MAJOR NEW TITLES THIS MONTH

Azopardi, Keith, Sovereignty and the Stateless Nation: Gibraltar in the Modern Legal Context, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £60.00, ISBN: 9781841139166

This book considers the effects of sovereignty and the culture of bilateralism on the dispute, and examines the resulting deficits of governance and democracy. In assessing the evolution of the themes underlying the dispute it asks how its resolution might be facilitated by the application of ideas drawn from the modern legal context of late sovereignty, pluralism and stateless nationalism, suggesting that a productive trilateral approach and recognition of the legal and societal context could enable an enduring settlement.

BDO Stoy Hayward, BDO's Yellow Tax Guide 2009-2010, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £104.95, ISBN: 9781405728560

This practical guide provides a line-by-line explanation in plain language of the legislation contained in the Yellow Tax Handbook. The leading UK Tax firm here share their expertise to show how the practitioner can interpret relevant sections, paragraphs and regulations of the statutes. This essential companion volume to the Yellow handbook offers a quick route to understanding the legislation. It also contains helpful tax planning suggestions and highlights practical danger areas which might otherwise be overlooked. This volume covers Income Tax, Corporation Tax, Capital Gains Tax, Inheritance Tax and NICs.

provides concise commentary on VAT and Stamp Duty, explaining relevant sections, paragraphs and regulations with reference to case law, extra-statutory concessions, statements of practice, press releases and HMRC materials. Written by practitioners for practitioners, this guide is essential reading for all involved in the day-to-day application of these taxes.

Bertea, Stefano, The Normative Claim of Law, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £55.00, ISBN: 9781841139678

This book focuses on a specific component of the normative dimension of law, namely, the normative claim of law. By ‘normative claim’ we mean the claim that inherent in the law is an ability to guide action by generating practical reasons having a special status. The thesis that law lays the normative claim has become a subject of controversy: it has its defenders, as well as many scholars of different orientations who have acknowledged the normative claim of law without making a point of defending it head-on. It has also come under attack from other contemporary legal theorists, and around the normative claim a lively debate has sprung up. This debate makes up the main subject of this book, which is in essence an attempt to account for the normative claim and see how its recognition moulds our understanding of the law itself. This involves (a) specifying the exact content, boundaries, quality, and essential traits of the normative claim, (b) explaining how the law can make a claim so specified, and (c) justifying why this should happen in the first place. The argument is set out in two stages, corresponding to the two parts in which the book is divided. In the first part, the author introduces and discusses the meaning, status, and fundamental traits of the normative claim of law; in the second he explores some foundational questions and determines the grounds of the normative claim of law by framing an account that elaborates on some contemporary discussions of Kant’s conception of humanity as the source of the normativity of practical reason.

Biggs, Hazel, Healthcare Research Ethics and Law: Regulation, Review and Responsibility, Routledge-Cavendish, Paperback, £25.99, ISBN: 9780415429177

The book explores and explains the relationship between law and ethics in the context of medically related research in order to provide a practical guide to understanding for members of research ethics committees (RECs), professionals involved with medical research and those with an academic interest in the subject. The law is set out as it relates to the functions of RECs within the context of

Blackaby, Nigel; Partasides, Constantine; Redfern, Alan; Hunter, Martin, Redfern & Hunter on International Arbitration 5th ed, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £135.00, ISBN: 9780199557189

Wildy's Book of the Month - October 2009

Formerly published by Sweet & Maxwell as Law & Practice of International Commercial Arbitration, this leading commentary on international commercial arbitration is both academic and pragmatic, a book for students as well as for arbitrators and lawyers experienced in the field. Based on the four authors' extensive personal experience as counsel and arbitrators, it covers the entire arbitration panorama, and provides practitioners with tips and tools on how to avoid common pitfalls in drafting arbitration agreements, conducting proceedings and enforcing awards.

Blackshaw, Ian S. Sport, Mediation and Arbitra- tion, T.M.C. Asser Press, Hardback, £90.00, ISBN: 9789067043076

This book deals with the increasingly important subject of alternative dispute resolution (ADR) in sport. The forms of ADR pertinent to the settlement of sports disputes, including mediation, arbitration and 'expert determination', are clearly explained and illustrated with case histories, rulings and awards. Likewise, the organisation and activities of the main sports bodies offering discrete extra-judicial forms of dispute resolution are covered, including UK Sports Resolutions, the Court of Arbitration for Sport (CAS), and the FIFA Dispute Resolution Chamber.

Bowers, John, A Practical Approach to Employment

Law 8th ed., Oxford University Press, Paperback, £49.95, ISBN: 9780199570621
Now in its eighth edition, A Practical Approach to Employment Law continues to provide a comprehensive and systematic guide to the principles and practice of employment law. Containing coverage of all recent cases as well as important developments since the publication of the previous edition in 2005 such as the Employment Equality (Age) Regulations 2006 and the Employment Act 2008, this new edition provides a valuable introduction for professionals and students alike.

Bruno, Eugenio A., Global Financial Crisis: Navigating and Understanding the Legal and Regulatory Aspects, Globe Law and Business, Hardback, £140.00, ISBN:

Global Financial Crisis: Navigating and Understanding the Legal and Regulatory Aspects is a new major work addressing many of the legal issues related to the crisis that has rocked the international financial system and affected the whole range of financial participants, transactions and instruments.

Burns, William; Osofsky, Hari, Adjudicating Climate Change: State, National, and International Approaches, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £50.00, ISBN: 9780521879705

Courts have emerged as a crucial battleground in efforts to regulate climate change. Over the past several years, tribunals at every level of government around the world have seen claims regarding greenhouse gas emissions and impacts. These cases rely on diverse legal theories, but all focus on government regulation of climate change or the actions of major corporate emitters. This book explores climate actions in state and national courts, as well as international tribunals, in order to explain their regulatory significance. It demonstrates the role that these cases play in broader debates over climate policy and argues that they serve as an important force in pressuring governments and emitters to address this crucial problem. As law firms and public interest organizations increasingly develop climate practice areas, the book serves as a crucial resource for practitioners, policymakers, and academics.

Camp, Peter, Solicitors and the Accounts Rules: A Com-

pliance Handbook 2nd ed, Law Society Publishing, Paperback, £49.95, ISBN: 9781853287992

This indispensable guide offers a practical guide to the updated Solicitors' Accounts Rules 1998 (up to 31st March 2009). The book highlights the key changes, outlines the requirements of the rules, and suggests practical steps that firms can take to ensure that they remain compliant with the rules. The Solicitors' Accounts Rules 1998 are reproduced in full along with key supporting material relating to tax and overseas practices.

A Theory for the Modern State

Eoin Carolan

Carolan, Eoin, New Separation of Powers: A Theory for the Modern State, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £50.00, ISBN: 9780199568673

This book develops a new model of the separation of powers theory for the administrative state. It argues for the replacement of the traditional theory with a new model which has the potential to both enhance democratic checks and balances and to legitimise the role of administrative and regulatory bodies in the modern state.

Casey, Jean-Pierre; Chirico, Alessandra; Lannoo, Karel, The MiFID Revolution, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780521518635

The Market in Financial Instruments Directive (MiFID) is nothing short of a revolution. Introduced on 1 November 2007, it will have a profound, long-term impact on Europe's securities markets. It will see banks operating as exchanges for certain activities, offering alternative execution services that more closely resemble the structure of over-the-counter markets, and will lead to the decentralisation of order execution in an array of venues previously governed by concentration rules. Crucially, MiFID will also have a profound impact on the organisation and business strategies of investment firms, exchanges, asset managers and other financial markets intermediaries. Until now, analysis has focused on the directive's short term implementation issues. This book focuses on the long term strategic implications associated with MiFID, and will be essential reading for anybody who recognises that their firm will need to make constant dynamic readjustments in order to remain competitive in this challenging new environment.

Cave, Rebecca; Wunschmann-Lyall, Iris, Core Tax Annuals: Capital Gains Tax 2009/10, Bloomsbury Professional, Paperback, £38.00, ISBN: 9781847663320

Clift, Julie, CCH British Tax Guide: Inheritance Tax 2009-10, CCH Editions, Paperback, £93.95, ISBN: 9781847981691

This annual handbook provides highly focussed commentary by concentrating on the current tax regime and the most frequently-encountered topics. Designed to be of everyday use it contains many worked examples and extensive topic indexes, case tables and legislation finding lists. It is also thoroughly cross-referenced to the relevant legislation, cases and HMRC Manuals and to CCH's British Tax Reporter making it the ideal desktop companion.

