Allen, Michael, Textbook on Criminal Law 11th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £29.99, ISBN: 9780199599646 Textbook on Criminal Law, now in its eleventh edition, has been providing students of criminal law with a readable and reliable introduction to the subject for the past twenty years. Thorough enough that readers can feel confident in their knowledge, yet concise enough not to overwhelm, this book gets the balance between detail and coverage right.

Allen, Michael; Thompson, Brian, Cases and Materials on Constitutional and Administrative Law 10th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £32.99, ISBN: 9780199579044 Cases & Materials on Constitutional and Administrative Law is an invaluable resource for law students. Extracts from the leading cases are combined with legal, political and philosophical materials and linked together with explanatory text, alongside extensive notes and questions for discussion.

vestment (FDI) laws, at both the national and international levels, have undergone rapid development in order to strengthen the protection standards for foreign investors. In terms of international investment law, a network of international investment agreements has arisen as a way to address FDI growth. FDI backlash, reflective of more restrictive regulation, has also emerged. The Evolving International Investment Regime analyzes the existing challenges to the international investment regime, and addresses these challenges going forward. It also examines the dynamics of the international regime, as well as a broader view of the changing global economic reality both in the United States and in other countries. The content for the book is a compendium of articles by leading thinkers, originating from the International Investment Conference “What’s New in International Investment Law and Policy?”

Andrews, Neil, Contract Law, Cambridge University Press, Paperback, £35.00, ISBN: 9780521124676 This textbook takes a fresh approach to contract law; as a first edition it reflects the subject in the 21st century more accurately than other texts. Comprehensive and scholarly, it maps the curriculum perfectly but detailed references and further reading sections encourage students to explore the subject further. Understanding is paramount and chapter introductions clearly guide students through the material.

Anton, Donald K.; Shelton, Dinah, Environmental Protection and Human Rights, Cambridge University Press, Paperback, £65.00, ISBN: 9780521747103 With unique scholarly analysis and practical discussion, this book provides a comprehensive introduction to the relationship between environmental protection and human rights being formalized into law in many legal systems. This book instructs on environmental techniques and procedures that assist in the protection of human rights. The text provides cogent guidance on a growing international jurisprudence on the promotion and protection of human rights in relation to the environment that has been developed by international and regional human rights bodies and tribunals. It explores a rich body of case law that continues to develop within states on the environmental dimension of the rights to life, to health, and to public participation and access to information. Five compelling contemporary case studies are included that implicate human rights and the environment, ranging from large dam projects to the creation of a new human right to a clean environment.

Antoniadis, Antonis; Schütze, Robert; Spaventa, Eleanor, The European Union and Global Emergencies: A Law and Policy Analysis, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £50.00, ISBN: 9781849460828 This collection of essays provides a legal and policy analysis of the European Union's involvement in global emergencies. Bringing together leading academics and officials from the European Institutions, it offers a sophisticated analysis of the theoretical and practical issues arising from the EU's action and reaction to global challenges. The contributions to this book take account of the amendments introduced by the Lisbon Treaty, making it especially relevant.

Bassiouni, M. Cherif, Crimes Against Humanity: Historical Evolution and Contemporary Application, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £110.00, ISBN: 9781107001152 This book traces the evolution of crimes against humanity (CAH) and their application from the end of World War I to the present day, in terms of both historic legal analysis and subject-matter content. The first part of the book addresses general issues pertaining to the categorization of CAH in normative jurisprudential and doctrinal terms. This is followed by an analysis of the specific contents of CAH, describing its historic phases going through international criminal tribunals, mixed model tribunals and the International Criminal Court. The book examines the general parts and defenses of the crime, along with the history and jurisprudence of both international and national prosecutions. For the first time, a list of all countries that have enacted national legislation specifically directed at CAH is collected, along with all of the national prosecutions that have occurred under national legislation up to 2010.

Beviglia Zampetti, Americo; Lodge, Junior, The CARIFORUM-EU Economic Partnership Agreement: A Practitioners' Analysis, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £120.00, ISBN: 9789041132840 As a paradigm changer in the ACP-EU trade relationship, the C-EPA has unsurprisingly attracted considerable attention. seven EU Member States and fifteen Caribbean countries has begun, and implementation is advancing after an initial delay. This book is the first detailed analysis of the Agreement's provisions, including its negotiating history and prognosis of its future potential. It is written by fifteen Caribbean and European practitioners, most of whom actively contributed to the crafting of the Agreement as CARIFORUM or EU negotiators.

Boylan-Kemp, Jo, English Legal System: The Fundamentals 2nd ed, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Paperback, £24.95, ISBN: 9780414046047 Provides a clear and detailed understanding of the fundamentals of the English legal system. It focuses on the main areas of the English legal system, such as, what is the law, sources of law, how the law is used, the civil and criminal court systems, ADR, legal personnel, the judiciary, juries, funding, sentencing, and appeals.

Bruno, Sabrina; Ruggiero, Eugenio, Public Companies and the Role of Shareholders: National Models Towards Global Integration, Kluwer Law International, Hardcover, £88.00, ISBN: 9789041134233 Proceeding from the shareholder's perspective, this book examines the law of public companies in Italy, France, the United Kingdom, Germany, and the United States. Law professors from each of the five jurisdictions analyse the role of the shareholder as a member of the corporate organization and as an investor, with attention to the listing process, the size and relevance of the securities market, the ownership structure of public companies, the division of powers within the company, the role of the general meeting of shareholders, minority rights, remedies, public authorities, and takeovers. The authors describe a number of possible mechanisms designed both to balance directors' and managers' powers and promote efficiency – proposals that also represent a means to offer legitimacy for the modern company towards society as a whole.

