The background of the cover is a photograph of a Gothic-style building, likely a church or university hall, with a prominent tower featuring intricate carvings and a crenellated top. The building is light-colored, possibly stone or plaster, and has several windows with decorative elements. In the foreground, there is a street scene with a red traffic light, a purple van, and several people walking. The sky is clear and blue.

Ambrose, Clare; Maxwell, Karen; Parry, Angharad, London Maritime Arbitration 3rd ed, Informa Publishing, Hardback, £365.00, ISBN: 9781843118329 The authors have used their practical experience and extensive legal research to give a clear explanation of how arbitration law works and what factors influence LMAA arbitrators. The book provides a specific guide to maritime arbitration rather than simply a commentary on the 1996 Act; in particular because significant practical issues are not dealt with directly by the Act, for example, confidentiality, freezing orders and anti-suit injunctions.

Anderson, Craig, Roman Law Essentials, Dundee University Press, Paperback, £15.00, ISBN: 9781845860844 Roman Law Essentials is an invaluable study guide for students. It provides up-to-date, concise and comprehensive coverage of Roman law and its effect on the law of Scotland and is the ideal text for students who come new to the subject and for those preparing for exams.

Baatz, Yvonne; Debatista, Charles; Lorenzon, Filippo; Serdy, Andrew; St-

aniland, Hilton; Tsimplis, Michael, The Rotterdam Rules: A Practical Annotation, Informa Publishing, Hardcover, £295.00, ISBN: 9781843118244 The Rotterdam Rules will be open for signature on 23 September 2009. They represent the most comprehensive overhaul of the law of carriage of goods by sea in more than fifty years. To coincide with the signing ceremony, six members of the Institute of Maritime Law at the University of Southampton have written a detailed commentary on the Rules.

of EU Case Law on the Preliminary Ruling Procedure, Kluwer Law International, Hardcover, £112.00, ISBN: 9789041131508 Article 234 EC ensures that a divergent application of the EC Treaty or of the statutes and acts of its institutions is not allowed in any Member State. Unsurprisingly, its pivotal importance has given rise to a huge number of ECJ judgments and orders – about 700 by the beginning of 2009. Very often, a practitioner needs to establish whether the preliminary ruling procedure called for by Article 234 EC is required in a particular case being pursued in a national court, and any relevant ECJ ruling or order must be located. Herein lies the great value of this book.

Barnes, Barbara, Archbold Magistrates Courts Criminal Practice 2010, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Hardcover, £175.00, ISBN: 9780414040885 Provides practical guidance on substantive law, showing what the prosecution must prove, defences and sentencing for each offence. It also features specialist coverage of youth court, with guidance on proceedings and the regime for vulnerable witnesses.

Barnett, Hilaire, Understanding Public Law, Routledge-Cavendish, Paperback, £18.99, ISBN: 9780415552554 Helps students to understand the key aspects of the UK's political and legal systems as well as to build an understanding of the relationship between the different branches of the state such as the executive, legislature and judiciary.

Bessant, Claire; Tompkins, Phil, Information Sharing Handbook, Law Society Publishing, Paperback, £59.95, ISBN: 9781853285899 This handbook provides a practical explanation of how the law regulates the sharing of information. A key component of this text is its focus on the interaction between the various legislative provisions. Written by academics and solicitors who teach and advise on information law, it uses real life examples, practice guidance, flowcharts and checklists to demonstrate when and how information can and must be shared. The book will be invaluable to solicitors and other professionals whether they advise the public or private sector about information sharing.

Bishop, Bernard, European Union Law for International Business: An Introduction, Cambridge University Press, Paperback, £45.00, ISBN: 9780521881449 Written specifically for exporters and those without legal training, this book is an introduction to the business laws of the European Union that need to be understood by those operating outside the EU. It is a practical guide to the regulatory and procedural issues that exporters and businesses need to be aware of. While providing an overview of how the EU operates as a governing body, the book addresses the key matters that exporters will face during their business transactions.

Bishop, R. Doak, Enforcement of Arbitral Awards Against Sovereigns, Juris Publishing, Hardback, £110.00, ISBN: 9781933833293 The past decade has seen a veritable explosion of investment treaty and other arbitration claims brought against sovereigns. Many of those cases have been filed before the International Centre for Settlement of Investment Claims (ICSID), which has its own self-contained rules for enforcement. Given this significant increase in sovereign cases and the issues attendant to sovereign immunity, this treatise is timely in addressing the various issues that arise in enforcing arbitral awards against sovereigns.

Blanke, Thomas; Rosen, Edward; Voogsgeerd, Herman; Zondag, Wijnand, Recasting

Worker Involvement? - Recent Trends in Information, Consultation & Co-Determination of Worker Representatives in a Europeanized Arena, Kluwer Law International, Paperback, £54.00, ISBN: 9789041132147 In Recasting Worker Involvement? recent developments concerning influence of works councils and trade unions on company policies are analyzed. The situation in Germany and the Netherlands and the topics restructuring of companies and data protection form the core of the volume.

Bonner, David; Hooker, Ian; White, Robin, Social Security Legislation 2009/10 Volume I - Non Means Tested Benefits, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Paperback, £89.00, ISBN: 9780414041165

Sweet & Maxwell's popular social security legislation publications provide clear guides for using and applying current legislation. Each one is up-to-date to the crucial benefit date in April. This volume focuses on legislation concerning non-means tested benefits, and includes the full text of the legislation together with authoritative commentary.

Bottomley, Anne; Wong, Simone, Changing Contours of Domestic Life, Family and Law: Caring and Sharing, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £22.00, ISBN: 9781841139036 Drawing from a wide range of material and socio-legal methods, this collection brings together original essays, written by internationally renowned scholars, investigating emerging patterns in the shape and form of the legal regulation of domestic relations.

Bradford, Sarah, National Insurance Contributions 2009/10, Bloomsbury Professional, Paperback, £75.00, ISBN: 9781847663412 A practical guide to the complex provisions relating to National Insurance Contributions, this title provides clear explanations of the law with extensive examples. This book demonstrates when and how national insurance contributions are due, how liabilities are calculated, and what can be done legitimately to minimise them. It uses worked examples to outline complicated tax techniques.

Bruty, Sarah; Gough, Helen, Shaw's Directory of Courts in the United Kingdom 2009/10, Shaw & Sons Ltd, Paperback, £49.50, ISBN: 9780721916361 This annual publication is the definitive source of information on courts and related offices. It provides the names, addresses, telephone, fax and DX numbers, area codes, court codes and times and sittings of courts in the UK. A Numerical Index enables courts to be readily identified by their Court Code only. An index is included within each Region, listing every crown, county and magistrates' court under its administration by Area, court type and page reference, for ease of location of courts.

Bull, Ray; Valentine, Tim; Williamson, Tom, Handbook of Psychology of Investigative Interviewing: Current Developments and Future Directions, Wiley-Blackwell, Paperback, £31.99, ISBN: 9780470512685 Investigative interviewing, and the information obtained from witnesses and victims, plays a vital role in criminal investigations. This comprehensive handbook explores current developments taking place in this rapidly developing field.

