MAJOR NEW TITLES THIS MONTH

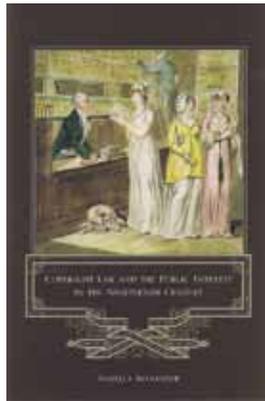

Aldous, Grahame; Andrews, Peter; McKechnie, Stuart; Lee, Terry, APIL Guide to Catastrophic Injury Claims 2nd ed, Jordan Publishing Ltd, Paperback, £75.00, ISBN: 9781846612046

The APIL Guide to Catastrophic Injury Claims (previously published as Catastrophic Injuries: A Practical Guide to Compensation) provides a guide to best practice in this complex area of personal injury litigation. This new work provides guidance on case management, practical help in dealing with and addressing issues of expert evidence, an indepth discussion of damages and an analysis of relevant primary source material.

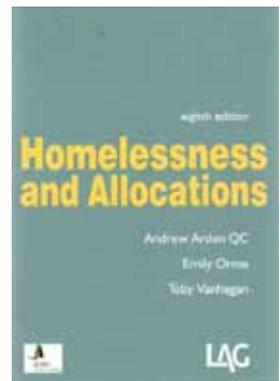

It is essential reading for all clinical negligence practitioners and personal injury lawyers dealing with serious injury claims.

Alexander, Isabella, Copyright Law and the Public Interest in the Nineteenth Century, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £55.00, ISBN: 9781841137865

Copyright law is commonly described as carrying out a balancing act between the interests of authors or owners and those of the public. While much academic work, both historical and contemporary, has been done on the authorship side of the equation, this book examines the notion of public interest, and the way that concepts of public interest and the rhetoric surrounding it have been involved in shaping the law of copyright. While many histories of copyright focus on the eighteenth century, this book's main concern is with the period after 1774. The nineteenth century was the period during which the boundaries of copyright, as we know it today, were drawn and ideas of "public interest" were integral to this process, but in different, and complex, ways.

Arden, Andrew; Orme, Emily; Vanhegan, Toby, Homelessness and Allocations 8th ed, Legal Action Group, Paperback, £48.00, ISBN: 9781903307748

Homelessness and Allocations, now in its eighth edition, has established itself as the definitive guide to the rights of the homeless. Written by leading experts, its comprehensive and authoritative guidance makes it a crucial resource for all housing practitioners, advisers, local authorities and housing officers. The text clearly and succinctly sets the law in its context, and appendices reproduce the relevant consolidated legislation and guidance.

Armour, Douglas, The ICSA Company Secretary's Handbook 8th ed, ICSA Publishing Ltd, Paperback &

CD-ROM, £65.00, ISBN: 9781860724190

This ICSA Company Secretary's Handbook has been updated to reflect current company secretarial practice together with commentary on the Companies Act 2006, including final implementation of its last remaining provisions on 1 October 2009. The Handbook covers everything you need to know: from incorporation to winding up and everything in between. It includes details of the procedures associated with boards of directors, company meetings, corporate compliance, reporting, shares and share registration. The Handbook also includes chapters on public issues, corporate governance, company investigations and insolvency. The Handbook is the essential companion volume providing in-depth commentary and analysis on all the procedural matters examined in the The ICSA Company Secretary's Checklists. Both books are written by the same author and are extensively cross referenced to provide an accessible and comprehensive library.

Asprey, Michele M., Plain Language for Lawyers 4th

ed, The Federation Press, Paperback, £29.95, ISBN: 9781862877757

The idea that lawyers can - and should - write in plain language is not new. There have always been plain language lawyers. There just aren't enough of them. The plain language movement in Australia has been with us for decades. Plain language has been taught in law schools in Australia for almost 20 years. But still too many lawyers don't write in language that clients, and other readers, can understand. Plain Language for Lawyers can help. Over the 18 years it has been in print and it has established itself in Australia and overseas as a comprehensive, entertaining and enormously useful text. It includes international references, contains practical advice, and can be read and enjoyed by anyone who is interested in plain language in the law.

Ault, Hugh J.; Arnold, Brian J., Comparative Income Taxation: A Structural Analysis 3rd ed, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £104.00, ISBN: 9789041132048

The purpose of this book is to compare different solutions adopted by nine industrialized countries to common problems of income tax design. As in other legal domains, comparative study of income taxation can provide fresh perspectives from which to examine a particular national system. Increasing economic globalization also makes understanding foreign tax systems relevant to a growing set of transnational business transactions.

Bagwell, Kyle; Bermann, George; Mavroidis, Petros, Law and Economics of Contingent Protection in International Trade, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £55.00, ISBN: 9780521769075

The book discusses the regulatory framework of contingent protection in the World Trade Organization – antidumping, countervailing duties, and safeguards – as well as an economic analysis of these instruments. The book's various chapters illuminate the basic functioning of all three.

Bonner, David; Hooker, Ian; White, Robin, Social Security: Legislation: 2009/2010: Supplement to Volumes 1-4, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Paperback, £56.00, ISBN: 9780414043008

Born, Gary B., International Arbitration and Forum Selection Agreements: Planning, Drafting and Enforcing 3rd ed, Kluwer Law International, Paperback, £68.00, ISBN: 9789041132697

International Arbitration and Forum Selection Agreements: Drafting and Enforcing is a concise, practical primer on the fundamentals of drafting and enforce-ing international arbitration agreements and other dispute resolution clauses. Drawing on a wealth of practical experience and academic analysis, this extensively revised and expanded third edition offers model arbitration and forum selection clauses for international contracts and explains the advantages and disadvantages of different approaches. The primer is an essential resource for any international practitioner or corporate counsel engaged in international matters.

Brealey, Mark; Green, Nicholas, Brick Court Chambers: Competition Litigation UK Practice and Procedure, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £145.00, ISBN: 9780199573332 Competition Litigation: UK Practice and Procedure is the new definitive work on competition litigation in the UK. Written and edited by a team from leading competition set Brick Court Chambers, this book draws upon the vast collective experience of the authors and offers unprecedented breadth of commentary and depth of expert insight into the practice and procedure of competition litigation, focussing particularly on the High Court and the Competition Appeal Tribunal. The work covers all aspects of competition litigation including: commencement of proceedings, jurisdiction, statements of case, disclosure, evidential issues, privilege and confidentiality, hearings, intervention, remedies, and dispute resolution. It takes a unique hands-on approach to the subject, offering extensive practical guidance that goes beyond the scope of typical civil procedure books.

Brewer, David, Magistrates Courts Criminal Practice 2010, Jordan Publishing Ltd, Hardback & CD-ROM, £185.00, ISBN: 9781846612206
Magistrates' Courts Criminal Practice 2010 provides, in one volume, a complete reference work for advocates and officials in the Magistrates' courts. Designed to combine authority with practicality, it provides step-by-step advice on a vast array of court procedures following the normal progression of a case from cautions and commencement of proceedings right through to appeals, including a thorough treatment of the law and practice of evidence as it relates to cases in the magistrates' courts.

Broberg, Morton; Fenger, Niels, Preliminary References to the European Court of Justice, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £125.00, ISBN: 9780199565078
Preliminary References to the European Court of Justice provides a detailed examination of all relevant aspects relating to a preliminary reference. Structured in such a way so as to reflect the different questions that may arise in a preliminary reference procedure, the book starts by explaining who can make a reference, what questions can be referred, and when a reference can, should, or must be made. The book then proceeds to provide detailed guidance on the form and contents of the actual reference as well as the procedure both before the referring court and before the European Court of Justice. Finally, the preliminary ruling and its effects are explained together with the questions of costs and legal aid.

Calnan, Richard, Proprietary Rights and Insolvency, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £135.00, ISBN:

This topical title explains the circumstances in which a creditor of an insolvent debtor can take priority over other creditors by claiming a proprietary interest in assets held by the debtor. It focuses on the situation where the proprietary interests are created by operation of law or implied from the arrangements between the parties, rather than by express transfer or taking of security. The book clarifies the current state of the law in an important area of insolvency law (especially in times of economic crisis) where the law is not settled, taking into account the latest developments in case law, and suggesting how it might be simplified by going back to first principles, such as the way proprietary interests are transferred at common law and in equity.

Churchill, Robin; Owen Daniel, EU Common Fisheries Policy Law and Practice, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £110.00, ISBN: 9780199275847

This book provides a comprehensive overview of the CFP. It examines the law relating to the Policy, considering the legislation, treaties and judgments of the European Court of Justice in this area. The policy issues crucial to understanding the law on the CFP and its operation in practice are also explored.

