MAJOR NEW TITLES THIS MONTH

Ali, Rahail, Sukuk and Islamic Capital Markets: A Practical Handbook, Globe Law and Business, Hardback, £122.00, ISBN: 9781905783427

This practical title provides a comprehensive overview of the Islamic capital markets, tracking their development from the first sukus to the current outlook after the global economic crisis and the recent Shariah rulings of the Accounting and Auditing Organization for Islamic Financial Institutions (AAO-IFI) in relation to sukuk. With examples from practitioners who have helped to shape the Islamic capital markets, this book presents key insights for beginners, as well as more experienced practitioners. The guide is a practical handbook for legal practitioners, financial Institutions and bankers, central banks, university libraries and students and practitioners generally who have an interest in Islamic finance.

Amerasinghe, Chittharanjan F., International Ar-

bitral Jurisdiction, Brill Academic Publishers, Hardback, £115.00, ISBN: 9789004181335

International Arbitral Jurisdiction analyzes the jurisdictional powers of international arbitral tribunals in areas of fundamental importance. The volume clarifies how tribunals have approached problems in consensual arrangements for submission to tribunals, and describes the general principles that have emerged. International Arbitral Jurisdiction is a valuable, comprehensive and timely addition to the literature on international arbitration. It is intended to be a companion text to two preceding volumes on international jurisdiction by the same author, namely Jurisdiction of International Tribunals (2003) and Jurisdiction of Specific International Tribunals (2009).

Implied Terms in English Contract Law, Edward Elgar Publishing Limited, Hardback, £65.00, ISBN: 9781848445581

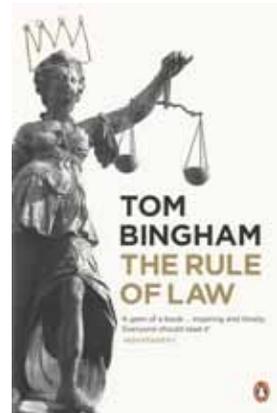

Implied Terms in English Contract Law is a unique book dedicated to stating the law of England and Wales regarding the implication of terms into contracts. The law on this important subject is stated systematically and in detail, with the benefit of close analysis of the leading cases on implication at common law, by statute, by custom, trade usage, course of dealing and in fact. Coupled with a consideration of the history of implied terms and theoretical considerations, this book will be an invaluable aid to academics, students and practitioners alike.

Barton, Benjamin H., The Lawyer-Judge Bias in the American Legal System, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £60.00, ISBN: 9781107004757

Virtually all American judges are former lawyers. This book argues that these lawyer-judges instinctively favor the legal profession in their decisions and that this bias has far-reaching and deleterious effects on American law. The book begins with a theoretical explanation of why judges naturally favor the interests of the legal profession and follows with case law examples from diverse areas, including legal ethics, criminal procedure, constitutional law, torts, evidence, and the business of law. The book closes with a case study of the Enron fiasco, an argument that the lawyer-judge bias has contributed to the overweening complexity of American law, and suggests some possible solutions.

Bingham, Tom, The Rule of Law, Penguin Books, Paperback, £9.99, ISBN: 9780141034539

Wildy's Book of the Month (in Hardback) - February 2010

In this brilliant short book, Britain's former senior law lord, and one of the world's most acute legal minds, examines what the idea actually means. He makes clear that the rule of law is not an arid legal doctrine but is the foundation of a fair and just society, is a guarantee of responsible government, is an important contribution to economic growth and offers the best means yet devised for securing peace and co-operation. He briefly examines the historical origins of the rule, and then advances eight conditions which capture its essence as understood in Western democracies today. He also discusses the strains imposed on the rule of law by the threat and experience of international terrorism.

Black, Ann; Bell, Gary, Law and Legal Institutions of Asia: Traditions, Adaptations and Innovations, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780521116497

The study of Asia and its plural legal systems is of increasing significance, both within and outside Asia. Lawyers, whether in Australia, America or Europe, or working within an Asian jurisdiction, require a sound knowledge of how the law operates across this fast-growing and diverse region. Law and Legal Institutions of Asia is the first book to offer a comprehensive assessment of eleven key jurisdictions in Asia – China, Hong Kong, Taiwan, Japan, Korea, Vietnam, Malaysia, Indonesia, Brunei Darussalam, Singapore and the Philippines. Written by academics and practitioners with particular expertise in their state or territory, each chapter uses a breakthrough approach, facilitating cross-jurisdictional comparisons and giving essential insights into how law functions in different ways across the region, and in each of the individual jurisdictions.

Blanke, Gordon; Landolt, Philip, EU and US Antitrust

Arbitration: A Handbook for Practitioners, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, 2 Volumes, £220.00, ISBN: 9789041127600

With around 50 chapters dealing with all aspects of antitrust law and competition law written by experts in the field, this book is the first, English-language book on competition law and arbitration covering both US antitrust and EC competition law. The book will provide an indepth examination of all relevant aspects across the field. Rather than just flagging issues, it will provide workable guidance on how practitioners can solve them.

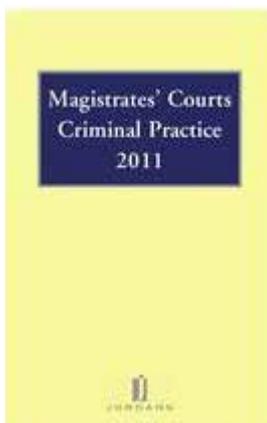

Booth, Robin; Farrell QC, Simon; Bastable, Guy; Yeo, Nicholas, Money Laundering Law and Regulation: A Practical Guide, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £65.00,

ISBN: 9780199543038

This new work provides a practical, comprehensive guide to domestic anti-money laundering law and regulation, increasingly seen as key weapons in the fight against serious and organised crime. The authors explain the genesis of the current regime, placing it in its international and regional context. They go on to provide a detailed chapter-by-chapter analysis of the current law, explaining and analysing key concepts. The authors consider also ‘the practice’ of those tasked with prosecuting or defending offences.

Brewer, David, Magistrates Courts Criminal Practice 2011, Jordan Publishing Ltd, Hardback & CD-ROM, £199.00, ISBN: 9781846612732

Magistrates' Courts Criminal Practice 2011 provides, in one volume, a complete reference work for advocates and officials in the Magistrates' courts. Designed to combine authority with practicality, this major work provides step-by-step advice on a vast array of court procedures following the normal progression of a case from cautions and commencement of proceedings right through to appeals, including a thorough treatment of the law and practice of evidence as it relates to cases in the magistrates' courts.

Broude, Tomer; Shany, Yuval, Multi-Sourced Equivalent Norms in International Law, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £60.00, ISBN: 9781849461450
Regional arrangements reinforce undertakings that already exist at the global level; and common concerns and solutions appear in many international legal fields. This book focuses on such instances of normative parallelism, developing the concept of ‘multisourced equivalent norms’ in international law, with contributions by leading international law experts exploring the legal and political implications of the concept in a variety of contexts that span the full spectrum of international legal norms and institutions.

Campbell, Tom; Ewing, KD.; Tompkins, Adam, The Legal Protection of Human Rights: Sceptical Essays, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £39.95, ISBN: 9780199606085
Reacting to the mixed record of the UK Human Rights Act

1998 and similar enactments concerned with the protection of human rights, this book explores ways of promoting human rights more effectively through political and democratic mechanisms. The book expresses ideological scepticism concerning the relative neglect of social and economic rights and institutional scepticism concerning the limitations of court-centred means for enhancing human rights goals in general. The contributors criticize the ‘juridification’ of human rights through transferring the prime responsibility for identifying human rights violations to courts and advocate the greater ‘politicisation’ of human rights responsibilities through such measures as enhanced parliamentary scrutiny of existing and proposed legislation.