Buckley, Richard, Buckley: The Law of Negligence and Nuisance 5th ed, LexisNexis Butterworths, Hardback, £310.00, ISBN: 9781405763455 This popular book provides clear and accessible explanation and interpretation of the current law across the field of negligence. It aims to provide a fresh and critical exposition that, whilst comprehensive, gives particular emphasis to the contemporary scene. It draws upon recent cases and judicial pronouncements and includes references to case law from jurisdictions outside the UK. Professional negligence is covered in detail as it is a rapidly growing area of law.

Burrows, Andrew, A Casebook on Contract 3rd ed, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £28.95, ISBN: 9781849461634 This is the third revised edition of Professor Burrows' casebook, offering undergraduate law students the ideal way to discover and understand contract law through reading highlights from the leading cases. It has been brought up to date, incorporating extracts from a number of leading cases decided since 2009.

Butler, Julie, Tax Planning for Farm and Land Diversification 3rd ed, Bloomsbury Professional, Paperback, £95.00, ISBN: 9781845924850 Tax Planning for Farm and Land Diversification offers practical help and guidance to ensure that farmers and landowners take full advantage of tax planning opportunities. It is a pragmatic and strategic guide, written in an accessible and user-friendly style. This edition provides valuable guidance on the tax consequences of pursuing alternative types of farming and land use rather than traditional methods.

Chopping, David, Accounting Standards 2011-2012, CCH Editions, Paperback, £76.00, ISBN: 9781847983640 Accounting Standards 2011-12 is the only single source of reference containing the complete text of all Accounting Standards, ASB Statements, Discussion Papers and UITF Abstracts as of 30th April 2011. Written in a user-friendly style it is fully cross-referenced with helpful footnotes, which identify relevant changes or revisions to any documents since they were first issued.

MAJOR NEW TITLES THIS MONTH – Continued

The European Court of Human Rights between Law and Politics provides a comprehensive analysis of the origins and development of one of the most striking supranational judicial institutions. The book brings together leading scholars and practitioners to cast new light on the substantial jurisprudence and ongoing political reform of the Court. The broad analysis based on historical, legal, and social science perspectives provides new insights into the institutional crisis of the Court and identifies the lessons that can be learned for the future of the European Convention on Human Rights.

The Dog Law Handbook is a practical guide which draws together the considerable and diverse body of law relating to dogs and their activities. The first section of the work comprises a narrative summary of the law. This is followed by sections containing the fully annotated, consolidated text of relevant primary and secondary legislation and government circulars.

Cooke, John, Law of Tort 10th ed (mylawchamber Premium), Pearson Education Ltd, Paperback + Online, £29.99, ISBN: 9781408268186 Tort Law part of Longman's Foundations Series is written entirely with the student reader in mind. Derrick,; Wyatt and Dashwood's European Union Law 6th ed, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £35.95, ISBN: 9781849461269 First published 30 years ago, Wyatt and Dashwood's European Union Law was a landmark publication, designed and written for students taking degree level courses in EU law. In the intervening years new editions have appeared at regular intervals, firmly establishing the book as a reliable and authoritative text. The book holds to its reputation as being both broad and profound, the ideal foundation for gaining a deep understanding of EU law. This edition reflects the law post-Lisbon. It has also been re-structured and re-designed, so as to facilitate ease-of-use. Its original authors, Derrick Wyatt and Alan Dashwood, continue to make a significant contribution.

Davis, Glen; Haywood, Marcus; Crystal, Michael; Phillips, Mark; Butterworths Insolvency Law Handbook 13th ed: 2011, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £105.00, ISBN: 9781405755931 Butterworths Insolvency Law Handbook is the most comprehensive single collection of statutory source material and Practice Directions relating to insolvency law in England, Wales and Scotland. Published annually, it is regarded as the essential reference work for all insolvency practitioners, setting out the relevant texts of the most important statutes, statutory instruments and European legislation. The legislation is printed as currently in force (taking into account all amendments, repeals and revocations), with detailed technical annotations regarding commencement, cross-references to other legislation and to commencement tables and fees and forms tables where necessary).

Forsythe, David P., The Politics of Prisoner Abuse: The United States and Enemy Prisoners after 9/11, Cambridge University Press, Paperback, £18.99, ISBN: 9780521181105 Covering moral, political, and legal aspects, the author examines the abuse of enemy detainees at the hands of the United States. At the center of the debate is the Bush Administration, which Forsythe argues displayed disdain for international law, in contrast to the general public's support for humanitarian affairs. Forsythe explores the similarities and differences between Presidents Obama and Bush on the question of prisoner treatment in an age of terrorism and asks how the Administration should proceed. The book traces the Pentagon's and CIA's records in mistreating prisoners, providing an account which will be of interest to all those who value human rights and humanitarian law.