Cook, Trevor, EU Intellectual Property Law, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £145.00, ISBN: 9781904501527

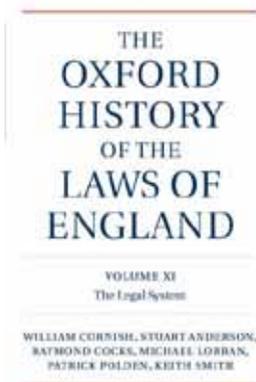

European Union law affects the law of intellectual property in two main ways. The first is under EC Treaty provisions on non-discrimination, free movement of goods (in relation to parallel imports) and principles of competition law (in relation to licensing of IPRs or refusal to grant such licenses). A significant part of this book deals with those aspects of Community law that are common to most intellectual property rights across the EC, including the effect of the EC treaty on national intellectual property rights, limited harmonisation of those rights in some areas, and how EU law impacts on enforcement. The second way in which EU law effects intellectual property is in those areas where the substantive national intellectual property laws of the member states have been harmonised, or supplemented, by the establishment of Community-wide unitary intellectual property protection. The rest of the book looks in detail at the effect of Community law and of harmonisation on specific intellectual property rights, including copyright and related rights, trade marks, geographical indications, designs, database rights, patents and plant variety rights

Cornish, William; Anderson, J Stuart; Cocks, Raymond; Lobban, Michael; Polden, Patrick; Smith, Keith, The Oxford History of the Laws of England Volumes 11, 12, and 13: 1820-1914, Oxford University Press, Hardback, 3 Volumes, £450.00, ISBN: 9780199258833

A landmark series, The Oxford History of the Laws of England is the first full-length history of the English law that takes unpublished sources into account. The thirteen volumes will provide not merely a history of law, but also a history of the impact of law on English society. Given its unprecedented scope and coverage, this series will be an indispensable resource for law and history libraries. The three final volumes of the Oxford History of the Laws of England deal with the Legal System, Public Law and Private Law from the Coronation (solo) of George IV to the outbreak of war against the Kaisers

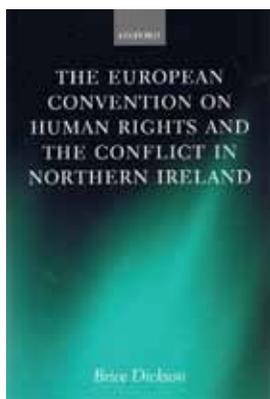

Deacon, Robert; Pinker, Robert; Lipton, Nigel, Privacy and Personality Rights: Commercial Exploitation and Protection, Jordan Publishing Ltd, Hardback & CD-ROM, £120.00, ISBN: 9781846611865

to the drafting and protection of commercial agreements. It is the first book on the market to draw together the different strands of the law including, privacy, defamation, broadcasting rights, sponsorship and merchandising. Analysis of the law is supplemented with precedent contractual agreements and injunctions enabling practitioners to respond quickly to their clients' needs. The book suitably equips the practitioner to represent such clients and includes useful precedent contracts, injunctions and claim documents on an accompanying CD-ROM.

Dickson, Brice, European Convention on Human Rights and the Conflict in Northern Ireland, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £60.00, ISBN: 9780199571383
This book provides the first comprehensive account of the role played by the European Convention on Human Rights during the conflict in Northern Ireland from 1968. Brice Dickson studies the effectiveness of the Convention in protecting human rights in a society wracked by terrorism and deep political conflict, detailing the numerous applications lodged at Strasbourg relating to the conflict and considering how they were dealt with by the enforcement bodies. The book illustrates the limitations inherent in the Convention system but also demonstrates how the European Commission and Court of Human Rights gradually developed a more interventionist approach to the applications emanating from Northern Ireland.

Dolton, Alan; Rudling, David, Tolley's VAT Cases 2010, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £134.95, ISBN: 9780754537274

Tolley's VAT Cases 2010 is a single-volume publication which contains concise summaries of more than 4,000 essential court and VAT Tribunal decisions, from 1973 to 1 January 2010, relevant to current legislation. Cases are classified into chapters which are arranged alphabetically, making navigation quick and simple, and allowing case summaries from any year to be rapidly located.

ers' and First-Tier Tribunal decisions relevant to current direct tax legislation. This unique handbook contains concise summaries of over 2,800 tax cases from 1875 right up to the most recent judgements. Fully updated to take account of all cases up to 1 January 2010, this authoritative text is the only book of its kind to contain summaries of all important court decisions relevant to direct tax legislation. With chapters arranged in alphabetical order for easy referencing and a comprehensive index, you can find all the answers you require quickly and easily.

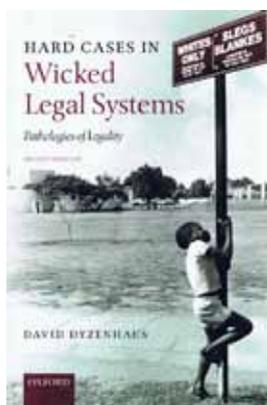

Dreyfuss, Rochelle; First, Harry; Zimmerman, Diane L., Working Within the Boundaries of Intellectual Property: Innovation Policy for the Knowledge Society, Oxford University Press,

Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780199573608

Wildy's Book of the Month - March 2010

This book is the long-awaited companion volume to the highly acclaimed Expanding the Boundaries of Intellectual Property, published by OUP in 2001. That book argued for strong private rights whilst at the same time calling for caution in the expansionary trend. Drawing on expertise from a number of disciplines including law, economics and sociology, the book is international in approach and fuses scholarly research with legal practice. It will be of great interest to scholars in intellectual property and innovation, policy-makers, and practitioners with an interest in the future of the field.

Dyzenhaus, David, Hard Cases in Wicked Legal Sys- tems: Pathologies of Legality 2nd ed, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £50.00, ISBN: 9780199532216

The abstract debates of legal philosophers can seem far removed from the practical application of law in the business of deciding cases. This book argues that theoretical disagreement matters profoundly to the practice of law, and analyses the abstract debates of legal philosophy through a detailed study of judicial interpretations in apartheid South Africa - a model 'wicked legal system'. For this substantially revised new edition, the author addresses the transformation of South Africa since the end of Apartheid, and the shift in focus of legal philosophy. He also examines the emergence of counter-terrorism security laws, and the arguments surrounding their conformity to the rule of law. The book offers an invaluable guide to understanding the abstract debates of legal theory, and their importance in legal practice.

Emsley, Clive, Crime and Society in England 1750-1900 4th ed, Pearson Education Ltd, Paperback, £19.99, ISBN: 9781405858632

Crime and Society in England, 1750-1900 draws on recent research to assess the changes in the understanding of crime, policing, the courts and penal sanctions in England as the country industrialised and urbanised during the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries. This updated fourth edition takes into account recent scholarship and offers increased coverage of gender and crime, and crime in the media (including visual representations).

Ewing, Keith, Bonfire of the Liberties: New Labour, Human Rights, and the Rule of Law, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £50.00, ISBN: 9780199584772. Paperback, £19.99, ISBN: 9780199584789

This provocative book confronts the corrosion of civil liberties under successive New Labour governments since 1997. It argues that the last decade has seen a wholesale failure of constitutional principle and exposed the futility of depending on legal rights to restrict the power of executive government. It considers the steps necessary to prevent the continued decline of political standards, arguing that only through rebalancing political power can civil liberties be adequately protected.

Forsyth, Christopher; Elliot, Mark; Jhaveri, Swati; Scully-Hill, Anne; Ramsden, Michael, Effective Judicial Review: A Cornerstone of Good Governance, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780199581054

The use and scope of judicial review of government action has transformed across the common law world over the last forty years. This volume takes stock of the transformation, bringing together over 30 leading figures from academia and practice to analyse the major issues surrounding the legal reforms from theoretical and comparative perspectives. Coverage in the book spans the theoretical foundations of judicial review; the scope and functions of administrative justice; the conditions of judicial independence; recurring problems in legal doctrine; and issues in legal procedure. A final set of essays presents case studies of the experiences of reforming judicial review in different countries, including an extended section on judicial review in China.

Foster, Charles, Medical Law Precedents for Lawyers, Wildy, Simmonds and Hill Publishing, Hardback, £79.00, ISBN: 9780854900374

Written by eminent practitioners in their respective fields, Medical Law Precedents for Lawyers provides a comprehensive collection of fully annotated precedents. It is designed to be a procedural one-stop-shop for all lawyers, whether specialists or otherwise, conducting litigation in any area of medical law from clinical negligence to public law. Each section of the book contains precedents – including draft letters, checklists, pleadings, court orders etc – which are designed to be easily adaptable to whatever factual situation the user faces. It is not assumed that the user will be familiar with the legal or procedural reasons for doing things in the way suggested by the precedent, and accordingly each precedent is annotated in detail. These annotations, which are inserted by way of footnote, mean that the book is a complete and very practical guide to most of the relevant procedural law and many important aspects of substantive law.

