Ali, Shahla F., Resolving Disputes in the Asia-Pacific Region: International Ar- bitration and Mediation in East Asia and the West, Routledge, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780415583725

Resolving Disputes in the Asia-Pacific Region presents empirical research about the attitudes and perceptions of over 115 arbitrators, judges, lawyers and members of the rapidly expanding arbitration community in China, Hong Kong, Korea, Japan, Singapore, and Malaysia as well as North America and Europe. The book covers both international commercial arbitration and "alternative" techniques such as mediation, providing an empirical analysis of how both types of dispute resolution are conducted in the East Asian context. The book examines the history and cultural context surrounding preferred methods of dispute resolution in the East Asian region and sheds light on the various approaches to international arbitration across these diverse regions.

Banakar, Reza, Rights in Context: Law and Justice in Late Modern Society, Ashgate Publishing Ltd, Paperback, £35.00, ISBN: 9781409407409

This collection offers a snapshot of how rights are debated and employed in public discourse to reshape legal and political relations at the beginning of the twenty-first century. They explore how rights are used to challenge the state of affairs by individuals and groups who seek justice, and the strategies devised to defy the rights established by those who wish to recast the social and political order.

Bederman, David J., Custom as a Source of Law, Cambridge University Press, Paperback, £19.99, ISBN: 9780521721820

A central puzzle in jurisprudence has been the role of custom in law. Custom is simply the practices and usages of distinctive communities. This volume explores the nature of custom through a rigorous multidisciplinary, historical, and comparative approach, offering a fresh perspective on custom's enduring place in both domestic and international law.

Ben-Shahar, Omri; Porat, Ariel, Fault in American Contract Law, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £55.00, ISBN: 9780521769853

Representing an unprecedented joint effort from top scholars in the field, this volume collects original contributions to examine the fundamental role of 'fault' in contract law. The essays in this volume bring together a variety of outlooks, including economic, psychological, philosophical, and comparative approaches to law.

Black, C.F., Land is the Source of the Law: A Dialogic Encounter with Indigenous Jurisprudence, Routledge-Cavendish, Paperback, £22.99, ISBN: 9780415497572

The Land is the Source of the Law

A DIALOGIC ENCOUNTER WITH INDIGENOUS JURISPRUDENCE

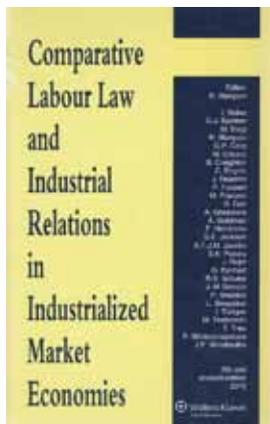

C. F. Black R

The Land is the Source of Law brings an inter-jurisdictional dimension to the field of indigenous jurisprudence: comparing Indigenous legal regimes in New Zealand, the USA and Australia, it offers a 'dialogical encounter with an Indigenous jurisprudence' in which individuals are characterised by their rights and responsibilities into the Land. C.F. Black is an Aboriginal woman who has studied, taught and written about both Western and Indigenous jurisprudential traditions. Her book will be of considerable importance to those with interests in indigenous law, jurisprudence and knowledge.

Blanpain, Roger, Comparative Labour Law and Industrial Relations in Industrial-

ized Market Economies 10th ed., Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £118.00, ISBN: 9789041133489

The growing need for comprehensive, up-to-date and readily available information on labour law and industrial relations in different countries led to the publication of the International Encyclopaedia for Labour Law and Industrial Relations, in which more than 70 international and national monographs have thus far been published. This book, Comparative Labour Law and Industrial Relations in Industrialized Market Economies goes a step further than the Encyclopaedia in as much as most of the chapters provide comparative and integrated thematic treatment. The aim is to describe the salient characteristics and trends in labour law and industrial relations in the contemporary world.

Bradlow, Daniel; Hunter, David, International Financial Institutions and International Law, Kluwer Law International, Hardcover, £92.00, ISBN: 9789041128812

To whom are international financial organizations accountable? This unusual book asks not only this searching question, but also examines the extent to which accountability is honoured – or evaded – by the International Monetary Fund, the World Bank Group, and the regional development banks (collectively the international financial institutions, or IFIs). The fundamental recognition in this book is that the issue of what international legal principles are applicable to the operations of the IFIs is an important topic that would benefit from more rigorous study. Twelve deeply committed contributors – whose work spans the academic, policy, and activist spectrum – suggest that a better understanding of these legal issues could help both the organizations and their Member States structure their transactions in ways that are more compatible with their developmental objectives and their international responsibilities.

Bridge, Michael G, Benjamin's Sale of Goods 8th ed., Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Hardback, £435.00, ISBN: 9781847038623

of goods, including terms and conditions, rights and obligations, and discusses the nature and formation of the contract of sale. Covers all relevant areas of contract and property law

Cave, Martin; Baldwin, Robert; Lodge, Martin, The Oxford Handbook of Regulation, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £85.00, ISBN: 9780199560219

This Handbook provides a clear and authoritative discussion of the major trends and issues in regulation over the last thirty years, together with an outline of prospective developments. It brings together contributions from leading scholars from a range of disciplines and countries.

Cave, Rebecca; Wunschmann-Lyall, Iris, Core Tax Annuals: Capital Gains Tax

2010/11, Bloomsbury Professional, Paperback, £38.00, ISBN: 9781847665171

Covering all the capital gains reliefs and exemptions that apply to individuals and trustees, with a brief summary of those that apply to companies, this readily accessible book focuses on the issues and scenarios most commonly encountered by tax advisers.

Chidell, Ray, CCH Capital Allowances 2010-11, CCH Editions, Paperback, £95.95, ISBN: 9781847983114

Chiu, Iris H-Y, The Foundations and Anatomy of Shareholder Activism, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £45.00, ISBN: 9781841136585

This book discusses the two dominant forms of shareholder activism in the UK, institutional shareholder activism and “offensive” forms of activism largely carried out by hedge funds. A major contribution made by the book lies in its discussion of how shareholder activism may be accommodated within and supported theories of the company and by the current UK legal framework.

perback, £100.95, ISBN: 9781847982872

This annual handbook provides highly focused commentary by concentrating on the current tax regime and the most frequently-encountered topics. Designed to be of everyday use it contains many worked examples and extensive topic indexes, case tables and legislation finding lists. It is also thoroughly cross-referenced to the relevant legislation, cases and HMRC Manuals and to CCH's British Tax Reporter making it the ideal desktop companion.

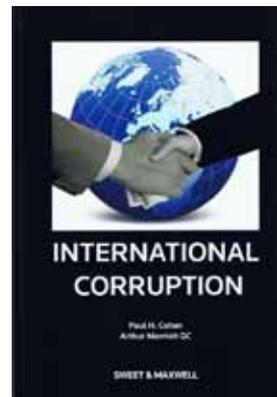

Clift, Julie; Fursdon, Jon; Laing, Sarah; Steed, Michael, CCH British Master Tax Guide 2010-11, CCH Editions, Paperback, £89.95, ISBN: 9781847983145

Cohen Jehoram, Tobias; van Nispen, Constant; Huydecoper, J.L.R.A., European Trademark Law: Community Trademark Law and Harmonized National Trade-mark Law, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £160.00, ISBN: 9789041131577

Although the European harmonisation of trademark law started more than two decades ago and is now quite robust, heretofore practitioners have had no easily accessible and comprehensive description and analysis of this regime to rely upon in their work, despite the existence of commentaries of the Directive and Regulation on trademarks. Now, European Trademark Law describes all relevant developments in both legislation and case law, in particular of the Court of Justice, offering not only a succinct introduction to the theory, structure and nature of trademark law, but also insightful suggestions ruption, what it intends to prevent and how it impacts you. It explores the legislation from all angles so you are clear of what can and can't be done.