Cottle, Stephen; Davies, Liz; Berry, Adrian; Beckley, John; Rutledge, Desmond; Marshall Williams, Adrian, Housing Law Handbook: A Practical Guide, Law Society Publishing, Paperback, £49.95, ISBN: 9781853286841

Housing law issues can be wide-ranging and involve dealing with several areas of the law. This handbook: explains areas of landlord and tenant most relevant to housing, including the basic principles in relation to tenure and mortgage repossession. It covers new ground in addressing housing where the immigration status of the person seeking accommodation precludes or restricts the provision of accommodation by a local housing authority but permits provision by a public authority under other legislation.

Dale, Stephen; Nieuwenhuizen, Wilbert, VAT Yearbook 2009: VAT Decisions of the European Communities 1974 - 2008, Kluwer Law International, Paperback & CD-ROM, £112.00, ISBN: 9789041131393

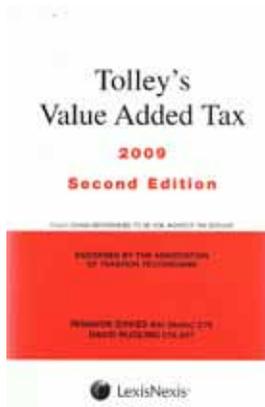

Strictly speaking, the primary purpose of the European Court of Justice (ECJ) is to interpret the meaning of European Union (EU) treaties and directives and to make sure they're applied uniformly across the member union. In practice, the ECJ has become a major driver of European economic integration through its rulings in the area of taxation like those dealing with the value added tax (VAT). EU VAT practitioners demand a constantly updated appreciation of the ins-and-outs of related controversies in order to properly safeguard the interests of their clients. These professionals must also contend with the complexity introduced by the interplay of Community and national law. This book provides an accessible resource directly addressing each of these concerns. The structure of this highly useful resource is based on the focus of the relevant ECJ cases, and hence on the structure of the new (and old) Sixth VAT Directive.

Davies, Rhianon; Rudling, David; VAT, Tolley's Value Added Tax 2009: 2nd edition, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £107.95, ISBN: 9780754537250

Due to the ever-changing nature of VAT and the practitioner's need to have access to the most up-to-date information, Tolley's VAT Annual Second edition is published in October to include all the changes in the Finance Act.

de Vries Robbe, Jan Job, Structured Finance, On from the Credit Crunch: The Road to Recovery, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £120.00, ISBN: 9789041127877

In the wake of the credit crunch, structured finance is linked to bailed-out investment banks and overpaid executives rather than the innovative financial solutions it continues to provide. The initial response from the financial markets was a move back to basics, to plain vanilla transactions. Furthermore, many structured finance instruments, such as securitization, derivatives and other structured products, are facing intense regulatory and political scrutiny. These pressures notwithstanding, the potential of structured finance will play an important part in facilitating the road to recovery. This book explains why.

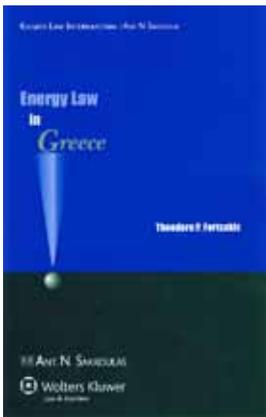

Farrall, Stephen D; Jackson, Jonathan; Gray, Emily, Social Order and the Fear of Crime in Contemporary Times, Oxford University

Press, Hardback, £50.00, ISBN: 9780199540815

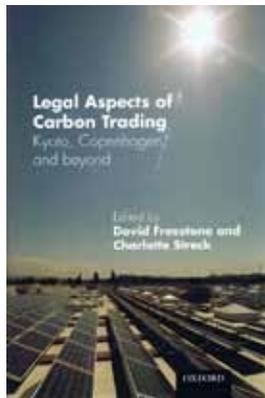

Fear of crime has been recognized as an important social problem in its own right, with a significant minority of citizens in many countries concerned about crime. In this book, the authors critically review the main findings from over 35 years of research, highlighting groups who are most fearful of crime and exploring the theories used to account for that fear.

Fortsakis, Theodore P., Energy Law in Greece, Kluwer Law International, Paperback, £56.00, ISBN: 9789041132130

In this systematic approach to energy issues in Greek law, the author begins with the administrative organization of the energy sector and then in turn considers natural gas, renewable energy sources, lignite, petroleum and electricity, examining pervasive legal factors – e.g., competition, environment, tax – individually in each case. He clearly describes Greek law (and European law where applicable) affecting such factors as administrative services, research, prospecting, mining, licenses, land use planning, documentation, intergovernmental cooperation agreements, undertakings, facilities, storage, pricing, procurement and sales, transportation, transmission, distribution, and supply.

Freestone, David; Streck, Charlotte, Legal Aspects of Carbon Trading: Kyoto, Copenhagen and Beyond, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £95.00, ISBN: 9780199565931

Since 2005 the carbon market has grown to nearly $100 billion per annum. This new book examines all the main legal issues which are raised by this explosion of what is now called carbon finance. It covers not only the Kyoto Flexibility Mechanisms but also the EU Emissions Trading Scheme (ETS) that is in the process of reform and other national and voluntary schemes.

Gable, Sonia, Taxbriefs Tax Guide 2009/10, Taxbriefs Ltd, Softcover, £55.00, ISBN: 9781905482344

The Taxbriefs Tax Guide has been designed to meet the needs of the busy professional adviser, entrepreneur or student who want a clear, succinct and practical explanation of key tax topics. It is useful background reading for ACCA Professional Level Advanced Taxation (UK) (P6). Taxbriefs Tax Guide covers aspects of UK taxation in an easily readable form. Its purpose is to give the reader enough knowledge to make informed business and investment decisions and to indicate where the reader should seek specialist advice.

Gaeta, Paola, The UN Genocide Convention: A Commentary, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780199570218

The Convention for the Prevention and Punishment of the Crime of Genocide, adopted by the United Nations General Assembly on 9 December 1948, is one of the most important instruments of contemporary international law. This book is a much-needed Commentary on the Genocide Convention.

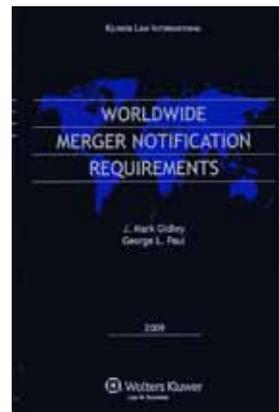

It analyses and interprets the Convention thematically, thoroughly covering every article, drawing on the Convention's travaux préparatoires and subsequent developments in international law. The most complex and important provisions of the Convention, including the definitions of genocide and genocidal acts, have more than one contribution dedicated to them, allowing the Commentary to explore all aspects of these concepts.

Genn, Hazel, Judging Civil Justice, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £40.00, ISBN: 9780521118941 Paperback, £13.99, ISBN: 9780521134392

The civil justice system supports social order and economic activity, but a number of factors over the last decade have created a situation in which the value of civil justice is being undermined and the civil courts are in a state of dilapidation. For the 2008 Hamlyn Lectures, Dame Hazel Genn discusses reforms to civil justice in England and around the world over the last decade in the context of escalating expenditure on criminal justice and vanishing civil trials. In critically assessing the claims and practice of mediation for civil disputes, she questions whether diverting cases out of the public courts and into private dispute resolution promotes access to justice, looks critically at the changed expectations of the judiciary in civil justice and points to the need for a better understanding of how judges 'do justice'.