Butler, William E., Russian Public Law: The Founda- tions of a Rule-of-Law State - Legislation and Documents 2nd ed, Wildy, Simmonds and Hill Publishing, Hardback, £125.00, ISBN: 9780854900534 The most comprehensive collection of Russian legal materials ever produced in the English language on Russian public law, this volume contains sixty-two enactments and documents, some unpublished even in the Russian language, in force and devoted to the constitutional foundations of the Russian Federation, publication of legislation, human rights, the Russian Presidency, Parliament, Government, and judicial system, domestic and international arbitration, courts of all types, justices of the peace, and the legal profession, broadly defined. In this volume the legal profession encompasses the advocate, juriconsult, notary, procurator, and law enforcement personnel, including private detectives. Particular attention is given to documents which regulate the internal workings of the Russian presidency, parliament, government, and Constitutional Court in the form of 'reglements' and the judiciary generally.

Byrne, Raymond; McCutcheon, Paul; Bruton, Claire; Coffey, Gerard, Byrne and McCutcheon on the Irish Legal System 5th ed, Bloomsbury Professional, Paperback, £80.00, ISBN: 9781845922788 This well-established title has been an essential reference work for legal practitioners since it was first published in 1986. This edition has been substantially revised and updated in response to the changes and development the Irish legal system has undergone during the past few years. It is essential reading for those who require accurate and reliable knowledge of the legal system, and will prove a vital resource to students, legal professionals and scholars of comparative law.

Carr, Helen; Carter, Sarah; Horsey, Kirsty, Skills for Law Students, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £35.00, ISBN: 9780199532193 Skills for Law Students is an innovative new online resource which covers all of the skills that law students need to understand and develop during the course of their law degree. It includes clear, practical advice on how to develop your skills as well as over 170 interactive activities to test progress and to help put the theory into practice.

Each of the 32 chapters deals with a separate skill. Each chapter contains two key elements: the text providing an overview of what that skill is; why it is important; and how to develop it and interactive activities which enable students to understand the topic better; to put the skills into practice; and to self-study and receive immediate feedback on their progress. Activating an account: Access to the online site is via a unique access code which is printed in a sealed card inside every book.

Chappell, David; Dunn, Michael; Cowlin, Michael, Building Law Encyclopaedia, Wiley-Blackwell, Hardback, £85.00, ISBN: 9781405187244 Building Law Encyclopaedia is a concise and authoritative reference, providing information in reasonable depth on an extensive number of legal terms, principles, phrases and issues that are commonly encountered in the construction industry. Most standard contracts are referred to, including the current suite of JCT Contracts, SBC, IC, ICD, MW, MWD, as well as ACA, PPC 2000, GC/Works/1 and NEC. In addition, some contracts which are theoretically out of date, but which are still in common use, are also covered.

Cleland, Alison; Sutherland, Elaine E., Children's Rights in Scotland 3rd ed., W. terial relating to value added tax, stamp taxes, insurance premium tax, landfill tax, aggregates levy and climate change levy.

Cownie, Fiona; Cocks, Raymond, 'A Great and Noble Occupation!': The History of the Society of Legal Scholars, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £25.00, ISBN: 9781841136783 The Society of Legal Scholars, originally the Society of Public Teachers of Law, was created in 1909, but was fortunate to survive its first half century. It had few members, lacked financial resources and was weak in influence. In comparison with other university disciplines Law enjoyed a fragile status, and was often held in low esteem by barristers and solicitors. As we stand at the beginning of the twenty first century, the Society, with nearly 3,000 members, has come a long way from its small beginnings.

Creighton, Simon; Arnett, Hamish, Prisoners: Law and Practice, Legal Action Group, Paperback, £40.00, ISBN: 9781903307717 Prisoners Law and Practice explores the state's duties towards those in detention and the nature of the rights that survive imprisonment. Essential reading for lawyers and advisers and ideally suited to prisoners and their families as it sets out complex material in an accessible and practical way, with tactical guidance and all the relevant law brought together in the appendices. Up to date to include changes brought about by the Criminal Justice and Immigration Act 2008 and the new Parole Board Rules.

Curtin, Deirdre, Executive Power in the European Union: Law, Practice and Constitutionalism, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £60.00, ISBN: 9780199264087 Paperback, £24.99, ISBN: 9780199264094 This book aims to bring the EU's executive powers out of the shadows by mapping the evolution and current form of the EU's various executive actors, their powers, and the mechanisms for holding them accountable. In doing so it provides a rich understanding of the way in which the EU's institutional and legal framework fits within national constitutional presumptions about how power should be controlled and accountability achieved.

Criminal Justice 4th ed, Pearson Higher Education, Paperback, £28.99, ISBN: 9781405858809 The new edition continues to provide a comprehensive introduction to all aspects of the Criminal Justice system. Fully up to date, it combines a description of the major agencies involved in the control of crime and the pursuit of justice with an introduction to criminal justice theory and key concepts in English criminal law.

de Wilde, Robin; Jarvis, Martin; Jennings, Peter; et al, Facts & Figures 2009/10: Tables for the Calculation of Damages, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Paperback, A4, £49.50, ISBN: 9781847039019 Now in its 14th edition, this collection of tables enables you to effortlessly calculate special damages and claims for loss of earnings in personal injury cases.

Doherty, Bernard; Thomann, Colin; Scott, Katharine, Accidents Abroad: International Personal Injury Claims, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Hardback, £125.00, ISBN: 9781847035592 Accidents Abroad: International Personal Injury Claims applies conflict of laws principles specifically to personal injury claims with an international element, so that practitioners are provided with all the information needed when approaching cases about accidents overseas. A glossary is included to help the general reader with the technical terms and Latin names with which conflict of laws abounds.

Dollar, Peta; Thompson-Copsey, Sarah, Mixed Use and Residential Tenants' Rights: The Landlord and Tenant Act 1987 and Leasehold Enfranchisement, Estates Gazette, Paperback, £42.99, ISBN: 9780728205710 The current popularity of mixed use buildings has highlighted the need to understand the substantial impact of residential tenants' rights. Written by authors known for their practical expertise in this highly specialised area, it includes a detailed overview of tenants' rights of first refusal under the Landlord and Tenant Act 1987, tenants' rights of collective enfranchisement under the Leasehold Reform, Housing and Urban Development Act 1993 and tenants' collective rights to manage under the Commonhold and Leasehold Reform Act 2002.

Dorresteyn, Adriaan F. M.; Monteiro, Tiago; Teichmann, Christoph; Werlauff, Erik, European Corporate Law 2nd ed, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £79.00, ISBN: 9789041124845 As in the First Edition (1995) of this well-known book, the authors demonstrate that analysis and comparison of national corporate laws on a number of issues yield highly valuable general principles and observations, not least because business organisations, wherever located, tend to show a fundamentally similar set of legal characteristics. To its original selection of six representative jurisdictions – Belgium, France, Germany, The Netherlands, Spain, and the United Kingdom – the Second Edition now adds Poland, thus including an Eastern European perspective to supplement those of continental Europe and the common law system of the UK.

Duff, R.A., Answering for Crime: Responsibility and Liability in The Criminal Law, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £22.00, ISBN: 9781849460330 In this long-awaited book, Antony Duff offers a new perspective on the structures of criminal law and criminal liability. His starting point is a distinction between responsibility (understood as answerability) and liability, and a conception of responsibility as relational and practice-based.