Foster, Charles; Bradley, Ben, APIL Guide to Tripping and Slipping Cases, Jordan Publishing Ltd, Paperback, £50.00, ISBN: 9781846612053

Tripping and slipping cases form a large part of the personal injury lawyers practice. Not all cases are straight-forward, many involve complex questions of law engaging various legal disciplines. The APIL Guide to Tripping and Slipping Cases is intended as a one-stop text covering all the legal disciplines that can come into play in a trip or slip case. It covers all the relevant areas of law – Local Government, Landlord and Tenant, Occupier's Liability, Highways, Factories and Health and Safety at Work – and gives detailed guidance on the applicable procedure, together with precedent material. This work (previously published, by Sweet & Maxwell, as Tripping and Slipping: A Practitioner's Guide) will take account of important changes principally to the substantive law, especially in relation to the Highways Act 1980.

French, Duncan; Saul, Matthew; White, Nigel, International Law and Dispute Settlement: New Problems and

Techniques, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £65.00, ISBN: 9781841139128

This edited collection focuses upon the growth and complexity of legal methods including judicial settlement (courts and tribunals), arbitration and other legal (or what might be termed ‘extra-legal’) means (international organisations, committees, inspection panels, and ombudsmen). In this important collection, such mechanisms are compared and evaluated side-by-side to provide, in one volume, a detailed and analytical account of the current framework. Ranging from key conceptual issues of proliferation of legal mechanisms and the associated risks of fragmentation through to innovations in dispute settlement mechanisms in many topical areas of international law, including international trade law, collective security law and regional law, this collection, written by leading international lawyers, provides a major study in the ongoing trends and emerging problems in this crucial area of international law.

Gavigan, Shelley; Chunn, Dorothy, The Legal Tender

of Gender: Law, Welfare and the Regulation of Women's Poverty, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £22.00, ISBN: 9781841133157

Extensive welfare, law and policy reforms characterised the making and unmaking of Keynesian states in the twentieth century. This collection highlights the gendered nature of these regulatory shifts and, specifically, the roles played by women as reformers, welfare workers and welfare recipients, in the development of welfare states historically.

Gerber, David, Global Competition: Law, Markets and Globalization, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £35.00, ISBN: 9780199228225

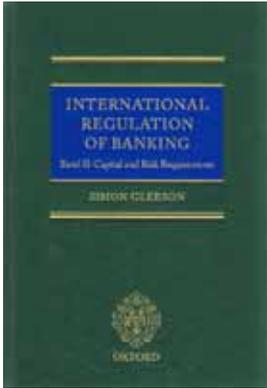

Global competition now shapes economies and societies in ways unimaginable only a few years ago, and laws shape and maintain global competition, determining how effective global markets are and how they distribute benefits and harms. Competition (or antitrust) law plays a central role in this framework of law. These laws are intended to protect the competitive process from distortion and restraint, and in the domestic context, they embody and reflect the relationships between markets, their participants and those affected by them. On the global level, however, competition law is provided by those players that have sufficient power to apply their laws transnationally. In practice, this means that the US and the EU generally provide the competition law principles for global competition. This book examines this important and controversial aspect of globalization.

Gleeson, Simon, International Regulation of Banking: Basel II- Capital and Risk Requirements, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £155.00, ISBN: 9780199215348

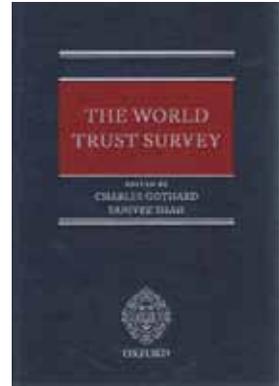

The focus of the work is on the general principles set out in the Basel II and on the implementation of those principles in the EU through the Capital Requirements Directive. It should therefore be of direct relevance to readers in all EU and most non-EU significant financial jurisdictions. Providing a clear and comprehensive introduction to the regulatory drivers shaping financial transactions, this work is an accessible guide for lawyers and bankers.

Godden, Lee; Tehan, Maureen, Comparative Perspectives on Communal Lands and Individual Ownership: Sustainable Futures, Routledge, Hardback, £80.00, ISBN: 9780415457200

Comparative Perspectives on Communal Lands and Individual Ownership: Sustainable Futures addresses property and land title as central mechanisms governing access to communally-held land and resources. The collection assesses the effectiveness of property law and tenure models developed around concepts of individual ownership, for achieving long-term environmental and economic sustainability for indigenous peoples and local communities.

Gothard, Charles; Shah, Sanjeev, The World Trust Survey,

Oxford University Press, Hardback, £125.00, ISBN: 9780199551576

The use of international trusts continues to expand, and practitioners increasingly need to be aware of cross-border considerations. This title provides a concise and practical overview of the key aspects of law and practice in all the key jurisdictions offering trusts. Formerly an annual special issue in the journal Trusts & Trustees, this title has been improved and extended with a reworked questionnaire, new countries and contributors, and a new editor, Charles Gothard.

Greensmith, Andrew, Resolution Family Law Handbook 2nd ed, Law Society Publishing, Paperback, £49.95, ISBN: 9781853288937

tion Family Law Handbook has been comprehensively revised and updated. Written by Resolution committee members, the book provides an invaluable guide to best practice. The book retains practical features including checklists, pro forma letters and a useful contacts section.

Grubb, Philip, Patents for Chemicals, Pharmaceuticals and Biotechnology: Fundamentals of Global Law 5th

ed, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £95.00, ISBN: 9780199575237

The chemicals, pharmaceuticals and biotechnology industries worldwide rely upon being able to patent inventions in order to protect investment in research and development, and to reap commercial rewards. An increasingly globalised sector requires a global perspective, and Philip Grubb's highly acclaimed book guides the reader through the legal and procedural complexities of the British, European, Japanese and US patent systems, and explains in detail the role of patent practitioners (both in-house and in private practice) in maximising the commercial potential of their client's or company's innovative products.

Gruszczynski, Lukasz, Regulating Health and Environmental Risks under WTO Law, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £70.00, ISBN: 9780199578924

The WTO Agreement on the Application of Sanitary and Phytosanitary Measures (SPS Agreement) is an attempt by the international community to limit possible abuses while assuring WTO

Members of an extensive margin of regulatory discretion. The central problem that the book tackles is whether the system established by the SPS Agreement can address the existing and potential challenges of a new interdependent world. In answering this question, the author provides a comprehensive and critical examination of the substantive provisions of the Agreement and corresponding case law. In this context, the book particularly focuses on two issues: the consistency in the interpretation of the SPS Agreement and the appropriateness of its various requirements. This analysis leads the author to conclude that despite some interpretative failures of SPS case law, the system established by the SPS Agreement seems to provide an effective solution for the supervision of domestic SPS measures.

Hardee, Melissa, Legal Education and Training: A Practical Guide for Law Firms, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £150.00, ISBN: 9781405746229

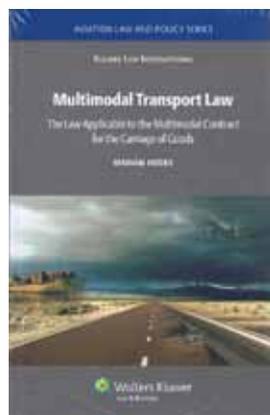

Training for lawyers is essential to the role and now subject to regulation. Legal Education and Training: A Practical Guide for Law Firms provides practical guidance on the elements of training, essential for firms to know in order to comply with the SRA guidelines and how to comply in a cost effective way whilst gaining results. The book explains the various aspects of training which firms have to know – from the regulatory framework and its consequent responsibilities and obligations, to the practical – how best to offer training in a cost effective way, to get best value from firm’s investment, and the most effective methods of training.

Hodson, Paul; Jones, Christopher; van Steen, Hans, EU Energy Law Volume III Book One: Renewable Energy Law and Policy in the European Union, Claeys & Casteels, Hardback, £230.00, ISBN: 9789077644140

The new legislative framework presently being finalised creates huge challenges and opportunities for EU business. A full understanding of the different support schemes, obligations on companies and planning requirements, at both EU and national level, is vital for both industry and its advisors, in all sectors of the energy industry.

Hoeks, Marian, Multimodal Transport Law: The Law Applicable to the Multimodal Contract for the Carriage of Goods, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £104.00, ISBN: 9789041132468

Progressing through an in-depth analysis of the exact nature of the international multimodal carriage contract, this important study assesses how the most advantageous law applicable to a multimodal contract may be uncovered. Using the ideas, legislation and case law on multimodal carriage in the legal systems of Germany, The Netherlands and England to anchor her presentation, the author offers a thorough investigation of the existing framework of carriage law, the applicable rules of private international law, and the options provided by choice of law based on contractual conditions. In the course of the analysis all essential issues are scrutinized.

