WILDY'S BOOK NEWS

Volume 16 Issue 7 Published Monthly July/Aug 2011

Welcome to the re-designed Wildy's Book News. We have tried to streamline the publication and make it more user-friendly. Photos and news have been moved to the front. The Major New Titles This Month still contains as many titles but we have condensed the use of lengthy descriptions where they are not required. This should allow us to increase the number of titles included each month.

We have broken down the list of the month's subscription releases into those for which there are annual charges and those which are charged as published.

This month's issue includes photos from the launch of our new book Law & Society which includes a series of five symposia which took place throughout 2008 as part of the 400th anniversary celebrations of the grant of the Temple lands by Letters Patent to the Honourable Societies of the Inner Temple and the Middle Temple.

Also we have pictures of the annual Lincoln's Inn Garden Party which was held on the only dry afternoon in early July.

As a final observation, August is the time for family holidays, that's why Rayden & Jackson On Divorce is usually supplemented in September.

Barfield, Richard, A Practitioner's Guide to Basel III and Beyond, Sweet & Maxwell Ltd, Paperback, £125.00, ISBN: 9780414045385

A Practitioner's Guide to Basel III and Beyond explains the revised Basel Accord framework due to be introduced by 2012 in the wake of the global financial crisis. The new measures are designed to update and strengthen the resilience of the international banking sector, and this book explains in depth what they mean in practice. It is essential reading for compliance, legal and other senior management in banks, and their advisers.

Bird, Roger; King, Andy, Ancillary Relief and Financial Orders Handbook

8th ed, Family Law, Paperback, £70.00, ISBN: 9781846612824

Ancillary Relief and Financial Orders Handbook provides a clear explanation of the legal principles governing financial provision upon divorce, with straightforward advice on practice and procedure. By combining a clear explanation of the legal principles with straightforward advice on practice and procedure, it has established itself as a first resort for thousands of matrimonial lawyers. This eighth edition has been thoroughly revised to take account of the regime under the Family Procedure Rules 2010 and contains detailed analysis of all relevant case law developments, including practical guidance as to how these developments should be applied. This is the essential reference work for the busy family lawyer.

Girvin, Stephen, Carriage of Goods by Sea 2nd ed, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £175.00, ISBN: 9780199589913

Arranged thematically and covering the entire breadth of the law of carriage of goods by sea, including bills of lading and charterparties, limitation, admiralty claims, and maritime arbitration, this book discusses the underlying principles of contract, agency, tort, and bailment as well as the business of carriage, and shippers' and carriers' obligations, rights and immunities. This second and much expanded edition includes a new chapter on the important subject of damages. The contents also benefit from unique coverage of cargo claims including limitation periods, damages, and arbitration. The scope and application of the Rotterdam Rules is covered in a dedicated chapter, which guides the reader on this important international instrument which was signed in 2009, but is not yet in force. Coverage of the main provisions and changes to be implemented in accordance with the Rotterdam Rules also feature throughout. The underlying principles to documents of carriage, international regulation, and the responsibilities and obligations of the skipper and carrier are all addressed in this single volume resource.

Harrison, Ann, Music The Business: The Essential Guide to the Law and the Deals 5th ed, Virgin Books, Hardback, £25.00, ISBN: 9780753539583

This essential and highly acclaimed guide, now updated and revised in its fifth edition, explains the possibilities and pitfalls of the British music industry, from the developments in new media, privacy, sponsorship and sampling to the expanding role of the internet and the dominance of digital music. Drawing on her extensive experience as a media lawyer, Ann Harrison offers a unique, expert opinion on the deals, the contracts and the business as a whole. She examines in detail the changing face of the music business and provides absorbing case studies of huge stars such as Robbie Williams, Ms Dynamite and Elvis Presley. Fascinating, practical and comprehensive, this is the bible for the music industry and indispensable reading for any musical entrepreneur.