Coleman, Priscilla; Cheston, Paul, Court Scenes: The Court Art of Priscilla Coleman, Wildy, Simmonds and Hill Publishing, Hardback, £19.99, ISBN: 9780854900398

Priscilla Coleman has been drawing court scenes for over 20 years. The pictures collected here mark many of the most important trials of that period. There is a widespread misunderstanding among those who see pictures on TV or in the newspapers that an artist can sketch as much as they like in court. As lawyers know, far from taking a palate and easel into the public gallery, any attempt at photography, drawings or visual representations is strictly verboten. Artists have to memorise in court the colours, shades, clothing, facial mannerisms and physical idiosyncracies then go out and draw a likeness from memory . . . against the clock.

Combs, Nancy Armooury, Fact-Finding in International Criminal Law, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £80.00, ISBN: 9780521111157

Fact-Finding Without Facts explores international criminal fact-finding - empirically, conceptually, and normatively. After setting forth her empirical findings, the author considers their conceptual and normative implications. The author concludes that international criminal tribunals purport a fact-finding competence that they do not possess, and as a consequence, base their judgments on a less precise, more amorphous method of fact-finding than they publicly acknowledge. The book ends with an exploration of various normative questions, including the most foundational: whether the international tribunals' fact-finding impediments fatally undermine the international criminal justice project.

Conforti, Benedetto, The Law and Practice of the United Nations 4th ed, Brill Academic Publishers, Paperback, £115.00, ISBN: 9789004186293

The Law and Practice of the United Nations examines the law of the United Nations through an analysis of the Organization's practice from its inception until the present, in particular to the transformations the UN has undergone since the end of the Cold War. Special consideration is given to Chapter VII of the UN Charter and the practice concerning the interpretation of the Charter, the United Nations' membership and organs' competences, along with the peaceful settlement of disputes, and coercive action for the maintenance of international peace and security.

Corten, Olivier, The Law Against War: The Prohibition on the Use of Force in Contemporary International Law, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £65.00, ISBN: 9781841139425

This new book presents an examination of the non-use of force in contemporary international law. The author of this highly original work suggests that if any notable changes can be observed, especially in the past two decades, state practice shows that the Charter system is still based on a true 'jus contra bellum' and not on the 'jus ad bellum' characterizing previous periods. In this sense, as the title of the book suggests, "law against war" is not only a literal translation of the latin expression, but evokes at the same time the spirit of a rule which remains undoubtedly one of the bases of public international law.

Crawford, Elizabeth; Caruthers, Janeen M., International Private Law: A Scots Perspective 3rd ed, W. Green, Paperback, £45.00, ISBN: 9780414017757

This up-to-date treatment of an area of increasing importance provides an in-depth and clear analysis of the complexities of the subject. The newly revised edition of this highly regarded book, presented under a new title, provides a thorough account of all branches of Scots private law in their conflict of laws dimension. A noted feature of the subject, to which the book pays central attention, is the expanding influence of the EU legislative programme for civil justice, which affects the substance of the conflict rules of all European Member States.

Dalhuisen, Jan; Dalhuisen on Transnational and Comparative Commercial, Financial and Trade Law: Boxed Set 4th ed, Hart Publishing, Hardback, 3 Volumes, £140.00, ISBN: 9781849460620

This is the fourth edition of the leading work on transnational and comparative commercial and financial law, covering a wide range of complex topics in the modern law of international commerce, finance and trade. As a guide for students and practitioners it is unrivalled. In a significant departure from earlier editions, the work is now divided into three volumes, each of which can be used independently or as part of the complete work.

Davies, Rhianon; Rudling, David; VAT, Tolley's Value Added Tax 2010: 2nd edition, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £109.95, ISBN: 9780754539209

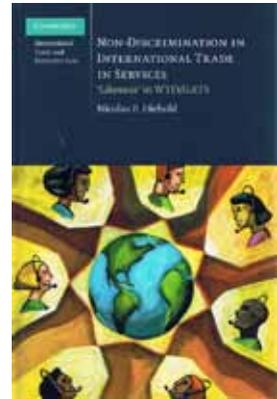

Due to the ever-changing nature of VAT and the practitioner's need to have access to the most up-to-date information, Tolley's VAT Annual Second edition is published in September to include all the changes in the Finance Act.

Dias Soares, Claudia; Milne, Janet; Ashiabor, Hope; De-ketelaere, Kurt; Kreiser, Larry, Critical Issues in Environmental Taxation Volume VIII,

Oxford University Press, Hardback, £190.00, ISBN: 9780199597307

Critical Issues in Environmental Taxation is an internationally refereed publication devoted to environmental taxation issues on a worldwide basis. It seeks to provide insights and analysis for achieving environmental goals through tax policy. By sharing the perspectives of the authors in response to the diverse challenges posed by environmental taxation issues, effective approaches used in one country may be considered and possibly implemented by governmental authorities in other countries. Each volume contains pioneering and thought-provoking articles contributed by the world's leading environmental tax scholars.

Diebold, Nicolas F., Non-Discrimination in International Trade in Services: 'Likeness' in WTO/GATS, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780521191869

The principle of non-discrimination is fundamental to the regulation of international trade in goods and services. In the context of trade in goods, the concept of 'like products' has become a key element of the legal analysis of whether a trade obstacle violates GATT non-discrimination obligations. The equivalent concept of 'like services and service suppliers' in GATS rules on non-discrimination has received little attention in WTO jurisprudence. In light of the remaining uncertainties, Nicolas Diebold analyses the legal problems of the GATS ‘like services and services suppliers’ concept using a contextual and comparative methodology.

Dine, Janet; Gobert, James; Wilson, William, Cases and Materials on Criminal Law 6th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £31.99, ISBN: 9780199541980

Developed to map closely to criminal law course content this is the perfect companion to your course. All key topic areas are clearly structured guiding you through the law in an approachable and engaging manner. Key extracts from case reports are provided to allow you to understand the judge’s logic behind decisions and to develop your skills in reading from actual case reports.

Ezrachi, Ariel, EC Competition Law: An Analytical

Guide to the Leading Cases 2nd ed, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £35.00, ISBN: 9781849460477

This is a revised and enlarged second edition of the highly practical guide to the leading cases of European competition law, first published in 2008. The book is designed as a working tool for the study and practice of European competition law. An introduction at the beginning of each chapter lays down the relevant laws, regulations and guidelines for each of the topics and sets the analytical framework for the case summaries that follow. The case summaries are then provided, each followed by analysis and commentary that add further context.

Faure, Michael; Lixin, Han; Hongjun, Shan, Maritime Pollution Liability and Policy: China, Europe and the

U.S., Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £96.00, ISBN: 9789041128690

Through a critical review of the current structure of prevention and compensation for oil pollution damage, this book opens the door to a further restructuring of conventions (or national legislation), clarifying the dimensions of the crucial discussion about of how an optimal enforcement of oil pollution legislation can be achieved and who should bear the costs. It will be hugely valuable to policymakers and practitioners dealing with this most daunting and urgent of international legal problems.

Fenwick, Colin; Novitz, Tonia, Human Rights at Work: Perspectives on Law and Regulation, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £35.00, ISBN:

9781841139982

Pressures associated with globalisation of markets, exacerbated by the ‘credit crunch’, have placed pressure on many nation states to make their labour markets more ‘flexible’. In so doing, many states have sought to reduce labour standards and to diminish the influence of trade unions as the advocates of such standards. One response to this development, both nationally and internationally, has been to emphasise that workers’ rights are fundamental human rights. This collection of essays examines whether this is an appropriate or effective strategy.