Guy Davidov and Brian Langille, The Idea of Labour Law, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £60.00,

ISBN: 9780199693610 This book responds to fundamental challenges by asking the most fundamental questions: What is labour law for? How can it be justified? And what are the normative premises on which reforms should be based? There has been growing interest in such questions in recent years. In this volume the contributors seek to take this body of scholarship seriously and also to move it forward. Its aim is to provide, if not answers which satisfy everyone, intellectually nourishing food for thought for those interested in understanding, explaining and interpreting labour laws - whether they are scholars, practitioners, judges, policy-makers, or workers and employers.

mann, Ernst-Ulrich, Constitutionalism, Multilevel Trade Governance and International Economic Law, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £35.00, ISBN: 9781849461658

This is a book about the ever more complex legal networks of transnational economic governance structures and their legitimacy problems. It takes up the challenge of the editors' earlier pioneering works which have called for more cross-sectoral and interdisciplinary analyses by scholars of international law, European and international economic law, private international law, international relations theory and social philosophy to examine the interdependences of multilevel governance in transnational economic, social, environmental and legal relations.

Jones, Christopher, EU Energy Law Volume II - EU Competition Law and Energy Markets 3rd ed, Claeys & Casteels, Hardback, £255.00, ISBN: 9789077644171 This third edition incorporates the conclusions and consequences of the Sectoral Energy Competition Enquiry. The new edition contains an entirely reworked section on anti-competitive agreements and practices by Lars Kjolbye, at the time of writing the Head of Unit in charge of anti-trust in the energy sector in the European Commission. It further examines in detail the developments in individual case concerning long-term capacity reservation and sales/purchase agreements. It also considers recent developments on cases concerning collusion on price and quantity restrictions.

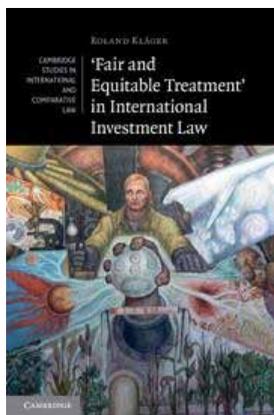

Kerbrat, Yann; Maljean-Dubois, Sandrine, The Transformation of International Environmental Law, Hart Publishing, Paperback, £42.00, ISBN: 9781849462594 This book is the fruit of a longstanding collaborative project carried out at the Centre for International and European Studies and Research (CERIC). The publication in May 2010 of the French version of the proceedings of an international symposium held under the aegis of the French Society for International Law in Aix-en-Provence in June 2009 drew the first conclusions: Le droit face aux enjeux environnementaux, (Paris, Pedone, 2010). The present book takes them up partly and extends the lessons learned, this time in English.

Kläger, Roland, 'Fair and Equitable Treatment' in International Investment Law, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £65.00, ISBN: 9780521197717 A breach of fair and equitable treatment is alleged in almost every investor-state dispute. It has therefore become a controversial norm, which touches many questions at the heart of general international law. Roland Kläger sheds light on these controversies by exploring the deeper doctrinal foundations of fair and equitable treatment and reviewing its contentious relationship with the international minimum standard. The norm is also discussed in light of the fragmentation of international law, theories of international justice and rational balancing, and the idea of constitutionalism in international law. In this vein, a shift in the way of addressing fair and equitable treatment is proposed by focusing on the process of justificatory reasoning.

This is the first Commentary on the brand-new Council Regulation (EC) No 1234/2007 establishing a common organisation of agricultural markets and on specific provisions for certain agricultural products. The Regulation codifies the hitherto fragmented agricultural market organisation of the EU in one piece of legislation. The Regulation is directly applicable in all EU Member States.

Morris, Terence; Blom-Cooper, Louis, Fine Lines and Distinctions: Murder, Manslaughter and the Unlawful Taking of Human Life, Waterside Press, Hardback, £35.00, ISBN: 9781904380665
A most powerful commentary on the law of murder (and other unlawful killings), its history, modern-day development, wholesale deficiencies and unjust penal consequences. It examines and puts forward what Lord Judge in his Foreword describes as ‘trenchant views’ on correcting two particular strands of deficiency: the present definition of murder and the penalty for that offence. It will be of importance to lawyers, academics, students and others wishing to better understand these key issues at a time of change: a definitive account of the most serious offence in the criminal calendar and the impact of the mandatory sentence of life imprisonment for murder on some 8,000 serving prisoners.

Rust, Alexander, Double Taxation within the European Union, Kluwer Law International, Hardback, £104.00, ISBN: 9789041135254 Despite the conclusion of tax treaties and despite the enactment of several directives, double taxation continues to occur within the EU, causing severe obstacles for cross-border trade, for the provision of services and capital, and for the free movement of persons. Extending ten contributions presented at a conference in April 2010 at the University of Luxembourg, this book represents the expert analysis and considered recommendations of twelve outstanding scholars of European taxation. With the discussion now vitally reinforced by the Commission's study, this timely book makes a strong contribution to expediting a viable solution to the problem of double taxation in the EU. It will be warmly welcomed by lawyers, officials, and other professionals working in the field of European taxation policy and practice.