Gidley, J. Mark; Paul, George L., Worldwide Merger Notification Requirements, Kluwer Law International, Hardcover, £200.00, ISBN: 9789041132031

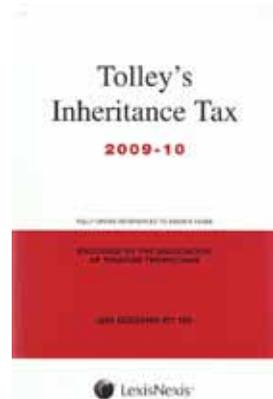

Although international mergers continue to become more common, merger control regimes are wildly diverse, and there is no procedurally harmonized international system of merger notification. Instead, any one of the plethora of inconsistent regulations can hold up your transaction. Worldwide Merger Notification Requirements evaluates the merger notification requirements of over 215 jurisdictions. In this new annual book the leading authorities at White & Case provide a complete road map for parties contemplating a multinational transaction by highlighting the disparate ways in which competition authorities treat mergers, including differences in notification timing; filing fees; turnover, size, and post-merger market share thresholds; potential penalties; volume and type of required filing information; and the multitude of standards and definitions that pervade every multinational transaction.

Goldberg, David; Sutter, Gavin; Walden, Ian, Media Law and Practice, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780199559367

This book is a reference guide for practitioners to the major legal and regulatory issues in the field, but could also be used as media law textbook for a course of academic study. Each chapter is written by an expert in the field. Throughout the book, the authors cover the relevant aspects of law governing the media in its many forms, with an emphasis on the practical operation of the law in this sector. It not only discusses the theoretical basis of legal concepts such as defamation, but also analyses the application of the law in the high paced environment of daily newspapers, the changing reality of what constitutes “broadcasting”, including the regulation of distribution channels, and the regulation on material distributed via those channels, and examines the implications for defamation law of the online, borderless world.

Golding, Jon, Tolley's Inheritance Tax 2009 - 2010, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £103.95, ISBN: 9780754537113

This comprehensive guide is your vital point of reference for accessible, accurate information on IHT liabilities, tax mitigation and compliance. Tolley's Inheritance Tax is a practical work including many worked examples to clarify legislation where computations are involved, with commentary in the form of notes to the examples to help explain complex points.

Grant, John P.; Barker, J.Craig, Parry & Grant Encyclopaedic Dictionary of International Law 3rd ed, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £107.50, ISBN: 9780195389777

For nearly thirty-five years, the international legal community has relied on one ambitious yet humble volume as a starting point for legal questions. This classic red volume is a one-of-a-kind reference tool that brings together both terminology and pertinent descriptive information on international law. Now in its third edition, The Parry and Grant Encyclopaedic Dictionary of International Law is completely updated and expanded to include increased coverage in growing areas of international law including diplomatic law, criminal law, human rights, and more. Over 2,500 entries (an over 20% increase in content over the previous edition) provides the reader with copious references for further research including cases, treaties, journal articles, and websites.

Griffin, James, On Human Rights, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £16.99, ISBN: 9780199573103

On Human Rights traces the idea of a natural right from its origin in the late Middle Ages, when the rights were seen as deriving from natural laws, through the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries, when the original theological background was progressively dropped and ‘natural law’ emptied of most of its original meaning. By the end of the Enlightenment, the term ‘human rights’ (droits de l’homme) appeared, marking the purge of the theological background. But the Enlightenment, in putting nothing in its place, left us with an unsatisfactory, incomplete idea of a human right. Griffin shows how the language of human rights has become debased. There are scarcely any accepted criteria, either in the academic or the public sphere, for correct use of the term. He takes on the task of showing the way towards a determinate concept of human rights, based on their relation to the human status that we all share. He works from certain paradigm cases, such as freedom of expression and freedom of worship, to more disputed cases such as welfare rights - for instance the idea of a human right to health. His goal is a substantive account of human rights - an account with enough content to tell us whether proposed rights really are rights. Griffin emphasizes the practical as well as theoretical urgency of this goal: as the United Nations recognized in 1948 with its Universal Declaration, the idea of human rights has considerable power to improve the lot of humanity around the world.

Hainsworth, Antony, Islamic Financial Institutions and Islamic Finance Law: Special Report, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £200.00, ISBN: 9781405747189

This work examines how laws and regulations in the UK and abroad are applied to Shari'a products and services. It offers cutting-edge guidance from a leading practitioner: it includes explanation of terms and definitions and looks the legal nature of the Shari'a, in addition to a crucial review of how Islamic financial business is regulated and its practical application within the UK.

Halpin, Andrew; Roeben, Volker, Theorising the Global Legal Order, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £35.00, ISBN: 9781841132495
This book aims to capture an exploratory approach to theorising the global legal order. Avoiding any brand loyalty to a particular academic perspective, it brings together scholars who contribute a variety of insights covering quite different topics and viewpoints. It sets itself the target of producing a distinctively legal theory of global phenomena, which is capable of illuminating the path of law as an academic discipline, as it confronts a bewildering array of novel situations and innovative ways of thinking about law. The broad base of perspectives found among the contributors, combined with a helpful commentary from the editors, makes the book an ideal Reader to introduce a subject that is becoming of increasing importance for academics, students and practitioners, in law and related fields.

Hansen, Peter W., Intellectual Property of the United Arab Emirates: Law and Practice, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £130.00, ISBN: 9780195370164

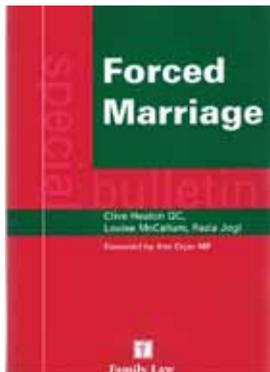

The GDP of the United Arab Emirates's (UAE) economy is reported to have grown 35% in 2006, making it one of the fastest growing economies in the world. This has attracted unprecedented levels of foreign investment, which has resulted in efforts to bring its IP laws into line with international standards. In many cases, however, these laws are very difficult to obtain, much less understand, for most Western attorneys, given that they written in Arabic, and English translations and practice commentary are likewise almost non-existent. This book covers the IP laws and practice in the United Arab Emirates. In addition to providing side-by-side translations of the laws in question, Intellectual Property: The Law and Practice of the United Arab Emirates provides practice commentary to give an understanding of history and context to allow a legal advisor to appreciate the “weight” of a problem and to devise the best possible strategic solutions.

Heaton, Clive; McCalm, Louise; Jogi, Razia, Forced Marriage: A Special Bulletin, Family Law, Paperback, £35.00, ISBN: 9781846611674

The Forced Marriage (Civil Protection) Act 2007 came into force on 25 November 2008 and specialist courts will be designated in areas where most cases are expected to arise. The purpose of the Act is to give family courts the power to prevent attempts to force someone into a marriage where they do not consent. If such a marriage has already taken place the court will be able to make orders to protect the victim while helping to remove them from the situation (similar to injunctive relief). Recognising that vulnerability may prevent victims being able to apply in their own right, the Act allows interested third parties to apply with the leave of the court on behalf of the victim.

Heaton, David, CCH British Tax Guide: National Insurance Contributions 2009-10, CCH Editions, Paperback, £93.95, ISBN: 9781847981684

This annual handbook provides highly focussed commentary by concentrating on the current tax regime and the most frequently-encountered topics. Designed to be of everyday use it contains many worked examples and extensive topic indexes, case tables and legislation finding lists.

Hirvonen, Ari; Porttikivi, Janne, Law and Evil: Philosophy, Politics, Psychoanalysis, Routledge-Cavendish,

Hardback, £70.00, ISBN: 9780415497916

Law and Evil opens, expands and deepens our understanding of the phenomenon of evil by addressing the theoretical relationship between this phenomenon and law. Hannah Arendt said 'the problem of evil will be the fundamental question of post-war intellectual life in Europe'. This statement is, unfortunately, more than valid in the contemporary world: not only in the events of war, crimes against humanity, terror, repression, criminality, violence, torture, human trafficking, and so on; but also as evil is used rhetorically to condemn these acts, to categorise their perpetrators, and to justify forcible measures, both in international and domestic politics and law.

His Honour Judge John Mitchell, Adoption and Special Guardianship: A Handbook, Jordan Publishing Ltd, Paperback, £50.00, ISBN: 9781846611148

The concept of special guardianship was introduced by the Adoption and Children Act 2002. Special guardianship orders are private law orders which give a special guardian parental responsibility for the child concerned. They provide permanence and security for those children for whom adoption is not suitable but who cannot live with their birth parents. Adoption and Special Guardianship: A Handbook brings together, for the first time in a single volume, the law and procedure relating to adoption with that of special guardianship.

