Volume 14 Issue 12 Published Monthly Dec 09/Jan 10

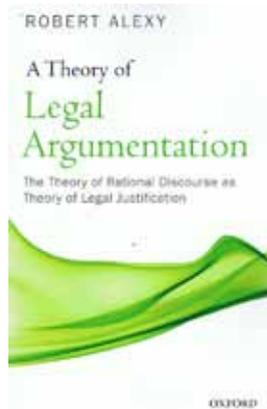

MAJOR NEW TITLES THIS MONTH

Alexander, Nadja, International and Comparative Mediation: Legal Perspectives, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £108.00, ISBN: 9789041132246

This book meets the practice needs of lawyers confronted with cross-border disputes now arising far beyond the traditional areas of international commerce, such as consumer disputes, inter-family conflicts, and disagreements over Internet-based transactions. The author takes full account of mediation's risks and limitations, primarily its lack of finality and uncertainty in relation to enforceability issues which will persist until the advent of appropriate international regulation.

Alexy, Robert; Adler, Ruth; MacCormick, Neil, A Theory of Legal Argumentation: The Theory of Rational Discourse as Theory of Legal Justification, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £19.99, ISBN: 9780199584222

A Theory of Legal Reasoning pre-supposes a theory of general practical reasoning. This theory is the subject matter of the first two parts of the book. The result is a theory of general practical discourse which rests on insights of both Anglo-Saxon and German philosophy. It forms the basis of the theory of rational legal discourse, which is developed in the third part of this book.

Alexy, Robert; Paulson, Bonnie; Paulson, Stanley, Argument from Injustice, A Reply to Legal Positivism, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £14.99, ISBN: 9780199584215

This is the perspective of a participant in the legal system, asking for the correct answer to a legal question in this legal system. The participant-thesis is demonstrated by appeal to Gustav Radbruch's formula (extreme injustice is not law) and to the judge's balancing of principles in deciding a concrete case. The author arrives at a concept of law that systematically links classical elements of legal positivism - authoritative issuance and social efficacy - with the desideratum of nonpositivistic legal theory, correctness of content.

Alexy, Robert; Rivers, Julian, A Theory of Constitutional Rights, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £24.99, ISBN: 9780199584239
Robert Alexy's, classic work, available now for the first time in English reconstructs the reasoning behind the jurisprudence of the German Basic Law and in doing so provides a theory of general application to all jurisdictions where judges wrestle with rights adjudication. A new postscript written for the English edition considers critiques of the Theory since it first appeared in 1985, focusing in particular on the discretion left to legislatures and in an extended introduction the translator, argues that the theory may be used to clarify the nature of legal reasoning in the context of rights under the British Constitution.

Arnott, Hamish; Creighton, Simon, Parole Board Hearings: Law and Practice 2nd ed, Legal Action Group, Paperback, £30.00, ISBN: 9781903307649

The first edition of Parole Board Hearings published in 2006, was heralded as being the first book dedicated to explaining the decision-making powers and procedures of the Parole Board. There have been a number of notable developments since the first edition. The Parole Board (Amendment) Rules 2009 - which remove the right to an oral hearing for lifers and IPPs - are comprehensively covered by the authors. Also new to this edition are the new procedures for victims' attendance at parole hearings, the proposed changes to the public funding of parole cases and the implications of the House of Lords' decision in James and others on article 5, accessing courses and delays. This new edition builds on the strengths of the original publication, providing detailed, practical guidance. All the key statutory provisions and the Parole Board Rules under which the Board operates, as well as a list of useful addresses, are annexed to the text.

Astleford, Peter; Frase, Dick, Hedge Funds and the Law, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Hardcover, £175.00, ISBN: 9780414041370

Hedge Funds and the Law provides a comprehensive guide to setting up and operating hedge funds. It covers all the key legal, regulatory and tax matters that need to be considered. It explains how hedge funds must comply with the laws and regulations of the jurisdiction in which they are domiciled. The book also examines the legal regime for funds in the UK, US, Luxembourg, France, Germany, Spain, Italy, Hong Kong, Japan and Singapore and discusses current market turmoil and the related problems for hedge funds.

BMA; The Law Society, Assessment of Mental Capacity: A Practical Guide for Doctors and Lawyers 3rd edition, Law Society Publishing, Paperback, £39.95, ISBN: 9781853287787

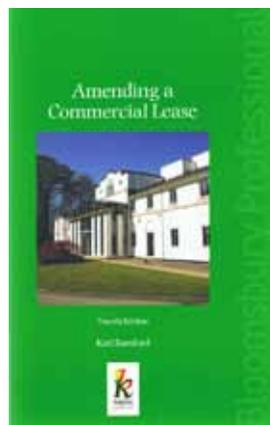

This unique guide to the rights and treatment of adults who lack mental capacity helps lawyers and health care professionals to understand the law and practice in all areas where an assessment of capacity is needed. Now completely revised to take account of the Mental Capacity Act 2005, Deprivation of Liberty safeguards, and recent decisions by the courts, it will provide an indispensable tool for the health and legal professions and an essential source of guidelines and information, including extracts from the Act and Code of Practice.

Bamford, Karl, Amending a Commercial Lease 4th ed, Bloomsbury Professional, Paperback, £95.00, ISBN: 9781847663481

The 4th edition of this text offers practical information on identifying potential amendments and is written in a highly accessible format, standard lease terms are cited on one page with the relevant commentary given on the opposite. Negotiating tips are included assisting practitioners to develop negotiating tactics and arguments.

Banks, Erik, Dictionary of Finance, Investment and Banking, Palgrave Macmillan, Hardback, £25.00, ISBN: 9780230238299
The Palgrave Macmillan

Dictionary of Finance, Investment and Banking is an authoritative and comprehensive reference book covering the essential terminology of the international financial marketplace. This dictionary provides concise and rigorous definitions of over 5,000 terms commonly used in the financial industry, covering the disciplines of accounting, banking, corporate finance, investment management and insurance.

Beale, Hugh, Chitty on Contracts 30th edition: 1st Supplement, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Paperback, £85.00, ISBN: 9781847038647

The first supplement updates the Chitty 30th edition with all the developments. Chitty on Contracts is the leading work on the law of contract, due to its breadth of coverage, scope and detail. It is comprehensive, with a thorough review of recent case law and legislation. Chitty continues to be the practitioner's choice for authority and accessibility.

Bean, David, Injunctions 10th ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Paperback, £89.00, ISBN: 9781847038999

The new edition of Injunctions by David Bean is an essential reference source for all lawyers who deal with one of the most important remedies in civil and family litigation - the injunction. In such an area of rapid change, the injunction is of considerable importance, as the decision to grant or refuse an interim injunction will often be determinative of the whole matter in dispute. The new edition of this title provides you with an indispensable reference tool, guiding you through every aspect of injunctions. The work is highly practical and sets out the different remedies that are available, including describing what situations they are best suited to. This ensures that you are aware of the options available to you, and are able to choose the one that will produce the best outcome for your case.