Husak, Douglas, The Philosophy of Criminal Law: Selected Essays, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £60.00, ISBN: 9780199585038

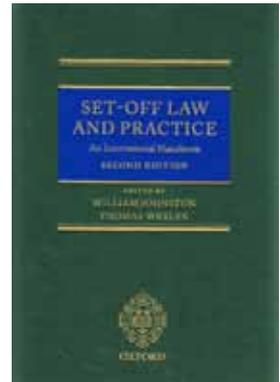

This volume collects 17 of Douglas Husak's influential essays in criminal law theory. The essays span Husak's original and provocative contributions to the major topics in the field, including the grounds of criminal liability, the significance of culpability, the role of defences, and the justification of punishment. The volume includes an extended introduction by the author, drawing together the themes of his work and exploring the goals of criminal theory.

Jacobs, Edward, CPAG: Child Support: The Legislation 2009/2010, Child Poverty Action Group, Paperback, £87.00, ISBN: 9781906076252

This 9th edition of Child Support: The Legislation 2009/2010 contains the primary and secondary legislation relating to all three child support schemes under the Child Support Act 1991, the Child Support, Pensions and Social Security Act 2000 and the Child Maintenance and Other Payments Act 2008, plus commentary and guidance including the effect of the transfer of responsibility from the Child Support Agency to the Child Maintenance and Enforcement Commission. As well as changes to the child support legislation and administration, the book deals with the new appeal jurisdictions following the creation of the First-tier Tribunal and the Upper Tribunal. It contains the rules of procedure for both those tribunals together with a detailed commentary.

Johnston, William; Werlen, Thomas, Set-Off Law and Practice: An International Handbook 2nd ed., Oxford University Press, Hardback, £165.00, ISBN: 9780199579716

The 2nd edition of Set-Off Law and Practice: An International Handbook is an invaluable guide to the application and practice of the rules of set-off in over 30 jurisdictions spanning Europe, Asia and the Americas. The work provides an at-a-glance port of call for UK banking and finance solicitors and foreign lawyers who wish to establish the pitfalls of set-off in a foreign jurisdiction. Since the publication of the first edition the use of set-off as a mechanism for risk reduction in cross-border financial contracts has continued to increase and the global financial crisis has meant that cases of bankruptcy and insolvency are more common than ever.

Jones, Christopher, EU Energy Law Volume III Book Three: The European Renewable Energy Yearbook 2nd ed, Claeys & Casteels, Hardback, £230.00, ISBN: 9789077644157

The European Renewable Energy Yearbook 2010 brings together some of Europe's key government officials, industry leaders and lawyers, examining the main issues facing the EU's fast growing and changing renewable markets, outlining the main challenges for the future and giving possible answers. The Yearbook represents an ideal complement to Book 1 of the Renewable energy series of Clays & Casteels, providing essential insight into understanding the direction of the EU's fastest growing energy sector.

Kolb, Robert, Introduction to the Law of the United Nations, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £25.00, ISBN: 9781841139371

This work aims to fill a gap in the existing legal literature by presenting a compact, concise but nevertheless panoramic view of the law of the United Nations. Today the organisation is at the centre of all multilateral international relations and impossible to avoid. And of course the UN Charter is a foundational document without which modern international law cannot be properly understood.

Lepard, Brian, Customary International Law: A New Theory with Practical Applications, Cambridge University Press, Paperback, £38.00, ISBN: 9780521138727

This book attempts to articulate a comprehensive theory of customary international law that can effectively resolve these questions. Its approach is unique in a number of ways. For example, it is multidisciplinary and draws insights from fields such as legal theory, philosophy, political science, and game theory. In addition, it is anchored in a sophisticated ethical framework and explores at length the interconnections between customary international law and ethics.

Lissack, Richard; Sabalot, Deborah; Khan, Farhaz, Special Report: Financial Services Law and Regulation, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £150.00, ISBN: 9781405749176

This new special report offers a snapshot of the financial markets landscape at a time of flux and looks ahead to what financial services regulation may look like when the pieces have settled. It is the only publication of its kind dealing at length with the range of issues arising from the financial crisis including domestic regulation, EC law, market abuse, financial crime, mis-selling of financial products and dispute resolution and litigation.

Lovdahl Gormsen, Liza, Principled Approach to

Abuse of Dominance in European Competition Law, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £65.00, ISBN: 9780521767149

Instead of the usual discussion of objectives, Liza Lovdahl Gormsen questions whether the Commission's chosen objective of consumer welfare is legitimate. While many Community lawyers would readily accept and indeed welcome the objective of consumer welfare, this is not supported by case law.

Maas, Robert, Taxation of Employments 14th ed, Bloomsbury Professional, Paperback, £106.82, ISBN: 9781847663405

The new edition of this popular annual is a time-saving guide to the tax implications of the payment of emoluments and company benefits. It has been written by a specialist practitioner with the needs of advisers and employers in mind. The book is designed for easy reference and contains worked examples throughout, up-to-date tables of benefits, allowances and rates, cross-references to HMRC publications and relevant case law.

MacNeil, Iain G; O'Brien, Justin, The Future of Financial Regulation, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £50.00, ISBN: 9781841139104
The Future of Financial Regulation is an edited collection of papers presented at a major conference at the University of Glasgow in spring 2009, co-sponsored by the Economic and Social Research Council World Economy and Finance Programme and the Australian Research Council Governance Research Network. It draws together a variety of different perspectives on the international financial crisis which began in August 2007 and later turned into a more widespread economic crisis following the collapse of Lehman Brothers in the autumn of 2008.

Mackenzie, Ruth; Romano, Cesare; Shany, Yuval; Sands, Philippe, Manual on International Courts and Tribunals 2nd ed, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £95.00, ISBN: 9780199545278
The first edition of the Manual on International Courts and Tribunals, published, by Butterworths, in 1999, was the first book to survey systematically this new institutional landscape, by describing in an accessible and uniformly structured manner the legal powers and operating procedures of all major international judicial and quasi-judicial bodies. In doing so, it laid the groundwork for comparative study and research of the law and practice of international courts and tribunals - an emerging field of international legal research, which has already spurred a series of publications, conferences and academic courses. This second edition updates the first edition by describing the many legal changes that have taken place in the last decade, including important reforms in the laws and procedures of many international courts and tribunals, relevant developments in their increasingly rich jurisprudence and the creation of new judicial fora. Moreover, it assesses the overall record of these judicial bodies. The data and legal analysis offered in the book provide both practitioners and academics with an important basis of knowledge that will help them better understand the details of international adjudication and its context.

Mahendra, Dr Bala, Family Psychiatric Practice: A Guide for Lawyers, Jordan Publishing Ltd, Paperback, £75.00, ISBN: 9781846612244

This book deals with psychiatric expert evidence as it applies to mental disorders concerning children, adolescents and adults. The full range of psychiatric disorders is examined. A particular innovation is that the disorders are not considered separately but in relation to the full range of age groups. While the centre-piece of the book is the discussion of the substantive mental disorders, accounts are also given of the psychological development of individuals from childhood to mature old age, followed by a general discussion of the nature and scope of mental disorders. The purpose of this study of mental disorders, as found in various age groups, is to help understand the issues as they arise in family and child law proceedings.

McBride, Nicholas, Letters to a Law Student: A Guide to Studying Law at University 2nd ed, Pearson Education Ltd, Paperback, £15.99, ISBN: 9781408218808

Letters to a Law Student relays all that a prospective law student needs to know before embarking on their studies. It provides a useful guide to those considering a law degree or conversion course and helps students prepare for what can be a daunting first year of study. Written in a lively, friendly and entertaining style, the book offers clear and helpful advice on all aspects of the study of law.

Micklitz, Hans-W; Stuyck, Jules ; Terry, Evelyn, Cases, Materials and Text on Consumer Law, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £35.00, ISBN: 9781841137490

The objective of this casebook, like others in the Ius Commune Series, is to help uncover common roots, notwithstanding differences in approach, of the European legal systems, with a view to strengthening the common legal heritage of Europe. The casebook covers the big legal families in the EU and contains judgments from the supreme courts and other courts of the Member States. In view of the importance of EC legislation (eg harmonisation directives and regulations) in this field, the consumer law casebook contains much material derived from Community law, such as extracts from directives (eg on unfair contract terms, distance selling, doorstep selling, product liability, package holiday tours etc) and judgments of the ECJ and national court decisions.