Cassese, Antonio, Five Masters of International Law: Conversations with R-J Dupuy, E Jimenez de Arechaga, R. Jennings, L. Henkin and O. Schachter, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £30.00, ISBN: 9781849461207

This book consists of interviews with five distinguished international lawyers from the UK, USA, Uruguay and France, conducted by the editor, Antonio Cassese, between 1993 and 1995. Each interview is preceded by a brief “intellectual portrait” of the interviewee. In his general introduction Cassese stresses that the interviews, all based on the same questionnaire, were intended to bring out not only the main ideas associated with each scholar in the fields of international law and international relations, but also his intellectual and philosophical background, his general outlook and his views of the prospects for the evolution of the international community. In his final essay, Cassese brings together the main threads of the interviews and points to the parallels and divergences appearing from them.

Cassese, Antonio; Acquaviva, Guido; Fan, Mary; Whiting, Alex, International Criminal Law: Cases and Commentary, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £49.99, ISBN: 9780199576784

International Criminal Law: Cases and Commentary presents a concise and comprehensive explanation of the developments of major areas in substantive international criminal law, through a selection of key illustrative cases from domestic and international jurisdictions. The focus is on the law related to individual criminal liability for war crimes, crimes against humanity, genocide and aggression - with specific attention paid to sources of international criminal law, fundamental principles of criminal responsibility and defences.

Cave, Rebecca, Capital Gains Tax Roll-over, Hold-over and Deferral Reliefs 2010/11, Bloomsbury Professional, Paperback + eBook, £107.80, ISBN: 9781847665331

A unique and user-friendly reference guide to all the capital gains tax reliefs that may apply on the sale of businesses, business assets, and for gifts, including entrepreneurs' relief. It is designed to be used on a day-in day-out basis, with handy hints, tips and planning suggestions, a wealth of worked examples, and fully updated to the latest legislation.

Circus, Philip J., Promotional Marketing Law: A Practical Guide 6th ed, Bloomsbury Professional,

Paperback, £70.00, ISBN: 9781847667397

Promotional Marketing Law: A Practical Guide (previously titled Sales Promotion and Direct Marketing Law: A Practical Guide) offers comprehensive advice on the law relating to sales promotion. This book highlights key developments and helps you to avoid possible legal pitfalls and offers straightforward, no-nonsense advice. It uses a question and answer format for quick reference, saving you valuable time. Covering questions regularly raised by sales promotion and marketing professionals, this book is based on many years of practical experience on the part of the author.

Coulson, Peter, Coulson on Construction Adjudication

2nd ed, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £225.00, ISBN: 9780199597222

The first edition of Construction Adjudication was the first book to deal comprehensively with the law and practice of adjudication in construction and engineering disputes. Written by a High Court judge sitting in the Technology and Construction Court, this new edition of Coulson on Construction Adjudication provides a definitive up-to-date text, invaluable to all involved in the adjudication process. The new edition of this established and popular text has been painstakingly revised to provide comprehensive coverage of these new legislative changes, as well as to analyze the wealth of decisions under clear headings, explaining the scope and limits of an adjudicator's decision.

Cremona, Marise, Market Integration and Public Services in the European Union, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £50.00, ISBN: 9780199607730

In a period when the nature and scope of the European internal market is hotly contested, this collection offers a topical analysis of the most pressing issues relating to market integration and public services in the EU. Outlining the most important current issues relating to market integration and public services in the EU, this book addresses the underlying, systemic questions of the relation between public services and markets, and services and the consumer.

Dale, Stephen; Nieuwenhuizen, Wilbert, VAT Yearbook

2010/2011: VAT Decisions of the Court of Justice of the European Communities 1974 - June 2010, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £112.00, ISBN: 9789041134134

Strictly speaking, the primary purpose of the European Court of Justice (ECJ) is to interpret the meaning of European Union (EU) treaties and directives and to make sure they're applied uniformly across the member union. In practice, the ECJ has become a major driver of European economic integration through its rulings in the area of taxation like those dealing with the value added tax (VAT). EU VAT practitioners demand a constantly updated appreciation of the ins-and-outs of related controversies in order to properly safeguard the interests of their clients. These professionals must also contend with the complexity introduced by the interplay of Community and national law. This book provides an accessible resource directly addressing each of these concerns. The structure of this highly useful resource is based on the focus of the relevant ECJ cases, and hence on the structure of the new (and old) Sixth VAT Directive.

Dennis, Vernon, Liquidation, Law Society Publishing, Paperback, £39.95, ISBN: 9781853288739

The Insolvency Law Series provides a set of clear, step-by-step guides to the main statutory insolvency procedures. Written and edited by Vernon Dennis, a leading expert in insolvency law, each book offers a thorough and chronological analysis of a specific insolvency procedure from pre-commencement considerations to its conclusion.

Denny, Neil, The Collaborative Law Companion, Family Law, Paperback, £45.00, ISBN: 9781846612503 Collaborative family law allows practitioners to manage the divorce process in a more dignified manner. Each separating spouse receives legal advice and practical guidance and, together with specially trained collaborative lawyers, can discuss and resolve issues through face-to-face meetings. The Collaborative Law Companion provides clients, lawyers and other collaborative professionals with a thorough understanding of the dynamics of the process and how they can be effective within it. This new handbook offers a source of great encouragement, comfort and reference that can be returned to time and time again as the process progresses.

Dilling, Olaf; Herberg, Martin; Winter, Gerd, Transnational Administrative Rule-Making: Performance, Legal Effects, and Legitimacy, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £60.00, ISBN: 9781841132228 The present volume shows how transnational administrative governance leads to a paradox: while it performs well in many areas, providing solutions that are not achievable by state and international law, its informality profoundly lacks legitimacy in a strict sense. This book explores, from a socio-legal perspective, a broad range of legitimation mechanisms of different types and quality and shows that there can be a fit between certain forms of legitimation and specific governance constellations. In doing so, the book adds an empirical layer to our understanding of transnational administrative governance.

Dalton, Alan; Rudling, David, Tolley's VAT Cases 2011, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £139.95, ISBN: 9780754540151 Tolley's VAT Cases 2011 is a single-volume publication which contains concise summaries of more than 4,000 essential court and VAT Tribunal decisions, from 1973 to 1 January 2011, relevant to current legislation. Cases are classified into chapters which are arranged alphabetically, making navigation quick and simple, and allowing case summaries from any year to be rapidly located.

Dolton, Alan; Walton, Kevin, Tolley's Tax Cases 2011, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £116.95, ISBN: 9780754540168

This is your complete guide to Court, Special Commissioners' and First-Tier Tribunal decisions relevant to current direct tax legislation. This unique handbook contains concise summaries of over 2,800 tax cases from 1875 right up to the most recent judgements. Fully updated to take account of all cases up to 1 January 2011, this authoritative text is the only book of its kind to contain summaries of all important court decisions relevant to direct tax legislation. With chapters arranged in alphabetical order for easy referencing and a comprehensive index, you can find all the answers you require quickly and easily.

Duff, RA.; Green, Stuart, Philosophical Foundations of Criminal Law, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780199559152

25 leading contemporary theorists of criminal law tackle a range of foundational issues about the proper aims and structure of the criminal law in a liberal democracy. Topics covered in this volume include the question of criminalization and the proper scope of the criminal law; the grounds of criminal responsibility; the ways in which offences and defences should be defined; the criminal process and its values; criminal punishment; the relationship between international criminal law and domestic criminal law. Together, the essays provide a picture of the exciting state of criminal law theory today, and the basis for further research and debate in the coming years.