Hurwitz, Agnes, The Collective Responsibility of States to Protect Refugees, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £60.00, ISBN: 9780199278381

This book presents a critical legal analysis of the mechanisms and arrangements devised by States to tackle secondary movements of refugees, and offers innovative solutions to the protection crisis afflicting the global refugee regime. After providing a comprehensive breakdown of the various legal tools used by States to combat secondary refugee movements, the book argues that, while the legality of these various arrangements is seriously in doubt, the most appropriate way to address these protection failures is to strengthen and develop adequate international accountability mechanisms.

Hutton, Matthew, Core Tax Annuals: Trusts and Estates 2009/10, Bloomsbury Professional, Paperback, £38.00, ISBN: 9781847663290

James, Malcolm, Taxation of Small Businesses 2nd ed, Spiramus Press Ltd, Paperback, £79.95, ISBN: 9781904905943

The first edition of this book was praised by accountants to small businesses. The introduction of the Corporation Taxes Act 2009, removing the remaining elements of the old schedular tax system, vehicle tax changes, capital allowances, and new rules on the taxation of pension contributions illustrate the need for this new edition. This book is a practical guide to all aspects of direct taxation of small businesses in one volume. It is ideal for sole practitioners and small partnerships, but will be a handy reference guide for all tax advisers. Major topics covered by the book include: taxation of business profits, taxation of employment, corporation tax, NIC, capital gains tax, inheritance tax and pensions.

clusively to the subject since the publication of Thomas Madox's Formulare Anglicanum in 1702. The transactions covered include grants in fee and in perpetual alms, leases for life and for years, exchanges, surrenders and releases. Analysis of each kind of transaction is partly by way of commentary on the formulae of deeds, selected from the many thousands found in published cartularies and collections, and partly by relating the deeds to the relevant law of their periods, as found in early treatises, decided cases and the Year Books. The aim is to enable readers to identify and categorise deeds accurately, to appreciate their legal effects and to note instances where the practice of conveyancers and their clients differed from what is supposed to have been the law.

Klabbers, Jan; Peters, Anne; Ulfstein, Geir, The Constitutionalization of International Law, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £60.00, ISBN: 9780199543427

The book examines one of the most debated issues in current international law: to what extent the international legal system has constitutional features comparable to what we find in national law. This question has become increasingly relevant in a time of globalization, where new international institutions and courts are established to address international issues. Constitutionalization beyond the nation state has for many years been discussed in relation to the European Union. This book asks whether we now see constitutionalization taking place also at the global level.

Klein, Natalie; Mossop, Joanna; Rothwell, Donald R., Maritime Security: International Law and Policy Perspectives from Australia and New Zealand, Routledge, Hardback, £80.00, ISBN: 9780415484268

This volume identifies those issues that particularly affect Australia and New Zealand's maritime security, evaluating the issues from legal and political perspectives, and proposes methods for improving maritime security in the two countries. While the focus is primarily on Australia and New Zealand, the scope extends to regional considerations, addressing matters related to Pacific Island states, Southeast Asia and the Antarctic and sub-Antarctic region. The book also addresses strategic partnerships examining the influence of the United States, and analyses issues within the broad framework of international law and politics.

Krajewski, Markus; Neergaard, Ulla; van de Gronden, Johan, The Changing Legal Framework for Services of General Interest in Europe: Between Competition and Solidarity, T.M.C. Asser Press, Hardback, £80.00, ISBN: 9789067043083

ing profound effects on the social and economic policies pursued by the Member States. This examination of the impact of EC internal market, competition, state aid and procurement law on the provision of these services focuses in particular on the fields of health services, social services and local public services. It comprises horizontal studies on these subjects which take into account the most recent case law and community legislation from the European Court of Justice, and includes country reports from ten different Member States. It is of great interest to academics, practitioners, government officials and policymakers dealing with EC affairs.

It is fully revised and updated to the Finance Act 2009, covering the latest case law and developments in practice.

Lewis, Tamara, Employment Law: An Adviser's Handbook

8th ed, Legal Action Group, Paperback, £35.00, ISBN: 9781903307694

Employment Law: An Adviser's Handbook, now in its eighth edition, is the key text on employment law for the adviser. Focused on the claimant, it provides, in an affordable, single volume, coverage of all the main aspects of employment law supported by a wealth of precedents, case studies and tactical guidance. The cornerstones of employment and discrimination law are presented clearly, in jargon-free language. The author's experience and understanding of the needs of advisers and trade union representatives is evident in the highly practical treatment of case-law, the cross references between key cases and the guidance on running a tribunal case.

Macrory, Richard, Regulation, Enforcement and Governance in Environmental Law, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £30.00, ISBN: 9781849460354

The materials in this book demonstrate how far environmental law has come in less than a generation, focussing in particular on the major themes of regulation, institutional arrangements, and enforcement which underlie the substantive detail of the law. Whilst acknowledging the growing importance of public international law relating to the environment, the book is largely concerned with UK and EC law, though many of the core themes have much wider relevance.

Osiel, Mark, Making Sense of Mass Atrocity, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £50.00, ISBN: 9780521861854

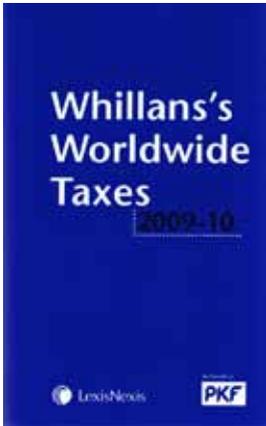

Genocide, crimes against humanity, and the worst war crimes are possible only when the state or other organizations mobilize and coordinate the efforts of many people. Responsibility for mass atrocity is therefore always widely shared, often by thousands. Yet criminal law, with its liberal underpinnings, insists on blaming particular individuals for isolated acts. Is such law therefore constitutionally unable to make any sense of the most catastrophic conflagrations of our time? Drawing on the experience of several recent prosecutions (both national and international), this book trenchantly diagnoses law's limits at such times and offers a spirited defense of its moral and intellectual resources for meeting the vexing challenge of holding anyone criminally accountable for mass atrocity. Just as today's war criminals develop new methods of eluding law's historic grasp, so criminal law flexibly devises novel responses to their stratagems. Mark Osiel examines several such recent legal innovations in international jurisprudence and proposes still others.

Sandel, Michael, Justice: What's the Right Thing to Do?, Allen Lane, Paperback, £14.99, ISBN: 9781846142130

Considering the role of justice in our society and our lives, the author reveals how an understanding of philosophy can help to make sense of politics, religion, morality - and our own convictions. Breaking down hotly contested issues, from abortion, euthanasia and same-sex marriage, to patriotism, dissent and affirmative action, Sandel shows how the biggest questions in our civic life can be broken down and illuminated through reasoned debate.

Schonenberger, Beat, The Restitution of Cultural As- sets, Staempfli Verlag AG, Hardcover, £89.00, ISBN: 9783727298493

This post-doctoral thesis specifically addresses the dilemma of restitution, and yet in contrast to the current trend it is not limited to cases of looted art. These are placed in the wider context of other types of demands for the return of cultural assets. The central focus of this portrayal of comparative law lies in examining the potential causes of action for the restitution of a cultural asset, including the obstacles preventing such restitution. Issues dealt with involve mainly private but also criminal and international law, whilst factors outside the scope of the law are considered as well.

Schoon, Natalie, Valuation of Banks in Uncertain Times:

With Special Reference to Islamic Banks, Spiramus Press Ltd, Paperback, £125.00, ISBN: 9781904905820

The main question the book addresses is whether it is possible to determine the value of banks in general and Islamic banks in particular using generally available valuation models. But does this still hold in the current uncertain times? Questions that are addressed include the suitability of price as the right benchmark, what is the impact of market psychology and how accurate are future cash flow estimations.

Schwalbe, Ulrich; Zimmer, Daniel, Law and Economics in European Merger Control, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £95.00, ISBN: 9780199571819

Law and Economics in European Merger Control provides a thorough introduction to the economic theory underlying the regulation of mergers. The central economic concepts of efficiency and welfare are introduced and their role in the foundations of competition law is explained. Market structures of perfect competition, monopoly and oligopoly are analysed and the methods for delineating and evaluating the effects of mergers on markets are explained.