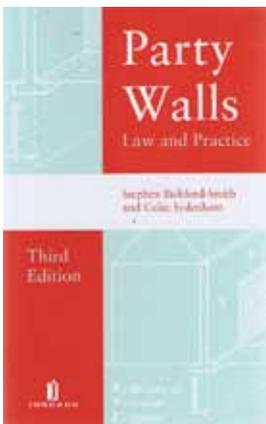

Bennett, David A.; Davies, Paul; Frisby, Sandra; Girvin, Stephen; Hudson, Alastair; Morris, Richard; Payne, Jennifer; Walmsley, Keith; Worthington, Sarah Edited by: Morse, Geoffrey, Palmer's Company Law: Annotated Guide to the Companies Act 2006 2nd ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Paperback, £95.00, ISBN: 9780414040878

vides updated annotations on all sections of the Companies Act 2006, including those sections which have been inserted or amended since the first edition, and lists the commencement date of each section of the Act. It also reproduces each section of the Act, with commentary following on immediately, and refers to case law and SIs which have arisen in the implementation period. Cross references to applicable secondary legislation and lists of all statutory instruments made under the Companies Act 2006 are provided, and the various forms of Model Articles of Association made under the 2006 Act (applicable from October 1, 2009) are reproduced.

Bickford-Smith, Stephen; Sydenham, Colin, Party

Walls: Law and Practice 3rd ed, Jordan Publishing Ltd, Paperback, £60.00, ISBN: 9781846611797

Party Walls: Law and Practice provides an authoritative explanation of the law regulating the building, maintenance and repair of party walls, and sets out the process for settling disputes between parties. This third edition has been fully updated and considerably expanded to incorporate the key developments.

Billins, Roger, Solicitors' Duties and Liabilities 2nd ed, Law Society Publishing, Hardback, £130.00, ISBN: 9781853285196

This authoritative and comprehensive guide examines the principal obligations of a solicitor in private practice. It covers the main areas of operating a practice and the relationship with the client, from commencement to termination of the retainer. The work provides a thorough analysis of the obligations that solicitors owe to clients, third parties, the court and the State and the liabilities for failing to meet these obligations. In addition to duties that have been created by regulation, the book looks in depth at the many instances where they have been created and extended through common law by decisions of the courts. The book, previously published by Sweet & Maxwell, takes account of all of the recent significant case law in these areas including Marks & Spencer v Freshfields, Hilton v Barker, Booth and Eastwood, and Football League v Edge Ellison. The author offers practical guidance and advice on key topics in this area.

bitration and the Model Law on International Commercial Conciliation. It covers all the information that you will need when considering arbitration in one of the 'Model Law Countries' and enables you to ascertain what you can expect in each jurisdiction. The reasons for and policies behind UNCITRAL's Model Laws are clearly and analytically examined. The work evaluates the different views on the provisions and their practical implications. With an examination of over sixty national adoptions of the Model Laws (including the world's top ADR locations and new countries that have adopted the Laws since the previous edition), this work gives you a complete picture of global practice.

Bishop, Simon; Walker,

Mike, The Economics of EC Competition Law: Concepts, Application and Measurement 3rd ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Hardback, £195.00, ISBN: 9780421927308

This acclaimed work provides an overview of economic theory and analysis as it applies to European competition law, an area of steadily increasing importance as regulatory authorities have moved to adopt more economics-based concepts when deciding what constitutes non-competitive behaviour.

Blackett, Jeff, Rant on The Court Martial and Service Law 3rd ed, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £125.00, ISBN: 9780199534685

This new edition of Rant on The Court Martial, Discipline, and Service Law

follows the Armed Forces Act 2006, which overhauls the naval and military justice systems, establishing a single system of service law and removing the need for separate consideration of the law applicable to the three services. This new edition has been fully revised to provide detailed coverage of the Act, which came into force in January 2009. It includes a new chapter reviewing and assessing the impact of key cases in the European Court of Human Rights; new material highlighting the parallels and differences between procedure in the Crown Courts and Court Martial; and a more in-depth treatment of sentencing matters. This is an essential handbook for those practising in the Service justice system and for academics researching Service law.

Bugden: Goods in Transit presents an in-depth treatment of the whole area of the law relating to carriers and freight intermediaries. The new edition covers in a systematic and comprehensive fashion the common law relevant to carriers and freight intermediaries along with all the various convention carriage regimes. It places particular emphasis on the multimodal and agency aspects of transactions. This comprehensive practitioner text provides lawyers, claims handlers and researchers with the tools for identifying solutions to issues unresolved by existing authorities, and carefully explains the detailed differences between the various remedies in contract, misrepresentation, bailment, tort and restitution and comprehensively analyses the law of damages as applicable to carriers and freight intermediaries.

Butler, William, Civil Code of the Russian Federation, Wildy, Simmonds and Hill Publishing, Hardback, £95.00, ISBN: 9780854900589

Although Part One of the Civil Code celebrates a decade and a half since its enactment, the final Part Four has been in force for about eighteen months. The “economic constitution” of the Russian Federation required not only some twelve years to be drafted and enacted, but as the keystone legal document in the transition from a socialist Planned Economy to a market-based economic system. The present text contains Parts One, Two, Three, and Four of the Civil Code, as amended. It constitutes the complete Civil Code as contemplated by Russian civil law doctrine. The translation of the Civil Code is based on the official text published in the official gazette and as integrated on the legal data base provided by Consultant Plus.

Chapman, Matthew, The Snail and the Ginger Beer: The Singular Case of Donoghue v Stevenson, Wildy, Simmonds and Hill Publishing, Hardback, £14.99,

ISBN: 9780854900497

Wildy's Book of the Month - December 2009

On an August evening in 1928 May Donoghue, a shop assistant, entered a café in Paisley. The circumstances of her visit made legal history. A ginger beer was ordered for Mrs Donoghue who famously complained that, to her surprise and shock, a decomposed snail had tumbled from the bottle into her glass. Mrs Donoghue sued for the nervous shock she claimed to have suffered as a result. The question whether she had a case in law against the manufacturer of the ginger beer was argued as far as the House of Lords. It is hard to overstate the importance of the decision in Donoghue v Stevenson. It represents, perhaps, the greatest contribution made by English and Scottish lawyers to the development of the common law. The Snail and the Ginger Beer tells the full story of this remarkable case. It provides vivid biographical sketches of the protagonists and of the great lawyers who were involved in the case. It sets Donoghue v Stevenson in its historical context and re-evaluates the evidence. The constitutional importance of the case is also dealt with; the blow it struck for a moral approach to the law which departed from a rigid doctrine of precedent. Finally, the book investigates the influence of Donoghue v Stevenson across the common law world: from the USA to the countries of what is now the Commonwealth.

