct of international air carriage litigation in the UK.

Specialists in aviation law will find this a useful book for easy reference. The book will also serve as a practical guide to practitioners without extensive experience in this field when they are advising clients and handling litigation. Finally, jurists, arbitrators, mediators, and members of the aviation and insurance communities will find it helpful when dealing with claims and losses arising from international air carriage.