Schneider, Michael E.; Knoll, Joachim, Performance as a Remedy: Non-Monetary Relief in International Arbitration - ASA Special Series No. 30, Juris Publishing, Hardcover, £95.00, ISBN: 9781933833361 This publication contains the results of a research project carried out by the Swiss Arbitration Association (ASA) on a question that has received relatively little attention in legal commentary so far: performance as a remedy in international arbitration. Twelve contributions address, by reference to legal theory and to arbitration practice, the question of whether arbitrators can order a party to perform or abstain from performing certain acts (be it in the form of an interim order or in an award on the merits), in what circumstances, and how such orders are made and the issues of procedure and enforcement that they raise.

ulation of Part-time Work in the European Union: A Comparative Analysis, Cambridge University Press, Paperback (Hardback 2004), £43.00, ISBN: 9780521272872 This book originates from the research project 'New discourses in labour law' held at the European University Institute. A detailed analysis of part-time work regulation is presented for seven European countries, in order to ascertain how internal domestic choices of the legislatures have merged into the 'Open method of co-ordination'. The impact of European employment policies is considered in parallel with the implementation of the Directive on part-time work, thus providing a complete overview of both soft and hard law mechanisms available to national policymakers. In this original work, the inter-action between law and policy emerges as a dynamic and constantly changing process of exchange between national and supra-national actors, through the use of concrete examples of law-making. Labour law is put forward as being central in the current evolution of European law, and this centrality is presented as a confirmation of innovation and continuity in regulatory techniques.

Selwood, John, Auditing and Reporting 2011-2012, CCH Editions, Paperback, 2 Volumes, £76.00, ISBN: 9781847983732 The new, updated edition of this popular reference work contains the essential texts of all International Standards on Auditing (UK & Ireland) and the APB Ethical

Sherwin, Richard K., Visualizing Law in the Age of the Digital Baroque: Arabesques and Entanglements, Routledge, Paperback, £22.99, ISBN: 9780415612937 Visualizing Law in the Age of the Digital Baroque explores the profound impact that visual digital technologies are having on the practice, theory, and teaching of law. Today, lawyers, judges, and lay jurors face a vast array of visual evidence and visual argument. From videos documenting injuries, crimes, and accidents, to computer displays of their digital simulation, increasingly, the search for fact-based justice inside the courtroom is becoming an offshoot of visual ‘meaning-making’. Visualizing Law in the Age of the Digital Baroque offers both a cultural diagnostic, identifying the contemporary cultural conditions in which law lives as a digital image on the screen, and a normative response, arguing for an affirmative, post-positivist jurisprudential paradigm that is adequate to the challenge these conditions present.

(myLawChamber Premium), Pearson Education Ltd, Paperback + Online, £29.99, ISBN: 9781408278871 This new textbook explains Equity and Trusts in context helping students to fully understand the legal principles and their relevance to the modern world. Equity & Trusts part of the new Living Law Series will establish and nurture an understanding of legal principles and how they work in practice. With coverage of the syllabi as taught at most universities, legal rules are explained in context alongside activities to develop skills and further understanding equipping students with the skills and knowledge every law student needs in their degree and beyond.

Williams, Peter R.; Cardwell, Michael N.; Williams, Vivienne, Scammell and Densham's Law of Agricultural Holdings 9th ed: 1st supplement, LexisNexis Butterworths, Paperback, £65.00, ISBN: 9781405744935 This supplement to Scammell and Densham's Law of Agricultural Holdings 9th ed contains all the recent legislation and commentary since publication of the main work, ensuring the work is kept fully up-to-date

Wilson, Sarah, Todd and Wilson's Textbook on Trusts 10th ed, Oxford University Press, Paperback, £31.99, ISBN: 9780199593385 Now in its tenth edition, Todd & Wilson's Textbook on Trusts continues to strike the balance between introductory texts and more challenging texts. It has been carefully and skilfully written to give an intellectually stimulating introduction to the subject. The book is structured to reflect the content of a typical LLB course and offers in-depth coverage of trusts law.

Wright, Nicholas, Partnership Agreements for Law Firms 2nd ed, Ark Group, Paperback & CD-ROM, £295.00, ISBN: 9781907787638 This critical report provides the most up-to-date and detailed guide to the practical, regulatory and ethical considerations that must be reflected in your partnership agreement. Extensively revised, the second edition features new case studies and real-life examples, including a sample agreement precedent and comprehensive updates to reflect how new legal and regulatory developments will affect your deed.

Stone's Justices' Manual 2011

"Stone's is an absolute bible, without it, the quality of justice would surely diminish."

Fiona Woolf CBE, 2010

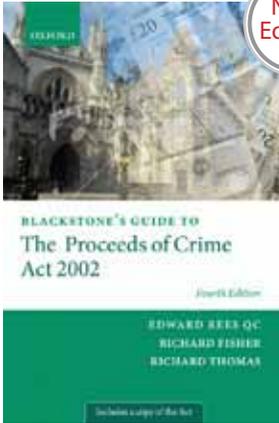

With over 160 years as the established authority and with expert commentary, Stone's Justices' Manual is the solid foundation for the Magistrates' Court.

Stone's Justices' Manual provides commentary on various key concepts and definitions, alongside key legislation and comprehensive notes – so you have a full library of relevant legislation, case law and expert analysis.