Durston, Gregory, Evidence: Texts and Materials 2nd ed., Oxford University Press, Paperback, £31.99, ISBN: 9780199583607

Evidence: Text & Materials provides a 'one-stop', readily accessible resource for students studying the law of evidence. It offers an exceptionally clear and lucid presentation of the law, effectively introducing and guiding students through this challenging and stimulating subject. Interwoven with the author's incisive explanatory commentary are extracts from key cases, essential articles, and academic books. Exposure to these materials will help the student to develop a truly in-depth understanding of the key principles of the law of evidence, and a keen awareness of how these principles are applied in modern practice. Particular attention is paid to the major developments and judgments that have transformed this subject in recent years.

Elliot, Mark; Thomas, Robert, Public Law, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £33.99, ISBN: 9780199237104

Public Law is an advanced, high quality textbook that comprehensively covers the key topics found on undergraduate public law courses. The book presents a sophisticated and accessible analysis of the law and institutions of public law, and places the legal issues within the wider socio-political context within which the constitution operates. Three key themes that permeate the content allow students to approach the subject in a structured and easy to understand way, and questions posed throughout the chapters give students the opportunity to provide answers that show how their knowledge has increased as the chapter progresses.

Farbey, Judith; Sharpe, Robert; Atrill, Simon, The Law of Habeas Corpus 3rd ed, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780199248247

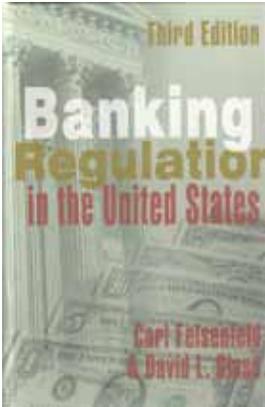

This volume looks first at the historical development of the writ, tracing its growth in significance until its emergence as an item of central constitutional importance. Having established the traditional place of habeas corpus, the volume goes on to examine the limits of the remedy today. It describes the modern workings of the application for habeas corpus and assesses the scope, function, and role of the procedure. It explores the relationship between habeas corpus and fundamental rights. The volume critically surveys the nature of judicial review on habeas corpus and investigates past, present, and potential future uses of the writ. It aims to provide a comprehensive statement of current English law, with added discussion of the position in other Commonwealth countries. The volume concludes with a guide to procedure and sample forms.

Felsenfeld, Carl; Glass, David, Banking Regulation in the United States 3rd ed, Juris Publishing, Hardback, £105.00, ISBN: 9781578232635

This handy reference work is ideal for either the experienced practitioner or the neophyte, involved in representing an institution or client whose interests involve United States banking regulation. Banking Regulation in the United States analyzes and discusses the pattern of banking regulation, the systems structure, the sources of governing law and the nature and reasons for the changes that gives this field its peculiar volatility.

Foster, Caroline E., Science and the Precautionary Prin- ciple in International Courts and Tribunals: Expert Evidence, Burden of Proof and Finality, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £70.00, ISBN: 9780521513265

Caroline Foster examines how the precautionary principle can be accommodated within the rules about proof and evidence and advises on the boundary emerging between the roles of experts and tribunals. A new form of reassessment proceedings for use in exceptional cases is proposed. Breaking new ground, this book seeks to advance international adjudicatory practice by contextualising developments in the taking of expert evidence and analysing the justification of and potential techniques for a precautionary reversal of the burden of proof, as well as methods for dealing with important scientific discoveries subsequent to judgments and awards.

Gammeltoft-Hansen, Thomas, Access to Asylum: International Refugee Law and the Globalisation of Migration Control, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £60.00, ISBN: 9781107003477 world? Migration control has increasingly moved to the high seas or the territory of transit and origin countries, and is now commonly outsourced to private actors. Under threat of financial penalties airlines today reject any passenger not in possession of a valid visa, and private contractors are used to run detention centres and man border crossings. In this volume Thomas Gammeltoft-Hansen examines the impact of these new practices for refugees' access to asylum. A systematic analysis is provided of the reach and limits of international refugee law when migration control is carried out extraterritorially or by non-state actors.

Is there still a right to seek asylum in a globalised

Geiss, Robin; Terig, Anna, Piracy and Armed Robbery

at Sea: The Legal Framework for Counter-Piracy Operations in Somalia and the Gulf of Aden, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £50.00, ISBN: 9780199609529

This book describes the enforcement powers that States may rely upon in their quest to repress piracy in the larger Gulf of Aden region. The piracy rules of the United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea (UNCLOS) and the legal safeguards applicable to maritime interception operations are scrutinized before the analysis turns to the criminal prosecution of pirates and armed robbers at sea. The discussion includes so-called shiprider agreements, the transfers of alleged offenders to regional states, the jurisdictional bases for prosecuting pirates, and the feasibility of an international(ized) venue for their trial. In addressing a range of relevant issues, this book presents a detailed and comprehensive up-to-date analysis of the legal issues pertaining to the repression of piracy and armed robbery at sea and assesses whether the currently existing legal regime is still adequate to effectively counter piracy in the 21st century.

Gentili, Alberico, The Wars of the Romans: A Critical Edition and Translation of De armis Romanis, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780199600519

In this work Gentili, a consummate Roman law scholar, frames the moral and practical issues in a combination of Roman legal terminology and the language of natural law, a combination which was to prove highly influential in the literature from Grotius onward on natural law, the law of nations and what eventually became international law.

Glynn, Stephen, APIL Guide to Evidence, Jordan Publishing Ltd, Paperback, £35.00, ISBN: 9780853087564

This guide addresses the issue of evidence in personal-injury cases. It focuses on the practical requirements at each step of a claim, looking at such matters as collation of evidence, instructing and using expert witnesses, disclosure and satisfying the pre-action protocol. Following the chronological order of the claim, this book guides the reader through each stage of a claim. The commentary is supplemented by draft witness statements, letters of instruction to experts, applications for specific disclosure, disclosure statements, notices to admit facts and hearsay notices and counter-notices.

Gouling, Paul, Employee Competition: Covenants, Confidentiality, and Garden Leave 2nd ed, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £125.00, ISBN: 9780199587698

Employee Competition: Covenants, Confidentiality, and Garden Leave is a comprehensive and practical text for solicitors, barristers and in-house lawyers practising in employment law, and human resource professionals. It provides detailed analysis of the full range of issues that are encountered in contentious and non-contentious work concerning all forms of competition by employees, directors, partners, LLP members, and others.

Greenberg, Simon; Kee, Christopher; Weeramantry, Romesh, International Commercial Arbitration: Asia-Pacific Perspectives, Cambridge University Press, Paperback, £48.00, ISBN: 9780521695701

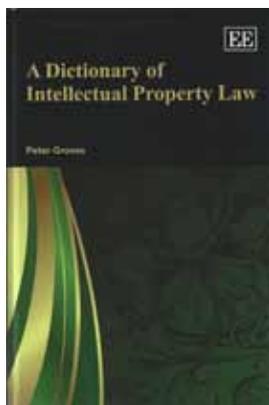

The last 20 years have seen an exponential rise in the use of ICA for resolving international business disputes, yet international arbitration is still a scarcely regulated industry. Within this context, this book explains for the first time, ICA topic by topic with a specifically Asia Pacific focus. Principles of ICA are covered thoroughly and comparatively utilizing academic writings from Asia, Europe and elsewhere with examples of legislation, arbitration procedural rules and case law from the major Asian jurisdictions. Each principle is explained with a simple statement before proceeding to more technical, theoretical or comparative content and real-world scenarios are employed to demonstrate actual application. Readers will also be equipped to deal with the many arbitration issues which are not covered within the various arbitration statutes. International Commercial Arbitration is an invaluable resource for practitioners and students providing a unique insight into real arbitral practice specific to the Asia Pacific region, within a global context.