Schwartzberg, Melissa, Democracy and Legal Change, Cambridge University Press, Paperback, £18.99, ISBN: 9780521146579

Since ancient Athens, democrats have taken pride in their power and inclination to change their laws, yet they have also sought to counter this capacity by creating immutable laws. In Democracy and Legal Change, Melissa Schwartzberg argues that modifying law is a fundamental and attractive democratic activity. Against those who would defend the use of 'entrenchment clauses' to protect key constitutional provisions from revision, Schwartzberg seeks to demonstrate historically the strategic and even unjust purposes unamendable laws have typically served, and to highlight the regrettable consequences that entrenchment may have for democracies today. Drawing on historical evidence, classical political theory, and contemporary constitutional and democratic theory, Democracy and Legal Change reexamines the relationship between democracy and the rule of law from a new, and often surprising, set of vantage points.

Smith, Rhona K.M., Text and Materials on International Human Rights 2nd ed, Routledge-Cavendish, Paperback, £35.95, ISBN: 9780415491150

This book takes a thematic approach to the subject by collecting material around concepts and frameworks rather than specific rights making it the ideal companion for most courses in International Human Rights. Cases and material are clearly separated from the main body of the text so that extracted material is immediately recognizable. The surrounding text contextualizes each extract and explains the relevant issues, while questions throughout the book encourage students to analyse and debate the material they are reading. This book is ideal for students seeking to truly engage with and understand the key issues concerning the study of international human rights.

Stephens, Charles, Bundled Set: Jurisprudence of Lord Denning: A Study in Legal History in Three Volumes, Cambridge Scholars Publishing, Hardback, 3 Volumes, £99.99, ISBN: 9781443812528

The trilogy provides a comprehensive analysis of the work of one of the most important judges of the twentieth century set in its historical, political and philosophical context. In the course of preparing this work, each of the 1072 judgments of Lord Denning, as reported in the All England Law Reports for the years 1962 to 1982, was considered, together with all the books about the law which he published while sitting as a judge.

Sugar, Simon; Bojarski, Andrzej, Unlocking Matrimonial Assets on Divorce 2nd ed, Jordan Publishing Ltd, Paperback, £65.00, ISBN: 9781846611582

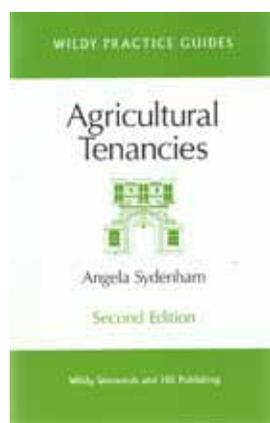

This handbook is a practical and user friendly guide to some of the more challenging areas of ancillary relief practice. It is divided into eight detailed parts and contains specialist contributions from a forensic accountant and an actuary. In concentrating on complex areas of practice, this book provides practitioners with assistance in unlocking assets for the benefit of their client. This edition has been fully updated to take into account all the recent changes in case law and the impact for practitioners.

Sydenham, Angela, Agricultural Tenancies 2nd ed, Wildy, Simmonds and Hill Publishing, Paperback, £29.00, ISBN: 9780854900503

This revised and expanded edition contains a mass of legal and practical information within a compact, user-friendly format, providing a concise introduction to law relating to agricultural tenancies. Fully up-to-date, Agricultural Tenancies covers all legal developments in the field since the first edition, such as The Regulatory Reform (Agricultural Tenancies) (England and Wales) Order 2006 which has made significant amendments to the Agricultural Holdings Act 1986 and Agricultural Tenancies Act 1995.

Tiley & Collison's UK Tax Guide adopts a practical approach to UK tax law providing essential guidance for the practitioner and is also ideally suited for students studying for the CIOT examination. It examines the workings of income tax, corporation tax, capital gains tax, inheritance tax, VAT, stamp duty and NIC. The thought-provoking commentary makes the complex subject of revenue law interesting and easy to understand.

Townley, Christopher, Article 81 EC and Public

Policy, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £65.00, ISBN: 9781841139685

This book discusses the role of public policy in Article 81 of the EC Treaty. The Commission, and recently the Court of First Instance have said that the sole objective of Article 81 EC is consumer welfare. Many competition lawyers and economists support this view. Writing in a crisp, plain style, Townley demonstrates that public policy considerations are still relevant in that provision. He also examines how and where they are currently considered and then suggests why, how and where this might be changed.

Tricker, Ray, Water Regulations in Brief, Butterworth-Heinemann, Paperback, £19.99, ISBN:

The book explains the meaning of the water regulations, their current status, requirements, associated documentation and how UK local authorities, councils and the water supply companies view their importance, and how and why you need to comply with them. Throughout the book there is a series of 'what ifs', with answers provided for the most common questions that might be asked.

discipline of law need to include perspectives that take account of the standpoints, interests, concerns and beliefs of non-Western people and traditions. The dominant scholarly and activist discourses about human rights have developed largely without reference to these other viewpoints. Claims about universality sit uneasily with ignorance of other traditions and parochial or ethnocentric tendencies. The object of the book is to make accessible the ideas of four jurists who present distinct 'Southern' perspectives on human rights.

WAMS – Wildy Account Management System

After months of planning and development Wildy's online Account Management System (WAMS) is up and running and ready to use.

WAMS will allow you to view all aspects of your account online. You will be able to look at invoices issued on your account, outstanding book orders, standing orders and subscriptions, and view full details for each. You can also use the Quick Orders tab to place orders using ISBNs – particularly useful if you are ordering a large number of books at once. Also included are various reports that you can either view on-screen or download to your desktop.

To start using WAMS you will need to register yourself first. Go to <https://accounts.wildy.com> and click on the New User link and enter the details requested. The field for username and password are for you to enter a username and password of your own choice to use when accessing WAMS.

Once you have completed the registration form you will get an automated e-mail to verify your e-mail address, and once we have authenticated your details you will be able to log-in and start using the service.

WAMS supports multiple registrations for each account, so your colleagues can also register themselves as users in the same way.

We have designed WAMS to be easy to use and intuitive, and we hope you will like the look and feel of the site as much as the functionality.

THE LAW REVIEWS

The Law Reviews are hardback books published annually by Law Business Research Ltd. The contributors to the series are all carefully selected local experts in their fields of practice.

The Review series is aimed at creating an accessible insight into the practice of different areas of law in all of the most significant jurisdictions around the world. As clients' expectations become ever more sophisticated, lawyers need to be familiar with the issues in those jurisdictions most relevant to the commercial operation of clients - often in places beyond the reach of their own firm's offices.

As legal work becomes increasingly international, it is often necessary to have not only an understanding of foreign substantive law but also an appreciation of the basic framework of civil procedure and legal practice in different jurisdictions. The Reviews aim to give readers a business focused insight of some of the key substantive and procedural issues, as well as analysis of important cases, deals and hot topics in each field of law.

The Law Reviews help practitioners to look beyond their own borders where they may also see opportunities to practise even more actively, exploiting strategic solutions and understanding options in foreign jurisdictions which are different from their home forum.

Blackstone's Guide to the Borders, Citizenship and Immigration Act 2009

by Ian MacDonald QC, Adrian Berry, Hina Majid and Ronan Toal

Oxford University Press, Paperback, ISBN 9780199579570, £39.95, due November 2009

The Blackstone's Guide to the Borders, Citizenship, and Immigration Act 2009 provides an essential tool for understanding the important changes in border control, citizenship, and immigration law found in the Act. The Guide provides a clear explanation of developments in the acquisition of British citizenship by automatic acquisition, naturalisation and registration; the introduction of new immigration measures concerning students, children, trafficking, and other matters; and the new customs functions at UK borders and connected supervisory powers. The Guide provides a commentary that puts the new provisions into the context of existing laws, while explaining the significance of the innovations introduced. The constitutional significance of the new measures is considered, together with an emphasis on the implications of the measures for the protection of rights under the European Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms. The Guide is a clear exposition of the development of the law. This new Blackstone's Guide combines the full text of the Act with an expert narrative. It brings practitioners up-to-date with this complex piece of legislation. Presented in a straightforward layout, it enables ease of use as a reference source.