Dupuy, Pierre-Marie; Ernst-Ulrich, Petersmann; Francioni, Francesco, Human Rights in International Investment Law and Arbitration, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £125.00, ISBN: 9780199578184 Paperback, £45.00, ISBN: 9780199578191 This book offers a systematic analysis of the interaction between international investment law, investment arbitration and human rights, including the role of national and international courts, investor-state arbitral tribunals and alternative jurisdictions, the risks of legal and jurisdictional fragmentation, the human rights dimensions of investment law and arbitration, and the relationships of substantive and procedural principles of justice to international investment law.

Edwards, Lillian; Waelde, Charlotte, Law and the Internet 3rd ed, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £30.00, ISBN: 9781841138152 This is the third edition of a successful book which offers students and practitioners an up-to-date overview of developments in Internet law and practice. The editors have once again assembled a team of specialist authors to write about those aspects of Internet law which are of special importance in the global regulation of the Internet and focussed around four principal themes - e-commerce, privacy and data protection, cyber-crime and Internet Security, and intellectual property.

Fairhurst, John, Law of the European Union 7th ed, Pearson Education Ltd, Paperback, £29.99, ISBN: 9781405899086 Law of the European Union is on the cutting edge of developments in this dynamic area of the law. It explores the EU's constitutional and administrative law as well as the major areas of substantive EU law. Topics are extensively illustrated with decisions from the European Court of Justice and Court of First Instance, encouraging students to consider real-world applications of the principles of law.

Fellmeth, Aaron X.; Horwitz, Maurice, Guide to Latin in International Law, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £57.00, ISBN: 9780195369380 Guide to Latin in International Law provides a comprehensive approach and includes both literal translations and definitions with several useful innovations. Included is not only the modern English pronunciation but also the classical or “restored” pronunciation. Its etymology is more complete than the leading law dictionary on the market, and the definition for each term includes examples used in context whenever helpful. Each entry is also cross-referenced to related terms for ease of use. The editors make clear that the understanding of

Fox, Lawrence; Maryn, Susan J, The Ethics of Representing Organizations: Legal Fictions for Clients, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £73.00, ISBN: 9780195371543
The approach of the book is relatively informal-in comparison to a standard legal treatise-and uses a question-and-answer format designed to make the book as practical, accessible and informative as possible. That said, ample footnotes provide authority where appropriate and lead the reader to suggestions for more in-depth study.

Fräss-Ehrfeld, Clarisse, Renewable Energy Sources: A

Chance to Combat Climate Change, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £104.00, ISBN: 9789041128706
Providing both knowledge of the industry and of relevant investment instruments, Renewable Energy Sources will serve as a powerful liaison between project developers and investors in the renewable energy market. Interested companies and their counsel will find here a ready reference for information on sources of equity/venture capital, detailed knowledge of available subsidies, business expansion strategies, viable investment options, and advantageous networks.

Fuller, Geoffrey, The Law and Practice of International Capital Markets 2nd ed, LexisNexis Butterworths, Hardback, £275.00,

ISBN: 9781405744959
This title offers comprehensive coverage of the key areas within capital markets including securitisation, guarantees, capital adequacy, Islamic finance, prospectuses, liability management, covenants and warrants. It explains transaction structures, the relevant documents and how statutes and case law impact on them. Using a practical and accessible approach to the subject, it also benefits from a clause-by-clause analysis of key

Black's has been the gold standard for the language of law. Today it's the most widely cited law book in the world. Edited by the world's leading legal lexicographer, the ninth edition is much more than one of the most authoritative, comprehensive legal dictionaries ever published. It contains more than 45,000 terms.

Ghandour, Zeina, A Discourse on Domination in Mandate Palestine: Imperialism, Property and Insurgency

perialism, Property and Insurgency, Glasshouse Press, Hardback, £70.00, ISBN: 9780415489935 This study identifies the symbolism of British officials' discourse and intertwines it with the symbolism and imagery of the natives' own discourse (from oral interviews and private family papers). At all times, it remains allied to those writers, philosophers and chroniclers whose central preoccupation is to agitate and challenge authority. This, then, is a return to the Old School, a revisiting of the optimistic, vibrant rhetoric of those radicals who continue to inspire post and anti-colonial thinking.

Goldrein, Iain, Media Access to the Family Courts: A Guide to the New Rules and their Application, Jordan Publishing Ltd, Paperback, £50.00, ISBN: 9781846612008 Rule changes came into force on 27 April 2009 which allows media representatives to attend most family proceedings. They also provide that the court can exclude such representatives from all (or part) of individual hearings for reasons set out in the relevant Practice Direction. This work provides an essential examination of the extent of these reforms and analyses how they should operate in practice.

Goodire, Colin; Parkin, Jonathan, Employment Tribunals: The Complete Guide to Procedure 5th ed, XPL Law, Paperback, £62.50, ISBN: 9781858117010 Expertly edited by two Chairmen of Employment Tribunals, Employment Tribunals covers the practice and procedure that practitioners and tribunal participants need to know in a succinct but fully referenced way. Coverage is of everything from commencement of proceedings to appeals, taking in key data such as time limits, procedures, costs, the conduct of proceedings before, during and after hearings, conciliation, settlement, compensation awards and death and insolvency.

Goold, Imogen; Kelly, Catherine, Lawyers' Medicine: The Legislature, the Courts and Medical Practice, 1760-2000, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £30.00, ISBN: 9781841138497 The major theme of this book is the way the requirements, limitations and intellectual structure of the British legal process have shaped medicine and medical practice. The story of this inter-relationship is greatly under-researched, which is particularly concerning given that the legal system remains a significant and pervasive influence on medicine and its practice to this day.

Hannigan, Brenda; Prentice, Dan, Hannigan and Prentice: The Companies Act 2006 - A Commentary 2nd ed, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £95.00, ISBN: 9781405744492 The Companies Act 2006 contains some of the most far-reaching changes in company law for more than 150 years. This timely and practical guide to the new Act provides guidance on the key wide-ranging reforms of the new regime in an accessible format complete with detailed commentary.

Harlow, Carol, Law in Context: Law and Administration 3rd ed, Cambridge University Press, Paperback, £38.00, ISBN: 9780521701792 This definitive textbook explores the field of law which allows government and its agencies to practically apply its laws. The subject, affected by policy and political factors, can challenge even the more advanced student. In response, this title looks at both the law and the factors informing it, laying down the foundations of the subject.

Heath, Christopher; Kamperman Sanders, Anselm, Spares, Repairs and Intellectual Property Rights, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £104.00, ISBN: 9789041131362 This is the first in-depth analysis of the law in this relatively new and rapidly developing area of practice. It sheds clear light on the conflicting interests of manufacturers, consumers, spare parts makers and the general public; explores the extent to which this kind of business strategy can be more or less successful with respect to the different rights involved, and in different jurisdictions; and highlights the competition issues that inevitably arise. The essays included are revised and updated versions of papers presented at the seventh (2006) of the innovative IP conference organized annually by the Macau Institute of European Studies (IEEM) on intellectual property law and the economic challenges for Asia.

bour Law in Europe: A Comparative study of 15 countries 1945-2004, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £50.00, ISBN: 9781841138701 The labour laws of European democracies all underwent major transformations in the seven decades after the Second World War. Following reconstruction these laws became an essential element in the building of welfare states; in the 1980s and 1990s they were the target of neo-liberal deregulation; and at the beginning of the 21st century new 'flexible' labour laws have attempted to integrate economic and social policy. This book, a sequel to 'The Making of Labour Law in Europe- A Comparative Study of Nine Countries up to 1945' (ed. B Hepple), compares the similarities and differences in the ways in which EU Member States reflected and shaped these general developments, in the context of economic, social and political changes over the period 1945-2004.