Groves, Peter, A Dictionary of Intellectual Property Law, Edward Elgar Publishing Limited, Hardback, £105.00, ISBN: 9781849807777

Intellectual property has a vast, perplexing and diverse vocabulary, and this enriching Dictionary provides a starting point for understanding new concepts and crafting precise definitions to meet the needs of a particular case. Not only are new words and phrases being coined as technology changes and the law follows, but also the international scope of intellectual property means that IP lawyers will encounter foreign words and phrases. With over 1000 expressions defined clearly and entertainingly, this book should be the first reference point to understanding intellectual property terminology.

Gullifer, Louise; Payne, Jennifer, Corporate Finance Law: Principles and Policy, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £37.50, ISBN: 9781849460040

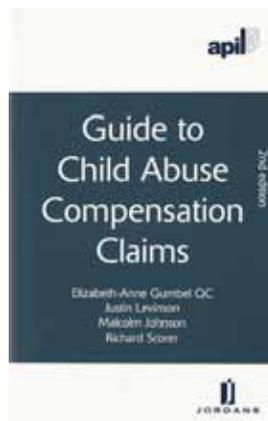

The book provides a discussion of the most interesting theoretical and policy issues in Corporate Finance law. The book covers both the equity and debt sides of Corporate Finance, and seeks, where possible, to compare the two, considering the desirability of each in various circumstances and pointing to areas of convergence and overlap. The book discusses areas where the law is uncertain, including some difficult conceptual problems, and considers the present law critically, including options for possible reform. The book will be of interest to practitioners, academics and students engaged in the practice and study of corporate finance law.

Gumbel, Elizabeth-Anne; Levinson, Justin; Johnson, Malcolm ; Scorer, Richard, APIL Guide to Child Abuse Compensation Claims 2nd ed, Jordan Publishing Ltd, Paperback, £75.00, ISBN: 9781846612558

This new edition (previously published as Child Abuse Compensation Claims) is a practical guide providing lawyers with all the information they need to undertake compensation claims for clients who have suffered from physical, sexual and emotional abuse. It has been written specifically for personal injury lawyers by practitioners with direct experience of the field.

Guthrie, Tom, Social Work Law in Scotland 3rd ed, Bloomsbury Professional, Paperback, £40.00, ISBN: 9781847661654

Social Work Law in Scotland provides a clear outline of the legal framework within which social work operates and is aimed primarily at those with no previous knowledge of the law. It begins with a general introduction to legal terminology and procedure and goes on to discuss areas of law of particular relevance to social workers, including housing, benefits, debt recovery and discrimination.

Harris, Brian; Carnes, Andrew, Disciplinary and Regulatory Proceedings 6th

ed, Jordan Publishing Ltd, Hardback, £95.00, ISBN: 9781846612701

Disciplinary and Regulatory Proceedings is the leading work on this important and dynamic area of law, written by leading practitioners in the field with considerable experience of tribunals both as chairmen and lawyers. It provides an authoritative examination of the general principles that apply to all regulatory and disciplinary tribunals, including coverage of the basis of the tribunal's authority and extent of its jurisdiction, natural justice, human rights, grounds for disciplinary action, investigations, the decision to prosecute, hearings, evidence, appeals, and enforcement. It goes on to examine the specific working of three major professional areas: healthcare, the FSA and legal services.

Hedley, Steven, Core Text Series: Tort 7th ed, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £60.00, ISBN: 9781849460194

The seventh edition of Tort introduces the central principles of the subject, providing a clear and concise exposition of the law in an easy-to-use format. The text is an excellent introduction to this key area of undergraduate study, and can also be used as an ongoing revision and reference source to provide extra support to students throughout their studies. Features such as chapter summaries, self-test questions, and further reading lists allow students to check and consolidate their understanding and assist independent learning.

In Genocide Denials and the Law, Ludovic Hennebel and Thomas Hochmann offer a thorough study of the relationship between law and genocide denial from the perspectives of specialists from six countries. This controversial topic provokes strong international reactions involving emotion caused by denial along with concerns about freedom of speech. The authors offer an in-depth study of the various legal issues raised by the denial of crimes against humanity, presenting arguments both in favor of and in opposition to prohibition of this expression. They do not adopt a pro or contra position, but include chapters written by proponents and opponents of a legal prohibition on genocide denial.

Hoffmann, Stefan-Ludwig, Human Rights in the Twentieth Century, Cambridge University Press, Paperback, £18.99, ISBN:

The contributions to this volume examine how human rights came to define the bounds of universal morality in the course of the political crises and conflicts of the twentieth century. Although human rights are often viewed as a self-evident outcome of this history, the essays collected here make clear that human rights are a relatively recent invention that emerged in contingent and contradictory ways. Focusing on specific instances of their assertion or violation during the past century, this volume analyzes the place of human rights in various arenas of global politics, providing an alternative framework for understanding the political and legal dilemmas that these conflicts presented.

Hondius, Ewoud; Grigoleit, Hans Christoph, Unexpected Circumstances in European Contract Law, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £125.00, ISBN: 9781107003408

The recent financial crisis has questioned whether existing contracts may be adapted, terminated or renegotiated as a result of unexpected circumstances. The question is not a new one. In medieval times the notion of clausula rebus sic stantibus was developed to cope with such situations, and Germany introduced the theory of Wegfall der Geschäftsgrundlage. In England, the Coronation cases provided one possible answer. This comparative study explores the possibility of classifying jurisdictions as ‘open’ or ‘closed’ in this regard.

Impey, David; Montague, Nicholas, Running a Limited Company 7th ed, Jordan Publishing Ltd, Paperback, £25.00, ISBN: 9781846612619

This new edition has been completely updated to take in to account the implementation of the Companies Act 2006 explaining the new rules for setting up company, share capital, directors duties, company name, maintaining company registries and the new accounting rules. Written in plain language and using practical examples, diagrams and checklists, Running a Limited Company is an easy-to-follow guide for both professionals and lay people. Within one handy volume, this text covers all the essential information required for establishing and managing a limited company.

Joffe, Victor; Drake, David; Richardson, Giles; Lightman, Daniel, Minority Shareholders: Law, Practice and Procedure 4th ed, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £155.00, ISBN: 9780199601318

Minority Rights have become more and more topical due to the rise in importance of corporate governance and the increase in shareholder activism. This well-established work on the law relating to minority shareholders provides practitioners with the most detailed reference on the subject. The book addresses the full impacts of the Companies Act 2006. It covers more than 50 new cases, including many relating to unfair prejudice (such as Neath Rugby Ltd, Southern Counties Fresh Foods Ltd and Sunrise Radio Ltd), as well as multiple derivative actions (Waddington v Chan). The book also has practical appendices which include a full range of forms, precedents and statutory material as well as parts of the Companies Act 2006 making this a complete resource for the practitioner.

Jones, Michael; Stenseke, Marie, The European Landscape Convention, Springer-Verlag, Hardback, £117.00, ISBN: 9789048199310

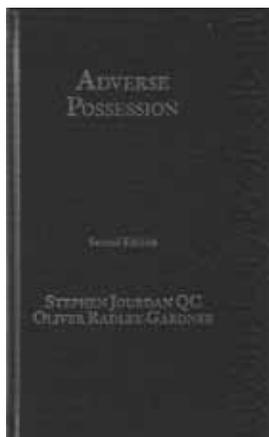

This important and insightful book provides, for the first time, a broad presentation of ongoing research into public participation in landscape conservation, management and planning, following the 2000 European Landscape

Convention which came into force in 2004. The book examines both the theory of participation and what lessons can be learnt from specific European examples. It explores in what manner and to what extent the provisions for participation in the European Landscape Convention have been followed up and implemented. It also presents and compares different experiences of participation in selected countries from northern, southern, eastern and western Europe, and provides a critical examination of public participation in practice. However, while the book's focus is necessarily on Europe, many of the conclusions drawn are of global relevance. The book provides a valuable reference for researchers and advanced students in landscape policies and management, as well as for professionals and others interested in land-use planning and environmental management.