Hogg, Martin, Promises and Contract Law: Comparative Perspectives, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £85.00, ISBN: 9780521193382

Promises and Contract Law is the first modern work to explore the significance of promise to contract law from a comparative legal perspective. Part I explores the component elements of promise, its role in Greek thought and Roman law, the importance of the moral duty to keep promises and the development of promissory ideas in medieval legal scholarship. Part II considers the modern contract law of a number of legal systems from a promissory perspective. The focus is on the law of England, Germany and three mixed legal systems (Scotland, South Africa and Louisiana), though other legal systems are also mentioned. Major topics subjected to a promissory analysis include formation of contract, third party rights, contractual remedies and the renunciation of contractual rights. Part III analyses the future role which promise might play in contract law, especially within a harmonised European contract law.

ICC; Affaki, Georges; Goode, Roy, Guide to ICC Uniform Rules for Demand Guarantees URDG 758, International Chamber of Commerce, Hardback, £143.00, ISBN: 9789284200788

This Guide shows the reader how to make the most of URDG 758. Renowned experts in the field, Sir Roy Goode and Georges Affaki explain the fundamental principles of the URDG 758 rules, their scope and the advantages they offer to each party involved in a guarantee structure. The authors, members of the URDG drafting group, demonstrate how the URDG apply and how demand guarantees are distinguished from other forms of sureties and guarantees.

Jack, Malcolm, Erskine May Parliamentary Practice 24th ed, LexisNexis Butterworths, Hardback, £267.00, ISBN: 9781405751063

The eponymous guide to parliamentary practice and procedure, Erskine May provides accurate and detailed information on the constituent parts of Parliament, its powers and jurisdictions, membership of either House, financial procedure and the process of debate.

Jacobs, Edward; LAG, Tribunal Practice and Procedure: Tribunals under the Tribunals, Courts and Enforcement Act 2007 2nd ed, Legal Action Group, Paperback, £50.00, ISBN: 9781903307922

As well as dealing with the rules of procedure, this book contains practical advice for tribunal members and those who appear before them. For parties and their representatives, it deals with obtaining and assessing evidence, writing decisions, applying for adjournments, techniques of questioning and tribunal advocacy. The tribunal structure has continued to expand with the introduction of immigration and asylum chambers in both the First-tier Tribunal and the Upper Tribunal, and the increase of jurisdictions within the General Regulatory Chamber. The new edition of this authoritative work takes full account of those changes. It also includes the many amendments to the rules of procedure and contains a comprehensive analysis of the key procedural decisions made by the Upper Tribunal that lay the foundations for the new procedural regimes.

Kantor, Mark; Nolan, Michael D.; Sauvont, Karl P., Reports of Overseas Private Investment Corporation Determinations, Oxford University Press, Hardback, 2 Volumes, £425.00, ISBN: 9780199596850

This comprehensive two-volume work is a collection of determinations from OPIC, the US governmental political risk insurance provider, in the form of its Memoranda of Determinations from 1966 through to 2010. This reference work is the first to make the underlying primary material available to the investment law, political risk and academic communities. The authors have made the claims determinations more accessible with the inclusion of headnote summaries for all determinations. The determinations reflect the decisions of OPIC under US and international law and therefore have a significant impact on its future claims determinations. They reveal what types of claims have been honoured for expropriation, political violence or convertibility/transferability restrictions. Users of political risk insurance worldwide will find this collection invaluable in understanding what events are and are not in fact covered, and deciding whether to obtain insurance coverage.

Keirsbilck, Bert, The New European Law of Unfair Commercial Practices and Competition Law, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9781849461849

see www.wildy.com for further details

Since 2005 the law of unfair commercial practices has undergone a revolution. This book presents the first comprehensive and critical examination of Directives 2005/29/EC concerning unfair business-to-consumer commercial practices and 2006/114/EC concerning misleading and comparative advertising. The book offers the first detailed analysis of the various ways in which the two Directives have been transposed in the United Kingdom, Germany, the Netherlands, Belgium and France, with a particular focus on incorrect transposition. The analysis includes an overview of the enforcement possibilities before national courts and authorities, and as such will be a valuable source for all practitioners, policy makers and academics working in the field of unfair trade law. Ultimately the aim of the book is to expound a sound interpretation of the relationship between unfair trade law and competition law in Europe, and it therefore engages in an original examination of these two cornerstones of European economic law. The author argues that unfair trade law and competition law should be understood as ‘living apart together’ - complementary but autonomous and sometimes even conflicting.