Christou, Richard, Drafting Commercial Agreements 4th ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Hardback & CD-ROM, £187.78, ISBN: 9781847036100

The new edition of this authoritative text provides the most commonly used precedents for the general commercial practitioner. Extensive in its coverage, with topics including dispute resolution, employment, joint ventures, teaming agreements, agency and distribution agreements, and much more, the precedents are accompanied by advice on drafting and negotiating agreements, as well as authoritative commentary with cross references to case law. The mergers and acquisitions process is outlined, with appropriate precedents and explanation of the basic principles.

Clarke, Giles, Offshore Tax Planning 16th ed, LexisNexis Butterworths, Hardback, £145.00, ISBN: 9781405742344

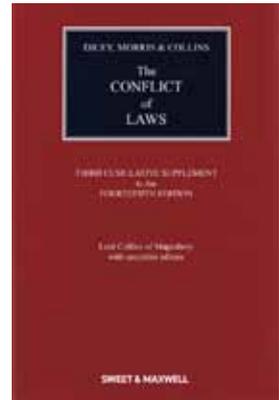

Clarke: Offshore Tax Planning provides practical analysis of the planning opportunities for investment offshore through analysis of anti-avoidance legislation, extended treatment of non-domiciliaries and an examination of existing offshore structures. The practical nature of this book makes it an invaluable guide for accountants, solicitors and financial advisers handling the affairs of private clients and privately-owned businesses while annual publication ensures it is both up-to-date and relevant.

Collier, Richard, Men, Law and Gender: Essays on the 'Man' of Law, Routledge-Cavendish, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9781904385493

This book presents the first published comprehensive overview and critical assessment of the relationship between law and masculinities. It provides a general introduction to the subject whilst, via a series of inter-linked readings, engaging with the difficult question of what it means to speak of the masculinity of law in the first place. As a study of the bigger picture of the relationship between men and law, the result is an innovative, timely and important text which has the potential to reach a diverse readership within the sub-fields of legal studies and across other disciplines.

Collins, Lawrence; Briggs, Adrian; Harris, Jonathan; Mclean, J.D.; McLachlan, Campbell; Morse, C.G.J., Dicey, Morris & Collins: The Conflict of Laws 14th ed 3rd supplement, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Hardback & Supplement, £109.00, ISBN: 9780421929203

First published in 1896, Dicey, Morris & Collins on the Conflict of Laws is renowned worldwide as the foremost authority on private international law. It explains the rules, principles and practice which determine how the law of England and Wales relates to other legal systems. Explanation of each rule is followed by comment, and illustration by detailed reference to case law, ensuring it remains an in-depth but active developments which have occurred since the previous edition. The handbook is an invaluable source of reference for those practitioners, in both the public and private sectors, who deal with such issues as leasehold enfranchisement, the right to buy (and the new right to acquire for tenants of registered social landlords), assured, secure and protected tenancies, disrepair and all other areas of residential landlord and tenant law. Other professionals working in associated fields will also find this publication indispensable, as will academics and students.

Driscoll, James, Butterworths Residential Landlord and Tenant Handbook 5th ed, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £70.00, ISBN: 9781405728904

Eckes, Christina, EU Counter-Terrorist Policies and Fundamental Rights: The Case of Individual Sanctions, Oxford University Press,

Hardback, £60.00, ISBN: 9780199573769

Sanctions against private individuals have been widely used in the fight against terrorism, but not without significant controversy. This book examines the complex institutional and substantive issues arising from the European Union's practice of listing and sanctioning private individuals suspected of supporting terrorism. It provides a comprehensive analysis of the issues raised by individual sanctions adopted to give legal effect to United Nations lists and those drawn up by the EU itself.

Elkins, Zachary; Ginsbur, Tom; Melton, James, The Endurance of National Constitutions, Cambridge University Press, Paperback, £17.99, ISBN: 9780521731324

In The Endurance of National Constitutions, Zachary Elkins, Tom Ginsburg, and James Melton examine the causes of constitutional endurance from an institutional perspective. Supported by an original set of cross-national historical data, theirs is the first comprehensive study of constitutional mortality. They show that whereas constitutions are imperiled by social and political crises, certain aspects of a constitution's design can lower the risk of death substantially. Thus, to the extent that endurance is desirable – a question that the authors also subject to scrutiny – the decisions of founders take on added importance.

Martínez Gutiérrez, Norman, Serving the Rule of International Maritime Law: Essays in Honour of Professor David Joseph Attard, Routledge-Cavendish, Hardback, £95.00, ISBN: 9780415563987

International maritime law is far from inert, everyday international affairs constantly test existing law and, in many occasions, require its development. Serving the Rule of International Maritime Law is thus not limited to a description of the current state of the law, but contains innovative studies on current issues and events that are testing the present state of international maritime law. The book is intended as a Liber Amicorum to Professor David Joseph Attard. It celebrates his career in international law; he played a crucial role in establishing the IMO International Maritime Law Institute in 1988, the main purpose of which is to train lawyers in private and public international maritime law. Over the last twenty years he has continued to teach at the Institute and has played an important role in contributing to the work of international fora concerned with the development of international law.

May, Larry; Hoskins, Zach, International Criminal Law and Philosophy, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £50.00, ISBN: 9780521191517

This is the first anthology to bring together legal and philosophical theorists to examine the normative and conceptual foundations of international criminal law. In particular, through these essays the international group of authors addresses questions of state sovereignty; of groups, rather than individuals, as perpetrators and victims of international crimes; of international criminal law and the promotion of human rights and social justice.

McGee, Andrew, Shares and Share Capital Under the Companies Act 2006, Jordan Publishing Ltd, Paperback, £105.00, ISBN: 9781846611575

The 2006 Act makes a number of significant changes to the law on shares and share capital, though many provisions of the old law are retained. Some changes are simplifications to the law for private companies, notably on financial assistance, share capital reduction and company buy-back of own shares, as well as the abolition of authorised capital. The whole structure is informed and constrained by the provisions of the Company Law Directives, which are principally applicable to public companies. This work is based on Parts 17, 18, 20, 21 and 22 of the 2006 Act, together with the provisions of the new Table A and Table C. However, even these extensive legislative provisions do not deal with all the issues which can arise, and case law doctrines, such as improper purposes for issuing shares, will also be considered. In addition, case law on those provisions which have not changed will continue to be relevant.

The 2010 edition is comprehensive with all the latest changes since the last edition.

Mestre, Alexandre Miguel, The Law of the Olympic Games, T.M.C. Asser Press, Hardback, £45.00, ISBN: 9789067043045

This book examines, from a legal perspective, the numerous developments in the rules and institutions of the Olympic Games from antiquity to the modern day. It offers a well-informed and insightful explanation of the Lex Olympica, and analyses the legal and institutional aspects that arise in the Olympic Movement (OM), such as its definition, composition and general organisation, its three principal constituents, its three satellite organisations and its organs. Furthermore, it addresses contemporary legal questions and inherent consequences the OM encounters, such as eligibility criteria, legal protection of the Olympic symbol, protection of the environment, advertising and ambush marketing, athletes' freedom of expression and Olympic boycotts.