Jourdan, Stephen; Radley-Gardner, Oliver, Adverse Possession 2nd ed, Bloomsbury Professional, Hardback, £140.00, ISBN: 9781847663726

The new edition of Adverse Possession has been extensively revised and updated to take account of legislation and case law including Land Registration Rules 2003, Adjudicator to Her Majesty's Land Registry (Practice and Procedure) Rules 2003 and Land Registration (Referral to the Adjudicator to HM Land Registry) Rules 2003. This book uniquely deals with the subject in detail, providing a full treatise on the law, referring to both English and Commonwealth authorities. It also examines the various issues of principle and practice which arise including title, meaning and elements of possession, the running of time, estoppel and human rights considerations.

Kerrigan, Kevin; Murray, Victoria, A Student Guide to Clinical Legal Education and Pro Bono, Palgrave Macmillan, Hardback, £19.99, ISBN: 9780230249639

An authoritative and practical student guide to Clinical Legal Education, a subject that plays an increasingly important role within UK law schools. Written by experts in the field, members of the long-established and groundbreaking Student Law Office at Northumbria University.

an examination of the principles underlying employment tribunal awards and their continuing development.

Luginbuehl, Stefan, European Patent Law: Towards a Uniform Interpretation, Edward Elgar Publishing Limited, Hardback, £79.95, ISBN: 9781849801058

In his detailed study, Stefan Luginbuehl critically examines the latest efforts to establish a common European and EU patent litigation system and suggests possible alternatives to such a system. Due to the lack of a European patent court, both the EPO and national judges interpret European patents and European patent law. This results in diverging interpretation across Europe and costly litigation for patent holders. Stefan Luginbuehl's proposals to promote the goal of a uniform interpretation of patent law and ease the difficulties are timely and highly insightful.

Mansfield, Gavin; Bowers, John; Brown, Damian; Forshaw, Simon; Korn, Anthony; Palca, Julia; Schwarz, Jonathan; Napier, Brian, Blackstone's Employment Law Practice 2011, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780199589210

The essential work for employment practice is back with a brand new edition. Blackstone's Employment Law Practice 2011 is the indispensable resource for employment practitioners, providing all you need to advise clients confidently and to appear in tribunal. It draws together key legislation, procedural rules, Codes of Practice, and Practice Directions, as well as in-depth

McGarry, Duncan, Police Family Liaison, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £24.99, ISBN: 9780199214082

This new book is the first practical guide to the sensitive topic of family liaison, aimed directly at the police. The text focuses on the key role that family liaison plays in the police service, explains how the role has developed and provides practitioners with a clear understanding of why relatives and friends are entitled to the highest standard of response from the police but also why no investigation can be truly effective without this relationship being supported, resourced and supervised throughout.

McKay, Simon, Covert Po-

licing: Law and Practice, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £95.00, ISBN: 9780199289103

Covert Policing: Law and Practice is a comprehensive review of the law governing covert policing activities, undertaken by law enforcement and other public authorities. It sets out the framework within which covert policing operations should be planned and managed to enable practitioners working for either the defence or prosecution to critically consider the legality and propriety of evidence obtained in cases where covert policing resources have been deployed, including applications for Public Interest Immunity.

Merrills, J. G., International Dispute Settlement 5th ed, Cambridge University Press,

Paperback, £38.00, ISBN: 9780521153393

A guide to the techniques and institutions used to solve international disputes, how they work and when they are used. This textbook looks at diplomatic (negotiation, mediation, inquiry and conciliation) and legal methods (arbitration, judicial settlement). It uses many, often topical, examples of each method in practice to place the theory of how things should work in the context of real-life situations and to help the reader understand the strengths and weaknesses of different methods when they are used.

Mistelis, Loukas; Bermann, George A., Mandatory Rules in International Arbitration, Juris Publishing, Hardcover, £95.00, ISBN:

Adapted from articles originally published in The American Review of International Arbitration, this volume has been revised and updated. It demystifies the concept of mandatory rules of law as applied to international arbitration in general, commercial arbitration, investment arbitration and international civil litigation.

Mussawir, Edward, Jurisdiction in Deleuze: The Expression and Representation of Law, Routledge, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780415589963

Jurisdiction in Deleuze: The Expression and Representation of Law pursues an emerging interest in the conceptual thematic of jurisdiction within legal studies; as it maintains that an adequate understanding of the power of law requires an attention, not just to the representation of law, but to its expression. Drawing upon the philosophy of Gilles Deleuze, Edward Mussawir provides an analysis of jurisdiction that, combining theoretical and historical commentary with contemporary case studies, focuses on three core subjects: persons, rights and actions.

Nollkaemper, Andre, National Courts and the Rule of International Law, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £70.00, ISBN: 9780199236671

This book explores how domestic courts contribute to the maintenance of the rule of international law by providing judicial control over the exercises of public powers that may conflict with international law. The main focus of the book will be on judicial control of exercise of public powers by states. This book primarily explores what it is that international law requires, expects, or aspires that domestic courts do, and against this backdrop of what international law requires it seeks to map patterns of domestic practice in the actual or possible application of international law, and to determine what such patterns mean for the protection of the rule of international law.

Norman, Helen, Intellectual Property Law Directions, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £29.00, ISBN: 9780199205097

Over the last two decades, intellectual property has proved to be a hugely popular yet increasingly complex subject, not least because of the speed of change caused by a never-ending flow of legislation. Intellectual Property Law Directions focuses on the practical issues of United Kingdom intellectual property at the same time as demonstrating how the subject is being shaped by outside forces, not all of them perceived as welcome.

Parry, Rebecca ; Ayliffe, James; Shivji, Sharif, Transaction Avoidance in Insolvencies 2nd ed, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £175.00, ISBN: 9780199583799

This new edition of Transaction Avoidance in Insolvencies considers a range of practical issues that arise in a typical transaction avoidance case as well as all the possible ways in which a vulnerable transaction might be attacked, in recognition of the fact that the provisions contained in the Insolvency Act 1986 might not always be the only possibilities available. Fully updated to cover legislative amendments arising from the Enterprise Act 2002 and the Companies Act 2006, as well as coverage of the 2009 changes to Insolvency Rules 1986, the book provides a timely resource for insolvency practitioners following the upturn in insolvency cases brought about by the economic crisis.

Philippopoulos-Mihalopoulos, Andreas, Law and Ecology: New Environmental Legal Foundations, Routledge, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780415587136

Law and Ecology: New Environmental Legal Foundations contains a series of theoretical and applied perspectives on the connection between law and ecology, which together offer a radical and socially responsive foundation for environmental law. Addressing current debates - including, the intellectual property of bioresources; the protection of biodiversity in view of tribal land demands; the ethics of genetically modified organisms; the redefinition of the 'human' through feminist and technological research; the spatial/geographical boundaries of environmental jurisdiction; and the postcolonial geographies of pollution - Law and Ecology redefines the way environmental law is perceived, theorised and applied. It also constitutes a radical challenge to the traditionally human-centred frameworks and concerns of legal theory.