Law Society, Conveyancing Quality Scheme Toolkit, Law Society Publishing, Paperback & CD-Rom, £49.95, ISBN: 9781907698200

The Law Society Conveyancing Quality Scheme is the new quality standard for residential conveyancers. Accreditation under the scheme will provide assurance to lenders, insurers, consumers and clients. The Conveyancing Quality Scheme Toolkit contains the core practice management standards that will help firms to become CQS accredited. The toolkits contain template policies and documents, all of which are provided on the book's accompanying free CD-ROM, enabling you to customise them as needed. The scheme is already supported by the Building Societies Association, the Association of British Insurers and the Council of Mortgage Lenders.

Maule, Hugh, A Practitioner's Guide to The AIM Rules 6th ed, City & Financial Publishing, Paperback, £125.00, ISBN: 9780414046894

A Practitioner's Guide to the AIM Rules is the established leading guide for senior management in AIM listed companies and those seeking to list, and their professional advisers. It provides a clear, comprehensive and practical approach to the requirements behind an AIM listing, the admission procedures involved, and the ongoing obligations and tax issues.

dancy: Law and Practice 3rd ed, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £75.00, ISBN: 9780199544172

Redundancy: The Law and Practice explores redundancy law from a practical standpoint. Containing sections on redundancy payments, unfair dismissal, and collective redundancies, as well as a number of practical tools, the book is an invaluable resource for practitioners working in the area. Now in its third edition, the book has been fully revised and extended to accommodate the extensive changes in legislation that have been implemented since the publication of the second edition in 2001. It considers the effect of the statutory disciplinary, dismissal and grievance procedures in redundancy dismissals following the Employment Act 2002, along with the impact of the Information and Consultation of Employees Regulations 2004, and the Employment Equality (Age) Regulations 2006.

Milanovic, Marko, Extraterritorial Application of Human Rights Treaties: Law, Principles, and Policy, Oxford University Press, Hardback, £70.00, ISBN: 9780199696208

Questions as to when a state owes obligations under a human rights treaty towards an individual located outside its territory are being brought more and more frequently before both international and domestic courts. Victims of aerial bombardment, inhabitants of territories under military occupation, deposed dictators, suspected terrorists detained in Guantanamo by the United States, and the family of a former KGB spy who was assassinated in London through the use of a radioactive toxin, allegedly at the orders or with the collusion of the Russian government - all of these people have claimed protection from human rights law against a state affecting their lives while acting outside its territory. These matters are extremely politically and legally sensitive, leading to much confusion, ambiguity and compromise in the existing case law. This study attempts to clear up some of this confusion, and expose its real roots. It examines the notion of state jurisdiction in human rights treaties, and places it within the framework of international law. It is not limited to an inquiry into the semantic, ordinary meaning of the jurisdiction clauses in human rights treaties, nor even to their construction into workable legal concepts and rules. Rather, the interpretation of these treaties cannot be complete without examining their object and purpose, and the various policy considerations which influence states in their behaviour, and courts in their decision-making. The book thus exposes the tension between universality and effectiveness, which is itself the cause of methodological and conceptual inconsistency in the case law. Finally, the work elaborates on the several possible models of the treaties' extraterritorial application. It offers not only a critical analysis of the existing case law, but explains the various options that are before courts and states in addressing these issues, as well as their policy implications.

O'Shea, Eoin, The Bribery Act 2010: A Practical Guide, Jordan Publishing Ltd, Paperback, £95.00, ISBN: 9781846611940

The Bribery Act reforms the criminal law to provide a new, modern and comprehensive scheme of bribery offences that will enable courts and prosecutors to respond more effectively to bribery at home or abroad. This new book summarises and interprets the new law of bribery covering the general bribery offence, foreign public offences and the specific corporate offence designed to make companies and other corporate bodies responsible for bribery committed on behalf of a company. In addition the book provides practical guidance on setting up compliance procedures in line with the new Act and explains the impact of the new legislation through worked scenarios.