Montt, Santiago, State Liability in Investment Treaty Arbitration Global Constitutional and Administrative Law in the BIT Generation, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £65.00, ISBN: 9781841138565

Today there are more than 2,500 bilateral investment treaties (BITs) around the world. Most of these investment protection treaties offer foreign investors a direct cause of action to claim damages against host-states before international arbitral tribunals. This procedure, together with the requirement of compensation in indirect expropriations and the fair and equitable treatment standard, have transformed the way we think about state liability in international law.

Nafziger, James; Nicgorski, Ann, Cultural Heritage Issues: The Legacy of Conquest, Colonization and Commerce, Brill Academic Publishers, Hardback, £115.80, ISBN: 9789004160361

The essays contained in this challenging volume are based on papers presented at an international conference on cultural heritage issues that took place at Willamette University. The conference sought to generate fresh ideas about these cultural heritage issues; offer a good sense of their nuances and complexities; and reveal how culture, law, and ethics can interact, complement, diverge, and contradict one another.

Notley, Someried, Scottish Agricultural Law Handbook, Avizandum Publishing Ltd,

Hardback, £90.00, ISBN: 9781904968290

The Agricultural Holdings (Scotland) Act 2003 has radically altered the legislative framework for agricultural tenancies. The 2003 Act introduces limited duration and short limited duration tenancies and modifies grazing and mowing lets. Other reforms relate to diversification into non-agricultural use, tenants' rights to buy, compensation for improvements, partnership tenancies, and resolution of disputes. This is the first commentary on the recent reforms. Scottish Agricultural Law Handbook provides all those involved with agricultural law - solicitors, estate factors, land agents and surveyors - with a practical, accessible and up-to-date guide to the complex legislation.

O'Neill, David, Ancillary Discovery, Bloomsbury Professional, Hardback, £145.00, ISBN: 9781847664853

There has been major reform of civil procedure in the relevant jurisdictions in the last 10 years. In England and Wales, and in personal injuries actions in Ireland, there has effectively been abandonment of the writ system of pleading, meaning that parties are required to furnish much more detail in their originating document. Ancillary Discovery deals with ancillary discovery in Ireland (North and South), England and Wales. It deals with disclosure of information outside the Rules of Court, for example, as an independent action, in aid of tracing remedies, in aid of Mareva injunctions or

Olivares-Caminal, Rodrigo, Legal Aspects of Sovereign Debt Restructuring, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Hardcover, £225.00, ISBN: 9780414041349

Legal Aspects of Sovereign Debt Restructuring provides a legal analysis of the problems with sovereign debt along with a toolkit to deal with these problems. It is structured to cover the two key areas: the procedural aspects and the transactional aspects. The book takes you through the logical sequence of steps a creditor has to consider before suing the sovereign.

Osiatynski, Wiktor, Human Rights and their Limits,

Cambridge University Press, Paperback, £21.99, ISBN: 9780521125239

Human Rights and Their Limits shows that the concept of human rights has developed in waves: each call for rights served the purpose of social groups that tried to stop further proliferation of rights once their own goals were reached. While defending the universality of human rights as norms of behavior, Osiatyński admits that the philosophy on human rights does not need to be universal. This book argues that, although rights are a prerequisite of freedom, they should be balanced with other values that are indispensable for social harmony and personal happiness.

Partrick, Hilary; Smith, Nicola, Adult Protection

and the Law in Scotland, Bloomsbury Professional, Paperback, £38.00, ISBN: 9781847664877

Adult Protection and the Law in Scotland is an indispensable resource for professionals trying to navigate the increasingly complex framework of adult protection law and practice. Expert guidance is given on the provisions of the Adult Support and Protection (Scotland) Act 2007 in the context of the existing statutory framework, including the Adults with Incapacity (Scotland) Act 2000 and The Mental Health (Care and Treatment)(Scotland) Act 2003. The impact of human rights law is also considered.

Price, David, Human Tissue in Transplantation and Research: A Model Legal and Ethical Donation Framework, Cambridge University

Press, Paperback, £24.99, ISBN: 9780521709545

Deficiencies and shortfalls in the supply of human organs for transplantation and human tissue for research generate policy dilemmas across the world and have often given rise to major and deleterious controversies, such as those relating to organ and tissue retention practices following post-mortem examination. David Price sets out a clear and integrated legal and policy framework which emanates from the tissue source but protects the interests of donors and relevant professionals through tailored property entitlements, but without presupposing rights to trade in ‘original’ materials.

Resolution, Precedents for Consent Orders 8th ed, Resolution (SFLA), Paperback & CD-ROM, £149.00, ISBN: 9780956128010

Resolution's Precedents for Consent Orders set the standard for concise, water-tight drafting. They provide clear and practical solutions for recitals, undertakings, orders, and child maintenance agreements. The precedents are carefully drafted, researched and debated by senior Resolution lawyers, with experts brought in where specialist knowledge and advice is required. Then they are reviewed by the Association of District Judges. Detailed introductions and extensive footnotes explain why the orders are drafted as they are, when they need to be varied, and pitfalls to be avoided. While aiming for a consistent, country-wide approach, the wording also takes into account variations in local practice and the need for flexibility.

Room, Stewart, Butterworths Data Security Law and Practice, LexisNexis Butterworths, Hardback, £200.00, ISBN: 9781405744799

Butterworths Data Security: Law & Practice is a modern authoritative guide to data security law for lawyers both in-house and in private practice, data protection managers and information security specialists in businesses and consultancies, information technology, privacy, employment and data security experts working for the government or regulators. Its focus on the security imperative makes it uniquely practical, and is readily usable by both in-house lawyers, security specialists and their advisers.

ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Hardback, £285.00, ISBN: 9781847039279

Kennedy & Rose: Law of Salvage provides a comprehensive and in-depth guide to this specialist and self-contained area of the maritime law, incorporating recent case, arbitration and Convention developments.

Sharpe, Andrew N, Foucault's Monsters and the Challenge of Law, Routledge-Cavendish, Hardback, £70.00, ISBN: 9780415430319

In contrast to other figures generated within social theory for thinking about outsiders, such as Rene Girard's 'scapegoat' and Zygmunt Bauman's 'stranger', Foucault's Monsters and the Challenge of Law suggests that the figure of 'the monster' offers greater analytical precision and explanatory power in relation to understanding the processes whereby outsiders are constituted. The book draws on Michel Foucault's theoretical and historical treatment of the category of the monster, in which the monster is regarded as the effect of a double breach: of law and nature. For Foucault, the monster does not simply refer to a particular kind of morphological or psychological irregularity; for the body or psyche in question must also pose a threat to the categorical structure of law.