Munkman on Employer's Liability 15th edition

Edited by Barry Cotter and Daniel Bennett

LexisNexis Butterworths, Hardcover, ISBN 9781405743273, £160.00, due December 2009

Munkman is the leading authority and the most comprehensive and analytical text in its field. It is the ideal companion to Redgrave's Health and Safety. Now in its 14th edition, Munkman has been brought fully up-to-date and takes into account such recent changes as the emerging areas of personal injury and stress.

Party Walls: Law and Practice 3rd edition

by Stephen Bickford-Smith and Colin Sydenham

Jordan Publishing, Paperback, ISBN 9781846611797,

£60.00, due November 2009

This new edition provides an authoritative explanation of the law regulating the building, maintenance and repair of party walls, and sets out the process for settling disputes between parties. It has been fully updated and considerably expanded to incorporate the key developments, including the important case of Zissis v Lukomski [2006] 1 WLR 2778 on the appropriate procedure for appeals. Also judicial guidance in Manu v Euroview [2008] 1 EGLR 165 which provides a comprehensive review of many tricky points pertaining to party walls procedure. A comprehensive selection of precedents are provided, including notices, appeals, requests and awards, together with the full text of the Party Walls etc Act 1996.

Corporate Insolvency: Employment and Pension Rights 4th edition

by David Pollard

Bloomsbury Professional, Hardcover, ISBN 9781847663078, £140.00, due November 2009

This book provides an in-depth analysis of the law relating to corporate insolvency where it interacts with the law governing employment and pension rights. It explains the detailed elements of this specialist field of law and practice, providing a useful base on which to answer questions that are likely to arise. The book offers an overview of the law of employment, pensions and corporate insolvency. It also focuses on the application of rules relating to corporate insolvency and how they affect employees and their pension rights, drawing together legislation, case law, analysis and comment. The new edition will be updated to include coverage of cases on administration expenses and the new powers of the Pensions Regulator. Also included is a new review of connected or associated test, liability of insolvency practitioners for discrimination, cases on protective awards, changes to employer debt provisions on pensions and cases on directors or majority shareholders as employees.

Venables on Non-Resident Trusts 9th edition

by Robert Venables

Key Haven Publications, Hardcover, ISBN 9781901614350, £199.00, due November 2009

Robert Venables' Non-Resident Trusts is firmly established as a seminal and leading work on the UK taxation of non-UK resident trusts and settlements, their trustees, settlors and beneficiaries. To mark the 20th anniversary of the appearance of the 1st edition of this Report, Robert Venables has prepared a new edition which is no mere updating of the 8th edition but involves a substantial re-writing of the text to take into account the many important changes in this area in recent years and particularly the changes planned to be effected by Finance Act 2008. This Report will not simply be an academic account of the new law but will offer pragmatic tax planning advice. It will build on the author's considerable experience as a tax barrister over a period of almost thirty years, eighteen of them as one of Her Majesty's Counsel, in advising on the UK taxation of UK and foreign trusts, companies and foreign institutions and persons connected with them. This Intelligence Report is intended primarily for barristers, solicitors, advocates and other lawyers, accountants, chartered tax advisers, professional trustees, officers of trust corporations, financial advisers and other professionals.

Phipson on Evidence 17th edition

by Hodge M Malek, Jonathan Auburn and Roderick Bagshaw

Sweet and Maxwell, Hardcover, ISBN 9781847036063, £299.00, due December 2009

The leading work on civil and criminal evidence, Phipson on Evidence examines in detail all aspects of the complex principles and procedures which make up the law of evidence and covers every area of the subject in depth, so that the work can be relied upon to solve even the most complex questions relating to evidence. This new edition takes into account the introduction of the Civil Procedure Rules, the Criminal Justice Act 2003 and subsequent legislation passed in the five years since the previous edition was published. It provides a one-stop source of information, bringing the work completely up-to-date in its coverage of all recent developments in case law and legislation, and deals with the fundamental changes to the rules of hearsay and character introduced by the Criminal Justice Act 2003. Also Covered are both civil and criminal evidence and the book considers the complex mix of rules, principles and practice in a depth that is the envy of its competitors.

Medical Treatment Decisions and the Law 2nd edition

by Robert Francis and Christopher Johnstone

Bloomsbury Professional, Paperback, ISBN 9781845924249, £68.00, due November 2009

Medical Treatment Decisions and the Law covers an increasingly important area of law, seeking to place medical decision-making in its context and to provide practical guidance to the solution of many problems likely to be encountered in practice. The book concentrates on the decisions involved in obtaining authority for the provision, withholding and withdrawal of physical medical treatment and care and the legal requirements and consequences of the decision-making process. With a unique collection of valuable materials not easily obtained elsewhere, this important reference work examines both the general principles and specific problems such as caesarean sections, anorexia and persistent vegetative state. This new second edition has been fully updated to take account of the Mental Incapacity Act 2005. Coverage includes important case law ie. the Baby Wyatt case and a brand-new chapter on organs and transplantations.

A Commentary on the LCIA Rules

by Shai Wade and Stephen York

Sweet and Maxwell, Hardcover, ISBN 9781847035608, £169.00, due November 2009

This new work is a practical, article-by-article commentary on the Rules of the London Court of International Arbitration, an increasingly popular international arbitration institution. Intended as a tool for practising lawyers, the book is designed to be accessible and easy to use at any stage in the workflow of an LCIA arbitration. It covers all topics, from the choice of the LCIA and drafting of suitable arbitration clauses through the entire process of an actual arbitration to the award and related matters. A “model forms” appendix takes the reader through all the documentation required during an LCIA arbitration, and provides a model set of typical forms. The book explains the impact of each article from the perspective of a lawyer working on an arbitration, discusses what issues need to be considered at the outset when choosing LCIA Arbitration and advises on core principles and procedures. It provides detailed analysis and references for solving complex problems and considers relevant case law, decisions of the LCIA Court and other arbitral institutions. Usefully, the work compares the LCIA Rules with equivalent provisions in other arbitration rules and it features a valuable set of model forms for an LCIA Arbitration.

Documentary Credits: Law and Practice

by Chris Hare
Informa Publishing, Hardcover, ISBN 9781843114284, £280.00, due December 2009

Documentary Credits: Law and Practice is an authoritative text dealing with the law relating to documentary credits in both an English and international context. This new book provides practical information on the law of documentary credits and is a detailed examination of the fundamental concepts of the documentary credit regime including: the principle of autonomy, the doctrine of strict compliance, the ‘fraud exception’ and critical analysis of the English position by reference to decisions of other jurisdictions. Whilst concentrating on the most common forms of documentary credit governed by the UCP 500 such as letter of credits and standby letters of credit, this book also covers other forms such as demand guarantee bonds. A distinctive feature of this book is its comparative law element. It draws heavily upon the decisions of other jurisdictions (both common law and civil law) to highlight the benefits of alternative solutions to the ones favoured by the English courts and to consider problem areas identified by other jurisdictions.

Outsourcing Agreements: Practical Guide

by George Kimball
Oxford University Press, Paperback, ISBN 9780199575220, £95.00,
due January 2010

Outsourcing - entrusting major operations to outside contractors, at home or abroad - represents one of this century's important trends, made possible by broadband technology and operation of the law of comparative advantage in a world with fewer boundaries than ever before. Outsourcing Agreements: A Practical Guide is an accessible guide to the legal and practical issues arising from complex outsourcing deals with a particular emphasis on the UK and the US. Lawyers, executives and managers must learn how all of the pieces of the outsourcing jigsaw - contractual, operational, technical and financial - fit together into a coherent, manageable whole that suppliers can perform and customers can manage. This book covers the discrete legal issues involved, and also the management of the relationship between vendor and purchaser of outsourcing services, in a practical and comprehensive way. The accessible nature of this book means it will be of interest to lawyers in private practice or in-house, in particular those who are new to outsourcing as an area of practice.