Ramberg, Jan, ICC Guide to Incoterms 2010: Understanding and Practical Use, International Chamber of Commerce, Paperback, £65.00, ISBN: 9789284200825

Salter, David; Butruille-Cardew, Charlotte; Grant, Stephen, International Pre-Nuptial and Post-Nuptial Agreements, Family Law, Paperback, £95.00, ISBN: 9781846612312

With contributions from a number of fellows of the International Academy of Matrimonial Lawyers (IAML) in jurisdictions such as France, Australia, England, Canada, Switzerland and the United States, this work looks at how each individual jurisdiction approaches pre-nuptial agreements and also considers the thornier issue of agreements which cover couples involved in more than one jurisdiction.

Sarat, Austin, Is the Death Penalty Dying?: European and American Perspectives, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £55.00, ISBN:

9780521763516

Is the Death Penalty Dying? provides a careful analysis of the historical and political conditions that shaped death penalty practice on both sides of the Atlantic from the end of World War II to the twenty-first century. This book examines and assesses what the United States can learn from the European experience with capital punishment, especially the trajectory of abolition in different European nations. As a comparative sociology and history of the present, the book seeks to illuminate the way death penalty systems and their dissolution work, by means of eleven chapters written by an interdisciplinary group of authors from the United States and Europe.

Skoutaris, Nikos, The Cyprus Issue: The Four Freedoms in a Member State under Siege, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £55.00, ISBN: 9781849460958

This is a book on the interrelationship of the EU legal order and the Cyprus issue. The book addresses a question which is of great significance for the legal order of the EU (as well as for Cypriots, Turks and Greeks),

IMPORTANT FORTHCOMING PUBLICATIONS

Construction Insolvency: Security, Risk and Renewal in Construction Contracts 4th edition

by Richard Davis

Sweet and Maxwell, Hardback, ISBN

9780414046092, due April 2011, £180.00

The new edition of this highly regarded title explains how the principles and procedures of insolvency law are applied in the construction sector. As well as setting out the legal principles clearly and concisely, it looks at how the law might deal with specific facts and offers solutions to practical problems specific to the construction industry. This edition is fully up to date with the impact of recession and draws on recent case law across all UK and Commonwealth jurisdictions, especially Australia and New Zealand, including many unreported cases and those unfamiliar to UK practitioners. The book provides everything required to take on a construction insolvency case and it includes new chapters on remedial security, project bank accounts and on adjudication and off-site materials bonds.

Company Acquisition of Own Shares 6th edition

by Nigel Dougherty and Anne Fairpo

Jordan Publishing, Hardback, ISBN

9781846612459, due May 2011, £95.00

This book provides the practitioner with a comprehensive analysis of the law relating to own share acquisition – both the company law and the tax law. It outlines the procedures that need to be followed, what the tax implications are, and how tax savings and other benefits can be achieved. It also includes precedents for the main types of transaction, which the practitioner may require to implement. This new edition has been completely revised and updated to take into account new developments including the general prohibition against own share acquisitions and the various exceptions to that rule through, in particular, own share purchases and the use of redeemable shares, the key changes made by the Companies Act 2006, including the regime for own share purchases and the redemption of shares, the introduction of “self-help” reductions and reform of the law on the provision of financial assistance, the procedure for an own share acquisition and its financing, the consequences of infringement, and also the acquisition and holding of treasury shares. Also covered are the tax consequences of the various types of own share acquisitions and Key tax and commercial considerations. There are precedents of key documents.

vices and Markets Act 2010 - The Third Parties (Rights Against Insurers) Act 2010 (not yet in force) - Pharmacy Order 2010, SI 2010/231 - Environment Agency (Inland Waterways) Order 2010 SI 2010/699 - Motor Vehicles (Electronic Communication of Certificates of Insurance) Order 2010, SI 2010/1117 - ABI Code of Practice: Third Party Assistance (June 2010) - ABI Third Party Assistance Claimant Guide (May 2010) - European Parliament and Council Regulation (No 1093/2010) establishing a European Supervisory Authority (European Banking Authority) - European Parliament and Council Directive (2002/87/EC) on the supplementary supervision of credit institutions, insurance undertakings and investment firms in a financial conglomerate.

The Conveyancing Protocol

by The Law Society
Law Society Publishing, Softcover. ISBN 9781907698057, due April 2011, £34.95

The Conveyancing Protocol is the Law Society's new 'preferred practice' for conveyancing transactions of freehold and leasehold residential property. The detailed steps of the Protocol and the new general obligations have been carefully drafted to assist solicitors to communicate openly with the parties involved in the transaction, maintain high standards of conveyancing, meet the necessary legal and regulatory requirements, agree timescales and reduce delays, streamline the process of conveyancing and to adopt a common approach. These standard procedures for solicitors acting for the seller, buyer and lender are presented using the framework of a typical conveyancing transaction and, where appropriate, indicate when contact with other parties such as lenders, agents and brokers is required. This book contains the text of the Protocol and all the forms, guidance and formulae required by solicitors who adopt the Protocol, including newly revised editions of the Standard Conditions of Sale, 5th Edition and the Law Society's Code for Completion by Post. Compliance with the Protocol is mandatory for any firms accredited under the Law Society's Conveyancing Quality Scheme.

Upstream Oil and Gas: Cases, Materials and Commentary

by Marc Hammerson Globe Law and Business, Hardback, ISBN 9781905783472, due May 2011, £145.00

Oil and gas contracts are shaped by national and international laws that relate to common industry transactions. With standardised contracts being used across different jurisdictions, it is important that these legal principles are properly understood. The increasing scarcity of natural resources makes it more, rather than less, likely that legal issues will be tested in the oil and gas sector. This new title seeks to explore industry issues using a new approach. It includes comprehensive commentaries on topics in the oil industry and links these with edited extracts from underlying legal texts. The reader benefits from the combination of both a full analysis of key legal issues and selected passages of text from legal sources. Taking exploration and production in the United Kingdom as its subject matter, the book also cites other jurisdictions by way of comparative study and on issues where the United Kingdom lacks decided case law. It also sets out the various international conventions and European laws which directly or indirectly form the basis of UK law and government practice and policy. Chapters cover exclusive licences, joint operating agreements, unitisation agreements and gas sales agreements. The book also analyses issues such as ownership of petroleum, the law of capture, rights of exploitation, the legal nature of exclusive licences, decommissioning, investor protection and human rights based on the principal legal obligations of parties and governments. Author Marc Hammerson is a partner in the energy group at Stephenson Harwood, specialising in corporate and project work in the oil and gas and power industries. He has extensive experience advising energy majors and independent energy companies on upstream and downstream oil and gas and power.

Butterworths New Law Guide: Family Procedure Rules

by Andrew Newbury
LexisNexis Butterworths, Softcover, ISBN 9781405763462, due April 2011, £40.00

The New Law Guide to the Family Procedure Rules explains in detail key concepts of the new Rules and implication for practitioners. It identifies areas of potential difficulty and provides guidance and tips on the new procedure. Highlighting the difference between the old rules and the new rules, this book includes relevant Practice Directions and a guide to the few circumstances in which the CPR rather than the FPR apply.

Parker's Modern Wills Precedents 7th edition

by Michael Waterworth

In recent years private client drafting and advisory work has seen rapid and far-reaching changes, for which many practitioners require some reassurance. Parker's Modern Wills Precedents, 7th edition, has been thoroughly revised to include the numerous legislative changes that have impacted this area of the law. An essential resource for all private client advisers, it will help you to improve your precedents, draft better, more up-to-date wills and provide your clients with a more comprehensive service.