Hernandez Garcia, Roberto, International Public Procurement: A Guide to Best Practice, Globe Law and Business, Hardback, £105.00, ISBN: 9781905783281 Public procurement rules are intended to ensure the best terms for government and the adequate protection of suppliers and contractors that sell their goods and services to the state. This practical new title is particularly timely given the evolution and improvement of public procurement regimes in many jurisdictions.

Honkonen, Tuula, The Common but Differentiated Responsibility Prin- ciple in Multilateral Environmental Agreements: Regulatory and Policy Aspects, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £96.00, ISBN: 9789041131539 Built in to every multilateral environmental agreement is a dilemma: how to incorporate justice and fairness on the one hand and effectiveness on the other. Our immense difficulty in meeting this two-edged imperative highlights the fact that we are, at best, at an early stage in the development of international environmental ethics, and that no coherent and effective ethical system yet exists in this context. This remarkable book starts from a conviction that the principle of common but differentiated responsibility (CBDR) offers the best way forward toward the much-desired goal of sustainable development.

lion children are involved in producing either agricultural or manufactured products for export. Franziska Humbert explores the status of child labour in international law. Offering a wide-ranging analysis of the problem, she explores the various UN and ILO instruments and reveals the weaknesses of the current frameworks installed by these bodies to protect children from economic exploitation.

Infanti, Anthony C.; Crawford, Bridget, Critical Tax Theory: An Introduction, Cambridge University Press, Paperback, £24.99, ISBN: 9780521734929 Tax law is political. This book highlights and explains the major themes and methodologies of a group of scholars who challenge the traditional claim that tax law is neutral and unbiased. The contributors to this volume include pioneers in the field of critical tax theory, as well as key thinkers who have sustained and expanded the investigation into why the tax laws are the way they are and what impacts tax laws have on historically disempowered groups.

Kawaley, Ian R. C.; Bolton, Andrew J.; Mayor, Robin J., Cross-Border Judicial Cooperation in Offshore Litigation (The British Offshore World), Wildy, Simmonds and Hill Publishing, Hardback, £135.00, ISBN: 9780854900435
Wildy's Book of the Month - September 2009

Although geographically small, the British territories of Bermuda, the British Virgin Islands, the Cayman Islands, Guernsey, Jersey and the Isle of Man are well established international fi-ancial centres. These six commercially significant jurisdictions are home to a vast array of commercial entities which conduct business throughout the world. There is growing concern over how the courts of these jurisdictions will cooperate with courts in other centres of commerce in responding to letters of request, enforcing foreign judgments, or assisting foreign liquidators. This book is the only publication to provide a detailed explanation of the law and practice in each of these six British territories and how each approaches the judicial cooperation issues of obtaining evidence for use in foreign proceedings, enforcing foreign judgments, and cross-border insolvency. It is edited by a commercial judge and two experienced commercial litigators with contributions from experts in each jurisdiction, all written from the perspective of the practitioner.

Kessler, James, Taxation of Foreign Domiciliaries 2009 - 2010 8th ed, Key Haven Publications PLC, Hardback, 2 Volumes, £175.00, ISBN: 9781901614411

It's BabyBarista's first day as a pupil barrister in chambers. Never mind his legal qualifications; it's his summer working in Starbucks that's going to stand him in good stead, since coffee-making seems to be his chief responsibility (with the odd bout of photocopying to relieve the tedium).

Khaliq, Urfan, Ethical Dimensions of the Foreign Policy of the European Union: A Legal Appraisal, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £65.00, ISBN: 9780521870757 Urfan Khaliq analyses the theory and practice of the European Union's 'ethical foreign policy', arguing that current practices dilute the impact and efficacy of Union policies but that an effort which is at times effective is being made to protect certain values in the Union's international relations. Beginning with an investigation of the international rules authorising or obliging the Union/Community or the Member States to promote certain values in third countries or take action to protect them, Khaliq goes on to examine the limits under international law which constrain such policies.

Leloudas, George, Risk and Liability in Air Law, Informa Publishing, Hardback, £295.00, ISBN: 9781843118343 The evolution of social perceptions of risk and technology in the 20th century is the main reason behind the legislative and judiciary-driven expansion of airlines' liability. Risk and Liability in Air Law is the first attempt to analyse the relevant international conventions governing the liability of airlines to passengers and third parties on the ground from a risk perspective.

Lenzerini, Federico, Reparations for Indigenous Peoples: International and Comparative Perspectives, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £29.99, ISBN: 9780199577910 The volume brings together a group of renowned legal experts and activists from different parts of the world who, from international and comparative perspectives, consider the right of indigenous peoples to reparations for breaches of their individual and collective rights.

Unafraid of rejection or failure, Michael has taken on the most difficult and challenging cases of our times and despite the odds, won plenty. In Memoirs of a Radical Lawyer Michael dissects many of them, revealing his motivations, meticulous approach to forensic science, cross examination techniques, the political dimensions and emotional reactions with clarity, subtlety and charm. Interspersed with personal anecdotes and recollections, this insightful book is liberally laced with Michael's quirky brand of anarchic humour.

McBarnet, Doreen; Voiculescu, Aurora; Campbell, Tom, The New Corporate Accountability: Corporate Social Responsibility and the Law, Cambridge University Press, Paperback Reissue, £40.00,

The adoption by companies of Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) policies is routinely characterised as voluntary. But if CSR is self-governance by business, it is self-governance that has received a firm push from external social and market forces, from forces of social accountability. Law is also playing a more significant role than the image of CSR suggests, and this legal accountability - the focus of the book - is set to increase.

worths, Paperback, £87.00, ISBN: 9781405749107 The UK Supreme Court was established by Part 3 of the Constitutional Reform Act 2005 and officially comes into being on 1 October 2009. As you know, it replaces House of Lords in its judicial capacity and assumes the jurisdiction of the House of Lords under the Appellate Jurisdiction Acts 1876 and 1888. The Supreme Court will, with a few exceptions, be the final court of appeal in the United Kingdom. This is a huge change to the practice of law in the UK. The Supreme Court will also have jurisdiction in relation to devolution matters under the Scotland Act 1998, the Northern Ireland Act 1988 and the Government of Wales Act 2006; this was transferred to the Supreme Court from the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council. To prepare all Civil Practitioners for the changes, The Civil Court Practice 2009: The Green Book published an exclusive ‘Special Issue’ in August to be given free to current Wildy’s Green Book 2009 subscribers which will contain the rules and commentary on the new Supreme Court which opens for busi-

O’Kane, Michael, The Law of Criminal Cartels: Practice and Procedure, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £125.00, ISBN: 9780199561209 The Law of Criminal Cartels provides comprehensive coverage of the cartel offence introduced into UK law by the Enterprise Act 2002, as well as of the related powers of the main regulators in the UK, EU, and overseas. The appearance of cartel conduct presents new challenges for lawyers straddling the traditionally unrelated areas of criminal and competition law. The book is a main tool of reference for practitioners uncovering a potentially criminal cartel and considering the position of the company or individual, and for practitioners advising corporate and individual clients who are the subject of UK criminal and cartel investigations with ramifications in other jurisdictions.