Sherry, Michael; Southern, David; Akin, Barrie; Ridgeway, Philip; Cave, Rebecca, Caulfield, Geraldine; Kamal, Setu, Whiteman & Sherry on Income Tax 4th ed Loose-

Slapper, Gary, Weird Cases: Comic and Bizarre Cases from Courtrooms Around the World, Wildy, Simmonds and Hill Publishing, Hardback, £9.99, ISBN: 9780854900619

Based on the author's popular Times Online column Weird Cases, this book draws on extraordinary cases from many countries, including the UK, USA, Canada, Brazil, Australia, New Zealand, Germany, Italy, Romania, and China. The book is a highly entertaining read for anyone who enjoys the more bizarre aspects of human life that fetch up in the law courts at the beginning of the 21st century.

Sloss, David, Role of Domestic Courts in Treaty Enforcement: A Comparative Study, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £65.00, ISBN: 9780521877305

This book examines the application of treaties by domestic courts in twelve countries. The central question is whether domestic courts actually provide remedies to private parties who are harmed by a violation of their treaty-based rights. The analysis shows that domestic courts in eight of the twelve countries – Australia, Canada, Germany, India, the Netherlands, Poland, South Africa, and the United Kingdom – generally do enforce treaty-based rights on behalf of private parties. On the other hand, the evidence is mixed for the other four countries: China, Israel, Russia, and the United States.

CD-ROM, £99.95, ISBN: 9781853288289

This indispensable work gives you quick, manageable, and affordable access to precedents that are most likely to be used on a day-to-day basis. The precedents are organised into sections by area of practice. Each section starts with commentary, explaining the context for the subsequent precedents. The precedents are reproduced as separate files on the CD-ROM which accompanies the book. This enables practitioners to customise them swiftly and as needed.

Spencer, Philip, Property Tax Planning 9th ed, Bloomsbury Professional, Paperback + eBook, £113.09, ISBN: 9781847663399

The 9th edition of Property Tax Planning is an indispensable property guide for tax practitioners, property lawyers, surveyors and property owners. With worked examples throughout, it clearly highlights the tax planning opportunities and potential pitfalls that may arise during property transactions.

Spry, I.C.F., The Principles of Equitable Remedies: Specific Performance, Injunctions,

Rectification and Equitable Damages 8th ed, Law Book Co., Hardback, £204.00, ISBN: 9780455227498

The 8th edition of Equitable Remedies continues to uphold its reputation as an up-to-date and reliable source of information with respect to injunctions, specific performance, rectification and equitable damages. Equitable Remedies is a particularly important reference book for commercial and property transactions, as well as more general equity doctrines as it will enable practitioners to become more familiar with the options available to clients.

Visser, Derk, The Annotated European Patent Convention

2000 17th ed: Updated till 15-11-2009, H. Tel Publisher, Paperback, £115.00, ISBN: 9789078310068

The seventeenth edition of the Annotated European Patent Convention gives the complete text of the European Patent Convention 2000 and its implementing regulations. The notes provide a commentary on the text of the law and explain the interpretation of each paragraph of the law. The notes relate to the text of the EPC 2000 and are updated till 15 November 2009. Announced amendments of the law that enter into force up to 1 April 2010 have also been included.

von Bogdandy, Armin; Bast, Jürgen, Principles of European Constitutional Law 2nd ed, Hart Publishing,

Hardback, £150.00, ISBN: 9781841138220

Following the warm critical reception given to the first edition of this work, the same editors and contributors have embarked on a second edition which once again presents European constitutional law not merely as a project but as binding law, law which establishes public power, legitimates legal acts, provides for citizenship, protects fundamental rights, and regulates the relationships among legal orders as well as between law and politics. This, then, is European constitutional law both as it presently stands and as it will look following the Reform Treaty. The contributions present its theoretical and doctrinal fundamentals from the perspective of German-speaking scholarship, reflecting the state of modern research and methodology, illuminating legal doctrines and assumptions, and identifying the future research agenda.

Walters, Adrian; Davis-White, Malcolm, Directors' Disqualification and Insolvency Restrictions 3rd ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Hardback, £180.00, ISBN: 9781847033338

Offering specialist commentary and opinion, it provides background on the CDDA and its impact, examines the core provisions relating to disqualification for unfit conduct, considers the commencement of disqualification proceedings and the concept of unfit conduct, illuminates the application of the CDDA to competition law infringements and gives guidance on civil disqualification proceedings, including the application process, conduct before and during proceedings, evidence and costs.

Fully revised and updated, the new eighth edition includes all changes to law and practice, including recent caselaw and Local Government Ombudsman decisions. It includes the reforms to the council tax appeals system achieved by the introduction of the Valuation Tribunal England in October 2009, as well as detailing changes regarding benefits, collection and enforcement practice.

Webber, Gregoire C.N., Negotiable Constitution: On the Limitation of Rights, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £55.00, ISBN: 9780521111232

The Negotiable Constitution argues that underspecified rights call for greater specification, Grégoire C. N. Webber draws on limitation clauses common to most bills of rights to develop a new understanding of the relationship between rights and legislation. The legislature is situated as a key constitutional actor tasked with completing the specification of constitutional rights. In turn, because the constitutional project is incomplete with regards to rights, it is open to being re-negotiated by legislation struggling with the very moral-political questions left underdetermined at the constitutional level.

Weishaar, Stefan, Towards Auctioning: The Transformation of European Green House Gas Emissions Trad- ing System - Present and Future Challenges to Competition Law, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £88.00, ISBN: 9789041131980

Emissions trading systems have come to the fore as the most economically efficient mechanisms that can be employed to bring about an optimal greenhouse gas reduction goal. Even though much has been written about the advantages and disadvantages of these systems, one element of crucial importance – emission allowance allocation – has not been considered in adequate depth until the present study. The book provides both a coherent typology of emission allowance allocation mechanisms and the main characteristics of the present emissions trading system,

Training for Legal Services: Practical Guidance for Law Firms

by Melissa Hardee
LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, ISBN 9781405746229, £150.00, due February 2010

Training for lawyers is essential to the role and now subject to regulation. Training for Legal Services: Practical Guidance for Law Firms provides practical guidance on the elements of training, essential for firms to know in order to comply with the SRA guidelines and how to comply in a cost effective way whilst gaining results. The book explains the various aspects of training which firms have to know – from the regulatory framework and its consequent responsibilities and obligations, to the practical – how best to offer training in a cost effective way, to get best value from firm's investment, and the most effective methods of training. Training for Legal Services: Practical Guidance for Law Firms is a practical guide providing practical help for all firms whether large or small, with an established training function or not. This title will be useful to lawyers involved in training, as well as dedicated training professionals, as providers or recipients, to understand training and how to obtain maximum benefit from training and the firm's investment in it.