Garnett, Kevin; Davies, Gillian, Moral Rights, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Hardback, £165.00, ISBN:

Members of the renowned Copinger author team along with a distinguished panel of contributors tackle the area of moral rights in this insightful and practical new book. It examines the complete international history of moral rights, taking the reader through its initial conception in France and Germany. It then discusses the subsequent take up in further jurisdictions, the Berne Convention and how these concepts have been implemented in the UK.

Gauja, Anila, Political Parties and Elections: Legislating for Representative Democracy, Ashgate Publishing Ltd, Hardback, £55.00, ISBN: 9780754677048

Political Parties and Elections presents a comparative analysis of the ways in which advanced industrial democracies seek to regulate the activities of political parties in electoral contests. Author Anika Gauja analyzes the electoral laws of five key common law democracies with similar parliamentary and representative traditions, similar levels of economic and political development, yet with significantly different electoral provisions: the United States, the United Kingdom, Canada, Australia, and New Zealand.

mitigation and compliance. Tolley's Inheritance Tax is a practical work including many worked examples to clarify legislation where computations are involved, with commentary in the form of notes to the examples to help explain complex points.

Golding, Jon, Tolley's National Insurance Contributions 2010 - 2011, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £106.95, ISBN: 9780754538882

Widely regarded as the 'Bible' of NIC law, this comprehensive guide will answer in depth virtually every point or query put to you for compliance, planning or NIC mitigation purposes. With the continuing alignment of National Insurance contributions with Income Tax it's more important than ever that you are aware of the full implications of changes.

Gordon, Keith; Johnson, Trevor, CCH British Tax Guide: Capital Gains Tax 2010-11, CCH Editions, Paperback, £100.95, ISBN: 9781847982889

This annual handbook provides highly focused commentary by concentrating on the current tax regime and the most frequently-encountered topics. Designed to be of everyday use it contains many worked examples and extensive topic indexes, case tables and legislation finding lists.

Grant, John P.; Sutherland, Elaine E., Scots Law Tales, Dundee University Press, Paperback, £20.00, ISBN: 9781845860677

Scots Law Tales brings a number of leading cases from the Scottish courts to life. The publication gathers together a collection of the stories behind some of the most memorable cases from the last hundred years; including the huge miscarriage of justice perpetrated against Oscar Slater, the Lockerbie trial, St Ninian's Treasure in Shetland to allegations of ritual child abuse in Orkney. It explores the personalities involved, the events leading up to the case, what the court decided and why, and the role that the case played in the development of its area of law. Scots Law Tales presents both the human and the legal faces of these important Scottish cases in an accessible and readable format.

Gray, John, Lawyers' Tales,

Canis Press, Hardback, £9.99,
ISBN: 9780954887896

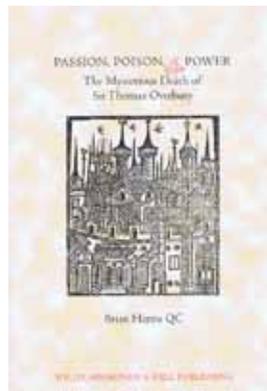

Lawyers' Tales is a miscellany of law-related very short stories and episodes. Fact, apocryphal, fact-fiction and pure fiction, they make easy reading and are variously entertaining, informative, occasionally tragic and intermittently very funny: they give a rare insight into the law and the lawyers.

Greenfield, Steve; Osborn,

Guy; Robson, Peter, Film and the Law: The Cinema of Justice 2nd ed, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £30.00, ISBN: 9781841137254

The book is distinctive in a number of ways; it is unique as a sustained book length exposition on law and film by law scholars; it is distinctive within law and film scholarship in its attempt to plot the parameters of a distinctive genre of law films; its examination of law in film as place and space offers a new way out of the law film genre problem, and also offers an examination of representations of an aspect of legal practice and the legal institution that have not been addressed by other scholars.

Harris, Brian, Passion, Powers & Poison, Wildy, Simmonds & Hill, Hardback, £19.99 ISBN:

“Brian Harris, a contemporary lawyer of distinction, has deployed his forensic skills in seeking to unravel a celebrated seventeenth century murder mystery; his may not be the last word on a topic which has engaged generations of scholars but his theatrical format and analytical insight carry the reader forward with him on an entertaining journey”

Hill, Jonathan; Chong, Adelaide, International Commercial Disputes: Commercial Conflict of Laws in English Courts 4th ed, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £50.00, ISBN: 9781841138510
This is the fourth edition of this highly regarded work on the law of international commercial litigation as practised in the English courts. As such it is primarily concerned with how commercial disputes which have connections with more than one country are dealt with by the English courts. Much of the law which provides the framework for the resolution of such disputes is derived from international instruments, including recent Conventions and Regulations which have significantly re-shaped the law in the European Union. The scope and impact of these European instruments is fully explained and assessed in this new edition.

His Honour Judge Edward Bailey, Butterworths Guide to the Insolvency Rules 2009, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £120.00, ISBN: 9781405744928
The Insolvency Service has indicated that as well as changing the structure of the existing Insolvency Rules there will also be substantive amendments taking into account practical issues raised by the insolvency profession and others who use the legislation. This brand new text will provide a roadmap to the new Rules enabling all insolvency professionals and students alike to quickly come to grips with the new law, its meaning and effects. It contains key practical guidance in addition to the Rules reproduced in full and supporting tables cross-referencing between the old and new rules.

Hunter, Rosemary; McGlynn, Clare; Rackley, Erika, Feminist Judgments: From Theory to Practice, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £22.95, ISBN: 9781849460538

While feminist legal scholarship has thrived within universities and in some sectors of legal practice, it has yet to have much impact within the judiciary or on judicial thinking. Thus, while feminist legal scholarship has generated comprehensive critiques of existing legal doctrine, there has been little opportunity to test or apply feminist knowledge in practice, in decisions in individual cases. In this book, a group of feminist legal scholars put theory into practice in judgment form, by writing the ‘missing’ feminist judgments in key cases.

Hutton, Matthew, Tolley's UK Taxation of Trusts 20th

ed, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £112.00, ISBN: 9780754539193

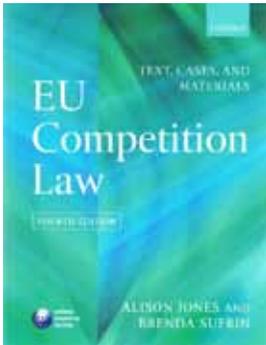

UK Taxation of Trusts is a concise yet comprehensive reference source for all who practise in this area. It is written by a specialist in the field to provide a detailed explanation of the impact of Income Tax, Capital Gains Tax and Inheritance Tax on the various types of trusts. The new edition has been comprehensively revised and will provide coverage on new areas such as the use of trusts in IHT mitigation insurance products and a new chapter designed to summarise the life of a trust in fiscal terms.

Kirchengast, Tyrone, The Criminal Trial in Law and Discourse, Palgrave Macmillan, Hardback, £55.00, ISBN: 9780230577855

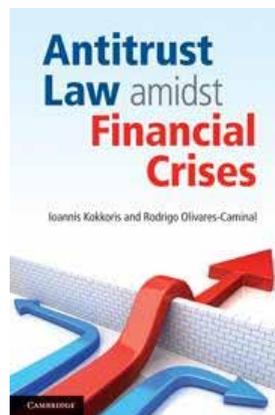

The criminal trial is a transformative institution of social justice and discursive power. The twenty-first century adversarial trial is transgressive, due largely to the increased international focus on victim rights, terrorism, therapeutic jurisprudence, law and order, and human rights. By examining the genealogy of the criminal trial as a means to justice, this book argues that the criminal trial is forged out of competing discourses of justice that include, rather than exclude, the key stakeholders of justice - victims, defendants, police, communities and the state.