Advising Mentally Disordered Offenders: A Practical Guide 2nd edition

by Carolyn Taylor, Julia Krish and Frank Farnham Law Society Publishing,
Paperback, ISBN
9781853286346, £39.95,
due December 2009

Most criminal practitioners will encounter clients with mental health difficulties and it's important that duty solicitors and criminal lawyers are able to recognise the signs and understand the correct processes and procedures in dealing with the mentally disordered offender. This new edition has been fully updated to include all the changes in the criminal legislation along with those changes introduced by the Mental Health Act 2007, the Mental Capacity Act 2005, and their Codes of Practice. The book is a guide for all practitioners representing MDOs at all stages of the criminal justice system. It gives essential guidance on the medical and legal definitions of mental disorder, procedures in the police station from interview through to charge, representation in the magistrates' court including assessments, bail, summary trials and sentencing and proceedings in the Crown Court such as fitness to plead, diminished responsibility, insanity, preliminary hearings and disposals. Comprehensive, yet concise, Advising Mentally Disordered Offenders contains all the pertinent information on the subject, including extracts, checklists and useful contacts, making it required reading for anyone advising mentally disordered offenders.

Cross-Border Judicial Cooperation in Offshore Litigation (The British Offshore World)

Editors: Ian R.C. Kawaley, Andrew J. Bolton and Robin J. Mayor
£135.00 ISBN 9780854900435 Hardback

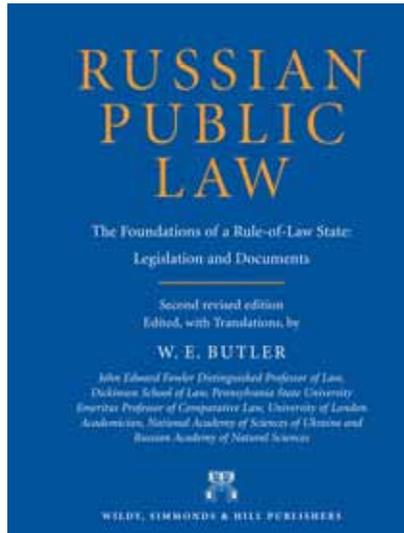

The global economic downturn has led to increased commercial litigation and insolvency proceedings in financial centres across the world. As a result, there has been a growing need to seek the assistance of courts in offshore jurisdictions where significant assets and/or evidence are likely to be found. Informed judgements must be made about what rules of law and practice govern the relevant judicial cooperation regimes, both by lawyers who manage litigation onshore concerning assets or evidence located offshore, and by offshore lawyers asked to advise their onshore counterparts.

Although geographically small, the British territories of Bermuda, the British Virgin Islands, the Cayman Islands, Guernsey, Jersey and the Isle of Man are well established international financial centres. These six commercially significant jurisdictions are home to a vast array of commercial entities which conduct business throughout the world. There is growing concern over how the courts of these jurisdictions will cooperate with courts in other centres of commerce in responding to letters of request, enforcing foreign judgments, or assisting foreign liquidators.

This book is the only publication to provide a detailed explanation of the law and practice in each of these six British territories and how each approaches the judicial cooperation issues of obtaining evidence for use in foreign proceedings, enforcing foreign judgments, and cross-border insolvency. It is edited by a commercial judge and two experienced commercial litigators with contributions from experts in each jurisdiction, all written from the perspective of the practitioner.

Ian Kawaley is a Commercial Court Judge in Bermuda; Andrew Bolton is a Partner with Appleby and head of the firm's litigation and insolvency practice; and Robin Mayor is a Partner with Conyers Dill & Pearman in Bermuda.

Legislation and Documents

William E. Butler

£125.00 ISBN 9780854900534 1012pp Hardback

The most comprehensive collection of Russian legal materials ever produced in the English language on Russian public law, this volume contains sixty-two enactments and documents, some unpublished even in the Russian language, in force and devoted to the constitutional foundations of the Russian Federation, publication of legislation, human rights, the Russian Presidency, Parliament, Government, and judicial system, domestic and international arbitration, courts of all types, justices of the peace, and the legal profession, broadly defined. In this volume the legal profession encompasses the advocate, juriconsult, notary, procurator, and law enforcement personnel, including private detectives. Particular attention is given to documents which regulate the internal workings of the Russian presidency, parliament, government, and Constitutional Court in the form of 'reglements' and the judiciary generally.

Child Care and Protection: Law and Practice (Wildy Practice Guide)

Barbara Mitchels with Helen James
ISBN: 9780854900381 Paperback £29

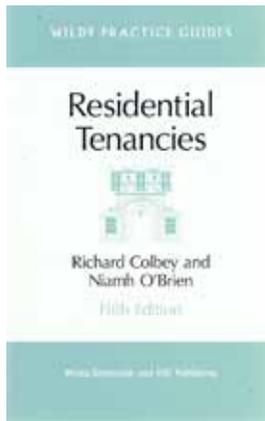

Formerly published as part of the popular Practice Notes series and written by experienced practitioners, the fourth edition provides a practical and concise guide to the Children Act 1989, subsequent legislation, guidance and case law. The new material covered in this edition includes: Every Child Matters, the Children Act 2004, the new edition of Working Together to Safeguard Children (2006), the new Children Act 1989 Guidance Volume 1 Court Orders, the content and impact of the new Public Law Outline (PLO) and important recent cases. This book does not include the separate field of adoption law, but selected relevant provisions of the Adoption and Children Act 2002 and the Children and Adoption Act 2006 are included.

In addition to explaining the general principles of the law relating to child care and protection, the authors provide valuable insights into assessments, care planning, expert evidence, taking instructions, case preparation and courtroom skills. Presented in a compact, user-friendly format, the book also contains checklists and flowcharts which will prove invaluable to the busy practitioner.

Barbara Mitchels is a Children Panel solicitor and also a practising psychotherapist. She combines these disciplines in providing mediation, consultancy and training with Working with Children and Watershed Counselling Service.

Helen James has wide experience in social work and as a children's guardian. She is an independent social work consultant, trainer, and a Director of Family Practice UK Ltd (an Independent Social Work Agency).

Residential Tenancies (Wildy Practice Guide)

Richard Colbey and Niamh O'Brien
ISBN: 9780854900428 Paperback £29

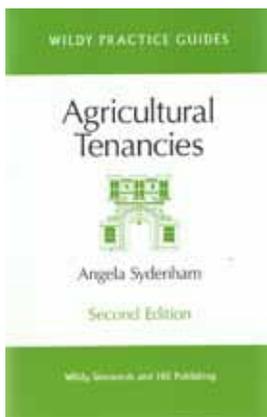

Formerly published as part of the popular Practice Notes series, this revised and expanded edition contains a mass of legal and practical information within a compact, user-friendly format, providing a concise introduction to the law relating to private residential tenancies. Fully up-to-date, the book covers all legal developments in the field since the last edition, such as the new law in respect of deposit protection schemes.

Written by experienced practitioners, Residential Tenancies provides clear guidance on advising the client, whether landlord or tenant, on matters such as obtaining possession of premises, changing the rent, granting tenancies or bringing on action for arrears of rent, providing an invaluable aide-memoire for the busy practitioner. The text is supported by an array of helpful checklists and a range of basic precedents for granting tenancies and for possession actions. There is also a chapter devoted to dealing with the problems most likely to arise in practice.

Richard Colbey has been a barrister for over twenty years, practising in London and Portsmouth in a wide variety of property and commercial matters. He has contributed to the Guardian extensively on legal topics. He has also written articles for several journals, including New Law Journal and Solicitors' Journal.

Niamh O'Brien is a barrister at Lamb Chambers. She has a general civil practice with a particular emphasis on property and housing law.

Agricultural Tenancies (Wildy Practice Guide)

Angela Sydenham

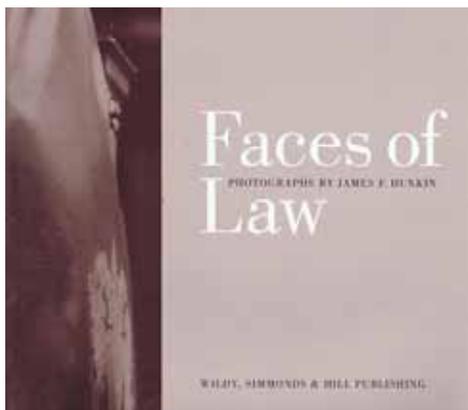

ISBN: 9780854900503 Paperback £29

Formerly published as part of the popular Practice Notes series, this revised and expanded edition contains a mass of legal and practical information within a compact, user-friendly format, providing a concise introduction to law relating to agricultural tenancies. Fully up-to-date, Agricultural Tenancies covers all legal developments in the field since the first edition, such as The Regulatory Reform (Agricultural Tenancies) (England and Wales) Order 2006 which has made significant amendments to the Agricultural Holdings Act 1986 and Agricultural Tenancies Act 1995.