A Practical Approach to Planning Law 11th edition

by Victor Moore
Oxford University Press, Paperback, ISBN 9780199570898, £44.95, due February 2010

The A Practical Approach series is the perfect partner for practice work. Each title focuses on one field of the law, providing a comprehensive overview of the subject together with clear, practical advice and tips on issues likely to arise in practice. The books are also an excellent resource for those new to the law, where the expert overview and clear layout promote clarity and ease of understanding. Despite repeated attempts in recent years to simplify the planning system, planning law has continued to be so complex that practitioners and students alike have found it difficult to disentangle the issues and principles involved. The eleventh edition of Victor Moore's popular and accessible book aims to remove the mystery which planning law has for so many people. This new edition contains coverage of the Planning Act 2008, with the addition of a new chapter which examines the changes introduced by this Act. The Planning Act 2008 is one of the most significant changes to planning law in recent years and constitutes a major overhaul of the planning application process, with special provisions for major infrastructure projects. Amongst the key developments initiated by the Act is the introduction of an Infrastructure Planning Commission (IPC) which will create a single process for granting the appropriate consents for major infrastructure projects, within designated national policy frameworks. There is also provision for a Community Infrastructure Levy which will provide local councils with the option of imposing a levy upon development, with the funds raised being used to finance major infrastructure projects e.g. hospitals and schools. Now in its eleventh edition, the book continues to provide a comprehensive and systematic guide to the principles and practice of planning law. Containing coverage of all recent cases as well as important developments since the publication of the previous edition in 2007, this new edition provides a valuable introduction to the subject for professionals and students alike.

Mastering the ISDA Master Agreements: A Practical Guide for Negotiation 3rd edition

by Paul Harding

FT Prentice Hall,

Paperback, ISBN

9780273725206, £100.00,

due February 2010

The book is a practical guide for the negotiation of ISDA Master Agreements. The ISDA Master Agreement was published by the International Swaps and Derivatives Association, Inc (“ISDA”) in January 1993 and 2002 and is the main agreement used in the over the counter global derivatives market. Over the counter or “OTC” derivatives are products designed for individual customers in contrast to the standardised derivatives products traded on exchanges. The rationale for the new edition is to build on the success of the first two editions. Once again the book will provide the many new entrants globally to derivatives documentation with a practical negotiation guide to both the 1992 and 2002 Agreements so that they can approach their work confidently without the need for constant reference to seniors or regular attendance on training courses. The ISDA Master Agreement is a complex document and it normally takes 1-2 years for a negotiator to become fully proficient. As well as absorbing the negotiation policies of the institution for which he works, the negotiator also needs to be aware of the implications of possible variations sought by negotiators in other institutions.

Elderly Clients: A Precedent Manual 3rd edition

by Denzil Lush, Caroline Bielanska and Jennifer Margrave

Jordan Publishing, Hardcover with CD-ROM, ISBN 9781846611735, £75.00,

due January 2010

This book provides a comprehensive wealth of precedents to assist the private client adviser tackle the whole range of issues affecting the elder client. These include the difficult and ever-changing problems of planning for a client’s possible incapacity in later life, care contracts, funeral planning, wills and equity release schemes. In addition to the precedents, useful checklists assist the adviser in such matters as registering a lasting power of attorney and establishing whether the client has authority to make a will or gift. Each chapter of this new edition has been thoroughly revised to take account of all major developments including: Mental Capacity Act 2005 – affecting lasting powers of attorney, mental capacity issues, deputyship (replacing receivership), new law and practice on statutory wills and the statutory basis for a “living will”, Health and Social Care Act 2007 – covering changes to care homes, Case-law changes – affecting areas such as wills and sharing residential property. The book includes a CD-ROM containing all of the precedents, enabling you to quickly tailor each to suit your particular needs.

Proceeds of Crime: Law and Practice of Restraint, Confiscation and Forfeiture 3rd edition

by Trevor Millington and Mark Sutherland Williams
Oxford University

Press, Hardcover, ISBN 9780199566129, £150.00, due February 2010

Millington and Sutherland Williams on the Proceeds of Crime provides a definitive guide to all aspects of the law concerning the recovery of the proceeds of crime in England and Wales. It provides an easily navigable step-by-step approach that considers how the legislation is geared to ensuring that criminals do not benefit from their crimes financially, as well as detailed coverage of every stage of the confiscation process. This new edition has been fully updated to include all important legislative changes over the last three years, and covers all significant case law, including discussion on the release of restrained funds to meet legal expenses following the decisions of the Court of Appeal in Briggs-Price v RCPO and the rights of innocent spouses in the matrimonial home in Gibson v RCPO. It also covers changes in regulation and enforcement including an examination of the future of civil recovery following the abolition of the Assets Recovery Agency and the transfer of its power to the Serious Organised Crime Agency. The new edition incorporates in-depth coverage of the relevant legislation, with analysis of the Proceeds of Crime Act 2002 and reference to case law under both the Drug Trafficking Act 1994 and the Criminal Justice Act 1988. The new edition contains carefully selected appendices, including extracts from the Proceeds of Crime Act 2002, and draft restraint, receivership and civil recovery orders.

Parallel Importation Under European Law 2nd edition

By Thomas Hays
Sweet and Maxwell,
Hardcover, ISBN 9781847032874, £195.00,
due March 2010

This important new edition explains the law relating to parallel imports, and gives details of how the law can be used to repel and facilitate parallel imports. The author discusses consent and the burden of proof after Davidoff and explains developments relating to how consent is given for extra-EU imports into the market, and offers detailed strategies on how best to resolve conflicts around parallel imports helping you to increase the value of your clients' IP rights and apply EU competition laws properly. The new edition covers over 75 new cases relating to parallel imports so you can see the decisions made by the European Court of Justice and the national courts, and provides new guidance on using competition law as a shield against infringement actions. The author goes on to examine abuses of dominant positions, trademark harmonisation and the exhaustion of rights and explain how parallel importation relates to royalty collecting societies and trade associations, automobile and film distribution.

Disqualification Undertakings: Law and Practice

by Richard Williams
Jordan Publishing, Hardcover, ISBN 9781846611346, £105.00,
due January 2010

Company directors found to have committed unfit conduct are subject to disqualification from directorships. Where a director offers a disqualification undertaking themselves, they avoid a full hearing of the matter and also typically receive a discounted period of disqualification from the court. Disqualification Undertakings: Law and Practice provides authoritative and practical guidance on navigating the undertakings system and the procedures for applying for leave of an undertaking. This is combined with empirical research on reasons cited in schedules of unfit conduct and periods of disqualification, enabling practitioners to advise clients on the most effective strategies when negotiating terms of undertakings. Disqualification Undertakings: Law and Practice is the only book focusing solely on undertakings; with the number of corporate insolvencies likely to rise over the next few years, this is an ideal volume for those advising the increasing number of people disqualified from directorships.