Law of Industrial Action and Trade Union Recognition 2nd edition

by John Bowers, Michael Duggan and David Reade
Oxford University Press, Hardback, ISBN 9780199589623, due May 2011, £95.00

The law relating to industrial action and trade union recognition is complex and rapidly moving. This new edition of The Law of Industrial Action and Trade Union Recognition provides a new and updated analysis of this difficult and technical area of law. This edition offers comprehensive coverage of all aspects of bringing and defending recognition claims and industrial action injunctions to ensure that nothing is missed when planning a case. It includes full coverage of trade union recognition, employment protection rights, deductions from pay, and the impact of the Human Rights Act 1998 on strikes and picketing. It also contains step-by-step guidance and forms and precedents to assist practitioners when negotiating and drafting documents. The new edition is completely up-to-date with all changes brought in by amendments in 2005 to the Trade Union and Labour Relations (Consolidation) Act 1992, and the Employment Relations Act 2004. It also covers all recent case law including the decision in BA, Gate Gourmet Metrobus, cases from the European Court of Human Rights, and decisions from the Central Arbitration Committee. Written by a team of expert barristers, it provides an essential source of reference to all involved in this area.

The Bribery Act 2010: A Practical Guide

by Eoin O'Shea
Jordan Publishing, Paperback, ISBN 9781846611940, due April 2011, £95.00

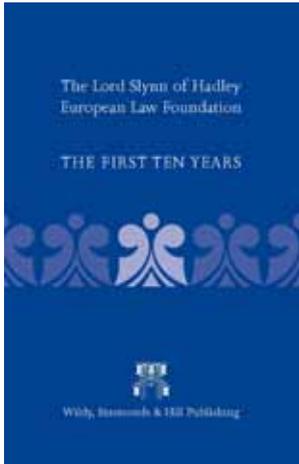

The Bribery Act reforms the criminal law to provide a new, modern and comprehensive scheme of bribery offences that will enable courts and prosecutors to respond more effectively to bribery at home or abroad. This new book summarises and interprets the new law of bribery covering the general bribery offence, foreign public offences and the specific corporate offence designed to make companies and other corporate bodies responsible for bribery committed on behalf of a company. In addition the book provides practical guidance on setting up compliance procedures in line with the new Act and explains the impact of the new legislation through worked scenarios.

DRINK-DRIVE OFFENCES: A Handbook for Practitioners

P. M. Callow

Price:	£45
ISBN:	9780854900756
Extent:	358pp
Size:	152mm x 229mm
Binding:	Paperback

The statutory provisions on drink-driving are set out in just fifteen sections of the Road Traffic Act 1988, and two from the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988, but there have been over 700 appeals to the Divisional Court on points of law since the Acts came into force. The result is a body of law which is technical and complex, covering a wide array of matters.

The Drink-Drive Offences provides a practical, comprehensive, accessible and up-to-date account of this broad and intriguing area of law. It traces the procedure from preliminary testing to penalties, taking the legislative provisions in sequence and explaining the effects of the case law. The routines for preliminary testing, and for requiring and analysing specimens of breath, blood or urine, are examined. This includes the recurring question of the reliability of the breath analysis instrument and the circumstances in which a blood or urine specimen may be required instead of a breath specimen. The constituents of the offences are explained, in chapters on the excess alcohol offences, the offences of being in charge, the offences of being unfit to drive, and causing death by careless driving when under the influence of drink or drugs. The statutory assumption that the level of alcohol at the time of the offence was no less than in the specimen receives special attention, along with the “hip flask” defence, where the motorist asserts that it was alcohol consumed after driving which accounts for being over the limit. A chapter is devoted to the offences of failing to co-operate with preliminary tests and failing to provide specimens, with full consideration of what constitutes a “reasonable excuse” for these purposes. Finally, the penalties are set out, including special reasons for not disqualifying.

P. M. Callow LL.M is the author of Drink-Drive Case Notes (2nd edition, 2007) and co-author of Blackstone's Handbook for Magistrates (2nd edition, 2000).

NEIGHBOUR DISPUTES
A Guide to the Law and Practice

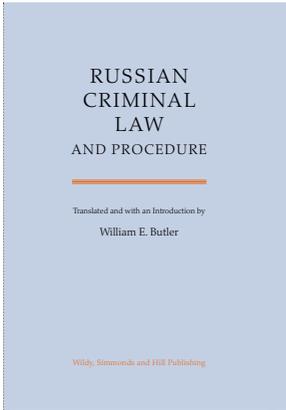

Donald Agnew and Amanda Morris

Price:	£39
Edition:	2nd edition
ISBN:	9780854900596
Extent:	290pp.
Size:	229 x 152 mm
Binding:	Paperback

This book is a practical guide for those seeking to resolve disputes between neighbours who are at war with each other – whether it be about noise, overhanging branches, the position of a fence, or some other irritation that has sparked neighbour rage. It draws together the relevant strands of the law – on negligence, nuisance, misrepresentation, trespass, rights of way, boundaries, party walls, the right to light, trees and hedges, weeds and pests, waste water and drainage. Written by solicitors with many years’ experience of dealing with such disputes, it contains practical hints to hasten resolving difficulties, while recognising the desirability of restoring harmony between the disputing parties. It provides an insight into some of the many powers of the local authorities – to deal with noise, for example – which may be invoked to bring to an end the behaviour complained of. The importance of seeking to settle a dispute without having to resort to litigation is a theme running through the book, as is the ever-vexing question of costs.

Formerly a partner, Donald Agnew is now a consultant with Blake Laphorn, and has considerable experience in all types of dispute concerning land. He is a member of the Property Litigation Association.

Amanda Morris is a partner at Blake Laphorn, where she heads up the property litigation team “She has a deservedly good reputation and fine legal brain”- Chambers UK, A Guide to the Legal Profession 2010 – and she is a member of the Property Litigation Association.

THE MODERN JUDICIARY Challenges, Stresses and Strains

Sir Fred Phillips, CVO, QC

Price: £65
ISBN: 9780854900671
Extent: 302pp
Size: 229mm x 152mm
Binding: Hardback

This book examines the vocation of being a judge. It covers training, discipline and removal of judges as well as their position in the broader context as law-makers and servants of society.

The book is both comparative and practical while also examining the theory and jurisprudence of judging. It is full of practical examples drawn from the author's extensive experience and numerous contacts within the judiciary around the world. It examines their relationship to the societies they are representing and answerable to and their position and responsibilities as part of an international judicial brotherhood.

PASSION, POISON & POWER
The Mysterious Death of Sir Thomas Overbury: A Jacobean Mystery in Fourteen Acts

Brian Harris

Price: £19.99
ISBN: 9780854900770
Extent: 232 pp
Size: 229 x 152 mm
Binding: Hardback

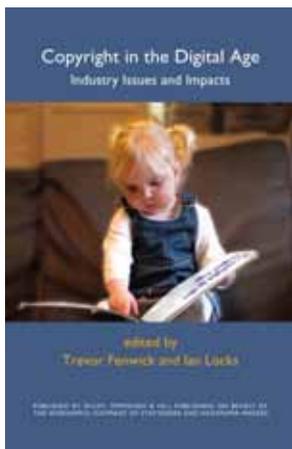

Little attention was paid at the time to the death in the Tower of London of Sir Thomas Overbury, but it was not long before foul play was suspected. Two years later six people went to the gallows for his murder in a case which was said to involve wizardry, love potions, coded letters and a poisoned enema. Following them into the dock were the most glamorous couple at the court of King James.

The husband, who was widely rumoured to be the King's lover, was convicted of Overbury's murder despite his protestations of innocence; but was he actually guilty? His pretty young wife confessed to the murder; but did she actually commit the crime? And the Lord Chief Justice was convinced that the case had a far wider and more sinister significance than appeared on the surface, possibly involving the suspicious death of the Prince of Wales.

Despite an exhaustive inquiry conducted by England's most feared prosecutor, the whole truth never came to light; even the official report of the trials is suspect. In this entertaining account of one of the most sensational crimes in English history, Brian Harris re-evaluates the evidence and proposes a new solution to this intriguing Jacobean mystery.