Parker, Jonathan; Majumdar, Adrian, UK Merger Control, Hart Publishing, Hardback, £125.00, ISBN: 9781849460156

This book is a fully up-to-date, comprehensive guide to the law, economics and practice of UK merger control law, including a review of the recently revised guidelines of the Office of Fair Trading and the Competition Commission. This guide presents an integrated legal and economic assessment of the substantive appraisal of mergers as well as from the perspective of both law and economics. Uniquely, this book also provides insights into the substance and procedure of UK merger control from Simon Pritchard, formerly Senior Director of Mergers, OFT.

Schofield, John, Laytime and Demurrage 6th ed, Informa Publishing, Hardback, £425.00, ISBN: 9781843119456

see www.wildy.com for further details

Laytime and Demurrage, 6th Edition is an indispensable book for those new to laytime and demurrage as well as anyone who needs a more in-depth analysis. The laytime and demurrage clause appears in almost all carriage contracts and consequently there are now over 1,000 reported cases on the subject. Laytime and Demurrage, 6th ed is considered as the main source of authority on all issues to do with laytime and demurrage. While other books cover laytime or demurrage, this covers both areas in detail.

Schwarz, Jonathan, Schwarz on Tax Treaties 2nd ed, CCH Editions, Paperback, £134.95, ISBN: 9781847982971

The author is a practicing Barrister and recognised authority on international tax. This book builds on and significantly expands his 2001 work Tax Treaties: United Kingdom Law and Practice to include the latest UK tax treaty developments, European Community law and the 2008 OECD Model Convention. Extensive cross-references to legislation, cases and other official guidance are included. When used in conjunction with CCH's Annotated UK Tax Treaties 2010-11, Schwarz on Tax Treaties will provide you with all the information you need to deal with double taxation issues.

Singleton, Susan, Beswick & Wine: Buying and Selling Private Companies and Businesses 8th ed, Bloomsbury Professional, Paperback & CD-ROM, £126.50, ISBN:

9781847666987

The 8th edition of this well established book adopts a practical approach, considering both the vendor's and seller's perspective and providing the practitioner with a step-by-step guide to all the legal, taxation and commercial issues involved in buying and selling private companies and businesses.

Thornton, Paul; Fleming, Donald, Good Governance for Pension Schemes, Cambridge University Press, Hardback, £95.00, ISBN: 9780521761611

Regulatory and market developments have transformed the way in which UK private sector pension schemes operate. This has increased demands on trustees and advisors and the trustee-ship governance model must evolve in order to remain fit for purpose. This volume brings together leading practitioners to provide an overview of what today constitutes good governance for pension schemes, from both a legal and a practical perspective. It provides the reader with an appreciation of the distinctive characteristics of UK occupational pension schemes, how they sit within the capital markets and their social and fiduciary responsibilities. Providing a holistic analysis of pension risk, both from the trustee and the corporate perspective, the essays cover the crucial role of the employer covenant, financing and investment risk, developments in longevity risk hedging and insurance de-risking, and best practice scheme administration.

Reports of Overseas Private Investment Corporation Determinations

Edited by Mark Kantor, Michael D. Nolan, and Karl P. Sauvant

- Unrivalled coverage: a complete collection of OPIC decisions
- Access material quickly and easily: extensive coverage, all in one place
- Helps readers plan for the future: essential in future decision making
- Ease of navigation and research: headnote summaries make the determinations accessible and easy to navigate

2,240 PAGES | JULY 2011 | 978-0-19-959685-0 | HARDBACK | £425.00

What our readers say.....

"OPIC has the institutional experience of resources to engage with the relevant legal principles at a level of sophistication which is occasionally superior to that of some states. When presented by three co-editors of this eminence, these volumes are a publishing event of importance" - Jan Paulsson, Freshfields Buckhaus Deringer

"Kantor, Nolan and Sauvant have done us a service in pulling this information together in a coherent manner while leaving judgements to the reader or scholar. This compendium, coming at a time when there is greater use of and frustration with arbitration as a solution to investment disputes should help enrich the dialog about the relevant issues of international law" - Julie Martin, Marsh