Kodilinye, Gilbert, Commonwealth Caribbean Property Law 3rd ed, Routledge-Cavendish, Paperback, £49.99, ISBN: 9780415575041

Commonwealth Caribbean Property Law sets out in a clear and concise manner the central principles of the law of real property in the region, in order to guide students through this often complex and confusing core subject area. In this new edition, the book has been fully revised and updated to include important new case-law from the various Caribbean jurisdictions. There is also a new chapter on Registration of Title.

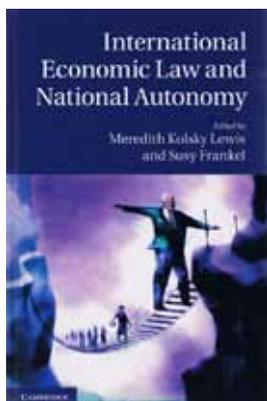

Kokkoris, Ioannis; Olivares-Caminal, Rodrigo, Antitrust Law Amidst Financial Crises, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £95.00, ISBN: 9780521194839

The ultimate goal of competition law is to promote competition and, in most jurisdictions, to enhance consumer welfare. Competition policy may be set aside due to special and exceptional circumstances, such as a financial crisis that threatens the stability of an economy. It is therefore important to have a clear understanding of competition law and the exceptions to it. The key issue that this book addresses is whether a financial crisis can justify the adoption of a more lenient approach to established legal standards as a result of the risks of the systemic crisis to the entire market. It provides an analysis of exceptions to competition law and policy, particularly in the context of a financial crisis, explores the rationale of competition law in the light of conflicting interests, and serves as a valuable practical guide for policy makers as well as practitioners in the field.

Kolsky Lewis, Meredith; Frankel, Susy, International Economic Law and National Autonomy, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £60.00, ISBN: 9780521114608

International commitments may sit uneasily with national pressures in the best of times. This age of economic uncertainty brings these tensions into sharper relief. This volume draws together thirteen analyses of this tension in a wide array of contexts, including each of the three main pillars of the World Trade Organization, international investment law and arbitration, and the international financial institutions.

national lawyers of the first half of the twentieth century. Having come to England from Austria in the early 1920s, he first researched and taught at the London School of Economics before moving to Cambridge in 1937 to become Whewell Professor of International Law. He did valuable work to enhance relations with the United States during the Second World War, and was active after the war in the prosecution of William Joyce and the major Nazi war criminals. For ten years he was also involved in various significant items of professional work and in 1955 he was elected a judge of the International Court of Justice. The book contains many extracts from his correspondence, the interest of which will extend to lawyers, historians of the period and beyond.

Leben, Charles, The Advancement of International Law, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £45.00, ISBN: 9781841132785

The essays collected in this book are arranged into three sections. The first purports to show from the specific example of international investment law that the past half-century has seen the invention of two genuinely new techniques in positive law: state contracts and transnational arbitration without privity. This is ‘advancement’ in international law not because the techniques are ‘good’ in themselves (one may well think them ‘bad’) but because they have introduced legal possibilities into international law that did not exist heretofore. The second section examines the theoretical consequences of those new legal techniques and especially the way they affect the theory of the state. The third widens the field of view and asks whether European law has surpassed international law in a move towards federalism or whether it represents a step forward for international law.

pean Union, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £50.00, ISBN: 9780199595358

Ronan McCrea offers the first comprehensive account of the role of religion within the public order of the European Union. He examines the facilitation and protection of individual and institutional religious freedom in EU law and the means through which the Union facilitates religious input and influence over law. In addition, the book draws attention to the limitations on religious influence over law and politics that are required by the Union. It shows the extent to which such limitations are identified as fundamental elements of the EU's public order and as prerequisites for membership.

Portmann, Rowland, Legal Personality in International Law, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £65.00, ISBN: 9780521768450

Several current international legal issues are related to the concept of legal personality, including the determination of international rights and duties of non-state actors and the legal capacities of transnational institutions. When addressing these issues, different understandings of legal personality are employed. These concepts consider different entities to be international persons, state different criteria for becoming one and attach different consequences to being one. Roland Portmann systematizes the different positions on international personality by spelling out the assumptions on which they rest and examining how they were substantiated in legal practice. He puts forward the argument that positions on international personality which strongly emphasize the role of states or effective actors rely on assumptions that have been discarded in present international law. The principal argument is that international law has to be conceived as an open system, wherein there is no presumption for or against certain entities enjoying international personality.

Schill, Stephen W., International Investment Law and Comparative Public Law, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £145.00, ISBN:

The book thus intends to develop a ‘bridge’ between treaty-based international investment arbitration and comparative administrative law on both a theoretical and practical level. The major obligations in investment treaties (indirect expropriation, fair and equitable treatment, national treatment, umbrella/sanctity of contract clause) and major procedural principles are compared with their counterpart in comparative public law, both on the domestic as well as international level.

Schuon, Christine, International Criminal Procedure: A Clash of Legal Cultures, T.M.C. Asser Press, Hardback, £70.00, ISBN: 9789067043007

The procedures used by international criminal courts blend elements of civil law and common law procedures. This mixture causes disputes between civil and common law lawyers which are hard to resolve while the disputants remain philosophically bound by the premises of their native legal systems. As these disputes frequently arise in the everyday practice of the international criminal courts, this book applies a systematic method of contextual legal comparison and a focus on characteristics of international criminal trials which may help to overcome the civil law-common law divide.

Whetham, David, Ethics, Law and Military Operations, Palgrave Macmillan, Paperback, £23.99, ISBN: 9780230221710

Public anger at perceived ethical and legal failures in recent wars has reinforced the importance of understanding military ethics. Ethics, Law and Military Operations is one of the first texts to examine both the ethical and the legal considerations of contemporary military conflict. It adopts a practical approach to explore the ways in which legal and normative issues combine to affect the entire spectrum of military operations, from high-intensity conflict to peacekeeping activities and the provision of humanitarian aid.

Wilde, Ralph, International Territorial Administration: How Trusteeship and the Civilizing Mission Never Went Away, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £29.99, ISBN: 9780199577897

Through analysis of the history of and purposes associated with the involvement of international organizations in territorial administration, such as the UN missions in Kosovo and East Timor, a comparison between this activity and colonial trusteeship, the Mandate and Trusteeship arrangements, and an exploration of the modern ideas of international law and public policy that underpin and legitimize contemporary interventions, this book relates a new history of the concept of international trusteeship. This new history of international trusteeship raises important questions about the role of international law and organizations in facilitating relations of dominations and tutelage, and suggests that the contemporary significance of the self-determination entitlement needs to be re-evaluated.

PROFESSIONAL LAW FROM OXFORD

Annotated Companies Legislation

Edited by John Birds, Honorary Professor of Commercial Law, University of Manchester
Consultant Editors: Robert Hildyard QC, 4 Stone Buildings, Robert Miles QC, 4 Stone Buildings, Nigel Boardman, Slaughter and May, and Malcolm Davis-White QC, 4 Stone Buildings

“Annotated Companies Legislation gives well framed commentary on the companies legislation with supporting references in an excellent format”

MICHAEL HATCHARD, PARTNER, AT SKADDEN, ARPS, SLATE, MEAGHER & FLOM LLP

Over 2,300 pages this book offers a detailed section-by-section commentary, alongside the legislative text of the Companies Act 2006 and surviving parts of the legislation. This combination of extensive commentary, legislation and analysis represents excellent value for money. Essential reading for barristers, solicitors and academics practicing in commercial and corporate law.