What's new in Stone's 2011:

- Courts and Procedure: Retention of Knives in Court Regulations 2010
- Important amendments to the Criminal Procedure Rules
- Family Law: Family Procedure Rules 2010
- Consumer Protection: Sunbeds (Regulation) Act 2010
- Licensing: Ejecting a customer from licensed premises; exercise of power to award costs in licensing matters
- Prisons: Criminal liability for bringing prohibited articles into prison
- Public Health: Environmental Permitting Regulations 2010 (England and Wales)
- Public Order: Publishing threatening material on the internet

A Practical Approach to Conveyancing 13th edition

by Robert Abbey and Mark Richards

Oxford University Press, softcover, £37.99, ISBN 9780199609420, due August 2011

Written by two leading authorities in the area with over 50 years' combined experience of legal practice, A Practical Approach to Conveyancing continues to provide a detailed and accessible exposition of the key principles and procedures governing conveyancing transactions. Combining coverage of both residential and commercial conveyancing, the book guides the reader through the various stages of a typical conveyancing transaction and provides highly practical guidance on each stage, from first receiving instructions and undertaking pre-contract searches and enquiries right through to completion, enabling the reader to approach all aspects of a conveyancing transaction with confidence in practice. The pragmatic nature of the book is enhanced by the inclusion of relevant sample documentation, clauses and forms throughout ensuring that the reader is familiar with the documentation they will encounter in practice. Key point summaries and practical checklists provide additional learning support and can be used to quickly identify the essential points relating to individual subject areas. Now in its thirteenth edition, the book has firmly established itself as a core text on the Legal Practice Course for those seeking to provide their students with a highly practical and applied overview of property law and practice. This classic text is also essential reading for anyone involved in the conveyancing process, including trainee and qualified solicitors, legal executives and licensed conveyancers.

A Practical Guide to the UK Listing Regime 2nd edition

by Herbert Smith LLP
ICSA Publishing Ltd, softcover, £65.00, ISBN 9781860724404, due July 2011

This updated edition provides detailed and authoritative guidance on the FSA's Listing and Prospectus rules and the Disclosure and Transparency Rules (DTR Rules) and will prove an invaluable source of practical guidance for those involved in running or advising listed companies. With the updated Listing Rules being implemented by the FSA in April 2010, this second edition provides timely guidance on the new structure of Premium and Standard listing classes, and how they affect companies. Also covered are the changes in governance standards, including the increased governance requirements for non-UK companies listed in the UK, re-categorisation of listings, pre-emption rights and shareholder notifications. Practical advice is provided on meeting ongoing obligations laid down by the Listing, Prospectus and DTR Rules on matters such as disclosure; financial reporting; shareholder communication; significant and related party transactions; the roles of a company's sponsor, lawyers and reporting accountants; admission to the Official List and trading on the Main Market of the London Stock Exchange; and the preparation and publication of a Prospectus Directive compliant prospectus. Featuring a preface from the London Stock Exchange and written by senior partners and advisors at Herbert Smith LLP, a leading full-service international legal practice.

Law of Assisted Reproduction

by Seamus Burns

Bloomsbury Professional, softcover, £95.00, ISBN 9781847666956, due September 2011

This brand new title analyses the Human Fertilisation and Embryology Act 2008 and considers the wide-ranging legal, ethical, medical, moral and social debates deployed in argument in Parliament in favour of and opposing controversial amendments to the 1990 Act. The passage of the legislation through Parliament prompted considerable controversy, and generated huge public interest. The book will explore in detail the provisions of the 2008 Act focussing on a number of key areas including: the removal of the need for a father provision; creation of saviour siblings; permitting the creation of human admixed embryos (embryos containing both human and animal material); abortion law reform; analysis/consideration of the potential impact of the 2008 Act for the newly regulated areas of science.

International Environmental Law

by Ulrich Beyerlin and Thilo

Marauhn

Hart Publishing, softcover, £30,00, ISBN 9781841139241, due July 2011

International Environmental Law is a new textbook written for students, practitioners, and anyone interested in the subject. The overall aim of the book is to provide a fresh understanding of international environmental law as a whole, seen in the light of climate change, biodiversity loss, and the other serious environmental challenges facing the world. The book has also been kept deliberately manageable in size by careful selection of topics and by adopting a cross-cutting synthesis of regulatory interaction in the field. This enables the reader to place international environmental law in the context of public international law in general, revealing at the same time that international environmental law is experimental ground for developing new legal approaches towards global governance. To this end, the authors have combined theory and practice. Apart from discussing concepts, rule-making and compliance, the book looks at options for improved coordination, harmonisation and even integration of existing multilateral environmental agreements, analysing how conflicts between various environmental regimes can be avoided or, at least, adequately managed. The authors argue that an appropriate management of international environmental relations must address the North-South divide, which continues to be a major obstacle to global environmental cooperation. Furthermore, the authors emphasise the growing human rights dimension of international environmental law. This book is an ideal “door opener” for the further study of international environmental law. Focusing on “international environmental governance” in a comprehensive way serves to explain that each institution, each actor, and each instrument is part of a multi-dimensional process in international environmental law and relations.

Gun Law 7th edition

by Nick Doherty and Laura Saunbury

Sweet and Maxwell Ltd, softcover, £27.95, ISBN 9780414044982, due August 2011

Gun Law provides a clear overview of the law on firearms, collecting together in one place the law relating to all types of gun. The ordinary person who handles firearms will find all the requirements of the law which she needs to know, and those involved in law enforcement will find it invaluable in their work. This new edition takes into account all the latest legislation relating to the banning of handguns and explains which firearms are unlawful and which may legally be held, together with the conditions for holding them. Gun law: Explains the definitions of firearms, ammunition and imitation firearms, sets out which weapons are prohibited for civilian use, covers the licensing of firearms and goes through the procedure for obtaining a firearms or shotgun license and how to appeal a refusal or revocation. It explains the law on shooting game, including protected birds and animals and it discusses the law relating to guns for sport and rifle clubs. The book looks at young people and guns, deals with poaching and criminal offences relating to firearms and ammunition and covers the law on antique firearms, historic handguns, museum licenses, blank firing guns and related subjects. It also contains a set of useful appendices.