Millington, Trevor; Sutherland Williams, Mark, Millington and Sutherland Williams on The Proceeds of Crime 3rd ed, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £145.00, ISBN: 9780199566129

Millington and Sutherland Williams on The Proceeds of Crime provides a definitive guide to all aspects of the law concerning the recovery of the proceeds of crime in England and Wales. It provides an easily navigable step-by-step approach that considers how the legislation is geared to ensuring that criminals do not benefit from their crimes financially, as well as detailed coverage of every stage of the confiscation process.

positions at major American law firms in 2008 and 2009. In The Vanishing American Lawyer, Professor Thomas Morgan discusses the legal profession and the need for both law students and lawyers to adapt to the needs and expectations of clients in the future. Professor Morgan warns that lawyers must adapt to new client needs and expectations. The term “professional” should be applied to individuals who deserve praise for skilled and selfless efforts, but this term may lead to occupational suicide if it becomes a justification for not seeing and adapting to the world ahead.

Munoz, David Ramos, Law of Transnational Securitization, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £135.00, ISBN: 9780199583928

The Law of Transnational Securitization focuses on the legal aspects of securitization from a comparative and systemic perspective. It identifies specific problems that arise in the field of securitization, including transnational problems, and shows how to solve them within the legal and regulatory framework. The book covers securitization from a UK, European and US perspective throughout including reference to other jurisdictions including India. Securitization is a topical subject, as the securitization of mortgage receipts is seen as one of the causes of the financial crisis. There is now an increased focus on the legal, as opposed to transactional, aspects of securitization as it has come under intense scrutiny by regulators. This work explains the situation and suggests ways to improve the system.

Padfield, Tim, Copyright for Archivists and Records Managers 4th ed, Facet Publishing, Paperback, £49.95, ISBN: 9781856047050

It includes a unique catalogue of over 150 EC cartel decisions, as well as novel analyses of difficult borderline issues such as mixed horizontal and vertical cartels, single-brand dealer cartels and buyer cartels. The effect on trade in cartel cases is analysed with reference to established law and deterrence theory.

Simontacchi, Stefano; Stoschek, Uwe, Guide to Global Real Estate Investment Trust 2010: A Regulatory and Tax Perspective, Kluwer Law International, Paperback, £212.00, ISBN: 9789041128461

Guide to Global Real Estate Investment Trusts features a comprehensive analysis of both the legal and tax underpinnings of REIT-friendly legislation in the world's most significant national jurisdictions.

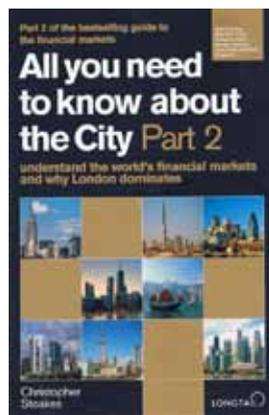

With regard to the legal framework, the structure and functioning of a REIT is thoroughly investigated. In particular, the issue of whether a REIT is a special vehicle regulated as such by national legislation or, instead, any company vehicle may qualify as a real estate investment fund so long as its activity is limited to effecting and managing real estate investments – whether they are direct or indirect – are addressed.

Steiner, Eva, French Law: A Comparative Approach, Oxford University Press,

Paperback, £32.99, ISBN: 9780199232376

French Law: A Comparative Approach provides a detailed entry point to the legal system of France. It introduces both the institutions and methodology that underpin the essence of the system as well as key substantive areas of law including property rights, the law of contract, and the law of tort. Steiner employs a comparative approach throughout which illuminates the unique aspects of French law and really helps the reader to understand the subtleties, similarities, and distinctions of French law when looked at alongside other jurisdictions.

Vranken, Martin, Fundamentals of European Civil Law

2nd ed, Federation Press, Paperback, £35.00, ISBN: 9781862877566

This book outlines the fundamentals of European civil law for readers more familiar with common law jurisdictions such as Australia, New Zealand, the UK and the US. This fully revised and updated second edition retains the successful structure of the first. The focus throughout is on private law, particularly the civil laws of France and Germany, except where European Community law has made inroads into the (private) civil law. Each chapter thus incorporates the relevant materials on European Community law.

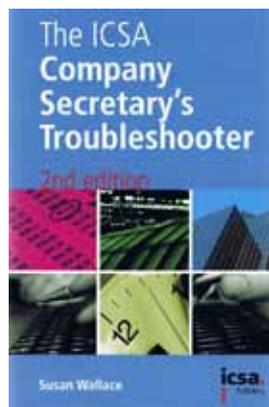

Waibel, Michael; Kaushal, Asha; Chung, Kyo-Hwa Liz; Balchin, Claire, The Backlash Against Investment

Arbitration: Perceptions and Reality, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £112.00, ISBN: 9789041132024

This book, which grew out of a conference held at Harvard Law School in April 2008, aims to uncover the concerns driving the backlash against the present international investment regime. Thirty-one contributors – academics, practitioners, government officials and representatives of civil society – analyze both the current state and future direction of the international investment regime, and offer valuable insights into possible ways of improving the system. The reforms and refinements suggested promise to bring substantial improvements to the present regime and, in so doing, could reverse the current trend towards a backlash. All stakeholders in investment arbitration will welcome and learn from this work.

Wareham, Philip, Competition Law and Shipping: The EMLO Guide to EU Competition Law in the Shipping and Port Industries, Cameron May Ltd, Hardback, £125.00, ISBN: 9781907174025

This is the first book to focus specifically on the impact of EU competition law on the shipping industry since the industry became subject to the full weight of competition law and lost immunity for liner conferences in October 2008. It contains a detailed critique of the European Commission's guidelines on the application of Article 81 of the EC Treaty to maritime transport services, dealing with such issues as the jurisdictional reach of EU law, the rules to be applied in defining the relevant product or geographical markets, the legality of information sharing agreements between competitors and the correct analysis to be applied to pooling agreements in the tramp shipping sector. However, the book is not limited to the maritime guidelines but examines a broad range of competition law issues affecting affecting all sectors of the maritime industry, including ports.

Watt, Gary, Equity and Trusts Directions 2nd ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £29.99, ISBN: 9780199572038

Equity and Trusts Directions is written in an informal, engaging and lively manner with an emphasis on explaining the key topics covered on equity and trusts courses with clarity. The text is aimed at engaging the reader's imagination through the use of diagrams, charts and references to extra-legal materials including news items and extracts from artistic, including literary, works. The substantive content of the text is designed to elucidate the relationship between equity, trusts, property, contract, and restitution to enable students to map out conceptual connections between related legal ideas.

carries the endorsement of both the management of the probation service and its professional association. Its high standards and appropriate content continue to be maintained because it is compiled by experts who understand the needs of probation personnel. The Directory features full details of the Probation Service throughout the UK and also the Irish Republic. However, it is more than just a list of the names and addresses of those working in probation. It lists Home Office and Prison Service Agency Personnel, all UK Prisons, Probation and Bail Hostels, Services for Adult Offenders in Scotland, all NACRO Addresses, Specialist Accommodation and other services for offenders, and a comprehensive collection of Miscellaneous Addresses.

White, Robin C.A.; Ovey, Clare, Jacobs, White and Ovey: The European Convention on Human Rights 5th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £34.99, ISBN: 9780199543380

Fifty years after the founding of the European Court of Human Rights it has dispensed more than 10,000 judgments and affects the lives of over 800 million people. The fifth edition of Jacobs, White & Ovey: The European Convention on Human Rights provides a clear and concise explanation of this increasingly important area of the law. Examining each of the Convention rights in turn, this book lays out the key principles relevant to both Human Rights students and practitioners. Fully updated with all the significant developments of the last four years, it offers a valuable synthesis of lively author commentary and carefully selected case law.

Williams, Andrew, Ethos of Europe: Values, Law and Justice in the EU, Cambridge University Press, Paperback, £23.99, ISBN: 9780521134040

Can the EU become a ‘just’ institution? Andrew Williams considers this highly charged political and moral question by examining the role of five salient values said to be influential in the governance and law of the Union: peace, the rule of law, respect for human rights, democracy, and liberty. He assesses each of these as elements of an apparent ‘institutional ethos’ and philosophy of EU law and finds that justice as a governing ideal has failed to be taken seriously in the EU. To remedy this condition, he proposes a new set of principles upon which justice might be brought more to the fore in the Union’s governance. By focusing on the realisation of human rights as a core institutional value, Williams argues that the EU can better define its moral limits so as to evolve as a more just project.