The Law of Privilege 2nd edition

Edited by Bankim Thanki QC, Patrick Goodall, Henry King, et al

Oxford University Press, Hardcover, ISBN 9780199595433, £175.00, due August 2011

A comprehensive reference to legal professional privilege in both contentious and non-contentious situations, this book also addresses privilege against self-incrimination. Providing detailed coverage of the nature of privilege, how it arises, how it is lost, and its limits, this second edition builds on the success of the first to provide an authoritative practitioner reference on this widely relevant subject. Written by a leading team from Fountain Court Chambers, the book is edited by Bankim Thanki QC, who appeared in the Three Rivers litigation which challenged long-established assumptions about the nature and scope of privilege. The book also addresses the impact of the Human Rights Act 1998. The text is divided into eight logical themes. It looks first at the policy underlying privilege and its nature, and then at the definitions of legal advice privilege, which relate to communications between lawyer and client; and litigation privilege, which can attach to third party communications in the context of litigation. It goes on to provide expert guidance on issues that arise regularly in practice, such as exceptions (including a detailed analysis of the crime/fraud exception), multi-jurisdictional issues, procedural matters, and problem areas, such as pre-existing and partly privileged documents. It also covers loss of legal professional privilege (loss of confidence, and implied and express waiver); joint and common interest privilege; the linked area of without prejudice privilege, its scope, exceptions, rules governing waiver, and the position in respect of mediation; and the privilege against self-incrimination. The book is clearly laid out, with extensive cross-referencing and useful summaries.

Confiscation Law Handbook

by Adrian Eissa and Ruth Barber

Bloomsbury Professional, Softcover, ISBN 9781847667076, £75.00, due August 2011

A practical handbook suitable for the busy practitioner or practitioner new to the field dealing with all the basic aspects of confiscation law, including civil remedies.

This book is useful for those giving advice at trial stage on the future impact of confiscation proceedings. A clear analysis of the proliferating case law in the field allows principles to be quickly identified and understood, and a stage by stage explanation of the procedural requirements ensures that required forms and responses are completed well and within time limits. The book provides a review of all the key confiscation provisions of the Proceeds of Crime Act 2002 including Part V civil recovery provisions, the use of which is set to expand. Adrian Eissa is a Barrister at Garden Court Chambers and a leading Criminal Junior specialising in confiscation work. Ruth Barber is a Solicitor, Advocate and Director of Frisby and Co Solicitors, a legal company specialising in confiscation law.

Admiralty Jurisdiction and Practice 4th edition

by Nigel Meeson and John A. Kimbell

Informa Law, Hardcover, ISBN 9781843119432, £390.00, due August 2011

Admiralty Jurisdiction and Practice is the definitive work on litigation in the Admiralty Court, providing in depth analysis and explanation of jurisdiction, practice and procedure, forms and precedents. It deals with several issues, not covered elsewhere, including impact of insolvency, interplay between the jurisdiction and practice, the series of rules on jurisdiction laid down by international conventions, limitation periods, and collision action rules. The 4th Edition has been updated comprehensively to include new case law and changes in Commercial Court practice and procedure, and will be an invaluable reference source for anyone concerned with admiralty law.

Risk and Energy Infrastructure: Cross-Border Dimensions

by Thomas J Dimitroff (Consultant Editor)

Globe Law & Business, Hardcover, ISBN 9781905783489, £125.00, due August 2011

This book examines the spectrum of risks posed to the development, financing, construction and operation of trans-boundary energy infrastructure and the tools that may be deployed to manage these risks. The book begins by examining trends in trans-boundary energy infrastructure and the nature of the risks – non-technical, technical and financing – which infrastructure development projects and existing operations must anticipate and manage. Individual categories of intergovernmental and host government risk will be viewed from the perspectives of leading international experts. These risks, and the tools applied to manage them, will also be viewed from the different viewpoints of the state and private sector counterparties, lenders, affected communities and other interested third parties, such as indigenous communities, individual landowners and the non-governmental organisations that typically represent their interests.