Patry, William, Moral Panic and Copyright Wars, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £16.99, ISBN: 9780195385649 A centrist and believer in appropriately balanced copyright laws, Patry concludes that calls for strong copyright laws, just like calls for weak copyright laws, miss the point entirely: the only laws we need are effective laws, laws that further the purpose of encouraging the creation of new works and learning. Our current regime, unfortunately, creates too many bad incentives, leading to bad conduct. Just as President Obama has called for retooling and re-imagining the auto industry, Patry calls for a remaking of our copyright laws so that they may once again be respected.

Pattinson, Shaun, Medical Law and Ethics 2nd ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Paperback, £26.95, ISBN: 9781847038197 Medical Law and Ethics 2nd ed provides coverage of the major topics of medical law and ethics, combining detailed legal exposition and analysis with moral theory and philosophy.

Philippopoulos-Mihalopoulos, Andreas, Niklas Luhmann: Law, Justice, Society, Glasshouse Press, Hardback, £70.00, ISBN: 9780415451086 Niklas Luhmann: Law, Justice, Society presents the work of sociologist Niklas Luhmann in a radical new light. Luhmann's theory is here introduced both in terms of society at large and the legal system specifically, and for the first time, Luhmann's texts are systematically read together with theoretical insights from post-structuralism, deconstruction, phenomenology, radical ethics, feminism and post-ecologism. In his far-reaching book, Andreas Philippopoulos-Mihalopoulos distances Luhmann's theory from its misrepresentations as conservative, rigorously positivist and disconnected from empirical reality, and firmly locates it in a sphere of post-ideological jurisprudence.

Reid, Colin, Nature Conservation Law 3rd ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Hardback, £55.00, ISBN: 9780414016958 This essential work offers a comprehensive and clear guide to the law on nature conservation in Great Britain. The 3rd edition takes into account significant changes in legislation in both Scotland and England, including the Nature Conservation (Scotland) Act 2004 and the Natural Environment and Rural Communities Act 2006, as well as extensive developments in European case law. This book will be a vital reference guide to legal practitioners involved in planning, environmental and agricultural matters. The approachable style makes it an equally suitable guide for land owners, nature conservation professionals, estate managers and students of nature conservation law.

Roberts, Sir Ivor, Satow's Diplomatic Practice 6th ed, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £110.00, ISBN: 9780199559275 Satow's Diplomatic Practice is a classic work, first published 90 years ago and revised four times since. This is the first revised edition for thirty years, during which time the world and diplomacy have changed almost beyond recognition.

The new edition provides an enlarged and updated section on the history of diplomacy and revises comprehensively the practice of diplomacy and the corpus of diplomatic and international law since the end of the Cold War. It traces the substantial expansion in numbers both of sovereign states and international and regional organisations and features detailed chapters on diplomatic privileges and immunities, diplomatic missions and consular matters. It also examines new forms of diplomacy from the work of NGOs to the use of secret envoys and commercial security firms, and the book highlights the impact of international terrorism on the life and work of a diplomat. Satow is an indispensable guide for anyone working in or studying the field of diplomacy.

Schill, Stephan, The Multilateralization of International Investment Law, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £65.00, ISBN: 9780521762366 Attempts at developing a theory of international investment law are complicated by the fact that this field of international law is based on numerous, largely bilateral treaties and is implemented by arbitral panels established on a case-by-case basis. This suggests a fragmented and chaotic state of the law, with different levels of protection depending on the sources and targets of foreign investment flows. This book, however, forwards the thesis that international investment law develops, despite its bilateral form, into a multilateral system of law that backs up the functioning of a global market economy based on converging principles of investment protection. In discussing the function of most-favored-nation clauses, the possibilities of treaty-shopping and the impact of investor-State arbitration with its intensive reliance on precedent and other genuinely multilateral approaches to treaty interpretation, it offers a conceptual framework for understanding the nature and functioning of international investment law as a genuinely multilateral system.

Sturchler, Nikolas, The Threat of Force in International Law, Cambridge University Press, Paperback Reissue, £21.99, ISBN: 9780521133616. Threats of force are a common feature of international politics, advocated by some as an economical guarantee against the outbreak of war and condemned by others as a recipe for war. Article 2(4) of the United Nations Charter forbids states to use threats of force, yet the meaning of the prohibition is unclear. This book provides the first comprehensive appraisal of the no-threat principle: its origin, underlying rationale, theoretical implications, relevant jurisprudence, and how it has withstood the test of time from 1945 to the present.

Thomas, D. Rhidian, New Convention for the Carriage of Goods by Sea: The Rotterdam Rules, Lawtext Publishing, Hardback, £138.00, ISBN: 9780953940332 The new Convention, known as the Rotterdam Rules and open for signature in September 2009, represents a radical attempt to establish a single uniform legal regime for the carriage of goods by sea. This book has been compiled specially in readiness for the occasion and as an essential aid to all those concerned to absorb the complexities of the new Convention. The full text of the Convention, seven other appendices of international conventions and full indexes complete this expert analysis of the new approach and its relationship with the existing international and national laws.

Tiley, John, Studies in the History of Tax Law: Volume 3, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9781841139562 This work on the history of tax law presents the papers delivered at the third Tax Law History Conference in 2006 organised by the Centre for Tax Law in the Law Faculty at Cambridge University. The papers deal with a range of topics, and though the breadth of topics is broad, it is not devoid of pattern. The majority of the papers deal with themes connected with continental Europe, law and empire, international law, and the problems of progression and the tax system.

Torres Perez, Aida, Conflicts of Rights in the European Union: A Theory of Supranational Adjudication, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £50.00, ISBN: 9780199568710 Underlying the protection of human rights in Europe is a complex network of overlapping legal systems - domestic, EU, and ECHR. This book focuses on the potential for conflict to emerge between the systems where rights overlap and interpretavan Setten, Lodewijk, The Law of Institutional Investment Management, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £155.00, ISBN: 9780199285013 The Law of Institutional Investment Management fills a gap for a work that describes the custom and practice of the investment management business with reference to both English and New York law. The work addresses the implementation of investment strategies by the manager, the infra-structure of the global financial markets (trading, clearing and settlement), and the custody and administration of the assets which are entrusted to the manager. In this context, the book seeks to define the various risks and pitfalls that confront the institutional participants in the financial markets, with an emphasis on the position (and protection) of the institutional investor.

Wadham, John; Mountfield, Helen; Gallagher, Caoilfhoinn; Prochaska, Elizabeth, Blackstone's Guide to the Human Rights Act 1998 5th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £44.95, ISBN: 9780199574421 This new edition of the Blackstone's Guide to the Human Rights Act 1998 provides clear, concise coverage of the operation and application of the Human Rights Act 1998. In a time of uncertainty about the future of human rights in the UK, this edition discusses the successes and failures of the Act and its possible replacement with a Bill of Rights.

Walker, Clive, Blackstone's Guide to the Anti-Terrorism Legislation 2nd ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £39.95, ISBN: 9780199548095 The new edition of Blackstone's Guide to Anti-Terrorism Legislation provides expert explanation of the key anti-terrorism legislation. The book is clearly organised with separate chapters on counter-terrorist powers, terrorist investigation, terrorist offences and special criminal processes.