Wilmot-Smith, Richard, Construction Contracts: Law and Practice 2nd ed., Oxford University Press, Hardback, £225.00, ISBN: 9780199579594

The second edition of this well-regarded title continues to take a clear and practical approach to the law and practice relating to construction contracts in the UK. It provides comprehensive coverage of the substantive law and modern dispute resolution procedures in the field of construction. Throughout the work the author provides key practical tips including: where and when you issue proceedings; what the judges will expect and their preferences; and how trials can be made shorter. A separate section also examines enforcement of adjudicator's awards covering recent case law on this area. This is carefully examined and digested in detail to ensure the reader has an understanding of the pitfalls of enforcement.

Jowitt's Dictionary of English Law 3rd edition

General Editor: Daniel Greenberg

Sweet & Maxwell, Hardcover, ISBN 9781847036261, due May 2010, £395.00

First published in 1959, Jowitt's Dictionary of English Law is the authority to be cited and relied upon in court when establishing the definition of each expression which forms part of the fabric of English law. Thoroughly revised and updated since the last edition in 1977, this new edition covers English law from earliest times up to the present day, providing detailed explanations of legal terms as well as their historical context. Jowitt's can be used as a guide to the use of appropriate terms and terminology when drafting legal documents or agreements, and to provide clarity on the intended meaning of a piece of legislation or an unclear contract clause. It provides the historical context of words and gives a distillation of legal concepts providing a first point of reference for research or for understanding an unfamiliar area of law. Daniel Greenberg, the General Editor, is a Parliamentary draftsman at the Office of the Parliamentary Counsel and is also the editor of Stroud's Judicial Dictionary. He has been assisted by the contributions of some seventy specialist editors in the compiling of the third edition of Jowitt's.

A Practitioner's Guide to Authorised Investment Funds

by Charlotte Hill

Sweet & Maxwell, Softcover, ISBN 9781905121403, due May 2010, £99.00.

This new book presents a complete guide to fund management practice and explains the law and regulation of setting up, launching, marketing and operating all major types of authorised fund vehicles. It covers all the important recent developments, including the UCITS III directives, the FSA collective investment schemes sourcebook (COLL) and the impact of MiFID.

Oliver on Free Movement of Goods in the European Union 5th edition

Edited by Peter J Oliver

Hart Publishing, Hardcover,

ISBN 9781841138107, due May 2010, £95.00

This is a new edition of Peter Oliver's classic work Free Movement of Goods in the European Community (now, in light of the Lisbon Treaty revisions 'European Union') which has established itself as one of the leading works of reference on European law for practitioners and academics alike. Indeed, whether advising clients or preparing for teaching there is no European lawyer who can afford not to have a copy of this book close to hand. Concise, precise, and lucid, the book has become the first port of call for anyone seeking answers to questions about the foundations of free movement of goods in the EU. With specialist chapters written by leading academic and practising lawyers, including Peter Oliver himself, this edition has been extensively rewritten to take into account recent judgments from the ECJ, including important cases such as C-110/05 Commission v Italy ('trailers') and C-142/05 Mickelsson ('jet skis'), both of which relate to restrictions on the use of goods. It also takes account of all the recent European legislation and the impact of the Lisbon Treaty.

Law and Practice of Rectification

by David Hodge QC

Sweet & Maxwell, Hardcover, ISBN 9781847039323, due May 2010, £145.00

This new book provides comprehensive guidance on how to deal with situations where a mistake has been made in the drafting of a legal document to the detriment of a client. It unravels the complex legal principles in this area and explains the remedies available, and provides coverage of rectification by construction and by way of the remedy of rectification. It discusses rectification remedies in various fields of law, including commercial, Chancery, property, pensions and general civil litigation, and shows how best to advise clients on the merits of bringing a claim for rectification to court, as well as explaining how to litigate a claim and how to defend against one. Advice on how to settle rectification litigation is given, as well as an analysis of the key judgments in this area in recent years, both English decisions and those from other common law jurisdictions. The author looks at documents where special considerations apply, and includes precedents for use in court proceedings.

Criminal Injuries Compensation Scheme 2008

by Laura Begley, Aileen Downey and Claire Padley Law Society Publishing, Softcover, ISBN 9781853288296, due May 2010, £44.95.

This new book is an essential guide to the new compensation scheme, detailing changes to the tariff and the new procedural rules. There are a number of substantial changes in respect of the cost of care which will have a particular impact on serious injury cases and the anagement of those claims and practitioners need to be aware of these changes. Outlining the changes, this legislation guide to the new scheme covers key background issues with an explanation of how to run a case under the new scheme and rules, and provides comprehensive appendices covering the key rules, practice directions and guidance.

Foreign Currency Claims in the Conflict of Laws

by Vaughan Black
Hart Publishing, Hardcover,

ISBN 9781841138923, due May 2010, £55.00

Problems in assessment of damages remain among the most contentious aspects of private law disputes. The assessment exercise becomes particularly difficult when one of the parties asks that damages be assessed in some foreign currency or claims that, even though damages should be assessed in the currency of the forum, foreign exchange losses should form a head of loss.

The 1975 decision of the House of Lords in Miliangos v George Frank (Textiles) Ltd was revolutionary in that it permitted English courts to award judgment in a foreign currency. Miliangos has been influential throughout the common law world and courts in the commonwealth and the United States now contemplate awarding damages in currencies other than their own. However, that modernisation has hardly eliminated the problems in this area. When may a judge assess damages in a currency other than that of the forum? If a court elects to assess damages in its own currency, what conversion date should it select in converting from a foreign currency that was relevant to the obligations between the parties? In an age of fluctuating currencies questions of this nature present judges with choices involving significant financial implications. This book takes a comparative look at how common law courts have addressed damages claims when foreign currencies are involved, and at statutory responses to that issue. It describes the practices of UK, Commonwealth and American courts in this field and draws both on principles of private international law and of damages assessment to analyse current practice.

The Law of International Responsibility

Edited by James Crawford, Alain Pellet, and Simon Olleson

Oxford University Press, Hardcover, ISBN 9780199296972, due May 2010, £225.00

The law of international responsibility plays a fundamental role in the modern system of international law, surpassed by none and paralleled only by the law of treaties. Published as part of the Oxford Commentaries on International Law, this volume seeks to cover the entirety of the field of international responsibility, with a particular focus on the work of the International Law Commission. It provides detailed discussion and analysis of the historically predominant topics of State responsibility, on which the ILC completed its work in 2001, and the specific sub-topic of diplomatic protection, work on which was completed by the ILC in 2006. However, it also covers both the topic of responsibility of international organizations, on which the ILC's work is ongoing (a set of draft Articles having been adopted on first reading in 2009), and that of liability for harmful activities not prohibited under international law on which the ILC adopted drafts in 2001 and 2006. The volume comprises contributions on specific issues in the international law of responsibility, authored by an international team of specialists in the field, which provides a comprehensive commentary of all aspects of the topic. The chapters are detailed in their coverage, discussing both international jurisprudence and doctrinal controversies, as well as providing a critical assessment of the relevant work of the ILC. In addition to providing detailed consideration of the general secondary rules of international responsibility, coverage is also included of certain specific systems of responsibility and their relationship with the general rules under a number of specialised regimes, in particular under certain human rights treaties, the WTO, and investment protection treaties.

Recognition and Enforcement of Foreign Arbitral Awards: A Global Commentary on the New York Convention

by Herbert Kronke, Patricia Nacimiento, Dirk Otto, and Nicola Christine Port

Kluwer Law International, Hardcover, ISBN 9789041123565, due April 2010, £148.00

The 1958 New York Convention on the Recognition and Enforcement of Foreign Arbitral Awards is without a doubt the single most important treaty in the field of international commercial arbitration, and has enjoyed remarkable success over its half-century of use. It has been praised as a convention which 'perhaps could lay claim to be the most effective instance of international legislation in the entire history of commercial law.' In honour of the Convention's fiftieth anniversary, outstanding scholars of international commercial arbitration have contributed to this comprehensive commentary. Following a design calling for article-by-article analysis (or even, in the case of the crucial Article 5, by sub-article), this unique book provides an in-depth analysis of the Convention's first fifty years in light of internationally accessible case law from a wide range of jurisdictions around the world. In so doing it greatly clarifies and enhances our knowledge of both the theoretical underpinnings and the practical application of the Convention in its global context. The authors, each of whom is an experienced practitioner in the field of international arbitration, draw on experience in a wide variety of national jurisdictions. In addition to drafting chapters independently, each has made invaluable contributions to other authors' chapters. Authoritative case law research was further provided by dozens of contributors with expertise in specific jurisdictions worldwide. The end result is an invaluable work that will prove enormously useful to all international commercial arbitration practitioners and scholars, regardless of location.