IMPORTANT FORTHCOMING PUBLICATIONS

Abuse of Process, 2nd edition

by Colin Wells

Jordan Publishing, Softcover, ISBN 9781846612299, £55.00, due December 2010
Abuse of Process examines the concept of abuse of process and how it operates within the criminal justice system. This guide deals with the practicalities of how to make applications to stay proceedings on the basis that an abuse of process has occurred. It deals with abuse of process relating to the proper procedure of suspects detained at a police station, the disclosure of documents, delay and the preparation of cases generally, and also includes an examination of key judgments from Strasbourg and the Supreme courts of Australia, New Zealand, Canada and the US. This new edition covers all recent changes to the law including leading judgments such as Mc E v Prison Service of Northern Ireland [2009] UKHL 15, R v Hamza [2007] Crim LR 320, and Spiers v Ruddy [2007] UKPC D2, as well as a new section on the Inability to Participate. The appendices contain a number of expertly-drafted skeleton arguments as well as key materials including Attorney General's Guidance on Disclosure, Code for Crown Prosecutors and Code of Practice under Part II of the Criminal Procedure and Investigations Act 1996. This is essential reading for all criminal solicitors, barristers, judiciary and police.

Drafting Trusts and Wills Trusts: A Modern Approach, 10th edition

by James Kessler and Leon Sartin

Sweet and Maxwell, Hardback, ISBN 97890414042926, £120.00, due December 2010

Drafting Trusts and Will Trusts explains the issues involved in drafting trusts and will trusts. It offers an extensive selection of precedents to suit a wide range of trust requirements, and helps ensure practitioners can make the best tax planning judgements through the use of the correct trust. The new 10th edition covers: Accumulations and Perpetuities Act 2009, STEP provisions, 2nd edition and Finance Act 2009 & 2010. It has a new chapter on Family Limited Partnerships, also additional Will Precedents for married testators and a will precedent dealing with business of agricultural property which was added at the request of many users of the current and past editions. It also includes: Discussion of recent HMRC guidance on transferable NRBs and new IHT forms, Review of recent case law including HMRC v Clay (deductibility from income of trustees' management expenses), C v C (whether interest in discretionary trust is financial resource on divorce), Martin v Trigg (negligence in will drafting and taxation of index linked element in nil rate band trusts), Sammut v Manzi (interpreted of "per stirpes" in clause in will) and discussion of impact for drafting of Human Fertilisation and Embryology Act 2008.

International Intellectual Property Arbitration

by Trevor Cook and Alejandro García

Kluwer Law International, Hardback, ISBN 9789041127259, £112.00, due November 2010

More and more, intellectual property disputes tend to be multijurisdictional in nature, and parties everywhere are turning to international arbitration as the most promising means of resolution. Although these two legal specialisms – intellectual property law and international arbitration – are still in the process of ‘understanding’ each other, an efficient and effective procedural system of international intellectual property arbitration is well under way and growing by leaps and bounds. This is the first book in English to offer a comprehensive guide to this important branch of practice. The treatment throughout is eminently practical. Types of dispute covered includes allegations of infringement of intellectual property rights such as patents, trade marks, copyright and confidential information, validity challenges to registered rights in the context of intellectual property arbitration, disputes as to ownership, and, as to licences of intellectual property rights, whether a particular activity falls within the scope of a licence, issues stemming from technology transfer and its ‘know-how’ element, the definition of licensed rights and of licensed products, calculation of royalties, and much more.

Family Law Protocol, 3rd edition

by The Law Society
Law Society Publishing, Softcover, ISBN 9781853288845, £34.95,

due November 2010

This authoritative set of best practice guidelines has been comprehensively updated. Developed by the Law Society in association with other leading organisations, interest groups and figures in the field, this is the text for family law practitioners to follow. The third edition of this indispensable book takes account of significant developments including: The introduction of the Public Law Outline and its impact on care proceedings, changes affecting pre-nuptial agreements and pension orders, the introduction of civil partnerships and their dissolution, extensive changes to the law of domestic abuse including applying for injunctions, permitted attendance of media representatives at hearings in family proceedings and the introduction of applications for forced marriage protection orders. This third edition has been expanded to include coverage of public and private proceedings, wardship, adoption and abduction within the chapter on Children as well as new chapters on child support, schedule 1 of the Children Act proceedings and agreements such as for cohabitation and maintenance.

Maritime Fraud and Piracy, 2nd edition

by Paul Todd
Informa Publishing,
Hardback, ISBN 9781843118848, £325.00,
due November 2010

This is a law book about maritime fraud and piracy, providing an up to date review of modern piracy. The book examines the ramifications for marine insurance and carriage of goods by sea, including in particular those of the recent increase in kidnap and ransom hijackings. Maritime fraud directly impinges on contracts for international sale and carriage, documentary credits and marine insurance, and its impact is the main focus of this book. Piracy has changed over the last decade, with the increased prevalence of kidnap and ransom attacks. These give rise to legal consequences which are different from those of the more traditional violent thefts of cargoes and ships at sea. The book examines the ramifications for marine insurance and carriage of goods by sea. The book covers all varieties of maritime fraud, some but not all of which are very serious. At the top end of the scale are phantom ships and thefts of entire cargoes.

At the lower end is conduct which though technically fraudulent, is probably better characterised as conduct which crosses the line of acceptable business practice. Technology can assist in the battle against fraudsters, but equally, new opportunities for fraud will be created. The central issue will remain, to what extent traders are prepared to sacrifice the system's virtues to combat fraud, and the extent to which it is rational to do so. The last chapter of the book examines maritime fraud and technology.

Law of Nuisance

by John Murphy

Oxford University Press, Hardback, ISBN 9780199214532, due November 2010

Providing a detailed overview of the law of nuisance, this book addresses contentious issues such as the distinction between the rule in Rylands v Fletcher and the law of private nuisance; the law that excludes personal injuries from the remit of nuisance, and the relationship between public and private nuisance. The book also considers statutory nuisance and the extent to which it can be seen to exceed private and public nuisances as well as utility of nuisance as an environmental tort. This book provides the most up-to-date and comprehensive treatment of the law of nuisance, drilling down to distinctions between these different types of nuisance as well as examining in detail the overlaps between them.

Understanding the CDM 2007 Regulations, 2nd edition

by Owen V. Griffiths and Alun V. Griffiths

Spon Press, Softcover, ISBN 9780415556538, due December 2010

Almost 3000 lives have been lost in the UK construction industry over the last 25 years, in addition to those seriously injured or made ill. The need to reduce this rate has required tight controls throughout the planning and management of construction projects in the UK. The Construction (Design & Management) Regulations 2007 outline the responsibilities and liabilities for the various professionals and agents involved. Straightforward and practical, Understanding the CDM 2007 Regulations demonstrates the rationale behind the regs, covers the duties of the five core duty holders (client, CDM coordinator, designer, principal contractor and contractor), explains the importance of the hazard management process on every project and also sets out the consequences of failing to successfully plan, design and manage for safety. Any client, architect, engineer, CDM co-ordinator, project manager, construction professional, or student will find this a simple but thorough and dependable guide and should value the management toolkit and the numerous practical examples of best practice and guidance on how to use the Approved Code of Practice appropriately. This book shows how to unleash the potential of the regulations and add real value to the industry.