Practical Guide to Immigration Law Relating to Students

by Elena Tsitlana, softcover, £40.00, ISBN 9781847665713, due July 2011

For years UK immigration law applicable to overseas students was simple and clear: a student needed a place at school, college or university and sufficient funds for tuition and maintenance, and immigration permission would routinely be issued. Then the Home Office re-cast the law, basing it on a points-based system (PBS). The idea was that it would make UK immigration law transparent and objective and, as a result, even simpler and clearer. In contrast however, it appears to have muddied the waters and forced education providers to act as agents for the Home Office. Never before has there been a greater need for prospective students and education providers in the UK to understand and comply with the law and procedure applicable to all levels of study in the UK. Students and education providers must now pick their way with great care through a minefield of detailed and constantly changing regulation. Already student refusals are at an all time high and education providers are realising that if they do not subscribe to the scheme, satisfy all requirements and play the role of quasi Home Office agent, they may even face bankruptcy. The aim of this practical guide is to fill the vacuum of information and steer both student and education provider through the ever changing legal regulations and requirements.

Brand Protection: Understanding and Managing Threats to Your Brand

by Alex Carter-Silk
Gower Publishing Limited, hardback, £50.00, ISBN 9780566085932, due August 2011

Brand Protection pulls together the guidance on the legal protection of a brand's value. The first part of the book establishes the basis for this value and how it is generated - this includes both the tangible and intangible elements of brand value. Part Two covers all of the threats faced by brands and explains how to counter them; these include everything from counterfeiting and parallel trading to product contamination and defamation. Part Three covers the legal issues related to brand management and explains the importance of trade mark registration and how to create a registration strategy. Part Four covers good management practice relating to brand protection including subjects such as market monitoring, using litigation and so on. Part Five explains how to exploit your brand, through licensing and extensions, franchising, co-branding in a way that minimizes and avoids the threats that might be raised by these activities.

Treitel: The Law of Contract 13th edition

by Edwin Peel

Sweet and Maxwell Ltd, softcover, £36.95, ISBN 9781847039217, due September 2011

This guide has become the indispensable source of reference and argument for all students and practitioners of contract law. The latest edition: Follows the classic structure for the teaching of contract, going through formation; contents; vitiating factors; capacity and parties; performance; breach; termination; and remedies. It examines, and offers resolutions to, controversial and problematic points of law. Also, it offers an improved layout with mini-contents list at the beginning of each chapter, paragraph numbering and clearer wording of headings and sub-headings

The new edition takes account of more than 300 new cases including The Achilles (remoteness), Chartbrook Ltd v Persimmon Homes

Ltd (interpretation), OFT v Abbey National Plc (unfair terms), Attorney General of Belize v Belize Telecom Ltd (implied terms), Cobbe v Yeoman's Row Management Ltd (proprietary estoppel), Collier v Wright (promissory estoppel). It covers all key legislative developments since the last edition published including those resulting from the Bribery Act 2010 and the bringing into force of provisions of the Companies Act 2006 and includes extensive use of case citations throughout the work. There is a detailed index, for fast access to each chapter's contents.

Public Inquiries

by Jason Beer, James Dingemans and Richard Lissack
Oxford University Press, Hardback, £125.00, ISBN 9780199287772, due July 2011

The tradition of public inquiry has become a pivotal part of public life, and a major instrument of accountability in the United Kingdom. There have been over 20 significant public inquiries in the past 10 years alone (including the Stephen Lawrence, the Foot and Mouth, the Bloody Sunday, the Hutton and the Mubarek Inquiries). This book is written and edited by practitioners who have appeared in a large number of these significant inquiries. This new work is the first of its kind, and will function as a handbook for practitioners. The work examines and explains both statutory (in particular the Inquiries Act 2005 and the Inquiry Rules 2006) and non-statutory inquiries in chapters relating to the need for and purpose of the public inquiry, the mechanisms for establishing a public inquiry, terms of reference, the subject matter of inquiries, the relationship of inquiries with other legal proceedings, the constitution of an inquiry, the administration of an inquiry, evidence and procedure, public access to an inquiry, immunities and defamation, representation and funding, inquiry reports and the duty to be fair, ending the inquiry and challenging an inquiry. This book is fully indexed and cross-referenced, including extensive referencing to the position in other jurisdictions

Price:	£35.00
ISBN:	9780854900626
Extent:	267 pp
Size:	216 x 138mm
Binding:	Paperback

Members' clubs have for many years enjoyed a special status at law, in particular in relation to the supply and sale of alcohol. The new legislation introduced by the Licensing Act 2003 in itself justified a book for those involved in the running of, licensing, policing or advising, members' clubs and Ken Pain, the original author, took the opportunity to deal with many other topics of importance to clubs, their officers and members. Club Law Manual was intended to provide a practical but authoritative guide to the relevant law to lawyers and non-lawyers alike and, to police officers and local authorities and their staff.