Brian Harris QC is a writer and legal consultant. Previous books include Intolerance: Divided Societies on Trial (Wildy, Simmonds and Hill, 2008), Injustice: State Trials from Socrates to Nuremberg (Sutton Publishing, 2006) and The Literature of the Law (Blackstone, 1998).

Brian Harris, a contemporary lawyer of distinction, has deployed his forensic skills in seeking to unravel a celebrated seventeenth century murder mystery; his may not be the last word on a topic which has engaged generations of scholars but his theatrical format and analytical insight carry the reader forward with him on an entertaining journey

COPYRIGHT IN THE DIGITAL AGE: INDUSTRY ISSUES AND IMPACTS

edited by

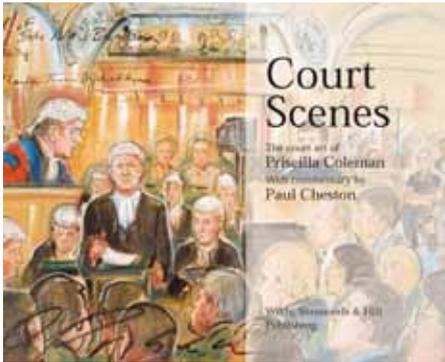

Trevor Fenwick and Ian Locks

on Behalf of The Worshipful Company of Stationers and Newspaper Makers

Price:	£24.95
ISBN:	9780854900800
Extent:	192 pp.
Size:	234 x 156mm
Binding:	Paperback

The primary purpose of this book is to inform the debate on the future of copyright in the digital age: a professional resource for those seeking information on the importance and value of Copyright to the UK's Creative Industries and to promote understanding of the importance of those industries and their reliance on their ability to 'own' intellectual property through copyright legislation. The book contains articles and submissions by leading industry practitioners, lawyers and academics with practical experience of the importance of Copyright in the UK as well as those at the 'sharp end' as publishers and producers. It reflects the challenges to be faced with the development of the digital usage of copyright material as well as tracking the Stationers' 450 years of involvement in the development of copyright, enshrined in law by the Statute of Anne 300 years ago.

The Stationers' Company is the City of London Livery Company for the visual and graphic communications industries. The Company was founded in 1403 when the manuscript writers and illuminators formed a guild, taking the name 'Stationers' from the fact that they had stopped being itinerant vendors and had set up fixed stalls in St Paul's Churchyard. At the end of the 15th century when printing first came to England, the Stationers had the good sense to embrace the new technology. The guild received a Royal Charter in 1557 in which they were given a monopoly in printing and the responsibility to check and register all books produced in England. Today the Company has over 800 members, the vast majority of whom are senior executives in the complete range of trades within the visual and graphic communications industries, from paper, print, publishing, packaging, office products, newspapers, broadcasting and online media. Membership is drawn from across the UK and increasingly throughout the world and now includes major companies as well as individual members. The Company still uses Stationers' Hall for the purpose for which it was built 350 years ago: to bring together the major players in our associated industries so that they can enjoy each other's company, learn from one another, swap ideas and together develop strategies for the future of an industry that is vital to global economic growth. Activities range from formal dinners, informal lunches, lectures, seminars and intimate round-table sessions to online reports and discussion fora.

THE COURT ART OF PRISCILLA
COLEMAN

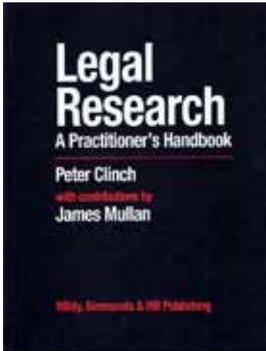

Commentary by Paul Cheston

Price: £19.99
ISBN: 9780854900398
Extent: 64 pp.
Size: 300 x 242 mm
Binding: Hardback

Priscilla Coleman has been drawing court scenes for over 20 years. The pictures collected here mark many of the most important trials of that period. There is a widespread misunderstanding among those who see pictures on TV or in the newspapers that an artist can sketch as much as they like in court. As lawyers know, far from taking a palate and easel into the public gallery, any attempt at photography, drawings or visual representations is strictly verboten. Artists have to memorise in court the colours, shades, clothing, facial mannerisms and physical idiosyncracies then go out and draw a likeness from memory . . . against the clock.

Priscilla Coleman was born in Chilton, near Waco Texas and went to high school in Chilton and Huntsville before studying fine art and graphics at Sam Houston State University, Texas. Inspired by her mother Henrietta, a talented fashion illustrator and portrait painter, Priscilla is driven by a love of drawing people. She approached ITN with a video tape of her electronic news graphics and court drawings from her time with Channel 13 and KTRK TV in Houston where she was art director for news, and was hired straight away. Her first sketch was of Jeffrey Archer and Monica Coghlan in the notorious High Court libel trial.

Paul Cheston is the courts correspondent of the London Evening Standard. He was born in Aberdare, Mid Glamorgan and educated at Kimbolton School and the University of East Anglia. He covered his first court case for the Diss Express and, after training on the Middlesbrough Evening Gazette, came to Fleet Street to work for the Press Association. He joined the short-lived London Daily News and was in court on the final day of the Jeffrey Archer libel trial when owner Robert Maxwell closed the paper down. After brief work for the Daily Star and Sunday Express he joined the Evening Standard as a general news reporter. He was appointed courts correspondent in 1993 and is co-author of Brothers in Blood published in 1994.

LEGAL RESEARCH: A Practitioner's Handbook

Peter Clinch with contributions by James Mullan

Price:	£39
ISBN:	9780854900640
Extent:	450 pp
Size:	246 x 189mm
Binding:	Hardback

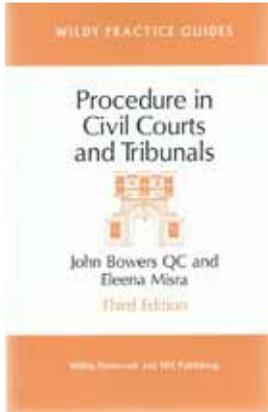

This comprehensive reference is specifically aimed at busy practitioners (solicitors, barristers and professional support lawyers), particularly those who do not have the benefit of access to a law librarian or information officer. Legal Research: A Practitioner's Handbook provides practical advice on every aspect of effective legal research: problem analysis, selecting and finding the best sources, and presenting results effectively.

Part A covers problem identification and analysis, followed by advice on how to select the best sources and formats (paper or electronic) for research. Part B deals with the information most frequently sought by practitioners, listing sources with analytical comments and, for a selection of the most complex, 'how to use' instructions developed to a standard template. Jurisdictional coverage includes England, Wales, Scotland, Northern Ireland and the European Union, with the addition of information on key sources in European human rights and international law. Part C details sources on how to make the presentation of the results of legal research more effective.

Peter Clinch is Senior Subject Librarian for Law at Cardiff University and has trained law students, practising solicitors and law librarians in legal research skills. He devised and runs the award-winning Cardiff Index to Legal Abbreviations.

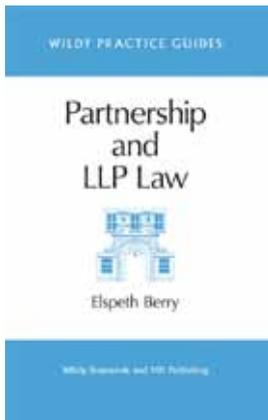

James Mullan is Knowledge Management Systems Manager for Field Fisher Waterhouse LLP. Previously he was an Information Officer at CMS Cameron McKenna LLP. He is a member of the British & Irish Association of Law Librarians (BIALL) council.