Maritime Law

Edited by Yvonne Baatz
Sweet & Maxwell, Softcover, ISBN 9780414048768, £46.95, due August 2011

Previously published as Southampton on Shipping, this new edition is a comprehensive guide to maritime law, covering the key areas of maritime law in a concise style suitable for University students and any reader new to the area, or new to a particular topic within the area. The work captures the expertise of the members of the Institute of Maritime Law, has an accessible style and clear illustrations from decided cases. The new edition covers recent developments since the first edition, including new international conventions such as the Bunker Pollution Convention, European Regulations such as Rome I and Rome II, recent case law, and European Commission proposals. It contains a brand new chapter on shipbuilding, sale, finance and registration, and an expanded chapter on marine insurance, covering the 2009 Institute Cargo Clauses and the Third Parties (Rights Against Insurers) Act 2010.

Lewis and Buchan: Clinical Negligence 7th edition

by Andrew Buchan

Bloomsbury Professional, Softcover, ISBN 9781847666734, £90.00, due August 2011

Written in a clear and concise style, the new edition of this popular and highly respected title has been fully updated to take account of the various important developments in legislation and case law that have occurred since the previous edition. Practical and accessible, it provides practitioners with a structured background to the law. The information is supported by numerous case illustrations, plus a large amount of highly valuable practical guidance on procedure. A useful title for all practitioners specialising in this complex area of the law.

Scrutton on Charterparties and Bills of Lading 22nd edition

by Mr Justice Eder QC, David Foxton QC, Steven Berry QC, Christopher Smith and Professor Howard Bennett Sweet & Maxwell, Hardcover, ISBN 9780414045903,

£280.00, due September 2011

Scrutton provides the leading statement of law relating to charterparties and bills of lading. It clarifies how the legal principles work in practice with detailed reference to a wide variety of case material, including discussion of over 100 new cases since the previous edition. This new 125th Anniversary edition also includes an in-depth re-examination of historic cases which were previously omitted from the work. The authors cover time charters, voyage charters and demise charters as well as bills of lading, and set out clearly the underlying principles of the law in this area. Practical advice about how the principles work in practice is provided through detailed examination of case law. Charterparties as forms of commercial contract are examined, explaining the nature, validity, construction of the contract, the parties to it and specific terms. The authors also highlight areas where the law is uncertain and suggest solutions. Includes coverage of over 100 new cases since the last edition including The Antiparos, The Ailsa Craig, The Silver Constellation and The Bremen Max. Relevant legislation, such as the Carriage of Goods by Sea Acts 1924 and 1921, is also reproduced.

Tolley's Commercial Contracts, Transactions and Precedents 2nd edition

by Rex Nwakodo

LexisNexis Butterworths, Softcover, ISBN 9780754542155, £150.00, due September 2011

Previously published as Commercial Contracts Checklists, this new edition is a ready desk reference for checking all aspects of a wide range of contracts, enabling the busy professional to check their own, their employees', or their suppliers' negotiations, instructions or drafting. Also serving as a good practical introduction to contracts and a troubleshooting manual, Tolley's Commercial Contracts, Transactions and Precedents highlights the most common mistakes, deficiencies and causes of disputes. The book is divided into clear topics for ease of use, and includes practical guidance, checklists and precedents.

Enforcement of Consumer Protection Legislation: Law and Practice

by Claire Andrew

LexisNexis Butterworths, Hardcover, ISBN 9781405758765, £150.00, due September 2011

Enforcement of Consumer Protection Legislation: Law and Practice is a practical ready-reference for lawyers and aid for local authorities when prosecuting or bringing enforcement action against traders. The book covers powers and responsibilities of regulatory bodies, the UK's approach to sanctions, criminal penalties, investigatory powers, disclosure, consumer redress and the Ombudsmen Schemes. The book provides a birds' eye view of the regulatory arena and the way in which legislation is making changes for consumers, such as the Regulatory Enforcement and Sanctions Act 2008, the Consumer Credit Directive and the Consumer Rights Directive. There is a checklist at the end of each chapter correlating to the legislation listed in the Appendix.