Good Faith and Insurance Contracts 3rd edition

by Peter MacDonald Egg-

ers, Patrick Foss and Simon Picken

Informa Law, Hardcover, ISBN 9781843118794, due June 2010, £360.00

This is the only text book devoted to a discussion of the duty of utmost good faith applicable to insurance contracts. As good faith is an issue which arises in respect of all insurance contracts, it is a book which is of use to all insurance practitioners. The first two editions of Good Faith and Insurance Contracts set out and contain exhaustive analysis of the law concerning the duty of utmost good faith as applied to insurance contracts. The book's goal is to synthesise all known judicial decisions (at least those handed down by the English Courts) concerning good faith in this area, and the third edition has been updated to include references to new case law, any changes in the regulatory regime, and discussion on the movements towards law reform which have been undertaken over the past three years.

Personal Insolvency: A User's Guide

by Stephen Baister, Louis Doyle, Susan Morgan and John Tribe

Jordan Publishing, Softcover,

ISBN 9781846611353, due April 2010, £100.00

With the entire canon of the Insolvency Rules 1986 being completely revised in October 2008, Personal Insolvency: A User's Guide is a highly authoritative and practically relevant text approaching the subject from the point of view of the over-indebted individual. The text adopts a highly structured approach to each of the main remedies for insolvent individuals, explaining who are the main actors; what is the remedy; when should the remedy be used; where is the appropriate forum; why is the remedy appropriate, and how does the remedy work. The book provides definitive black letter law, but with an emphasis on providing practical advice. It also makes use of all Dear IP and SIP materials, providing everything required by accountants. The leading author team, drawn from accountancy, the legal profession and academia ensures that the text encompasses all possible approaches to the subject.

MEDICAL LAW PRECEDENTS FOR LAWYERS

Edited by
Charles Foster

With, Simons & IBE Publishing

Charles Foster

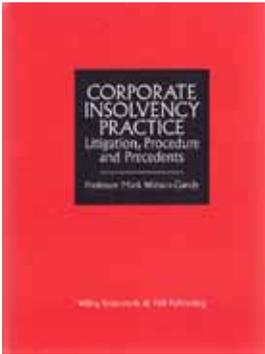

Price: £79
ISBN: 9780854900374
Extent: 416 pp
Size: 246 x 189mm
Binding: Hardback

Written by eminent practitioners in their respective fields, Medical Law Precedents for Lawyers provides a comprehensive collection of fully annotated precedents. It is designed to be a procedural one-stop-shop for all lawyers, whether specialists or otherwise, conducting litigation in any area of medical law from clinical negligence to public law.

Each section of the book contains precedents – including draft letters, checklists, pleadings, court orders etc – which are designed to be easily adaptable to whatever factual situation the user faces. It is not assumed that the user will be familiar with the legal or procedural reasons for doing things in the way suggested by the precedent, and accordingly each precedent is annotated in detail. These annotations, which are inserted by way of footnote, mean that the book is a complete and very practical guide to most of the relevant procedural law and many important aspects of substantive law. It will be invaluable to any busy practitioner asked for advice on clinical negligence, inquests, consent to treatment, withdrawal of treatment, clinical confidentiality, complaining about a healthcare professional, disciplinary and regulatory law in the medical sphere, public law challenges to the decisions of healthcare bodies and – (of increasing importance) – mental capacity issues.

Charles Foster (editor) is a barrister at Outer Temple Chambers, specialising in medical law. He has written, edited or contributed to over thirty books, many of them concerned with medical law, and is a regular speaker at medico-legal conferences.

Contributors: Susan Bartfield, Lester Morrill Solicitors; Jamie Carpenter, Hailsham Chambers; Cara Guthrie, Outer Temple Chambers; Nick Peacock, Hailsham Chambers; Susan Freeborn, Outer Temple Chambers; Alan Jenkins, Outer Temple Chambers; Fiona Borrill, Lester Morrill Solicitors; Andrew Allen, Outer Temple Chambers.

CORPORATE INSOLVENCY PRACTICE Litigation, Procedure and Precedents

Professor Mark Watson-Gandy

Price: £79
ISBN: 9780854900466
Extent: 389pp
Size: 246 x 189mm
Binding: Hardback

An ideal starting point for all practitioners, whether solicitors or barristers, Corporate Insolvency Practice is the only comprehensive easy to follow ‘how to do it’ guide for all the most common court applications in corporate insolvency.

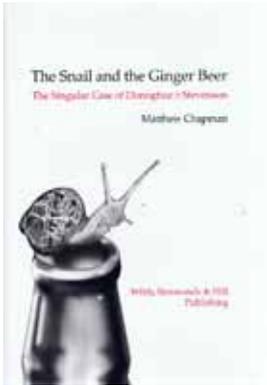

Covering areas as diverse as winding up petitions to administrations to the reuse of company names, this practical book seeks to give the inside track on what the court will expect both in terms of practice and evidence. It provides the busy practitioner with a range of useful precedents and checklists, and sets out the key statutory and practice material for each application.

Fully incorporating the changes implemented by the Companies Act 2006 and the recent amendments to the Insolvency Rules 1986, Corporate Insolvency Practice will prove an invaluable reference for practitioners making insolvency applications in the Companies Court.

Professor Mark Watson-Gandy is a practising barrister at Thirteen Old Square Chambers and a Visiting Professor at the University of Westminster. He is a member of R3 and is an Editor of Butterworths Corporate Law Service. He was recently shortlisted in Credit Today magazine’s Insolvency & Rescue Awards 2009 as “Barrister of the Year”.

THE SNAIL AND THE GINGER BEER
The Story of Donoghue v Stevenson

Matthew Chapman

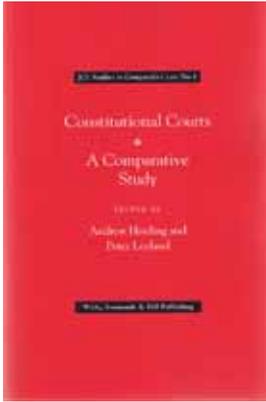

Price: £14.99
ISBN: 9780854900497
Extent: 200 pp.
Size: 152mm x 229mm
Binding: Hardback

On an August evening in 1928 May Donoghue, a shop assistant, entered a café in Paisley. The circumstances of her visit made legal history. A ginger beer was ordered for Mrs Donoghue who famously complained that, to her surprise and shock, a decomposed snail had tumbled from the bottle into her glass. Mrs Donoghue sued for the nervous shock she claimed to have suffered as a result. The question whether she had a case in law against the manufacturer of the ginger beer was argued as far as the House of Lords. It is hard to overstate the importance of the decision in Donoghue v Stevenson. It represents, perhaps, the greatest contribution made by English and Scottish lawyers to the development of the common law.

Donoghue v Stevenson made it clear that, even without a contract between the parties, a duty of care is owed by 'A' to take reasonable care to avoid acts or omissions which could reasonably be foreseen as likely to cause injury to his neighbour: 'B'. This concept, developed by the great jurist Lord Atkin, has become known by the universal shorthand, 'the neighbour principle'. Who, Lord Atkin asked rhetorically, is 'in law' my neighbour? Donoghue v Stevenson provides the answer.

The Snail and the Ginger Beer tells the full story of this remarkable case. It provides vivid biographical sketches of the protagonists and of the great lawyers who were involved in the case. It sets Donoghue v Stevenson in its historical context and re-evaluates the evidence. The roots of the neighbour principle are excavated in the parable of the Good Samaritan and the case law of the United States. The constitutional importance of the case is also dealt with; the blow it struck for a moral approach to the law which departed from a rigid doctrine of precedent. Finally, the book investigates the influence of Donoghue v Stevenson across the common law world: from the USA to the countries of what is now the Commonwealth.

CONSTITUTIONAL COURTS A Comparative Study

Andrew Harding & Peter Leyland

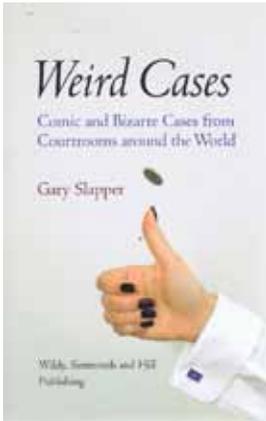

Price: £19.95
ISBN: 9780854900633
Extent: 384 pp
Size: 152 x 229 mm
Binding: Paperback

This book contains an outstanding set of essays on constitutional courts. In many nations constitutional justice can be identified as a central feature of contemporary constitutionalism. Moreover, viewed from a comparative global perspective it is clear that constitutional justice as well as providing a special kind of dispute resolution, also has been turned to as a means of safeguarding conditions of liberal democracy. What characteristics must such a court possess to undertake the tasks that confront them? These contributions by providing an analysis of features such as constitutional context, jurisdictional scope, organisational features and interpretative techniques to give a selective snapshot of the legal characteristics and the operation of constitutional courts across the world.