Walmsley, Keith, Butterworths Company Law Handbook 2009: 23rd ed, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £78.00, ISBN: 9781405742320 Published annually, Butterworths Company Law Handbook is widely regarded as the essential company law reference work, setting out the relevant texts of the most important statutes, statutory instruments and European legislation. Known to many as ‘the Blue Book’, the Butterworths Company Law Handbook also provides comprehensive coverage of the legislation governing partnerships. The legislation is printed as currently in force (taking into account all amendments, repeals and revocations), with cross-references to other legislation and to commencement tables and fees and forms tables where necessary. The text includes technical annotations as to amendments, savings, transitional provisions and subsidiary regulations.

Webley, Lisa; Samuels, Harriet, Complete Public Law: Text, Cases, and Materials, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £29.99, ISBN: 9780199228270 Providing the new law student with an essential introductory resource, Complete Public Law: Text, Cases, & Materials combines clear explanatory text and practical learning features with extracts from a wide range of primary and secondary materials. The book has been carefully structured with the needs of undergraduate courses in mind. Opening with consideration of basic constitutional principles (in which no previous knowledge is assumed), the authors move on to cover all other essential areas, before closing with extensive consideration of the principles and procedures of judicial review.

of Genetic Information: Who Decides?, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £55.00, ISBN: 9780521509916

This volume maps the areas of ethical concern in the debate regarding the governance of genetic information, and suggests alternative ethical frameworks and models of regulation in order to inform its restructuring. Genetic governance is at the heart of medical and scientific developments, and is connected to global exploitation, issues of commodification, commercialisation and ownership, the concepts of property and intellectual property and concerns about individual and communal identity. Thus the decisions that are made in the next few years about appropriate models of genetic governance will have knock-on effects for other areas of governance. In short the final answer to ‘Who Decides?’ in the context of genetic governance will fundamentally shape the ethical constructs of individuals and their networks and relationships in the public sphere.

Wikeley, Nick; Williams, David; Hooker, Ian, Social Security Legislation 2009/10 Volume IV - Tax Credits and Employer-Paid Social Security Benefits, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Paperback, £89.00, ISBN: 9780414041158

Sweet & Maxwell’s popular social security legislation publications provide clear guides for using and applying current legislation. Each one is up-to-date to the crucial benefit date in April. ## WAMS – Wildy Account Management System

After months of planning and development Wildy's online Account Management System (WAMS) is up and running and ready to use.

WAMS will allow you to view all aspects of your account online. You will be able to look at invoices issued on your account, outstanding book orders, standing orders and subscriptions, and view full details for each. You can also use the Quick Orders tab to place orders using ISBNs – particularly useful if you are ordering a large number of books at once. Also included are various reports that you can either view on-screen or download to your desktop.

To start using WAMS you will need to register yourself first. Go to <https://accounts.wildy.com> and click on the New User link and enter the details requested. The field for username and password are for you to enter a username and password of your own choice to use when accessing WAMS.

Once you have completed the registration form you will get an automated e-mail to verify your e-mail address, and once we have authenticated your details you will be able to log-in and start using the service.

WAMS supports multiple registrations for each account, so your colleagues can also register themselves as users in the same way.

We have designed WAMS to be easy to use and intuitive, and we hope you will like the look and feel of the site as much as the functionality.

FIDIC: A Guide for Practitioners

by Axel-Volkmar Jaeger; Götz-Sebastian Hök
Springer-Verlag, Hardcover, ISBN 9783642020995, £117.00, due October 2009

This book provides an introduction to the 1999 FIDIC forms of contract including the FIDIC Red Book, the FIDIC Yellow Book, the FIDIC Silver Book and the new 2008 FIDIC Gold

Book. Consulting engineers, architects and employers will also find reliable information about the FIDIC White Book. The authors explain the meaning of terms and features which are used by FIDIC. In particular the authors attempt to explain the English legal wording in its original legal context for use in civil law countries. Common law practitioners will find useful advice on civil law features and concepts which affect the use of FIDIC contracts in civil law countries. The book covers pre-contractual and contractual issues and the management of FIDIC contracts and offers support in interpreting and understanding the contract terms and contract procedures as to variations, tests, payment certificates, taking-over cases, claims and dispute resolution features. It includes flow charts, glossaries, checklists and sample letters. Common law practitioners will also find helpful information on civil law jurisdictions and civil law concepts.

Worldwide Merger Notification Requirements

by J. Mark Gidley and George L Paul

Kluwer Law International, Hardcover, ISBN 9789041132031, £200.00, due October 2009

Although international mergers continue to become more common, merger control regimes are wildly diverse, and there is no procedurally harmonized international system of merger notification. Instead, any one of the plethora of inconsistent regulations can hold up your transaction. Worldwide Merger Notification Requirements evaluates the merger notification requirements of over 215 jurisdictions. In this new annual book the leading authorities at White & Case provide a complete road map for parties contemplating a multinational transaction by highlighting the disparate ways in which competition authorities treat mergers, including differences in notification timing; filing fees; turnover, size, and post-merger market share thresholds; potential penalties; volume and type of required filing information; and the multitude of standards and definitions that pervade every multinational transaction. Wherever you may be advising on a merger, Worldwide Merger Notification Requirements will let you immediately determine the answers to questions such as: where do I have to seek regulatory approval; when am I required to request approval: pre-merger, post-merger or is notification voluntary; which countries do not require regulatory approval; how long does the approval process take; what key substantive issues will the agency examine; how much will it cost. This annual book will replicate the current contents of the loose-leaf of the same title published by Aspen Publishers.

Dictionary of Finance, Investment and Banking

by Erik Banks
Palgrave Macmillan, Hardcover, ISBN 9780230238299, £25.00, due November 2009
The Palgrave Macmillan Dictionary of Finance, Investment and Banking is an authoritative and comprehensive reference book covering the essential terminology of the international financial marketplace. This dictionary provides concise and rigorous definitions of over 5,000 terms commonly used in the financial industry, covering the disciplines of accounting, banking, corporate finance, investment management and insurance. Also included are essential formulae and diagrams for enhanced clarification, as well as commonly used acronyms and colloquialisms. It includes newly-coined terms, reflecting developments in the world of finance following the subprime crisis, and “hot topics” including Islamic finance, bank regulation, carbon/emissions trading, dark trading, business law/bankruptcy, structured products. Acronyms and foreign language terms are grouped separately at the front, as well as in the main body of the text, for ease of use. Numerical terms appear in a separate section at the front of the book for quick reference. Providing international coverage, including terminology from Europe, Asia and USA, this dictionary is ideal for professionals, students, investors, journalists and anyone wishing to understand and use financial terminology with more ease and confidence.

Precedent Library for the General Practitioner 2nd edition

by Martin Smith
Law Society Publishing, Hardcover + CD, ISBN 9781853288289, £99.95, due December 2009
This indispensable book gives you quick, manageable, and affordable access to precedents that are most likely to be used on a day-to-day basis. The precedents are organised into sections by area of practice. Each section starts with commentary, explaining the context for the subsequent precedents. The precedents are reproduced as separate files on the CD that accompanies the book, which enables practitioners to customise them swiftly and as needed. The second edition features a new section on Regulation and Client Care; fully updated precedents, taking account of the latest developments; Lasting Powers of Attorney – a step-by-step guide to designing your first LPA. The fully updated second edition contains many new precedents covering the following areas: companies and partnership; conveyancing; employment; personal injury; general civil litigation; landlord and tenant; matrimonial and family; wills and probate; miscellaneous precedents; and regulation and client care. The Precedent Library for the General Practitioner offers a cost-effective alternative to the often expensive, vast online libraries of precedents that practitioners might never use fully.

by Nicholas Kanaar and Chris Phillips
Sweet & Maxwell, Hardcover, ISBN 9781847039057, £175.00, due October 2009
This practical work provides an in-depth explanation of the workings of the music industry and the agreements that hold it together. Including a complete range of specimen agreements, with commentary on their use and implications, it offers clear guidance for all those involved in the negotiation and management of music industry contracts, music company management and agents as well as music business lawyers. This new third edition takes account of the latest music industry trends and new business models, in both its discussion and precedent material. Its coverage includes the 270 and 360 Degree deal, digital download, internet broadband and G4; and the latest developments relating to image and personality rights. Nick Kanaar is a consultant at Collins Long, a London firm specialising in media and entertainment law. Chris Phillips is a partner at Collins Long.