EU Electronic Communications Law: Competition and Regulation in the European

Telecommunications Market 2nd edition

by Paul Nihoul and Peter Rodford

Oxford University Press, Hardcover, ISBN 9780199601868, £195.00, due August 2011

An established authority in the field, this is the core reference work for practitioners on electronic communications in the European Union. Giving insight into the regulations, the work provides a thorough analysis of the competition rules and regulatory framework applicable to electronic communications networks and services within the European Union. Electronic communications encompass all forms of electronic transmission of information, including telecommunications, broadcasting, and the internet. This second edition is updated to reflect the new regulatory package which has made changes to some of the fundamental mechanisms. A brand new section on data protection also features, giving an authoritative account of the legislation in the important new area of privacy protection in electronic networks. Detailed coverage of the recent case law of the European courts is provided including the European Commission's cases on the coordination mechanism for the relations between national regulatory authorities.

Environmental Judicial Review

by Richard Moules

Hart Publishing, Hardcover, ISBN 9781849460019, £65.00, due September 2011
Judicial review of environmental decisions is an important and growing area of public law. But although the general principles of judicial review have been clearly mapped out, their application to the particular context of the environment is under-explored. This book therefore seeks to provide a detailed and critical account of environmental judicial review in both domestic and EU law. Part 1 explains the central principles of environmental law, such as the polluter pays principle and the precautionary principle, and shows how they influence the application of public law standards of legality. Part 2 considers the procedure for judicial review with particular emphasis on standing, protective costs, and the availability of interim relief. Part 3 consists of a detailed examination of how each of the grounds for judicial review are applied in the environmental context. It highlights the increased emphasis on consultation and public participation in environmental matters, the degree of deference afforded by the courts to scientific and political judgments, and the prevalence of 'hard-edged' questions of law. Part 4 focuses on EU law and examines direct and indirect actions before the EU courts, preliminary references, and state liability. Part 5 explains the complex regime governing access to environmental information. Finally, Part 6 considers infraction proceedings brought by the EU Commission, the role of individuals and NGOs in relation to such proceedings and the interrelationships between infraction proceedings and judicial review.

Environmental Information Regulations: A Practical Guide

by Susan Wolf

Law Society Publishing, Softcover, ISBN 9781853286391, £59.95, due September 2011

This comprehensive guide provides much-needed coverage of the Environmental Information Regulations 2004, which impose obligations on a wide range of organisations and bodies. The book is aimed at information rights practitioners and those in public authorities charged with making decisions about the disclosure of environmental information. It provides valuable guidance for applicants and prospective applicants. The book examines the Regulations' provisions, including the DEFRA and other relevant guidelines, and discusses the practical aspects of the Regulations including the definition of environmental information, the bodies subject to obligations, time limits, fees and charges, and exceptions to the duty to disclose. The author provides an analysis of the relationship between the Environmental Information Regulations and related legislative provisions, such as the Freedom of Information Act and the Contaminated Land and Town and Country Planning Public Registers. Coverage of relevant case law and decisions of the Information Commissioner and Information Tribunal is also included.

INHERITANCE ACT CLAIMS

Second Edition

Nasreen Pearce

Price: £59.00
ISBN: 9780854900787
Extent: 450 pp
Size: 229 x 152 mm
Binding: Paperback

This book provides a clear, comprehensive, easily accessible and practical guide to the provisions of the Inheritance (Provision for Family and Dependents) Act 1975 as amended.

Inheritance Act Claims sets out in detail material which is likely to be of assistance to lawyers and non-lawyers relating to the background to the legislation, pre-conditions and time limits for making a claim, categories of those who are entitled to make a claim, grounds on which a claim may be made; the matters to which the court must have regard in deciding a claim and the court powers to make orders including the powers of the court in respect of dispositions intended to defeat a claim, the assets out of which financial provision under the Act may be made, the position of personal representatives and trustees and the practice and procedure of making a claim.

It contains relevant information relating to cohabitants, the impact of the Civil Partnership Act 2004 and the Human Fertilisation and Embryology Acts 1990 and 2008.

The appendices include a range of sample forms and precedents, the text of the 1975 Act and the relevant provisions of the CPR.

Nasreen Pearce is a retired circuit judge, and was formerly a district judge in the Principal Registry of the Family Division. She has written widely on family law and is a contributor to The Family Court Practice. She is the author of Change of Name: The Law and Practice also published by Wildy, Simmonds and Hill.