Purchasing Contracts: A Practical Guide 2nd edition

by Graham Fuller

Spiramus Press, Paperback, ISBN 9781904905691,

£24.95, due January 2010

Purchasing Contracts is intended to be of assistance to those whose work is with contracts for the procurement of goods and services rather than yet another contract law textbook. This second edition contains additional chapters including one on the special rules governing purchasing by public bodies and utilities. The subjects of misrepresentation, exemption clauses and electronic contracting are amongst those that have been updated and covered in more detail. The bill currently going through Parliament on bribery is also examined.

Office Health and Safety Handbook 4th edition

by Michael Appleby

Bloomsbury professional, Paperback, ISBN 9781847663191, £65.00, due January 2010

A practical and comprehensive guide to all aspects of office health and safety issues in the office, ranging from legal requirements to safety culture. Written in a straightforward style and in bite-sized chapters that can be read as stand alone, this book provides appropriate background knowledge, practical information and office-based examples on an increasing number of health and safety issues that are pertinent to the office. Enabling the reader to provide solutions to particular health and safety problems that arise on a daily basis and formulate and maintain an appropriate health and safety management system for their office, this is an invaluable health and safety resource for the busy office manager and health and safety adviser.

EU and US Antitrust Arbitration

by Gordon Blanke and Philip Landolt

Kluwer Law International, Hardcover, ISBN 9789041127600, £200.00, due February 2010

With around 50 chapters dealing with all aspects of antitrust law and competition law written by experts in the field, this book is the first, English-language book on competition law and arbitration covering both US antitrust and EC competition law. The book will provide an in-depth examination of all relevant aspects across the field. Rather than just flagging issues, it will provide workable guidance on how practitioners can solve them. Individual chapters will be written by recognised specialists. The book will be set up to ensure that competition law and arbitration practitioners understand the issues at hand. For example, the economic evidence in the competition law arbitrations chapter will detail the particularities of arbitration vis-a-vis litigation before courts. This will ensure the practical relevance of the title for both fields. Lastly, there will be chapters dealing with specific industrial sectors which feature heavily in arbitration and where competition law issues arise frequently: oil and gas, telecoms and pharmaceuticals.

THE SNAIL AND THE GINGER BEER
The Story of Donoghue v Stevenson

Matthew Chapman

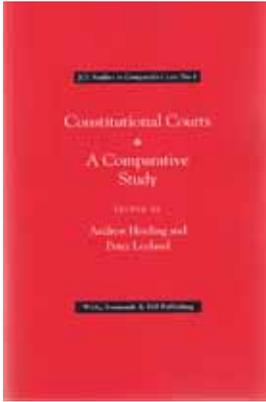

Price: £19.99
ISBN: 9780854900497
Extent: 200 pp.
Size: 152mm x 229mm
Binding: Hardback

On an August evening in 1928 May Donoghue, a shop assistant, entered a café in Paisley. The circumstances of her visit made legal history. A ginger beer was ordered for Mrs Donoghue who famously complained that, to her surprise and shock, a decomposed snail had tumbled from the bottle into her glass. Mrs Donoghue sued for the nervous shock she claimed to have suffered as a result. The question whether she had a case in law against the manufacturer of the ginger beer was argued as far as the House of Lords. It is hard to overstate the importance of the decision in Donoghue v Stevenson. It represents, perhaps, the greatest contribution made by English and Scottish lawyers to the development of the common law.

Donoghue v Stevenson made it clear that, even without a contract between the parties, a duty of care is owed by ‘A’ to take reasonable care to avoid acts or omissions which could reasonably be foreseen as likely to cause injury to his neighbour: ‘B’. This concept, developed by the great jurist Lord Atkin, has become known by the universal shorthand, ‘the neighbour principle’. Who, Lord Atkin asked rhetorically, is ‘in law’ my neighbour? Donoghue v Stevenson provides the answer.

The Snail and the Ginger Beer tells the full story of this remarkable case. It provides vivid biographical sketches of the protagonists and of the great lawyers who were involved in the case. It sets Donoghue v Stevenson in its historical context and re-evaluates the evidence. The roots of the neighbour principle are excavated in the parable of the Good Samaritan and the case law of the United States. The constitutional importance of the case is also dealt with; the blow it struck for a moral approach to the law which departed from a rigid doctrine of precedent. Finally, the book investigates the influence of Donoghue v Stevenson across the common law world: from the USA to the countries of what is now the Commonwealth.

CONSTITUTIONAL COURTS A Comparative Study

Andrew Harding & Peter Leyland

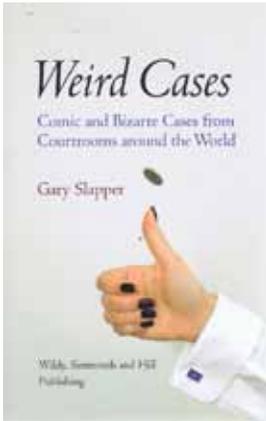

Price:	£19.95
ISBN:	9780854900633
Extent:	384 pp
Size:	152 x 229 mm
Binding:	Paperback

This book contains an outstanding set of essays on constitutional courts. In many nations constitutional justice can be identified as a central feature of contemporary constitutionalism. Moreover, viewed from a comparative global perspective it is clear that constitutional justice as well as providing a special kind of dispute resolution, also has been turned to as a means of safeguarding conditions of liberal democracy. What characteristics must such a court possess to undertake the tasks that confront them? These contributions by providing an analysis of features such as constitutional context, jurisdictional scope, organisational features and interpretative techniques to give a selective snapshot of the legal characteristics and the operation of constitutional courts across the world.

The chapters by a team of leading international scholars include a general introduction and then focus on: Austria, Central and Eastern Europe, France, Germany, Italy, Russia, Spain, Turkey, Egypt, Francophone Africa, South Africa, Latin America, East Asia, Indonesia and Thailand.

Andrew Harding is Director of the Centre for Asia-Pacific Initiatives and Chair of Asia-Pacific Relations at the University of Victoria, Canada.

Peter Leyland is Professor of Public Law at London Metropolitan University. Both have published extensively in the field of comparative public law and they are joint editors of the series: 'Constitutional Systems of the World'.

WEIRD CASES
Comic and bizarre cases from courtrooms around the world

Gary Slapper

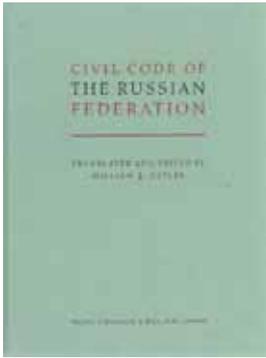

Price: £12.99
ISBN: 9780854900619
Extent: 160 pp
Size: 229 x 152mm
Binding: Hardback

Based on the author's popular Times Online column 'Weird Cases', this book draws on extraordinary cases from many countries, including the UK, USA, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, Germany, Italy, Romania, and China. The result is a highly entertaining read for anyone who enjoys reading about the more bizarre aspects of human life that fetch up in the law courts at the beginning of the 21st century.