The chapters by a team of leading international scholars include a general introduction and then focus on: Austria, Central and Eastern Europe, France, Germany, Italy, Russia, Spain, Turkey, Egypt, Francophone Africa, South Africa, Latin America, East Asia, Indonesia and Thailand.

Andrew Harding is Director of the Centre for Asia-Pacific Initiatives and Chair of Asia-Pacific Relations at the University of Victoria, Canada.

Peter Leyland is Professor of Public Law at London Metropolitan University. Both have published extensively in the field of comparative public law and they are joint editors of the series: 'Constitutional Systems of the World'.

WEIRD CASES
Comic and bizarre cases from courtrooms around the world

Gary Slapper

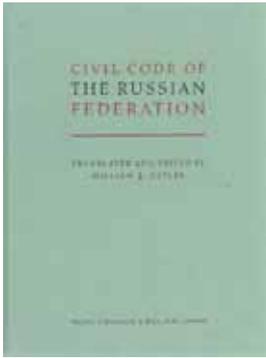

Price: £9.99
ISBN: 9780854900619
Extent: 160 pp
Size: 229 x 152mm
Binding: Hardback

Based on the author's popular Times Online column 'Weird Cases', this book draws on extraordinary cases from many countries, including the UK, USA, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, Germany, Italy, Romania, and China. The result is a highly entertaining read for anyone who enjoys reading about the more bizarre aspects of human life that fetch up in the law courts at the beginning of the 21st century.

Courts have seen judges do things like try to turn off a musical tie playing "We wish you a merry Christmas" while sentencing a defendant to prison, fall fast asleep in the middle of trials, flip a coin to decide a case, demand a foot massage from a clerk, and get sentenced for judicial racketeering. Courts have listened to the defences like that of a bogus dentist caught using DIY tools on his patients, a man who based his defence on being as hapless as Homer Simpson, and a woman who was running a brothel from an office in the criminal courts. Courts have seen a litigant sue for becoming pregnant by a stray sperm in a swimming pool, and a litigant suddenly strip naked before the judges.

The cases featured in Weird Cases are those that truly stand out as odd, even among all the unusual dramas that challenge the courts. The chapters are: Compensation and Punishment, Love and Sex, Food, Drink, and Drugs, Judges, Death and Violence, Pets and Animals, On the Road, Lawyers, and Jurors, Friends, and Neighbours.

Gary Slapper is an established writer in bringing law to a wide audience. He is a columnist with The Times, for which he has written since 1998, and Professor of Law at The Open University. He also acts as a Legal Consultant to BBC drama and documentaries.

CIVIL CODE OF THE RUSSIAN FEDERATION

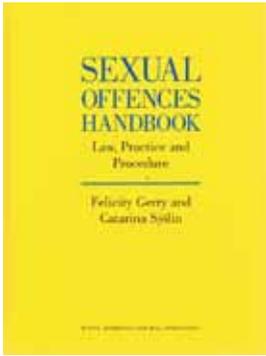

William E. Butler

Price:	£95
ISBN:	9780854900589
Extent:	618 pp
Size:	189x246mm
Binding:	Hardback

Although Part One of the Civil Code celebrates a decade and a half since its enactment, the final Part Four has been in force for about eighteen months. The “economic constitution” of the Russian Federation required not only some twelve years to be drafted and enacted, but as the keystone legal document in the transition from a socialist Planned Economy to a market-based economic system.

The present text contains Parts One, Two, Three, and Four of the Civil Code, as amended. It constitutes the complete Civil Code as contemplated by Russian civil law doctrine. The translation of the Civil Code is based on the official text published in the official gazette and as integrated on the legal data base provided by Consultant Plus.

William E. Butler, B. A. (The American University), M. A. (Johns Hopkins University SAIS), J.D. (Harvard), LL.M. (Academy University of Law, Institute of State and Law, Russian Academy of Sciences), Ph.D. (Johns Hopkins University SAIS), LL.D. (University of London), is the John Edward Fowler Distinguished Professor of Law, Dickinson School of Law, Pennsylvania State University, Professor Emeritus of Comparative Law in the University of London, and Director, The Vinogradoff Institute, Pennsylvania State University. By secondment (1994-2004) he served as the founder of the Faculty of Law and the M. M. Speranskii Professor of International and Comparative Law, Moscow Higher School of Social and Economic Sciences attached to the Academy of National Economy of the Russian Federation. He has been elected Academician of the National Academy of Sciences of Ukraine, the Russian Academy of Natural Sciences, and a member of the Russian Academy of Legal Sciences and the American Law Institute. He also serves as a member of the Executive Committee of the Russian Association of Maritime Law.

SEXUAL OFFENCES HANDBOOK
Law, Practice and Procedure

Felicity Gerry and Catarina Sjölin

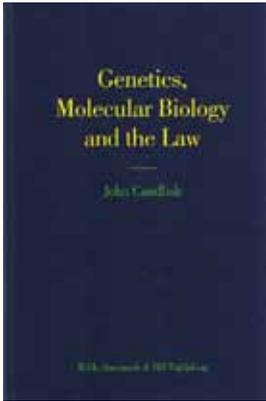

Price: £69
ISBN: 9780854900350
Extent: 630 pp
Size: 246 x 189mm
Binding: Hardback

The law and procedure relating to sexual offences is notoriously complex. Since the advent of the Sexual Offences Act 2003, the law (both as to the offences and as to sentencing) changes depending on when the offence was committed, the age of the parties involved and the nature of the act committed. This new guide deals with historic and recent sexual offences, providing a step-by-step approach to the relevant law and procedure, including matters arising before and during trials, from the perspectives of both prosecution and the defence. It also provides coverage of proposed amendments and new legislation arising from the Policing and Crime Bill 2008 and the Coroners and Justice Bill 2009.

Written by two practitioners with extensive experience of preparing and presenting sex crime trials, this practical and accessible work will prove an invaluable reference for all practitioners working within this specialised area of criminal law.

Felicity Gerry is a barrister specialising in serious fatal, sexual and violent offences. She is a “Rape Specialist” advocate and is particularly experienced in complex and lengthy trials concerning recent or historic sexual crime. She has contributed to Counsel Magazine and to BBC Radio 4 “Law in Action” and recorded podcasts for CPDcast.com.

Catarina Sjölin is a specialist criminal barrister. She prosecutes and defends in cases involving a wide range of serious violence, abuse of children and sexual assaults including rape. She has contributed to Counsel Magazine and acted as Junior to the Midland Circuit.

GENETICS, MOLECULAR BIOLOGY AND THE LAW

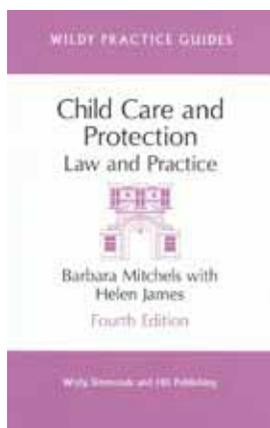

John Candlish

Price:	£69
ISBN:	9780854900404
Extent:	287 pp
Size:	152mm x 229mm
Binding:	Hardback

This timely book provides a comprehensive treatment of the interface between the law and modern science as represented by genetics and molecular biology, albeit in a highly digestible and lucid style. Chapters are: ‘The Basics of Molecular Biology’ (the genome, genetics, proteomics); ‘Criminal Law’ (molecular transfer processes; theft of DNA; forensic mathematics; keynote cases); ‘Aspects of Civil Law’ (paternity and maternity; retention of DNA and privacy; DNA in medical law; DNA, insurance and employment); ‘Intellectual Property’ (patenting genes, expressed sequence tags and single nucleotide polymorphisms, keynote cases in U.K. and U.S.A.); ‘Food’ (gene manipulation; aspects of tort; environmental risks); ‘International Law’ (genetically modified organisms, CITES and CBD, warfare and molecular biology). Genetics, Molecular Biology and the Law provides practitioners and academics alike with a detailed analysis of how the law is responding to the latest advances in the increasingly complex fields of molecular biology and genetics.

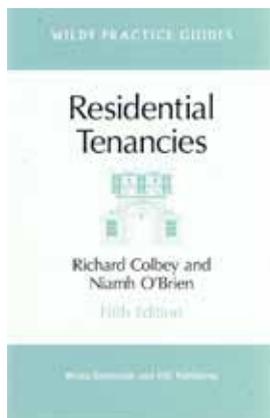

John Candlish took degrees in science and law from the Universities of St Andrews, London and Singapore, and has held academic positions in Scotland, Malaysia, Saudi Arabia and Singapore. He is the author of several books, including Hawking Genes, Selling Spleens: the Human Body and the Laws of Property (UNIMAS Press, Kuching, 2006), and has contributed articles to several journals.