Judicial Review: Law and Practice

by Frances Patteson QC
Jordan Publishing, Hardback, ISBN 9781846611766, £95.00, due November 2009
The process of Judicial Review offers claimants the opportunity to challenge the decisions of public bodies that carry out functions of state. Due to the increasing importance of this area, from April 2009 such cases will be heard not only in the Administrative Division of the High Court in London, but also in new Regional Divisions throughout England and Wales. To coincide with the regionalisation project, Judicial Review: Law and Practice has been written to provide practitioners with a comprehensive introduction to judicial review proceedings. It covers the substantive law of judicial review including grounds of review and remedies, and looks in some detail at practice and procedure specific to such claims. The largest part of the work is dedicated to individual areas of the law where judicial review is relevant, including town and country planning, community care and social welfare, immigration, housing, mental health, education and licensing. It therefore provides a wide-ranging coverage of administrative law and its niche practice areas including essential procedural rules, forms and guidance issued by the Administrative Court. Judicial Review: Law and Practice provides both specialist public lawyers and those practising in other areas with the solid guidance that they need in order to take on and manage cases confidently. This know-how is combined with model documents and procedural checklists providing a comprehensive toolbox for practitioners.

The UN Genocide Convention: A Commentary

by Paola Gaeta

Oxford University Press, Hardback, ISBN 9780199570218, £75.00, due October 2009

The Convention for the Prevention and Punishment of the Crime of Genocide, adopted by the United Nations General Assembly on 9 December 1948, is one of the most important instruments of contemporary international law. It was drafted in the aftermath of the Nuremberg trial to give flesh and blood to the well-known dictum of the International Military Tribunal, according to which 'Crimes against international law are committed by men, not by abstract entities, and only by punishing individuals who commit such crimes can the provisions of international law be enforced'. This book is a much-needed Commentary on the UN Genocide Convention. It analyses and interprets the Convention thematically, thoroughly covering every article, drawing on the Convention's travaux préparatoires and subsequent developments in international law. The most complex and important provisions of the Convention, including the definitions of genocide and genocidal acts, have more than one contribution dedicated to them, allowing the Commentary to explore all aspects of these concepts. The Commentary also goes beyond the explicit provisions of the Convention to discuss topics such as the retroactive application of the Convention, its status in customary international law and its future. Paola Gaeta is Professor of International Criminal Law, University of Geneva and University of Florence.

Sovereignty and the Stateless Nation: Gibraltar in the Modern Legal Context

by Keith Azopardi

Hart Publishing, Hardback, ISBN 9781841139166, £60.00, due October 2009

Gibraltar is an Overseas Territory of the UK within the EU, which has for three centuries been at the centre of a dispute between Britain and Spain, a dispute based on traditional perceptions of sovereignty. Hitherto the dispute has been managed in a predominantly bilateral way, but this has prevented the people of Gibraltar having an equal say on the issue of Gibraltar's sovereignty and decolonisation. It has produced a paradox of governance and constitutionalism that encases the Gibraltar people. This book considers the effects of sovereignty and the culture of bilateralism on the dispute, and examines the resulting deficits of governance and democracy. In assessing the evolution of the themes underlying the dispute it asks how its resolution might be facilitated by the application of ideas drawn from the modern legal context of late sovereignty, pluralism and stateless nationalism, suggesting that a productive trilateral approach and recognition of the legal and societal context could enable an enduring settlement. The author marries theories from international relations, constitutional law and public international law in the context of modern literature on sovereignty and nationalism, applying these theories to the case-study of Gibraltar with emphasis on constitutionalism in its international and EU context to produce a ground-breaking addition to the literature on stateless nationalism, late sovereignty and constitutional pluralism. As such it also complements recent studies of sub-state societies, regions or nations within Europe and elsewhere, including Catalunya, the Basque Country and Scotland and Wales, and in the broader Commonwealth context, other British overseas territories.

Cross-Border Judicial Cooperation in Offshore Litigation (The British Offshore World)

Editors: Ian R.C. Kawaley, Andrew J. Bolton and Robin J. Mayor
£135.00 ISBN 9780854900435 Hardback

The global economic downturn has led to increased commercial litigation and insolvency proceedings in financial centres across the world. As a result, there has been a growing need to seek the assistance of courts in offshore jurisdictions where significant assets and/or evidence are likely to be found. Informed judgements must be made about what rules of law and practice govern the relevant judicial cooperation regimes, both by lawyers who manage litigation onshore concerning assets or evidence located offshore, and by offshore lawyers asked to advise their onshore counterparts.

Although geographically small, the British territories of Bermuda, the British Virgin Islands, the Cayman Islands, Guernsey, Jersey and the Isle of Man are well established international financial centres. These six commercially significant jurisdictions are home to a vast array of commercial entities which conduct business throughout the world. There is growing concern over how the courts of these jurisdictions will cooperate with courts in other centres of commerce in responding to letters of request, enforcing foreign judgments, or assisting foreign liquidators.

This book is the only publication to provide a detailed explanation of the law and practice in each of these six British territories and how each approaches the judicial cooperation issues of obtaining evidence for use in foreign proceedings, enforcing foreign judgments, and cross-border insolvency. It is edited by a commercial judge and two experienced commercial litigators with contributions from experts in each jurisdiction, all written from the perspective of the practitioner.

Ian Kawaley is a Commercial Court Judge in Bermuda; Andrew Bolton is a Partner with Appleby and head of the firm's litigation and insolvency practice; and Robin Mayor is a Partner with Conyers Dill & Pearman in Bermuda.

RUSSIAN PUBLIC LAW (2ED)
The Foundations of a Rule-of-Law State:
Legislation and Documents

William E. Butler

£125.00 ISBN 9780854900534 1012pp Hardback

The most comprehensive collection of Russian legal materials ever produced in the English language on Russian public law, this volume contains sixty-two enactments and documents, some unpublished even in the Russian language, in force and devoted to the constitutional foundations of the Russian Federation, publication of legislation, human rights, the Russian Presidency, Parliament, Government, and judicial system, domestic and international arbitration, courts of all types, justices of the peace, and the legal profession, broadly defined. In this volume the legal profession encompasses the advocate, juriconsult, notary, procurator, and law enforcement personnel, including private detectives. Particular attention is given to documents which regulate the internal workings of the Russian presidency, parliament, government, and Constitutional Court in the form of ‘reglements’ and the judiciary generally.