This second edition not only brings this much used book up-to-date but enhances the original text by introducing chapters on gambling and fund-raising, hearings and appeals. Chapters on liabilities, employment, health and safety and food safety have been re-written to include issues raised by readers.

The sections on entertainment, supply and sale of alcohol and internal regulation have been expanded to incorporate amendments to the Licensing Act 2003, changes to the law on sexual entertainment and the Equality Act 2010. In addition, a template for club rules is included within the appendices.

The new authors are practising barristers and specialists in their fields.

FOUNDATIONS OF COMPARATIVE LAW
Methods and Typologies

Edited by William E. Butler, Oleksiy V. Kresin and Iuriy S. Shemshuchenko

Price: £65.00
ISBN: 9780854900923
Extent: 360pp
Size: 229mm x 152mm
Binding: Hardback

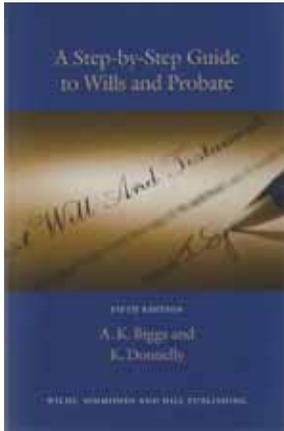

The first book in decades to explore the historical, jurisprudential, and methodological foundations of modern comparative legal studies in the former Soviet Union, it is without precedent there in its breadth of authorship and methodological originality. For the western reader it constitutes a thoroughly representative introduction to the New Wave of comparative legal studies on the territory of the Independent States. Some issues that engage comparatists there are long familiar in the West; others are relatively new to the field in general, usually with an unusual twist generated by Eastern experience or philosophical disposition.

Individual chapters address the periodization of comparative law, the place of Russia and Ukraine on the legal map of the world, the renaissance of Slavonic law, canon law, convergence between Anglo-American and Romano-Germanic legal systems, the integrating role of international law, and various approaches to typologies of modern legal systems.

William E. Butler is a Foreign Member of the National Academy of Sciences of Ukraine and an Associate of the International Academy of Comparative Law.

O. V. Kresin is the Secretary of the Ukrainian Association of Comparative Law and an Associate of the International Academy of Comparative Law.

Iu. S. Shemshuchenko is Academician of the National Academy of Sciences of Ukraine; Director of the Koretskii Institute of State and Law of the National Academy of Sciences of Ukraine; and an Associate of the International Academy of Comparative Law.

5th Edition

A K Biggs and K Donnelly

Price:	£14.95
ISBN:	9780854900831
Extent:	190 pp
Size:	229 x 152 mm
Binding:	Paperback

A Step-by-Step Guide to Wills and Probate explains how to write a simple will, and how to deal with the affairs of someone who has died. This new edition is completely revised and updated, and is written in plain language by authors who have many years' experience in the probate offices. It explains when you can do things yourself and when you need a solicitor. The subjects covered include:

- Making your will: why do it; how to do it; appointing executors, the different gifts that can be made; how to make sure the will is valid and will be put into effect; examples
- Who may apply for probate: how to work out who, of the relatives and friends left behind, is the one to sort out a deceased person's affairs. Who inherits if there is no will?
- The estate: making sure that all the property and debts are found
- Inheritance Tax: working out if tax has to be paid, how much, and the arrangements for paying it
- Filling in the forms: essential paperwork, with examples. Will drafting/tax law/court forms and precedents updated to January 2011
- Going to court: the procedure for visiting the probate registry to finalise paperwork
- Administering the estate: collecting together the property; paying the debts, distributing the inheritances

DRINK-DRIVE OFFENCES: A Handbook for Practitioners

P. M. Callow

Price:	£45
ISBN:	9780854900756
Extent:	358pp
Size:	152mm x 229mm
Binding:	Paperback

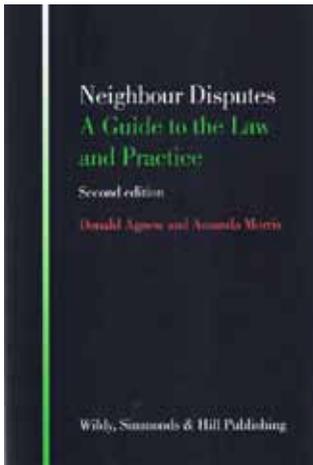

The statutory provisions on drink-driving are set out in just fifteen sections of the Road Traffic Act 1988, and two from the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988, but there have been over 700 appeals to the Divisional Court on points of law since the Acts came into force. The result is a body of law which is technical and complex, covering a wide array of matters.

The Drink-Drive Offences provides a practical, comprehensive, accessible and up-to-date account of this broad and intriguing area of law. It traces the procedure from preliminary testing to penalties, taking the legislative provisions in sequence and explaining the effects of the case law. The routines for preliminary testing, and for requiring and analysing specimens of breath, blood or urine, are examined. This includes the recurring question of the reliability of the breath analysis instrument and the circumstances in which a blood or urine specimen may be required instead of a breath specimen. The constituents of the offences are explained, in chapters on the excess alcohol offences, the offences of being in charge, the offences of being unfit to drive, and causing death by careless driving when under the influence of drink or drugs. The statutory assumption that the level of alcohol at the time of the offence was no less than in the specimen receives special attention, along with the “hip flask” defence, where the motorist asserts that it was alcohol consumed after driving which accounts for being over the limit. A chapter is devoted to the offences of failing to co-operate with preliminary tests and failing to provide specimens, with full consideration of what constitutes a “reasonable excuse” for these purposes. Finally, the penalties are set out, including special reasons for not disqualifying.