Agricultural Tenancies is an invaluable aide-memoire for the busy practitioner, providing clear guidance on lettings of agricultural land before September 1995; lettings of agricultural land after that date; and lettings of residential accommodation to farm workers. The text is supported by an array of procedural checklists and contains precedents for a farm business tenancy and an assured shorthold tenancy agreement. There is also a chapter devoted to dealing with the problems most commonly encountered in practice.

Angela Sydenham is a consultant solicitor with Birketts, and was formerly Chief Legal Adviser to the Country Landowners' Association. She is the author of several books, including, Public Rights of Way and Access to Land, 3rd edition (2007), and Common Land and Village Greens: The Modern Law (2006) and a joint author of Agricultural Precedents Handbook (2008).

FACES OF LAW

Photographs by James F. Hunkin

£45 ISBN: 9780854900275 Hardback

'Faces of Law' is a unique photographic chronicle of 100 people working in the legal profession at the turn of the twenty-first century. It forms part of an on-going chronicle - 'Faces of Britain'.

The collection covers a broad spectrum of activities including some of the country's most respected judges, solicitors and barristers as well as support staff and others.

Each portrait is accompanied by a personal testimony providing a fascinating insight into the working lives and ideas of the men and women who help shape our society. Alongside this, there is a short factual piece about some aspect of each person's work.

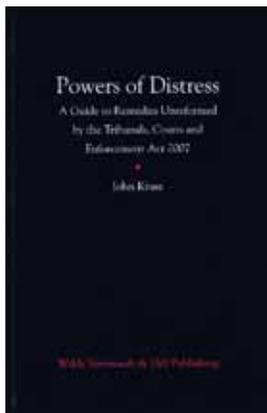

'Hunkin's quiet yet powerful portraits provide an honest document of individuals working within the legal sector'.

Clare Freestone, Assistant Curator of Photographs, National Portrait Gallery

'This remarkable collection of photographs shows the faces of lawyers from all over the legal landscape. It shows the variety of what lawyers do and the variety of lawyers who do it. The words they have chosen, tell us something of how they think or feel about what they do but the photographs tell us even more about them. It all adds up to an intriguing picture of the British legal system as it is today'.

POWERS OF DISTRESS
A Guide to Remedies Unreformed by the Tribunals, Courts and Enforcement Act 2007

ISBN: 9780854900459

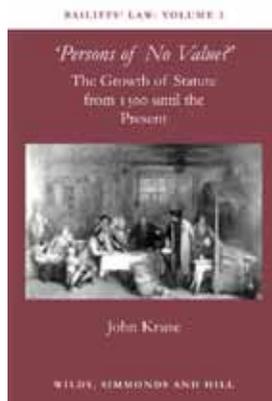

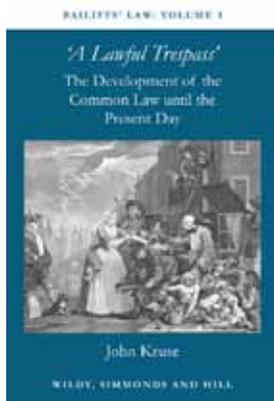

256 pp Hardback £49

JOHN KRUSE

The Tribunals Courts & Enforcement Act 2007 will, for many debts, sweep away the old procedures and principles of enforcement and introduce a new code of law. However, some debts have been deliberately excluded from these changes. Among the liabilities in question are a wide range of shipping liabilities including harbour dues and fines, market tolls and stallages, distress damage feasant for trespassing chattels and powers of seizure of trespassing animals under the Animals Act 1971, arrests of aircraft and ecclesiastical executions. For them, the old common law procedures and principles will continue to operate unaltered.

In a single volume this timely book offers a detailed examination of arrears which have in many respects been neglected and which thereby have been allowed to become obscure and poorly understood. The new Act may cause further difficulties by creating two parallel systems of enforcement- one for the most common debts and one for the remainder. This text aims to restore some balance to this dichotomy by, for the first time, uniting these less common forms of recovery in a clear and structured work. It provides a thorough analysis of the case law developed over the centuries along with discussion of the relevant statutory provisions.

Volume 2 'Persons of No Value?': The Growth of Statute from 1500 until the Present

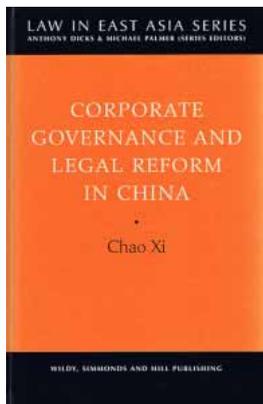

ISBN: 9780854900329 £45.00

JOHN KRUSE

The law relating to distress and execution is a much neglected area of study, despite the fact that bailiffs regularly appear in literary works and their activities are a constant feature of court rolls. This two-volume work aims to provide a detailed and comprehensive history of both the development of the law and the profession of bailiff. The work chronicles the growth of enforcement law from Anglo-Saxon times, tracing the continuity in the common law and examining the intervention of statute. The seizure of goods by bailiffs was a familiar aspect of life in earlier times and this work sets their legal powers into their legal, social and economic context. Key themes are explored throughout both volumes: the protection given to certain essential goods, the efforts to regulate the conduct of bailiffs and the gradual shift of emphasis from promoting the rights of creditors to enhancing the protection of debtors.

Working within the field of social welfare, John Kruse has specialised in the law of enforcement for the last twenty years, and has written numerous books and articles on the subject. He has also acted as a consultant inter alia to the Ministry of Justice and the Council of Europe.

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE AND LEGAL REFORM IN CHINA

Chao Xi

Law in East Asia Series

ISBN: 9780854900367

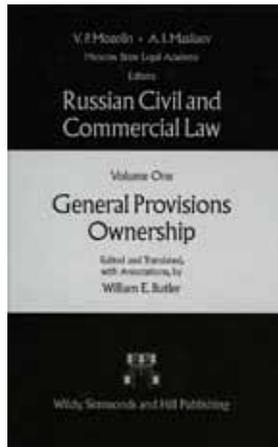

306pp. Hardback £65

State-owned enterprise (SOE) reform has been at the heart of China's post-Mao economic reforms. Since early 1990s, a large number of Chinese SOEs have been transformed into joint stock companies, and many of them are now listed on China's domestic stock exchanges. The corporatisation and listing of the SOEs did not, however, bring about significant improvement in their performance or in the manner in which they are governed.

This book examines the effectiveness of the key legal reforms that have been put in place for addressing the governance issues facing Chinese listed companies. The focus is on three important – but understudied – aspects of corporate governance reform in China: regulation of the private sales of corporate control, institutional shareholder activism, and board level monitoring and control. In addition, this book attempts to explore a political economy understanding of formal legal changes in China with particular reference to China's corporate board reform.

Chao Xi is in the Faculty of Law, Chinese University of Hong Kong, and previously taught at the University of London as a Visiting Lecturer in Law. He is the co-author of Doing Business in China (Routledge, 2008) and has contributed articles to a range of journals, including the Journal of Comparative Law and the Journal of Chinese Economic and Business Studies.

RUSSIAN CIVIL AND COMMERCIAL LAW

1. General Provisions, Ownership

V. P. Mozolin and A. I. Masliaev (editors), trans and edited by William E. Butler

ISBN: 9780854900473
Hardback £65.00 532 pp

The present volume is the first of five which collectively comprise one of the three major treatises in the Russian language devoted to civil and commercial law. Under the editorship of two of Russia's most distinguished civilists, this work originally appeared in 1997 and in a second edition in the year 2000, reissued in 2007. The authors have made substantial additions, corrections and emendations for this English-language version as late as February 2009.

There has never been a comparable treatment of modern Russian civil law in the English language.