CLUB LAW MANUAL

Second Edition

Kerry Barker and Henry Stevens

Price:	£35.00
ISBN:	9780854900626
Extent:	267 pp
Size:	216 x 138mm
Binding:	Paperback

Members' clubs have for many years enjoyed a special status at law, in particular in relation to the supply and sale of alcohol. The new legislation introduced by the Licensing Act 2003 in itself justified a book for those involved in the running of, licensing, policing or advising, members' clubs and Ken Pain, the original author, took the opportunity to deal with many other topics of importance to clubs, their officers and members. Club Law Manual was intended to provide a practical but authoritative guide to the relevant law to lawyers and non-lawyers alike and, to police officers and local authorities and their staff.

This second edition not only brings this much used book up-to-date but enhances the original text by introducing chapters on gambling and fund-raising, hearings and appeals. Chapters on liabilities, employment, health and safety and food safety have been re-written to include issues raised by readers.

The sections on entertainment, supply and sale of alcohol and internal regulation have been expanded to incorporate amendments to the Licensing Act 2003, changes to the law on sexual entertainment and the Equality Act 2010. In addition, a template for club rules is included within the appendices.

The new authors are practising barristers and specialists in their fields.

A STEP-BY-STEP GUIDE TO WILLS AND PROBATE

Fifth Edition

A K Biggs and K Donnelly

Price:	£14.95
ISBN:	9780854900831
Extent:	190 pp
Size:	229 x 152 mm
Binding:	Paperback

A Step-by-Step Guide to Wills and Probate explains how to write a simple will, and how to deal with the affairs of someone who has died. This new edition is completely revised and updated, and is written in plain language by authors who have many years' experience in the probate offices. It explains when you can do things yourself and when you need a solicitor. The subjects covered include:

- Making your will: why do it; how to do it; appointing executors, the different gifts that can be made; how to make sure the will is valid and will be put into effect; examples
- Who may apply for probate: how to work out who, of the relatives and friends left behind, is the one to sort out a deceased person's affairs. Who inherits if there is no will?
- The estate: making sure that all the property and debts are found
- Inheritance Tax: working out if tax has to be paid, how much, and the arrangements for paying it
- Filling in the forms: essential paperwork, with examples. Will drafting/tax law/court forms and precedents updated to January 2011
- Going to court: the procedure for visiting the probate registry to finalise paperwork
- Administering the estate: collecting together the property; paying the debts, distributing the inheritances

THE DRINK-DRIVE OFFENCES: A Handbook for Practitioners

P. M. Callow

Price:	£45
ISBN:	9780854900756
Extent:	358pp
Size:	152mm x 229mm
Binding:	Paperback

The statutory provisions on drink-driving are set out in just fifteen sections of the Road Traffic Act 1988, and two from the Road Traffic Offenders Act 1988, but there have been over 700 appeals to the Divisional Court on points of law since the Acts came into force. The result is a body of law which is technical and complex, covering a wide array of matters.

The Drink-Drive Offences provides a practical, comprehensive, accessible and up-to-date account of this broad and intriguing area of law. It traces the procedure from preliminary testing to penalties, taking the legislative provisions in sequence and explaining the effects of the case law. The routines for preliminary testing, and for requiring and analysing specimens of breath, blood or urine, are examined. This includes the recurring question of the reliability of the breath analysis instrument and the circumstances in which a blood or urine specimen may be required instead of a breath specimen. The constituents of the offences are explained, in chapters on the excess alcohol offences, the offences of being in charge, the offences of being unfit to drive, and causing death by careless driving when under the influence of drink or drugs. The statutory assumption that the level of alcohol at the time of the offence was no less than in the specimen receives special attention, along with the “hip flask” defence, where the motorist asserts that it was alcohol consumed after driving which accounts for being over the limit. A chapter is devoted to the offences of failing to co-operate with preliminary tests and failing to provide specimens, with full consideration of what constitutes a “reasonable excuse” for these purposes. Finally, the penalties are set out, including special reasons for not disqualifying.

P. M. Callow LL.M is the author of Drink-Drive Case Notes (2nd edition, 2007) and co-author of Blackstone's Handbook for Magistrates (2nd edition, 2000).