P. M. Callow LL.M is the author of Drink-Drive Case Notes (2nd edition, 2007) and co-author of Blackstone's Handbook for Magistrates (2nd edition, 2000).

NEIGHBOUR DISPUTES
A Guide to the Law and Practice

Donald Agnew and Amanda Morris

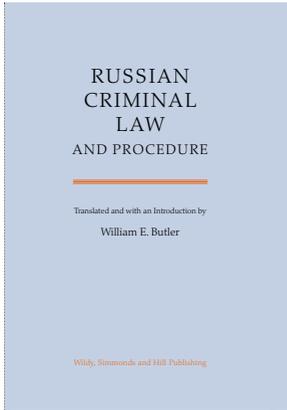

Price: £39
Edition: 2nd edition
ISBN: 9780854900596
Extent: 290pp.
Size: 229 x 152 mm
Binding: Paperback

This book is a practical guide for those seeking to resolve disputes between neighbours who are at war with each other – whether it be about noise, overhanging branches, the position of a fence, or some other irritation that has sparked neighbour rage. It draws together the relevant strands of the law – on negligence, nuisance, misrepresentation, trespass, rights of way, boundaries, party walls, the right to light, trees and hedges, weeds and pests, waste water and drainage. Written by solicitors with many years’ experience of dealing with such disputes, it contains practical hints to hasten resolving difficulties, while recognising the desirability of restoring harmony between the disputing parties. It provides an insight into some of the many powers of the local authorities – to deal with noise, for example – which may be invoked to bring to an end the behaviour complained of. The importance of seeking to settle a dispute without having to resort to litigation is a theme running through the book, as is the ever-vexing question of costs.

Formerly a partner, Donald Agnew is now a consultant with Blake Laphorn, and has considerable experience in all types of dispute concerning land. He is a member of the Property Litigation Association.

Amanda Morris is a partner at Blake Laphorn, where she heads up the property litigation team “She has a deservedly good reputation and fine legal brain”- Chambers UK, A Guide to the Legal Profession 2010 – and she is a member of the Property Litigation Association.

THE MODERN JUDICIARY Challenges, Stresses and Strains

Sir Fred Phillips, CVO, QC

Price: £65
ISBN: 9780854900671
Extent: 302pp
Size: 229mm x 152mm
Binding: Hardback

This book examines the vocation of being a judge. It covers training, discipline and removal of judges as well as their position in the broader context as law-makers and servants of society.

The book is both comparative and practical while also examining the theory and jurisprudence of judging. It is full of practical examples drawn from the author's extensive experience and numerous contacts within the judiciary around the world. It examines their relationship to the societies they are representing and answerable to and their position and responsibilities as part of an international judicial brotherhood.

LEGAL RESEARCH: A Practitioner's Handbook

Peter Clinch with contributions by James Mullan

Price:	£39
ISBN:	9780854900640
Extent:	450 pp
Size:	246 x 189mm
Binding:	Hardback

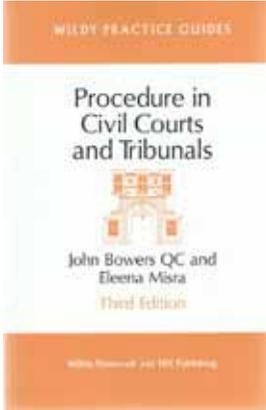

This comprehensive reference is specifically aimed at busy practitioners (solicitors, barristers and professional support lawyers), particularly those who do not have the benefit of access to a law librarian or information officer. Legal Research: A Practitioner's Handbook provides practical advice on every aspect of effective legal research: problem analysis, selecting and finding the best sources, and presenting results effectively.

Part A covers problem identification and analysis, followed by advice on how to select the best sources and formats (paper or electronic) for research. Part B deals with the information most frequently sought by practitioners, listing sources with analytical comments and, for a selection of the most complex, 'how to use' instructions developed to a standard template. Jurisdictional coverage includes England, Wales, Scotland, Northern Ireland and the European Union, with the addition of information on key sources in European human rights and international law. Part C details sources on how to make the presentation of the results of legal research more effective.

Peter Clinch is Senior Subject Librarian for Law at Cardiff University and has trained law students, practising solicitors and law librarians in legal research skills. He devised and runs the award-winning Cardiff Index to Legal Abbreviations.

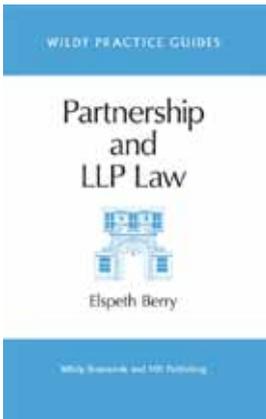

James Mullan is Knowledge Management Systems Manager for Field Fisher Waterhouse LLP. Previously he was an Information Officer at CMS Cameron McKenna LLP. He is a member of the British & Irish Association of Law Librarians (BIALL) council.