Jordans Company Secretarial Precedents, 6th edition

by HGM Leighton, Peter Van Duzer, Cecile Gillard

Jordan Publishing, Hardback (inc. CD), ISBN 9781846612275, due November 2010

Jordans Company Secretarial Precedents is an essential desk-book for all professionals carrying out company administration work. It contains hundreds of precedents and forms dealing with every aspect of company administration from registration to striking off. Each is accompanied by concise details of when and how it should be used, as it relates to both private and unlisted public companies. In this sixth edition, every precedent and its commentary has been thoroughly updated, so you can be assured that every document drafted meets the latest requirements of the Companies Act 2006. Specific changes include: New Annual Return Form (Form 363a) for return dates on or after 1 October 2008, clarification of the application of the CA 2006 to LLPs, the new procedures for the reduction of share capital and New provisions relating to directors' duties and conflicts of interest. In addition, annotations provide cross-references to relevant legislative provisions throughout the book. The right precedent to use or adapt is not only easy to find but offers the reassurance that it has been drafted and used by practising corporate administration and company secretarial experts. All of the precedents and forms are included on the accompanying CD-ROM, allowing you to adapt them quickly to suit your own requirements.

Stamp Duty Land Tax: A Practical Guide, 9th edition

by Reg Nock

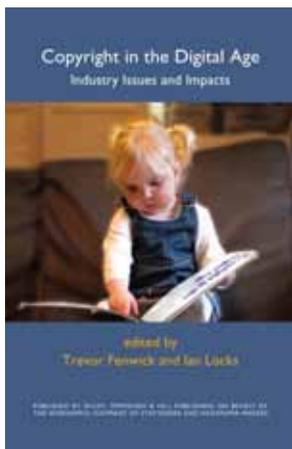

Law Society Publishing, Softcover, ISBN 9781853288098, due December 2010

This book provides an authoritative guide for practitioners to the technical, changeable and bewildering application of SDLT to a wide range of transactions involving land, including: development, leases, conveyancing, construction, partnership property, corporate transactions, trusts and the administration of estates. The ninth edition of this popular work has been much expanded and brought up-to-date by one of the country's leading experts on stamp taxes who combines a precise analysis of the legislation and incisive review of the case law with: a focus on how and when the tax arises in practice, explanation of strategies that could help minimise clients' exposure to tax and penalties, interpretation of HMRC Stamp Taxes practice and policies, discussion of the difficulties arising from defined terms, warnings of potential pitfalls for practitioners and commentary on the complex provisions relating to leases.

Butterworths Competition Law Handbook 2010, 16th edition

edited by Antonio Bavasso
LexisNexis Butterworths, Softcover, ISBN 9781405749923, due November 2010

Published annually, Butterworths Competition Law Handbook is the essential work for all practitioners in the field of competition law. It is the most comprehensive single collection of UK statutory source material and official guidance on competition law. With a new consultant editor from a magic circle firm, this edition has been updated and expanded to reflect the requirements of modern day practitioners, including a new section on litigation and a new Part V addressing UK and EU Court Materials. Butterworths Competition Law Handbook presents the latest legislation in an easy-to-use format so you will be able to find information quickly and easily. With legislation is printed as currently in force (taking into account all amendments, repeals and revocations) and detailed technical annotations, it can be used as both a stand-alone desktop reference or alongside more in-depth works from LexisNexis.

COPYRIGHT IN THE DIGITAL AGE: INDUSTRY ISSUES AND IMPACTS

edited by

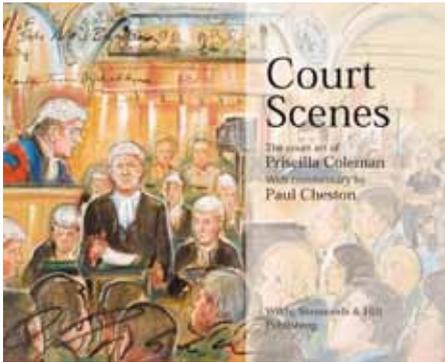

Trevor Fenwick and Ian Locks

on Behalf of The Worshipful Company of Stationers and Newspaper Makers

Price:	£24.95
ISBN:	9780854900800
Extent:	192 pp.
Size:	234 x 156mm
Binding:	Paperback

The primary purpose of this book is to inform the debate on the future of copyright in the digital age: a professional resource for those seeking information on the importance and value of Copyright to the UK's Creative Industries and to promote understanding of the importance of those industries and their reliance on their ability to 'own' intellectual property through copyright legislation. The book contains articles and submissions by leading industry practitioners, lawyers and academics with practical experience of the importance of Copyright in the UK as well as those at the 'sharp end' as publishers and producers. It reflects the challenges to be faced with the development of the digital usage of copyright material as well as tracking the Stationers' 450 years of involvement in the development of copyright, enshrined in law by the Statute of Anne 300 years ago.

The Stationers' Company is the City of London Livery Company for the visual and graphic communications industries. The Company was founded in 1403 when the manuscript writers and illuminators formed a guild, taking the name 'Stationers' from the fact that they had stopped being itinerant vendors and had set up fixed stalls in St Paul's Churchyard. At the end of the 15th century when printing first came to England, the Stationers had the good sense to embrace the new technology. The guild received a Royal Charter in 1557 in which they were given a monopoly in printing and the responsibility to check and register all books produced in England. Today the Company has over 800 members, the vast majority of whom are senior executives in the complete range of trades within the visual and graphic communications industries, from paper, print, publishing, packaging, office products, newspapers, broadcasting and online media. Membership is drawn from across the UK and increasingly throughout the world and now includes major companies as well as individual members. The Company still uses Stationers' Hall for the purpose for which it was built 350 years ago: to bring together the major players in our associated industries so that they can enjoy each other's company, learn from one another, swap ideas and together develop strategies for the future of an industry that is vital to global economic growth. Activities range from formal dinners, informal lunches, lectures, seminars and intimate round-table sessions to online reports and discussion fora.

COURT SCENES
THE COURT ART OF PRISCILLA
COLEMAN

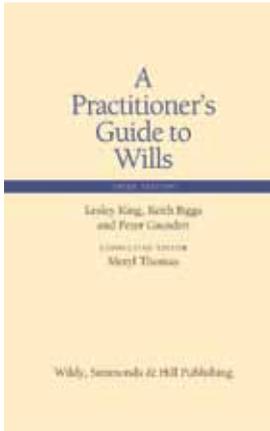

Commentary by Paul Cheston

Price: £19.99
ISBN: 9780854900398
Extent: 64 pp.
Size: 300 x 242 mm
Binding: Hardback

Priscilla Coleman has been drawing court scenes for over 20 years. The pictures collected here mark many of the most important trials of that period. There is a widespread misunderstanding among those who see pictures on TV or in the newspapers that an artist can sketch as much as they like in court. As lawyers know, far from taking a palate and easel into the public gallery, any attempt at photography, drawings or visual representations is strictly verboten. Artists have to memorise in court the colours, shades, clothing, facial mannerisms and physical idiosyncracies then go out and draw a likeness from memory . . . against the clock.

Priscilla Coleman was born in Chilton, near Waco Texas and went to high school in Chilton and Huntsville before studying fine art and graphics at Sam Houston State University, Texas. Inspired by her mother Henrietta, a talented fashion illustrator and portrait painter, Priscilla is driven by a love of drawing people. She approached ITN with a video tape of her electronic news graphics and court drawings from her time with Channel 13 and KTRK TV in Houston where she was art director for news, and was hired straight away. Her first sketch was of Jeffrey Archer and Monica Coghlan in the notorious High Court libel trial.