Courts have seen judges do things like try to turn off a musical tie playing "We wish you a merry Christmas" while sentencing a defendant to prison, fall fast asleep in the middle of trials, flip a coin to decide a case, demand a foot massage from a clerk, and get sentenced for judicial racketeering. Courts have listened to the defences like that of a bogus dentist caught using DIY tools on his patients, a man who based his defence on being as hapless as Homer Simpson, and a woman who was running a brothel from an office in the criminal courts. Courts have seen a litigant sue for becoming pregnant by a stray sperm in a swimming pool, and a litigant suddenly strip naked before the judges.

The cases featured in Weird Cases are those that truly stand out as odd, even among all the unusual dramas that challenge the courts. The chapters are: Compensation and Punishment, Love and Sex, Food, Drink, and Drugs, Judges, Death and Violence, Pets and Animals, On the Road, Lawyers, and Jurors, Friends, and Neighbours.

Gary Slapper is an established writer in bringing law to a wide audience. He is a columnist with The Times, for which he has written since 1998, and Professor of Law at The Open University. He also acts as a Legal Consultant to BBC drama and documentaries.

CIVIL CODE OF THE RUSSIAN FEDERATION

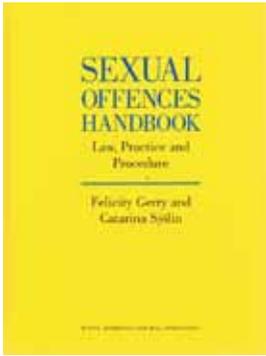

William E. Butler

Price: £95
ISBN: 9780854900589
Extent: 618 pp
Size: 189x246mm
Binding: Hardback

Although Part One of the Civil Code celebrates a decade and a half since its enactment, the final Part Four has been in force for about eighteen months. The “economic constitution” of the Russian Federation required not only some twelve years to be drafted and enacted, but as the keystone legal document in the transition from a socialist Planned Economy to a market-based economic system.

The present text contains Parts One, Two, Three, and Four of the Civil Code, as amended. It constitutes the complete Civil Code as contemplated by Russian civil law doctrine. The translation of the Civil Code is based on the official text published in the official gazette and as integrated on the legal data base provided by Consultant Plus.

William E. Butler, B. A. (The American University), M. A. (Johns Hopkins University SAIS), J.D. (Harvard), LL.M. (Academy University of Law, Institute of State and Law, Russian Academy of Sciences), Ph.D. (Johns Hopkins University SAIS), LL.D. (University of London), is the John Edward Fowler Distinguished Professor of Law, Dickinson School of Law, Pennsylvania State University, Professor Emeritus of Comparative Law in the University of London, and Director, The Vinogradoff Institute, Pennsylvania State University. By secondment (1994-2004) he served as the founder of the Faculty of Law and the M. M. Speranskii Professor of International and Comparative Law, Moscow Higher School of Social and Economic Sciences attached to the Academy of National Economy of the Russian Federation. He has been elected Academician of the National Academy of Sciences of Ukraine, the Russian Academy of Natural Sciences, and a member of the Russian Academy of Legal Sciences and the American Law Institute. He also serves as a member of the Executive Committee of the Russian Association of Maritime Law.

SEXUAL OFFENCES HANDBOOK
A Practitioner's Guide to Sex Crime Trials

Felicity Gerry and Catarina Sjölin

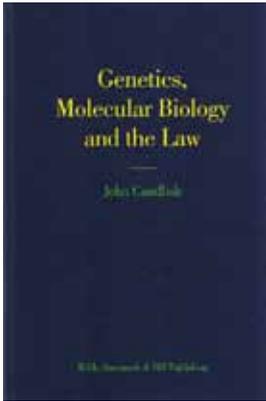

Price: £65
ISBN: 9780854900350
Extent: 630 pp
Size: 229 x 152mm
Binding: Hardback

The law and procedure relating to sexual offences is notoriously complex. Since the advent of the Sexual Offences Act 2003, the law (both as to the offences and as to sentencing) changes depending on when the offence was committed, the age of the parties involved and the nature of the act committed. This new guide deals with historic and recent sexual offences, providing a step-by-step approach to the relevant law and procedure, including matters arising before and during trials, from the perspectives of both prosecution and the defence. It also provides coverage of proposed amendments and new legislation arising from the Policing and Crime Bill 2008 and the Coroners and Justice Bill 2009.

Written by two practitioners with extensive experience of preparing and presenting sex crime trials, this practical and accessible work will prove an invaluable reference for all practitioners working within this specialised area of criminal law.

Felicity Gerry is a barrister specialising in serious fatal, sexual and violent offences. She is a “Rape Specialist” advocate and is particularly experienced in complex and lengthy trials concerning recent or historic sexual crime. She has contributed to Counsel Magazine and to BBC Radio 4 “Law in Action” and recorded podcasts for CPDcast.com.

Catarina Sjölin is a specialist criminal barrister. She prosecutes and defends in cases involving a wide range of serious violence, abuse of children and sexual assaults including rape. She has contributed to Counsel Magazine and acted as Junior to the Midland Circuit.

GENETICS, MOLECULAR BIOLOGY AND THE LAW

John Candlish

Price:	£69
ISBN:	9780854900404
Extent:	287 pp
Size:	152mm x 229mm
Binding:	Hardback

This timely book provides a comprehensive treatment of the interface between the law and modern science as represented by genetics and molecular biology, albeit in a highly digestible and lucid style. Chapters are: 'The Basics of Molecular Biology' (the genome, genetics, proteomics); 'Criminal Law' (molecular transfer processes; theft of DNA; forensic mathematics; keynote cases); 'Aspects of Civil Law' (paternity and maternity; retention of DNA and privacy; DNA in medical law; DNA, insurance and employment); 'Intellectual Property' (patenting genes, expressed sequence tags and single nucleotide polymorphisms, keynote cases in U.K. and U.S.A.); 'Food' (gene manipulation; aspects of tort; environmental risks); 'International Law' (genetically modified organisms, CITES and CBD, warfare and molecular biology). Genetics, Molecular Biology and the Law provides practitioners and academics alike with a detailed analysis of how the law is responding to the latest advances in the increasingly complex fields of molecular biology and genetics.

John Candlish took degrees in science and law from the Universities of St Andrews, London and Singapore, and has held academic positions in Scotland, Malaysia, Saudi Arabia and Singapore. He is the author of several books, including Hawking Genes, Selling Spleens: the Human Body and the Laws of Property (UNIMAS Press, Kuching, 2006), and has contributed articles to several journals.