Child Care and Protection: Law and Practice (Wildy Practice Guide)

Barbara Mitchels with Helen James
ISBN: 9780854900381 Paperback £29

Formerly published as part of the popular Practice Notes series and written by experienced practitioners, the fourth edition provides a practical and concise guide to the Children Act 1989, subsequent legislation, guidance and case law. The new material covered in this edition includes: Every Child Matters, the Children Act 2004, the new edition of Working Together to Safeguard Children (2006), the new Children Act 1989 Guidance Volume 1 Court Orders, the content and impact of the new Public Law Outline (PLO) and important recent cases. This book does not include the separate field of adoption law, but selected relevant provisions of the Adoption and Children Act 2002 and the Children and Adoption Act 2006 are included.

In addition to explaining the general principles of the law relating to child care and protection, the authors provide valuable insights into assessments, care planning, expert evidence, taking instructions, case preparation and courtroom skills. Presented in a compact, user-friendly format, the book also contains checklists and flowcharts which will prove invaluable to the busy practitioner.

Barbara Mitchels is a Children Panel solicitor and also a practising psychotherapist. She combines these disciplines in providing mediation, consultancy and training with Working with Children and Watershed Counselling Service.

Helen James has wide experience in social work and as a children's guardian. She is an independent social work consultant, trainer, and a Director of Family Practice UK Ltd (an Independent Social Work Agency).

Residential Tenancies (Wildy Practice Guide)

Richard Colbey and Niamh O'Brien
ISBN: 9780854900428 Paperback £29

Formerly published as part of the popular Practice Notes series, this revised and expanded edition contains a mass of legal and practical information within a compact, user-friendly format, providing a concise introduction to the law relating to private residential tenancies. Fully up-to-date, the book covers all legal developments in the field since the last edition, such as the new law in respect of deposit protection schemes.

Written by experienced practitioners, Residential Tenancies provides clear guidance on advising the client, whether landlord or tenant, on matters such as obtaining possession of premises, changing the rent, granting tenancies or bringing on action for arrears of rent, providing an invaluable aide-memoire for the busy practitioner. The text is supported by an array of helpful checklists and a range of basic precedents for granting tenancies and for possession actions. There is also a chapter devoted to dealing with the problems most likely to arise in practice.

Richard Colbey has been a barrister for over twenty years, practising in London and Portsmouth in a wide variety of property and commercial matters. He has contributed to the Guardian extensively on legal topics. He has also written articles for several journals, including New Law Journal and Solicitors' Journal.

Niamh O'Brien is a barrister at Lamb Chambers. She has a general civil practice with a particular emphasis on property and housing law.

FACES OF LAW

Photographs by James F. Hunkin

£45 ISBN: 9780854900275 Hardback

'Faces of Law' is a unique photographic chronicle of 100 people working in the legal profession at the turn of the twenty-first century. It forms part of an on-going chronicle - 'Faces of Britain'.

The collection covers a broad spectrum of activities including some of the country's most respected judges, solicitors and barristers as well as support staff and others.

Each portrait is accompanied by a personal testimony providing a fascinating insight into the working lives and ideas of the men and women who help shape our society. Alongside this, there is a short factual piece about some aspect of each person's work.

'Hunkin's quiet yet powerful portraits provide an honest document of individuals working within the legal sector'.

Clare Freestone, Assistant Curator of Photographs, National Portrait Gallery

'This remarkable collection of photographs shows the faces of lawyers from all over the legal landscape. It shows the variety of what lawyers do and the variety of lawyers who do it. The words they have chosen, tell us something of how they think or feel about what they do but the photographs tell us even more about them. It all adds up to an intriguing picture of the British legal system as it is today'.

POWERS OF DISTRESS
A Guide to Remedies Unreformed by the Tribunals, Courts and Enforcement Act 2007

ISBN: 9780854900459

256 pp Hardback £49

JOHN KRUSE

The Tribunals Courts & Enforcement Act 2007 will, for many debts, sweep away the old procedures and principles of enforcement and introduce a new code of law. However, some debts have been deliberately excluded from these changes. Among the liabilities in question are a wide range of shipping liabilities including harbour dues and fines, market tolls and stallages, distress damage feasant for trespassing chattels and powers of seizure of trespassing animals under the Animals Act 1971, arrests of aircraft and ecclesiastical executions. For them, the old common law procedures and principles will continue to operate unaltered.

In a single volume this timely book offers a detailed examination of arrears which have in many respects been neglected and which thereby have been allowed to become obscure and poorly understood. The new Act may cause further difficulties by creating two parallel systems of enforcement- one for the most common debts and one for the remainder. This text aims to restore some balance to this dichotomy by, for the first time, uniting these less common forms of recovery in a clear and structured work. It provides a thorough analysis of the case law developed over the centuries along with discussion of the relevant statutory provisions.

Volume 2 'Persons of No Value?': The Growth of Statute from 1500 until the Present

ISBN: 9780854900329 £45.00

JOHN KRUSE

The law relating to distress and execution is a much neglected area of study, despite the fact that bailiffs regularly appear in literary works and their activities are a constant feature of court rolls. This two-volume work aims to provide a detailed and comprehensive history of both the development of the law and the profession of bailiff. The work chronicles the growth of enforcement law from Anglo-Saxon times, tracing the continuity in the common law and examining the intervention of statute. The seizure of goods by bailiffs was a familiar aspect of life in earlier times and this work sets their legal powers into their legal, social and economic context. Key themes are explored throughout both volumes: the protection given to certain essential goods, the efforts to regulate the conduct of bailiffs and the gradual shift of emphasis from promoting the rights of creditors to enhancing the protection of debtors.

Working within the field of social welfare, John Kruse has specialised in the law of enforcement for the last twenty years, and has written numerous books and articles on the subject. He has also acted as a consultant inter alia to the Ministry of Justice and the Council of Europe.

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE AND LEGAL REFORM IN CHINA

Chao Xi

Law in East Asia Series

ISBN: 9780854900367

306pp. Hardback £65

State-owned enterprise (SOE) reform has been at the heart of China's post-Mao economic reforms. Since early 1990s, a large number of Chinese SOEs have been transformed into joint stock companies, and many of them are now listed on China's domestic stock exchanges. The corporatisation and listing of the SOEs did not, however, bring about significant improvement in their performance or in the manner in which they are governed.

This book examines the effectiveness of the key legal reforms that have been put in place for addressing the governance issues facing Chinese listed companies. The focus is on three important – but understudied – aspects of corporate governance reform in China: regulation of the private sales of corporate control, institutional shareholder activism, and board level monitoring and control. In addition, this book attempts to explore a political economy understanding of formal legal changes in China with particular reference to China's corporate board reform.

Chao Xi is in the Faculty of Law, Chinese University of Hong Kong, and previously taught at the University of London as a Visiting Lecturer in Law. He is the co-author of Doing Business in China (Routledge, 2008) and has contributed articles to a range of journals, including the Journal of Comparative Law and the Journal of Chinese Economic and Business Studies.

RUSSIAN CIVIL AND COMMERCIAL LAW

1. General Provisions, Ownership

V. P. Mozolin and A. I. Masliaev (editors), trans and edited by William E. Butler

ISBN: 9780854900473
Hardback £65.00 532 pp

The present volume is the first of five which collectively comprise one of the three major treatises in the Russian language devoted to civil and commercial law. Under the editorship of two of Russia's most distinguished civilists, this work originally appeared in 1997 and in a second edition in the year 2000, reissued in 2007. The authors have made substantial additions, corrections and emendations for this English-language version as late as February 2009.

There has never been a comparable treatment of modern Russian civil law in the English language.