Paul Cheston is the courts correspondent of the London Evening Standard. He was born in Aberdare, Mid Glamorgan and educated at Kimbolton School and the University of East Anglia. He covered his first court case for the Diss Express and, after training on the Middlesbrough Evening Gazette, came to Fleet Street to work for the Press Association. He joined the short-lived London Daily News and was in court on the final day of the Jeffrey Archer libel trial when owner Robert Maxwell closed the paper down. After brief work for the Daily Star and Sunday Express he joined the Evening Standard as a general news reporter. He was appointed courts correspondent in 1993 and is co-author of Brothers in Blood published in 1994.

A PRACTITIONER'S GUIDE TO WILLS
3d edition

Lesley King, Keith Biggs and Peter Gausden

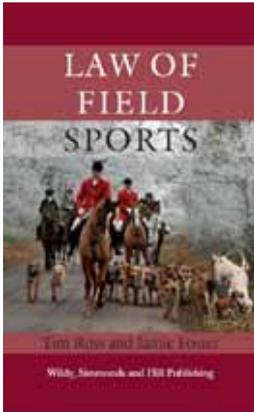

Consulting Editor: Meryl Thomas

Price: £59
ISBN: 9780854900725
Extent: 502 pp.
Size: 29 x 152 mm
Binding: Hardback & CD-ROM

The third edition of this popular title provides a practical and comprehensive reference for all those concerned in drafting and interpreting wills, and in giving effect to their provisions. The commentary is supported throughout by an extensive range of specimen clauses and model wills are provided in a separate appendix. All precedent material is included on the accompanying CD-Rom, enabling practitioners to adapt precedents for their own use.

Fully updated, A Practitioner's Guide to Wills features a new chapter on the use of Pilot Trusts and deals with the Mental Capacity Act 2005, Charities Act 2006 and Perpetuities and Accumulations Act 2009. It examines the impact of the legislative changes in recent years to tax planning, notably the new capital gains tax regime and the radical changes to the IHT treatment of trusts, particularly those affecting provision in wills for spouses and civil partners and children. The impact on planning and drafting is also considered, together with the role that the nil rate discretionary trust might still have to play in financial planning notwithstanding the introduction of the transferable nil-rate band between spouses and civil partners. The chapter on testamentary capacity has been fully revised in the light of the Mental Capacity Act 2005 and its effect on the application of the Banks v Goodfellow test as considered in recent cases including Re Perrins, Re Ritchie and Key v Key.

Lesley King is a solicitor, and a principal lecturer at the College of Law. Keith Biggs was formerly District Probate Registrar at Winchester, and is now a consultant on common form probate. Peter Gausden was formerly a principal lecturer at the College of Law. He is now a consultant solicitor at Rowlinsons. Meryl Thomas is Professor in Property Law at Birmingham City University, and Visiting Professor in Succession at the Institute of Law in Jersey

LAW OF FIELD SPORTS

Tim Russ and Jamie Foster

Price:	£35
ISBN:	9780854900695
Extent:	circa 160pp.
Size:	216 x 138mm
Binding:	Paperback

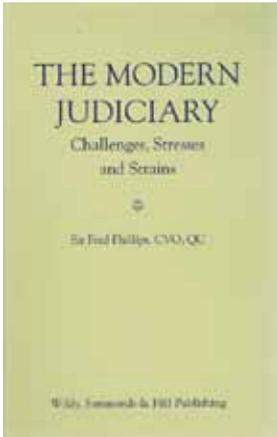

Written by leading practitioners in the field, Law of Field Sports is the first book on the Game Act 1831 for the best part of a century during which time there has been considerable reform of the law. This book contains a detailed analysis of the civil and criminal law relating to shooting and hunting and offers a practical evaluation of the Hunting Act 2004. The authors look at the law of poaching and control of shooting and hunting in terms of closed seasons and provide up-to-date precedents on the Ground Game Act 1880. A useful overview of pertinent firearms law is also included.

Land ownership of rural land is also covered so far as it relates to shooting and hunting, in particular the issue of how field sports rights are treated by the law of real property. The book also sets out the law appertaining to badgers, deer and other species managed in the countryside.

Law of Field Sports provides a comprehensive single source of reference that will prove invaluable for practitioners drafting game rights in sporting or farming leases, or defending those who might have fallen foul of the law and be facing prosecution in relation to game issues.

Tim Russ is a Partner with Clarke Willmott LLP. He specialises in agricultural property disputes including agricultural tenancy and related issues and has been recognised as an agricultural expert by the Chambers and Legal Experts directories. He is a member of the Agricultural Law Association, the Country Land & Business Association, and is a Fellow of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators.

Jamie Foster is a Senior Associate with Clarke Willmott LLP and specialises in regulatory law, advising and representing clients involved in environmental prosecutions, health and safety prosecutions and animal welfare cases.

THE MODERN JUDICIARY
Challenges, Stresses and Strains

Sir Fred Phillips, CVO, QC

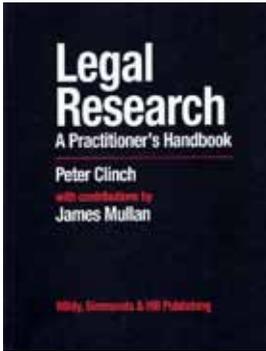

Price: £65
ISBN: 9780854900671
Extent: 302pp
Size: 229mm x 152mm
Binding: Hardback

This book examines the vocation of being a judge. It covers training, discipline and removal of judges as well as their position in the broader context as law-makers and servants of society.

The book is both comparative and practical while also examining the theory and jurisprudence of judging. It is full of practical examples drawn from the author's extensive experience and numerous contacts within the judiciary around the world. It examines their relationship to the societies they are representing and answerable to and their position and responsibilities as part of an international judicial brotherhood.

Although based in the Caribbean, the author is well known throughout the Commonwealth and in the United States as a writer on constitutional law and ethics.

Sir Fred Phillips is the former Governor, St. Kitts/Nevis/Anguilla and a Barrister-at-Law and member of the Middle Temple. He is the author of six books on constitutional law and ethics of the legal profession

LEGAL RESEARCH: A Practitioner's Handbook

Peter Clinch with contributions by James Mullan

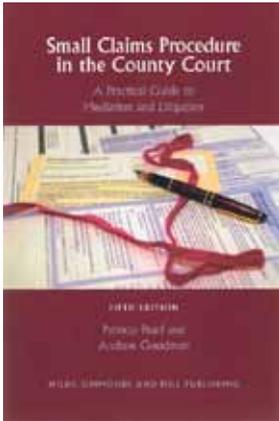

Price:	£39
ISBN:	9780854900640
Extent:	450 pp
Size:	246 x 189mm
Binding:	Hardback

This comprehensive reference is specifically aimed at busy practitioners (solicitors, barristers and professional support lawyers), particularly those who do not have the benefit of access to a law librarian or information officer. Legal Research: A Practitioner's Handbook provides practical advice on every aspect of effective legal research: problem analysis, selecting and finding the best sources, and presenting results effectively.

Part A covers problem identification and analysis, followed by advice on how to select the best sources and formats (paper or electronic) for research. Part B deals with the information most frequently sought by practitioners, listing sources with analytical comments and, for a selection of the most complex, 'how to use' instructions developed to a standard template. Jurisdictional coverage includes England, Wales, Scotland, Northern Ireland and the European Union, with the addition of information on key sources in European human rights and international law. Part C details sources on how to make the presentation of the results of legal research more effective.

Peter Clinch is Senior Subject Librarian for Law at Cardiff University and has trained law students, practising solicitors and law librarians in legal research skills. He devised and runs the award-winning Cardiff Index to Legal Abbreviations.

James Mullan is Knowledge Management Systems Manager for Field Fisher Waterhouse LLP. Previously he was an Information Officer at CMS Cameron McKenna LLP. He is a member of the British & Irish Association of Law Librarians (BIALL) council.

SMALL CLAIMS PROCEDURE
IN THE COUNTY COURT (5ed)
A Practical Guide to Mediation and Litigation

Patricia Pearl and Andrew Goodman

Price: £19.99
ISBN: 9780854900527
Extent: 309pp.
Size: 152mm x 229mm
Binding: Paperback

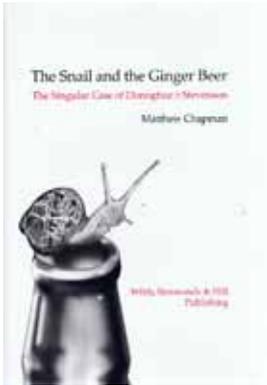

Legal professionals rarely receive any formal training or guidance on how to run a small claims case in the county court, while litigants in person often have to conduct such cases without legal representation. A lack of understanding of the rules frequently leads to confusion and mistakes, which in turn adds to expense and causes delay. The fifth edition of this popular title (formerly entitled Small Claims Procedure: A Practical Guide) will prove invaluable for busy practitioners and litigants in person alike, equipping them with the latest know-how on avoiding errors and making the most of the procedures that are available.

The mediation section of the book has special prominence in this edition. Litigants using the small claims track can now agree to have their cases diverted to a mediation service run by the Courts service and at no additional charge. The system has been in operation now for over a year and has proved popular with court users, especially litigants in person. This book sets out the scheme in detail together with practical tips on how to make the best use of this new service.

Updating material in this edition has been significant; of particular importance are the clarified rules on the date upon which court proceedings are served and the material which must be included in letters before action and other pre-action steps. Finally, the book has been made even more user friendly by improved cross-referencing, handy tables and an extensive glossary.

THE SNAIL AND THE GINGER BEER
The Story of Donoghue v Stevenson

Matthew Chapman

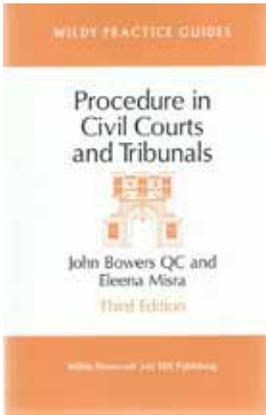

Price: £14.99
ISBN: 9780854900497
Extent: 200 pp.
Size: 152mm x 229mm
Binding: Hardback

On an August evening in 1928 May Donoghue, a shop assistant, entered a café in Paisley. The circumstances of her visit made legal history. A ginger beer was ordered for Mrs Donoghue who famously complained that, to her surprise and shock, a decomposed snail had tumbled from the bottle into her glass. Mrs Donoghue sued for the nervous shock she claimed to have suffered as a result. The question whether she had a case in law against the manufacturer of the ginger beer was argued as far as the House of Lords. It is hard to overstate the importance of the decision in Donoghue v Stevenson. It represents, perhaps, the greatest contribution made by English and Scottish lawyers to the development of the common law.

Donoghue v Stevenson made it clear that, even without a contract between the parties, a duty of care is owed by 'A' to take reasonable care to avoid acts or omissions which could reasonably be foreseen as likely to cause injury to his neighbour: 'B'. This concept, developed by the great jurist Lord Atkin, has become known by the universal shorthand, 'the neighbour principle'. Who, Lord Atkin asked rhetorically, is 'in law' my neighbour? Donoghue v Stevenson provides the answer.

The Snail and the Ginger Beer tells the full story of this remarkable case. It provides vivid biographical sketches of the protagonists and of the great lawyers who were involved in the case. It sets Donoghue v Stevenson in its historical context and re-evaluates the evidence. The roots of the neighbour principle are excavated in the parable of the Good Samaritan and the case law of the United States. The constitutional importance of the case is also dealt with; the blow it struck for a moral approach to the law which departed from a rigid doctrine of precedent. Finally, the book investigates the influence of Donoghue v Stevenson across the common law world: from the USA to the countries of what is now the Commonwealth.

PROCEDURE IN CIVIL COURTS AND TRIBUNALS
3d edition

John Bowers QC and Eleena Misra

Price: £29
ISBN: 9780854900510
Extent: 116 pp.
Size: 216 x 138mm
Binding: Paperback

Formerly published as part of the popular Practice Notes series, Procedure in Civil Courts and Tribunals provides an accessible guide to litigation in the County or High Court, as well as providing a useful overview of some specialist tribunals e.g. the Employment Tribunal. Of particular interest to practitioners will be the chapter on appeals which includes up-to-date guidance on the applicable rules and practice direction, together with practical advice on appellate advocacy.

In addition to providing practical and comprehensive guidance on civil litigation, the authors give valuable insights into written and oral advocacy, witness statements and affidavits, case preparation and courtroom skills. Presented in a compact, user-friendly format, Procedure in Civil Courts and Tribunals also contains an array of helpful checklists which will prove invaluable to the busy practitioner.

John Bowers QC is one of the leading employment barristers in the UK, practising from Littleton Chambers. He has written over fifteen books, and is a frequent contributor to the Law Society Gazette, New Law Journal and Industrial Law Journal. He is a Recorder on the Midland Circuit and a former Chair of the Employment Law Bar Association.

Eleena Misra is an employment and commercial law specialist at Littleton Chambers. She is the co-author of Employment and Equal Opportunities (Atkin's Court Forms) and has contributed to several other employment law titles.

PARTNERSHIP AND LLP LAW

Elspeth Berry

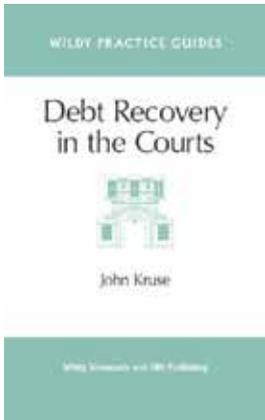

Price:	£29
ISBN:	9780854900602
Extent:	183 pp.
Size:	216 x 138mm
Binding:	Paperback

This book contains a mass of legal and practical information within a compact, user-friendly format. It provides a comprehensive and comparative explanation of the law relating to all three types of business partnership available under English law; general partnerships, limited partnerships and LLPs. Partnership and LLP Law explains the applicable law from formation of the business to termination, including chapters on the availability or otherwise of legal personality, duties of partners and members, management issues, property and finance, taxation, litigation and insolvency. It includes coverage of the Limited Liability Partnerships (Application of Companies Act 2006) Regulations 2009, which adapt and apply the provisions of the Companies Act 2006 to LLPs; and the Legislative Reform (Limited Partnerships) Order 2009, which introduces key reforms to limited partnership law.

The law relating to each of the three types of partnership is set out clearly and concisely to enable the reader to understand, or refresh their understanding of partnership and LLP law. This approach will also enable those with knowledge or experience of one type of partnership to understand the similarities and differences of the other types. A sample partnership/ LLP agreement is included within the book.

Elspeth Berry is a Senior Lecturer in Law at Nottingham Law School, with over fifteen years of experience in researching partnership and LLP law and teaching undergraduate and postgraduate students the law of business organisations and other commercial and international subjects. She is the co-author of European Union Law (2007) and Partnership Law (1999).
